Where could be found a better opportunity for fellowship than camp. Girls living, working and playing together for a week or more at a time develop a friendship that lasts and if that friendship is linked to a purpose such as the Y.W.C.A. the influence on every life touched cannot be estimated. We are indeed sorry to have to announce that because of no suitable place being available there will be no Y.W.C.A. Camp this year. Full particulars of other Y.W.C.A. camps has however been obtained and this year we will co-operate with them and hope that next summer in some way we shall be able to have a camp of our own.

Clubs

Six clubs met regularly through the fall, winter and spring seasons. Here in small groups a wonderful opportunity is given the girls and leaders of rounding out their development, for our programs are based on the four standards, physical, intellectual, spiritual and service. The Ever Bright Club and the Sunshine Club with an enrollment of 74 meet each Saturday afternoon from 2-4. Miss Storey with a staff of volunteer leaders, composed of the Misses Phylis Hall, Gertrude Gimblett, Claire Mason, Helen Lamb and Grace Wilson has had charge of the Saturday afternoon programmes.

Miss Storey assisted by Miss Dora Brown has also taken complete charge of the 17 girls in the C.O.S. Club which meets each Friday afternoon and remains for supper.

The Cumjoynus, Cheerio and United Clubs meet on Wednesday nights and have a combined enrollment of 54. The leaders of these clubs are Miss Wiggins, Miss Hall and Mrs. Eldred, assisted by others for part time.

Educational

The need for regular educational classes because of our splendid technical school is not very great. Three Home Nursing classes with an enrollment of 52 and taken by Mrs. Wood, Miss Bulmer and Miss Pete were very successful and 31 diplomas were given. Our other projects along educational lines have been of a social as well as educational value.

Miss Glover consented to take a ukulele class in the fall and 19 members thoroughly enjoyed the evening a week together. Developing out of this class other girls came requesting lessons and four extra classes of 2 or 3 girls have been taken. This spring the class assembled for another two months practise before the summer camping and boating season begins.

Mrs. King, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Middleton took charge of a singing club for a couple of months in the winter.

Mrs. Clifton Carruthers has given lessons each week in elocution. These last three classes will each be represented by one number on our programme to-night.

We appreciate very much the help of our volunteer leaders in the regular attendance they have given and the interest taken in the clubs and classes under their care.

Our library is much in use for reference and reading. Six hundred and ninety-eight volumes are on the shelves and are used by over 250 of our members with an exchange of over 3,000 books.

Social

Twenty-four special social events have interspersed our year's work with an average attendance of 127, and in this our physical department has taken a great share. Many parties have been prepared by the gym committee and members which have been open to all our girls. Our parties and socials centre chiefly around such days as Hallowe'en, Christmas, Open House on New Year's, St. Patrick's and Valentine. As well as our big Garden Party, our Fall Rally and picnic last August to Chemong and a sleigh drive in the winter, which were open to all who wished to come.

Religious

The religious work committee has been a very great help all year and through its plans and co-operation the religious side of our program has been kept to the fore.

The aim of the department is that every activity of the Association through its leaders and its association in the building should feel the influence of those things which count for most in our lives.

This committee is also directly responsible for the Sunday, evening Sing Songs which have been so much enjoyed by many young people away from home. The average attendance was 49.

The monthly Sunday afternoon friendly hours started by the committee did not attract very many but provided a close contact with the 7 or 8 who came and were much enjoyed.

Two Bible study classes were organized, the first taken by Rev. Spence on personal help of the Bible and the second on the Four Gospels taken by Mrs. Lewis.

During the Y. W. C. A. World's week of prayer, three special meetings were arranged and well attended A C.G.I.T. Rally was a piece of extension and community work and the 135 teen age girls present representing 27 groups enjoyed the program our committee had provided.

This committee is also responsible for the Foreign Work Budget. A campaign between the reds and the blues to encourage selling shares was used and $100.00 has been sent. This campaign created interest and real fellowship in other associations far away.

Extension

But the association is not content to be of use to just those girls who come in. Our fellowship is bigger than that and so girls at factories, stores and schools and churches by noon meeting, posters, talks, games in their own buildings and also in ours are made acquainted with the friendly spirit of the Association. Besides this the Association is ready to help in many little personal or community ways, telephone calls, information of all kinds, employment, rooms registry, use of our rooms for meetings, new comers reported through our migration system.

Finance

Of course all this work and the upkeep of our building requires financing. Our expenditure for the year being, Our residence and gymnasium department are both of financial assistance in keeping up the other departments but our building is large and overhead expenses high and much of our work is not revenue producing. We therefore appreciate very much the splendid response Peterboro citizens made to our financial appeal. $1,500 was the objective in our subscription campaign last fall and over $1900 was contributed. This enabled us to reduce our swimming pool mortgage by $900 from our regular funds and with part payment on a bequest left by Miss Lundy, a total of $14,000 has been paid off this year, leaving only $1600 to be cleared off next year. Considerable repairs were needed around the building this year and these are all covered in our years' financial statement, so that with everything in first class condition we are ready to start another year.

What is the duty of each member to our Assocaition?

It is the duty of each member to share in Christian fellowship and directly through membership affairs, committees, activities or projects or indirectly as an individual member through her citizenship to do those things which will make real this purpose.

I should like to express my appreciation to the members of the Board, committee members, volunteer leaders and members of the staff, to the girls. The citizens and the press for their splendid co-operation in helping promote this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
Leta Brownscombe,
General Secretary.

Give your roof the attention it deserves—

You expect your new house to last a lifetime. And naturally you want a roof that will last—a roof that won't rot or rust—a roof that never needs painting. Barrett Shingles, mineral-surfaced in red, green or blue-black give you such a roof—durable, economical and handsome. They make a fitting roof for the finest house.

Fire-protection is another important advantage of Barrett Shingles. Sparks and blazing embers falling on their mineral surface burn out harmlessly.

Yet Barrett Shingles are surprisingly low in cost. Ask the Barrett dealer to show them to you. There are also several types of roll roofings.

OLD-TIME SQUARE DANCE BROUGHT BACK BY RADIO

CHICAGO, May 31.—(Associated Press.) — The Saturday night barn dance may be associated with social events of the past, but if an ear is given to the hundreds of letters station WLS here has received from both old and young radio fans throughout the country, the cotillions and quadrilles still are in popular favor, and growing.

The station has established a weekly barn dance feature in its programmes, with a famous old crier from "Ioway" doing the calls. While it has been on the air but a few weeks, the managers of the station have received more comment on this feature than most of the others.

"It's like being sixteen again to do the old square dances to the music made for them"; "We all like it from grandmother to the kiddies"; "The old time music is the best," are expressions under which many replied could be grouped.

Will Arrest 1,700 Women Unless They Pay School Tax

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 31.—Following instructions from the Board of Education Fred W. Brady Tax Collector, of Charleroi, has started laying information against 1,700 men and 300 women of that borough who refuse to pay their school taxes. The School Board ordered that the woman who had persistently refused to pay their share of the revenue for the schools be arrested as well as the men. In addition to the taxes those arrested will have to pay costs amounting o several dollars.

Tax collecors throughout the country report that women refuse absolutely to pay taxes, but Charleroi is the first district to resort to drastic action in an effort to collect them.

PALE, WAN CHEEKS AND DULL EYES

Is Proof That The Blood Is Thin And Impure.

It is the blood that gives color to the cheeks and lips, as well as brightness to the eyes. If your blood gets thin the color will fade and the eyes grow dim. By the time this happens you will notice that you tire easily and are subject to headaches and backaches, for the blood goes everywhere and the entire system feels the effects when it becomes thin. Dr Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to enrich the blood, and this better blood strengthens the nerves and all the organs of the body, brings a glow of health to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes and a general feeling of renewed health and strength. Miss Florence Johnson, Stratford, Ont., who has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind, says:—"A few years ago I was greatly run down; my blood was very poor and my nervous system in bad shape. The doctor said my condition was due to improper diet and lack of fresh air. I then commenced eating the food he advised and went out daily for a walk. I did not improve, however, and was much discouraged. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I lost no time in getting a supply and can truthfully say that when I had finished the first box I could note an improvement. From then on the progress was steady. My complexion, which had been pale and sallow, began to take on a healthy glow, I felt a great deal stronger and my appetite became normal, and soon my health was fully restored. Before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I did not know anything about their wonderful qualities, but now I recommend them to all suffering from similar ailments."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Stop!

WITHIN a split second the wheels are locked in the implacable grip of the brake and your tires scrape and grind into the road, taking every ounce of strain required to check the impetus of your car.

This terrific strain is not taken merely on the treads—it pulls on every cord and layer of rubber in the inner construction of the tire.

The Web Cord process, by eliminating cross threads, enables the cords to lie flat and even in the layers, thus giving each cord maximum resistance to strain and imparting to the tire body greatly increased strength to resist the pull of the car when the brakes are applied.

Sprayed Rubber used in the Dominion Cord Tires adds strength and resilience to the walls and treads.

These improved processes are used exclusively in Canada in Dominion Royal Cord and U-cord Tires.

They are extra values in Dominion Cord Tires which cost you nothing extra.

MILK A SPRING TONIC

No meal is complete without good, pure milk in some form. Serve it as delivered or cooked, you know your family is the better in health, spirits and energy for its daily help. Milk, as if by magic, brings you in winter the stored-up goodness of field and meadow—tender grasses, greens, fruits and flowers of all out-doors. In summer milk is even more to be desired, as it incorporates all the freshness and sweetness of every good growing thing which Mother Nature has provided for her animal charges.

No wonder milk is good—and good for us. As a spring tonic, a summer tonic, or a year-round tonic, it has no rivals. When we stop to think that milk is the essence of Mother Nature's bounty, we should crave it and value it accordingly.

CAMPBELLFORD FLOWERS FOR BEDS AT TRENT CANAL LOCKS

Supplied To Department of Railways And Canals By C. W. Palliser.

HAS LARGE GARDENS

Firemen Called Out For Several Small Fires.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 31.—C. W. Palliser, the florist, who owns a large greenhouse here, has received a big order for a variety of flowers from the Department of Railways and Canals, these to be used for decorating the lawns of the lockhouses on the Trent Canal between Bradley's Bay and Hastings. This is the largest order that Mr. Palliser has yet received from the Government, although he has been furnishing plants for years to the Department.

Mr. Palliser has in his greenhouse a large bed of tomatoes that are flourishing under glass, some of the clusters containing as many as 14 tomatoes, and it is expected that these will be ripe by July 1. Tomatoes grown in the open will be much later than usual this year on account of the opening of the season. Lettuce was produced in the greenhouse last winter and shipped all over the district.

On his five acres of garden land, Mr. Palliser has already set out over 6,000 cabbage plants, a crop in which he specializes. Part of the cabbage is stored in a large cellar, and every winter a carload is shipped to Toronto when prices are high. All kinds of garden plants are produced under glass in beds outside the greenhouse, and the market for these takes in the entire district.

Reindeau, who owns the building, says he has not yet estimated the loss, but the building was insured.

Friday afternoon the brigade was called to a chimney fire in the residence of Mrs. James Shannon on Centre Street. There was no damage.

Plate Glass Broken.

The high wind yesterday afternoon blew down an awning on the jewelry store of P. A. Hinds on Front Street, loosening one of the iron supports, the end of which crashed through the plate glass window, which was cracked from top to bottom above the fracture. The value of the glass, which is insured, is estimated at $150. Mr. Hind leases the store from the Ferris estate.

A PRESIDENTIAL CRISIS STARING FRANCE IN FACE

Socialists Are Falling in With the Movement Which Demands the Resignation of President Millerand.

PARIS, May 31. — United Press. —France is faced with a grave presidential crisis, to-day's newspapers point out.

More Socialists, including the followers of Aristide Briand, are falling in with the movement, which demands the resignation of President Millerand.

The attitude of Edouard, who is to be the next premier, within a few days, if he can form a cabinet, still is uncertain. Herriot sent a letter to the Briand Socialists asking what they intended to do. He did not conceal his intention of refusing the premiership unless the Socialists gave him guarantees of support.

On the other hand he declines to accept a mandate to overthrow President Millerand. The latter's friends say he is not worrying about this growing party hostility but intends to "sit tight," at the Elysee until the Senate or the Chamber show some indication of disapproval.

OMEMEE SUNDAY UNION SERVICE

Presbyterian and Methodist Congregations Will Worship Together in Latter Church.

OMEMEE, May 30.—The Presbyterian and Methodist congregations of Omemee will unite in union services on Sunday, June 1, in the Methodist Church, and on the following Sunday, June 8, in the Presbyterian Church. Rowland, will attend the conference at Picton the succeeding Sunday. As has been the custom for some time, during the summer months, the Methodist Sunday School will convene at 10 o'clock a.m., commencing June 1, thus giving time for the church service at 11 o'clock.

Guild's Final Meeting.

The final meeting of the Young People's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, until after the summer months, was held on Monday evening in the Sunday Schoolroom. After a short service, during which the president, Mr. H. Lamb, spoke a few words of commendation to the officers as well as the members for the splendid success the weekly meetings had been. Community singing was heartily rendered, after which the programme took a social turn and a peanut contest was engaged in, followed by a number of games. Ice cream and cake was served and a pleasant evening brought to a close by the joining of hands and singing heartily "Auld Lang Syne."

"NIGHT RIDERS" AT WARKWORTH

A Four Act Play Put On Last Night in the Opera House.

(By a Staff Reporter).

WARKWORTH, May 31.—"The Night Riders," a four-act play, was put on in the Opera House last night by the Warkworth Dramatic Club, which has made several successful appearances and which is fast developing local dramatic talent. The house was crowded and the entertainment will net the club a handsome surplus. It was one of their most ambitious ventures into the mazes of the drama.

The scene was laid in Old Kentucky, the state where the grass is blue, where every man is a colonel by courtesy, never ventures abroad without pocket artillery or refuses liquid refreshment. It was in Kentucky, too, where that band of volunteer law enforces was born "The Night Riders," whose self-imposed task was to wear disguises fashioned after the uniform of the Klu Klux gang, and to make war on the tobacco growers who refused to sell their tobacco as the night riders decreed.

Cast of Characters.

The plot was interesting and the parts were sufficiently varied to afford scope for the display of different types of talent. The costumes were in keeping with the story, especially those worn by B. Buchanan, the tobacco farmer, who was the star victim of the riders, and A. C. Twiddy, who appeared in the goatee, Prince Albert, coat and wide hat, associated with a Kentucky Judge, the role he took. Both took their parts without a stumble. One of the prerogatives of a Judge in Kentucky is to perform the marriage ceremony, a task which the members of the Judiciary are inclined to sidestep, although they have never been known to hesitate over such a trifle as sentencing a prisoner to the gallows. Mr. Twiddy did act in an emergency when to marry a couple suited his plans of villany. He gave an excellent representation of a Judge who holds the dignity of his office in light esteem.

J. F. Freure acted the role of the son of the crooked Judge, trained by his father in every branch of roguery, for which he had a natural bent. The son was in the banking business and could not have made a more complete smash of things if he had been an official of the defunct Home Bank or Provincial Treasurer in a late Ontario Cabinet. With fidelity to the moral teachings of the drama, the author of "The Night Riders" arranges tragic deaths for father and son, who in the last act kill each other.

Dr. H. S. Allen was the real hero of the plot, the young man who saves his friends from financial ruin, rescues kidnapped maidens and wages ceaseless warfare on the evil designs of the heavy villain of the piece.

A. M. Smale as George Flimflam, appears as a moving picture company promoter, arrayed in a flaring vest that amply advertises his profession. He reforms eventually and lending his services to the side of right, wrought, with the assistance of J. B. Thompson to do what the state and federal governments failed to accomplish, cause the overthrow of the night riders. Mrs. A. C. Twiddy and Mrs. J. L. Phillips took the parts of two aspirants for moving picture honors and who were victimized by the promoter.

The star comedian in the cast was C. H. Curtis, in the role of a colonel politician. His acting was natural and his accent perfect. Another comedy producer was F. H. Moore, who cleverly personated a typical colored "mammy."

The third colored character was Ross Moore, a jockey, a class as numerous in Kentucky as are colonels.

Jack Drewry and W. B. Baker, carefully made up as bettle browed and scowling bad men, were the leaders in the band of night riders.

Two of the most difficult roles in the piece were those played by Mrs. B. Thompson and Mrs. A. M. Small. The latter was required to play up to the villain and circumvent him in his evil schemes. Mrs. Small took this part with the ease and cleverness of a professional.

Mrs. Thompson, as the daughter of Col. Shelby, the tobacco planter, who had incurred the enmity of the night riders, gave a fine representation of a devoted daughter, who refuses to marry the villain to save her father from financial ruin, but who is ready to sacrifice herself to spare him torture at the hands of her persecutors. The devoted daughter is saved from dishonour and the father from punishment in the end.

The Stage Manager.

The play was staged by Percy Kelly, of Toronto, but formerly of this village, who spends his vacation here with his brother, William Kelly, and his sister, Mrs. James McCracken. Mr. Kelly has assisted the members of the club in former presentations and for the successful entertainment last night he is given the lion's share of the credit. He also painted the scenery which added much to the realism of the performances.

The Orchestra.

A good musical programme, including several favourite Southern melodies, was rendered by an orchestra, consisting of John Condon, pianist; J. B. Sweet, saxophone; Al. Vaccasa, cornet; and J. Drewry, drums.

The people of Warkworth never do anything by halves, and the play put on last night in the well-appointed opera house was fully up to the high standard which the villagers have set for themselves.

Let This Car Sell Itself

GO to any man who has bought a Gray-Dort since the new management took control of the company and ask him whether you should buy a Gray-Dort.

We're satisfied to have you make your decision on what he tells you.

Because we know he'll tell you that he never believed a car at the Gray-Dort price could perform so well. That he never heard of a car so free from trouble. That not once has his Gray-Dort failed him.

The reason is easy to see here at the factory in Chatham. The instructions to the engineering department, the purchasing department, the factory management have been unmistakable—"If there is any way in which the Gray-Dort can be bettered—go ahead and do it." Those betterments are evident in the performance of the car. That's why the Gray-Dort is selling itself everywhere in Canada.

At the Gray-Dort showroom they'll be glad to show you the car—and glad to give you the names of Gray-Dort owners, so you can prove for yourself that Gray-Dort today gives the greatest value in the automobile industry.

"Eczema All Over Arms Suffered for 12 Years"

Mrs. Murray Hough, Wiarton, Ont., writes:

"I had eczema for twelve years. Every once in a while it would break out and spread all over my arms. I tried all kinds of treatments to relieve it, but without success. One Spring it broke out and nothing gave me relief, even the salve I got from the doctor did no good. At last I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment and it healed the eczema in a short time. That is over a year ago, and I have had no return of the trouble."

Carry Churches Designed By Wren From Their Historical Old Sites To New Homes in American Cities

By C. T. HALLINAN.

LONDON, May 31.—(United Press).—Nineteen famous London churches—some of them the architectural masterpieces of the great Sir Christopher Wren—are doomed to demolition.

Doomed to brick-and-mortar heaps, unless, as has just been suggested, they are carefully taken down and carried to America for re-erection in various American cities.

These nineteen churches occupy tremendously valuable sites in the financial district of London, but each of them has less than a handful of worshippers on a Sunday.

If they could be removed and the land sold or leased to the great English banks and insurance companies, now cramped for room, the hard-pressed Church of England would be richer by about $30,000,000.

But the question greatly embarrassing the Bishop of London and his advisers is what to do with these historic churches.

In themselves they are modest, little structures, mostly made of brick, sometimes with towers or steeples faced with Portland stone; they occupy queer, crooked, little sites, hedged in between great office buildings and warehouses. Thirteen of the nineteen were designed by Sir Christopher Wren after the Great Fire. Seven of them are so full of historic memories that the commission appointed by the Bishop of London to consider their fate did not dare suggest their total demolition. Instead, the commission recommended that their towers or steeples should be preserved in memory of Wren or of the period.

These seven famous churches whose future is dark with uncertainty are:

St. Vedast, Foster Lane, Cheapside, where the poet Herrick was baptized in 1591; rebuilt by Wren after the Great Fire.

St. Botolph, Aldgate, dating originally from Norman times and rebuilt in 1741.

St. Michael Paternoster Royal, College Hill, which Dick Whittington is buried.

St. Dunstan-in-the-West, Fleet street, where the poet John Donne preached. Charles Lamb was born under the shadow of this church.

St. Dunstan-in-the-East, Tower street, with the most unusual of all Wren's rather unusual steeples.

St. Magnus-the-Martyr, London bridge, destroyed in Great Fire and rebuilt by Wren.

St. Michael, Cornhill, rebuilt by Wren.

The city of Toronto has several times suggested that it would be glad to purchase one of these churches and remove it, brick by brick, to Toronto, to be rebuilt there on an appropriate site and forever preserved.

Architects say that it is feasible, though, of course, not inexpensive.

Still, the Bishop of London hesitates. He wants a dignified solution that will commend itself to English public opinion and that will insure their preservation as churches, humming with life, instead of cold, empty, historical monuments.

Admittedly rather difficult!

Wherefore it is not inconceivable that these old masterpieces may yet find themselves transferred to American cities to resume both their youth and their usefulness as links between the old Church of England and the elder daughter, the Protestant Episcopal Church of the U. S. A.

LAW MAKERS IN LICENSED HOTEL

First Session of Legislative Assembly of Southern Rhodesia Held in Ball Room.

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, May 31.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Sir John Chancellor, Governor, opening the first session of the legislative assembly of Southern Rhodesia yesterday, said the occasion formed a landmark in the history of the country. The speech from the throne expressed the regret of the whole country at the postponement of the visit of the Prince of Wales to South Africa, but the visit would still be looked forward to and was expected to take place at no distant date.

It was stated that the estimated revenue and expenditure would be dealt with on the basis that the government should relieve the chartered company, which formerly administered the country, of financial responsibility for the whole financial year. Conditions in that respect were appreciably better than had been anticipated with the result that the year closed with a substantial surplus which was available for the current year. Notwithstanding the depressed state of trade generally, business in Rhodesia had been satisfactory on the whole and present returns indicated an improvement in the volume of commerce compared with the corresponding period of last year.

The speech announced that £516,000 of the recent loan remained in the treasury, £300,000 of which had been set aside for the Land Bank and £25,000 for the assistance of the mining industry and £191,000 for public works. The government's policy, it was announced, was to acquire from the Chartered Company its rights in the minerals of the country at a reasonable figure.

Reference was also made to the stisfactory state of the mining industry.

The first assembly was opened under unique conditions and before a huge attendance, including many settlers who had travelled from remote districts. The assembly is being held in the dance hall of an hotel. This is probably the first time in the history even of colonial legislatures that such an august body has deliberated on licensed premises. Nevertheless the dignity of the occasion was well-maintained. The curious waiting crowds were entertained with orchestral music.

Rhodesia up till last year was administered by the British South Africa company under an Imperial charter and while this company has turned over its political duties to the newly elected representative government, it still retains large interests in the country including the mineral rights. Millions were paid to the company for its railways, and public administrative buildings, etc.

LYONS FAVORS PULPWOOD TAX

Conservation of Ontario Spruce For Canadian Mills Advocated by Hon. Jas. Lyons.

VISITS FORT WILLIAM

FORT WILLIAM, May 31.—Speaking at a luncheon of the Rotary Club here yesterday, Hon. James Lyons, Minister of Lands and Forests, outlined four main points of policy which he forecast would be followed by the Ontario government.

In regard to the export of pulpwood he said that he favored placing an export tax on pulpwood that is now being shipped from Ontario to the United States of at least a dollar a cord, and this he would advocate increasing up to a point where it would conserve all the Ontario pulp wood for Canadian mills.

On the Fort William to Winnipeg highway Mr. Lyons said that he was in favor of construction within three years of a motor highway from Fort William to the Manitoba boundary, following the northern routes, going to the north of the Lake of the Woods, to connect at the Manitoba boundary with the road projected by Manitoba at a point near Falcon Lake.

Touching on the aid to iron ore development, he said that he would favor the province assuming the whole of the bounty proposed of one cent a unit in the event of the Dominion government declining to assume one half of the proposed bounty.

The Minister also spoke of the policy of the government in coping with forest fires and stated that this would be more aggressive and that airplanes would be made use of extensively for the purpose of controlling and detecting fires.

CANADA MIGHT GET DEAF MAN'S 'PHONE.

Officials in the Manitoba Telephone System Are Watching Results of Experiments.

WINNIPEG, May 31. — Telephones will render it possible for the deaf to hear may yet be operating in Canada. Officials of the Manitoba Telephone system are watching with interest the results of the experiments now being made by the Saskatchewan government department of telephones.

The use of the cheekbone as a conductor to the auditory nerve, amplification of the speaking voice, and suppression of extraneous sounds, are the means adapted by the investigators.

According to W. E. Lowry, commissioner of the Manitoba system numerous experiments have been carried along in this direction. Explaining the operation of the amplifying telephone, Mr. Lowry said the method was similar to radio amplifying, the apparatus consisting of small boxes with tubes inside which acted as transmitter and amplifier at once.

"We have one extraordinary case on record," Mr. Lowry remarked. "An old lady living in the country wrote us telling of the wonder the had done for her. She had been deaf for years, but she used the radio for listening-in on church services, and while at first she says, the result was not encouraging, she noticed a gradual improvement in her hearing. Experiments along the line of telephones for deaf date back to the early part of 1922 in Saskatchewan, when the government was asked to provide, if possible equipment to enable an extremely deaf customer to use the telephone.

In December, 1922, the Government had informed the Winnipeg authorities that they did not consider conditions to be such as to warrant further expenditure of federal money for relief, and that it was not the present intention of the Government to bear any of the burden of the relief expenditure in Winnipeg after the date of notice given above. ASK US FOR AN INTERESTING BOOK ON INTERNAL BATHS

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell always claimed his life was saved by Internal Baths—chronic constipation was his bane.

And after they made him well, they kept him one hundred per cent. well and efficient for many years.

This is not hard to believe when physicians agree that most human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the lower intestine and no medicine has ever been found to keep it free from these poisons.

Dr. Tyrrell's book tells why and how this has been the means of freeing many thousands of progressive Canadians from "that tired feeling," as well as the more serious illnesses which follow if the pernicious poisons are not cleaned out.

Simple warm water, scientifically administered, will take them out and keep them out.

The J. B. L. Cascade is the perfected invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York for Internal Bathing. It is now being shown and explained at The Warne Drug Co.

MUCH PUBLICITY DROVE OUT KING

Ex-King George Of Greece Made Public Statement Slighting Party In Power.

BUCHHAREST, May 31.—(Associated Press.)—Kings and queens do not have it all their own way in these days after the war. Queen Marie, of Rumania, while in Paris, got a sharp reminder of that fact when she was notified in a private dispatch that the government had invited her son-in-law, ex-King George of Greece, to leave Rumania as soon as he conveniently could.

The invitation was the result of ex-King George's issuance of a public statement to the effect that whatever the Greek republicans now in power would like him to do, he had no intention of doing it. He added that the throne of Greece was his and his children's, and he did not intend to abdicate, either in his own name or in the name of the family.

The matter became something of an international incident when an official in the Rumanian press bureau tranamitted the item abroad by radio.

This constructive incorrectness on the part of the Rumanian government so deeply agitated the Greek minister here that he wired his immediate resignation to Athens and it was forthwith accepted.

Premier Bratiano of Rumania, however, made no delay in admitting that an impolite thing had been done, a thing that smacked of interference in the internal affairs of Greece. Then followed the pressing invitation to ex-King George to leave Rumania and the unofficial transmission of the fact to Queen Marie in Paris.

PARTIES SEEK HELP OF WOMEN

Next General Election Anticipated By Three British Parties In Catering To Women.

By GLARENCE DUBOSE.

LONDON, May 31. — (United Press).—All three political parties in England are working vigorously for the "woman vote" in the next general election—which may come, suddenly, at any time or may be postponed until next year.

The Liberal and Labor parties are especially active in putting women campaign organizers into the field, and the Conservative party, while indulging in less publicity, is letting no grass grow under its feet in preparations to get the women voters.

The campaigns, in the sense of organization work, is under way almost as earnestly as though an election had actually been ordered. Each party is confident the next parliament will see an additional number of seats held by women. Each party will probably have a larger number of women candidates than before and each is trying to pave the way for its success by advance alignment of as many women as possible.

In 1918 sixteen women ran for Parliament and all were defeated. In 1922, there were thirty-four women candidates and three were elected—the first women to sit as members of the British Parliament. They were Lady Astor, Mrs. T. Wintringham and Mrs. Hylton Phillipson (better known as Mabel Russell, the actress). At the last general elections, December, 1923, there were, again, thirty-four women candidates—the same number as the year before. But eight were elected, instead of three. Women voters are becoming better organized, party workers report, and the proportion of men who vote for women candidates is increasing, they say. Their conclusion is that the number of women M.P.'s will increase at the next election, and probably at all others in the future.

Another thing each party has lurking in the back of its mind is that there are more women than men in England and that some of these days all the women can vote. At present women under thirty years of age are denied the ballot. A bill was offered in the present session of parliament to make the qualifications identical for men and women. It did not pass, but ultimately it will, most authorities believe. This will not be done in time to influence the next election, in all probability, but British politicians are like chess players—figuring always on moves far ahead. They have that slant much more than American politicians, on the whole—and they are playing up to the woman vote now in strong fashion—and thinking on that day, perhaps distant, perhaps near, when women will have a majority of the votes in England.

BREW OF POTEEN ALMOST A TRADE

In Ireland It Is At Any Rate a Good Business—Conducted Practically In Open.

DUBLIN, May 31 (Associated Press).—The manufacture of poteen, or illicit whisky, in the Free State has grown from an occasional adventure into an industry. The loss in revenue is much the least part of the consequent damage. The matter has been the subject of numerous denunciations by the bishops, and many crimes are attributed to the effect of this fiery spirit on young men.

But the real extent of the evil has never been so fully set out as in The Irish Statesman, a weekly journal founded by Sir Horace Plunkett with the subscriptions of American friends.

A writer in the current issue explains that the industry has baffled the efforts of the Government to suppress it. The profits are widely distributed. Malsters trading openly as such sell the materials to local shopkeepers who supply the poteen makes.

Railway companies carry tons of corn into the remotest parts of Connaught and every railway official, says the writer, knows that the consignments are for shopkeepers who supply the poteen makers.

"The whole population is aware of this industry, and scarcely one in a hundred will give information regarding the illegal end of it."

The liquor is sold at 5 cents a pint, and is used at wakes and weddings. All night sprees have become common in country districts. The licensing laws do not afford the means of dealing adequately with the traffic, and it is suggested that they be strengthened so as to make the mere possession of poteen an offence liable to imprisonment.

THY KINGDOM COME.

Thy Kingdom come,
The passing ages pray;
And faithful souls have yearned to see
On earth that kingdom's day.

But the slow watches of the night
Not less to God belong,
And for the everlasting right
The silent stars are strong.

And lo! already on the hills,
The flags of dawn appear;
Gird up your loins, ye prophet souls,
Proclaim the day is near.

The day in whose clear shining light
All wrong shall stand revealed,
When justice shall be clothed with might,
And every hurt be healed.

When knowledge hand in hand with peace,
Shall walk the earth abroad—
The day of perfect righteousness,
The promised day of God.

Chrysler Crystallizes All Past Experience

The Phaeton

Every drop of oil in the Chrysler Six motor is thoroughly filtered every 25 miles. The result of this automatic filtering is the constant use of oil that is practically fresh and entirely free from all foreign substance. It means far greater oil economy and contributes in no small measure to the Chrysler's remarkably smooth performance and freedom from carbon.

The Chrysler Six is literally the crystallization of all past experience in the design and manufacture of motor cars.

It uses its power with far greater efficiency than any other car built today. It is so well balanced and cushioned against road shock that it can be driven in comfort 60 miles an hour on a cobbled street or rutted road.

Its three-inch motor develops a high gear speed range of 2 to over 70 miles an hour, combined with a gasoline economy safely over 20 miles per gallon. Never before has a car given such remarkable performance at such low costs.

PHOTOGRAPHS NOW BEING TELEPHONED

It Will Reduce the Sending Time to Less Than Five Minutes, No Matter What the Distance

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—A device has been perfected to telephone photographs over long distances.

Engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company say:

1. The invention will probably be used for the first time in the transmission of convention photographs by telephone from Cleveland and New York.

2. It will reduce the sending time to less than five minutes, no matter what the distance.

3. It will probably be the forerunner of transmission of photographs by radio telephony across oceans and other expanses.

Plans are already completed for the use of this device with the beginning of the Republican convention. Newspapers and photographic organizations will be permitted to telephone their pictures through this instrument to New York, for publication the same day they are taken.

Without this instrument it would take 14 hours for a photograph to reach New York from here. The new method will take less than five minutes.

Transmitter.

The positive film of the photograph to be telephoned is placed on a cylinder which revolves on a geared axle and is made to move forward one-sixty-fifth of an inch at every turn. Through this film a pin-point light shines and affects a highly sensitive photo-electric cel underneath, wherever the light and partly shaded spots of the positive film allow the light to penetrate.

The photo-electric, or selenium, cell passes on the impulses it gets from the light through a powerful amplifier and the long distance telephone line to the receiving apparatus, in this case in New York.

Receiver.

On the receiver is a sensetized film revolving on an axle similar to that in the sender, and in perfect synchrony with the transmitter. The impulses received from the transmitter actuate a set of valves which permit another pin-point of light to penetrate to the sensitized film, or shut off where it is not supposed to affect the film.

The result is a duplicate of the transmitting film with this exception:

Instead of a clear positive the receiving film is a streaked positive—streaked with lines, 65 to the inch, wherever the light was permitted to penetrate the shaded portions of the transmitting positive.

For newspaper reproduction this is about as good as the screened "half-tones" now being printed. Instead of having 65 dots to the inch both ways, as at present, the telephoned photograph has 65 lines to the inch crossing the whole length or width.

Which reduces the photograph actually to a line drawing and makes its reproduction simpler. There is no need of photographing it further through a screen.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Party in Honor of Miss Grace Hall — Personal Mention.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 31. — The "Brownies" had a very pleasant party on Thursday afternoon when about twenty-five were present in the Sunday School-room.

There was a short programme, consisting of readings and recitations by Iona, Elsie and Glenora McPherson, Marg. Towns, Grace Hall, Florence Bibby, Irene Jeffs, and Viola Couch a reading and piano solo.

The party was in honor of Grace Hall, one of the members who, with her parents, is leaving town to reside in Toronto.

Games were played and the opening and closing hymn was one they had taken for memory work.

The head of the "Brownies" is the "Brown Owl" (Miss Helen Wood), and her assistant is "Tawny Owl" (Miss Kathryn Irwin). The groups are called sixes, and the leaders are sixers. The next in command is called second.

At the close refreshments were served.

Next week's meeting will be the last one till September.

SHE WAS BASHFUL.

Looks like a charwoman resting from her scrubbing. But it isn't. She is a college girl in Washington. And she is being initiated into the Tau Beta Phi Sorority. But she was so ashamed of having to parade through the capital's thoroughfares in this garb that she absolutely would not tell the photographer her name.

ONE IS HER BABY

Fannie Lockwood, 17-year-old St. Louis girl mother, has a task on her hands. She must decide which of three babies is the one that was taken from her a week after its birth. These are the three from which she must make her choice. All are 4 months old now. Blood tests probably will solve the tangle.

PEOPLE VOTE ON LIQUOR QUESTION.

The People Will Decide on Liquor Referendum on July the Sixteenth.

REGINA, Sask., May 31.—(Canadian Press.)— Wednesday, July 16 the people of Saskatchewan will decide by popular vote whether they desire to remain bone dry or will permit liquor to be sold for beverage purposes under a system of government control.

The decision to submit the question to a vote of the people was reached at the last session of the legislature, following the receipt of a petition containing more than 80,000 signatures asking for a plebiscite.

Two questions, one of them subdivided, will appear on the referendum ballot paper. To make the ballot valid every voter must answer "yes" or "no" to the first question which reads: "Are you in favor of prohibition in Saskatchewan?" Those who answer this question in the negative will be expected to subscribe their opinions to the second question which is as follows:

"If a liquor system under government control be established, which of the following do you favor? A. Sale by government vendors in sealed packages of all spirituous and malt liquors, or, B—Sale by government vendors in sealed packages of all spirituous and malt liquors and also sale of beer in licensed premises."

On the two previous occasions that the liquor question has been submitted to popular vote in the province, women were entitled to vote and they will, of course, vote again on July 16.

From 1892 to 1908, Saskatchewan had a system of wide open bars to which every one had access in cities, towns and villages and what were called rural localities, from early morning until 11.30 at night. Local option, according to municipalities was introduced in 1908 and at the same time the hours of the opening and closing of the bars were shortened, the number of licensed places was reduced and various other restrictive measures were passed.

This system continued until 1915 when Hon. Walter Scott, then premier, announced in a speech at Oxbow that the time had arrived when the bars and wholesale liquor houses had to go. The legislature subsequently passed the necessary legislation to implement the announcement and at the same time provided for the establishment of government liquor stores. The bars and wholesale liquor houses were closed on June 30, 1915.

From that time until December 1916, thirsty Saskatchewan people had two legitimate sources of supply—the government liquor stores and importation from outside the province. In December 1916, which was the first time the women exercised the franchise, the people voted the government liquor stores out of business by four to one, the recorded vote being: Against—95,246. For, 23,666.

As a result of the vote the legislature enacted the Saskatchewan Temperance Act, which prohibited the sale of liquor in the province except for medicinal, scientific, manufacturing and sacramental purposes. With the ban on importation by federal orders-in-council under the War Measures Act, Saskatchewan was for a time bone dry, but this order was rescinded and from January 1, 1920 until February 1, 1921, it was again possible for individuals to import into the province from other provinces or from outside Canada, liquor for beverage purposes.

Following a decision of the legislature in the 1919-20 session and subsequently the federal government, another plebiscite was submitted to the people of the province on October 25, 1920, to decide for or against the importation of intoxicating liquor. The result of the vote was: Dry, 86,949; wet, 55,259. As a result of this vote a federal order-in-council was passed prohibiting importation into Saskatchewan after February 1, 1921 and the province became legislatively bone dry once again.

In the meantime a commission of three with R. E. A. Leech, of Regina as chairman, was set up to administer the Saskatchewan Temperance act, to provide for the distribution of liquor for legitimate purposes and to see that the act was not violated. This commission is still operating.

There still existed in the province, however, a number of export liquor warehouses and it was contended by the dry forces that these institutions were responsible for liquor leaking into illegal channels within the province. Following representation by the Saskatchewan legislature, federal legislation was invoked to abolish these places and the last was closed in December, 1922.

Since that time two efforts have been made by the Moderation League of Saskatchewan to bring into opertaion a system of government control. In the winter of 1922-23 backed by a substantial petition, they asked for the establishment of such a system. Their representations were met by the government with the attaement that this question could be only determined by popular vote, so far as the government was concerned. Last winter the league officials returned with a still larger petition, asking for the submission of a plebiscite to the people. This was opposed by the prohibitionists on the ground that prohibition should have at least three years trial from the date of the closing of the export warehouses. But the legislature granted the request of the petitioners and the vote is to be taken within the next two months.

LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes.

Another surprise was yet in store. A. Wm. Pratt of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhoea and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. Nothing serves so many every day purposes and nothing is better entitled to its place in every home. When it is needed, it will be needed in a hurry. Don't wait for someone to be hurt. Get it at your druggist's today. $1.25 everywhere.

SHELTER WAS NOT FOR LAWN BOWLERS

Mayor Turner Suggested Using Jackson Park Pavilion For Bathing Beach Dressing Room.

"Lover of Nature" who wrote under "Voice of the People" last night condemning the project to bring the shelter from Jackson Park to be used as a bowling club house was misinformed.

As reported in Thursday's Examiner, it was proposed to take this pavilion for use as a dressing room at Inverlea bathing beach where the tent has deteriorated to such an extent that it is past further service.

If the bowling club was given a tract in Central park it would erect a club house and fence the property without expense to the city.

The plan to use the Jackson Park pavilion as a bathing beach dressing room was merely a suggestion by Mayor Turner in an effort to keep down expenses, and was subject to the wishes of Nicholl's Park Trust.

Blood flows through the bones of very young children almost as freely as through the veins.

FINANCE COMMITTEE HAD BUSY MEETING

Tax Collector Instructed to Proceed With Collection of Arrears—Injury Insurance Suggested.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last night Frank Dobbin presented for consideration a case under the Mothers' Allowance Commission. F. W. Miller, City relief officer reported on indigent persons being helped by the city, and Wm. J. Green, tax collector, told of his efforts to hurry the payment of arrears of taxes. The city council is pressing Mr. Green for the return of his roll and last night he was instructed to proceed against the debtors.

City Solicitor Joseph Wearing reported on accounts for services of a stenographer and a doctor in police court that the municipality must pay without putting them through the police deparment estimates as had been suggested. Alderman Stocker moved that the accounts be paid.

Hill, Wedell and Hill offered insurance covering the city in cases of injuries to citizens caused by defective sidewalks, paths and roadways, and providing for the defense of the city in any suit resulting. The rate offered was $4.50 on $100.

Alderan Turner moved that the record of payments in accidents be reported to the committee for comparison and consideration. It was thought by the committee that a mistake had been made in quoting on the insurance and this will be checked back.

The advantage of issuing debentures on the serial plan as compared with the present practice under the sinking fund plan was discussed. Copies of comparative figures will be sent to each member of the council for consideration and the subject will be discussed later.

The Trade's Attitude To The Manufacturer

WHILE the market for most lines of goods is fairly firm, competition among manufacturers is keen.

Some show tendencies to cut prices in their anxiety to move goods.

With such conditions in force, it is natural for Retailers to hold the view that prices are more likely to recede than to go up.

The result is that:—

Retailers are buying cautiously; watching their stocks closely.

They are trying to avoid accumulating large inventories, particularly of slow moving lines that they may be able to buy at lower prices in the near future, or that they might have to mark down and sell at a loss later on.

Before buying a line to-day the careful Retailer wants to feel reasonably sure it will sell—that it is a line the public wants—that it will turn over fast enough to give a fair return on the price paid.

The manufacturer who can show the trade that he is doing something real and tangible to create public interest and confidence in his product, and to speed up its sale to the consumer, is going to receive more consideration and more orders from the trade.

The best evidence a manufacturer can show the trade that he is giving the Retailer some real help is an exhibit of the Advertising he is running in newspapers, magazines and farm papers.

The Retailer knows and appreciates the power of strong, vigorous, persistent Advertising to sell goods and to speed up the number of turnovers of the line.

He knows that the Consumer has confidence in Advertised Goods and buys them more readily, therefore he knows there is less risk of future loss and more chance of a quick turnover, on an advertised line than an unadvertised line.

He will stock an advertised line much more readily than an unadvertised one—buy it more frequently—order larger quantities.

What is the trade's attitude to you to-day?

Is your product advertised?

If not, wouldn't it be good business to confer with us?

If you have a good product, an aggressive, capable selling organization, and are willing to become a vigorous, persistent, permanent advertiser, we would like to talk business with you.

INTERESTING ADDRESS HOME HORTICULTURE

Prof. A. H. Tomlinson Addressed the Peterboro Horticultural Society.

Under the auspices of the local Horticultural Society, an interesting address, dealing with the planting and beautification of home grounds, was given in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce last evening, by Professor A. H. Tomlinson of the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph. Illustrated profusely with slides, many of which were beautifuly colored, the address was an exposition in word and picture of proper and improper methods of arranging home grounds. Between 50 and 60 people heard the discourse, which was presided over by Mr. R. W. Cormack, president of the local Horticultural Society. Mr. Cormack, in his opening remarks, reviewed the new policy of the Society, in discontinuing the giving of options to members, and stressed the aim of the organization as being more of an educational character, than merely acting as a medium for the distribution of the seedsmen's goods. Much success had followed the inclusion of junior memberships, the school children being admitted for the fee of ten cents and a button given them which would admit them to an exhibition that the society is planning for the fall. One hundred and sixty-nine children have been enrolled. It was found impracticable to hold the competition amongst the children for which J. J. Turner and Sons had offered a shield as a prize, but Mr. Cormack expressed the thanks of the society towards the firm for their kind offer. To each adult joining this year a month's free subscription was given to the Canadian Horticulturist; also a copy of a lecture delieered at the last annual meeting by Mr. Baldwin of Toronto.

Professor Tomlinson, in a friendly, pleasing, personal manner of address, prefaced his address with an allusion to a false idea held in the Dominion that home grounds in the Old Country were more beautiful than our own. He said that the climatic conditions here were more favorable to growth than in the British Isles, and that the great variety of native shrubs and flowers available for use in Canada, along with the exotic growths which might be included in garden arrangements, made a wonderful combination. He spoke of visits to famous gardens in England and Edinburgh, where hundreds of trees and plants and shrubs which were native to Ontario, were made use of in increasing profusion. The Canadian oak, the American elm, and the tulip tree, which has its habitat along the shores of Lake Erie, in Essex County, but is seldom used in other sections of Canada, were very popular in the Old Country; also Canadian cedars, junipers, and white pine and white spruce, were much favored there. In Old Country nurseries, Canadian wild flowers, such as the trillium, the marsh marigold, violets, adder's tongue, and hepatica, were carefully nurtured.

A bit of advice which the professor emphasized time and again throughout his talk was the desirability, in planting home grounds and gardens, of adopting that style of arrangement and using the material, which best suited one. "Express your own individuality in your garden. Never mind what anybody else is doing or tells you," might be summed up as his reiterated belief. "If you have a big place, and want a Dutch or sunken garden, go ahead and have it; or if you prefer the formal Italian style, why that is the style for you. And plant your favorite things, those that you like yourself, as long as you plant them where they will do best. When you do this you express your own personality in your garden, and please yourself."

Lantern slides which followed illustrated the various types of home grounds, from back yards, with unsightly fences, to formal, beautiful gardens, with mosaic planting and Greek pergolas.

Colored slides showed various species of flowers and several illustrated homes with gardens and lawns. The speaker recommended climbers, like convolvulus and roses and hollyhocks, for back fences, with climbing roses, and the Illinois or Ingraham ivy, in preference to the Boston, for verandah use. The conifers, like the juniper tree, were useful for shrubbery or for covering unsightly foundations, and the native Ontario white spruce or the British Columbia fir was just as effective, in his opinion for lawn work, as the very expensive blue spruce. Another native climber recommended was the bittersweet.

A naturalistic, rather than a formal scheme of arrangement, was considered best in this country, and the professor spoke of the pleasing appearance of a frontal, fine green sward. The red Norway maple or the copperbeech, were excellent in the tree line, and several slides were shown, depicting the treatment of of shrubs and evergreens trimmed to a conical shape. Natural curves of the landscape, rather than stiff, square outlines, should be followed in lawn arrangements. To consider the lawn as a pool of water and the surrounding shrubbery and grounds as the shore line, was an excellent idea.

The professor showed slides of a pergola arrangement erected in the grounds adjacent to the Guelph College by a student. The classical lines of the white, trellised structure would be more suitable, he thought, to a formal building. He regarded the rustic pergoal, fashioned of cedar or birch or spruce, as more suited to the usual natualistic Canadian scheme of grounds arrangement.

A Moorish type of treatment, with a sunken pool in the centre of a garden, the water surrounded by cement curbing, and filled with water lilies, was pretty, but required, in the speaker's opinon, a certain type of building behind it If the building was not of the formal type it should be hidden from view in some way. In making a dwarf hedge, the Japanese barberry was recommended, as giving excellent results.

As a verandah rose, the Prairie climber, parent of our own Prairie Queen, was shown, a bed of rhododendrons beneath. Of these latter flowers the professors said they required an acid soil, and should be planted in leaf loam or a peat, tundra or muskeg base.

Views of European and Japanese gardens were shown, with a German garden, which seemed typical of Germanic ideas. Neat, hard-looking small flower plots were surrounded by high white pickets, the paths between carefully marked out. A picture of a famous English garden showed a wonderful example of formal mosaic treatment, with a border holding the very effective plant, the "hen and chickens" edging.

Beautiful colored slides of flowers were also shown, among them a lovely yellow Chinese rose, which the speaker thought might be crossed with native varieties, with excellent results. There were shown also various other roses, among them the creeping species, for verandahs, the pale hued hybrid teas, the Columbia and the American Beauty. Dozens of other flowers were shown, the pansies, the delphiniums, the Shasta daisy, the lupins, which are becoming so popular in England, poppies, narcissus, white lilies, water lilies, of which the speaker remarked that the Nile lily, or lotus blossom, thrives now in St. William, Ont., and the Chinese pink.

A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Dr. J. E. Middleton and seconded by Mr. C. S. Thompson.

CROWE LAKE, May 30, 1924.—"Men here are Busy fixing up the roads. They started from the end of the Reserve—scraping up the mud holes, and fill them holes with stones—and put back the clay on top of the stones and then gravel. The Band here draw out one thousand dollars out of their own capital all to be spent on the road and we hope that the Pathmaster at 16th will see that thier part of the road is graded. It don't need much as we have had been now working three or four years where white man should have been working and fixing grading the roads, instead of having an Indian to do his work. We should of demand pay for what we have done on white man's roads, for I am sure no white man would come over the line and fix up our roads. Ha! ha!"

UTILITIES DECIDE A PUBLIC MEETING

Commission Will Take Another Step in Investigation on Tuesday Night.

Peterborough Utilities Commission will hold a public meeting on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the City Council Chamber to further investigate the allegations of inconsistencies in the Campbell Milling Company power account.

The meeting is open to all citizens, and the City Council and the Campbell Milling Company are being officially notified.

Chairman Robert Hicks told The Examiner to-day that the Commission has been in correspondence with Mayor Turner and D. A. Campbell, general manager of the Campbell Milling Company, Toronto, regarding the investigation which was handed over to the Commission by the City Council recently.

To the Mayor he wrote:

"The City Clerk has notified me that you have some correspondence with the Campbell Milling Company, and I will leave the matter of their appearance in their hands. Should you find the date set of Tuesday next not satisfactory to you, or them, please inform me at once, so that I may arrange to meet your convenience as far as possible, and yet have the matter of the Campbell Milling Company and the Peterborough Cereal Company cleaned up, or disposed of, by this Commission, without delay."

To Mr. Campbell the chairman wrote:

"I feel quite sure that Mayor Turner and Mr. Meyers would appreciate your presence at this meeting, and I trust you will make every effort to satisfy their desire in this respect."

This was subsequent to receiving a letter from Mr. Campbell in which he said he had written Mayor Turner. "If after receipt of this letter," he continued, "a deputation desires to see me, I will be very pleased to arrange to see them either here or at Peterborough."

STAGE STAR WINS CLAIM TO ESTATE

More Than Two Years Ago She Revealed the Secret of Her Parentage.

CHICAGO, May 31. — Canadian Press. — Mrs. Ena Welch, a former stage beauty, who more than two years ago pried the secret of her parentage from the associates of a romantic girlhood, and laid a claim to a half million dollar estate, yesterday won her fight for recognition.

The decision handed down in Judge Brewer's court declared her the daughter of the former Alderman, Charles Swigart, and the legal heir to the property.

Five years ago Swigart died intestate.

A bitter controversy resulted. Conservators charged that Miss Welch was a native of Wolfe Island, Ont., Canada, where she had spent much of her girlhood. They brought witnesses from Canada to prove that she was the daughter of Tom Davis, the clog dancer, and his wife Sarah. Mrs. Welch lost the suit but renewed the fight a month ago.

She brought several witnesses to show that Mrs. Sarah Davis had come to Chicago after the death of Tom Davis, and had met Swigart. They lived together, it was testified, and in 1869 a daughter was born.

REFUSED TO PAY TAXES

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 31.—Following instructions from the Board of Education Fred W. Brady, Tax Collector, of Charleroi, has started laying information against 1,700 women and 300 men of that borough who refuse to pay their school taxes. The School Board ordered that the woman who had persistently refusel to pay their share of the revenue for the school be arrested as well as the men. In addition to the taxes those arrested will have to pay costs amounting to several dollars.

Tax collectors throughout the county report that women refuse absolutely to pay taxes, but Charleroi is the first district to resort to drastic action in an effort to collect them.

WASHINGTON, May. 31—A. L. Fink of Buffalo, to-day, charged before the Daugherty investigating committee that Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, offered him $1,000 to give perjured testimony against President Coolidge before the committee.

Wild disorder ensued in the committee room after Fink made his charge.

Institute Supply a New Flag for the Town Hall

MILLBROOK, May 31. — The Women's Institute held an open meeting in the Sunday School-room of Grace Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, the retiring president. Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, occupying the chair.

The attendance was the largest on an occasion of this kind for some years, and the speaker, Miss Esther Slicter, who travels the province over in the interests of Women's Institute work, expressed herself as being much pleased with the interest shown. Previous to Miss Slicter's address, the Misses Flossie and Annie McMahon played a piano duet, Miss Anna Hawthorne sang 'Within a Garden," Miss Ethel Richardson being her accompanist, and Mrs. Fred. Smith gave a humorous reading, "Goin' Fishin'."

Mrs. R. J. McKnight read the secretary's report, showing seventy-five names on the roll and a total of seven meetings held during the year. The new flag lately purchased by the Institute has been flying from the flag-pole in front of the Town Hall for the first time on Empire Day, and plants had been distributed to the members this spring for the first time since before the war. There are a few plants still unsold, and until these are disposed of complete financial returns cannot be made.

Miss Slicter chose as the theme of her remarks the general value of Institute work, emphasizing particularly the educational gain to those holding office. She urged the duty of the members to give loyal support to the office-holders, stating that this was not always done as "women hold spite longer than men, and often hinder the work because of this unfortunate trait."

"You will get out only as you put in, and your ideas on some line may be the very best in this community." "What would our Institute be like if every member were just like me?" "You will learn to think when on your feet, and make impromptu speeches worth listening to through practice, so don't decline to take office when the obligation is put upon you."

These were a few of the leading thoughts put forward by the speaker who, in the remainder of her address, stressed the value and importance of co-operation between home and school, the need of making home attractive to the children, the kind of entertainemnt which may be provided for social gatherings, and the absolute necessity of encouraging confidence between parents and the boys and girls in the home.

A hearty vote of thanks to Miss Slicter for her helpful remarks was moved by Mrs. J. R. Eakins, the district secretary, and seconded by Mrs. C. Thorndyke, who is the president of the local Institute for the ensuing year.

Rev. H. Arthur Barton, of Ottawa, who conducted a two weeks' union evangelistic campaign in the Methodist Church here last fall, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Patton, Zion. Mr. and Mrs. Patton knew Mr. Barton when he was on pastoral work in the West, where they were also living at the time.

Mrs. Reid Lowery, of Fallis Line, who has spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Parker, at Los Angeles, Cal., has returned home.

Professor Adlum to Speak at St. Paul's.

Prof. Odlum of Vancouver, is giving a series of lectures and conducting services on the Sunday, in a number of centres in Ontario on the general subject, "Are the Anglo-Saxon People the Lost Ten Tribes of Israel?" He will preach to-morrow at both services in St. Paul's church. A visit from Col. McKendrick to the "Men of St. Paul's" recently, when he spoke on this same subject, has created great interest among many of the men. When some of them heard that Prof. Odlum was passing through Ontario just now and speaking in many places on this subject, they expressed a desire to hear him. The only available date was Sabbath, June 1st. Prof. Odlum spoke in Canon Cody's church a few days last week . He also preached in Cooke's Presbyterian church a week ago. His two addresses in St. Paul's church to-morrow promise to be of interest to all who shall hear him.

The Peterborough Male Voice Choir will have charge of the music at the evening service.

A NEW INVENTION RESTORES GLANDS

The Average Woman is Still Young Looking and Well Preserved at 35 or 40.

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

NEW YORK, May 31.—"Grow old with me," sang Robert Browning, the poet—

But womeh turned a deaf ear.

"Stay young along with me and the rest of your contemporaries," urges the modern gland doctor.

And women are all attention.

"By staying young, I do not mean stay 18," explains Dr. Herman H. Rubin, who has worked two years to perfect his radiendricinator for gland stimulation which is arousing much interest in New York.

"I mean stay at the point of your highest mental and physical development.

"The average woman is still young looking and well preserved at 35 or 40. She should not aim to look younger, like a flapper, but should at that point keep and grow no older. This can be done."

Gamma rays of radio-active elements are the means toward this end, the doctor believes, and, translated into less technical language, this merely means that we recharge the human cell batteries, occasionally, that supply the electronic force necessary for each body cell to function properly.

"In a less complicated age than ours, when we didn't all try to crowd so much into one lifetime, nature attended to the recharging of our human batteries," he continued.

'Now most of us deplete our nervous energy and strength faster than nature can supply it and unless science contributes power, we must break. We know we age because certain glands deteriorate.

"These glands may be restored, not necessarily by the transplantation of human or animal glands, as was once believed, but by stimulation applied scientifically."

Dr. Rubin makes no extravagant claims for his new machine he is introducing, but he does assert that many of his patients have been made younger a dozen years by it, and that they have been able to work at a tension quite impossible under normal conditions, and to look unharassed while doing so.

He admitted that more women than men availed themselves of his invention.

"Because looks and appearance count for so much more in a woman than in a man," he explained. "Age does not hamper a man in business and professional life as it does a woman.

"The woman who is trying to keep her youth today is the woman executive, prominent in business and professional life, who has a man's responsibilities and burdens and a woman's strength. Keeping her youth isn't vanity or a desire to cling to the frivolities of life—it's bread and butter."

CARPENTIER JUST AS CONFIDENT AS GIBBONS

Both Lightweights Announce Their Fitness For To-Night's Ten - Round Bout and Likewise Each Expects to Win — Are Evenly Matched.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 31. —Tom Gibbons last night reiterated his confidence in the outcome of his contest with Georges Carpentier tonight, expressing the firm belief he will win decisively before the end of the ten rounds.

"Then I can go back to Jack Dempsey's doorstep, and say: 'Here I am again,'" he said.

Carpentier was alro confident of the result and declared that he would "knock into what you call the cocked hat all the stories that my career is ended.

Carp's "The Best."

Carpentier said: "I wish to announce that I have not felt as I do to-day in many years. I am in superb condition, the result of several months of systematic training. Never have I passed such a peaceful training siege. All this has rounded me into the most desirable health and condition and I will repay all my friends for the many nice things done for me by making every effort to have them pleased with the results. I never predict before any match on the result, but I can add with all sincerity that I never felt more confident in my life."

Gibbon's Aggressive.

Gibbons said: "I intend to make this an aggressive bout. I consider Carpentier one of the best boxers I have ever met. He is aggressive, too. While there is no title at stake, the outcome means really more to each of us. I sort of feel like the athletic honor of the good old U.S.A. rests on my shoulders. I suppose Georges feels the same way about France. The conditions under which I have trained have been ideal. I have been in the open almost continuously, either playing golf or hiking. I am stronger, hit more accurately, and harder than I did at Shelby last summer. I had no fear in meeting Dempsey, but I am goining into this one with real enthusiasm."

Referee Dickerson said: "In height, weight, reach and experience, two more evenly matched light heavyweights have never faced each other in the ring. I look for the contest between them to be highly entertaining and crowd-satisfying."

GOLF FINAL TO-DAY

E. W. H. Holderness and E. F. Storey Strive For British Title.

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland, May 31 —E. W. H. Holderness, who won the British amateur golf championship in 1922, will have a chance to-day to regain the crown. He will meet E. F. Storey, captain of the Cambridge University team, in the final round of the tournament.

After both Roger Wethered, the champion, and Holderness, had safely weathered the sixth round, the former winning from John MacCormack, Hermitage Club, 3 up and 1 to play, and Holderness accounting for Robert Harris, Royal and Ancient 2 and 1, Wethered caught a tartar in Storey in the semi-finals, and was eliminated from the competition by a score of 2 up. Holderness won his semi-final round by defeating W. A. Murray of Westhill 3 up and 2 to play.

CANADA'S ACE IN MARATHON

JOHN CUTHBERT

By winning the Toronto marathon, a 19-mile test, John Cuthbert qualified for the Canadian Olympic team in the "human horse" event. The race was run in a driving rain and Cuthberts' time of 1 hour 52 minutes and 14 4-5 seconds is considered good.

ALL-GERMAN AUTO SHOW.

BERLIN, May 31. — The German automobile manufacturers have decided to hold a national exhibit this fall, and during the same week it is planned to arrange a race fo rthe grand prix of the Automobile Club of Germany. It is quite likely that this will be the last exclusively German auto exhibit, as in September or October the government's embargo on the importation of cars probably will be lifted.

WILLIAM COLES

LONDON, Ont., May 31.—One of the best bicycle riders in the land is William Coles of this city who is in training for the Olympic races in Paris this summer. Coles won the 10 mile national championship two years ago and is almost certain to qualify on the Canadian Olympic team.

Third Base Gives Managers Trouble

NEW YORK, May 31.—Third base is a problem for three of the four eastern teams in the American League.

The New York Yankees with Joe Dugan at third is the only club in the Atlantic Coast section that is well fortified at the difficult corner.

At Washington, Protho hits well but is slow in the field. Bluege, his rival for the job, is a good fielder but weak hittter.

The Boston Red Sox are simply experimenting.. Manager Fohl secured Ezzel in a trade with St. Louis. Fohl hopes he will show enough to win the job.

Sammy Hale of the Athletics is a much improvel ball player this year but still far from brilliant as a fielder.

JUVENILES AND MIDGETS START PLAY NEXT WEEK

Schedules Will Be Drawn Up Over Week-End For Exhibition Park.

JUNIORS AT RIVERSIDE

Field Day Tickets Are Selling Rapidly For Saturday, June 7.

At the meeting of the City League Baseball Association held last evening in the Holy Name rooms, Mr. Vince O'Connel's resignation from the position of secretary-treasurer of the association was accepted and Don Loucks was appointed to the position with Bill Prindible as his assistant. Mr. Loucks has had experience in this line and will no doubt make a first class man for this position.

A discussion on the drawing up of the schedules for the different leagues was made and it was decided that Bill Prindible and Charlie Curtis would draw up the schedule of the Juvenile and Midget series for the coming week so that the teams may get started in their games. These two men will have the schedule ready for the teams to start early next week. It was also definitely decided that the Juvenile, Midget and Bantam leagues of the City League would play their games at the Exhibition Grounds, while some arrangements for the East City Classics in the Juvenile series will be made so that they may play some of their games at Nicholls Oval.

Play at Riverside.

The Lakeviews and Crescents in the Junior series, who have arranged with the Central League to play their games at Riverside Park on Wednesday evenings of each week will do so and will be affiliated with the City League but will finance their own league and will not look to the City League to supply them with balls as too many will be lost at Riverside while very few will be lost by the other leagues at the Exhibition Grounds. There is at present three teams entered in the Juvenile league but it is hoped that another team will be secured.

Millbrook May Enter

Millbrook's application to enter a team in this league has been considered and it is hoped that they will make up the fourth team. Mr. Stinson an agent of the C.N.R. at Millbrook who is looking after this proposed team has been notified but no answer has been received yet by the secretary and whether they are still looking for a berth in this league is not known. Jack Sullivan, president of the City League, stated that he would get in touch with Mr. Stinson and find out what they intend doing. The Midget league will be started next week, there being five teams entered, the latest arrival being the South Centrals. Nothing definite is known about the teams in the Bantam League but it is expected that some men will be secured in the near future to take over teams in this class.

At the Kiwanis practice on Thursday afternoon at Riverside Park, Bob Mackey who will pilot that team this year had over sixty boys from all over the city to pick from, but he will pick twelve boys out of this lot nobody knows. Bob Mackey is confident of getting a couple of men to take over teams while Charlie Curtis either intends to take over a team himself or else get somebody to manage one for him. In a short discussion on the Field Day on June 7th the men spoke confidently of a big success and a large number of tickets have already been sold. Several teams were alloted their tickets last night and they will have them up for sale until June 7th the day of the big event, which is expected to be one of the biggest days of this kind ever put on in this city.

SOFTBALL GAME TIED

Adanacs and Canadas of Lakefield Failed to Produce Winner.

LAKEFIELD, May 30. —A fast soft ball game was played on Tuesday evening on the school grounds between two local teams the Adanacs and Canadas. A good crowd attended the game.

The play was fast throughout and after nine innings the score was 3-3 The most interesting features were, a home run by B. Blewett and a three bagger by P. Condon bringing in two men. The pitcher for the Adanacs blew up in the beginning of the ninth and was substituted by G. Sherin. T. Hampton the Canada's pitcher only allowed four hits and was steady throughout. C. Wannamaker, John Sherin and E. Robertshaw did some good catching.

The line-up was as follows:

Canadas

T. Hampton, pitcher; I. Crowe, catcher; Babe Wanamaker, 1st base; R. Hunter, 2nd base; C. Wannamaker, 3rd base; H. Hamblin, right short stop; John Sherin, left short stop; V. McManus, right field; P. Condon, left field.

Adanacs

R. Payne, pitcher; F. Payne, catcher; D. Junkin, 1st base; B. Blewett, 2nd base; E. Morin, 3rd base; G. Sherin, right short stop; F. Madill, left short stop; E. Robertshaw, right field; E. Northey, left field.

The report of Mr. Frank Darling of Dummer, having broken his knee cap, as reported last week was incorrect as the injured man was Mr. Frank Harding also of Dummer.

RACING MOTORS BROKE RECORDS

Time at Indianapolis Speedway Averaged 98.24 Miles an Hour For 500 Miles.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—(Canadian Press).—The annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday produced record-breaking time for the great gasoline classic and also brought honors to two race drivers — Joe Boyer, of Detroit, and L. L. Corum, of Indianapolis. To Boyer goes the credit for bringing the winning car across the finish line, while to Corum, who was in the driver's seat of the winning car as it flashed away at the start, will go the rich prize of approximately $30,000.

Boyer, who retired when his car developed trouble, piloted the winning machine over the last 233 miles, but W. D. Edenburn, representative of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association Board, declared that under the rules Corum would be credited with victory and therefore is entitled to the prize money. Boyer and Corum were team-mates, driving Indianapolis-made cars.

Terrific Pace Set.

Setting a terrific pace in the winning machine, Boyer moved up from fourth place, and after a speed duel, took the lead from Earl Cooper at 445 miles and held it until the finish. Cooper finished second, 1.24 seconds behind the leader, and Jimmy Murphy, winner in 1922, eased into third position nearly three minutes later.

The average of 98.24 miles an hour maintained cracked the race record of 94.48 miles an hour, established by Murphy when he won in 1922. The elapsed time for the entire route was five hours five minutes 23 51-100 seconds, this breaking Murphy's record of 5.17.30.79.

Five Smash Record.

The first five finishers yesterday all eclipsed the track record, thus showing the hot pace maintained. Automotive engineers declared it a victory for the 122 cubic inch pistol displacement type of racing motors in their second year of competition.

Others who shared in the $50,000 divided among the first ten to complete the race finished as follows:

Harry Hartz, fourth; Bennie Hill, fifth; Pete De Paolo, sixth; Fred. Comer, seventh; Ira Vail, eighth; Antonne Morre, ninth, and Robert McDonogh, tenth.

A consolation prize of $10,000 was distributed among the other twelve drivers who started.

Corum, as a result of the victory, will receive $20,000 for first place, approximately $8,000 offered by accessory firms, and numerous cups and trophies. He did not win any of the lap prizes, this money going to Cooper, Murphy and Boyer. Boyer got into the lap money by shoving his own car over the tape first in the initial lap. Cooper's lap prizes were announced as totalling $3,400 and Murphy's as $2,800.

FILIPINO TROUNCED ENGLISH CONTENDER

NEW YORK, May 31.—(Canadian Press).—Pancho Villa, sensational Filipino flyweight, and holder of the world's 112-pound crown, successfully defended his title by decisively outpointing Frankie Ash, of England, in a 15-round match in Brooklyn last night. The champion carried a relentless attack to his challenger throughout the bout and easily won every round. Villa weighed the flyweight limit of 112, while Ash scaled 110½.

The champion frantically tried for a knockout in the closing rounds, and at one time, in the thirteenth round, it appeared that he might accomplish his purpose, but the Britisher pluckily clung to his guns and survived the ordeal.

NORMAN DOLE

JANICE MANNING

PALO ALTO, Calif., May 31—"Twixt love and loyalty," might have been the title of the romance of Norman Dole, Stanford athlete, and Janice Manning, University of California student.

As usual, love won.

Her problem was this: If you see the man you love scoring points against your alma mater, what should you do?

"Marry him; then cheer for your husband," was her answer.

Thus it happened that Dole and Miss Maninng were secretly married not long ago, this culminating a romance which had started in childhood days in Riverside.

Dole is a quarte-miler of note. Also a footballer.

DOUBLE CODE OF MORALS DENOUNCED BY WILL NIGH

Marriage Standard Should be Measured Up to by Husband, As Well As by Wife, Says Famous Author-Director.

The so-called dual standard of morality, elastic for the husband and hidebound for the wife, comes in for a scathing denunciation by Will Nigh, famous author-director in his latest super-picture, "Marriage Morals," at the Royal Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

"one of the greatest evils of our day, all the worse because it has the sanction of tradition, is the connubial code which permits the husband to insist upon liberty and license for his past, and very often for his present, while he at the same time insists upon a standard of morality for his wife, which he would never dream of measuring up to himself, and for any infraction of which he can and does punish his wife with a fanatic ferocity worthy of a Salem witch-burner, while the world looks on with approval and aids with its scorn and ostracism.

"I think this anomalous and unreasonable state of affairs is all wrong. While I don't hold with frantic feminists who want equality with men in everything, I do agree with them when they demand of their future husbands what the husbands by custom and convention expect of them—a clean heart, a clean mind, and a clean conscience.

"'Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander,' and turn-about is fair play; and if it's alright for the man to play ducks and drakes with a woman's heart, and marry and settle down when he gets good and ready, then it's alright for a woman to do so too.

"We know chaos would obtain and civilization would tremble on the brink of savagery, if such a condition should prevail, yet the danger of a feminist revolution is always around the corner.

"With this thought in mind, I prepared the story of 'Marriage Morals,' showing a fast-stepping, high-spot-hitting young millionaire who insists upon his 'liberty' to the neglect of his wife and child and his home. Being a typical member of the genus male, he doesn't like it one little bit when friend wife starts emulating his excellent example and goes him one better just to show she's not so slow.

"The inevitable consequence makes drama—good, strong drama—with an appeal direct to the heart, according to the critics in New York."

L. Lawrence Weber and Bobby North, the producers, supplied Will Nigh with a cast of really stellar calibre, including Tom Moore, Ann Forrest, Edmund Breese, Florence Billings, H. T. Morey, Shannon Day, Tom Lewis, John Goldsworthy, little Russell Griffin, Charles Craig and "Mickey" Bennett, and Will Nigh has supplied them and his large following with a super-picture worthy to rank with the best of his many successes.

AT THE CAPITOL

REGINALD DENNY STARS AGAIN IN RACING DRAMA

Reginald Denny achieved a worthy reputation for fast action in the early rounds of the famous "Leather Pushers" series in which he was starred by Universal. "The Abysmal Brute," the film version of Jack London's novel, again witnessed Denny in a burst of speed.

Reg galloped a lot of fast furlongs in "The Kentucky Derby," thus adding to his reputation for the symbol of fast action.

Now comes a picture in which Denny "strides" through the picture at a hundred miles per hour. All previous attempts at speed rate as "slow motion" in comparison to the whirl of "Sporting Youth, the Universal-Jewel production in which Denny is starred, coming next thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Saturday matinee, to the Capitol Theatre.

Denny is noted in the Hollywood film colony for his excessively fast driving. He is a wonderful driver and likes to play tag with the best racers. But his craving for speed was entirely satisfied during the filming of his latest feature. It is a story of automobile racing, written by Byron Morgan, author of the famous "Roaring Road" stories published in the Saturday Evening Post.

The climax of the story comes in a big road race and all of the thrill of such a race has been caught by the camera for the Denny film. The road race was staged at San Luis Obispo, near Monterey, California, and many of the most famous drivers in the country drove in it. Denny, by the way, proved himself a first rate racing driver.

Denny is supported by Laura La Plante and an all-star cast. Harry A. Pollard directed the picture.

HAROLD LLOYD AT CAPITOL MON., TUES., WED., IN ONE OF HIS BEST COMEDIES

Some of the former Harold Lloyd comedy successes are the kind that never grow old, and of all the earlier laugh hits that the great comedian produced, few contain more real laughter than does "High and Dizzy," in which he will be seen at the Capitol Theatre, as an added attraction, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. "High and Dizzy" was the one in which Lloyd first added real fame as a comedy star, and is considered one of the best.

CAPITAL DISCONTINUES DAILY MATINEES DURING SUMMER MONTHS

Commencing on Monday, the Capitol will run matinees only on Saturday afternoon and on holidays during the months of June, July and August. There will be a matinee on Tuesday, June 3, this being the King's birthday. Patrons will find that during the summer months the usual high standard of Capitol entertainment will be maintained. Among the stars booked to appear during June are Reginad lDenny Thomas Meighan, Poli Negri, Claire Windsor, Tom Mix and other popular favorites. Snub Pollard, Ben Turpin, Lloyd Hamilton and Bobby Vernon are some whose comedies will provide laughs for Capitol patrons next month. Vaudeville will be discontinued during the summer season, but will be resumed again in the Fall, as the carefully selected vaudeville that the Capitol offered during the past months was highly praised by patrons.

LAST NIGHT TO SEE 5 BIG ACTS AT CAPITOL

To-night is the last opportunity Peterboro will have of seeing Harry Thompson's unit show of five big acts and an afterpiece. Last night a capacity house acclaimed the unit show as being one of the finest vaudeville programmes ever seen in this city. Mae Murray, in her latest and finest production, "The French Doll," completes an exceptionally long and varied programme.

EX-VAMPIRE NOW FIRST-CLASS WIFE

It Takes The Attractive Woman To Hold The Real Husband's Love.

By A. H. FREDERICK

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—A woman should know the ways of the world—and of men—before she becomes a wife.

So thinks the alluring, black-eyed Egyptian princess, Della Patra, once hailed as the Pacific Coast's—if not the nation's—premier "vamp," but today just a happy housewife in a happy home.

And the princess really ought to rate as an authority. Her own courtship some five years ago was a kaleidoscope whirlwind which kept the coast gasping for days.

It started with her arrest in New York and extradition at the instigation of one suitor—he is her husband now—travelled through the courts and finally culminated in her marriage to Erich Buehle, an architect.

Through it all, hearts of judges, lawyers and a myriad of other men fell victims to the charm of those big black eyes.

But to get back to Della Patra's present-day opinions:

"I know Erich, and I couldn't be half so happy now," says the princess, "if I had been only some simple little unsophisticated girl, who could only sit around and look pretty.

"It takes the attractive woman to hold a husband's love. Calling a girl ready for marriage when she knows nothing of making herself attractive to men is like calling a man ready for college before he's stepped inside a high school.

"It is the woman who has gained a knowledge of men, who has studied to please varying types, who will know how to please her husband."

And it is not necessary for a girl contemplating marriage to be either a vampire or a flapper, Della Patra insists.

"The point is to make men like you when they meet you, and the ability to keep them interested," she declares.

"A woman must be self-reliant and mentally competent, too. She must be able to converse with a man intelligently on topics that interest him.

"She must know something else besides taking care of a house and cooking her husband's meals.

"It is the idle housewife who gets into mischief."

VOICE OF PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir:

Would you kindly allow me through your columns to congratulate the caretaker of the park on its present beauty also the many citizens that are trying to make their surroundings so attractive and a credit to our city possibly a little more control of their children by some parents and a little more care of their dogs by some owners would help some but all harm is not done by children and dogs recently while looking over the surroundings of a lone home that always has been admired for its beauty my attention was drawn to a beautiful fruit tree that was standing near the fence that had been cut down under the fence from the opposite side the thought flashed upon me that some lone homes are beautiful and to be envied especially where such homes evidently have been made lonely by the jealousy and gossiping tongue of others thanking you I remain yours, &c.,

TWO RECORDS WERE BROKEN

H. C. Freeman of Toronto Contributed One of the Features at North Tonawanda, N.Y.

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y., May 31. — Two new national champions were crowned here on Friday. R. Earl Johnson of Pittsburg won one A.A.U. ten mile run championship, formerly held by Willie Ritola, and H. C. Freeman of the Central Walking Club, Toronto, donned the seven mile walk crown, formerly worn by Phillip Granville of Hamilton, Ont. Neither of the former champions contested for their honors. Ritola is in Finland, and Granville, oiginally entered for yesterday's competition, sprained a muscle in the Canadian Olympic trials and withdrew.

Johnson took the ten mile race after a hard fight with Albert Michelson of the Cygret A.C., Port Chester, Conn., and James Hennigan, of the Dorchester Club, Medford, Mass.

The times were: Johnson 54:29 2-5; Michelson 54:3; Hennigan 54:32 4-5.

Freeman took the seven mile walk title in 56:41 3-5. James C. Graham, of Wolder A.C., Buffalo, was second in 56:54, and Herbert L. Schultz, of Central Y.M.C.A., Buffalo, third, 57:17 4-5. Ted Neudorfer of Long Island Athletic Club, was fourth. Five other entrants relinquished the track before they had finished for the ten mile run.

The events were run under the auspices of the Wilder A.C., and the Niagara District Association of the A.A.U.

DISCIPLINE FOR TEAM

Disobedience Will Not Be Tolerated in Canada's Olympic Group.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 31.—(Canadian Press).—That no disobedience will be tolerated at the Olympic training camp at Rothesay was emphasized yesterday, when Coach Johnny Dee ordered Barney Francis off the field and told him to remain off until he changed his attitude. Francis is Canadian champion one-miler. He arrived at the camp yesterday from his home in Prince Edward Island. Dee said that Francis refused to obey orders.

TOMMY GIBBONS IS READY FOR FIGHT

MICHIGAN CITY, May 31. — (Canadian Press)—Tommy Gibbons, crack American light heavyweight, and contender for Jack Dempsey's crown, is favored of fight fans in his ten-round bout with Georges Carpenier, of France, in this little Indiana town this afternoon. The fight is now expected to start at four o'clock central standard time, or six p.m. eastern daylight saving time (five p.m. eastern standard). Gibbons confidently told his admirers this morning that he would be badly disappointed if he failed to knock out Carpentier in an impressive and decisive fashion. Carpentier said he never felt better, and was quite confident of winning.

It is expected that at least 35,000 fans will attend at the sky blue arena at the eastern edge of the town. Trains started dumping thousands of eager ticket-holders early this morning, while the paved roads from Chicago were congested with thousands of automobiles. Other highways leading to several states bore caravans of boxing fans. Both men are in the pink and a desperate battle is expected.

Preacher-Athlete Olympic Hope

Methodist Circuit Rider One of the Strong Bets In Pole Vault Event

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 31.—Rev. Paul W. Jones, a Methodist circuit rider, is one of the most formidable middle-west hopes for the American Olympic track and field team.

A senior in DePauw Univeristy, Jones preaches in two towns near Greencastle—Marshall and Bloomingdale. He doesn't travel on horseback as did the pioneer Hoosier circuit rider, but every Sunday he gets out his flivver and goes to one charge in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

An athlete-minister has a wonderful opportunity to deal with young people, Jones believes, as he has prestige with them and is able to understand their viewpoint toward life. So as a pastor he lays great emphasis on his young people's work, especially in athletics.

Jones demonstrated that he has the stuff in him when he won the national all-round championship event in the University of Illinois relay carnival last March. He was a dark horse entrant, but outpointed a field of nine nationally known college athletes.

His best events are the running broad jump, the high jump and the pole vault. He consistently jumps 22 feet 6 inches and pole vaults over 12 feet. Although only 5 feet 8 inches tall, Jones can high jump 6 feet 2 inches.

Jones is attempting to perfect his pole vaulting so as to represent the United States in that event at Paris, but he is also planning to try out for the decathlon at Harvard stadium in June.

Ned Merriam, now head track coach at Yale University, taught Jones his jumping and sprinting technique. Merriam coached at DePauw in 1922.

Is the kingdom of God to be "in the teaching at the village school, in the planning of the railway siding of the market town, in the mixing of the mortar at the building of the workman's house," and in the management of the shop you work in? If so, then you must be interested. Come along to Knox. In the evening the Woodmen of the World will parade to this church for divine service. If you are a Woodman, your place is in Knox to-morrow evening; and even if you're not a Woodman, you still ought to be what a Woodman ought to be. So come and find out what you ought to be.

EVANGELISTS ARE MUCH BETTER OFF

Methodist Minister Astonished at High Remuneration Received.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 31. —(Canadian Press.) — Astonishment at the high remuneration paid itinerant evangelists was expressed before the Hamilton Methodist conference by Rev. Wardel Stafford, pastor of the Metropolitan church, Toronto, in the chief address delivered last night. Ministers were not paid what they should receive, and did not expect it, he declared, when speaking on the subject. "Why are pews empty?" Rev. Mr. Stafford declared that no minister could be indifferent to success of his church. The empty church was sometimes the fault of the preacher. Churches had been brought to their present position by preaching of the ordin-

It was possible that the preacher failed to strike the dominant note. Though he was far from Romanish, he felt that the Roman Catholic church knew where it was. It knew its creed and was sure of itself. It stood for the same things it had championed for centuries and refused to be moved. Protestants were divided and ministers were doubling their fists at each other over trivial matters.

Eggs Were 24 cents a Doz. —Usual Miscellany of Livestock and Cures.

Buying was brisk in the basket section of the market this morning, and dairy produce was plentiful.

Butter prices were down to 27 cents, in some instances, and up to 35 cents in others. Eggs were selling at 24 and 25 cents a dozen. Fowl was generally priced at 25 cents a pound. A big turkey was selling at 27 cents a pound.

Two little girls were selling fragrant bunches of Sweet Mary at 2 bunches for a nickel, and assorted geranium slips, with the scented variety included, were six for a dime.

Downstairs, in the entry, a small boy had a batch of collie pups, at 50 cents, a dollar, and two dollars. A little girl bore a black sample proudly away in a basket.

The fish man had fresh herrings for ten cents a pound, and across the way was a vendor of chocolates at 28 cents a pound box. Boxed plants were having a good sale, one dealer had black currant shoots at 50 cents for half a dozen, and potatoes were $2.25 a bag.

Pork was 15 cents a pound for hind sections, this morning, and live little pigs were $7.00 and $8.00 a pair.

The seller of boxed plants was as busy as usual, with Canterbury Bells and Sweet William and Iris at 10 cents a root.

Rhubarb was selling at 6 bunches for a quarter.

One man had a quantity of duck eggs. Oriental buyers, he says, are his most enthusiastic customers for these dainties.

MILLBROOK HAS CONFLAGRATION

Peterboro' Fire Truck Called to Assist in Fire That Has Consumed Several Buildings.

MILLBROOK, May 31. — This village, which has been the scene of more than one serious fire within the past few years, had another visit from the fire fiend to-day.

Shortly after one o'clock fire was discoverel in a row af frame buildings on Tupper Street.

It is supposed to have originated in a pile of rubbish that had been left burning at the rear of Isaac Needham's real estate office.

The fire soon spread, and within an hour Needham's real estate office, Mitchell's garage, an implement shop and George Sanderson's house were completely destroyed.

The fact that the wind was blowing from the south-west saved the business section of the town, and drove the fire north on Tupper Street.

The towns' volunteer fire department was augmented by a section of the Peterboro department which was was despatched to the scene by Mayor J. J. Turner The local department managed to get some water on the fire and when Chief George Gimblett of Peterboro and his men arrived on the big truck they used chemicals with good effect. By two thirty o'clock the fire was under control. Several nearby buildings caught fire and it was necessary to chop a hole in the roof of Walter Coombe's grocery store. The buildings destroyed were all of frame construction. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars and is partly covered by insurance.

FEW WORD, BIG MEANING

Remarkable Safeguards of British Justice Exemplified at Trial of Mail Clerks in Sessions.

TORONTO, May 31.—"You might as well tell the truth," said Detective Tuft to Charles Oscar Johnson, mail clerk, after Johnson's arrest on a charge of stealing a letter containing $4.50 while en route between North Bay and Toronto.

In the eyes of British justice, backed up by countless precedents, those words constituted an "inducement" to the prisoner to make a statement, and because of that inducement the trial of Johnson and of Gordon Powers, jointly charged, were yesterday traversed by Judge Coatsworth to the September Sessions to be heard by a new jury. Furthermore, the "confession" or statement which Johnson is said to have made to the detective will not be used at the next trial.

Such was the dramatic turn which these cases took after most of the evidence in the Johnson case was already on record. Both accused men were released again on bail, but Peter White, counsel for Powers, stated that the delay was of no advantage to his client, because the latter protested his innocence, wanted a speedy trial, and, pending the results of that trial was unemployed and almost destitute.

W. B. Horkins counsel for Johnson, argued that Detective Tuft's words to the prisoner constituted an "inducement" to the extent that the statement made was not absolutely voluntary and made without hope of advantage. Many cases were cited to show that the words "you had better,' when used by a police officer to a prisoner, had been given extreme importance by the courts.

"If I presume to say there is no inducement in these words, Mr. Horkins word immediately run across to the Hall with it and I would be rapped over the knuckles," said Judge Coatsworth. "Nevertheless, I consider the words used by the officer were quite natural and proper under the circumstances."

MILLIONAIRE FATHER REFUSED TO BELIEVE HIS SON'S CONFESSION

"It Makes No Difference What He Says, My Son is Innocent" —Story of Solution of Chicago's Sensational Kidnapping and Murder by Rich Students.

A HANGING CASE.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of millionaire Jacob Franks, while he was returning home from school on May 21, was confessed Saturday by Nathan E. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, likewise sons of Chicago millionaires. This was the climax of a police inquisition that had lasted throughout the night and started with the arrest of the youths Friday.

The two youths are post-graduate students of the University of Chicago. Leopold is reputed to be the youngest of the University of Michigan.

They admitted that they had seized the boy, placed him in a hired automobile and slain him five minutes afterward while the car was driving through a heavily traveled street. First hitting him on the head with a chisel, they insured his death by choking him with a gag. They put acid on his face in an effort to so disfigure it that identity would be destroyed. Leopold wrote the letter to Jacob Franks, demanding $10,000 ransom. Loeb was the one who telephoned to the Franks home from the drug store and gave directions for the delivery of the ransom.

Ransom and the "adventure" of crime were the motives for the deed, although both received liberal allowance from their parents. Long having had kidnapping in mind, they had discussed making a victim of the grandson of Julius Rosenwald, head of Sears, Roebuck & Co., of which firm young Loeb's father, Albert H. Loeb, is vice-president.

Death Penalty For Both Crimes.

Kidnapping is a capital offense under the Illinois laws, so that should they be proved guilty of the kidnapping and murder the two youths could be sentenced to death on two counts.

"I have a hanging case," said Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney, after he had reviewed all angles of the confessions. "The State is ready to go to trial immediately." Chief Justice Caverly of the Criminal Court, stating that he would urge an immediate trial, said: "Justice should be served within thirty days."

The attitude of Leopold and Loeb when they were first arrest inclined the State's Attorney and the police to doubt their guilt. Both asserted their innocence and courted the fullest investigation, even to saying they did not desire freedom until they had been fully cleared, a position endorsed by their parents.

Leopold's arrest had been due to tracing to his ownership the pair of spectacles found near the body of Robert Franks when it was discovered nude at a railroad culvert near a swamp. He explained the presence of the glasses there by saying he visited the swamp frequently to study the habits of birds.

In offering an alibi, Leopold told of having spent the afternoon with Loeb in his automobile and the evening with Loeb and two girls in riding around and visiting cabarets.

The suspicions of the State's attorney became strongly aroused when Loeb contradicted Leopold and declared he was not with his chum in the evening.

Chauffeur Blasts Leopold's Alibi.

Checking up on Leopold's story when doubt began to be cast on it, Mr. Crowe learned from the Leopold family chauffeur that the youth's car had not been out of the garage on the night of the kidnapping. Hunting for a red car similar to Leopold's, detectives found that one had been hired by Leopold from an automobile renting agency under the name of Morton D. Ballard on May 21 and had given as reference a "Louis Mason," who, Loeb admitted, was himself.

When confronted by the chauffeur's information the prisoners showed signs of fear and State's Attorney Crowe, confident that they would break, pressed the examination vigorously. Soon they broke down and confessed, a court stenographer taking down their statements.

After their amazing confessions had been transcribed the prisoners were taken to the points that figured in their remarkable story. They had pointed out the automobile dealers from which they rented the car like Leopold's. Detectives had carefully scooped up a little pile of ashes—the ashes of the robe in which Robert Frank's body was wrapped. Leopold had pointed to a spot in the Jackson Park lagoon he said he had dumped the typewriter on which the "erudite" kidnapper's letter was written.

As he pointed to this spot ,the youth of superior intelligence, master of languages, ornithological, and atheist, expressed a wish to kill himself.

When Loeb was identified by Mrs. Gertrude Barish, owner of a cigar store, with having gone there with Leopold on the day of the kidnapping and having used a telephone he fainted and was rushed to a hospital.

Loeb The First To Break.

Sven Englund, chauffeur for the Leopolds, was called for examination. When he heard Leopold's alibi story he said:

"That's not right. That Willys-Knight was in the Leopold garage all day from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock that night."

His statement startled the examiners. They had been on the point of believing the seeming puncture-proof alibi and had almost ordered the students released.

The statement of Englund was reiterated to Loeb. He blanched, trembled, cursed and said:

"Is he sure?"

He would not say another word for several minutes. His head, which had been held high up to this point, dropped. His eyes no longer looked back frankly and fearlessly into the eyes of the inquisitors as they had been doing for forty-eight hours. He shifted his head about and would look squarely at no one. Then he suddenly asked for State's Attorney Crowe.

"I want to talk with him privately," he said, and in a moment was closeted with the prosecutor.

Loeb Graduated At 18.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 2.—Richard Loeb had the distinction of being the youngest senior ever graduated from the Literary College of the University of Michigan. Loeb received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the institution last June when he had just turned 18. His birthday was one week before the commencement date.

Loeb spent only his junior and senior years at the university here, having enrolled in the University of Chicago for his first and second years. While attending Michigan his scholastic work was of the highest character. Records for the two years here show that he never received a grade less than "C," and that in most of his subjects he had "B" or "A" grades.

While attending Michigan he was a member of the local chapter of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity.

He was, according to one professor, not only very bright, but also "precocious," and appeared to be ahead of his years in knowledge. Campus activities apparently had no interest for him, as the year book of 1923 lists his only activity as his fraternity. His fellow students state that, although he kept rather close to his books, he did take part in the fraternity athletic contests and in that regard was as active as the average member.

Nathan Leopold Jr. attended the university during the school year 1921-1922. He spent but one year here and was listed as a special literary student. He was regarded by his fellow students as a "genius."

"My Son! My Boy! . . . I Won't Believe It"

CHICAGO, June 2.—Love for a son who had sinned overwhelmed aged Nathan Leopold Sr., an invalid for several years, and the tears coursed down his wrinkled face as he sought to deny the admissions contained in the confessions of his son and Richard Loeb in the Frank murder case.

"He couldn't—impossible—ridiculous, Nathan—my son—my boy—I can't, won't believe it," he stammered. "I don't believe it. It makes no difference what he says. My boy is innocent."

"This is all bunk, pure bunk," an older brother of Leopold said. Ernest Loeb, younger brother of Richard, also denied the possibility of his brother's guilt.

The home of Albert Loeb, the father, diagonally across the street from the home of the murdered youth, was closed. Mr. Loeb, prostrated by the side of his wife, was unable to see visitors.

INVESTIGATE O. T. A. WORK AT ORANGEVILLE

Hales and Ayearst Will Look Into Charge That High School Boys Were Used.

TORONTO, June 2.—(Canadian Press.)— James Hales, chairman, and J. A. Ayearst, chief inspector of the Ontario License Board, will open an investigation to-day at Orangeville into the charge that High school pupils were used in connection with the securing of evidence against an Orangeville hotelman for a breach of the O.T.A. The investigation was ordered Saturday by Hon. W. F. Nickle, K.C., Attorney General.

Chief Inspector W. D. Greer, of the Provincial Police, was also ordered to Orangeville by the Attorney-General to arrange for the opening of the inquiry and calling of witnesses.

Enforcement officers Lari and McQuarrie, against whom the charges are made, will also be in attendance. They were in the city Saturday and conferred with Mr. Hales.

Both officers have made a full statement regarding the steps taken to secure a conviction in the case, which will be reviewed by Messrs. Hales and Ayearst. No information has been disclosed as to the explanation given by the two officers.

ISLAND FOR INDIANS.

CHATHAM, Ont., June 2 (Canadian Press). — Government engineers are surveying a portion of St. Anne's Island in Lake St. Clair with the object of providing allotments for members of the Caldwell Indian Tribe.

It is thought that each adult will receive about 50 acres.

Without any fixed abode for a number of years, the Caldwell Indians succeeded in securing the aid of the County Council and other influences in their representations for a home.

Twenty Girls Die In a School Fire

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 2.—Fifteen girl inmates are dead, five are missing, and 19 girls and six firemen were injured in a fire last night which destroyed the Hope Development School for Subnormal Girls at Playa Del Roy, on the coast, 18 miles west of here.

Nineteen bodies had been identied this afternoon. Among them was that of Mrs. Drew Thomas, Ohio. Another victim was 48 years old, the head matron, formerly of Columbus, Wilfred Ringer Jacobs, 12, adopted son of the owner of the home. The others identified all were inmates of the institution.

PAYROLL THEFT FOILED BY CAR

Bandits In Montreal Dropped Booty When Automobile Stalled In Their Flight.

DRIVER UNDER ARREST

MONTREAL, June 2.—Holding up the car of the paymaster of the British Empire Steel Corporation here Saturday afternoon, while over 100 employes who were waiting for their weekly earnings looked on, two bandits, so far unarrested, snatched the payroll of $5,000 from the taxi in which it was being conveyed to the company's offices in the east end of the city, but were later obliged to discard their booty when hotly pursued by one of the workmen.

According to several eyewitnesses of the hold-up, a large touring car was noticed running back and forth just before the appearance of the pay car. When the taxi was sighted, the touring car immediately switched around and ran parallel with the paymaster's car. Two men were seen to jump from it, one entered the car while the other held up the driver. After securing their booty the bandits gave the chauffeur orders to step on it or they would "plug him." The men attempted to escape in their car, but it stalled.

Paymaster Flynn immediately drew his gun and rushed to the robber's car and captured the driver, whose name hte police refuse to divulge. The men who actually did the robbery, seeing the approach of Flynn, fled on foot but were followed by one of the Italian workmen. The man, who after the affair refused to give his name, followed the bandits for a quarter of a mile, not heeding their threats to shoot him.

BOUNDARY CONFERENCE

No Statement Issued on Result of Meeting at the Chequers Court.

LONDON, June 2.— William T. Cosgrave, President of the Irish Free State Cabinet, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, had a conference with Premier Ramsay MacDonald at Chequers Court Saturday afternoon.

The three statesmen talked together for several hours, discussing the boundary problem from all its aspects, but no official statement of what took place has been issued, and it is not known whether any arrangements have been made for another meeting.

HUGE CROWD WEMBLEY

Cafes Found Difficulty In Feeding Saturday's Multitude.

LONDON, June 2 (Canadian Press Cable).—All attendance records at the Empire Exhibition at Wembley were broken Saturday when 150,000 people had passed the turnstiles by four in the afternoon

The size of the crowd led to some difficulty for many of them in obtaining refreshments. Queues of people, four deep, extended for hundreds of yards outside each cafe, while hundreds were compelled to eat at the refreshment stalls.

An unprecenented number of apples were disposed of in the Australian pavilion, where about 20,000 purchasers carried away 15 tons, or approximately 201,000 apples.

Four Englishmen unexpectedly appeared in the branding cattle contest. One of them, Frank T. Walker, of Battersea, took the field against Cowboy King in wild horse races, steer wrestling, trick roping, and cowboy swimming races.

OFFICIAL NOTE OF PROTEST ON JAP EXCLUSION

Japanese Government Ask Removal of Discrimination Against Their Nationals By United States.

RECEIVED IN SILENCE

Washington Denies That Japanese Are Specially Referred To.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(Canadian Press).—Japan's "solemn protest" against the exclusion section of the new immigration law was formally presented to Secretary Hughes Saturday by Ambassador Hanihara, and was made public at the State Department without comment.

Coupled with the protest is the request of the Japanese Government that the United States Government "take all possible and suitable measure" for the removal of "discrimination."

The communication declares international discriminations are particularly "unwelcome" when "based on race," and adds that discrimination of that character is expressed in the exclusion statute.

The history of commercial agreements between the two countries, it is declared, shows that the Japanese Government has sought to protect its nationals from "discriminatory immigration legislation in the United States," which position was "fully understood and appreciated by the American Government."

"The Japanese Government desires now to point out," says the note, "that the new legislation is in entire disregard of the spirit and circumstances that underlie the conclusion of the Treaty of 1911."

Officials Silent.

Despite the silence of administration officials, it can be said definitely that the State Department is in a position to challenge in its reply the Japanese contention that the Exclusion Act can be construed as a particular discrimination against Japan, and also to take the position that the negotiations leading up to the Commercial Treaty of 1911 in no way justified an assumption that the United States was willing to limit its complete freedom to deal with immigration questions as it sees fit.

In that respect, it is understood that the correspondence between the two Governments incidental to negotiation of the Treaty shows the specific reservation by the United States of immigration matters from the scope of the Treaty.

SMUTS' MEETING WAS BROKEN UP

South African Premier Compelled to Quit Durban Town Hall Unheard.

SCHEME OF ANARCHY.

DURBAN, South Africa, June 2 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters).—Over five hundred persons packed the Town Hall here last night to hear Premier Smuts' election appeal, but disturbances organized by a minority created such pandemonium that the premier eventually left the hall without speaking. Subsequently, he addressed a small open-air meeting of his supporters and said: "The red flag has come to South Africa, and free speech and the fundamental rights of free citizens are denied us. This night will do more than any speech of mine to arouse public realization to the dangers from pact rule."

The premier denied that the disturbers were merely hooligans, and declared that everything had been carefully organized. It was a well thought-out and well executed scheme of anarchy. He pointed out that the same thing had happened at Bloemfontein and elsewhere. Premier Smuts' spiritedly appealed to the law-abiding citizens to rouse themselves and not submit to the degradation of their public life, not sit still while the seeds of future revolution were being sown. He added: "The red light is up. There is danger to all we hold dear. Denial of civil rights will be followed by revolution and ultimately secession. I ask you to vote decisively on June 17 in order that these dangers may be effectively removed from the path of our young country."

EYE BLINDED IN WRECK

Chatham Boy Severely Injured In Automobile Accident.

CHATHAM, Ont., June 2.—Maurice Devleur, a young Belgian lad, is blind in his left eye and is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from other injuries sustained Friday night in a motor car accident. His father, Ernest Devleur of Paincourt, was driving the car when it struck a stone in the road causing it to plunge and turn turtle into the ditch.

Devleur and two other occupants escaped uninjured. A woman in the party sustained a broken rib.

Pearl and moonstone are birth stones for June.

MORE CROFTERS FROM HEBRIDES COME IN AUGUST

Seven Hundred Have Been Settled On Alberta Farms During Past Year.

COTTAGES ERECTED

Friendly Welcome Part of Plans In This Scheme Of Settlement.

OTTAWA, June 2.— (Canadian Press).—Rev. Father R. A. MacDonell, managing director of the Scottish Immigrant Aid Society, sails on Friday from Montreal for the Old Land and hopes to return on August 2 with another party of between 300 and 600 Scottish crofters for Western Canada. He states that within the past twelve months his society has settled in Alberta about 700 Hebrideans, most of whom have been satisfactorily located on farms of their own or are working for other farmers, and they make good settlers and citizens.

Four of the directors of the society, states Father MacDonell, have contributed $16,000 to erect cottages on three-acre plots of farm land. Fourteen of these cottages are built and occupied, and by arrangement with the overseas settlement office, under the British Empire Settlement Act, the society will be able to erect 100 additional cottages in Western Canada. An appeal is being made for funds to make these homes more home-like, to give a real Canadian welcome to the tired travellers and to insure against sickness of the mothers and children for at least three months.

Are British People.

To the Canadian Press, Father MacDonell said of the cottage scheme originated by the society: "These people are our 'ain folk,' and it is most important that they get a fair start, in fact the best possible start. To encourage them and to give them every opportunity to make a success of their venture is the object of the Scottish Immigrant Aid Society.

"In my opinion one of the drawbacks to successful colonization of British people in the West is the lack of housing accommodation. The society has taken a remarkable step forward and has given a lead in real settleemnt work. The cottages for which funds have been found, are to be built within 150 miles of Red Deer, with that point as a distributing centre. The society secures a 10-year lease of the land and erects thereon a cottage for a prospective settler from Great Britain who has been a farmer, a crofter or farm laborer in the Old Country. The settler gets a lease of the cottage and plot for one year, renewable for a second year, and under exceptional circumstances, a third. These cottages are to be homes for the settlers while they are learning the ways of the country and the farm methods of the province. They will enable them and the society to look around for a favorable opportunity for permanent settlement.

Provide Insurance.

"The society is anxious to guard the health of the new settlers, at least for the first three months. The long voyage for several thousand miles that lies between Scotland and Alberta presents problems to people unaccustomed to travel, especially to the mothers and young children. It is, therefore, the society's intention to provide for insurance against accident and sickness, if sufficient funds are forthcoming. As to the welfare work, it is proposed to have a stove in the cottage, with a fire burning and the kettle on, a basket of groceries and some ticking for mattresses."

The Bank of Montreal, Ottawa, is acting as treasurer of the society.

Toronto Man In Woodstock Hospital—His Condition Critical With Head Injuries.

WOOSTOCK, Ont., June 2 (Canadian Press. — Christopher McCall, of Toronto, aged 32 years, is lying in a critical condition in the Woodstock Hospital as a result of injuries received about the head when a touring car driven by Edward Wilson, of 333 Glibholme Boulevard, Toronto, overturned on the Provincial Highway near Eastwood.

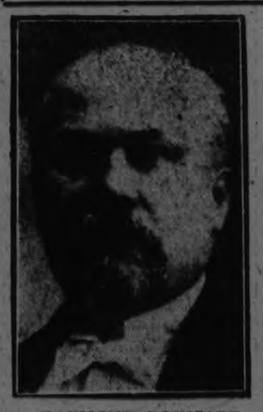
HAS RESIGNED



RAYMOND POINCARE
Premier of France Since 1919. As Leader of Nationalist Ministry Submits to Verdict of Electors and Tenders Resignation of Himself and Ministers

POINCARE WITH CABINET QUITS

Resignations Placed With President Millerand As Result Of Defeat At The Polls.

MILLERAND ATTACKED

PARIS, June 2. — (Canadian Press).—Premier Poincare yesterday tendered to President Millerand the resignations of himself and his Cabinet.

An official communique issued on Sunday in connection with the resignation said:

"In conformity with the decision taken immediately after the elections, M. Poincare at 11.30 o'clock Sunday morning, presented to the President of the Republic the collective resignation of his Cabinet."

With the resignation of Poincare, the Nationalist Ministry which has governed France since 1919 passes out of existence, and the new Chamber with its Left majority comes into legal existence under a political sky filled with many clouds and a battle of no quarter impending between the President of the Republic and the Chamber majority. If M. Millerand wins, there will probably be another election. If the new majority wins there will be another President.

There has never been a similar situation in the history of the French Republic. True President Grevy was forced to resign, but that was because of a personal issue in which his son-in-law was involved. The fight on Millerand is purely a political prestige largely increased or else decreased to the vanishing point. The real issue is whether the French President is to be only a figurehead or an active force.

Students of French politics remark that the present fight is a continuation of the struggle that has been going on in France ever since the war, with the same real leaders, namely M. Poincare and M. Briand. It is truer that the issue has been caused by M. Millerand's ambition to be a different sort of a President, but M. Millerand's fate depends upon the outcome of the battle between M. Poincare and M. Briand.

One factor of the situation is not to be overlooked, and that is that M. Millerand's desire to have a new election has caused a great deal of worry among the Left politicians. Their victory was largely due to the clumsy way in which the Nationalists handled the elections. The Nationalists in a large number of districts ran two or more tickets, while the Left bloc united in single lists. The parties included in the National bloc actually got a collective popular vote larger than the Left block, who have thirty majority in the Chamber. With this lesson in mind M. Poincare's parties might change the result in a new election. This consideration will have a great deal of influence.

ALLIES ARE OPPOSED

To Entrance of German Nationalists Into New Administration.

BERLIN, June 2.—Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, as Chancellor-Regent, and William Frederick, eldest son of former Crown Prince Frederick William, as "chair-warmer" for the monarchy, is alleged to constitute the pet scheme of the German Nationalists, according to George Bernhard, editor of the Vossische Zeitung. Bernhard asserts that these are the features of a coup d'etat planned by the Nationalists.

The editor intimates that both the United States and Great Britain have joined in a plan officially aimed at forestalling the entrance of the German Nationalists into the new government, and that a strong hint has been given from both quarters that the advent of reactionaries in the cabinet would be the occasion for pronounced misgivings in boht countries.

WITNESS IN MONTREAL BANK CAR MURDER THREATENED WITH DEATH

Strangers Warn Desire Berthiaume His "Goose Would Be Cooked" —Court Permits Him To Carry Revolver—Police May Round Up Suspects As Precaution.

WOMAN IN CASE TO BE CALLED

MONTREAL, June 2.— Permission to carry a revolver has been granted Desire Berthieume, an important witness for the Crown in the trial of Giuseppe Serafini, charged with the murder of Henri Cleroux, chauffeur of the Hochelaga Bank collection car, who was shot dead when the car was rifled of $142,288 on April 1 here.

H. L. Calder, K.C. Crown Prosecutor announced at the trial Saturday that Berthiaume had been accosted by two men who threatened they would "cook Berthiaumes goose' if they ever "got" him. Mr. Justice Wilson warned that a most severe example would be set if anything further in the way of intimidation of witnesses should occur.

Arrest All Suspects

Berthiaume, said Mr. Calder when accosted, had enough presence of mind to deny that he was Berthiaume. The Crown Prosecutor continued: "I would ask that all those who came under the category known to the police be arrested and held in the cells until the conclusion of the trial." Defence Counsel associated themselves with the Crown's protest and Alban Germain K.C., said that the defence would support the crown in every way to prevent and protest against such outrages but though that the idea of arresting all those known by the police would be rather too drastic . In order to hurry the conclusion of the trial which has now lasted a week ,it has been decided to hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions, to-day. The court will sit up to midnight to catch up on time lost by the two holidays last week and this week.

Woman to Be Heard

The trial of ex-detective Louis Morel, Tony Frank, Frank Gambine, Leo Davis, Mike Valentino and Ciro Nieri ,suspects connected with the hold-up will be held Wednesday. It was expected evidence of Emma Lebeau, former sweetheart of Nieri, would be heard to-day. She appeared to be recognized by two witnesses on Saturday and also by a taxi chauffeur who drove her to Number 57 Coursol Street on the morning of the hold-up. The landlady of the Dorchester street house where she lived prior to living at 57 Cuorsol street, was unable to recognize her.

Evidence in the case on Saturday was taken up mainly with the deposition of the autopsists on the body of Henri Cleroux. It was shown that he was slain by a soft-nosed bullet. A number of bank clerks also gave evidence in identification of bank bills recovered from the stolen booty.

Bills as small as $5 were picked out, along with tens, fifties and hundreds. A teller had counted 39 bills of one denomination, and noticed one of them had a big blue pencil "39" written on it. It saved him the trouble of writing 39 all over again, so he put it on top of the bundle and sent the bundle to the collection car. He picked his bill out of a handful in court this morning Another teller had counted up 125 fives and marked the last bill of the odd packet. He picked out his "25" in court.

Yet another had laughed over some Roumanian words on the back of a hundred dollar bill, and a fourth had patched a torn bill, noticing that it had already been patched once. Both were able to pick out their bills at sight.

QUEBEC HAMLET SWEPT BY FIRE

Forty Buildings Destroyed, Including Bank, Convent And General Store.

CHURCH WAS SAVED

JOLIETTE, Que., June 2.—The little village of Sainte Emile De L'Energie, situated about 33 miles north of here, to-day presents a scene of desolation and ruin as the result of a fire which started on Friday morning in the barber's shop of M. Rivest and lasted till a late hour in the night. Early Saturday morning smoke was still issuing from the ruins. Upwards of forty buildings were destroyed. No loss of life was suffered. Estimate of the damage was not available, but it was stated that little insurance was carried.

School Burned.

The buildings destroyed included: the general store of Zenon Dufresne, the Bank of Hochelaga branch, the post office, the convent of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, the Bell Telephone Exchange. Several large rooming houses and a large number of residences of farmers were burned.

The blaze started about 11 o'clock on Friday morning and, fanned by a high wind, soon worked its way through half of the village, destroying everything in its path. Owing to the village not having a fire fighting apparatus, a call was sent to Joilette for help, and two powerful pumps were at once sent.

Save the Church.

Before the arrival of these, a bucket brigade was formed, but their efforts were in vain. With the arrival of the pumps, the firemen concentrated their efforts on saving some of the buildings in the path of the advancing flames. They were successful in finally checking the fire, and saving the church and the village hall, which are at the end of the town.

Owing to the coolness of the weather, some of those who lost their homes suffered, but were given blankets and other necessities despatched from here by local charitable organizations.

NEW SOVIET LEADERS

Central Committee Adds Ten New Members, Including Krassin.

MOSCOW, June 2.— The Communist Party convention ended Saturday night with the election of a new central committee, which is increased from 40 to 50 members. Most of the old members, including the party leaders, Kamenoff, Zinievoff, Rykoff, Kalinin and Bucharin, were re-elected. The only new member of note is Leonid Krassin, who becomes a member of the Central Committee for the first time since the Bolshevik revolution.

In spite of the attacks directed against War Minister Trotzky, at the convention, he was re-named a member of the Central Committee.

THE WEATHER.

During May we had 13 days on which rain fell; the total amount being 3.06 inches. The highest temperature on any day was 66 degrees; the lowest was 27 degrees. Cool weather and frequent rains made the month unusually backward and the season late. June is promising well. Yesterday the temperature got up to 68 degrees, and the lowest last night was but 48. A few warm days should bring vegetation on rapidly. An observant person will notice that some of our trees have hardly as yet begun to take on their summer dress, while the maples are yet barely in full leaf. Those who have faith in the changes of the moon to influence the weather (and practically all farmers have) are looking for better conditions from now on, as a new moon is scheduled for to-night.—W. WIFE IS CLASSED AS A CONTRACTOR

Divorce Through Breach of Contract Suits Will Be Possible In Near Future.

By ELMER ROESSNER

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 2.—A quarrel between a "big baby boy" and a big beautiful girl may revolutionize divorce proceedings in the United States.

Winfield Scott Jr., a 22-year-old millionaire, filed suit for divorce against Josephine Gertrude Law Scott. Did she file a counter suit? She did not!

She sued Scott for breach of contract, asking $100,000 damages.

Her attorneys contend marriage is a civil contract and breaking the contract makes it invalid, holding the violator of the contract responsible for damages.

Finish Fight

They hold Scott violated his contract to love, cherish and protect. Therefore, they assert, his wife is entitled to damages just as a contractor may be when a lumberman fails to deliver his materials.

If the United States Supreme Court upholds Mrs. Scott's contention (and both sides declare they will carry it that far, legal authorities, who have studied the case, declare this is what may happen:

1. Divorce suits will be unnecessary Wives will prefer to sue for breach of contract because they can collect damages in a lump sum instead of chancing alimony.

2. All present grounds for divorce will be unnecessary. It only will be necessary to prove the marriage agreement has been broken.

3. Divorce through breach of contract suits will be possible in every state, as the contract laws are basically the same.

4. It will be possible to remarry immediately after a breach of contract separation.

Only One Precedent

The Scott experiment has only one precedent. That case was filed in Texas, too.

Mrs. Emma Lee Gowin sued Jesse C. Gowin. She was awarded $1,000. An appeal was taken, but there the case rests. But because of the much larger amount involved, it is expected the Scott case will be pushed as the test case.

The legal background was prepared by Ocie Speer, former chief justice of the Texas appellate court.

Scott, an only son of a wealthy Texas cattleman, married after a dynamic courtship in Kansas City. The wedding was decided upon at 11 p.m. and at might a justice of the peace performed the ceremony in their hotel room.

The match followed close upon Scott's ardent attentions to Peggy Joyce Hopkins. Scott never saw Miss Hopkins, but he sent many presents to her during a visit to New York. His banker intervened and brought Scott home.

In Automobile Business

"My boy is so misunderstood," his mother declares. "When he was a baby, we thought he would not live long. Many times I carried him on a pillow, fearing every breath would be his last.

"Naturally, when he grew up we gave him everything he wanted. He is just a happy-go-lucky boy."

Scott came into a large share of a $5,000,000 estate when his father died. Upon his maturity he entered the automobile sales business because he liked to ride in automobiles.

He charged his wife with drinking, smoking and using bad language.

"The nerve!" she said. "I made a man out of him in four months."

THE JAPANESE PROTEST CAUSING MUCH ANXIETY

LONDON, June 2 (Canadian Press). — Japan's protest against the exclusion provision of the American immigration law is regarded in some quarters here as justifying anxiety.

A diplomatic expert of the Daily Telegraph this mornig writes:

"The demand that the legislation against the Japanese immigrants should be revoked is undoubtedly a serious one, and one is left to wonder what further diplomatic demarche will follow in the event of the almost inevitable American refusal."

The Morning Post says that "the world is still a very unsure place, and some of the political movements simmering to-day are almost as difficult to conrol as an earthquake, one of these being that of race."

CALIFORNIA FIRE TOOK LIFE OF 23

Forty Others Were Injured, Including 18 Girl Inmates, 6 Firemen and More Than a Dozen Civilians.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jun 2.—At least twenty-three persons, nearly all children, perished in the fire which destroyed the Hope Development School for Mentally Deficient Girls at Playa Dey Rey on Saturday night. Twenty-three bodies had been recovered last night.

Forty others were injured in the fire, including eighteen girl inmates, six firemen and a dozen civillians who aided in fighting the flames.

Scheduled or already under way are three separate inquiries into the cause of the fire and the reason why the children apparently were housed in the building of super inflammable construction with few, if any, safeguards against fire.

At the hospital a constant influx of hysterical mothers and fathers are being cared for by a special committee. Identification of many of the children at the morgue is difficult, many being greatly disfigured.

Thirty-eight girls, ranging in age from 4 to 26 years, were in the home on Saturday at noon.

MILLBROOK HAD CLOSE CALL FROM FIRE FIEND

South End of Tupper Street Cleaned Out--Peterboro Section Made a Good Run.

MILLBROOK, June 2. — On Saturday the disastrous fire which swept the south end of Tupper Street, could have been put out in its initial stages with half a dozen buckets of water had there been anyone on hand to act quickly enough.

Spreading from a small bonfire to a pile of banana crates stuffed with straw in the rear of W. H. Coombe's store, the flames soon passed beyond the stage where a bucket brigade could be of any real service.

It looked at one time as though practically all that end of the town was threatened, and the Reeve authorised an emergency call to Peterborough which brought help in about fifteen minutes. The men here had the original fire fairly well under control by that time, but the Peterborough firemen gave excellent service in putting out the incipient fires which broke out in many places.

J. Steel's house, G. F. Harrington's premises, W. Tremain's smithy, H. R. Armstrong's on the school hill, D. Sanderson's house still further south-east, and even the gateway to the Medd property, all had slight fires from burning embers carried by the wind.

The Chief of the Peterborough Fire Department spoke in terms of highest praise concerning the work of the local volunteer corps, especially in view of the inadequate equipment with which they had to fight the flames, and the adverse circumstances under which they were labouring. The high wind, the frame buildings close together, the good start which the fire made before it was possible to get the fire engine into action, all added to the difficulties which had to be faced and surmounted.

Nine hundred feet is the length of hose owned locally, and this was at its limit when George Sanderson's house was burning. Beyond that the local men could not have given service. Several had their hands and faces burned, W. Tremain, who was the nearest the end of the hose, suffering the most severe injuries from this source, his hands and his neck being badly blistered.

Allan Mitchell saved everything out of his garage except a few tools. Considerable anxiety was felt about the gas tank in front, but W. West plugged the opening into the tank, which is three feet underground, with earth, and opened the vent at the top of the pump, hence no damage other than having the paint burnt off, resulted.

J. McKnight will have considerable loss from damage to furniture, dishes, clothing, etc., removed in great haste when his close nighbor, G. Sanderson, was burned out. This is the third time that Mr. Sanderson has had his home destroyed by fire during his residence in Millbrook.

Miss Jennie Brock had all her downstairs furniture taken out as her home was next in line to McKnight's T. J. Lang, lost a considerable quantity of new lumber when the stable belonging to the estate of his brother, the late W. Lang, was completely destroyed. Just recently Mr. Lang had renewed the insurance on the stable but had neglected to include the lumber stored therein.

Scores of cars were in town on Saturday word having gone around the district of the fire and many along the way having seen the Peterborough fire truck on its fast trip to render aid. The siren, blowing continuously, woke the echoes throughout the countryside and aroused the curiosity as to the truck's destiny. The local "central" was scarcely able to answer the many calls coming in from all quarters regarding the location and extent of the fire. Sunday afternoon also witnessed an influx of visitors who motored in from many miles' distance to view the burned area.

In conversation with Reeve W. T. Wood, Chief Gimblett, while congratulating him on the splendid spirit and well organized effort of the local corp, recommended as a suitable fire equipment for the village a motor triple combination, with 350 gallon pumper, a fifty gallon chemical tank, 300 feet of chemical hose, and 1000 feet of water hose.

Considering the length of time that must elapse before a steam fire engine can be got into action, the advantage of the chemical tank and hose is apparent, its use undoubtedly avoiding thousands of dollars of dam age to property until help from the water supply was available.

The loss through Saturday's fire is estimated at from twelve to fifteen thousand dollars partly covered by insurance.

CHINESE PIRATES HAVE RELEASED MISSIONARIES

SHANGHAI, June 2 (Canadian Press). — R. A. Jaffray, Canadian head of the Christian Missionary Alliance at Wu-Chow, and Dr. H. G. Miller, United States citizen, attaches to the same organisation, who were made captives recently by the Chinese pirates, have been released.

No mention is made in the report of E. H. Card, of Australia, and Rex Ray, another American, attached to the Southern Baptist Mission, who, with twenty Chinese, were captured at the same time.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED ON SATURDAY EVENING

WINDSOR, June 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Two brothers, Leo Walney, 22, and Tony Walney, 19 years old, both of Detroit, were drowned on Saturday night in the Canadian channel off the south shore of Bell Isle. They had attempted to change places in the canoe. Hundreds on the shore saw the craft capsize.

Their companion in the canoe, Joseph Czajawski, 21, was rescued by a man in a gasoline cruiser that was speeded to the side of the overturned boat. The bodies of the brothers have no yet been recovered.

AMERICAN GLOBE FLYERS ARRIVED AT KUSHIMOTO

KUSHIMOTO, Japan, June 2. — (United Press).—Arriving here in a heavy storm Sunday afternoon, the American round-the-world flyers were unable to proceed immediately to Kagoshima, their last stopping place in Japan, as they had planned.

So high were the waves at Kushimoto that the Americans were not able to re-fuel their planes, nor to board the boats sent out to meet them.

Tying their machines to temporary buoys near Oshimo, they plunged overboard and swam to a destroyer on which they spent the night.

The world flyers flew from Kasumigaura early Sunday, arriving here at 10.32 a.m.

OTTAWA, June 2.—(Canadian Press.)— After carrying the body of her infant son in a bag for three days, with the intention of disposing of it, Edna Brambrook, aged twenty, of Windsor, was last night arrested on a charge of infanticide. According to the police she gave birth to the child six weeks ago. She accidentally suffocated it in her sleep. She is without friends and money.

LONDON, June 2.— (Canadian Press.)— Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, is quoted by the Daily Sketch as saying that so far as Northern Ireland is concerned, the boundary dispute situation remains the same, following Saturday's conference at the Chequers Court, and there has been no suggestion for a further meeting, so far as he is aware.

SIX PERSONS KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Chinaman Given Special Honors

Hon. Ho Kom Tong, of Hongkong, prominent banker and philanthropist of the Far East, and the first Chinese citizen to receive the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, reached Vancouver on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of Australia, on his way to Buckingham Palace, where he has been promised an audience with King George on June 24. He will also visit the British Empire Exhibition and during the summer will visit Rome where he has an appointment with His Holiness the Pope.

During the Great War Mr. Ho gave over $500,000 of his own money to the allied cause, presented an aeroplane to the allies, raised 400 Chinese as pickets for the defence of Hongkong and raised huge funds for various branches of war work, including St. John Ambulance service, in which he is particularly interested. It is rumored in the Orient that he is to be knighted for his service.

ORLAND PILED UP A GOOD BIG SCORE

In Game With Roseneath the Home Team Showed Lots of Form.

ORLAND, June 2.—The two dark horses in the Northumberland Baseball League, Orland and Roseneath had their first trial of strength on the diamond here Saturday afternoon and the local boys romped home with a victory to the tune of 17 to 10. None of the teams in the league have ben able to strike their stride this year as it has been impossible to practise owing to the lateness of the season, but there is plenty of time before the winner of the Clarke Cup is decided.

Both teams have been strengthed by the addition of new players. Orland has Zufelt, first baseman, Beatty right field and Mulhall third baseman who were with the Warkworth team last year, every one a star in his position. Mulhall was not in the game Saturday having been detained at the last moment. The best of the men who were with Orland last year are on deck again. The team is regarded as a potential cup winner and if their work at bat on Saturday is any criterion they should have no difficulty in slugging their way to victory unless some pitcher is found able to put a crimp in their career.

Houlihan made four safe hits in six times up and Samis three out of five chances. Kory Zufelt as good a player and as popular with the fans as any man who ever swung a bat in the Northumberland league, made a slashing double in the sixth driving in Samis, who was on first base. Way, star pitcher of last year, who was in centre field as he has been saved for the box in the game with Campbellford on Wednesday got a double in the eighth. The other men to reach first on safe hits were Dawson, Beatty and Belford.

Roseneath's Hard Luck.

Some of the players who were with Harwood last year have been taken on by Roseneath, one of these being Dunnett, who pitched for the visitors up to the sixth inning, when he was replaced by Leach, Roseneath's main hope. In the sixth R. Thackeray, the catcher, was struck on the foot by a low-pitched ball and was obliged to give up. Hogg and Down were brought into the game to replace Thackeray and Dunnett. Moore was shifted from short to the catcher's position.

Roseneath team has certainly a likely looking bunch of players on its roster, and no nine in the league is fitted out with nattier uniforms. The team has plenty of reserves on its list, and is backed up by a set of enterprising officials, and has the enthusiastic support of the home fans. The team started weak last season, but toward the finish was regarded as one of the strongest aggregations by their opponents.

Dr. Armstrong, one of the players of last year, was with the team but did not take part in the game. His professional services came in timely when Thackeray was injured.

The hitting for Roseneath was done by Davey, Leach, R. Thackeray, Down and Turner, the latter getting three in four trips to the plate.

The line-up:

Roseneath — Davey 2b, Baker lf, Moore ss and c, B. Thackeray 1b, Shearer cf, Leach 3b and p, Turner rf, R. Thackeray c, Down c and ss, Hogg 3b, Dunnett p.

Orland—Houlihan 2b, Belford ss, Samis 3b, Zufelt 1b, Down c,, Dawson p, May cf, Beatty rf, Moran lf.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER CO. WILL BREAK GROUND

NEW YORK, June 2. Canadian Press. — Looking forward to the gradual removal of its entire newsprint manufacturing interests to Canada, the International Paper Company will break ground in the near future for the erection of a new plant in the Dominion, Philip T. Dodge, the president of the company, announced yesterday.

"The action of the U. S. Congress in placing newsprint on the free list," Mr. Dodge said, "has dealt the U. S. industry a death blow. We will continue manufacturing in the U. S. for a long time to come, but without a tariff to protect us we cannot thrive. We will continue because we own vast timber tracts, but when these are exhausted we will cease manufacturing. We cannot compete against the cheap labor of foreign countries."

W. DUNLOP APPOINTED RETURNING OFFICER

TORONTO, June 2. — William E. Dunlop was on Saturday appointed by the Ontario government to be returing officer for the coming bye-election in Northwest Toronto. Mr. Dunlop is secretary of Ward Five Conservatives, and is also past President of the association. He is preparing his proclamation for the nomination proceedings.

The number of well known citizens seeking nomination is not so large as it was the day Hon. Thomas Crawford accepted the post of Registrar of deeds. Several have been through the riding and after sounding possible delegates to the Conservative convention have told their friends that they are no longer in the running.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

New Silent Policeman Doing Duty on Main Street--Personals.

HASTINGS, June 2.—The new silent policeman ordered by the Village Council recently has been placed on the four corners of Bridge and Front Streets. It is red in color and the words, "Keep Right," are printed in white letters around the side. It is a very different type to last year's, as it is placed on a metal base, and a spring in the centre inside causes it to straighten up again should a motorist happen to try to run over it.

Children's Day.

"Children's Day" was observed in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers around the altar, pipe organ and placed in the windows. Apart from the music rendered by the choir and congregation, canary birds in cages sang lustily throughout the service.

A baptismal service was held and five babies were baptized.

The music was in keeping with the service, two selections being sung by the children and one by the choir. Miss Madeline Bonds sang very sweetly, "Working Together."

Mrs. M. J. Baker, superintendent of the cradle roll department, called the roll and presented each member, about thirty-five in number, with a pink rose bud. No sermon was given at this service, and the Scripture lesson was the twenty-third Psalm, and a number of verses taken from Mark, the tenth chapter.

The order of the evening service was also somewhat changed. A male voice choir took the place of the regular one. A vocal solo was given by Mr. N. Macdonald, a cornet solo by Mr. W. Knight, and a male quartette from Elgin was present and delighted the congregation with their section.

The time of the evening service has been changed to 7.30, instead of 7 o'clock, for the summer months of June, July and August.

Dance on Friday.

The Twelve O'clock dance held in Lynch's Hall on Friday evening was largely attended. The Star Orchestra furnished excellent music. Many were from Norwood, Campbellford, Warkworth and Hastings, and all report a pleasant evening.

A considerable amount of work is being done on Bay street. Already the road has been made much wider than it was and when it has been regravelled, a much needed improvement will be accomplished.

Mr. Wm. Donlay has purchased a new Sedan car this week.

Miss Mary Jones of Rochester, is visiting her parents at the Royal hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson of Peterborough, were week end guests at the home of Mrs. S. Carter.

Mr. B. B. Clarke of the Toronto Bank staff, spent the week end at his home in Havelock.

A number from here attended the play, "The Night Riders," which was presented in the Opera House, Warkworth, on Friday evening, by the Dramatic Club.

Miss Helen Chapman was in Norwood on Saturday.

Rev. M. L. Hinton left on Monday for Toronto to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carter of Peterborough, spent the week end at the home of Mrs. S. Carter.

CAR TURNED OVER ON CHEMONG ROAD

Hughes-Charles of Port Hope and His Son B. Charles Were Victims—Several Smashes.

While coasting down the long hill to Peterborough on the Chemong Road, about six o'clock yesterday evening, an automobile driven by Mr. Hughes-Charles, Port Hope, turned over in ditch. Mr. Charles had with him his son and his granddaughter, with whom he was returning to Port Hope, after leaving Mrs. Charles and Mrs. B. Charles at the summer cottage at Chemong.

Mr. Charles, Senior, escaped with minor cuts and bruises, and the little girl was practically uninjured, but Mr. B. Charles was taken to the Nicholls' Hospital, it being feared his back was broken. Enquiry at the hospital this morning elicited theinformation that no serious results are anticipated. The patient was hurt about the back and his face and head were cut, but it is expected that he will have no permanent disability.

Mr. Hughes-Charles, who was for a time manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, visited the park again last night to reassure his wife, and left this morning for Port Hope. The car is a complete wreck.

Several other automobile accidents occurred over the week-end, but none of a serious character.

Probably the worst was at the intersection of George and Simcoe Streets, when R. Gilberts was knocked from his bicycle by a car driven by Miss Maud Reynolds of Madoc. The automobile, owned by Ed. Ducat of Madoc, was proceeding south on George Street and east on Simcoe Street, and did not make the turn required by the by-law, giving right of way to the bicycle.

The bicycle was badly smashed.

F. Panter and A. McClelland collided on Charlotte Street without damage, and a valuable cow was struck by an automobile on the Keene Road on Saturday night.

The car was damaged in front.

Hum Pund, 129 Simcoe Street, while crossing Hunter Street, walked into the side of a moving automobile, but escaped without serious injury.

The way sales of Brantford Asphalt Slates have grown shows that builders want this 100% roof which affords perfect protection and promises enduring service.

Hard-headed, they make assurance doubly sure by having the "best money can buy."

Yet, for a building of temporary character there is a brand of Brantford Roll Roofing that would be a wise buy.

SUNDAY CONCERTS.

The Parks Committee, it is noticed, has arranged to have a number of Sunday concerts during the summer season, and the schedule, which includes concerts by the Rangers' Band, Symphony Orchestra and Male Coice Choir, will be approved of by the citizens.

An opposition that may have existed at one time to Sunday concerts has long since vanished.

It has been found that they have been most popular with the people of Peterborough, and the latter can rest assured that so long as good order is maintained they can look forward to a continuance of such concerts.

The first Sunday programme will be given on the coming Sunday—if the weather conditions are favourable—and the citizens should see to it that the musicians are given every chance to do their best and that those who love good music are given an opportunity to hear it to the best advantage.

A band concert should not be regarded as merely a play hour for children, or an opportunity for boisterous youth to enjoy its fling.

In the case of a Sunday programme particularly it should be everybody's duty to see that proper decorum is preserved.

A MATTER OF EDUCATION.

The Examiner in referring to the Ontario Temperance Act on Saturday pointed out that prevention is largely a matter of education.

The prohibition problem is just what it has always been—a question of education rather than law enforcement.

For example, we find Wayne B. Wheeler, lawyer of the Anti-Saloon League in the United States, boasting of 34,067 convictions last year for violations of the Volstead Act.

That means that only one out of every 3,000 of the population was convicted last year.

No one can seriously contend that the total of violators of the legislation did not represent a much greater percentage than that.

Similarly in Ontario the ratio of those detected in infractions of the Temperance Act to the number of offenders is decidedly small.

There is liquor to be had for those who are willing to pay the price—and take a chance on drinking some of the villainous concoctions that are on sale.

One writer puts it pointedly when he says that the real problem is thirst, rather than quencher—buying rather than selling.

If the on-coming generation is prevented from acquiring the thirst prohibition will succeed, because there will not be any need for it.

The temperance forces should not relax in their efforts to impress upon people the effects of the liquor habit—along that path lies the real hope of permanent success.

GET THE RIGHT TYPE.

The trend of emigration is toward Canada, judging by the figures for April, which show a total of 19,330 newcomers, as compared with the same month last year.

Of this number 9,410 were British and 1,838 came from the United States.

The increase is welcome to those who believe that a larger population will greatly assist in solving Canada's problems.

The only fly in the ointment seems to be that the ratio of foreigners to the British-born shows a rather disconcerting increase.

Not that foreigners are not welcome if they are of the right type—unfortunately, the number of crimes in which aliens have figured recently is assuming such proportions as to give serious cause for worry as to the calibre of settlers that are coming to Canada just now from countries other than Great Britain.

They should be given a rigid test before being allowed to enter the country, for there are more than enough of the class who use a knife or a revolver at the slightest provocation.

People who are willing to adopt Canadian standards of living and live according to Canadian customs will be gladly received.

Many of the newcomers are not of that type.

A missionary among foreign settlers for the past twenty years declares that the Ukrainians in the West are deliberately fostering strong nationalistic tendencies and that they resent any attempt to bring them into the common life of the country.

That is a serious condition of affairs; if immigrants cannot be assimilated this Dominion would be much better off without them.

SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS.

It is surprising to find that there are still people who object to the carrying on in Peterborough of supervised playgrounds as a waste of money.

The Examiner cannot understand such a viewpoint.

The benefits to be derived from such playgrounds are so apparent that it would be natural to expect an unanimous demand for more of them, rather than a suggestion that they should be abandoned.

Supervised playgrounds save property by keeping the children busy in healthful recreation.

They save the youngsters by keeping them from playing on the streets or other dangerous places.

They make a juvenile court unnecessary, for figures from many centres prove that juvenile delinquency falls off as more recreation facilities are provided.

They build up the bodies of the children and they develop their character at the same time, because under expert supervision the little folks learn to "play the game."

The city of Toronto sets a good example for the rest of Canada.

Toronto provides for its young people 210 tennis courts, 59 baseball parks, 37 football greens, 10 cricket greens and 14 bowling greens, while in the winter 49 hockey rinks and 57 skating rinks are maintained.

These playgrounds cost the citizens of Toronto $100,000 a year.

They are worth much more than that.

Who can estimate just how much the Queen City saves in the cost of hospitals and law enforcement because its young people are given plenty of opportunity for innocent recreation?

ACTION AT LAST.

The appalling rum traffic between British ports and the United States, legal at its source because of the absence of prohibitory legislation, but flagrantly illegal at its destination, has reached such proportions that members of the British House of Commons have found it impossible to longer remain passive, says the Hamilton Spectator. As a result of the storm of protest, serious consideration is now being accorded the evil and, if it is not found possible to exterminate it altogether, it is indicated that some form of restrictive legislation will at least make the traffic less profitable and, in equal proportions, more hazardous.

The very brazonry and effrontery of those who are engaged in rum-running from British possessions have proven their undoing, the present attack on the traffic having been occasioned by the advertisement inserted in the daily press by Lieut.-Col. Sir Broderick Hartwell, inviting contributions to his business, which is admittedly the smuggling of alcoholics into the United States.

Whatever may be said in justification of the liquor cargoes which are carried on British steamers for the refreshment of patrons, en route to and from British ports and the United States, cannot be applied to this other disgraceful business of rum1running. No distinction can be made between the knighted distiller who engages in the illegal traffic and the back-alley bootlegger. They are partners in a disgraceful business, which, it has now been discovered by members of the House of Commons, has become little short of a national blot.

WHO WILL RESCUE JAFFRAY?

We presume that Premier King is not at all responsible for the amusing rumor that he has approached the American Government, "asking co-operation" in obtaining the release of four missionaries carried off by Chinese bandits, one of whom is a Canadian. Of course, the proper thing for the Premier to have done—if he really wanted the missionaries to be released—was to prod up the British Government. Even this was probably unnecessary, except as an advertisement of interest on the part of the Canadian Government.

The British Navy has long patrolled inland Chinese waters, notably the Yangtse River, with a powerful flotilla of gunboats especially constructed for this service. These British gunboats have been the chief instruments for the protection of foreigners and the maintenance of law and order throughout the regions drained by the patrolled waterways. Lately the Japanese have entered the field and are an effective second; but the towering bulwark of safety in China—especially in the British bone in China—is the British Navy.

Rev. R. A. Jaffray, who unfortunately has been captured by Chinese bandits, is a British subject. Even if there were no question of humanity at stake, all the power of the British Empire would be behind Mr. Jaffray. If the British Navy, backed by British prestige, can bring about his release, it will be done. We may be very sure, indeed, that if effective pressure is brought to bear upon the rulers of inland China with the result that these murderous robbers are made to disgorge, that pressure will be largely British pressure, expressed by the guns of British river boats.

Why, under such circumstances, Canada should propose "co-operation" with the United States is not clear. Secretary Hughes, in asking Congress for six new river boats for the Chinese service, dwells upon "the greater suitability of the craft assigned by the British and Japanese Governments for this purpose." Of course, we do not mean for a moment that American "co-operation" is not important. It is very important, especially in the field of prestige. But any "co-operation" they give must be with the British Empire, which has naval power on the spot ready to co-operate. They obviously cannot "co-operate" with us, for we are not there to "co-operate." They can only make us a donation.

* * * *

Those of us who are contented with Canada's utter powerlessness on the sea might well take note of the pitiable plight in which the Canadian missionary, Mr. Jaffray, would find himself if his only hope of rescue lay with "the Canadian Navy." We could do absolutely nothing for him. His only chance of escape lies in the fact that we can "sponge" upon two other peoples, the British and the American. The British will help us because we belong to their Empire; and the Americans will help us because they are "good fellows" and good neighbors.

But does any self-respecting Canadian imagine that we can continue to "sponge" indefinitely? If we are to call upon these two navies to come to our help every time we get into trouble, will not even common decency compel us, sooner or later, to "chip in" to the maintenance of the one or the other? If we shirk our share of supporting the British Navy, we will have to contribute to the American—some time. We cannot ride free forever.

And this Jaffray incident shows us that there are Canadian interests which need defending overseas.—Montreal Star.

A Thought

INTIMATELY PERSONAL

Occasionally it is necessary to walk out of our way in order to come back and see our selves as others see us. Let's talk a walk.

A stone weighing one-quarter of a pound is to the earth as the earth is to the universe. Weigh this carefully, and you will get the weight of the universe.

Place the figure "1" on a large sheet of paper, and then put to the right of this figure fifty-three naughts and you will have the number of pounds that the universe weighs.

And now that we know all this, or think we do, let's take a little longer walk.

A hundred million light-years expresses some distance—a distance that would be covered by a man traveling at the rate of 168,000 miles a second for a hundred million years. At this rate it would take him about a tenth of a second to travel around the earth.

Starting toward the sun, he would arrive in eight minutes. By continuing at the same rate for the rest of his life, then, if by some miracle, his life could be renewed every time he reached a century old, it would be necessary to renew his life a million times before he could reach the boundary lines of the universe and return back to earth. Some distance!

Strange how a man will study the universe, but seldom ever take time to investigate his own individuality. He is always interested in the world without, but knows little of the world within.

He fixes the fixed stars and fusses a lot about his neighbors, but he knows so little, so very little of himself. He thinks he knows, and this prevents him from proving to himself that he does not.

Love's labor is never lost, since even if the recipient of love's effort proves unworthy, no sincere, earnest and heartfelt striving leaves the doer without reward.

He kissed her in a burst of passion.

"You have no business to do that," she shrilled at him.

"It wasn't business," he replied sweetly. "It was pleasure."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 31.—Wheat underwent a sharp setback in price today, chiefly owing to weakness of the Winnipeg market and as a result of further rains west and southwest. Wheat here closed heavy 1 1-8c to 1 3-4c net lower, July $1.06, and September $1.07 5-8 to $1.07 3-4 with corn 1-8c to 2 3-4c down; oats 1-8c to 7-8c off, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 10c advance.

Rather heavy selling of the July and December wheat in Chicago took place as soon as the Winnipeg market gave evidence of a decided downturn. Previously, Chicago prices had shown only moderate declines, the bearish effect of further beneficial rains being partly offset by evening-up of accounts on the part of shorts in the May delivery here. However, the outlook as to farm legislation at Washington tended to unsettle confidence on the part of holders, and when the Winnipg market began to give way the downward swing of values in Chicago quickly showed much more impetus.

GRAIN RECEIPTS DOUBLE

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 1.—Receipts of grain at Port Arthur and Fort William last week were more than double the previous week, so that in spite of the fact that there were bigger shipments by over a million bushels, the stocks on hand here have been lowered than by less than a million bushels during the week.

SATURDAY CHEESE PRICES.

LONDON, Ont., June 1.—At Saturday's meeting of the London Cheese board 446 boxes were offered at 14 cents, no sales.

MADOC, Ont., June 1.— At Saturday's meeting of the Madoc cheese board 570 white cheese were offered. All sold at 15 cents.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., June 1.—At Saturday's session of the local cheese board there were offered 2,367. All sold at 15 cents.

CORNWALL, Ont., June 1.—On the Cornwall Cheese board Saturday 1560 colored and 146 white were offered. Both sold at 14 7-8 cents.

MAY USE NEMAS TO FIGHT PEST LIFE IN CROPS

Farmers Are Urged by the Department of Agriculture to Give Plan a Trial—Grasshoppers, Beetles, and Caterpillars all Prey.

NATURAL ENEMIES

Parasitic thread-like organisms known as nemas cause a large percentage of crop diseases, according to Dr. N. A. Cobb, plant pathologist and nematologist of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is possible, Dr. Cobb advises the farmer, to capture these parasites and use them to destroy insect pests, such as grasshoppers, beetles and various caterpillars.

"If all the substance of the earth," said Dr. Cobb recently, "and of the things that flourish on it, could by a stroke of magic be made invisible, it would still be possible to distinguish the soil-covered parts of the earth, the streams, lakes and oceans, the insects, animals, birds, fishes, plants, and humans. So widespread and abundant are these nemas, largely parasitic or predacious, that in this world of transparencies most living things, the blanket of soil on mountains, hills, and plains, and the bodies of water, would be indicated by clouds of these living threads, which vary in length from a small fraction of an inch to several feet, and in diameter from that of the finest of hairs to the thickness of a lead pencil."

With this fanciful picture, Dr. Cobb calls attention to the abundance of these organisms which are of untold economic importance to agriculture and medicine. Certain species of them are responsible for crop diseases which cut our food-producing capacity to an extent which, if it could be measured, would be amazing, according to Dr. Cobb.

One species, the gall nema, attacks about five hundred plants, making galls or knots on the roots which frequently prevent the plant from producing a profitable crop. Very few plants are free from such attack, not even weeds, which are often thought to have immunity from enemies. The grasses, including the small grains of corn, are less subject to devastation than most of the others.

How to Lessen Them.

By using these resistent crops in rotation it is possible to keep down the number of enemies in the soil, as the nematodes will die out in large numbers if a crop undesirable from their standpoint is grown on the ground for a year or two. It is necessary, however, to keep down the weeds, as the nemas live in the roots of a large number of them. Even a weed that is not easily affected will carry over the pests from year to year, and it will not take long for a few of the pests to repopulate the soil, if a crop is sown favorable to them. Allowing two months to each generation—which is ample—a pair of gall nemas will have from five to ten million descendants in six months, should all survive.

These root-knot producers do most damage in a light, sandy soil, as it is easier for them to make their way through it from root to root and they move about more readily by the flow of soil water. In heavy clay soil the pest is sometimes of little importance, though it may exist there. Sometimes it becomes worse when a soil is lightened up through adding manure or by opening it with green crops turned under or through cultivation.

Among the many crops attacked by the root-knot nematode the most important are alfalfa, clover, cotton, cow peas (with the exception of a few varieties), field peas, flax, fig, grape, peach, soy beans (with the exception of the Laredo variety), pumpkins, sugar beets, sugar cane, sweet potatoes, vetch, a large number of truck crops, ornamental plants, and trees. Some of the plants attacked are legumes which normally have nodules produced by beneficial bacteria; but usually it is not difficult to distinguish between these growths and those thickenings on the roots made by the gall nematode. The former are more or less globular and easily removed, while the latter are usually club-shaped or irregular masses, really enlargements of the roots themselves.

Frost Kills Them.

When the soil freezes large numbers of nemtodes are killed off and, as a consequence, the pest is not so bad in the Northern States as in the South. However, enough of the organisms get down below the frost-line, so that they never are annihilated. In greenhouses they become bad pests in any part of the country, but by treating the soil with hot water or steam it is possible to destroy them along with fungi and many undesirable bacteria. It is now recommended that new greenhouses be constructed in the first place with tile or pipes in the beds with a view to steaming.

Although nemas exist in enormous numbers in the soil and are of great importance in crop production, there are important species which infest different animals, insects, and man. The hook-worm is a nema; and there is one which is blood-red in color and attains a length of several feet. Investigations are being made by the Department of Agriculture to learn if these parasites can be used to combat certain insects of economic importance.

It has been found that a certain nema has a predeliction for grasshoppers, and Dr. Cobb is of the opinion that it is this enemy, in some cases, which causes the "hopper" scourge to rise and subside in great waves. This nema, which attains a length of twenty inches or more and is about the thickness of a coarse thread, makes the host insect sterile and in that way reduces the increase enormously. When the "hoppers" become plentiful the parasites increase and cut down their numbers; then through lack of grasshoppers the nemas decrease, and the cycle repeats. Investigators are now trying to find out if it will be practical to introduce this particular nema in regions where the grasshoppers are not infested and in that way help protect the crops.

There are other possibilities for utilizing these natural enemies in the interest of the farmer. There is a nema parasite infesting the cucumber beetle, and a study is being made of introducing them in localities where this beetle is abundant and is not already badly infested. Practically all the injurious insects and the beneficial ones as well are thought to have their nemas, and it is possible that these parasites will some day be used for man's benefit in the same way that parasites of insects are now being used to control such economic pests.

"HEARTS AFIRE!"

By MAY CHRISTIE

The Brilliant Novelist of Modern Society

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

Prudence Page—a pretty country girl, is deeply in love with

Peter Armstrong—brilliant young inventor, who, though loving Prudence, became entangled with a designing, heartless beauty,

Virginia Dale—Guest at the country home of wealthy

Mrs. Vansittart—from whom Virginia has stolen money and jewelry. Virginia throws Peter Armstrong over because he has been blinded in an accident in his laboratory, and she tries to marry an old 'flame,'

Bert Traymore—who will not have her. Immediately thereafter the police arrest Virginia for her numerous thefts, and takes her off.

Prudence is sitting at Peter's bedside one night when she hears a sound as of someone moving stealthily in the laboratory. Prudence lights a candle, goes into the laboratory, and a masked man springs at her.

Armstrong rushes to her rescue, ill though he is, and in the ensuing struggle tears off the thief's mask, showing Bert Traymore, who had come to steal and patent his invention, the work of years. The shock restores Armstrong's sight again.

Janet Mercer, who nursed Armstrong and is in love with Will Ogilvie, is a great friend of Mrs. Vansittart's.

They discuss Virginia's downfall.

Bert Traymore sails for parts unknown.

There is a double wedding between Peter and Prudence and between Janet and Will Ogilvie. Fifteen months later they have a re-union in the lovely new home Peter has built for his wife.

CHAPTER LXXXIV.

Enduring Love.

Janet and Prudence two of the happiest wives in the whole of the United States sat before the crackling wood fire of the Armstrong country home with their babies playing at their feet and their husbands smoking the pipe of peace together and exchanging views on politics while Janet and Prudence frankly gossiped on more domestic topics.

"You're new home's lovely Prudence. I don't wonder you were glad to get back. But tell me what did you think of Europe?"

"Lots of it I liked, and some things I didn't," said Prudence, frankly, removing a piece of charred wood from Peter junior's chubby fingers, and then wiping off the dirt on her handkerchief. "Some of the things terrified me, such as the taxi-cabs in Paris. My! those fellows drive at an awful speed! You see,"—smiling in an amused way,—"if they run over anyone, the injured party is supposed to be fined for obstructing the traffic!"

Janet cried: "Mercy on us! You don't say!"

Prudence continued:

"Crossing the streets was simply awful. They have practically no traffic policemen, like we have over here. Just tiny little fellows in white gloves—'gendarmes,' they call them—who are afraid they'll be run over themselves! They look like toy soldiers, with fierce mustaches, and little capes, and slim little bodies. You'll see them try to signal the traffic to stop, holding up their little gloved hands—but the traffic goes right on, just the same, and the 'cop' has to spring to an 'island' for his very life."

Janet laughed heartily.

"The stores were lovely, of course," continued Prudence, "though I couldn't drag Peter to any of the 'openings.' He was sweet, however, and fixed up with a French woman to take me. I adored Lanvin's things—so girlish and quaint—and Peter insisted that I have a couple of evening frocks, though they're so gorgeous, Jenny, that I don't know when I'll have the opportunity to wear them! Peter and I are stay-at-homes, you know."

"How did London strike you?" Janet questioned. She had a keen desire to travel, and maybe, one day, she and Will would take a trip abroad.

"I loved it. So did Peter. And lots of people in the hotels were Americans and recognized him. And do you know,"—the proud wife's eyes sparkled,—"the scientific societies over there made quite a fuss of Peter! There was a special luncheon and two dinners given for him."

"Naturally. What did you expect?" said Janet, patting Prudence's hand in a motherly fashion. "That's what it is to be the wife of a famous man, my dear."

"Oh, I wasn't boasting, Janet," Prudence added quickly, afraid that her friend might think she was contrasting her husband with Will Ogilvie, who, to use an English expression Prudence had heard in London, "would never set the Thames afire."

"Gracious, child, you're just as simple and sweet as ever, even if you have had a grand European tour." Janet set her fears at rest. "Was the weather in England bad?"

"It rained a lot, and the houses didn't have central heating. Just open fires, like this. They think it's healthier, but it's kind of trying for visitors. Just the same, England is very beautiful. All of it. Like a garden. And London's so old and historic that it fascinated me."

From that they talked of more intimate things. Janet was very happy in her marriage. Will was everything her heart desired, and even his mother—who formerly had been so 'grouchy' and so hard to get along with—was softening towards her daughter-in-law.

"I'm learning to curb that tongue of mine," said Janet frankly. "It's being so happy, I guess, that makes it easier to be tactful!"

"I never thought you had a sharp tongue," said loyal Prudence.

"Janet laughed rather embarrassed, and, stooping, picked up baby Prudence from the rug.

"Isn't she sweet? I do declare she grows prettier every day. She has your mouth, Prudence, and I only hope she'll have your disposition."

"Flatterer!" Young Mrs. Armstrong was pleased at her friend's tribute, none the less. Janet was staunch and true, once her affection had been given.

The latter suddenly drew from her pocket a clipping from a newspaper.

"Read that, she said, a queer look on her face. "Can you beat it? It's Virginia Dale's wedding announcement."

Prudence read the notice, and inquired:

"Where did this come from?"

"From an aunt of mine in New Zealand, to whom I send the local papers, as she once lived in this neighborhood. She read about Virginia Dale's trial and year's imprisonment, and it seems that whenever the creature got free, off she went to her sister in Australia. It's my belief that Mrs. Vansittart—soft-hearted woman that she is—paid her passage money. You know she offered to do so at the time of the arrest, and offered to withdraw any charges against the girl—but there was too many other 'counts' against her, and she got a year's sentence."

"But is this a New Zealand paper?" inquired Prudence.

"Yes. Madame Virginia never got as far as Australia. She met an old suitor when the ship reached New Zealand—I'll bet she had written him a hard-luck tale when she got out of jail—anyway, he's married her, and they've gone up-country to live on his 'station' or farm. I don't envy him, do you? I hear he's twenty years older than she is. He's forgiven her past—and all."

"I'm glad," said Prudence, simply. "I've felt very sorry for her for a long time, and wished I could do something for her. You and I, Janet, have been so very, very lucky. I'm sure, I don't know what I've done to deserve such happiness!"

She crossed the room and touched her husband's shoulder. Her face was radiant with love—enduring love—that miracle which makes the world go round!

THE END.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A PICKLE FOR NOTHING

"You're both hired to do chores and errands"

Nancy and Nick thought the little store in the woods very funny, and they thought that Mister Bags, the fairy storekeeper, was still funnier.

They were ever so pleased when he clasped his hands over his fatty tummy and said beamingly, "You're both hired to do chores and errands at ten cents a week."

Just then Samantha Squirrel opened the door which went tingalingaling whenever you pushed it the teeniest bit.

"Do you have any new spring hats?" she asked.

"Yes, indeedie," said Mister Bags. "Which kind would you like best, a yellow one trimmed in pink ribbon, or a blue one trimmed in green flowers? We also have some pink ones trimmed in red, and some red ones trimmed in pale blue pinkish orange."

"Let me see them," said Mrs. Squirrel. "I'll try them all on and see which one suits my complexion best. The red one trimmed in greenish, orangine, yellow sounds the nicest."

"You mean pale blue, pinkish, orange," said Mister Bags. But that's an idea! I'll have to trim one in greenish orangine yellow. You are very smart, Mrs. Squirrel, to think of such a thing."

"My husband says I should have been a milliner," said Mrs. Squirrel. "I know so much about flowers 'n' things."

"It's millers, you mean," said Nancy. "Millers are the people who know all about flour. They make it."

"Milliners and flowers, my dear," said Mrs. Squirrel firmly. "Please keep your place, I know what I'm talking about."

Well! Mrs. Squirrel started to try on. And she tried on and tried on and tried on until Nick began to think she was going to try on the dish pans and butter bowls and market baskets.

"There is nothing here that suits me at all," said Mrs. Squirrel finally, turning up her nose and wiggling her whiskers and whisking her tail. "I could trim hats all around you, Mister Bags. I'd just as leave wear a soup tureen as any of these hats you have here. Give me a pound of butter and two pickles and I'll be going. I'm expecting company to supper."

Poor Mister Bags was handing her her butter and her pickles when she said briskly, "Please charge and send them. I'm not accustomed to carrying packages."

"Very well, madam," said Mr. Bags obligingly, writing in a great big book. "The butter is five cents a pound and the pickles are one cent."

"What!" shrieked Mrs. Squirrel. "Five cents a pound! Why, that's pure robbery. I never heard of anything so expensive. I won't take it at all, or the pickles either. Wait a minute. I'll taste the pickles and see if they are good."

So she ate a whole pickle.

"No they aren't a bit good," she declared. "I don't want anything to-day. Good day!"

"My goodness!" said Nancy as Mr. Bags was patiently putting back the butter and all the hats and the other pickle. "Wasn't she unpleasant!"

"She just wanted a little lunch!" said Mr. Bags. "That's the way she gets it."

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE ASKED

Marmora Board of Trade Will Make Request to Postal Department.

REPORTS RECEIVED.

MARMORA, June 2.—The Marmora Booster Club and Board of Trade met in the hall Friday evening. The matter of a better mail service was discussed and plans reviewed to present the matter to the authorities at Ottawa. The committee on charity and education presented their report through the vice-president, Rev. D. R. Clare. The committee suggested a half-holiday in the schools and town for the purpose of assisting the School Board in placing the school grounds and parks in better condition, by laying out tennis lawns and other game grounds for the village. The chairman of the various School Boards, Dr. D. Thomson, Mr. Forester, and the principal of the public schools. Mr. E. C. Prentice, were appointed foremen for this work, and Rev. D. R. Clare agreed to canvas for wheelbarrows.

The committee suggested the advisability of a trustees and ratepayers association to discuss affairs affecting the schools of the village and neighboring sections. This was referred to the School Board of the village, and Mr. Clare was asked to present the matter to them.

The committee suggested that for charity cases each church and organization should appoint a couple of members, and this committee would then investigate all cases of charity and report to the relief officer its advice concerning the same. It was suggested that an annual drive be made for funds for such cases. This matter was referred to a joint meeting of the committee on charity and education and the village relief committee.

The club suggested that while it was on record as urging all excursions and picnics to be held at Crowe's Lake, it had no objection to any Sunday School or other organization of the village going elsewhere for a day, as in the case of the Methodist Sunday School, which is planning a trip on the Trent Valley Canal from Peterboro or Lakefield.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation to Rev. Father Traynor of a box of cigars by Dr. D. Thomson on behalf of the club, as a recognition of the club's good will and appreciation for his services in connection with the club. The reverend gentleman, who is going on a trip to Ireland and Italy, made a very happy reply to the address, and assured the club that, while he appreciated the gift and expressions of goodwill, he would stay away just as long as he could. The club then adjourned to the call of the chair.

Truck in Ditch.

On Wednesday evening, while driving his truck down Forsythe Street, Mr. Tom Potts overturned the truck in the ditch. Due to a break in the steering-gear, the car had got beyond the driver's control, and when it ran into the ditch, turned completely upside down.

Mr. Potts got out from under the car and found that his only injuries were some severe cuts on his arms.

Personals.

Mr. Minns, of Tweed, the inspector of the public schools, paid his official visit to Marmora Public School this week.

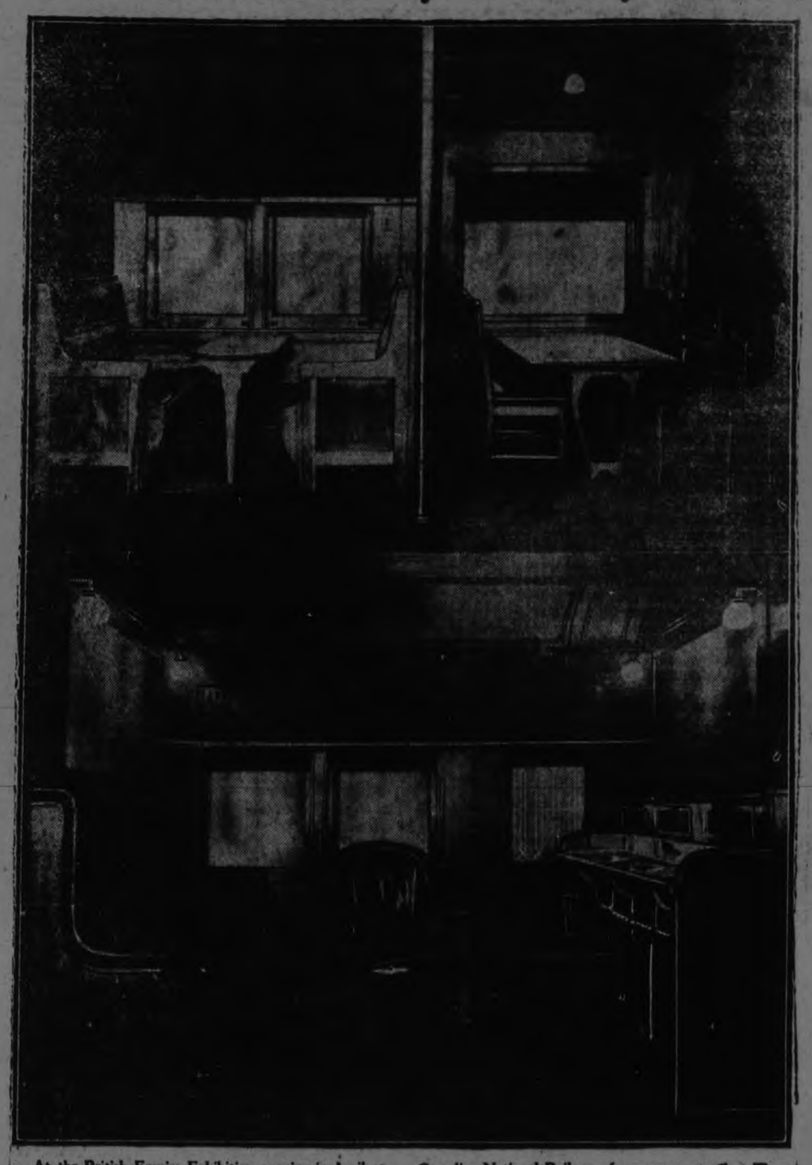
Miss Lilian Dixon, of Stirling, came home with Miss Reta Kennedy for the week-end.

Mrs. J. H. Clare and her daughter, Mrs. W. Hinchey, of Tweed, are spending a few days with the former's son, Rev. D. R. Clare.

Mrs. J. Cassidy, of Springbrook, was taken ill suddenly on Tuesday morning. After a consultation of the doctors, she was taken to Belleville on Wednesday afternoon and operated on the same evening. Last reports were that Mrs. Cassidy was progressing as well as possible.

The U.F.O. organization of Springbrook have been bringing in a carload of produce about once a week. On Thursday of this week the farmers from this district were all busy hauling away their loads of bran, shorts and flour.

Canadian National Railways at Wembley Exhibition



At the British Empire Exhibition opening in April at Wembley, England, the Canadian National Railways will; in their own buildings on the grounds, maintain one of the finest transportation exhibits ever shown. Practically every phase of steam transportation in Canada will be shown, including the history of steam transportation by means of a series of mural decorations in bas-relief. Mechanically operated apparatus will give a vivid illustration of some of the Dominion's great scenic attractions and a huge trophy in the centre of the building will indicate to the visitors some idea of the wealth of Canada's natural resources.

One of the most interesting sections of the exhibit will be life-size models of sections of equipment used by the Canadian National Railways for passenger traffic. There will be a section of a colonist car, a tourist car, a dining car, sleeping car with wash room and smoker, a section showing a compartment and another a drawing room. In charge of this exhibit will be a conductor and porter chosen from the service, and they will explain to visitors the method of passenger travel in the Dominion.

The photographs show three portions of this exhibit. In the upper left-hand corner is seen a section of a tourist car and opposite it a section of a standard diner. On the chair in the right-hand corner is a special seat for a child. Below is seen the gentlemen's smoking and wash room on a standard sleeping car.

FABLES ON HEALTH

"I wish you would stop quarreling in the presence of the baby," Mrs. Mann rebuked Mr. Mann one evening when he had been particularly ill-tempered.

"One of these days you will wonder why he misbehaves. You will hear him say words and wonder where he heard them. You will hear him talk back to me—and you will never for a moment blame yourself."

The young child is impressionable to an amazing degree, as Mrs. Mann knew well. It mimics its elders at every opportunity.

The old saying: "Like father, like son," does not have entire reference to heredity. A tremendous responsibility falls upon parents during the child's impressionable years.

In the presence of the child they should act as they expect the child to act; they should behave as they expect the child to behave. The example they set will have a vital effect upon the childs behavior. By the time a child reaches six his habits are very likely to be well formed, according to several authorities.

Parents should remember that they can create environment, and should make this as fine as possible.

ANNUAL REPORTS OF Y.W.C.A.

REPORT OF THE RESIDENCE DEPARTMENT.

In presenting the report of the Y.W.C.A. Residence for 1923 and 1924 I shall call your attention to only a few facts and figure, facts and figures, however, that are not dry. (I hope not.)

Whatever success has attended this department is largely due to the congenial working and living together of all in our residence.

We are not an institution or merely a large boarding house, but a residence for girls who are away from home and home influences; all living here as one big, happy considerate family, each contributing her share in making this a real home for herself and for others; and I believe the biggest and best influence that can come into any young person's life is that of a Christian home.

It is said "that woman holds the destiny of the world in her keeping"; if so, how important it is, then, that the young inexperienced girl going to a city should live where she is surrounded by good influences, where others are interested in her life and conduct, willing to advise her when she makes or is about to make a mistake, sympathizes with her when she is sad and lonely and care for her when she is ill, are we not helping her to shun the many imminent dangers of city life, and weaving into her life and character a stronger and greater desire to live up to her best self in shouldering the burdens of the day. And this is one of the purposes of our world-wide association residences.

When a girl is received into our home she is not asked how much or how little she has of this world's goods, but can she furnish references of good character.

During the year, 250 girls who are teaching, attending one of our schools, or in the business world, have lived for a longer or shorter time with us, and we have provided comfortable and satisfactory accommodation for over 450 transient guests, besides dinner for several who come in each day.

The residence has been filled to its capacity which is 70, and often beyond that number since last September, and for several months one or more cots have been in constant use.

At the end of the year I am again pleased to find this department's financial sheet showing enough balance to make us 125 per cent. self-supporting. This by no means is my chief aim, yet your home nor ours cannot run along successfully or happily if we are continually burdened with deficits.

Will you, with me, glance for a moment at the work of our home during the past year. We served approximately 70,000 meals, did up 1,700 quarts of fruit and pickles, besides jam and marmalade, the sewing and mending for 70 beds, making up table linen, curtains for the second floors which takes 120 yards of curtain material, housecleaning twice a year, answering calls and telephone calls out and in, besides the regular routine daily work to keep this place clean and in order.

The social life of our residences is not overlooked. We try, in a small way, to supply this happy and natural need in a girl's life.

Shortly after the normalites arrived last fall, the girls of the previous year undertook to initiate them, which proved to be a most jolly party.

On Hallowe'en our dining-room and tables were suitably decorated, each girl was greeted by a witch as she entered the room. St. Valentine and St. Patrick were duly honored. Special Christmas and New Year dinners, birthday teas in the green room and to each of these several of the members of our board were invited in to share our pleasure. Lively contests in keeping with the day were heartily entered into and prizes given. Last June before our family scattered for their summer vacation the house committee and superintendent gave a high tea. The halls and green room were beautifully decorated. All the members of the board, with their husbands, were invited, giving a number of the gentlemn of our city a little greater knowledge of our home life. The toasts proposed and responded to were a credit to all. The students presented the superintendent with a pretty pair of silver candlesticks, which was indeed much appreciated.

Each year to keep our residence in good repair several hundred dollars must be spent in equipment, replenishings and refurnishings, although we do not forget that it is not altogether the building or its equipment or its activities that make a home, but it is the spirit and congenial atmosphere of that home. Last year our dining room chairs were replaced by real dining room chairs, our old iron-stone china dishes by prettily decorated china dishes, a number of rooms redecorated, our house girls' parlor redecorated, new furniture, rug, curtains, draperies and window seat. Half the expense of this room was very generously donated by Mrs. Stuart of Chicago. We close our doors at 11 o'clock; anyone wishing to remain out after that time writes her name in a late leave book, 12.30 being our limit. The students are allowed two late leaves a week. Whoever is taking late leave duty remains up until the last girl is in, and in this way I know when the family are all home; and quite often all the girls are home by eleven o'clock.

The girls may entertain their boy friends in the house girls' parlor until 10.30, and from certain sparkling evidences, I am afraid I shall soon lose several of the family.

The religious life is kept before the girls. They gather in the green room immediately after supper for prayers. Each girl attends the church of her choice at least once on Sunday. Several attended the Bible classes last fall and the largest group at the Sunday evening song services was from the house.

Our home throughout the year has been practically free from serious illness or accident, which is the first since the 'flu' entered our country five years ago.

Surely we have much to be thankful for the way our Heavenly Father has watched over us and has guided and guarded our going out and our coming in.

When the names of the successful normalites appeared last summer in our local paper I was delighted to find that my 24 young hopefuls had succeeded in receiving their second class interim certificates. A record for this year's bunch of students to live up to!

Before closing I wish to express my appreciation to every member of the family, the secretaries, the house committee and members of the board for your kindness and consideration throughout the year, for I, too with you have my problems, perplexities and discouragements to face.

And now as we think of the year just passed with its closed records of 365 days of work and prayer and looking forward into the coming year I stop and wonder if we will measure up to the responsibilities and opportunities which may be ours. We know there will be varied experiences, sunshine and shadow in our large family circle, so may I ask you to pray with us that we may be granted a largeness of vision, a steadfastness of purpose, understanding minds, and responsive hearts that we may bear our burdens and do well the work our Lord would have us do.

Respectfully submitted,

Emma Morrison, Supt.

This little dollar goes to market

EVERY year every family of your acquaintance spends about 70 per cent of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilites and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements of her daily paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and manufacturers. POLICE CHIEF SHOULD HAND IN RESIGNATION THINKS MAYOR TURNER

Judge Makes Gesture to Leave Meeting But Remains to Declare Policy of Commission Not to Interfere in "Vulgar Quarrel" Between Alderman Stocker and Chief Newhall.

CHIEF'S DENIAL

Alderman Stocker's charge made in writing to the City Council a few weeks ago, that Chief Constable Newhall called him "a street corner bum," threw a spike into the usually amicable relations existing between the members of the police commission, at the meeting on Saturday evening.

Judge Huycke was so disgusted with what he called "the silly affair," that he at one time reached for his hat to desert the meeting, but reconsidered, and returned to retain his chair. Mayor Turner suggested that under the circumstances Chief Newhall's resignation would be acceptable. Chief Newhall indignantly and unequivocably denied having ever spoken to Alderman Stocker by telephone.

Finally after the subject had been broached three times, the chief's denial was entered on the minutes, and the complaint received without action.

There were present: His Honor Judge Huycke, Magistrate O. A. Langley and Mayor J. J. Turner.

Called it a "Vulgar Quarrel."

On the reading of Alderman Stocker's communication, which was forwarded to the Police Commission from the last meeting of the city council, Mayor Turner said that under the circumstances connected with the chief it would be better for the commission to ask for his resignation.

Chief Newhall indignantly denied the telephone conversation.

Judge Huycke said the complaint refers only to a low quarrel between two men, with which the commission should not tamper. Personally, he refused to pay any attention to any investigation.

It was at this point that His Honor Judge Huycke showed signs of leaving the meeting. "I'm not going to pay any more attention to this silly affair," he declared.

Mayor Turner: "Alderman Stocker made the complaint in good faith, and he expects that we will do something about it. Would it hurt to invite him here to tell us about it?"

Judge Huycke: "You two chaps can invite him all you like. I have too much else to do."

Magistrate Langley: "Would there be any harm in asking the chief what happened?"

No objection was made, and Chief Newhall was asked to tell his version of the complaint.

"One word," he said, "NOTHING. I have never phoned Stocker in my life, and to the best of my knowledge Stocker has never phoned me."

Mayor Turner: "Then someone has been taking a rise out of you."

Chief Newhall: "People call me every day to insult me, and when I try to trace them they are all from pay stations."

Judge Huycke: "I have too much to do to waste my time on a vulgar quarrel between two men."

Mayor Turner: "It seems to me that we have to straighten this out."

Judge Huycke: "We have not. We would have a great time separating all the quarreling people in the city."

Mayor Turner: "But this comes as a complaint of an Alderman, a servant of the city, elected by the people. If it is true it seems to me we should give it careful consideration."

Chief Newhall: "I'll show you how true it is. He had no permission to run the car and the matter was not reported to me, as he says that it was. If he thinks I have nothing better to do than call him on the phone he is badly mistaken. Huh! When I have to go and call Mr. Stocker on the phone it's a fine time of day."

During Chief Newhall's disclaimer His Honor Judge Huycke and Magistrate Langley discussed the accounts, and when the chief had finished the Judge said: "So far as your private quarrels go we have nothing to do with them."

Chief Newhall, addressing the Mayor: "So far as accounts go you can't compare Stocker's word with mine. I will give him all he wants if he comes into this room. If you can get a better servant than I am, and the commission requests me to resign, I'll resign in two minutes. I'm not beholden to the commission."

Judge Huycke: "I had never heard the chief's story before. I will not admit that this commission has any right to investigate anything but a point affecting the efficiency of the department."

Mayor Turner: "If the chief was impolite that would affect the efficiency."

Judge Huycke: "From Alderman Stocker's letter he got the best of it."

Chief Newhall: "I won't block him in any way. If he has any complaint let him go ahead with it. He can get full information as to who called him from one of the sergeants. They have full particulars here."

"Brawl" Recalled.

The Chief brought up the matter of the recent difference of opinion between two aldermen that led to a dispute. There were people outside the hall who heard the "brawl," and the noise attracted the attention of the police, he said. "We are dealing with people every day for brawling in their own houses."

Mayor said he thought there was nothing to justify action by the police and the debate tapered off until it died a natural death. Chief Newhall said he had refrained from taking action pending instruction from the commission.

Refuse Taxi License.

In recommending the rejection of an application for a taxi driver's license the chief said a great many drivers in the city need checking up. "People want their daughters to be driven in safety from the late trains, and we can't be too careful."

Protect Children.

In conformity with a request made to the board a policeman will be stationed at Murray and George St., to protect the school children attending the Central school. Mayor Turner said that hereafter the Board of Education should ask such protection direct.

EARLY MORNING FIRE ON BETHUNE STREET

A fire of unknown origin this morning at 2.00 burned the frame shed, summer kitchen and caught on to the frame kitchen at the rear of 548 Bethune street. The fire had a good start before the alarm was turned in and was making good headway when the Fire Department arrived at the scene. Houses number 544 and 552 were also slightly damaged by the intense heat from the raging flames that reached high into the sky. Both houses had the paint scorched and also several windows broken. The fire was spreading fast and had caught on the residence at 548 when the firemen arrived. The house was saved, but the summer kitchen and the frame shed were destroyed. No trace whatever could be found as to the cause of the fire. The loss will not be very heavy as the buildings were covered by insurance.

CHILDREN'S CHOIR OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

A crowded church morning and evening greeted the children's choir of St. Andrew's church yesterday. The weather was perfect and the slightly over eighty children which crowded the temporary choir gallery made a deep and touching appeal to the large audience which filled the church at both services. The choir was in charge of Mr. J. A. McKone and Miss Alice Cox presided at the piano. A fine orchestra was of great assistance in giving a swing to the singing of the children. Choruses, solos, duets, recitations made up the programme and some very wee tots in lisping accents contributed their humble share. Even the cradle roll was represented.

The front of the church was prettily decorated with flags and flowers. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Gordon gave a short talk at each service. It was a delightful day from start to finish and Mrs. McKone and her assistants have every reason to be gratified at the success that attended their efforts.

FREDERICK McGAUGHEY COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Prisoner Will Be Tried For Murder at the Fall Assizes—Case Closed For Present.

LINDSAY, Ont., June 2.—(Special.)—Charged with the murder of Beatrice Fee, aged 19, Frederick W. McGaughey, her thirty-two year old betrothed, was to-day committed for trial at next criminal assizes by Magistrate Jessie Bradford in the Lindsay police court. His trial will probably be in November.

"I think that is sufficient evidence to warrant the accused being committed for trial," said Crown Attorney J. E. Anderson to-day, after he had called witnesses at the preliminary hearing, Doctor Rich and Mulligan, Provincial Constable Storey who made the investigation, and Lawrence and Clarence McGaughey, two brothers of the accused. He did not call Miss Helen Stuart, girl friend of the deceased, nor did he put in the statement made by Beatrice Fee, "in immediate fear of death," which was mentioned in the evidence last week at the inquest into her death. The coroner's jury at this inquest brought in a verdict "that Frederick W. McGaughey shot and killed and murdered Beatrice Fee."

"It is is quite apparent to me that the accused should be committed to stand his trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, and and I shall accordingly so order," said Magistrate Bradford. Turning to the prisoner and putting the customary warning, he asked, "having heard the evidence, do you wish to say anything regarding the charge against you?"

"Nothing to say," responded Leslie M. Frost, who with his brother, Cecil Frost, is acting as counsel for the accused. McGaughey shook his head slightly, as he stood in the prisoner's box.

"Do you wish to put in any evidence in your behalf?" asked the Magistrate. "No evidence, your Worship," said Mr. Frost.

To-day's preliminary hearing brought to a close for the present a case which has aroused the whole countryside. Beatrice Fee, daughter of an Omemee farmer, Samuel Fee, was shot on Sunday evening, May 25, after she had come home to spend the week end with her parents from working in Toronto departmental store. The man she was engaged to marry is charged with her murder.

Fred McGaughey, the prisoner, is 32 years of age, medium height and showing a farmer's tan on his cheeks. He showed the court today the effects of his week in jail when the case opened. His face was pale, but as the evidence went in, his blooded mounted to his face. When committed for trial, his forehead was flushed red, his hands trembled all through the hearing, while he sat with his head bowed, very rarely looking up.

Samuel Fee, father of the deceased girl, was in court, as was her friend, Miss Stuart, of Toronto, and her brother, Roy Fee.

Magistrate Bradford opened the preliminary hearing by saying: "The charge we are investigating to-day is that Frederick William McGaughey of the Township of Ops, in the County of Victoria, on the 25th of May, did unlawfully murder Lillian Beatrice Fee."

Crown Attorney J. E. Anderson called as his first witness, Dr. Rich, who was the first doctor summoned after the shooting took place.

"What was McGaughey's condition?"

"He was very excitable. He seemed under the influence of liquor, intoxicated, and unable to walk straight. He was very anxious over Miss Fee's condition—that was the thing I noticed most."

"What did you observe as to his mental condition?"

"Fred W. McGaughey gave me the impression of a man perfectly sane only he was drunk. He acted like a sane drunk man."

The doctor declared that Miss Fee's death was "from internal hemorrhage and shock," caused by the bullet wounds in the chest.

SOVIET WAR FEARED

Tension Reported Growing On Bessarabian Border.

LONDON, June 2.—The situation in Bessarabia, the former Russian province which the Allies conceded to Rumania, is one of great tension, and indications point to war between Russia and Rumania at no distant date, according to a dispatch sent from Kishinev by a special correspondent of The Daily Express.

The writer says the prevalent idea that the Sciet aims at repossessing Bessarabia is true. This province, however, is "only a pawn in the Russian game, of which Constantinople is the real objective," although, according to the Rumanian view, the first step will be to seize the mouth of the Danube.

The Czarists in Russia, he adds, have offered to recognize Rumania's possession of Bessarabia if she will support their aims against the Soviet, and have gone so far as to suggest a Rumanian offensive against Kiev with the object of establishing a Czarist Government in the Ukraine.

Meanwhile, dispatches from other sources declare that the recent destruction on the arsenal at Bucharest has so crippled Rumania's military resources that it would be long before she could, if she wished, undertake any warlike operations.

A GRIST MILL AND SAWMILL DESTROYED

KINGSTON, June 2 (Canadian Press). — Fire which broke out this morning totally destroyed the sawmill, grist mill and machine shop at the Village of Newbugh.

The building and contents are a total loss, the cause of the fire is unknown, and it is stated that there is no insurance.

The buildings were owned by the Hydro-Electric Commission, and the machinery and contents by F. W. Breeze, and the latter's loss will be very heavy.

W. A. Ballance, who resides at Strathcona, one of the volunteer firemen, had his leg broken, and also suffered other injuries when he was caught by a falling wall.

Other men who figured in fighting the fire acted promptly in rescuing him, and a doctor was quickly summoned, and over the telephone early this afternoon it was learned that while his condition is serious, it was expected that he would recover.

He is married, with a family.

INSPECT LOCAL SCHOOL CADETS

The Denne Cup Will Be Competed For by Five Hundred Cadets.

Keen competition may be looked for among the public school cadet companies in the city, at their annual inspection before the General Officer Commanding M. D. No. 3 and the District Cadet Officer, Captain V. W. S. Heron. The inspection will take place in Central Park on Friday, June 6th, at 3 p.m.

The "Denne" Cup, presented by Mr. Roland Denne, which is awarded annually to the best company for drill, and efficiency, will also be competed for. This cup has been captured by "B" Co'y, King Edward school, for two years running, and if won by them this year will be retained. There are, however, five other companies who have decided that the cup will look much better elsewhere. In consequence some real work may be expected from all the schools before the final resting place for the cup is decided.

About five hundred cadets will be in line, and will look very smart in their new pattern cadet uniforms. The battalion this year will be commanded by a home brew cadet, in the person of C. H. Hayes, of "B" Co'y. Each company will also be commanded by its own cadets as company and platoon leaders. The "King's Color" will be carried on parade for the first time in charge of Cadet Lieut. Reid and two Cadet sergeants from "A" Co'y.

Supervision of training, and the local arrangements for the inspection are in charge of Sergeant Major Instructor T. Thomas, of Defence Headquarters Staff, and the individual companies are supervised as follows:

"A" Co'y Prince of Wales school. Instructor Lt. F. E Kerr, C.S.C.I.

"B" Co'y, King Edward school. Instructor Lt. R. J. Bolton, C.S.C.I.

"C" Co'y, Quene Mary school. Instructor, Lt. E. G. Wager, C.S.C.I.

"D" Co'y, Central School. Instructor Lt. O. M. Steer, C.S.C.I.

"E" Co'y Queen Alexandra school (new). Instructor Lt. F. H. Dearborn, C.S.C.I.

"F" Co'y, King George school, (new). Instructor Lt. L. Copp, C. S.C.I.

Official invitations to be in attendance have been forwarded to all members of the Board of Education and Home and School Associations. It is also hoped to see a large turnout of the citizens generally to boost the boys in a good work, which they perform very well, when it is considered that only a very small part of their school time is taken up with this branch of training.

ROTARIANS ARE URGED TO HELP THE FIELD DAY

Rotarian Alex. Kay Calls Upon Members to Take More Interest in Developing Boys of City.

GROUNDS NEEDED

An earnest plea for the support of the Rotarians on behalf of Saturday's field day and of sport in general in Peterboro was made at the weekly luncheon of the Peterboro Rotary Club to-day by Rotarian A. C. Kay, in a most interesting talk on sport and recreation.

Rotarian Kay explained the lack of suitable grounds in Peterboro for the carrying on of the various summer sports—Riverside Park being unable to accommodate all the teams and told the Rotarians of the conditions under which the Exhibition ground had been secured involving the expenditure of some $500 for maintaining the grounds. There were three baseball diamonds there and provision for cricket, football and other sports and it was hoped to raise the sum required on Saturday. The programme he explained would include, a ball game between the Rotary and Kiwanian clubs, a soft ball game and a Midland League fixture and he asked Rotarians to support the movement.

Rotarian Kay advanced the idea that the City Council should provide Riverside Park free of charge for baseball and other sports and pay the cost of a caretaker there and at the Exhibition Grounds. It would mean a cost of some $2000 a year, but would be of great benefit to the boys and young men of the city providing them with facilities for indulging in healthful recreation that would build up their bodies and their characters. He pointed out that although Riverside Park was municipally owned the Peterboro Central Ontario League team had to pay a rental of $1000 a year and pay $500 for the salary of a caretaker. So that with the provincial war tax there was an outlay of some $2200 without taking into consideration the expense of equipment and of travelling.

The speaker also advocated a change in the amateur athletic rules, by which it would be possible to reimburse a player for the time he lost from work.

He urged the Rotarians to get out and take an interest in sport. A few yells at the ball games would help them immensely, he declared.

The speaker gave some interesting information as to the development of baseball and his address was greatly appreciated.

Rotarian C. H. Rogers told of a visit by Rotarian Reg. Turner and himself to a meeting of the Transportation Committee of the Toronto Rotary Club, in connection with the International Convention, and pointed out the fact that members of the Toronto Rotary Club were giving most of their time to the preparation for the convention.

Rotarian J. H. Seels in announcing a Rotary Convention in July informed the meeting that every member of the club would have some work to do, and named several committees that will begin their duties at once.

President Wren asked the members to see to it that Peterboro had 100 per cent. attendance on Wednesday during the Toronto convention.

BELGIANS LOSE SUIT

80,000 Sought Damages From Germany For Forced Labor In War.

GENEVA, June 2.—The monster collective damage suit brought against the German Government by 80,000 Belgians who were deported for forced labor into Germany during the war, which has been on trial here for the last three months before mixed German arbitration tribunal, has been lost by the plaintiffs.

The tribunal, presided over by Paul Moriand, the famous Swiss jurist, ruled that while in principle it was competent to act in matters regarding contracts, the Treaty of Versailles had in this particular instance deprived it of jurisdiction.

According to the stipulations of the treaty, as interpreted by the tribunal, the deported persons must look exclusively to the Governments concerned and the Reparations Commission to obtain indemnity for their losses and damages.

STRAIGHT LINES.

The woman who is anxious to conceal a few extra pounds will be careful to select materials for her gowns that hang straight, without billowy folds, and she will see that it is made on straight lines without any elaborate trimmings.

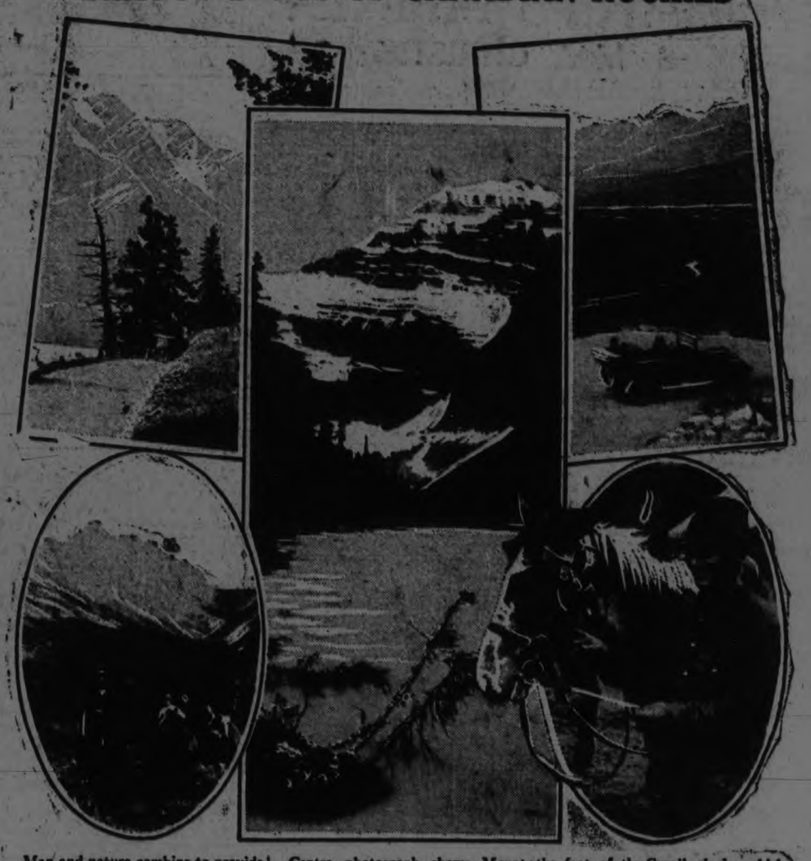
BEAUTY SPOTS OF CANADIAN ROCKIES



Man and nature combine to provide a real out-of-doors holiday resort at Jasper National Park, Alberta, on the main line of the Canadian National Railways. Photograph shows a few of the beauty spots close to Jasper Park Lodge, the magnificent log-cabin hostelry of the National System, which has been erected for the comfort and convenience of tourists who wish to make the most of the magnificent mountain scenery to be found within the borders of Canada's largest National Park.

Centre photograph shows Mount Edith Cavell, an imposing pile named in honor of Britain's heroic war nurse. The darker colored mountain to the right of Cavell has appropriately been named Mount Sorrow. Mount Cavell, in addition to being the highest mountain in Jasper National Park, 11,033 feet high, is also one of the most beautiful from a scenic point of view.

From the motor road which leads from Jasper Park Lodge almost to the foot of the Cavell glacier, which, because of its peculiar shape, is known as "The Glacier of the Ghost," a magnificent panorama of the Athabasca Valley is secured. Motor cars are available at the Lodge for the use of tourists at all times, and there are also numerous pack and saddle horses, which may be secured, together with the services of guides, by those who wish to wander from the beaten track and thus approach some of the mountains which are not within the reach of the motor tourist.

"In the Summer, a Young Girl's Fancy Lightly Turns To Bathing Suits"

Rather nice to be thinking about bathing suits again, isn't it? They are black in many cases, having taffeta tunics, which are smart enough to serve as a dress model, sometimes with pinafore collars or even a scarf. There are ginghams and printed cottons, gingham patterned silks, printed crepes, and, above all, plaids for those who do not like the somberness of black.

There is always the chance of brightening up a black suit with a beach cape or robe, a colored bandana and stockings, for black stockings are not compulsory on all beaches, and so have about the same relative beach value as they have for street wear. Nude stockings and all the multiplicity of shades of sand and flesh are worn, while some women affect gay colored stockings to carry out a color note in the bandana, or to introduce color. Knitted bathing suits have so endeared themselves to the average woman that they have become as staple as men's suits, while children wear them almost to the exclusion of all else.

A wool suit striped in Roman colorings over its entire surface has a cape of the same material, while other suits have bands of contrasting color around the skirt, and introduced in the vest. Taffeta rather than satin has the call in silks, and alpaca finds itself among those present in the surf. There are embroidered jerseys and to a lesser extent velvet ones.

Novelty is as valued in black clothes as elsewhere, more, perhaps, for umbrellas go to the extreme in novel features, the Japanese paper umbrella being a general favorite. The gingham scarf is among the more recent contributions to the seemingly endless interpretation of the scarf which includes silk, wool and now cotton. Cotton fabbrics are also being used for summer millinery.

DINNER FROCK

A black satin dinner frock has a wrap-around skirt caught up with a tight cluster of white orange blossoms.

TRIMMING.

Striped or plaid georgette crepe is frequently used as trimming on frocks of plain color, used as ruffles, bands or in squares.

LAKEFIELD TO HEAR OWN BAND

Reorganized During The Winter And Will Make First Public Appearance Soon.

SHOWER MISS STABLER

LAKEFIELD, May 31.—The citizens' Band are planning to come out in the near future and play in the street, and the citizens will accord them the hearty welcome they deserve. The history of the citizen's band in Lakefield has been an interesting one, as it has followed the history of the village fairly closely. Only a few (and these are the experienced) know the difficulties of keeping up a band, especially in a small town where the material is limited, but there have always been a few of the old originals, who had a deep interest in music and the possibilities of a band, and who, even after a lapse of several years, revived it again.

The hardest blow was the burning of the instruments in the disastrous conflagration of Dec. 27, 1918, which, in a few hours, robbed the village of its hall and contents. However, during the past winter the band re-organized through the efforts of some of the older bandsmen, and with the help and encouragement of their fellow-citizens, bid fair to be a solid organization, and one which the village should be proud. The members are all men of the village and surrounding country who are fond of music and have practised faithfully during the winter months.

Gifts for Miss Stabler.

A very happy event took place in the schoolroom of the Baptist Church on Thursday evening when about fifty of the members of the congregation and a number of their friends gathered together for a social evening in honor of Miss Ethel Stabler, who is a bride of June, and to present her with a miscellaneous shower. Rev. T. L. White, pastor of the Baptist Church, was in the chair, and in his happy manner put everyone at their ease, so that there was no breaking of the ice to make things "go," as it was social in the best sense of the word. Miss Nelson, Mrs. S. Sutton, and Rev. T. L. White contributed solos, which were much appreciated, and many expressed their good wishes to the bride-to-be. Two little girls, Marjorie Roseborough and Beatrice Kidd, drew in a waggon, prettily decorated with crepe paper and loaded with a great variety of gifts, all of which were useful and ornamental. Miss Stabler was completely taken by surprise, but replied fittingly, thanking her friends for their remembrance of her at this time. The gifts were unwrapped and passed around so that all might see them. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the church, who had prepared a bountiful feast of dainty "eats," which were much appreciated. The social was brought to a close by singing a verse of "Blest be the tie that binds," and by a benediction by Rev. T. L. White.

Children's Party.

Miss Laurel Burnley was the little hostess of a children's party on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her fourth birthday, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Webster, on Reid Street. Her brother Hugh and ten little cousins were present and spent a delightful time in games. Those present were:—Margaret Lawless, Kathleen Lawless, Pat Lawless, Jean Blewett, Joe Blewett, Bobby Lennox, Lilian Mason, Darcy Mason, Ralph Mason, and Alan Mason.

Excursion, June 5th.

The annual excursion of the Lakefield business men will be held on Thursday, June 5, per steamer "Stoney Lake," and proceed to Buckhorn, where the annual baseball match and other games will be played. Dinner will be served at the Windsor House, Buckhorn. The committee include Messrs. N. G. FitzGerald, W. N. Casement, G. G. Connell, C. Thomson, and Or. Gibson, with J. W. Ridpath, secretary.

The local baseball team left on Thursday afternoon to motor to Curve Lake for their first league game of the season. C. S. Tanner, president of the East Peterborough League, and several other friends accompanies the team.

Lakefield Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Church, of Burleigh Falls, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Blewett on Wednesday.

G. C. Burnley has returned to Oshawa after a visit to his wife and family, who are with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Webster, on Reid Street.

Mrs. George Johnson, of Peterboro, is visiting friends in the village.

Miss Carrie Condon, of Douro, is spending the week-end with her aunt Mrs. William Condon.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Rev. C. F. McIntosh Will Attend the General Assembly -- Guides Attend Church.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 2.—Rev. C. F. McIntosh leaves to-morrow for Owen Sound to attend the annual session of the General Assembly, which meets in that city on Wednesday. The service in St. Andrew's church next Sunday morning will be taken by the Rev. Dr. Campbell of Toronto, who represents the Lord's Day Alliance, and who will speak in the Methodist church in the evening.

The speaker at the evening service in St. Andrew's will be A. H. White, a mission worker who recently arrived in Canada, from England, and who preached in St. Andrew's last Thursday evening, at the preparatory services for the communion and who also assisted at the service yesterday morning.

The other church delegates from this district to the Assembly are Rev. J. J. Black of Burnbrae, and Rev. D. A. Thomson of Hastings. John Rainnie of Burnbrae and John Dick of Warkworth, are the lay delegates.

At St. Andrew's last evening the choir by special request rendered rendered Stainer's 'Story of the Cross," which was given so acceptably a short time ago. The pastor delivered a short address, selecting as his subject the last line of Number 267 in the hymnal, "Filled with Wonder, Love and Praise," Stockmen get Answer.

Sometime ago the buyers who ship live stock from the depot here addressed a communication to the management of the C.N.R. asking that a system of waterworks be laid through the yards and that the company build another pen with a cement floor.

The company replies denying both requests although the management gave the stockmen permission to lay a pipe through the railway yards at their own expense. To lay a cement floor in a stock pen the company say would establish a precedent that would prove too expensive.

Three Prize-Winners.

Beatrice Callahan, aged about 13, Richard Hutton and James Blute held the winning numbers and were awarded the cash prizes that were offered by Capt. Hyland, of the Regent Theatre. These contests will be made a permanent feature of the programme every Friday night. The numbers were drawn from a hat by Sidney Buckler, in full view of the audience.

To Open Bowling Green.

Caretaker Wilkinson has the bowling green in fine shape, but on account of the cold weather the opening has been delayed. This will be held next Friday afternoon, according to present arrangements.

The Tennis Club members have already played several games, although the regular schedule has not yet been announced. Another tennis court is being laid out on the vacant lot belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Macoun, who shortly before his death donated the use of the property for this purpose.

Baseball Game Wednesday.

The baseball league season opens here on Wednesday afternoon, the visitors being the heavy hitting team from Orland. All the regular players on Manager Davidson's team will be in the line-up so that a good game is assured.

Mayor Meyers will pitch the first ball, which will be caught by Charlie Nadoo, provided the Mayor manages to get the sphere within reasonable distance of the catcher's territory.

Roseneath will be here Saturday afternoon for a postponed game.

10,000 Boxes of Plants.

C. W. Palliser has raised altogether 10,000 boxes of garden plants this year, and these are being sold locally and shipped all over the district. The boxes which are like those used for strawberries, only larger, were purchased from a factory in Forest. The total number ordered was 10,600, but of these about 200 were damaged in transit, and the remainder were reserved for emergencies.

A Cooking Sale.

The home cooking sale and tea-room under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church, held on Saturday in the Sample Rooms on Bridge Street, was a success, the proceeds amounting to $50.00. Mrs. James Walkinshaw and Mrs. Peter Meiklejohn were the convenors of the tea room and Mrs. W. Oliver was the convenor of the home cooking booth. Mrs. Robert Greenley and Mrs. Charles McKeivie were the treasurers for the cooking sale and tea room.

Girl Guides Out.

The Girl Guides, about 30 in number, were present at the morning service in the Methodist Church on Sunday, 1st June. Rev. W. Elliott, pastor, preached the sermon. District Commissioner Mrs. J. H. Bell, with Miss Payne, captain of the company, and Miss Ruth Taylor, Lieutenant, were present with the company, also two former guides who are out of the town most of the im, Miss Hazel Mason and Miss Dorothy Kingston. Each patrol-leader was in charge of her own patrol.

The pastor welcomed the Guides, and then the Guides, who occupied the centre of the church, stood while Mr. Elliott read "an appreciation of Lady Pellatt" as follows:

"We, the Girl Guides of Campbellford, wish to join with all Guides throughout Canada in expressing our great sorrow and deep sense of loss in the passing of Lady Pellatt, the founder and, for nine years, Chief Commissioner, of the Canadian Girl Guides. Lady Pellatt's loftiness of purpose, her gentleness and goodness, were an inspiration to all who were privileged to be associated with her. 'Good turns' were the habit of her unselfish life. Of her, too, it may well be said, H'er name liveth for ever more.' for in the Canadian Girl Guides she leaves a memorial which must ever testify to her courage and her faith."

The text of the sermon was: "Consider the lilies of the field how they grow. They toil not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

He spoke of the character and purpose and work of the Girl Guides and also mentioned the ten laws: 1, A Guide's honor is to be trusted, 2 A Guide is loyal, 3 A Guides duty is to be useful and to help others, 4 A Guide is a friend to all, and a sister to every other Guide, 5 A Guide is courteous, 6 A Guide is a friend to animals, 7 A Guide obeys orders, 8 A Guide smiles and sings under all difficulties, 9 A Guide is thrifty, 10 a Guide is pure in thought, in word and in deed.

The Guide's promise is: On my honor, I promise that I will do my best: 1st to do my duty to God and the King; 2nd, To help other people at all times; 3rd, To obey the Guide law.

One the closing thoughts in the sermon, was what Moody said: "Character is what we are in the dark."

As the years go by we must grow more and more beautiful in character as the lilies grow in beauty.

Besides the anthem by the choir, there was a solo and chorus, suitable for the Guides. The solo was taken by Miss Helen Wood.

At the evening service in the Methodist church, Mrs. L. Parrish sang a solo, with a duet part with Mr. Geo. W. Lucy and chorus by the choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Hylton Coxwell and daughters Helen and Mary, Canrobert street, are spending the week end in Toronto visiting Mr. Coxwell's parents. They motored to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plummer, Mill street, also motored to Toronto and spent the week end with Mrs. Hart, who recently moved from Campbellford to Toronto.

Mrs. F. J. Smith, Frank street, left on Saturday to spend some weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Glenn Ellis in Brantford. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will take a trip to Europe shortly.

Miss Annie Olmstead, Front street, left on Thursday to spend a couple of weeks with her parents at her home in Quebec.

AT THE REGENT

Patrons of the Regent Theatre will be given a close up view of life at Hollywood, the centre of the moving picture industry in California, in the picture which will be shown on the first three nights of this week. Every star with whom the public have a film acquaintance will be shown. The picture contains 1000 laughs and as many serious moments and should prove of especial interest. There will also be the usual Pathe news and a Larry Semon comedy during the week.

The film version of Emerson Hough's charming western story "The Man Next Door," will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday night with a Saturday matinee. Another episode of the serial 'Speed' will also be shown.

AUTOMATIC SOLDIER TO REPEL INVADERS

To defend a country without an army; to render an invading attack fruitless, with no loss of life to the country that is being attacked, and to lower the cost of war—these are the problems to which Niels Aasen, a Norwegian inventor, has turned his attention for the last ten years. Now, after much experiment and study, he feels that he has at last achieved his goal, and his plans are receiving the attention of military experts in several countries, including the United States. Mr. Aasen is in Washington to demonstrate his inventions.

The "automatic soldier," as he nioves it, can effectively take the place of a defending force consisting of human beings, the inventor believes. Of course one's first thoughts is 'R.U.R.' and the creatures introduced by the author of that play, which in the end became monsters that destroyed humanity. But that is far from the system of destruction which Mr. Aasen advocates. His plan is considered fantastic by some of the European military experts, yet it is capable of practical application.

Fancy an invading force approaching the border line of a country. When the troops reach a certain area in their march forward over the quiet land, upon which no evidences of preparation or defensive movement can be seen, their progress is suddenly halted with heavy casualties. Out of the ground arise ominous black canisters; they rise in a slight cloud of smoke to a height of three feet, then an explosion takes place and bullets are hurled in all directions. The first lines of men fall. The upheaval ceases; the attack is continued, only to meet another mysterious volley from these weapons that come out of the ground. Mr. Aasen believes that the difficulties attending an offensive would be so great that the army would have to retreat.

Thus the instruments would seem to an invading force, but that is only the most superficial description. The "automatic soldier" is more complicated than appears.

When this method of defense is adopted there is much to be done. First, the places where it is judged the device will be of greatest strategic value are selected. Then the section is laid out by diagram, and the mines are installed several feet under ground. The mines are in batteries of twelve, three batteries controlled by one subterranean wireless station. When the time for action arrives, the pushing of a button in a distant control station is sufficient to set off a small propelling charge, which starts the mines on their way upward. Each mine is chained to its hiding place, and the chain halts its further progress when it has attained a height of three feet above ground. The sudden tightening of the chain produces the rupture of the mine, and bullets are hurled in all directions within a radius of 200 yards.

Mr. Aasen points out that such a defense is much less expensive than the usual equipment of men, horses and guns; and further, the loss of life is confined to those who start the fight. He does not think that war will ever be banished from the earth, but he believes that it can be made much less likely to occur.

"All life is a struggle," he says. "All nature is continually at war. To fight is human—we shall never have world peace. But we can make war so terrible that nations will hesitate longer before they start into battle with one another. If my inventions can lower the number of wars, I shall be glad. With radio electricity in the world; with poisonous gases, with the aeroplane, the undersea boat, the mine, the bomb and the grenade, perhaps some day no country will dare to start battle."

Mr. Aasen is also the inventor of a successful hand grenade which was used by the French War Ministry in the great war. Among his other inventions are a gas mine, used on the same principle as the "automatic soldier"; an air bomb and a deep-water bomb. For his services to the French Government Mr. Aasen has been decorated. He is a member of the Legion of Honor.

"NO ACCIDENT WEEK"

Inaugurated In Montreal Especially to Safeguard Children of City.

MONTREAL, June 2 (Canadian Press). — Inaugurating "No Accident Week," Mayor Duquette on Saturday afternoon unveiled a shaft located on the Fletcher's Field by the Province of Quebec Safety League to commemorate victims of accidents in 1923, but specially as a tribute to the fifty-one children killed on Montreal streets last year in traffic accidents that were preventable.

This was he age of menace for the child, said the Mayor in addressing an immense throng that had gathered on Fletcher's Field. To-day, with 60.000 automobiles running in Montreal, danger was ever present.

Hon. L. A. David, Provincial Secretary, said that putting child sacrifice on a banal and purely economic basis, and valuing the life of a child at 1,000, the Province of Quebec last year lost $438,000 through accidents that could have been prevented. In the name of the Provincial Government, Mr. David expressed the hope and wish that the next five years would see a branch of the Province of Quebec Safety League in every town and village of the Province.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

The indirect taxes which the average man pays on the things he eats, wears or uses cost him many times more than any direct taxes he may pay.

By A. W. WARNER

Veteran Financial Writer and Newspaper man.

In the olden days it was clear that the costly tax to the average man was the tax on goods, because after every purchase the buyer put a corresponding amount of money into a tax box, provided for that purpose in each store by the government.

This same tax is paid today. It is a business expense and it added to the cost of all goods, which means higher priced goods. It is evident that this tax on everything which a man consumes will amount up to very much more than any other tax which he may pay.

The way in which it is collected today makes it an indirect, impersonal tax, but that is no reason for overlooking its importance. Direct taxes actually increase the average mans' cost of living.

BALDWIN CAN'T AFFORD GIFTS

Former British Premier Has Met Many Financial Calls From His Party.

Mentions Labor Fund.

LONDON, June 2 (Canadian Press Cable).—Former Premier Stanley Baldwin, and leader of the Conservative party, told his constituents in a speech Saturday night, that he could not afford to give any more subscriptions, simply because he had not the money.

"In the last three years I have paid out $7,000 fighting elections, and I was able to do it only by using my capital," he added. "I say this for the sake of many men of strong personality and brains who are not so wealthy as I, but sometimes get turned down by short-sighted constituents who expect someone to spend money in the constituency at a rate I would be ashamed of even if I had the money."

Mr. Baldwin added that one of the strongest points in the financing of the Labor party was that every member of the party subscribed to the funds, and therefore felt a personal success in the party's success. Conservatives were poorer since the war, he added, and those able to finance the party were much more limited in numbers.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, June 2 (Canadian Press). — The market for cash oats was easy on Saturday, but there was no change in prices. The flour situation was without new development. A fair trade continues in millfeed, and the market for rolled oats was steady. The undertone to the egg market is very firm. Receipts since 1st May have been 89,288 cases, as against 147,311 cases for the same period last year.

The undertone to the butter market was easier. Total receipts from 1st May to date have been 2.52 packages less than in the same period of 1923. There is no change in the cheese market. Total receipts from 1st May to date have been 10,6.9 boxes less than the same period a year ago.

WHERE A MISSTEP MIGHT MEAN DEATH

The Hoodoos on the Cavell Motor Highway, Jasper National Park, curious stone figures brought into being by the erosion of the earth under the constant wearing effects of air and water, draw exclamations of wonder from thousands of tourists who visit the largest of Canada's National Parks every year.

Huge flat stones, balanced as hats, atop the pinnacles of earth which have stood up firmly when the mountain side all around them crumbled or was washed away by the rushing waters, seem as though the slightest breath of wind would be sufficient to send them hurtling to the bottom of the valley hundreds of feet below. A favorite sport with the tourist is to drop large stones on the hoodoos and see them sway back and forth drunkenly, yet finally regain their poise and remain balanced as firmly as before.

The tourist in the photograph who was bold enough to scramble down and use one of the flat stones for a table on which to rest his arms, had a strenuous climb before he again regained the level surface of the Cavell Highway, which winds up from the Athabasca Valley almost to the foot of the glacier of the Ghost, that peculiar age-old formation of ice and snow which hangs on the wide stretches of Mount Edith Cavell.

Visitors to Jasper Park Lodge may travel by motor or saddle horse from the Lodge to the foot of Mount Cavell or any of the other mountains surrounding the log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways.

THE RISE AND FALL OF BACK-SCRATCHERS

Precious Royal Toilet Article Lost in a Taxicab Provokes Some Historical Research.

A king's back-scratcher was lately reported lost in New York City; "a slender stick of tortoise shell tipped with a diamond," once the property of Henry IV of France, presented to that early monarch of Navarre by his sweetheart, Gabrielle d'Estrees. The present owner of the medieval bauble was said to have been taking it to the jeweler's to have a loose stone reset and inadvertently left it behind in a taxicab.

It has since turned out that the article was not a back-scratcher at all, but a head-scratcher. Nevertheless its loss prompted some earniest inquiry regarding back-scratchers and their origin and use. Scholarly researchers who pry into such matters acknowledge that they have meagre historical data on the subject. It is known, however, that the ancient Greeks had back-scratchers—they called them strigils in those days—and used them as commonly as people to-day use bath mitts.

The ancient Greek, before entering the try-outs for the Olympic games, would anoint himself from head to heel with oil, and teen cover himself with sand until he was as dangerous as an automobile road in the merry month of May. After he had wrestled, or run, or hurled the discus, he would go home to his strigil, scrape off the sand and oil with it, and resume his philosophy course at the Acropolis.

Ancient Rome also knew the back-scratcher, and stirgils have been dug up at Pompeii, hanging on the living-room walls just as their owners left them when Vesuvius blew up.

Politically Useful.

The intimate utensil had its home in China for many years and rose to eminence as a symbol of friendship. When the Celestials wished to express admiration and loyalty they said it with back-scratchers. It is related that the Emperor Ming, when he wished to effect an offensive and defensive alliance with the Grand Mogul of Gobi, in the year 1789 B.C., accomplished the desired rapprochment by sending to the mogul an embassy of nobles bearing a silken litter in which reposed an amber back-scratcher of exquisite workmanship. The simple eloquence of the gift was enough to bring the mogul into the entente, and from that day to this the saying, "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours," has been a commonplace of political life.

Occidental travelers in China, amused at the small hand of jade, ivory or horn attached to the slender reed-like stem, began buying back-scratchers as souvenirs and thus introduced them to the Western world. The handsomer ones often dexterously carved and set with precious stones of great value, are now rarely seen outside of museums. Inexpensive ones sold to-day in the bazaars of Chinatown, and at a few uptown stores are used chiefly for mah jong booby prizes, and it is doubtful if they would be considered a fit gift for a king, or even a Congressman.

The cheaper varieties shipped from China and Japan to western markets show careful modelling, the fingers being delicately formed and the nails well manicured. Sometimes the hand is outspread, though at times the fingers are crooked to perform more effectively the solacing purpose for which the article was originally intended.

The rod is usually of bamboo, finished off with a knob, and the small hand (at times replaced with a small rake or a bird's claw) is of white bone. The Chinese variety, it is noted, always bears a right hand, as if the cunning of this member had been carefully taken into account by the craftsmen in designing their wares for a critical clientele.

Obsolete Now.

Back-scratchers vary in length from twelve to twenty inches. The more elaborate examples owned by the dandies of the itchy centuries were swung from the waist. Many of them were silver-mounted, and the ivory fingers of the tiny hand were adorned with carved or jeweled rings. One authority holds that in the period when powdered hair was favored by reigning beauties, the back-scratcher was employed by them as a kind of comb to keep their intricately-arranged coiffures in order.

With the invention of the shower bath and other modern conveniences, the demand for back-scratchers gradually died down, and the once useful little instrument became obsolete. Being scarce, out-of-date and useless, back-scratchers of genuine antiquity naturally attract the attention of the modern collector, and high prices are paid for them.

NEW NAMES PLANNED FOR 1800 STREETS THAT WORRY BOSTON

BOSTON, June 2 (Associated Press). —With a movement under way to change the names of nearly 1,800 Boston thoroughfares, this city's tangled street situation, ever the bane of visitors and travelers, may be unraveled by next year, insofar as duplication in names is concerned. Chairman John H. L. Noyes, of the street commissioners, has laid plans for one of the greatest municipal christening parties ever carried out.

Impressed more and more by the complications arising from the repetition of identical street names in various districts of the city, and sometimes even in the same district, Chairman Noyes has amassed figures and facts showing that Boston has six Washington streets and five Washington places within the city limits, not including Washington Street North. He has found that there are six streets named after the well-known Adams family, and that, in addition, four "blind alleys," in various districts, go by the name of "Adams Place." Six other streets bear the name "West."

Altogether, the number of duplications reaches the enormous total of 3,100—this out of an aggregate of 5,484 avenues, courts, parks, places, roads, squares, streets and terraces.

On the list of 3,100 streets names where duplication occurs, approximately 1,300 distinctly different names appear. Basing their calculation on these figures, the officials have estimated that the difference represents the number of streets which must be renamed, approximately 1,800 in all.

Further perusal of the city's street lists reveals five Auburn streets, five Austin streets, five Elm streets, five Everest streets, five School streets and five Water streets. There are five separate Lincoln places. There are four Brook streets and three Brooks places. Four streets bear the name of Allen and four more are named Allston. Similar instances occur almost indefinitely.

Chairman Noyes has admitted the magnitude of his task in finding 1,800 new names for thoroughfares. Besides soliciting suggestions from Bostonians, his board will study the street lists of other cities and towns in the United States, hoping here and there to find a name as yet unused in Boston.

The Late William Floyd.

The death took place at Winnipeg on Tuesday, May 20, of William Floyd, formerly of Coborg, where he was for some years a valued employee of the Crossen Car Works. Mr. Floyd married Miss Woodruff of this town and formerly resided on George street. He was formerly also a member of Cobourg Lodge, No. 136 I.O.F.

To Entertain Delegates.

The Cobourg Motor League has kindly offered to join with the local Council, Knights of Columbus, in entertaining the delegates who are coming here next week by a motor drive around the town on Wednesday afternoon. Cobourg citizens are cooperating very heartily with the Knights of Columbus in order to make the coming state convention a big success and give all delegates a pleasant time upon the occasion of their visit here.

Cobourg Soldiers to Have Memorial.

The memorial committee met on Tuesday evening, there being present Major F. . Boggs and Coons, McGuire, Switch and Fullerton and Mr. A. R. Dundas; Mrs. W. J. Spragge, Regent; Ms. W. H. Dundas, treas.; and Mrs. D. B. McGuire, secretary, of the I.O.D.E. The Mayor presided as chairman of the meeting, and Mrs McGuire as secretary.

A large number of beautiful designs were examined and the decision of the meeting was that the most apropriate design was the cross originally designed by Sir Reginald Bloomfield for the War Graves Commission. It is a well proportioned monument, with base, over 15 feet, from which rises a tall shaft, with cross, and sword on the face.

The committee decided upon a monument twenty feet high, and the firms who presented designs were asked to forward blue prints, etc., for a subsequent meeting to be held on the 4th of June, when it is expected that a decision will be reached. Many very beautiful designs were shown and it was only after a full discussion that a design was selected. The probable site of the monument will be Victoria Park.

If arrangements can be made to place the contract by July 1st it is hoped that it may be possible to hold the unveiling on Armistice Day, which the Committee is very desirous to do.

ITINERARY OF FLIERS

American Airmen Crossing Southern End of Main Island of Japan.

TOKIO, June 2.—The American Army around-the-world fliers reached Kushimoto, on the southern end of the main island of Japan at 10.32 Sunday morning. They made the 350 mile flight from Kasumigaura, fifty miles north of Tokio, which point they left at 6:07 this morning, in four hours and twenty five minutes.

When leaving here the fliers planned to stop at Kushimoto, at the southern end of the main island of Jaupan merely to take on fuel, continuing their journey Sunday evening to Kagoshima on the southern island Kyushu. From Kasumigaura to Kushimoto is 350 miles and a similar distance faces the fliers between that port and Kyushu landing place. From the latter they hope to hop off on Monday morning ror their flight across the Yallow Sea to Shanghai, a distance of 590 miles.

KING'S BIRTHDAY BREAKS WEEK IN OTTAWA EVENTS

C.N.R. Budget, Murdock Cargos And Church Union On Agenda Of Parliament.

REDISTRIBUTION, TOO

C.N.R. Branch Lines Before The Senate This Week.

OTTAWA, June 2 (Canadian Press). — The King's birthday on Tuesday will delay somewhat the committees of Parliament, whose proceedings are much in the limelight these days, in getting down to business as early as usual, but nevertheless promises to see some interesting passages there and in the chambers before its close.

In the House the proceedings are scheduled to open with the debate on the Canadian National Railways budget, upon which it is understood Sir Henry Drayton has much of moment to say.

The debate may eventuate in the appointment of a special committee to probe the purchase of the Hotel Scribe in Paris, the Minister of Railways, Hon. George P. Graham having already expressed his willingness to facilitate such an inquiry.

The charges against Hon. James Murdock are to come to a head on Wednesday before the Privileges and Elections Committee, when the witnesses summoned by E. Guss Porter, Conservative member for West Hastings, who made the charges, are to be heard.

The accusation against the Minister is that in withdrawing $4,050 from the Home Bank two days before its failure he had "received advantage and profit to himself to the extent of such withdrwal contrary to his obligations as such minister and in derogation of his office and the honour, dignity, and traditions of Parliament."

The witnesses summoned are R. P. Gough, Toronto; J. F. M. Stewart, Toronto; S. Casey Wood, Toronto; Premier King, Hon. James Robb, Hon. G. P. Graham, and Hon. T. A. Low.

Church Union Crisis.

The Church Union question is to reach its critical stage in the Private Bills Committee on the day following the Murdock hearing.

The Committee has already disposed of most of the sections of the Bill, and no vote took place except on the amendment that the preamble, when the Bill was altered to make its coming into force depend upon the result of the case in the Ontario Courts.

It has already been intimated that the Unionists are not willing to accept this amendment, but an effort is to be made to secure its elision in the House.

In the meantime crucial differences have arisen in regards to the rights of "non-concurring congregations," and the opponents of the Bill have proposed to make provision in it for "non-concurring members" as well.

Counsel for the two sides are conferencing on methods of finding as much common ground as possible, and the points on which they are unable to agree are to be submitted to the committee on Thursday.

Bank Committee.

The Banking Committee of the House has already come to an agreement on the need of Government inspection of banks, and the introduction of legislation of this character by the Government has been announced.

Discussion is still proceeding on the desirability of setting up a central bank and of guaranteeing certain classes of saving deposits. Emergency legislation on farm credits this session has also been suggested in the form of Federal grants to the Provinces on the guarantee of the Provincial Government.

This proposal, which came from Dr. H. M. Tory, has been referred to a sub-committee which is to report during the coming week.

Redistribution Bill.

Another committee of the Commons, in which progress may be reported soon, is that which has the Redistribution Bill in hand. Substantial agreement is understood to have been reached in the West, but many difficulties still remain in Ontario and Quebec. Part of the schedules of the Bill may be ready this week, but it is stated that no official announcement will be made until the entire measure is completed.

The Senate proceedings during the coming week are likely to attract special interest because of the consideration of the Canadian National Branch Lines Bills. These Bills are now before the Senate Railway Committee, and representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway have been invited to give evidence in regard to them.

The Senate is also expected to take up this week the amendments to the Industrial Disputes Act, which were the cause of a disagreement between the two Houses last year, the result being the death of the Bill.

On Wednesday evening East City and Maple Leafs come together for the opening contest in the Juvenile series.

BASEBALL

Lindsay Post: Jack Oulette, of Belleville, formerly ace pitcher for Lindsay, was in town for a few hours to-day on his way to his home in Fenelon Falls. Jack speaks highly of the brand of ball being played in the Central Ontario League and says that Belleville will be on the map again, which has been evidenced by the fact that the Quinties now head the league, having won a glorious game at Kingston. "The boys are playing good ball," said Oulette, "and are rapping that old pill hard."

Oulette speaks particularly well of the manner in which Weir, at short, is showing up, both on the infield and at the bat.

Incidentally Jack handed out some "rumors" concerning some players in the League. Serth, Peterborough's new left-hander, is supposed to hail from some point in the States and was secured by Heckman; Compeau, the new Kingston short stop, is a home brew and one of the best prospects in the League; Webster, pitching for Oshawa, is said to be a Brantford import; Kelley, Kingston's new slab artist who has been working well this year, is supposed to be Jenkins of Rochester.

Maple Leafs play in Keene tomorrow afternoon, when the field day postponed from Victoria Day, will be held. The Leafs will have a workout at Exhibition Park this evening.

Curve Lake and George street are scheduled for an East Peterborough League game at Exhibition Park on Wednesday evening. Cognawagas play at Lakefield to-morrow night and Mackeys and Keene meet here Friday evening.

The NUT CRACKER

BY JOE WILLIAMS

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO

Well, I see where the boys finally got the bonus and I guess they weren't any more surprised than if they'd heard Pop Geers had been pulled in for juvenile delinquency.

* * *

This just goes to prove than anything can happen and maybe the girls on Mars don't like bobbed hair after all.

* * *

Handing the doughboys a little spending cash was a horrible shock to the finer sensibilities of Wall Street gents who argued that patriotism and greenbacks were as out of place as a trained seal act at a Sunday christening.

* * *

Patriotism is a sacred institution and it's scandalous to mention it in the same sordid breath with money, especially since the money doesn't go to Wall Street.

* * *

You remember what a terrible howl the Saints of Wall Street put up when the boys down in Washington built a flock of tin airplanes that wouldn't fly and a mess of wooden boats that wouldn't float, don't you? . . . . So do I.

* * *

It makes a difference whose ox is smacked on the beezer. It's all right to graft in stylish millions but if you slip the trench graduates a few patriotic iron men it's an insult to the country's fair name, if any.

* * *

Practically all the dollar-a-year barnacles whose only regret was that they had but one pair of spurs to wear out on executive desks were against the bonus.

* * *

And that's the first time the dollar-a-year drawbacks ever did anything good for their country. When they said the bonus was all wrong the rest of the world knew it was all right.

* * *

The Wall Street angle on the soldiers was this: The navy took 'em over but not for nearly enough.

Lawn Bowling

The schedule opens to-night with the following games:

King vs. Martin. Seymour vs. Allen.

Hammond vs. Dayman. Curvin vs. Ross.

Members who are not scheduled to play to-night are asked to be present as it is probable that some substitues may be required.

There will be several vacant greens and it will be a good opportunity for a work out.

Cards containing the full schedule are now ready and may be had from the secretary.

Membership fees are now due and should be paid to the secretary at once.

COBOURG HAS GOOD SOFT BALL LEAGUE

Cobourg Kilties Band [illegible] by Score of 15 to 9

COBOURG, May 31.— The Cobourg soft ball league has opened its season under auspicious circumstances, notwithstanding the prolonged rainy weather which brought with it much disappointment, and the teams are looking forward to a lot of sport. The Cobourg Kilties Band tried conclusion with the B. Y.P.U. and defeated them by what was almost a cricket score of 15-9. The games are being played at Victoria park and are arousing a lot of interest, as many men who have not played ball in years are right on hand. With a schedule of sixty games to run off they will need to keep going.

At a meeting held on Tuesday evening the following stringent regulations for the government of the league were drawn up:

No collections are to be taken up at the games.

All teams must file with the secretary a list of their players, which may be added to from time to time.

No interchange of players between teams will be allowed.

No baseball players who hold certificates in any oragnized league will be allowed to play in the soft ball league.

Home teams must prepare the diamond and supply the ball for their games. The condition of the ball to be subject to the approval of the umpire.

Games cannot be postponed excepting by permission of the executive. This does not apply where the weather conditions render it impossible to play.

Evening games are to be seven innings, afternoon games nine innings.

All evening games shall be called at 6.45 sharp. In the event that a team is not ready to play at that time, the umpire may default the games.

Umpires are appointed by the president.

With twelve teams in the Softball League and all wanting to practice at once, there has been a great demand for diamonds, and as a result diamonds have been laid out in about ten different places in the town.

In fact, ball has become intensely popular with citizens generally, and even the boys and girls of the Public Schools and the C.C.I. practice catch going to and from school.

There is always a big crowd present to witness the games.

On Monday night the Hydro Spars defeated the Rotary team by the score of 9 to 7.

Then the Shieks and the Felt Co. got busy and put on a battle royal, the former winning out in this spirited contest by the score of 6 to 5, a close margin, but enough for the victory.

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

By BILLY EVANS

QUESTIONS

1. Batsman has three balls and two strikes. The next pitch is a bad one, high and inside, close to the batter's face. The batsman ducks in order not to be hit with the ball. In so doing his bat fell to the ground. The umpire called him out.—N. E.

2. Does a batted ball have to touch an infielder or outfielder's gloved hand to be counted as an error?—A. W.

ANSWERS

1. This play is a pure matter of judgment. Apparently the umpire decided the batsman struck at the wildly pitched ball. That could be his only excuse for calling him out.

2. Scoring base hits is up to the official scorer. When a player is only able to get one hand on the ball and that the ungloved one, the drive is susually scored a hit.

QUESTIONS

1. When two players collide in going after a batted ball and suffer injury, when is the proper time for the umpire to suspend play?—W. B.

2. If after two strikes have been pitched to an improper batter, the team at bat discovers the mistake, can the proper batsman be substituted?—P. D.

3. If with two out, a base runner is hit by a batted ball which retires the side, does the batsman receive credit for a hit? —E. B.

ANSWERS

1. Time can not be called until all chances for a play have ceased, and the pitcher stands on the rubber with the ball in his possession.

2. The proper batsman can be substituted when the mistake is discovered. He simply takes the count that was on the improper batter.

3. The batter always receives credit for a hit on such a play, no matter waht the status of the game may be.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL

L. Lawrence Weber and Bobby North Announce Another Success by the Gifted Director, Will Nigh.

What promises to be a super-picture decidedly out of the ordinary is the booking of "Marriage Morals" by the Royal Theatre for to-day, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The story is unusual in many respects. First, the apparent hero turns out to be something else again—while the apparent villain and the author of all the leading woman's troubles develops into a pretty decent sort of chap, after all.

Second, in a show-down, the two rivals develop very un-movie-like traits. The rich man proves to be a regular sort of fellow and not at all the yellow devil his gold had painted him—while the poor man, when he acquires a million of wealth, shows up to be a very poor specimen of a man.

Third and most unusual circumstance of this unusual picture is the fact that Will Nigh, its author-director, went to real life for his story, and made real picture of real people, instead of doing the usual thing of making a re-hash of some twice-told story, with a set of stereotyped characters, snow-white heroes, fast black villains, etc.

"Marriage Morals" tells a story as old as Time and as fresh as the last edition of this evening's paper.

Marriage is its theme—and the effort to stay married its problem. A loving wife, a reckless husband, and a precocious only chill are its chief protagonists.

She loves her child and his father. He loves life—life as fast-stepping Manhattan lives it. She is constantly tempted by "friends" who seek to take advantage of his neglect of her. He is constantly tempted by the hard-eyed handsome harpies whose habitat is the night clubs where the "fools and their money are soon parted."

The ensuing conflict between this young couple, she for her home and he for his 'liberty" make "Marriage Morals" one of the strongest domestic dramas of the season.

BIG SPECIAL MATINEE AT CAPITOL ON TUESDAY FOR KING'S BIRTHDAY.

A big special matinee will be held at the Capitol theatre on Tuesday to celebrate the King's birthday. The Capitol offers an excellent holiday programme, "A Couple of Down and Outs," the famous English sensational success, is the feature, while Harold Lloyd in "High and Dizzy" will provide the laughs.

GREAT COMEDY SHOW AT CAPITOL TO-DAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

The famous English special production, "A Couple of Down and Outs," and Harold Lloyd in one of his best comedies, 'High and Dizzy,' will provide laughs galore for Capitol patrons to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. The feature film is a story of a soldier following his discharge from the army and is crammed with pathos and comedy. It played for two solid weeks at the Tivoli Theatre in Toronto, and was very well liked in Montreal, where it drew capacity houses. Like most English productions, it is rich in whimsical humor that bring real laughs to Canadians.

HAROLD LLOYD IN GREAT COMEDY HIT AT CAPITOL TO-DAY.

"High and Dizzy" was one of the biggest laugh-bringers that Harold Lloyd ever produced and proved to be one of his greatest comedies—so good in fact, that it is being shown again as a special added attraction at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. This was his first attempt to mix thrills and comedy, and the result so encouraged Harold Lloyd that he later produced "Safety Last."

BIG ENGLISH SPECIAL PRODUCTION AT THE CAPITOL

A young man, apparently strong, healthy and endowed by nature with grit, finds himself for some unaccountable reason, a member of the great army of "down and outs." He is willing to work, but the world in the aftermath of war, reconstruction and a new order of things, compels him to walk the streets, hungry, cold and jobless.

Such a man looked for work recently in London, and found himself pretty nearly discouraged, but he had been through mud and water, and a shell-fire too often to yield to his desire to live willingly. Just when fate took him to the waterside, he found some one he loved worse off than himself.

Can you imagine what it means to see a being you've loved ill-treated by heartless strangers? This man did. He watched a boatload of horses being shipped to Belgium—it was the second trip for some of them, but this time there is nothing heroic about the journey. The war is over; blows and shouts are all that greet the ears of the soldier, who remembered other days only too well.

Human nature can stand it no longer. Recognizing his own horse, the man dashes into a scene that bears all the ear-marks of a front line attack, and rescues the animal he had driven at the front only a few years ago. "A Couple of Down and Outs." Yes, but thank God, down and out though they may be, through thick and thin, as in the old days, they are going to run together a race with Fate, and who says that better things are not in store for them?

"A Couple of Down and Outs" will be shown at the Capitol starting Monday. No advance will be asked in prices for this phenomenal attraction.

MARION DAVIES AT HER BEST IN "LITTLE OLD NEW YORK."

Cosmopolitan's New Production is Replete With Dramatic Incidents and Spectacular Episodes.

A photoplay that has never been surpassed for heartfelt tenderness, romance and sprightly comedy is Marion Davies' new Cosmopolitan picture, "Little Old New York," which has been booked by the Regent Theatre for an engagement of four days, beginning to-day. Miss Davies in the dual role of Patricia and Pat O'Day, was said by the newspaper critics of New York, London, Toronto, Los Angeles and other cities where it was first shown, to have scaled new pantomimic and acting heights, and to have achieved a success even greater than that which she scored as Princess Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood was in Flower."

"Little Old New York" is a photoplay which holds a special appeal for every American, no matter where he lives. One of the big incidents in this picture is the first trip of Robert Fulton's steamboat, the "Clermont," up the Hudson River, amid the hoots and bowls of derision of the thousands of people lined up along the river. The first steamboat itself is shown with historical accurracy and its trip up the Hudson was detailed much as it actually happened.

In addition to its refreshing sweetness, "Little Old New York" is replete with highly dramatic moments, and will give to the people of to-day a startlingly realistic idea of how their forefathers lived more than a century ago. The film is embellished with a wealth of pictorial beauty, and the artistic finesse of Joseph Urban is shown on every hand. In the story told by "Little Old New York" appear such famous historical characters as John Jacob Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Henry Brevoort, Washington Irving, Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, Delmonico, and many others. They appear on the screen as realistically as if they had just stepped out from the printed pages of history.

Woven around such historical personalities and happenings is the story of a little Irish girl who, disguised as a boy, comes to America to lay claim to a fortune bequeathed to her brother Pat, who died on the trip over to New York to claim the fortune. Disguised as her dead brother, Patricia arrives in New York and falls in love with the stepson of her uncle, who would have inherited the fortune if Pat O'Day had not arrived within a specified time to claim the inheritance. Miss Davies, masquerading as the boy Pat, is faced with the difficulty of assuming a boyish swagger, yet at the same time experiencing all the feelings of a young girl falling in love—and having to keep that fact hidden from everyone. Miss Davies handles the role with fine feeling and acting ability. She makes the character of plucky little Pat shine with sparkling humor. There is much comedy caused by the constant battle between her natural feminine instincts and her determination to assume a boyish swagger. The big spectacular climax comes when the daring Pat is rescued from a mob of 1,000 men who wanted to whip her, for having stopped a prize fight by ringing a fire bell to keep the man she loves from losing the money he had wagered on the result. This money was needed to finance Robert Fulton's new invention of the steamboat.

"Little Old New York" was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed from the stage play by Rida Johnson Young, which had a most successful run on Broadway. In his settings Joseph Urban recreates the quaint charm of New York as it was a century ago. Sidney Olcott, one of the most artistic of film directors, was given entire charge of the picturization of Miss Davies' new starring vehicle.

The supporting cast is a brilliant one, including such prominent players of stage and screen as Harrison Ford, Andrew Dillon, Sam Hardy, Norval Keedwell, Gypsy O'Brien, Louis Wolheim, Harry Watson, Elizabeth Murray, J. M. Kerrigan, Courtenay Foote, Mahlon Hamilton, George Barraud, Charles Judels, Spencer Charters, Mary Kennedy, Marie R. Burke and many others.

CLEVER PITCHERS IN MIDGET OPENER

Guiry for Rotary and Masterson for Crescents, two of the more prominent of the younger twirlers in local baseball, will do the pitching in the opening Midget series contest at Exhibition Park to-morrow evening. Rotary won the Bantam championship of Ontario last season and Crescents were runners up in the local Midget race, being beaten out by Curlers, who went on to the provincial championship.

CARPENTIER IN BED.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 2 Canadian Press). — Georges Carpentier, the ring idol of France, defeated on Saturday afternoon in his ten-round bout with Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul light heavyweight, remained in bed here to-day with a badly swollen right ankle, sprained in the ninth round of his losing battle.

Four physicians said the ankle was seriously sprained, revealing torn ligaments.

In that announcement to the public the defeated boxer found some solace for the lusty boos and taunts flung at him when he sank to the mat with his face twisted with pain.

Petes Defeat Oshawa 6 to 4. Carpentier Beaten by Gibbons

PETERBORO TIED WITH BELLEVILLE FOR CENTRAL LEAGUE LEADERSHIP BY DEFEATING OSHAWA SATURDAY

Neither Dainty Nor Heckman Were as Effective as Usual and Batters Had Advantage of Both Pitchers—Game Was Made to Order for the Fans With Succession of Thrills — Petes Overtook Oshawa at Every Advance and Held Lead From Fifth.

BIG CROWD DELIGHTED

By beating Oshawa 6 to 4 at Riverside Park on Saturday the Petes climbed up into a tie for first place with their old rivals, the Belleville Grand Trunks, the two leading the Central Ontario League parade with two victories and one loss.

The much anticipated pitchers' duel failed to materialize.

True, Dainty and Heckman did the gunning for their respective teams, but although the two crack heavers were out there all through the engagement, neither had as much stuff as a bootlegger after a three-day convention.

Instead of a procession of dejected looking players back from the plate, the hitters had a big edge on the gunners.

So it wasn't a pitchers' battle in the usual sense—but it was better than that.

It was a "wow" of a ball game.

Plenty of hitting, heaps of folks on the bases, sharp-cut fielding, the homesters coming from behind three times to tie the score in the first four innings and then taking the lead in the fifth and holding it, the result in doubt until the last man was retired—what more could a real fan ask for?

Heckman Had Edge.

Heckman, although his usual speed was missing, had the edge on his southpaw rival, despite the fact that he yielded more hits, eleven, as against nine. The Petes' right-hander, however, gave nothing away, not issuing a complimentary, while Dainty passed three batters and plugged a couple more, and his lack of control was a factor in his defeat. Although Oshawa broke through Heck's delivery for eleven safeties, they earned but one run during the engagement, while five of the six counters nicked by the Petes off Dainty were as clean as a Ford at a motor show.

The honors, therefore, so far as the pitching went, were Heckman's by a large majority.

But for once the two clever twirlers were not the big noise of the piece.

Batting and fielding, rather than pitching, featured the performance, and fans may not see a more interesting battle all season.

Many Fielding Features.

Both outfits turned in some fast work defensively, but the visitors contributed several of the outstanding fielding gems. Tyson, the Oshawa catcher, gathered in a foul fly on the run with his mitted hand, and a little later grabbed another after it had bounced out of his big glove. Walter Fair in right field stuck up his gloved hand and speared a long fly from Shaughnessy, the play cutting off a couple of runs, and Roddick, the visiting left fielder, converted a seeming safety by Swanston into a double play by a fine catch and a fast throw to second. Legon and Hall made nice running catches for the Petes.

"Red" Legon and Tommy Holyman, the former with two doubles and a single and the latter with a double and a single, led the Peterborough attack. Legon had a big day, stealing second, scoring from the half-way station on a bunt and figuring in the scoring of three of the Petes' runs. "Mickey" Murray was the leading swatsmith for the Oshawa crew, the Peterborough boy getting two doubles and a single and scoring two runs.

A Bad Start.

The opening half of the first frame had a blue tinge from a Peterborough standpoint. "Mickey" Murray, first up, started with a weak roller to Johnston, which got away from the second baseman. He went to second on W. Fair's sacrifice and to third while Heckman was throwing out Rowden. Tyson cracked a hot one at Holyman, who made a nice stop, but his throw was high, putting Harrison into the air, and Hyson was safe, Murray scoring. Dainty promptly doubled over Legon's head, sending his battery-mate home. A passed ball put Dainty on third, but a roller to Johnston saw Roddick snuffed out at first.

The first indication that it was not going to be all sunshine and roses for Dainty was the fact that Legon opened on him with a neat single to right. He then stole second, and Johnston drew a walk. Holyman laid down a neat bunt and was thrown, out but the fleet-footed Legon scored from second on the play. Then Heckman rammed a long double to left centre, Johnston rambling home on the blow. Harrison's torrid drive right at Rowden was too hot to hold, but the Oshawa second sacker recovered in time to throw "Hap" out at first. Tyson followed with a beautiful running, one-handed catch of Hall's foul fly, retiring the side.

Both sides expired peacefully in the second. For Oshawa Wilson lifted a harmless fly to Holyman, Reg. Fair fouled to Harrison and Heckman fielded Morrison's grounder and got the batter at first.

The Petes started better, Swanston drawing a walk and going to second while Tyson was retiring Shaughnessy, but Collins' hard-hit liner to left was snatched by Roddick, and Legon was called out on strikes.

Scored In Third.

The motor crew flashed in front for a short time again in the third. Murray started the trouble with a long double to left. Walter Fair was easily disposed of on a foul to Swanston, but Rowden clipped a single over second, on which Murray registered despite a good throw to the plate by Hall. Rowden took second on the throw-in, and went to third on a passed ball. Tyson lined to Shaughnessy, whose quick throw held Rowden at third, and he was still there when Dainty fanned.

The Petes got it back in their half and looked like getting a few more. Johnston and Holyman started with singles to right and a pass to Heckman filled the bases. Harrison lofted a high fly back of second, and was called out under the infield fly rule, although Rowden failed to handle the ball. Johnston scored on the play. Hall was hit again, filling the bases. Swanston drove a screaming liner to left that started like a sure hit, but Roddick made a fine catch and doubled Heckman off second.

Tied Again In Fourth.

Once again the visitors took the lead in the fourth. Roddick beat out a hit to Holyman, and took second on the shortstop's low throw to first. Wilson singled to centre, scoring Roddick. R. Fair rolled to Johnston, who tagged Wilson out on the line. Fair died stealing, Swanston to Johnston, and Morrison struck out.

The Petes promptly tied it again. Shaughnessy singled to centre, R. Fair getting one hand on the ball after a run. Collins' bunt to Dainty forced him at second. Legon shot a double over Murray's head, sending Collins to third. Johnston rolled to Wilson and was out, Collins scoring. Johnston stopped and then moved back toward the plate, Wilson having to follow him in to tag him. Legon took too big a lead off third and was out when Wilson shot the ball to Murray.

Oshawa were easy in the fifth. Murray and W. Fair fanned and Holyman threw Rowden out.

Won In The Fifth.

The home talent went in front for the first time in their half of the frame when they squeezed over what ultimately proved to be the winning run without the aid of a hit. Holyman was franked to first on four bad ones and Heckman was hit. Harrison bunted to Dainty, and the pitcher's throw to Murray was high enough to pull him off the bag, everybody being safe. Tyson grabbed Hall's foul fly, but Swanston's long fly to R. Fair enabled Holyman to slide home. A one-handed catch by Walter Fair of Shaughnessy's long smash to right cut off another pair of counters. Fair grabbed the ball with his gloved hand when it was apparently dropping safe.

In the sixth Heckman threw out Tyson, Dainty struck out and Roddick flied to Shaughnessy.

Fast Play At Plate.

The Petes also went out in order. Collins hoisted one to Walter Fair, Legon fouled to Tyson and Johnston popped to Wilson.

The visitors nearly tied it up in the seventh. Wilson was easy on a high one to Harrison and Legon made a nice running catch of R. Fair's fly to short left. Morrison, however, singled to left and Murray boomed a long double over Hall's head. The centre fielder's accurate throw from deep centre was relayed to the plate by Heckman, Swanston blocking Morrison off the counting station and making the put-out.

Holyman opened the homesters' half by rifling a double past third. Heckman hit to Dainty, and Holyman was caught between bases and was called out at third. Harrison struck out, and Hall flied to Walter Fair.

W. Fair's fly was easy for Johnston in Oshawa's eighth, and Hall made a shoe-string catch of Rowden's drive to centre. Tyson, however, lined to centre for a single, and Dainty got a lucky two-bagger back of first, which Johnston just reached with one hand. Harrison, however, scooped up Roddick's roller and beat the batter to the bag, retiring the side.

Making It Sure.

Collins and Legon made it sure in the Petes' half. After Swanston had popped to Morrison and Shaughnessy had fanned, Collins cut a single through short and Legon cracked a double to the left field fence, sending Frankie in with the Petes' sixth run. Johnston rolled to Wilson for the third out.

Wilson opened Oshawa's ninth by beating out a hit to short. R. Fair popped to Holyman and "Toots" Ward, batting for Morrison, struck out. Murray, however, prolonged the agony by singling to centre. W. Fair's long drive to left, a good bid for a hit, fell into Legon's hands, and it was all over.

GAMEST BOXER MEETS DEFEAT

Eugene Criqui, Hero Of The War And The Ring, Failed In Attempted Comeback.

END OF HIS CAREER

PARIS, June 2. — Eugene Criqui, former world's featherweight champion, was knocked out yesterday in eighth round of what was scheduled as a twenty-round bout with Danny Frush, in an attempted comeback to challenge Johnny Dundee, the present titleholder.

In the first round the men started sparring, with Criqui seeking an opening. He tried several times to connect with his famous right, but Frush stood him off with left jabs and right counters, which gave him a slight edge at the bell.

Criqui in the second sent over a magnificent left to the jaw, but Frush took it without flinching.

The French boy tried to follow up his blow, but Frush sent him back with a hard right.

Again Criqui sailed in, but his attack was warded off by a succession of lefts which gave Frush the advantage at the end of the round.

After this, the honours were about even until the seventh.

Frush was the more agile of the two, and his blows seemed to be harder than those of Criqui.

Beginning of the End.

During the seventh Criqui appeared to be a bit fatigued, and his aim was inaccurate.

After two minutes of fighting Frush, after landing several jabs, sent over a right on the famous silver jaw of Criqui, who was knocked against the ropes and dropped to his knees for the count of nine.

When he arose, Frush delivered hard blows to the face and head, and Criqui again went to his knees and remained there for nine seconds.

For the second time the Frenchman rose, but Frush toppled him over the canvas. The count of eight had been recorded and Criqui was unable to rise. The bell saved him.

In the eighth Frush sailed into the Frenchman, landing at will on the face and body.

Criqui, his face bloody and his eyes staring, finally went to the canvas from a hard right to the jaw. He was all out. He attempted to arise, but was unable to do so.

After the referee had counted him out, Frush aided the defeated boy to his feet.

In the preliminary, the French boxer Paolino knocked out Arthur Townley, the English light heavyweight. Paolino did the trick in one minute and twenty seconds, whereas last month in Vienna, it required two rounds for Georges Carpentier to dispose of him.

His Last Battle.

Criqui's battle with Frush was considered by the sporting people as the turning point in the former world's featherweight champion's career. It meant his return to oblivion or a resumption of his standing as one of the foremost fighters of his class. He had been promised a return bout with Johnny Dundee if he defeated Frush.

"I am through," said Criqui as he stood surrounded by his wife and a few friends in his modest little home near Montmartre Hill last night.

"You won't see me getting knocked out from ring to ring. I've had my day; I've been champion of the world, and that is good enough. If I had won to-day, I should have gone back to the United States to try and wrest the title from Dundee, but I am licked. I have no excuse to offer—no broken hands—no broken heart. No more fighting for me. I do not want to detract from Frush's victory, but it was Johnny Dundee who beat me again to-day. I thought I had got over that fight, and I honestly wanted to get back into the game. But this is final—I am through.

"Gene Criqui can't bite any more sawdust in front of anyone else. Ex-champions should not try to come back.

"I don't want to impose upon the public. Don't think that my spirit is broken—I am not hurt."

Injured in War.

The little man whose jaw was shattered by the Germans at Verdun seemed sincere as he spoke.

"Frush is a good man," he declared, "but there have been many days in my life when I could have beaten him quickly. These days have gone, and so I also shall go."

"I wish Frush luck," he said.

"Let's have a little supper," said Criqui, turning to his wife, whose eyes were filled with tears, as the correspondent bade him adieu.

The gate receipts for yesterday's bout broke all records in France, not excepting the money taken in at the Carpentier-Siki fight. Nearly seven hundred thousand francs worth of tickets were sold.

SCOTSMAN WON MARATHON.

LONDON, June 1.— The annual marathon race from Windsor Castle to Stamford Bridge, a distance of 26 miles, 385 yards, which up to this year has been officially accepted as an Olympic trial, was won yesterday by D. McLeod, for Scotland, in 2 hours, 53 minutes, 17 2-3 seconds. S. Ferris and A. R. Mills, both of London, finished second and third respectively, in 2 hours, 54 minutes, 3 seconds, and 3 hours, 2 minutes, 46 3-5 seconds.

Out of the 27,000 girls employed by one firm, an expert chiropodist found that only 25 per cent had perfect feet.

SANDY WEINER

Bill Tilden, who stumped his toe on a folding typewriter and thereby lost his amateur standing in tennis, is grooming Sandy Weiner, 16-year-old Philadelphia boy, as his successor.

Weiner has developed a typical Tilden style on the court and seems to possess much of the champion's great ability.

Some day he may be the nation's champion—but he must remember not to write pieces for the papers or the magazines, for that would make him a notorious professional, as the lawn tennis officials see the matter.

GIBBONS HELD ATTACK TO CARPENTIER'S BODY AND WON EVERY ROUND

Frenchman Proved His Gameness to Crowd of 24,000, Many of Whom Crashed the Gates— Forced Into Continued Retreat After First Four Rounds.

GIBBONS WAS MASTER

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 2.—(Canadian Press.) — That Georges Carpentier is a game fighter and can take punishment, was the agreement of experts who witnessed Saturday's ten round international bout won by Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, the decision being made by newspaper writers, as the Indiana law forbids prize fights and decision bouts. For ten rounds the French Air Service veteran and pugilist who fell before Champion Jack Dempsey, withstood a battering that only a few men of his class have taken since the time of John L. Sullivan, the writers agreed.

His much boasted right, wielded like a rapier, failed to injure his opponent excepting once when it caught Tommy Flush on the chin but failed to sound curtains. The St. Paul boxer immediately closed in and battered the Frenchman's body. In the opening round Georges lashed out with his famous sleep-producer, but Tommy was under and over the punch in time to slap a jolt into Carpentier's ribs which raised a red welt marking the point where further attacks were made when infighting was in vogue.

Continual Retreat.

Throughout the fracas Carpentier elected to fight at long range in the hope of outboxing his opponent and to save himself from the hammer punches of the St. Paul battler. He was virtually on a continual retreat to escape the count.

In the final two rounds, after he had slipped on the canvas and injured his ankle he went into clinch after clinch to save himself while Gibbons worked furiously for a knockout.

Gibbons was master of the fight from beginning and only Carpentier's refusal to close in and mix things probably saved him.

Gibbons' speed in beating Georges to the punch, his footwork and the phantom-like methods of evading the Frenchman's punches, gave him practically every round without a question of doubt.

A crowd of more than 24,000 fans crowded into the arena here, and reports today were that only 16,000 admissions, many crashing the gate and the others being accounted for by passes.

Total Gate $227,397.

Gibbons received $61,781, including $5,000 for training expenses, while Georges drew down $70,000. The total gate receipts amounted to $227,397, according to revised figures made public Sunday.

Georges, when both boxers were ready for the gong, slipped a rubber plate into his mouth to protect his teeth, but Gibbons' second objected. The plate was shown to Referee Dickerson, who put it in his pocket. Gibbons had to remove the tape from his hands prior to the bout when Manager Descamps excitedly called attention to a violation of an agreement to have both boxers enter the ring with hands untaped. He made Gibbons unwind the tape, inspected it, then watched the St. Paul fighter re-roll it.

"Monsieur Gibbons is the best boxer I ever saw," Carpentier said after the fight. "I am sorry I hurt my ankle, otherwise possibly I could have made a knockout.'

"I believe I have convinced everyone I am entitled to a return bout with Dempsey," said Gibbons.

KINGSTON NEXT AND BELLEVILLE

Petes Take Long Mid-Week Jaunt To The Limestone City On Wednesday.

TRUNKS HERE SATURDAY.

The leadership of the Central Ontario League series regardless of the results of Wednesday's games when Oshawa play in Belleville and the Petes in Kingston, will be at stake on Saturday when the Petes old rivals from Belleville will meet the Solomon gang at Riverside Park. Despite the loss of Jack Williams the Belleville team are the same old gang of seasoned fighters, always dangerous, and if Oulette can carry the pitching burden or can get any help from Keon or Jeffrey the Trunks will be consistent contenders all season. Their twin win over Kingston last week so badly jolted the Kingston Standard that that paper which used to employ a column and a half daily recording the strong points of the Ponies only ran a half column report of the defeat of the Kingston team at home last Wednesday. A Belleville-Peterboro clash always produces fireworks and with the two teams at present leading the procession Saturday's game can be looked forward to as likely to be one of the most exciting of the schedule.

The League standing:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Peterboro	2	1	.667
Belleville	2	1	.667
Kingston	2	2	.500
Oshawa	1	3	.250

Games this week:

Wednesday—Oshawa at Belleville; Peterboro at Kingston.

Saturday—Kingston at Oshawa; Belleville at Peterboro.

The Petes seem to be specializing on two base hits this season. Legon has had 3 and Swanston, Heckman and Holyman 2 each up to date.

Oshawa reached Heckman for a total of six hits in the last three innings but could not deliver the final punch that meant runs. And as Baltimore John Dunn says: "It ain't the hits but the runs that count.' '

The Petes had two complete infields in uniform Saturday, one in the game and the other on the bench consisting of Cook, first base; Moore second base; Batten, short stop and Helson, third base. No outfit in the league is in a good shape in the matter of reserves as the Solomon aggregation.

Spotting Dainty two runs in the opening inning would ordinarily be disastrous but the Petes overcame the lead in jig-time.

The mighty Casey, Belleville's right fielder was benched the other night in favour of A. Weir, a brother of the shortstop. Young Weir has been bat boy for the Trunks for several seasons and is now wearing the spangles himself.

Saturday will mark the first appearance of the Mills-Weir-Oulette outfit here this season and the fans are looking forward to the usual excitement that marks a Belleville visit. Oulette and Heckman will likely be the opposing gunners as it is probable that Charlie Serth will draw the pitching assignment at Kingston on Wednesday.

Every pitcher in the league is clamoring for a hot spell. The cold winds of the last three weeks have played havoc with the old soup bones and they need warm weather to get into shape.

Baseball these days is just one southpaw after another for the Petes. They will likely face Kelly at Kingston on Wednesday. However, the left hand batters will get their innings on Saturday when Belleville play here. The Belleville staff does not include a left hander.

Raybestos Win In Tenth From Cobourg Dyeworks 10 to 9

RAYBESTOS WON IN TEN INNINGS

Hits and Errors Equally Numerous In Midland League Game At Cobourg.

BEAT DYEWORKS 10 TO 9

A melodrama in ten acts was staged by Raybestos of Peterborough and Cobourg Dye Dye Works in the second Midland League game in Cobourg on Saturday. The plot included everything of good and bad baseball and the spectators were kept in suspense till the last man was out.

The Dyeworkers got the jump in the first two scenes when they got 5 runs on 3 hits, a walk and several errors. Raybestos got them back in the next two innings on 6 hits, 2 walks, a fielder's choice and a passed ball.

The Dyers moved up 3 more in the fifth on singles by E. Campbell, Gordon and Piper and a double by Butler.

Evened Up in Sixth.

Raybestos pulled up even in the sixth with a double by Duggan, followed by a walk, two stolen bases, an error and an infield out. They went ahead for the first time in the seventh when Duggan tripled after Irwin had booted Kirn's roller.

The eighth inning was scoreless, both teams having men on, but lacking the necessary punch.

In the ninth, after W. Campbell had been retired, E. Campbell and Gordon got on by errors. McMahon forced Campbell but Gordon stole third and scored when Rogers dropped Duggan's throw in an attempt to run him down.

Rogers started the overtime session by striking out, but Corrin singled, went to third on Thompson's single. Butchen hit a hot one at E. Campbell, who kicked it around long enough to let the run in. Nichols lifted to the box and Lundy struck out.

In the last half Baker, batting for Woods, struck out, and Irwin and Drope hit grounders to the infield.

WESTCLOX MEET THE LOCKWORKS

Game Should be the Best in the Mercantile League—Both Teams Strong.

Tommorrow night the Lockworks and the Western Clock meet, in what should be the best battle in the Mercantile League. Both teams have each won a game and tomorrow night's battle will decide who will occupy the top rung in the league.

The Lockworks who were last year's Mercantile champs have a far stronger team than they possessed last season. The Western Clock also have a much improved lineup over last year. With strengthened lineups these teams should dish up a good brand of ball, and the game should undoubtedly attract a large crowd.

"Chuck" Bradley or "Duke" Neary will be on the firing line for the champs with Lambert Collins doing the receiving while the Western Clock will use either Hardill or Baptie on the mound with Dave Prosser receiving them.

The game will be played at Riverside Park and will start at 6.00 o'clock sharp with Harry Cobb in charge.

C.G.E. WERE SHUT OUT AT COBOURG

Electricians Blanked For First Time In Three Years Saturday By C.N.R. Team.

ONLY ONE RUN SCORED

Canadian Generals were shut out on Saturday for the first time in three years when Canadian Nationals of Cobourg won a fast game by the score of 1-0. "Punch" Derry, veteran right hander was on the mound for the railroaders and allowed only two hits, both doubles, while ten of his opponents heard the third strike land in O'Grady's big mit. He was given gilt-edged support by his help, Markey, Rollings, and Skitch being especially prominent. Butler robbed Frost of a hit when he made a sparkling one-handed catch of a long drive which was ticketed for three bases at least. Ross made a nice catch of O'Grady's high foul, falling over the Cobourg bench as he got the ball.

Won in the Third

The winning run was scored in the third. After Derry had rolled to Dugan and Markey had fanned Drumm doubled to deep left. Skitch shot a neat single over second and Drumm just managed to beat McCarney's nice throw to the plate.

Frost pitched himself out of a bad hole in the second when the bases were filled with one out Skitch and O'Grady hitting singles and Rollings stopping one of Frost's hooks with his body. Thompson relieved the pressure by lifting to MacPherson and Butler struck out.

The Electricians had men on bases on only three occasions. In the third MacPherson doubled with none out but Derry struck out Ranger and fielded Frost's hard rap to the box and Dugan rolled to Rollings to end the session.

In the fourth Rose doubled with two out but Derry saved the situation by whiffing Wilgar.

Chance in Eighth

In the eighth Markey mussed up Ranger's roller and when Biffer stole second O'Grady obligingly threw to centre field, Ranger going to third. Frost rolled to Rollings who made a neat throw after booting the roller and the chance was gone. C. N. R. threatened to add to the total in the fifth. After Butler had struck out Derry doubled to left. Markey also struck out but Drumm singled sending Derry to third. On an attempted double steal Derry was run down by Rose, Ross and MacPherson.

There was considerable kicking at Dick Turpin's judgment on balls and strikes both teams complaining that he was a fitting successor to his famous namesake of the "stand and deliver" gentry.

TIMELY TIPS FOR AMATEURS

SAYS W. MARANVILLE,
Infielder, Pittsburg Nationals.

Perhaps no infield position causes for more shifting, if it is to be played intelligently, than shortstop.

The greatest fault of the present-day shortstops or that most of them make it a stationary position.

They pick up a certain spot as their stamping ground, and then proceed to take that position on every batter, regardless of a player's habit of hitting to certain fields.

The best bit of advice I received when breaking in, was to play every batter differently, based on the knowledge gained of his peculiarities.

Often a step or two in the proper direction prior to the pitch makes an easy play of a drive that would otherwise go for a base hit.

Study your batters.

SENIOR SOCCER GAME WAS FAST; THISTLES LOST

Canadian Woollens Took Full Revenge On Saturday At King Edward Park.

MITCHELL THE STAR

Chambers And Perry Played Strong Game—Score Was 2 To 1.

The Canadian Woollens had revenge on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Thistle by two goals to one in a senior league game at King Edward Park, before a good crowd of spectators. From the beginning it was noticed that the Woollens were superior in every department and the Thistle lacking their usual aggressive play. Mitchell was the outstanding player throughout the whole ninety minute period.

The Teams.

Woollens—Hillman, goal; Chambers and Perry, backs; Quinn, Monkman and Read, half-backs; Warde, Wyllie, Mitchell, Roberts and Sawyers, forwards.

Thistle—Curtis, goal; Rae and Anderson, full-backs; Jackson, Dawson and Hotston, half-backs; Hutton, McPhail, Richmond, Williams and Burgess, forwards.

Referee—J. L. Howarth.

The Play Described.

Within a minute Richmond seemed to have the Woollens' goal at his mercy but he was over-anxious as he shot high over the bar. From the goal-kick, Mitchell penetrated the defence and being well-placed unfortunately hit the ball with his knees as he was getting set to shoot. Woollens again forced the pace into Thistle's area to keep Rae and Anderson working hard to hold them in check. Dawson relieved up-field. Monkman tried a long pass for Wade but "Wag" Hotston nullified his opportunity as he intercepted and then let drive from mid-field a hard shot that Hillman grabbed and no more. The Thistle continued to exert the greater pressure, but failed to get anything like a shot at goal.

Full-Backs

The Woollens' full-backs frustrated every attack in characteristic punting, heading clear and then giving forwards the ball. Wyllie accepted the movement inside Thistle's area and trying to get at shot at goal he was robbed by Anderson who received a nasty injury which compelled him to retire for a little while but was not the same effective full-back. Time and again the respective forwards would initiate nice combination that was splendid to view and the half-backs and forwards playing elite football that had not a blemish.

Mitchell's Well Taken Goal.

Roberts and Sawyers worked their way along the wing for the latter to send a swinging pass across to Mitchell, Rae covered the centre-forward quickly by the Woollens' forward to touch the ball out of Curtiss' hands for the opening goal. A few minutes later half-time sounded as Richmond indulged in a long shot that was lacking direction. Half-time—Woollens 1; Thistle 0.

Half-Time.

Following a quite retart the Thistle exerted pressure, but could not get in a shot at any angle. A corner also failed to bring any success. A foul against Dawson caused the Thistle a great amount of trouble when Sawyers beat two men rapidly and finished with a strong parting shot which Curtiss saved, when Monkman returned it in front of the Thistle goal. Jackson, twice in succession headed clear, then ultimately got his foot on the sphere in the melee. Dawson transferred the play to the other end.

Jackson Hit the Post.

Hutton and McPhail worked around the defence, Jackson run forward to accept a pass and without hesitation he sent a rocket shot along the ground that hit the upright to go past, another fraction and Hillman would have been beaten. The Thistle came more into the picture at this stage and their forwards tried hard to penetrate the Woollens' solid defence, but generally speaking their play was disjointed and lacked their usual aggressive style.

Burgess Equalized.

Hutton and McPhail struck a fine understanding and a clever combined movement was capped by a rasping drive from Richmond, which Hillman fisted clear but landed at Burgess' foot who made no mistake as he hit the ball in below the crossbar for the equalizer. Encouraged by their success, the Thistle again added pressure that proved costly to them. Chambers and Perry were solid as a rock and punted clear at every first chance. From a clearance by Chambers the Thistle were hemmed into their own territory.

Mitchell Scored From Penalty.

The full-backs responded well to the attack but lost all vim when one of their players handled inside the penalty area. Mitchell gave Curtiss no chance to save his rocket shot which sealed the doom of the Thistle's most needful points in the league and Woollens deserving them. There was no time for the Thistle to redeem themselves as final whistle sounded right after. Woollens 2, Thistle 1.

Goal-scorers—Woollens, Mitchell 1. Thistle, Burgess 1.

DUMMER'S EARLY LEAD OVERCOME

Township Tea Opened Fast On Junior Packers, But Lost Out By 4 To 3.

BEST GAME OF SEASON

The C. P. C. Juniors entertained the much improved North Dummer team in a league game on King Edward Park on Saturday afternoon, and a game full of excitement from start to finish ended in a win for the Packers by 4 to 3, Walley James, the Captain, scoring three of the goals.

The Dummer men won the toss and with the wind and sun behind them began to force the game. Bell receiving a pass from R. Payne, opened the scoring. This gave the Dummer men encouragement, and for a while they were masters of the situation. R. Payne racing up to the right passed to Bell who again beat Montgomery. The Packers now rearranged their team, bringing Carmicheal to half back and Souter to outside left. This seemed to work well. The Packers' forwards now were playing a much better game, Soutar sending in some fine centres; Walley James getting hold of one of these sent in a beautiful shot which beat Jory all the way.

The game was very fast. Each goalkeeper was called upon to save. From one of Carter's huge returns James made the game even. He escaped the attention of A. Jory, and scored his third goal. Half time arrived with the Packers leading by 3 goals to .

Second Half.

Upon resuming, the Packers with the wind in their favor began to press but the Dummer half backs were in great form and feeding their forwards with nice ground passes Curtis and Downer were kept busy. Mitchell sent in a long drive, Jory fisted out. Chambers met the ball and sent in a terrific drive which gave Jory no chance. From the centre kick the Dummer forwards tested Montgomery but Tom saved in great style. Batten receiving from A. Jory sent in a shot well out of the reach of Montgomery, and scored No. 3 for the visitors.

From now on to the call of time the game was brimful of excitement, each team doing its level best to add to the score. There was no further scoring however and the best game of the season ended in a win for the Packers by 4 goals to 3.

After the game the Packers entertained the visitors to refreshments and spent a pleasant evening together.

The teams:

C. P. C.: Montgomery, H. Curtis, I. Downer, S. Willis, Halliday, Soutar, Mitchell, James, Strudley, Chambers, Carmichael.

North Dummer: O. Jury, W. Carveth, Batten, A. Jory, H. Jorey, Taylor, H. Darling, Batten, M. Payne, Bell, R. Payne.

BOOTLEGGER HAS CLAIM DISMISSED

"Whoever Seeks Justice Must Come Into Court With Clean Hands" Says Judge.

OTTAWA, June 2.— Mr. Justice Audette in the Exchequer Court today dismissed with costs appeal of Cecil R. Smith, garage proprietor of Windsor, who sought to have exemption from income tax, profits he had made in bootlegging. Smith claimed that, as profits earned in bootlegging were illicit, they were not taxable.

"This," declared Judge Audette in dismissing Smith's appeal, "is not a case with meritorious quality commending itself to court of justice. Appellant invokes his own turpitude to claim immunity from paying taxes and to be placed in better position than if he were an honest and legal trader and asks court to discriminate in his favor as against other honest traders. As against an innocent tax payer no man shall bet upon his own iniquity to operate such discrimination in his favor.

"His claim rests upon and is tainted with illegality and no court will lend its aid to person who rests his claim on an illegal act.

"Whoever seeks justice," added Judge Audette, "must come into court with clean hands. Appellant knew of impropriety of carrying on such trade in Ontario, he knew it was wrong and no man can take advantage of his own wrong. Author of wrong cannot be allowed to take advantage of his wrong. Appellant is stopped from benefitting from his wrongful act and on that ground alone appeal must be dismissed."

HIGHER CRITICS HAVE DYSPEPSIA

Subject Discussed at Hamilton Methodist Conference.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 2.—Addressing Hamilton Methodist Conference here this morning, Bishop F. D. Leete, referred to religious controversies and declared that some of the higher critics had intellectual dyspepsia or indigestion. At same time they were probably honest in their beliefs and had good foundation of religion.

Principal Dobson, of Alma College, St. Thomas, said he believed religious standard of institution was in creasing. As an example he declared that prominent Detroit man had sent his daughter to Alma because he was afraid of moral hazard of American Colleges for girls.

At present his institution was in financial difficulties because of farmers' dropping out, owing to the high rates necessary.

Resolution commended efforts of Alma College to raise standard of Canadian young womanhood.

LARGE NUMBER OF MEN UNEMPLOYED

Quite a Number of Small Jobs Are Available But Steady Work is Scarce.

The employment situation in this city is still weak and has not picked up any in the past month with still a large number out of work. Small jobs are more plentiful than they were a few weeks ago, but steady works for the ones who are out of work is very scarce. Considerable building is going on in the city at present but most of the men required for this work are skilled men. There is plenty of work for men on the farms but the city workers do not seem to want this kind of employment. It was thought that there would be work for a considerable number of men on the spring drives but nothing very promising is seen in this line at present. A number of men have secured small jobs looking after lawns and gardens, but there is still a large number of men who can't find anything to do and do not know where to look for their next meal. Last week there were 42 new applicants at the Employment Bureau and 34 were placed, the greater percentage of these being on small jobs that would only last for a day or two. There are not as many immigrants coming in at present as a few weeks ago but there is still the odd one being brought over by relatives and friends.

A MEMORIAL TABLET FOR MISS I. A. MILLS

At the eleven o'clock morning service in St. Luke's Anglican church, yesterday morning, a handsome memorial tablet to the memory of Miss Isabelle Adela Mills was unveiled. The tablet, which was unveiled by one of the church wardens, Mr. H. A. Perry, with dedicatory prayers by the rector, Rev. G. J. Bousfield, bore the following inscription: "To the glory of God and in beloved memory of His servant, Isabelle Adela Mills. Entered into rest, December 9th, 1922. "In sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life." A faithful member of this church. R.I.P."

Mr. Bousfield spoke briefly of the character of the deceased lady, mentioning her faithful attendance at church services, her steadfast loyalty to all church work and the quiet, unassuming manner of her endeavors, also her unfailing assistance when special decorations were being carried out.

Miss Mills was one of the oldest members of St. Luke's church, having been a constant attendant since the church was erected, nearly half a century ago. She lived with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Hubbs, on Armour Road.

Financial News and Views

Canadian Stock Exchange and Mines | New York Stock Exchange and Curb Prices

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS AND OPINION AND REVIEWS OF THE MARKETS.

MARKET NEWS.

The market opened this morning under nearly the same conditions as it closed before the holiday. Some action is expected either to-day or to morrow in the tax bill.

There are indications of considerable more activity in the retail trade. Walker Bros. say continuous buy the rails and the better industrials in all soft spots.

In the past few days a good many of the mining stocks have made good advances and have every appearance of developing into a bull market. Some of the lower priced issues have advanced several points.

The Toronto market was featured by heavy London buying in Barcelona this morning. Most of the trading was for the London account. The stock closed at 0. Spanish River was active. Toronto Rails were firm at 90 and 90 1-4. Canada bread continued to advance on the small trading, closing bid at 74 1-4.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The New York market was the dullest for a long time. Some advances were recorded in some specialties such as famous players. The market as a whole is acting under restraint, and there is no news to influence it either way. Regular dividend declared in American wool.

MOTHER SAW TANLAC BUILD UP DAUGHTER

Mrs. Baker, of Kingston, Gives Medicine Full Credit.

"When I think of the wonderful change that has taken place in Kathleen's health, I just feel like praising Tanlac to everyone," recently said Mrs. G. Baker, 12 Earl Street, Kingston, Ont., in describing the benefits her daughter, one of Kingstons most popular young ladies, received from the famous treatment.

"Before taking Tanlac, Kathleen was dreadfully weak and nervous, and had such severe headaches she was almost frantic. Her sleep was broken and restless, she had deep circles under her eyes, and would hardly eat anything.

"But Tanlac has built her up until she is bubbling over with health and energy. She eats heartily, sleeps soundly, never seems to get nervous or have a headache, and enjoys life to the limit. Tanlac is indeed a grand medicine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Two tablespoons stewed dried apricots, spring salad (1 cup), 3 ounces lean corned beef, 1 whole boiled parsnip, 2 tablespoons mashed turnips, 1 whole beet pickle, ½ cup cottage cheese, 1 whole canned pear with 1 tablespoon juice, 1 thin slice home-made whole wheat bread, 1 whole wheat biscuit, 1 thin crisp piece whole wheat toast, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 1179. Protein, 278; fat, 218; carbohydrate, 683. Iron, .0197 gram.

This menu is planned particularly for the person who lives in the country and cannot use the city markets. The foodstuffs are all found on the farm or, as in the case of the dried fruit, are nonperishable.

However, the city dweller will find everything suggested in her market.

Spring Salad (Individual)

One-third cup tender dandelion leaves, ½ cup watercress, 2 tablespoons minced spring onions, 2 thin slices hard boiled egg, 1 or 2 tablespoons lemon juice, salt and pepper.

Combine the greens and chop them. This blends the flavors. Add lemon juice, salt and pepper and "toss" until well coated. Serve garnished with the egg slices.

Two tablespoons stewed dried apricots, 1 cup boiled rice with 12 seeded raisins, 1 poached egg, 1 cup potato soup, 1 cup spring salad, 3 ounces lean corned beef, 2 potatoes boiled with meat, 1 whole boiled parsnip, 2 tablespoons mashed and buttered turnips, 1 whole beet pickle, ½ cup cottage cheese moistened with 2 tablespoons cream, 1 whole canned pear with 2 tablespoons juice and 1 tablespoon peanut butter, 1 large piece chocolate layer cake, 4 tablespoons tapioca cream pudding, 2 slices crisp whole wheat toast, 2 2-inch squares Johnny cake, 4 tablespoons maple sirup, 2 whole wheat biscuits, 1 tablespoon apple butter, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 pint whole milk, ½ cup cream, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Total calories, 4314. Protein, 427; fat, 1710; carbohydrate, 2177. Iron, .0208 gram.

The spring salad for this menu is "tossed" in a French dressing.

Fill the cavities in the canned pears with peanut butter.

Fill the cavities in the canned pears with peanut butter.

The cream and sugar are planned for the breakfast cereal.

When "whole milk" is mentioned the standard milk which must test at least 3.5 per cent. butter fat is meant. If you live on a farm and use "whole" milk you will undoubtedly drink a milk that tests more fat than that. But the richer the better if you would gain rapidly.

INTELLECTUAL ANARCHIST AND ATHEIST IS CHICAGO STUDENT. ACCUSES COMPAION OF MURDER

Nathan Leopold, Raised In Luxury, Parades His Precosity And Pagan Philosophy Before Police Party In Retracing The Slaying Of Young Franks.

CONDEMNS CHUM AS WEAKLING

For Collapse Of "Morale" And Confession—Both Youths Said To Be Perverted Geniuses—Story of College Men's Crime.

CHICAGO, June 3.—These questions, put to Leopold and Loeb by State's Attorney Crowe following their confessions, were answered in virtually identical phraseology and in the words of Leopold as follows:

Q.—It was your intention then to kidnap one of your boy victims and hold him for ransom. Is that it? A.—No. We intended to murder him. We had figured that out some time before that we would kill who ever we got.

Q.—What was your motive in this? A.—WELL, JUST TO GET A THRILL OUT OF IT, I SUPPOSE.

CHICAGO, June 3. — Richard A. Loeb, son of the multi-millionaire vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was named as the actual slayer of Robert Franks, thirteen-year-old heir to a $4,000,000 estate, in an amplified confession made by Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., his companion in crime.

In a statement sizzling with bitterness, Leopold assailed young Loeb as a weakling and a turncoat.

Leopold also asserted in his bitter denunciation of Loeb that Loeb planned the kidnapping and slaying. He said:

'It was all Loeb's idea. I realise that I am equally guilty, and that we both face the same penalty. It gets me nothing, then, to accuse him.

"Nevertheless, he planned the kidnapping and I helped carry it out by writing the extortion letter. Yes, I wrote it—every word of it.

"It was Leob, though, who enticed the boy into the car, and it was Loeb who struck himon the head.

"Why, weapons which might injure a person are so repugnant to me that I loath the sight of them. I could not; it would have been physically impossible for me to have struck the blow that killed Robert Franks. Loeb knows this, too."

Leopold then detailede the manner in which the actual slaying was committed. He went into considerable detail to prove his contention. He said:

"I rented the car myself. I own a Willys-Knight, and have driven it for many months. It seems likely, then, doesn't it, that I'd be driving this one?

"Then, after we got the car, we went to my house for gasoline and oil. It seems likely, doesn't it, that I would be driving then?

"Tell Loeb for me that it makes no difference which of us did the actual killing.

Has One Regret.

"Tell him that he should not forget that my repugnance to violence is such that I could not have killed Robert.

"Tell him that my one regret is that I find him so weak as to accuse me and that I knew the reason. He thinks that by proving me the actual slayer he will eventually go free.

"I was driving. Loeb was sitting in the back of the car. The curtains were up all around.

"He leaned over the front seat and opened the door, calling to Robert."

Leopold demonstrated in the chief's car the manner in which he and Leopold had moved. He added that Dick said.

"Come, Robert, we'll ride you home."

According to Leopold, Franks replied:

"It's only two blocks. I'll walk."

"Dick answered:

"'Come here, anyway. I want to tell you about a new tennis racquet.'

"The boy came slowly across the street, then hopped upon the running board. Dick told him that he wanted Robert to meet me.

"The boy did get in and the next moment Dick struck him on the head and threw the gag bandage around his neck, strangling him.

"It was all over in a minute. I sat there, sick, while the kid kicked and struggled beside me.

Asks For a Stimulant.

"Tell Dick that I know the law and that I am merely amused by his flounderings. We are both principals in the first degree—"

"There is no forgiveness."

Leopold spoke earnestly, bitterly. At times his face contracted in a spasm of passion as he vented his wrath against his former friend, the one he now believes would sacrifice him in the hope that he might win exoneration.

After he finished this denunciation he was weak, nearer collapse than at any time since he has been taken into custody and he asked that some one procure for him a glass of water containing ten drops of aromatic spirits of ammonia. He pleaded:

"Get it, for God's sake."

After drinking the potion he felt better.

Earlier his attitude towards Loeb was that of one who is grief-stricken rather than bitter because of real or fancied treachery.

Then he asked that a message be given to Loeb, saying:

"Tell him I am very much surprised that he fears death.

"Tell him that I am surprised that he was so weak as to confess in the first place, and that I was surprised when he was so weak as to faint under the strain.

"Just a weakling, after all."

Until he began his attack on Loeb, Leopold exhibited the sang froid which has amazed all who have come in contract with him since he was taken into custody. He laughed and joked with detectives and reporters, occasionally indulging in a sly dig at Chief Hughes who took his scoffing in good humor.

Once, for instance, Leopold asked the chief if he knew that Caesar had married an Irish woman. The Chief said:

You don't tell me."

Leopold said:

"Yep. In the nineteenth chapter, fourth paragraph, you can read that he married a woman of the name of Bridget, and that, Chief, is a good, old Irish name, isn't it?"

The chief replied:

"That it is."

The statement was made in the course of a flying tour of the ground covered the afternoon the Franks boy was slain.

On a Dramatic Ride.

The tour itself was not without drama.

The first stop was at Daly's restaurant, 805 East Sixty-third street.

Leopold, who had not slept all during the night from the time he was brought to the station from the Windemere Hotel, smoked incessantly—so much so that his fingers were stained a deep brown from nicotine.

He was not nervous, however, and he laughed and joked. Loeb on the other hand was palpably disturbed. His face was white and drawn. He ate little or nothing, while Leopold made breakfast on scrambled eggs, doughnuts, rolls and coffee.

Leopold was served by a pretty waitress, with whom he joked incessantly, and who true to her calling joked right back. Many were the snappy remarks made by the confessed murderer, and let it be said, the waitress returned as good as he gave.

After the meal, when the detectives were leaving, she asked a reporter what it was all about. He told her, naming the two boys. The girl staggered back, almost falling, and the color drained from her face.

Word of their presence in neighborhood soon got around, and several hundred people were waiting when the party left the restaurant.

The two cars then sped into Jackson Park. Leopold, in the rear seat with Chief Hughes, directed the driver as to the best entrance.

The car proceeded to the bridge, near the yacht club and here several thousand people were assembled, watching the efforts of police and volunteer assistants to find the typewriter.

Loeb left the car in which he was riding at this point. He said:

"If you get back I'll show you just where I threw it."

The police cleared a space and he stood there alone for a few moments, apparently in deep thought. Then he turned as though taking bearings and at last extended his arm pointing out into the water. He announced simply:

"There you will find the typewriter."

The boats quickly converged at the spot he indicated. The two cars then sped on after Captain Prendergast left his car to take charge of the divers.

Proud of his Deed.

On the way to Hessville, where the belt was found, Leopold engaged in a lengthy and erudite discussion of many weighty matters with a reporter.

Collision Killed 9 and Injured 20

ATTICA, Ind., June 3 (Canadian Press). — Nine persons are dead and twenty injured as the result of the collision on Sunday night between east-bound Wabash Railroad passenger train No. 2 and a freight train which was on a siding.

The passenger train was hurled against the freight engine, and several persons were badly scalded by the steam from the wrecked locomotives.

RED AND BLACK STRIPES VOGUE

Distinctive Color Note in Paris Styles—Waist-Line Ascends.

PLEATED SKIRTS BACK

PARIS, June 3.—Red and black stripes are the distinctive note of the season's colors. Pleated skirts for tailor mades and afternoon frocks have returned. Gowns show an increasing tendency to get away from the "potato sack" shape which has been popular since the war. The waist line tends to mount.

These are the main fashion hints for the summer as demonstrated at the Longchamps races, where thousands of women, including many Americans, had valuable gowns ruined by a cloudburst Sunday.

In the wild rush for shelter, Mrs. J. R. Andrews, of Chicago, had her pocketbook snatched away. It contained 10,000 francs' worth of tickets on the next race. Then her horse won, the thief could not refrain from attempting to cash the tickets, and was arrested.

Mrs. Walter Twombley, of Pittsburgh, was accidentally kicked by a horse in the paddock and had to be taken to a hospital, but she recovered and later returned to her botel.

Charles Kurzman, New York style expert, asserted that he is more and more disappointed with the races as a style show. He said:

"The French woman are losing their chic. The smartest women here are all Americans."

One of the features of the afternoon wos the appearance of the actress, Napierkowska, in a gown composed of ostrich plumes with nine egrets on her hat.

HALIBUT TREATY JUST RATIFIED

Premier King Announced Final Approval of Pact By United States' Senate.

DEALS WITH FISHERIES.

OTTAWA, June 3.— (Canadian Press.) — Alfred Stork, Liberal member for Skeena, asked in the House of Commons Monday whether there was any possibility of the Halibut treaty with the United States being dealt with this year.

Premier King replied that the Canadian parliament had approved the halibut treaty last year, "and I am informed that the Unitde States senate has just ratified it."

This announcement was greeted with applause to which Hon. Ernest the part of the minister of justice," but formerly minister of marine, was a contributor.

"Will the leader of the opposition make a speech now?" asked Mr. Lapointe.

"The only speech I will make is to recall one more inaccuracy on the part of the minister of jusitce," replied Mr. Meighen. "I have never on any occasion made any prediction as to what the United States senate would do, although my hon. friend has attributed such to me."

"My Friend made one hundred speeches throughout the country to the effect that there was no treaty," retorted Mr. Lapointe.

"I said there was none, nor was there any up to this time," said Mr. Meighen.

Mr. Lapointe remarked that it was a queer notion of international law which resulted in the declaration that there was no treaty until it had been ratified, and the incident closed.

TREATY WITH BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, June 3.— The treaty with Great Britain for the preservation of the halibut fisheries of the North Pacific ocean including the Bering Sea which was approved by the senate March 4, 1923, with a reservation has been reconsidered and ratified without reservation.

IMMIGRATION GROWS.

MONTREAL, June 3.—Canadian immigration has increased by 104 per cent. during the fiscal year 1923-1924 as compared with 1922-1923, according to a statement issued by the Department of Immigration. Immigration from the United States has decreased seven per cent., however.

DRAYTON URGES COMMITTEE FOR C.N.R. ESTIMATES

Would Deal With All Questions Involving Capital Commitments For National Railways.

QUOTES PREMIER KING

Advocated In Opposition Publicity For C. N. R. Affairs.

OTTAWA, June 3 (Canadian Press). — On an undeclared vote at one o'clock this morning, Parliament defeated the resolution, moved earlier in the day by Sir Henry Drayton, calling for the review by the Standing Select Committee of Estimates of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Merchant Marine.

The vote came at the end of a long debate, a feature of which was the slashing attack on the Hotel Scribe purchase by the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Mr. Meighen paid more attention to the Aronovici deal than to the amendment moved by his desk mate, declaring, in conclusion, that Canada would do well to dispose of the Scribe, were she able to get 'half or even less than half" of what she gave therefor.

Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways, declined to accept the idea of the committee, such as Sir Henry Drayton had in mind, although he expressed willingness to consider the inauguration of an inter-party group or committee, that would have power to deal, in an advisory capacity, with railway matters.

Just before one o'clock W. M. German (Liberal, Welland) suggested, as a compromise measure, that once each year the Senate and the House of Commons meet together, "as the shareholders of our railway," with Sir Henry Thornton in the chair, and with the usual powers and privileges of meeting of the shareholders.

"The sacred rights of Parliament to discuss details of the estimates must be retained," declared Mr. Graham, "and no commitee can replace the Committee of the Whole House in that work."

Government, he went on, had nothing to hide, but he objected to turning over the authority, even inquisitional authority, to the committee with power to send for, and examine on oath, higher officials entrusted with the management of the National Railways.

The debate on the railway "budget" Monday brought a move from Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance in the late Government, for the appointment of a standing committee of the House to consider the estimates for the Canadian National Railway system and the Government mercantile marine. To the committee would be referred all questions involving new capital commitments and the disposition of properties and assets. It would have powers of inquiry similar to those now possessed by the Public Accounts Committee. The motion technically before the House was one to go into supply on the railway estimates and Sir Henry's motion was in amendment thereto.

Should be Publicity

Sir Henry stressed the need for a thorough understanding of the actual financial condition of the National lines. There should be no mystery, no concealment of the actual performance of the country's property. He cited the affair of the Hotel Scribe as illustrating the need for such a parliamentary committee as he advocated.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader favored a standing committee to sit in consultation with the present board of the Canadian National, but thought that a committee of an inquisitorial character, on the lines of the Public Accounts Committee, would not be in the interests of the country nor of the Canadian National system.

Success of Hydro

Sir Henry Drayton declared it would be impossible to make a success of the National Railways by looking upon them as a controversial issue. There was nothing immoral in public ownership. On the other hand, in every country outside of Prussia, political interference to a greater or less degree had militated against the success of government railways. On the other hand, where direct political control had been avoided, as in the case of the Ontario Hydro Electric, success had been achieved with public ownership.

The first principle of success for the Canadian National Railways was that there should be no mystery as to their actual financial conditions. Up to the present it had not been possible to get this first principle. For instance one newspaper had interpreted the statement of the Minister of Railways on Thursday as meaning that there had been a net improvement over the previous year of $5,917,561, while another newspaper the same day had put the net improvement at $12,000,000; and Sir Henry Thornton in a statement appearing to-day had claimed a net improvement of at least $20,000,000.

Quotes The Premier

Sir Henry then proceeded to quote utterances by Premier King in the house in 1920, in which he had ad-

BIBLE CLASSES IN THE SCHOOLS

Methodist Conference At Niagara Falls Request Half-Hour Instruction For Children.

STUDY WORD OF GOD

NIAGARA, FALLS, Ont., June 3.—(Canadian Press).—There was a breeze in Hamilton Methodist Conference yesterday afternoon over the report of the Religious Educational Committee presented by Rev. Thomas Sole of Milton, which recommended that the Methodist church co-operate with other denominations in requesting the Educational authorities to arrange to give half an hour or more a week religious instruction in the public schools.

This was in view of the fact that the Ontario Religious Educational Association has reported that a survey made shows that over forty per cent. of the Protestant children of Ontario do not attend Sunday School.

Not All Protestants

Rev. Dr. E. Hughson of Hamilton Rev. R. S. E. Daye, Woodstock, and others challenged such a statement which they said was a reflection on protestantism. Dr. Hughson said he thought not five per cent. of the families in his own congregation do not send their children to Sunday School He believed that it was simply a case of everybody not Roman Catholic was classed Protestant, and hundreds of families came under that head who never go to church or have anything to do with it.

Rev. C. D. Draper, Niagara Falls, advised facing the facts and he was backed up by others. Some delegates feared it would get the Protestant churches in trouble and embarrass them in Quebec where it was said, the public schools exist largely at the tolerance of the Roman Catholic Church. Rev. R. S. E. Daye and Rev. Dr. Hughson moved an amendment that the forty per cent item be eliminated, but the amendment was defeated by a close vote.

Bible Instruction

The report spoke of decrease in Methodism Sunday School attendance which has prompted the action regarding religious instruction in the schools. . . The report was changed to read "Bible instruction" instead of religious instruction," and it went through that way.

REVOLUTIONISTS NEARING TIRANA

ATHENS, June 3. — (United Press). — Unconfirmed despatches from Albania declare that Tirana, the capital, is about to fall into the hands of the Revolutionists. An Athens rumor factory for the Balkans has received varied reports of the progress of an uprising in Albania during the past forty-eight hours.

The report said the American Minister to Albania had been asked to leave the country, his office being that he had sought intervention by the League of Nations. The report did not say who had made the request. One of the first rumors in the wake of every Balkan uprising is concerned with a slight or insult to the American Minister, the purpose of spreading the report being to enlist the sympathy of the United States with the side opposite to that accused of the atrocity.

An example of the reports is the following: "Eight hundred fugitives have arrived at Bari."

The occasion for their being fugitives and whence they came is not mentioned.

There were persistent reports yesterday of fighting outside Scutari, and it was said thirty-two Government supporters and eighteen insurgents were killed.

Another example of the rumors that reach Athens and are circulated from here is one received this morning from Bucharest, totally unconfirmed, which says that General Averescu, Rumanian military leader, has requested King Ferdinand to dismiss the Cabinet, "otherwise it will be overthrown with 50,000 bayonets."

HERRIOT WOULD ACCEPT REPORT

Prospective French Premier Contradicts Reports of Alleged Anti-American Expressions.

TALKS LIKE POINCARE

PARIS, June 3 (Canadian Press). —Edouard Herriot, the prospective Premier, speaking before a joint caucus of the Radical and Socialist Parties last night, came out flatly for adoption of the Dawes report, and gave assurances that his financial policy would be "sane and founded on rigorous balancing of the budget."

M. Herriot emphasised that there was no afterthought attached to his approval of the experts' plans.

"In the crisis we are not encountering," he said, "people have attributed to me words which might admit of the belief that I under-estimated the services of the United States has rendered France. All my speeches, my writings, contradict those statements. In all instances I have rendered homage to the magnificent and disinterested aid which the United States extended to France during the war. Recently as a member of the Finance Commission I have been able to appreciate the aid the United States brought us in bolstering up our national currency.

"If I take direction of affairs, I shall ask the American Democracy to have the same confidence in me as I have in it. It can be assured in any case that I will practice a sane financial policy founded on rigorous balancing of the budget. I shall furthermore practice a policy of peace on the basis of the experts' report, which I approve completely and without mental reservations."

CONFERENCE DELAYED.

LONDON, June 3 (Canadian Press). — With reference to Paris reports of the pourparlers and a meeting between Premier MacDonald and M. Herriot, the view held by officials of the Foreign Office in London is that any action on the Dawes report is likely to be delayed ten days or more by the change in the French Government.

Mr. MacDonald may make a flying visit to Paris when M. Herriot definitely assumes the Premiership, but any formal conference between the two Premiers can hardly occur until late in July.

The report that the British Prime Minister is writing to M. Herriot is not strictly accurate, but there has been an exchange of views between the Premier and the Embassy at Paris.

C.P.R. EXTENSIONS.

WINNIPEG, June 3.—(Canadian Press).—The construction of approximately five hundred miles of branch lines in Saskatchewan and Alberta will be undertaken by the Canadian Pacific Railway this year, it was announced here yesterday by D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines. Considerable work has already been carried on on some of the branch lines.

Crops Retarded By Cold Weather

WINNIPEG, June 3 (Canadian Press). — Cold weather and frosts, without causing any serious damage, have had the effect of retarding the growth of crops in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, according to the weekly crop report of the Canadian National Railways, issued on Monday.

Rain is badly needed in these two provinces, with the ground beginning to dry out, while more favourable weather conditions are reported in Alberta, with rain and snow of the past week ensuring sufficient moisture for some time.

Wheat in certain districts of this province is as high as eight inches, with other coarse grains also showing above ground.

Seeding in Alberta is completed, with the exception of some green feed.

In Manitoba wheat seeding is completed, and an average of 65 per cent. of the coarse grains in the ground.

Seeding in Saskatchewan is expected to be general by 5th June.

448 JAPANESE CANADA'S SHARE

Last Year's Immigrants From Nippon Exceeded Quota Agreed by Government.

PROTEST TO OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, June 3. — (Canadian Press). — Further restriction of Japanese immigration into Canada is under consideration by the Government. This was revealed yesterday in the House of Commons when a question regarding Oriental immigrants was asked. Hon. H. H. Stevens asked if the Government had received representations from retail merchants in British Columbia asking for the same restrictions on Japanese as now exist in reference to Chinese and what the Government intended to do about it.

The Minister of Immigration replied that such representations had been received and "the question of the advisability of further restricting Japanese immigration is under consideration."

The Canadian Government has no agreement with the Japanese Government not to pass further restrictive legislation, it was stated. The Japanese Government has agreed to restrict to 150 annually the number of Japanese coming to Canada as household servants of agricultural laborers and this constitutes the quota of Japanese now allowed to enter the country. Last year 448 Japanese came to Canada.

GOLD FIELD DAM BROKE TURNING CREEK TO RIVER

Agent of J. R. Booth Lumber Co. Swept Into Flood With Tree He Climbed.

BANK BROKE UNDER HIM

Escaped After Many Thrills The Movies Would Envy.

DENE, Ont., June 3.—(Canadian Press).—A dam constructed by the J. R. Booth Lumber Company to conserve the waters of Dasserat Lake in the vicinity of Boucher and Gainard's stopping place, half-way into the Rouyn Gold Field, gave way Friday night, and the little creek between Dasserot Lake and Opassatika Lake is now a raging torrent.

The stables and some other buildings at the north end of Opassatika Lake, owned by Boucher and Gainard were swept away, trees were uprooted and several persons had narrow escapes. There was no loss of life, however.

Thrilling Escape.

One of J. R. Booth's agents had a thrilling experience. Hearing the rush of the waters behind him, and sensing that the dam had gone, he made a wild dash for a tree and climbed it to escape, as he saw the oncoming torrent. The tree, however, was uprooted and swept down with the raging waters. Clinging grimly to the tree, he waited until it was swept near the bank of the creek and managed to jump to what he again thought was a safe spot.

No sooner had his feet touched earth again when the bank, undermined by the swollen stream, began to give way, and he was once more precipitated into the torrent. He managed to keep his head above water, and in a short time was able to reach the bank and escape.

Banks Washed Away.

One of the men at Boucher and Gainard's was in the stable feeding the horses when he heard the rush of water. He managed to turn the horses loose and make his own escape just a few seconds before the stable collapsed.

The bank of the creek, in some places twenty to thirty feet high, were washed away, and instead of a narrow stream there is a river many yards wide.

YUKON WIRELESS COST

Revenue From Two Stations Small Compared With Maintenance.

OTTAWA, June 3. — (Canadian Press).—The cost of installation and maintenance of the wireless station at Dawson and Mayo, Yukon Territory, was the subject of a question in the House of Commons Monday, when George Black (Conservative, Yukon) was informed that it cost $11,438 to build the Dawson station and $8,621 to build the one at Mayo, which at present is the only telegraphic communication the famous silver mine has with the outside world.

It has cost $4,669 to maintain the Dawson station and $3,327 to maintain the Mayo station during the past year. The revenues collected at each station total respectively $363 and $576.

CANADIAN SAILOR SPENT TWO YEARS ON PACIFIC

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Canadian Press.) — After beating off Chinese pirates, floating through two typhoons, losing his rudder, eating cow dog and part of a sixteen foot python which he killed in a single combat, and making a two year voyage across the Pacific and through the Atlantic in a fifty-three foot junk of his own construction, Captain George Waard, Canadian, of Dutch parentage, has anchored his queer craft in the calm waters of Sheepshead Bay, at Long Island.

CAMPBELLFORD PLANS ERECT TOWN BUILDING FOR A WAR MEMORIAL

Chief Duncalfe to Be Relieved of Some of His Duties-- Council Meeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 3. —The members of the Campbellford Town Council, in regular session last night, voted unanimously to engage W. R. Blackwell and Son, the Peterborough Architects, to prepare plans for a town building, to be erected as a memorial to the men from this district who lost their lives in the war. Where the estimated cost of this building is ascertained, a bylaw will be submitted to the people authorizing the expenditure.

This matter was brought up when Mayor Meyers suggested the appointment of a committee of the council to meet the members of the I.O.D.E. and a committe from the Chamber of Commerce to confer on the question of a soldiers' memorial. The council has already donated $1000 to a fund for this purpose and the I.O.D.E. have by their own efforts raised a sum in excess of this amount.

Councillor Johnston

Councillor Johnston said that the best kind of a memorial to put up would be a town building which would serve the living as well as hon or the dead. He called attention to the lack of such a place in the town and of the inadequacy of the Town Clerk's quarters and other offices in which civic employees are housed.

"Let us submit the questions to the people," continued the Alderman. If they give us the money all right and if they do not we will at least have their sentiments on the matter."

Mayor Meyers, Councillors Kingston and McDonald were appointed a committee to arrange with the architects for the preparation of plans and to confer with the Chamber of Commerce and the I.O.D.E. on the question. Reeve Davidson and other members of the Council backed up Councillor Johnston's position.

Relief For Chief.

Police Chief Duncalfe will be given assistance in his work. It was decided to advertise for a man whose duty it will be to enforce the dog by-law, also the by-laws dealing with such matters as snow shoveling, weeds and sanitation. The Chief will also be relieved of the duty of collecting the $5.00 poll tax, this work to be turned over to Tax Collector Cumming.

Chief Duncalfe appeared before the Council last night and explained that it was impossible for him to devote the time required for the proper enforcement of the by-laws. The collection of the poll tax was a difficult matter for it was hard to ascertain just who are liable. Returned men are exempt, but sometimes they pay it under a misapprehension and the money has to be returned to them.

The Chief reported that the fines imposed in 1923 totalled $823.60. The majority of the police court cases were for breaches of the O. T.A. and the town got no part of these fines when the convicted parties live outside the municipality. All fines collected are turned over to the police magistrate, the police office being merely the collecting agency.

To Place Scales.

The Council advertised for tenders for the transfer and the placing of the weigh scales recently purchased from P. J. Kelly and which will be set up near the depot for the use of shippers of live stock.

Two tenders were received. Mason and Hawkrigg offered to do the work for $295, while the tender of James O'Brien was for $90.

There was such a difference in the bids that neither tender was accepted as it was thought that the conditions as laid down in the advertisement had been misunderstood. Mayor Meyers, Cole and McDonald will act as a committee to deal with this matter further, meeting for that purpose at the Mayor's office Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

By-law Amended.

Reeve Davidson sponsored an amendment to the transient traders' by-law which provides that all such dealers pay a license fee of $200 flat, this to be refunded as their business tax falls due. Previously a sliding scale was in use.

New Lights Ordered.

A new light will be installed on the Havelock Road at the municipal boundary and another on Garry Street.

Parking Cars.

Parked cars in Campbellford are required to show two lights. This is regarded as a hardship by Chief Duncalfe and several memebrs of the Council. Town Solicitor Humphries will be asked to look into the law to see whether the Council has the right to pass a by-law relieving car owners of this condition.

Clerk McGregor will write the Department of Public Works for permission for the use of the new post office site as a place to park cars.

Concession to Hydro.

George Ironsides, general overseer for the Hydro in this district, will be given permission to run a line on the town polls from the Woollen Mill, which is supplied by power from the Hydro, to light his residence on Inkerman Street, the town to charge the Hydro a nominal rental for the use of the poles. The Hydro submitted a similar request last fall, but it was refused at that time.

Tenders For Bridge.

Tenders will be asked for the construction of piers for the new bridge over the creek near McKelvie and McCook's sawmill. Superintendent Killaly, of the Trent Canal, asked the price of a steel bridge which it is believed the Government has for sale at Healey Falls.

Letters From Ottawa.

Premier King, Hon. George P. Graham and Hon. Charles Stewart wrote separately acknowledging the receipt of a resolution passed at the May session of the Council, protesting against the granting of any concession to private companies to develop power on the St. Lawrence. All three officials promised that the resolution would be given due consideration.

To Fix Road.

Councillor Cole, chairman of the Committee on Roads and Bridges, was instructed to have certain repairs made to the roadway on Windsor Avenue.

In Days of Old.

Before Chief Duncalfe took office his predecessor was paid $145 a month. He had two assistants to enforce the by-laws, the one receiving $80 and the other $40 a month. The present Chief was also engaged at a small salary to watch prisoners in the lockup. It is thought that an assistant to the Chief can now be secured for about $30 a month, so that the cost of the police department will still be less than it formerly was.

The Chief told the Council last night that something must be done to repair the lockup, as it is not a fit place in which to keep a prisoner.

LITTLE UNEMPLOYMENT MAYOR MEYERS STATES

There is not a town within 150 miles of here," said Mayor Meyers at the Council meeting last night where employment conditions are as satisfactory as they are in Campbellford. This is largely due to the fact that the town is putting in sewers by day labor instead of by contract. Men are coming here from Port Hope and other nearby towns looking for work but we are taking care of our own citizens."

Councillor Kingston gave us another evidence of local property the small amount of taxes for last year remaining uncollected is compared with arrears in other places of similar size.

NORWOOD LODGE REMEMBER DEAD

Decoration Day on Sunday--List of Graves Decorated.

NORWOOD, June 3.—Norwood Oddfellows observed Decoration Day on Sunday afternoon. About thirty-four of the members of the local lodge and a few visiting brethren were in attendance. The members met at the lodge room at two o'clock and marched to the cemetery, where, under the direction of Mr. R. Dean, who acted as marshal, they were formed in order around the circle in the centre of the cemetery. The service was opened by Mr. Cleophas Deyman, N. G., who announced the hymn, 'Blest Be the Tie That Binds.' After singing of the hymn, Mr. H. Campbell, chaplain of the lodge, read a prayer which was followed by a short address by Rev. W. P. Rogers, pastor of the Methodist church. The Decoration Day service was then read by Mr. Deyman, N.G., and the hymn, "Abide With Me" was sung. Rev. W. R. Rogers pronounced the Benediction and the brethren marched around the cemetery and decorated the graves of twenty-three departed members. The graves had all been previously marked by a pennant with the initials I.O.O. F. on it. The following is a list of the graves decorated: Millicent Beckett, John Finlay, William Finlay, Robert Scott, Matthew Scott, Archibald Scott, Dr. G. A. Pettigrew, Wm. E. Roxburgh, Rev. Wm. Peer, Stanley Hendren, Samuel Ivey, Wilbert Brown, William Humphries, Harry Andrews, Roderick Wynn, C. I. Puffer.

BROWN'S FACTORY BURNED TO EARTH

Lakefield Was Scene of Bad Fire Yesterday--Flames Menaced Congested Section.

Brown's canoe factory in Lakefield was burned down yesterday with considerable loss, and the adjoining buildings were saved only by the untiring efforts of the fire department.

The fire was noticed about 5 o'clock by Harry Wanamaker, who raised the alarm. The building was then well alight, and within six minutes it was beyond hope of salvation.

The firemen and volunteers managed to get some partly finished canoes out, but the machinery, tools, patterns and materials stored in the building were lost. No cause is known for the fire which made rapid progress in the dry timbers. It is understood that the insurance does not nealy cover the heavy loss.

Situated as it was in the midst of frame buildings between Queen and Colborne streets, the flames from the burning building menaced that portion of the village and strenuous work on the part of the fire fighters was needed to prevent a dangerous conflagration. Almost adjoining the ruined building were the big skating rink and a dozen dry frame houses.

STIRLING AND THE DISTRICT

Team Ran Away and Scattered Cream and Calves Over the Road.

STIRLING, June 3. — Quite a stir was created on the streets on Saturday afternoon when the fire bell began to ring. It was a chimney blaze at Joe Rosebush's, at the west end of Church Street, which was soon extinguished by the chemical engine.

The excitement on Monday morning about 8 o'clock was due to a runaway team, owned by Mr. Don Campbell of Anson. They ran all the way from home, but came to a sudden stop when the waggon tongue struck an electric light pole at the Kirby House. On the trip three cans of cream and two calves were scattered by the way, and one of the horses was slightly injured when it fell on the sidewalk where they stopped.

Sowing Buckwheat.

There will be a great deal of buckwheat and millet sown as the farmers having low lands consider it too late for the ordinary grain crops.

Potato planting and corn sowing will be the work of the farmers this week, as the indications are for warmer weather.

Oddfellows' Visit.

The Oddfellows of Stirling and Tweed will visit Madoc Lodge No. 179 to-night, and exemplify degree work. A good time is anticipated.

Improving Roads.

The county roadmen began drawing gravel from Christie's Pit this morning to complete the grading of the Marmora Road just north of the village, where it was rebuilt last fall. The work is under the supervision of Mr. Hiram Dafoe.

Jack Frost was rather hard on plants in some of the gardens last Friday night.

Both local drovers are shipping stock to-day. Hogs are bringing $7.50 per cwt.

Stirling Creamery is running full capacity these days, churning ten or twelve times weekly. In one churning last week there was over 1,200 pounds of butter.

Fruit trees are well loaded with bloom, which would indicate a good crop if weather conditions are favourable.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. D. V. Sinclair, Miss A. V. Sinclair, and Miss Ruth Sinclair, of Belleville, were callers on Mrs. M. W. Sine, and stayed for tea on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGrath, who have been ill with pneumonia, were reported somewhat better yesterday.

Mrs. Woodward, of the Ridge Road, who has been ill for some time, passed away on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Finkle, of Belleville, were Sunday afternoon visitors at Mr. E. T. Williams.

Mr. W. S. Martin left this morning for Picton to attend the annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Mrs. James Wright, who suffered a stroke two weeks ago, is not improving very much.

Mr. George Martin, of Vancouver, B.C., arrived in town on Saturday afternoon to visit his father, Mr. W. S. Martin, and brother Mr. H. C. Martin. The latter met him in Belleville. He is on his way to England, this being his second trip this year.

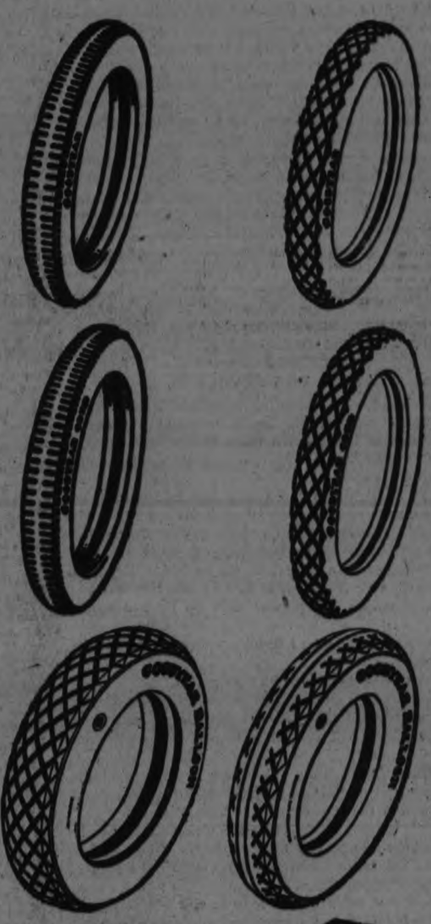
GOODYEAR
MADE IN CANADA

A Complete Line of Tires

Goodyear recognizes the definite need for a number of different types of tires.

Goodyear builds in the All-Weather Cord the acknowledged tire leader of the World in mileage, road-grip and beauty. Its price is lower than ever before.

But in order to have still less invested in your car you may want a tire at a still lower price. So with road-grip equal to any but the All-Weather Tread, Goodyear has produced other high-quality, low cost-per-mile tires bearing the Goodyear name.



HIGH-PRESSURE TIRES

Wingfoot Fabric

An outstanding selection by the manufacturers of light cars. Heavily demanded the world over; guaranteed—bears the Goodyear name. Hundreds of thousands sold during past five years; only a fraction of 1% presented for adjustment.

All-Weather Fabric

A tire which many years ago introduced the idea of, and proved the value of, Oversize and Road-grip. A popular and low cost-per-mile tire, especially for dirt roads or business cars where road-grip and cost-per-mile are more important than the riding quality of low air-pressure.

Wingfoot Cord

Goodyear's recognition of the fact that many people want to consider seriously the amount they invest in their cars. Excelled in road-grip by the All-Weather Tread only; excelled in mileage by no other.

All-Weather Cord

The peak of road-grip and mileage combined. A great number of Canadian tire repairmen and car dealers say that its mileage exceeds by at least 25% the mileage of the next best cord tire. Its road-grip is apparent upon examination; more appreciated in use. Minor accidents—the result of stopping a few inches too late—cause most of the repair bills to fenders, lamps and radiators. Even collision insurance does not cover these small bills of less than $25.00—but these bills are a high percentage of annual tire cost. Road-grip combined with surplus mileage makes the All-Weather Cord the most widely-used cord tire in the world.

BALLOON TIRES

For Your Present Wheels

Flexible, low pressure tires which act like pillows of air under your car. Developed by Goodyear so that you can have balloon tire advantages without change of wheels or rims. Go on most present cars—at relatively small increase over the price per tire which you have been paying. The Goodyear Selected Dealer can tell you what size of balloon tire replaces your present tires and can equip your car with two or four balloon tires as you wish.

For New, Smaller Wheels

Should your car not provide sufficient clearance for Goodyear Balloon Tires on your present rims, see your Goodyear Selected Dealer, your car dealer, or the nearest Goodyear branch, regarding new, smaller wheels, and Goodyear Balloon Tires to fit.

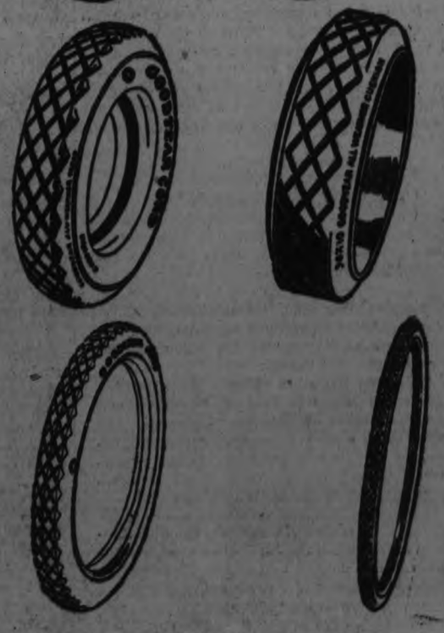
TRUCK TIRES

All-Weather Cord

Massive pneumatic tires which cushion trucks over all kinds of roads. Enlarge your trucking radius greatly. Add speed and so reduce costs. Give the road-grip of the All-Weather Tread. Protect fragile loads. Render splendid mileage.

All-Weather, All-Rubber Cushion

Cushioning and road-grip added to the all-rubber truck tire. Saves the truck and the load to a surprising extent. Resists skidding. Gives splendid traction — starts the truck off without "spinning" wheels. All-Weather Tread can be recut when the original blocks are worn down.



MOTORCYCLE TIRES

The All-Weather Tread protects the motorcyclist just as it does the motorist. Its great road-grip is needed even more in rounding corners and in travelling country roads. Just as famous for mileage as its bigger brothers.

BICYCLE TIRES

The smallest tire of the Goodyear line—but the same high quality as any Goodyear Tire. Has the sharp-edged blocks of the All-Weather Tread to protect against skidding. Tough tread stock resists punctures and gives very long mileage.

The Goodyear Selected Dealer

There are about 10,000 tire dealers in Canada—about four times too many. Too many profits, too much duplicating of effort, too many stocks of tires.

Now Goodyear sells through only 2,500 selected dealers. And because the Goodyear line is the leading line, these selected dealers in every community make it possible for you to get Goodyear Tires from the concern best fitted to give you hesping value and real service.

Let the Goodyear Selected Dealer show you his complete line, explain the advantages of each and tell you of the service they are giving your neighbors.

IT GETS BACK TO THE FARMER.

It is complained in a despatch from Stratford that a number of immigrants who have secured loans to enable them to come to Canadian farms merely remain long enough to repay the loans and then hit the trail for the cities, or else cross the border into the United States.

Undoubtedly there is a great deal of that kind of thing going on throughout Ontario, but what can be done about it?

The farmer cannot pay the wages that such men can secure in industrial positions.

As for the workers themselves they will naturally go where they can obtain the most remuneration for their services.

It all gets back to the condition that the farmer's position must be improved.

Until agriculture is restored to a condition of prosperity it is inevitable that there will be a scarcity of farm labour and a reluctance on the part of workers to accept positions in the country when there is the alternative of better wages and a shorter working day offered by urban industry.

MORE SPORT FIELDS.

The suggestion advanced by Rotarian Alex. Kay at yesterday's meeting of the Rotary Club that Rotarians, Kiwanians, Y.M.C.A., Manufacturers' Association and other local organizations unite in a campaign to induce the city fathers to provide more facilities for healthful sport and recreation will have much support.

Mr. Kay believes that Riverside Park should be available without charge, and that the Council should provide caretakers for that park and for the Exhibition Grounds during the summer months.

It is doubtful whether any ball club in Ontario is assessed so highly for the use of a municipally-owned park as is the Peterborough Central Ontario League Club, which is not only called upon to pay an annual rental of $1,000, but is required to pay the salary of a caretaker, amounting to $500 more.

If the City Council were to follow Mr. Kay's recommendation it would mean the loss of $1,000 in revenue and the payment of $1,000 in salaries, a matter of $2,000 a year.

Toronto spends $100,000 a year in providing sport fields for its young people.

There is, therefore, nothing unreasonable in suggesting that Peterborough should pay the fiftieth part of that sum, especially when the tangible dividends in the shape of healthier and more contented boys and girls are considered.

Peterborough is admittedly short of athletic grounds—the lack of accommodation being a reproach to a community whose athletes were able last year to win four Provincial championships.

AFTER THE REVOLVER.

Controller Treleaven of Hamilton is starting a campaign to secure more drastic regulations in regard to the sale and possession of revolvers, and the Examiner is sure that a large measure of public opinion will back his efforts.

The Controller's home city has had within the last few days several good reasons for urging that it be made less easy to secure these deadly firearms.

A gun battle between motorcycle police and armed bandits caused a turmoil in the centre of Hamilton and resulted in the death of one of the criminals.

A Hamilton citizen was held up by two armed men.

Another resident of Hamilton was murdered with a revolver in Buffalo.

Day after day these killings go on.

How great the traffic in revolvers is the figures given out by a single Chicago wholesale firm, which reports that in ten years it sold more than a million dollars' worth.

This firm is going out of the revolver business, sacrificing large profits in deference to public sentiment and in the interest of public safety.

But, unfortunately, there are plenty of firms who are deaf to one and indifferent to the other, and so long as the law permits the transactions the sale of revolvers will continue.

And just as surely, so long as there is no drastic penalty for carrying a revolver, there will be homicides and crimes of violence in which the easily-concealed weapon plays the principal role.

In Great Britain the revolver is a rarity; few criminals carry one, and the murder record in the whole of the British Isles is not as great as in one large United States city where almost every crook is armed.

The moral needs no pointing.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

Newspapers and public speakers have frequently referred to the fact that Canada is over-governed, pointing out that there are too many laws, too many law-makers, too many civil servants, too great an overhead.

It remained for the Montreal Kiwanis Club to make some definite suggestions along this line.

Thus at a recent meeting the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Whereas the overlapping and duplication of governing bodies in Federal, Provincial and other departments of Canadian Government has resulted in an excessive number of members, officers, executives and employees in all departments of Government and Civil Service and consequently at an unreasonable and excessive cost, be it resolved: That the representatives in each Legislative be reduced in number, the Civil Service be consolidated, the duplication of officers be eliminated and modern and efficient methods be employed to thereby reduce the national debt and the taxes on industries."

The Kiwanis Club of any Canadian city, the Examiner is confident, can be accepted as a pretty accurate barometer of public opinion.

It is composed of representatives of many different professions and walks in life and, of men of different political affiliations.

When such an organization unanimously co-operates in sounding a note of alarm and warning, the governing bodies in Canada would do well to pay some attention to its resolution.

Canada could scrap half of her present machinery of government, get better service and reduce the annual expense count in half.

PARLIAMENT AND THE CANADIAN NATIONAL.

Strong presumptive evidence being forthcoming that Sir Henry Thornton is a big enough man to put the Canadian National Railway system on its feet, the new tactics of those who are determined to cripple the system, preparatory to its dismemberment, are directed towards making his position intolerable to a man who has any respect for himself. If Sir Henry could be driven, by a succession of pin pricks and insults, into quitting, this would be a warning to other railroad men, big enough for the job, to have nothing to do with the Canadian National Railway. The management of the road would then inevitably deteriorate: it would become the sport and prey of politicians; and there would follow rapid disintegration and ultimate collapse. This is what some of our Canadian "patriots" want; and they will work unceasingly and unscrupulously to bring it about. The more Sir Henry Thornton succeeds, the more determined they will be in their assaults upon him.

It is in Parliament, of course, that the most dangerous and annoying jabs of the pin-pricking campaign can be delivered; because there they can be screened by an appearance of devotion to the public interest. The road is the property of the Canadian people; Parliament represents the people: why, then, should not Parliament supervise, investigate and control the administration of the railway? There is a surface appearance of validity to the argument. It is natural for members of the opposition to exaggerate their rights of investigation and supervision; and, even when their motives are quite disinterested, they can be too easiy influenced to courses injurious to the railway. In the last Parliament Mr. Fielding, being then in opposition, seriously proposed that the whole Canadian National budget should be voted, item by item, by Parliament, basing his demand upon the supreme right of Parliament to control public moneys. Mr. Fielding should have known better than to urge so preposterous a course; nothing was heard about his proposal once he became a member of the Government. But here is Sir Henry Drayton, who is an ex-Finance Minister and Mr. Meighen's first lieutenant in the Commons, making an equally absurd and dangerous proposal. Sir Henry has a resolution before Parliament which reads thus:

"That, in the opinion of this House, a select standing committee on National Railways and Shipping should be appointed, and that to said committee should be referred the estimates for the Canadian National Railway system and for the Mercantile Marine, and all questions involving new capital commitments and the disposition of properties and assets, and that as well to said committee should be referred during each session the annual reports of the said system and Mercantile Marine for such enquiry as may be exercised by, and with such powers of enquiry, as are possed by the select standing committee on public accounts with relation to the Auditor General's report. And further, that said committee should be entrusted to make recommendations to this House as to what further, if any, details or improvement of method should appear in said annual reports."

If the Canadian National Railway is to become a mere department of the Government, with all its officials ranking as civil servants there can be no objection to the proposed procedure; but it has been the policy of the country, with the hearty approval of the great mass of the people, to operate the railway on the basis of a corporation with a minimum of political interference. Sir Henry Drayton's proposal to have a Parliamentary committee, armed with the inquisitorial powers of the public accounts, go yearly into all the details of the operation, would bring the whole system into politics and make it the football of contending parties. The effect would be to destroy discipline, the morale of the service, and initiative; and rapidly turn the Canadian National Railway into a decaying and dying organization. Our parties have got to keep their hands off the Canadian National Railway or they will destroy it: and it is only the manifestation of vigorous public opinion that will restrain them.

It is, of course, true that there is in the organization of the Canadian National Railway a defect which needs remedying. If the analogy of the corporation is to be maintained the shareholders of the company, who are the people of Canada, ought to have some means by which they can create a directorate which will, on purely business lines, control policy and select the higher officials. Parliament cannot function successfully as that directorate: and the appointment of the directors, as a political act, by the Government of the day is only one degree less objectionable. There is here a great and serious problem; and Parliament would be much more profitably employed in trying to solve it than in devising means by which it can meddle with the working of the railway system, which is something it cannot be expected to understand.—Manitoba Free Press.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 2.—Heavier receipts encouraged the hope of lower prices and to offset this commission men opened with higher quotations. First sales did not exhibit much change from last week except in the heavy export cattle, which in some instances were down 25 cents a cwt., with quite a sprinking going at $7.50 a cwt. A small bunch of steers over 1,300 lbs. each brought $8.10 and a load of mixed steers and heifers $7.75 a cwt.

There were some nice specimens of handy and medium weight butchers on offer, but these will bring scarcely steady prices. For a choice load of heavy Western steers, there was a little competition and a local retail butcher bid $8 a cwt. for them just as a try-out of their killing qualities. Arnold Bros. bought these at $8 and they weighed 1,267 lbs. each. Except for baby beeves which sold up to $8.75 a cwt, this was the top price paid for butchers. Dunn & Levack had two loads of choice export steers and a bid of $8.25 failed to effect a sale.

During the morning it became evident that prices had to be lowered on butchers from 15 to 25 cents a cwt. One good load of mixed handyweights and babies was sold by Shields and Atwell at $7.50 a cwt. to the packers. Butchers' cows were not quite as firm as they have been and very few made $6 a cwt. Good cows were $5.25 to $5.50 and medium cows $4.75. Only a few bulls were in and the average butchers' bull brought $5.50 a cwt. Stockers and feeders were not active but prices were steady. One load of 800-lb. westerns sold at $5.70 a cwt. and a load of heavier Ontario's at $6.75. The market was overloaded with butchers' cattle today. There will be a carryover and the average drop in prices is expected to reach 25 cents a cwt.

There did not appear to be any particular change in the calf pens. Real good vealers held from 10 to 11 cents a pound and good mediums at 9 cents. Common calves are steady, but not an easy sale. The undertone of this market was a little firmer.

Lambs were just a little irregular and after an easier opening they strengthened. A bunch opened the market at 16 cents a pound, and this was followed by a sale at 17½ cents, and later 18 cents was made on some choice lambs. Yearlings sold at 13 cents and handyweight woolled sheep at 8 cents.

In hogs the price was firmer, and the $7.50 a cwt., f.o.b. was well established in this morning's sales.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, June 2. — The domestic cash grain market was quiet to-day. A moderate business was passing in flour. There is nothing new in the millfeed market and trade in rolled oats was quiet. The tone of the baled hay market was firm. The egg situation was without new developments. A fair trade was done in potatoes. Prices for butter were off3-8c per lb. There is a strong undetone to the cheese maket.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, June 2.— Arrivals 1895 cattle and calves; 2035 hogs, and 7 sheep.

With the demand generally restricted trading on the cattle market was comparatively inactive. A few choice butchers moved out on a fairly steady basis but other classes showed a weaker tendency and prospects are that easier prices will prevail in sympathy with the lower trend of the outside markets.

The hog market indicates a steady tone over the close of last week with thick smooths at $7.10 and select bacons $7.81.

Due to the lack of sufficient offerings the sheep and lamb market was not established.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 2. — The egg situation remains unchanged. Receipts have fallen off slightly but the surplus, above the storage and domestic trade requirements is piling up rapidly and a decline in prices is expected. The quality of eggs received now is not so good and dealers are finding seconds difficult to move.

Toronto market easier. Country shippers are paying extras 25 to 26c; firsts 23, seconds 17c.

Montreal market firm. Jobbing specials 35c; extras 32; firsts 28; seconds 24.

Manitoba market easier with light receipts. Dealers are quoting country shippers delivered extras 24, firsts 22, seconds 18.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 2. — General selling, variously accounted for as due to an adjournment vote at Washington and to hedging sales from the southwest, led to a sharp break in the wheat prices to-day. There was an unsettled closing, 1 7-8c and 2 3-8c net lower, July 1.03 5-8 to $1.03 3-4 and September $1.05½ and 5-8c to $1.05 5-8. Corn finished unchanged to 1-2 and 5-8c down and oats 1-8c to 5-8c off. In provisions the outcome was 12 and 15c to 17 and 20c advance.

In contrast to the pronounced weakness during the last part of the day the wheat market earlier showed considerable firmness owing chiefly to 1924 unofficial crop estimates. These crop figures suggested a production 103,000,000 bushels less than was harvested in 1923. Bullish sentiment was also temporarily encouraged by the fact that for the first time this year the July delivery at Winnipeg commanded a premium over Chicago. Apparently, however, bullish aspects of the crop estimates made public here had been already discounted, and notable lack of support became evident when selling broadened out in the final hour.

ODDFELLOWS AT DIVINE SERVICE

Lodge Attended Springbrook Church, Where Rev. D. R. Clare Was the Preacher.

SPOKE OF MYSTERIES.

MARMORA, June 2.—On Sunday last the Oddfellows Lodge attended Springbrook Church. The Rev. D. R. Clare chose as his text, Acts 8:30, "Understandest thou what thou readest?"

In introducing his subject, Mr. Clare spoke of the mysteries of the earth, sky and water. Of especial wonder are the heavens, concerning which astronomists are learning something new every day. Even a drop of water or a grain of sand, by the aid of a microscope, is turned into something wonderful to analyze.

Life, with its thought, and affections, is a mystery. No one knows where thought comes from or where it goes.

Religion has its mysteries. Not only do we study the Bible to get an idea of our religion, but life itself is continually teaching us something new concerning our beliefs.

Mystery creates interest. Our ambitions are aroused and we long to know and we can, by perseverance, learn to know of these things.

Our religion creates a love in us for our friends and our Christ. Christ says he is "the way, the truth and the light." The principles of friendship, truth and love, which should be learned by all, are especially emphasized by this order.

Mrs. Doupe and her son, Fred, returned from Toronto last week.

Letter From London.

Mrs. C. A. Bleeker has received word from her son Howard, who was at the time of writing in London. Howard Bleeker left immediately after the close of his university year for a trip through England and France. This letter, written on May 17, gives his description of London, with which he is more than delighted. Arriving there in one of the best seasons of the year, he finds the parks and squares are even more beautiful than he was expecting.

The girls of Miss Williams' Sunday School class held their class picnic down the river on Saturday. This is about the first picnic of the season, and was a great success, as far as fun goes. Each girl took a girl chum along.

On Saturday afternoon the Women's Institute held a rummage and cooking sale in the council chamber. The cooking especially found a ready sale and some of the other things sold quickly. The ladies hold this sale annually and give the proceeds to the Public Library for new books.

DRAYTON URGES

vocated a larger measure of information for parliament in regard to the affairs of the National Railways.

If the publicity asked for by Mr. King had been granted at that time, the business of the railways would have been seriously impaired.

The present prime minister at that time had said "the more extensive a business becomes the greater is the need of publicity." On March 22, 1921, Mr. King had made a motion to the effect that, subject to reservations of exceptional cases where, information might be witheld, it was "the undoubted right of parliament to demand copies of all reports, accounts, correspondence and papers in relation to the management of every department of public service including the Canadian National Railways."

Like Government Dept.

Such a motion, said Sir Henry Drayton, would put the current business of the C.N.R. in exactly the same position as any department of the government. Sir Henry quoted further from a speech by Mr. King in which it was stated that "the one and only safeguard against political interference and control is the frankest, freest and fullest publicity in regard to all the affairs of these railways."

Forke's Position

Mr. Forke expressed approval of some of the ideas in the speech of Sir Henry Drayton. The people of this country had to supply the money with which to meet the obligations of the system. Therefore Parliament could not abrogate its responsibility. He was not prepared to say that the representatives of the people could hand over the system to a board of directors and wash their hands of it. The question to be decided was how the system could be kept out of the realm of party politics and at the same time Parliament exercise a proper jurisdiction over it.

On the other hand said Mr. Forke he was opposed to the appointment of a select committee of the House which would almost certainly be composed of a majority of Government members and be under Government control which would be able to call members of the railway board as witnesses and elicit details of management and policy which ought not to be divulged.

There had been a vast improvement in the operation of the Canadian National in the last two years, said Mr. Forke. The crop had never been handled more efficiently than last year, and there were very few complaints in regard to the movement. The passengers service also showed great improvement. Carriages were clean, trains generally on time and dining and sleeping car service very good. The people of Canada had reason to be proud of the system.

'MY IRISH ROSE' AT LAKEFIELD

Play Produced in Town Hall by Ennismore Talent—Largely Attended.

DRAMATIC CLUB'S VISIT.

LAKEFIELD, June 3.—The Dramatic Society of St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, gave their play, "My Irish Rose," in the Memorial Hall on Friday evening last, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. Paul's Church. There was a splendid crowd, which included a large number from Peterboro and Ennismore, and financially, and from the standpoint of a good entertainment, the evening was a great success. The Dramatic Society of St. Martin's is not a new organization, and has had a reputation for years of giving splendid plays, and this is considered their best effort. The parts were well taken and the interest in the plot was kept up throughout; there was the love interest and the comedy and pathos, without which no Irish play is complete. After the entertainment, Hendren's orchestra supplied music for dancing. Refreshments were served by the ladies of St. Paul's Church. This was the first visit of St. Martin's Dramatic Club to the village, and one may hope they will return again in the near future.

To Build Bridge.

Material and machinery are being brought to the village for the work of building the new county bridge over the Otonabee River. The dam has been put in shape for traffic which will be strictly supervised by men appointed for the purpose. When the present structure was erected forty-two years ago, a ferry running from the site of Armstrong's Mill to the foot of Reid Street, took care of the traffic during the day, and if a resident of "Kentucky" wished to cross the river at night he travelled per plank over the roaring Otonabee, which was quite an adventure in itself. Although these were the days before prohibition had reared itself in our midst, there was no accident reported.

Before the previous structure was torn down, and while considered as passable, a farmer from Smith, riding his horse (a common mode of travel at that time) over the bridge, broke the plank flooring, and, with his steed, was plunged into the river. The horse at once began to swin ashore and the rider seized the horse's tail and reached the shore in safety. This incident finally decided the County Council that a new bridge was necessary, and the present structure was built. Now it, too, must pass away, for, in the words of a quaint Scotch song, "For brigs are like the best o' us, they only hae their day."

A meeting is being held in St. John's Schoolroom on Monday evening to organize a girl's soft ball team.

W. J. Lemay, of Lakefield, has been successful in passing his fourth year examinations at the Ontario Dental College. Mr. Lemay is one of the old boys of the Lakefield High School.

Crushed stone has been put on the Main Street, opposite the residence of J. F. Lillecrop. Work on the roads is going ahead at a rapid rate, and the village will soon have every street put in first-class condition. As soon as possible the first coat of oil will be put on.

A.Y.P.A. Council Meeting.

The A.Y.P.A. District Council of Peterboro will hold its regular meeting in the Lakefield Memorial Hall on Thursday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock. Representatives from Peterboro, Millbrook, Omemee, Perrytown, Cavan, and other places are expected.

On Sunday next, during the absence of Rev. P. L. Jull, there will be Union services of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches.

Lakefield Personals.

Mr. James Leighton, of Winnipeg, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith last week.

Miss Gwendoline Simpson, of Hall's Bridge, was a week-end visitor at her home in the village.

Mrs. Barker leaves this week for England where she will spend a few months. This is Mrs. Barker's firs visit home after a residence of eleven years in Canada. She will visit in Morley, Leeds, and other Yorkshire towns, and also visit the British Empire Exhibition in London with her elder son, George, who resides in England.

Miss Olive Northcott, of Fraserville was in the village for the week-end.

G. W. N. Pattrick, of Bowmanville, is visiting friends in the village.

Rev. P. L. Jull will attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which meets this week in Owen Sound.

Rev. Walter Cox will be in Toronto this week attending the Synod of the Diocese of Toronto.

Rev. T. L. White and Mrs. J. C. Harvey and Mrs. W. E. Gillman are delegates to the Baptist Association which meets in Port Hope this week.

INTELLECTUAL ANARCHIST

ter. This discussion took him far afield in realms of law, philosophy, theology, psychology and what not. He seemed to take considerable pleasure in showing off his knowledge before Chief Hughes.

Once he digressed to remark on the beauty of a clump of lilac bushes in the grounds of the South Shore Country Club—and that led him into a dissertation on esthetics.

He seemed to like to dwell on the fact that he is a confessed murderer, and asked everyone in the car if they thought less of him.

Once he leaned over abruptly, and touched the reporter on the knee. He observed:

"Now your're Contaminated!"

"You've been touched by a murderer!"

Finally his agile mind turned to philosophy and particularly to the philosophy of the cynics. Schopenhauer, it appears, is one of his particular gods. In this connection he made an observation which apparently has an intimate connection with the case and which may serve to reveal his mental processes. He said:

"A thirst for knowledge is highly commendable no matter what extreme pain or injury it may inflict upon others. A six year old boy is justified in pulling the wings from a fly if by so doing he learns that without wings the fly is helpless."

Was this then his attitude towards Robert Franks?

There is not, he asserted, a standard of morality by which any individual, or that individual's acts may be judged. Each person, he contended is, after all, his own judge and jury. In the course of his dissertation he asserted that he is an athiest—an intellectual anarchist.

Digs with Bare Hands.

By this time the party had arrived at Hessville, at the spot where Robert Franks's shoes were found on Saturday. Again it was Loeb who left the car. He searched around, keeping up a running fire of conversation with Chief Hughes. He remarked:

"This looks like it had been dug up."

The next moment he was on his knees, digging into the dirt and the gravel with his bare hands. He found nothing however and stood up again to take his bearings.

He selected another spot, and again he dug with his hands. A farmer came up then and offered the use of a rake. With this implement Loeb uncovered the belt.

It was found in three sections, in three different spots—the buckle in one mound, the belt itself in another, and in the third the loops. It is a web belt, blue with red and yellow stripes in the centre. The buckle is of gold.

Loeb explained that he had separated the belt into sections to make it more difficult to find. It was. It was thus they took the type off the typewriter and threw it in at a different spot in the lagoon. A detective asked:

"What was Leopold doing while you buried the belt"

Loeb replied:

"He was in the car taking the trousers and socks off of Robert's body."

With the belt safely in their possession the detectives then drove back to the lagoon and again Chief Hughes and those in his car were regaled with an expose of Leopold's book learning.

Back at the lagoon, Captain Prendergast approached the car, saying:

"I guess it's no use, chief, we can not find it. I've arranged, though, for an electro-magnet and will try it that way."

Leopold spoke up at once:

"It'll do you no good. It's in a leather case."

It was explained to him then that a magnet will operate through leather. For the time, Leopold subsided, apparently hurt that his knowledge had been questioned. After a bit, he turned to the chief, saying:

"Would you accept a cigar from a criminal?"

The chief would—and did.

It was shortly after this incident that Leopold launched into his attack on Loeb.

Chief Hughes, injured some time ago in an accident, directed that the car be driven to St. Luke's Hospital so that his injury could be dressed. Then it was driven to the State Attorney's office where Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, attorneys employed by the boy's parents, were waiting to confer with them.

DRAMATIC CLUB OF COE HILL IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Stalled on Hill, Upset, Shooting Members of Theatre Club Through Top.

PLAY WAS CRIPPLED

Performers Arrived Bruised But Game For Second Act.

APSLEY, June 2.—The Dramatic Club of Coe Hill Methodist Church performed the three-act comedy, "The Bashful Mr. Bobbs," on Friday evening in the St. George's Parish Hall before a fairly large and appreciative audience. The members were rather handicapped during the first act, as owing to the non-arrival of half of the company, the missing roles had to be played by some of the other characters, or omitted altogether. They, however, arrived in time for the second act. It transpired that the delay was caused by an accident to the auto driven by Mr. Sexsmith of Coe Hill. The car stalled on Hawkes Hill and on backing down the driver lost control, the car overturned, the occupants going through the top. Fortunately they escaped with minor injuries, but the car was badly damaged. Mr. Hawkes brought the travellers on to Apsley, and they went through the play none the less efficiently for their adventure. The characters in the play were as follows:

Katherine, Henderson, A Young Wife, Miss Hunter; Frederick Henderson, Her Husband, E. Moyes; Mrs. Wiggins, The Landlady, Mrs. L. Gordon; Obadiah Stump, A Fresh Country Product, Mr. Brenton; Frances Wittaker, An Athletic Girl, G. Hoddinott; Rosalie Otis, A Scoeity Bud, G. Blackburn; Robert B. Bobbs, The Bashful One, F. Walker, Jr.; Jean Graham, A Coe Hill Peach, J. Poste; Marston Bobbs, Anything But Bashful, Rev. E. Belnap; Celesta Vanderpool, Of The Movies, Mrs. E. Belnap; Julie, Her French Maid, H. Ruckstuhl.

'GATOR WITH PARROTS.

TAMPICO, Mexico, June 3.—The man-eating alligator which escaped from a zoo here recently was found three days later sleeping in the parrots' cage. The alligator made his escape in the night, and next morning posses scoured the vicinity for the reptile. A general alarm was sounded throughout the city.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Mr. Levi Redden Died Suddenly at His Home Last Evening — Cheese Board Meeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 3.—Levi Redden died suddenly at his home last evening, the immediate cause of death being a paralytic stroke. He was over 50 years of age, a native of Campbellford, but had been in Toronto for several years, returning here about a year ago since which time he has been extensively exgaged in the building business. It was he who purchased the old mill from the village of Havelock, last fall and had the material removed to Campbellford. Henry Redden, member of the Town Council, is a brother.

The deceased had been in poor health for some time but was at work yesterday up to noon when he was obliged to quit. He is survived by a wife and family. Funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon from the house at 2.30 o'clock.

Cheese Board Meeting

The Cheese Board met in their rooms on Monday morning at half past ten o'clock. There were only two buyers, Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Ivey. Only a small number of the factories were represented and only three sold cheese, to Mr. Fitzgerald, namely: Kimberley, 65 colored; New Model, 30 white; and Woodlands 72 white. The price was 14 7-8 cents.

The representatives from these three factories were Mr. Vonvolkenburg, Mr. Grills, and Mr. Yule.

Mr. Vonvolkenburg was appointed chairman in the absence of the President, Mr. Robert Innes. There was considerable discussion as to whether they would continue to have a cheese board or not.

On suggestion of Mr. Kingston, the Secretary Treasurer, circulars will be sent to each president of the different factories asking them to attend a meeting next Monday, June 9th., at ten o'clock and there decide whether they wish the board kept up or not.

The annual meeting was therefore postponed till June 9th, 1924.

Mr. Murray, Milk Inspector for the District was present and gave some helpful suggestions as to the care of milk and some precautions that should be looked after so as to have number one cheese.

Young People Meet

The young people of the Methodist church met for their weekly meeting on Monday.

The meeting was in charge of Miss Verna Sanders, 1st vice-president.

Miss G. Payne for the topic, took one of John Wesley's wonderful sermons on "Eternity." This was enjoyed by all present. Others helping with the program for the evening, were Miss Burleigh, Miss Rose Hollenby and Miss Mary McGregor.

LAKEFIELD WILL GET NEW FACTORY

Big Majority For Fixed Assessment to Brass Company.

LAKEFIELD, June 3. — That Lakefield citizens are awake to the possibilities in industry was evidenced by the ovehwhelming vote in favor of meeting the needs and granting concessions to the brass company that proposes to make its home in the village. The vote was taken yesterday on two different counts. On the first all ratepayers could vote and on the second property owners.

The results were:

To give a fixed assessment of $3,000 on the lot on Queen street:

Poll	For the by-law.	Against
1	124	5
2	174	2

To guarantee the company's $25,000 bonds:

Poll	For the by-law.	Against
1	93	4
2	110	2

This gives a majority for the fixed assessment of 291 with only seven people voting against the project, and for the guarantee of bonds of 203, with only six voting contrary.

The result is considered very satisfactory, and it is expected that work will be started on the brick, stone and concrete two-storey building that will house the brass company. The building will have 12,000 square feet of floor space, holding machinery valued at $23,000.

HIGHER GRAIN RATE FOR PORT

Merchants' Exchange of Vancouver Show Lower Charges Than Montreal and Lake Head.

ANTICIPATE DEFICIT.

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 3 (Canadian Press). — Cargo rate increase on grain in the harbour was considered before the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission yesterday.

Official reports of chartered accountants employed by the Vancouver port authorities read stated that the increase as proposed was warranted by the deficit that would otherwise result in operations of the elevator and would represent a total increase of 1-25th of 1 cent a bushel.

F. C. T. Lucas, counsel for the Merchants Exchange, said that the increase will represent 1 cent and a half a bushel.

The statement presented figures that the present grain-handling tariff in this port is 33 per cent. less than in Montreal, 26 per cent. less than Portland and Seattle, 4 per cent. less than Calgary and Saskatoon, and 18 per cent. less than at the lake head.

It estimates that the deficit of the port based upon the estimate of 60 million bushels of grain to be handled next year will be approximately $200,0000, and this is the basis of the demand for an increase.

Everything indicates the investigation will be concluded this week.

LONDON, June 3 (Canadian Press). — The House of Commons last night by a vote of 245 to 214, passed the second reading of the Governments Agricultural Wages Bill.

This measure, which was introduced by Noel Buxton, President of the Ministry of Agriculture, provides for the creation of agricultural wages committees, representing equally the employers and the workers, with an independent chairman and reference to a central board in the event of failure to report an agreement.

PETTIGO SPLIT BY PRICE LINE

BELFAST, June 3.—The British and Free State budgets have created a peculiar situation on the Ulster border, Pettigo village, in Donegal, is partly in the Free State and partly in the northern territory. MOSQUITOES' PARADISE

MAUBIN, Burma, June 3.—Maubin has the largest and most mosquitoes in the world, scientists declare. Great detachments of mosquitoes swarm out to meet every visitor. They hang in festoons from the white awnings, the mosquito nets, the table linen and the punkah flaps. Every window and crevice of the European houses in Maubin is protected by sliding curtains of iron gauze.

NEW YORK, June 3.—A new drink reported to be popular in the more remote parts of the Republic of Colombia instills a desire to fight in the natives of the region, according to Dr H. H. Rusby of the New York College of Pharmacy. The effect of the drink on white men, however, is to make them wish to dance, Dr. Rusby says.

MOOSE FACTORY HAS NEW HEALTH STATION

TORONTO, June 2 (Canadian Press). — With Dr. Harriet Cockburn and Nurse Mrs. W. Germain in charge, a health station has been established at Moose Factory, the northerly outpost of Ontario on James Bay, under instructions from Premier Ferguson and Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health.

The doctor and nurse will take care of the health of the colony during the summer months. They were transported to Moose Factory in one of the Government's airplanes, piloted by Captain Maxwell, commander of the Provincial Air Service.

PORTUGAL WILL BE AT PARIS.

LISBON, June 3.—Portugal will send a small but highly selected representation to the Olympic games in Paris. A government appropriation has been supplemented by private donations, and teams are now in training.

Fencing is given first place in Portugal's hopes, but swimming, rowing wrestling, discus throwing and weight lifting entries also will be made, and a rifle team selected from among her many good marksmen.

HURT IN COLLISION.

BRANTFORD, June 2 (Canadian Press). — Mrs. E. Wall, Paris, R. R. No. 4, lies unconscious in the General Hospital here as a result of injuries sustained when the buggy in which she was with her husband and two sons collided with a coupe driven by John McKeenan, of Brantford.

McKeenan is held on the charge of criminal negligence.

His bail was set at $10,000 this morning.

What is the function of a freight broker?

Answered by R. R. DRAKE

Chicago Trust Co. Financial and International Trade Writer.

* * *

Freight borkers attend to the work of securing steamer space for exporters or, ni case of full cargoes, they charter vessels for exporters. The exporter places a great deal of faith in his freight broker to secure him good, fast accommodation at reasonable rates.

The broker must be constantly in touch with incoming ships which are open to charter for full cargoes and he must have the available space of other ships listed so that he may know where to get space for customers who desire it. This is true for both present and future space.

Whenever space is engaged by a broker, the ship pays him a commission of the freight. Some freight brokers also act as freight forwarders, thus making for a maximum of efficiency.

JAPANESE USE AMERICAN RAMS TO IMPROVE SHEEP

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 3.—The Japanese government is looking to Utah for its supply of pure-bred Rambouillet and Merino rams with which to cross-breed the sheep of southern Manchuria, according to H. Komatsu, agricultural expert of the South Manchuria railroad.

Mr. Komatsu spent several weeks in southern Utah recently seeking the type of ram desirable He said that some of the Utah Merinos already had been exported to China and had bred sheep with a much superior grade of wool than that of the native Manchurian sheep.

A Severe Attack Of Heart Trouble Was Relieved By MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

Mr. S. E. Barnes, Athens, Ont., writes:—"Four years ago I had a very severe attack of heart trouble. I consulted my doctor; he treated me for some time, but I only seemed to be getting worse. I finally went to our druggist and purchased three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and derived immediate relief from their use, and I can truthfully say they are a wonderful medicine. I always keep a box on hand, and if I feel out of sorts I take a few pills and feel all right again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GERMAN CHURCHES NEED PASTORS

BERLIN, June 3.—The tendency to withdraw from the churches of Germany for political reasons having disappeared, these organizations are gaining daily in strength and membership. As a result there is an increasing demand for pastors, and theological students have better prospects of finding employment, on graduation, than the young men who study medicine or the law. These two professions still are overcrowded.

Cocoanut Oil Makes Splendid Shampoo

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coacoanut oil shampoo, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

OWEN SOUND WOMAN GETS A HEAVY TERM

OWEN SOUN, June 2 (Canadian Press). — Convicted on four counts of having performed illegal operations, Mrs. George Lawrence was sentenced this morning in Walkerton by Judge Klein to eight years in the Penitentiary.

She was found guilty at the sittings of the County Court held last week.

When the sentence was passed, Mrs. Lawrence uttered the words, "My God." She fainted, and had to be carrie from the Court Room.

"Now Feeling Fine and Able to do my own work"

Mrs. Walter Grieves, Coe Hill, Ont., writes:

"I was in such a weakened, run-down condition that I could not take care of my household duties. I was unable to sleep at night, and the doctor told me I was anaemic. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to-day I am feeling fine and able to do all my own work.

"My little girl had eczema, and different remedies took no effect whatever. We got a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and that one box relieved her."

T. CURVIN SUES FOR COST FURS

Dealer Made Agreement With Him for Bag of Furs That Thieves Took in the Night.

An action in which Thomas Curvin of Peterborough, is the plaintiff, claiming $395.10 from Victor Zender of Napanee for furs, was heard before His Honor Judge Ward of Port Hope. The furs were stolen from Curvins' storehouse on the night the deal was made, and were never delivered to Zender, who declares delivery was a part of the contract.

Victor Zender and Phillip Yffe met Curvin by appointment at Curvin's house to look over some furs. After negotiations they decided on a price of $395.10, and Zender claims that he made packing, labelling, and delivery to the express company a part of the consideration. Curvin claims that the bargain was completed there and then, and Zender handed over his cheque, and the goods were sold without conditions.

The men left Curvin's storehouse and went to the Empress. Next morning Dan Whetung appeared to sell Curvin some skins and they went out to the storehouse together, finding the bags of furs for Zender and many others missing. The windows were nailed on the inside and had not been disturbed, and entrace had been obtained by picking a lock. Yffe was informed of the robbery and immediately stopped payment of the cheque, upon which Curvin sued for the price of the furs. Witnesses heard today for the plaintiff were Dan Whetung, Chief Newhall, Detective Maher and Cecil Lech. Phillip Yffe was the only witness for the defence besides the defendant. On December 21 he was in Peterborough at the same time as Zender, he said, and examined furs at Curvin's store house. There were coon, mink, skunk and weazel skins there. They went down stairs to talk over the price quoted by Curvin and the witness decided to allow Zender to purchase the furs if he wanted them." Zender paid him $35 for the right, but this Yffe did not use as he did not think he was entitled to it when Zender did not get the furs. Curvin agreed to sew up the skins, pack them, label them, and deliver them to the Express company for shipment to Napanee. Zender wrote a cheque for Curvin and then the three started to pack the skins in bags. The packing was not completed before the witness left and the sacks were not sewn up or labelled. Mr. Curvin was to get the labels from the express company next day.

Skunk and mink should not be packed together, and on this occasion he did not think they were packed together.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hall, the witness said he was not particularly interested in any particular class of skins. He did not see the memorandum made by Curvin. The three men ceased work on the packing when they found it was growing late.

Judge Warde: "Weren't you anxious to get them all packed? Why did you leave? It seems reasonable to me that you should stay to finish packing up these few furs."

"I buy thousands and thousands of furs that I never see. I had confidence in Mr. Curvin.

"One side says they were all packed and the other says they were not."

Mr. Hall resumed his examination and the witness said the furs were not sewn up when he left.

The witness said he came here from Lindsay where he had bought some skins. He did not know where Zender came from but thought it was Sunderland near Oshawa.

Cyril M. Lech, called in reply, said as a rule furriers do not like to receive mink with skunk in the same bag but he did not believe the practice depreciated the mink skins.

Written argument will be entered by the counsel and considered by His Honor Judge Ward, who was slightly indisposed today.

UNIFORM BRAKE CODE DRAWN UP

Engineers Planning Method For Greater Driving Safety.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Automotive engineers are drafting a code for brake regulations that will be uniform throughout the country and applicable to all conditions.

At present, no uniformity of brake requirements exists among the states, according to a report of the American Engineering Standards Committee. As a result, this committee has asked the American Automobile Association, the Bureau of Standards, the Department of Commerce and the Society of Automotive Engineers to act as joint sponsors for a safety code on automobile brakes and brake testing.

Brake inspection campaigns have been conducted in various cities, but few have been conducted along the same lines.

The new brake code is expected to accomplish much toward unifying the state laws on this subject.

AIR POSTMAN IN ALASKA RAPIDLY GROWING RICH

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 3.—Carl B. Eilson, the air postman flying between this city and McGrath, Alaska, a distance of 350 miles, is one of the best paid men in the aerial mail service, according to the local postmaster.

Eielson receives $2 a mile or about $200 an hour. The government furnishes the plane and pays for repairs. Eilson purchases the gasoline and oil and provides the field and hangar. He made his first flight in 1917 at Riverside, Cal., while a cadet in the army air service.

FLORIDA SWAMP SNAKE FOUND IN S. CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S.C., June 3.—A party of students, headed by Prof. J. D. Corrington of the University of South Carolina, while searching weeds and ponds near here, made what is believed to be a scientific discovery of importance. An adolescent specimen of the black swamp snake, known as seminatrix pygea, hitherto reported only in Florida, was found.

"The question that will interest all biologists is how this species comes to be found in a locality 360 miles north of its established northermost range," Professor Corrington asserted. "That such an animal could be a stray or accidental one is out of the question, as these snakes are of a very stationary and retiring nature.

"The only explanation which the facts will admit is that the snake has been overlooked in the intervening territory of Florida, Georgia and the remainder of Southern Carolina. Further close search should reveal additional specimens."

Foreign Trade Problems At Boston Convention

BOSTON, June 3. — (United Press).—Practical problems in extending United States trade over the world will be discussed at the National Foreign Trade convention, which meets here tomorrow for a three-day session. Special attention will eb paid to what the trade calls the secondary markets, one of which is the Far East, where the United States is not getting its share of the trade. This convention has been described as an exhibit of ideas involving forty billion dollars of values of the raw materials used by American manufacturers.

During the three days of the convention, attended by several thousand of the most important executives of American industry and finance, there will be no less than 33 set speeches, with dozens of informal ones, during which all present will have an opportunity to dissect and criticize the views advanced by the speakers. The convention has been divided into three general sessions and seven group sessions.

SMITHY IS DOOMED.

LONDON, June 3.—The inspiration for Longfellow's familiar verses—the village smithy in St. Mary Cray, a Kentish village—is doomed to be torn down. The smithy became known to the American bard when he visited the English poetess, Eliza Cook. The "spreading chestnut tree" was felled long ago because it darkened neighboring houses.

WOMAN TELLS STORY OF MONTREAL CRIME

Bandits Rehearsed Plot to Rob Bank for Several Days—

MONTREAL, June 2.—(Canadian Press.) —The part played by Mary Serafini and Emma Lebeau, now calling herself Lebouf, in connection with the hold-up of the Bank of Hochelaga messengers, was all carefully rehearsed a week before the crime, according to evidence given by the Lebouf woman this morning in the Serafini murder trial.

She told how she and Mrs. Serafini were made to walk up and down at a certain place on Belanger street. On the day of the hold-up she was at the place at 1.20 p. m. and hung around, according to instructions, until three o'clock, when Niegre came and gave her money. She did not know exactly where the money came from, but she had heard the bank mentioned.

She told a sordidd tale of several years of underworld life in answer to preliminary question leading up to her association with the hold-up gang.

GERMANS WILL EXPLAIN SINKING OF LUSITANIA

BERLIN, June 3.—The German account of the sinking of the Lusitania is to appear shortly in a new volume of the German official naval history of the war.

The account as given in the book is based on the log of Commander Schwieger, of the U 20, and the torpedoing of the Lusitania is justified by the German author on the statement of a customs officer of New York, who contended that the steamship carried ammunition. The same arguments as advanced after the sinking, in which the British were held responsible for the lives lost because they insisted upon carrying ammunition on a passenger steamer, are set forth in great detail in the book.

HIGH TAXES KILL VIENNA NIGHT LIFE

VIENNA, June 3. — (United Press).—Night life in the old city of the Hapsburgs can be described in one short word of three letters; its a "dud," and no mistake. A number of factors have joined hands to help kill night life in this former pleasure city of Central Europe. The League of Nations' reconstruction scheme demanded heavy taxes; and the government decided that the cabarets should furnish a goodly portion of these taxes. On every cocktail there is a tax of 30-45 per cent, and on all kinds of music there is a tax of 40 per cent. Private clubs which wish to have a little evening dance are subject to the same regulation. Disastrous speculation in French francs has also served to decrease the number of patrons at the more expensive cabarets and music halls. Since labor has the upper hand in Vienna, the tram cars cease running at eleven o'clock. All persons who wish to paint the town red into the wee small hours of the morning must therefore either hoof it or take a taxi. Being in no condition for walking, most suburbanlivers stay home after paying one or two taxi bills.

Charts Show Fishermen Where to Get Full Nets

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—New bathymetric charts, compiled by the hydrographic office of the United States navy, show fishermen how to locate fishing banks, according to C. S. Bauder, deputy fish and game commissioner, who says this system has revolutionized the industry.

These charts account for the big catches now being made off the southern California coast, in Mr. Bauder's opinion.

From San Francisco to Point Descanso, below San Diego, destroyers charted the ocean bottom, extending 100 miles out from the coast. Approximately 34,000 square miles were mapped.

BOBBED HAIR THREATENS PROSPERITY OF CHEFOO

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 3.—The future commercial prosperity of Chefoo, China, a city of 100,000 population, can be determined only when it is known whether American women will continue to bob their hair or return to flowing tresses, said Captain Milton Minnis, United States vice-consul at Chefoo, while visiting his home here. Business men of Chefoo anxiously await word as to the tonsorial mode to be established by American women.

"Chefoo's chief industry is making hair nets and they sell $5,000,000 worth to this country each year, in addition to exporting $3,000,000 worth to France and other countries," said Captain Minnis.

"The hair is gathered from all parts of the world and the weaving is done by Chinese girls. Much of it is done in private homes and inspected at a factory. Factory experts get more pay than those that work at home, drawing as high as seven cents a day. In China the price for the nets runs from $1 to $2 per gross."

TORONTO, June 2. — Although no official announcement has been made the Toronto Star says it learns that the engagement of Dr. F. G. Banting, discover of insulin, to Miss Marion Robertson of Elora, Ont., will soon be made known.

Newspaper continues: "The ceremony is to be a private one, and it was stated that only a dozen people would be present. Both Dr. Banting and his fiancee are anxious to avoid publicity and to that end the date of the marriage is not being announced"

T P O'CONNOR TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Father of British House of Commons Receives King's Birthday Honor.

NO NEW PEERAGES.

LONDON, June 3 (Canadian Press Cable). — No new peerages have been created on the occasion of the King's Birthday, and the Labour Government's first honours list follows the general expectation in this regard. The other honours are largely in the way of rewards for service in the state or semi-diplomatic departments.

The only privy councillorship in the honours list has been conferred on T. P. O'Connor, who has regresented the Scotand Division of Liverpool in the House of Commons since 1885, and is known internationally as a newspaper writer as well as legislator and orator.

The privy councillorship has been conferred on Mr. O'Connor, it is recorded officially, as "for political services," but there is little doubt that the recognition really arises through "Tay Pay's" standing as a newspaper man and because of his present position as father of the House of Commons.

A Right Honourable.

The selection of Mr. O'Connor as the only new privy councillor is contrary to expectation, as there are many people associated with the present day democratic movements who doubtless would be glad to have the prefix Right Honourable which goes with the privy councillorship, and is used in ceremonious address.

Two baronetcies are in the honours list. The recipients of these are Alexander Grant, chairman of McVittie & Price, biscuit manufacturers, Edinburgh and London, and Sir Humphrey Davy Rolleston, president of the College of Physicians of London. Sir Humphrey is one of London's most distinguished medical men, and he was a visitor to King Edward VII.

The Honours List.

The new honours list carries 13 knighthoods within the British Isles. These include David Young Cameron in recognition of his services to art; William Sleigh, Lord Provost of Edinburgh; and Ralph A. Edgewood, general manager of the London and North-Eastern Railway.

A large number of appointments to and promotions in the Order of British Empire are included in the honours list, these being mostly for naval or military service.

Robert Donald, chairman of the Empire Press Union, who has interests in a number of newspapers, and Charles Naish, registrar of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, receive knighthoods of the Order of British Empire.

ONTARIO HYDRO MEN IN LONDON

Sir Adam Beck, F.A. Gaby and Harry G. Acres Will Meet Engineering Savants of the World.

TORONTO, June 3. — (Canadian Press).—Sir Adam Beck, chief engineer, F. A. Gaby and former Hydraulic Engineer Harry G. Acres, three men who have made Ontario prominent in Hydro power facilities, are to meet the Hydro engineering cavants of the world in London, England, next month, and place at the disposal of all nations the benefit of Ontario's power knowledge and experience.

The occasion, according to the announcement from the Provincial Hydro Commission, is the world's power conference to be held in Wembley Hall in connection with the British Empire Exhibition. Because of its outstanding accomplishments in the power field, Ontario's representatives have received special invitations to be present.

All three of Ontario's representatives will present to the conference some aspect of publicly-owned power possibilities and be prepared in general discussions to give any nation's representative information or opinion based on Ontario's power efforts.

CHICAGO YOUTHS GET PROTECTION

Leopold and Leob Connected With Other Enquiries.

CHICAGO, June 3. — (Canadian Press).—Attorneys of Nathan Leopold and Richard Leob, confessed slayer of fourteen year old Robert Franks, were yesterday successful in having their clients placed in county jail, where they will be free of questioning by Detectives and prosecuting officials. High lights of day in the case were, finding of blood stained boots at home of Leopold and blood spattered clothes at home of Loeb, two pistols found in Loeb's room, identification of accused by Charles Ream, a taxicab driver, as men who kidnapped him last fall, placed him in a closed car and took him to lonely spot in country, where they mutilated him, and connection of Leopold and Loeb with murder of Melvin Wolf last April.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(Canadian Press). — President Coolidge yesterday signed a tax reduction bill but declaring it unsatisfactory, announced he would bend all his energies to obtain the enactment of a better measure at the next session of Congress.

The bill which decreases the tax rates in most instances to the lowest levels since 1917, and which was the basis of the hottest legislative fight of the present session of Congress, was declared by the President in a 3,500-word statement issued coincident with his approval of the measure to represent merely "tax reduction, not tax reform."

AN AGED INVENTOR TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Usually a Specially Designed Mechanism and a Gas Jet.

NEW YORK, June 3. — (United Press). — Carl Dornfield, an aged inventor, surpassed himself Monday in devising a mechanism to defeat the ends of justice.

His masterpiece of invention was found in his apartment when a court officer broke into the place to command his appearance in the West Farms Court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Dornfield lay dead on the bed with a gas hose in his mouth. An alarm clock with a string running to the gas jet across the room, lay on the floor ticking away long after its work was done.

From the layout the police were able to reconstruct Dornfield's scheme. He had placed the clock on a board which was balanced on the foot of the bed. When the clock reached a certain hour one string pulled a prop from beneath the board. As the clock fell, another string, leading to the gas cock, yanked it open, and Dornfield died in his sleep.

The last discovery of the police was an urn beside the bed, and beneath a letter which said the urn contained the ashes of Mrs. Dornfield, who died in 1922. Would they be kind enough to have him cremated, mix his ashes with those of his wife and send the urn to a relative in Los Angeles.

The annual cost of fire defence in Great Britain is about $125,000,000.

COUPLE LOST IN THE WILDS FOR TWO DAYS

Both Were in Evening Clothes and both depended on nature.

NEW YORK, June 3.— (Canadian Press.) — Over the wooded slopes and ravines of country about Mountain Lakes, N.J., aeroplanes will hover to-day in the hope of finding Helen Cole, who "wouldn't take dare," and Charles Carter, who followed her into the woods on Saturday night.

Both were in evening clothes, and both determined to show that under most adverse conditions they would wring from nature food and shelter. Miss Cole, about 25, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Crowell, near Boonton.

Carter, who hails from California, as does Miss Cole, accompanied her to Crowells. At dinner during discussion of a novel, the guest scoffed at the idea that a young couple lost in the wilds without any means of trapping game for food, any knowledge of woodcraft, managed to live.

Miss Cole, sculptor, said it could be done. Still in high heeled shoes and evening gown, she started off to try it, Carter following. No trace of them has been found.

Bruises Suggest Crime on Prairie at Buffalo Gap, Sask.

REGINA, Sask., June 3.—(Canadian Press).—Mrs. Charles Weber, wife of the postmaster at Buffalo Gap, a point 20 miles south-west of Bengough, Sask., was found dead on the prairie a mile from her home Sunday morning.

Dr. R. L. Ireland, Bengough, summoned to the scene in the capacity of coroner, has asked the police to conduct an investigation and has announced his intention of conducting an inquest.

According to word reaching headquarters of the Provincial Police, bruises on the head of the dead woman would indicate she was the victim of foul play.

KING'S ANNIVERSARY NOT GENERAL HOLIDAY

TORONTO, June 3. — (Canadian Press).—While to-day, anniversary of the birth of King George, was a bank holiday throughout the Dominion of Canada, and also a school holiday in many places, it was not celebrated as a general public holiday, Canada as a whole retains May 24, the birthday of the late Queen Victoria, as its first summer holiday and this fact with the date coming so near to that of the birthday of the reigning monarch, militates against the general observance of the later date. Kingston and Belleville are among the few Ontario cities who celebrate June 3 instead of May 24.

CITY COUNCIL TACKLE CAR PARKING PROBLEM AND APPOINT STREETS

Wordy Conflict Over Appointment of Paving Inspectors and Other Matters--Lawn Bowlers' Request Thrown Out With Bylaw to Establish a Quiet Zone at Victoria Park--Engineer Denounces Tin Shacks on Principal Streets.

MOTOR LEAGUE DEPUTATION

Stormy seas were weathered by the ship of civic government last night when squall after squall struck the City Council as the skipper clung grimly to his new chart and quelled several incipient mutinies among his crew. A cloud no bigger than a man's hand appeared on the horizon when the subject of a quiet zone for band concerts was broached, and some aldermen thought the plan too drastic, and the cloud had assumed threatening proportions when the Bay of General Business was reached and Aldermen Stocker and Fife ignored the voice of authority while they argued the ethics of the former's complaint about Chief Newhall.

When Alderman Stocker found that he could not expect the Council to help him, and decided to leave the question to the people, and the captain had succeeded in restoring order, a temporary lull was followed by the big storm of the evening, in the course of which most of the crew became engaged in heated controversy and impolite personalifies were exchanged by Aldermen Morrison and Stocker. The rocks that nearly scuttled the ship are marked on the chart "Paving Inspectors," and were encountered last night in exactly the same place as last year, and in about the same way. This storm blew over without causing serious damage, and left the Council nothing to do but throw overboard an application from the Lawn Bowling Club for a tract in Central Park which the members would fence for use as a green.

The one new and constructive move made during the four-hour session was the naming of certain streets for the parking of automobiles, with directions that they be parked diagonally.

Several by-laws were passed and four deputations heard.

A feature of the evening was the denunciation by City Engineer Parsons of the policy of the Council in permitting the erection of "tin shacks" on the main thoroughfares of the city. They look like "tin boxes," he said, and should at least be made architecturally pleasing.

Alderman Meyers after an absence of some weeks through illness, was welcomed to his accustomed seat.

New Regulations.

Revised rules of order were put into effect last night by Mayor Turner, requiring all motions to be put in writing, and His Worship made an attempt to enforce the regulation common to all public bodies requiring the speaker to address the chair.

Despite the heavy slate of business and a late start through the tardiness of several aldermen, the work of the evening was greatly expedited, and it was only necessary to extend the time half an hour, the meeting ending at 11.20.

Alderman R. N. Jones, chairman of a sub-committee appointed to investigate the automobile parking problem in the city, reported last night. The special committee recommended that the following streets be set aside for the parking of motor cars: Water, east side from Brock to McDonnel, McDonnelsouth side from Water to College, Brock Street north side from Sheridan to Water, and the street in front of the Court House; Queen Street, west side; King Street, south side east of George, and Simcoe Street north side east of Water.

In these parking places the cars must be parked on an angle, front or rear next the sidewalk.

The report was carried as a start in the required direction.

Complaint About Chief.

Alderman Maher asked if the police commission had replied to the communication forwarded to that body by the city council regarding Alderman Stocker's complaint.

Alderman Stocker congratulated the Mayor on the stand he took. "I am prepared to stake my life that my statement was true. I think I know that voice," the Alderman said.

Alderman Fife — "I commend the stand the Mayor, the Judge and the other took. I see no reasons why you should have come to the council with this because it is a personal matter. The Chief says he never spoke to Alderman Stocker on the 'phone. It may be a possibility that some joker called up on the 'phone. If Alderman Stocker can prove it was the Chief speaking let him take it up as a personal matter.

Alderman Stocker: "I object to Sam Newhall telling me he would get me. If you want to support him you are the only one in the city."

Alderman Fife—"I'm not supporting the Chief. We are not here to deal with little petty things."

Alderman Stocker—"I'm satisfied to let this drop and let the people settle it."

Paving Inspectors.

The City Engineer remarked that the highest salary asked by applicants for the position of paving inspector is $48 a week and the lowest $32.

Aldermen Stocker and Turner moved that the appointment be left in the hands of the City Engineer.

Alderman Crowe thought $35 sufficient.

Alderman McIntyre did not think the salary should be considered at all, since it would be easy to lose that amount in a week if the specifications were not adhered to.

City Engineer Parsons said he was disgusted with the way things were conducted last year. If he is given authority to appoint an inspector the rate of pay he fixes must stand or the city can get someone else.

Alderman Phelan did not see why last year's motion asking the City Engineer to bring in a recommendation should be rescinded.

The motion to rescind last year's motion and give the appointing of inspectors to the City Engineer carried and on yeas and nays, called by Alderman Phelan, the following was the vote: Yea, Jones, Turner, Fife, Stocker, McIntyre and the Mayor. Nay: Phelan, Crowe, Morrison and Maher.

Aldermen Phelan and Crowe moved to set the salary at $35 a week.

Alderman Stocker said this was not enough.

Alderman Morrison: "How do you know? You may know all about bill posting but what do you know about paving?"

Alderman Stocker — "You go down on the farm and learn something."

Alderman Morrison— "You may talk to the Chief of Police or someone, but don't talk to me.

I'm talking to the chair now. The City Engineer looked after the paving last year, although he didn't according to Alderman Stocker, who was chairman of the Board of Works. He hadn't so much to say then, anyhow. I don't think a man would take the job at $35. You might, Alderman Stocker."

Alderman Stocker: "I'm not looking for it."

Alderman Morrison: "Men who are capable of inspecting paving are not lying around waiting for jobs. When the authority is taken out of the Engineer's hands there is a certain amount of efficiency being lost."

City Engineer Parsons: "I want to get a man who is worth what we pay him."

Alderman McIntyre: "If you wanted a $45 man and you couldn't get him for $35 would you take the one you could get at $35?"

City Engineer: "I wouldn't make that appointment. I would leave it to the Council."

Alderman Maher: "Mr. Parsons is paid to give advice regarding his department. I contend the recommendations should be made to the council. Apparently the matter is all understood as to who are the qualified men."

Alderman Stocker: "Just what the contractors want is a cheap man."

Alderman Phelan: "I don't think every contractor is a crook who will defraud the city if you don't watch him night and day."

Aldermen Phelan, Crowe and Maher were the only supporters of the motion to set the salary at $35. Alderman Crowe said this annual wrangle is good as showing that if the paving was done by day labor there could be a great saving.

Aldermen Turner and Jones moved that the paving inspectors be paid on certificate of the City Engineer.

Alderman Phelan: "You'll know in about two weeks who he is and what his salary is and all about him."

Lawn Bowling.

The application for a bowling green in Central Park was discussed.

Alderman Fife said there is a beautiful Exhibition Ground available, and all the bowlers have cars. The central parks are not built for bowling greens or lacrosse matches or other sports. In view of the strong opposition in the city, Alderman Fife moved that the request be refused. He was seconded by Alderman Crowe, and the Council was unanimous in rejecting the application.

Set Aldermen to Work.

Alderman Fife suggested allotting a section of the city to each Alderman to report on faults in sidewalks, which would be recorded and fixed by a man with a one-horse wagon drawing cement around.

Alderman Crowe proposed that a man or two be hired to patrol the city and make these repairs where he sees them. "That would be something worth while."

City Engineer Parsons said the department has whole blocks of repairs to make. In spring all these expenses are pared down—"it's looking to your tax rate then. You go and cut our appropriation down in spring and then you pay it out in damage suits."

Aldermen Fife and McIntyre moved that the question go to the Board of Works.

No Quiet Zone.

A by-law to establish a quiet zone around Victoria Park during the hours of band concerts was thrown out after prolonged discussion, the authority of the Council being doubted. It was proposed to prohibit the moving of cars in that section between 8 and 10 o'clock on band concert evenings.

Alderman Turner—Has the Council power to close those streets?

City Solicitor—I'm doubtful. The only section it could come under is that regulating traffic, and this is prohibition.

Alderman Maher—We have lots of police to keep it quiet.

Alderman Turner suggested that people would respect a request to keep the park quiet.

Alderman Fife thought the by-law "too drastic in a town of this size and calibre." The by-law would encourage citizens to climb the hill during the prohibited hours, he said, just for the fun of breaking the law. He was supported in moving to quash by Alderman Maher.

Mayor Turner—I can't imagine all this opposition to a measure calculated to give the people more pleasure in hearing the concerts. In London, England, whole streets are cut off for a day to permit the passage of royalty, and if Canadian laws are framed after the English, why all this discussion about closing a block to give us the value of the money we are spending for music? I can't see how it will create a hardship, and in fact I am quite surprised at the attitude of the Aldermen.

Alderman Fife—You might just as well prohibit cars going down George Street when the Salvation Army band is giving sacred music on the street.

Mayor Turner—In the one case we are paying public money for music for the public, and in the other the music is given free.

Alderman Maher expressed the opinion that it would not be well to pass a by-law leaving the Council open to ridicule later on.

The committee arose, killing the by-law.

Signs at Welcome

A deputation from the Peterborough Branch of the Motor League headed by D. Reed Wren said it would not be possible to illuminate the signs at Welcome. The Motor League is prepared to go ahead with the signs without illumination. The expense would be almost as great as the illuminated signs. The grant of $300 made on May 5 was confirmed.

Leon Frazer, secretary of the League read a letter from Reeve Walter Fowlds of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham supporting the plan for a car ferry from Cobourg to Rochester. It was suggested that a member of the council accompany a committee to Rochester on June 11 in connection with the establishing of the ferry, and on motion of Alderman Maher, the Mayor was authorized to accept the invitation, naming his own committee.

Objects to Tin Shacks

John S. Selkirk and Charles H. Elliott applied for permission to erect a gasoline pump west of the Oriental hotel on Hunter street and to erect a metal covered building, 10 feet by 10 feet by 8 feet.

The proposal for a tank was passed, but Alderman McIntyre opposed the erection of the building, saying great opposition had developed against the last permitted.

City Engineer Parsons: — The Council has given permission to several people to put up tin shacks on main streets. If they would spend a few dollars on them and fix them up so they won't look like tin boxes it wouldn't be so bad.

The request was granted providing the plan be submitted to and approved by the city engineer.

Obstruction on Street

Ernest Tucker, 529 Romaine street, wrote drawing the attention of the Council to an obstruction on Sherbrooke street, where Stock and Sons remove the covers from manholes in the middle of the sidewalk and insert headless barrels there presumably to give ventilation. He suggested that iron grids might be used.

R. C. Braund applied for sewer connection at 296 Roger street. It would be necessary to extend the sewer forty feet.

E. M. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, advised the council that he would be unable to visit Peterborough until August.

Fire Department

During the month the fire department responded to 31 alarms. The loss was $145.67 represented by buildings $85.02 and contents $60.65.

Petition

Owners of property on Hazlett street and elsewhere requested construction of a sewer from Rogers street to Ross street and on Oxford street from Hazlett to the end of Oxford and on Ross street from Hazlett to the end of Ross.

Utilities Enquiry

Notice was received from the Utilities Commission of a meeting on Tuesday to take up further enquiry into the power accounts of the Peterborough Cereal Co., and Campbell Flour Mills Co., and anything else effecting the operation of the Waterworks and Electric Utilities.

Mayor Turner asked the councillors to attend.

Notice was received of a meeting in Belleville on June 6, in support of the proper development of the St. Lawrence river water power. The meeting is under the auspices of the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association.

Mayor Turner will pick a committee to attend with him.

Alderman Meyers introduced a motion to purchase a banner not to cost more than $25 to advertise Peterborough at the Rotary convention in Toronto. Authorization was given the chairman of the Manufacturers Committee.

The city engineer was instructed to give whatever relief is possible at Cambridge and Murray streets, where surface water floods the cellars.

The City Engineer reported 58 permits issued; totalling $30,015. These were for 5 dwellings, 13 garages and 40 miscellaneous.

By-laws.

A by-law was passed reforming an old regulation governing the operations of hawkers and peddlars in the city. By the revised by-law the taking of orders for samples carried from door to door, the articles afterwards delivered, is prohibited without a license.

The license fee for a person not resident in the city is $75 for the right to use a vehicle drawn by a horse or propelled by motor, $60, for the right to use a push-cart, and $50 for all others. For residents in the city the respective fees are $50, $40 and $30 for a year.

By-laws to authorize the construction of sidewalks, sewers and pavements were passed, and another to approve the registration of a plan of a sub-division of Park lot 9, lot 13, concession 12 of North Monaghan was held over until the committee re-convenes.

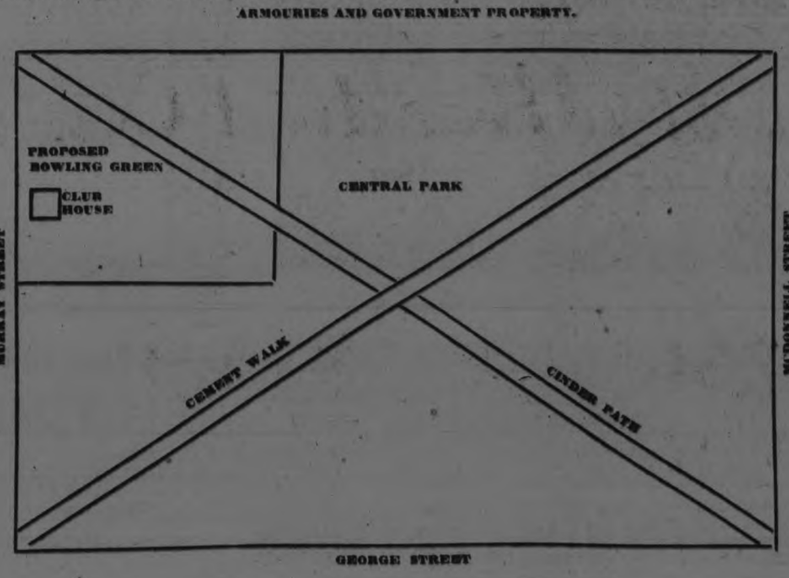
On the paving contract a question arose as to the material to be used on Antrim and Murray streets, and was decided in favor of bitulithic. The vote was: For bitulithic: Jones, Turner, Meyers, Stocker, McIntyre, Crowe, Fife and Mayor Turner. Those in favor of leaving the material open for later decision were Phelan, Morrison and Maher.

City Engineer Parsons said the lack of knowledge of the Hydro plans regarding paving between the tracks is holding up work on street paving.

A meeting of Hydro in Toronto to-morrow will settle the question and in the meantime Mr. Carroll will proceed with the work.

PROPOSED BOWLING GREEN

The lot where the girls softball games are played comes between the Armouries and the park. The proposed bowling green would run along this line, opposite the entrance to Murray Street Sunday School, 130 feet. The eastern boundary would be opposite the alley behind the Y.M.C.A., and the green would be 110 feet wide. The clubhouse would be 36 feet by 16 feet.



THE WARKWORTH S COUNCIL MEET

Discussion Over Maintenance of Community Hall—Court of Revision

(By a Staff Reporter.)

WARKWORTH, June 3. — When H. L. Walker, treasurer of the Community Hall Board, presented his bill for maintenance at the meeting of the Percy Township Council yesterday, the old discussion as to whether the township is responsible for any of the charges, was revived. The total amount of the bill was $20.64; $6 for the janitor's services for May and $14.64 for lighting the building for April and May.

Reeve McCubbin again maintained that this bill should be paid by the village. He had been advised by County Solicitor Boggs of Cobourg, and G. A. Payne of Campbellford, that the statute provided that the maintenance of community halls should be paid by those who used them. If any agreement to the contrary had been made by a previous council by the adoption of a bylaw this was not valid as no bylaw could override a provincial act.

"I am getting tired of this discussion, which crops up every month," said Deputy Reeve Nelson. "Let us make a test case and have the dispute settled for all time."

Councillor Fairman said he was in favor of paying the bill if the council had any authority to do so.

Councillor Poole said that the Percy Council had accepted from the I.O.D.E. a site worth $1000 and a grant of $2000 from the Legislature for the hall on condition that the township would maintain it. If they refused to carry out their agreement now this money should be refunded and that interest on this would pay the monthly bills for years.

The upshot of the discussion was that the bill was paid. The cost of lighting for the past two months was unusually large but this was accounted for by the number of practices held by the Dramatic Club in preparing for their presentation of the play "The Night Riders."

Court of Revision.

The council sat as a Court of Revision during the morning. Six appeals against the recent assessment were received and of these four were granted reductions. The six cases were as follows; Bridget O'Malley, appeal dismissed; Warren A. Atkinson, reduced $300; Esther Cross, reduced $250; J. A. Armstrong, appeal dismissed; Jeremiah Towns, appeal dismissed; James Mackie, reduced $200.

Dr. R. W. Haight a recent arrival in the village, will pay a business tax on $100, so that the total reduction of the list yesterday was not more than $550.

Arthur Wilson has been the assessor for the past three years and there have been few appeals against his valuations. The total assessed value of the township and village for this year is $1,068,037, that of Warkworth being about $80,000. These figures show little change from those of a year ago. The population of the township and village is 2256 as against 2393 in 1923. The value of church property is given as $30,425.

In 1870 the assessed value of Percy Township was $784,367 and the population 3019.

Voters Complain

Edward Fleming presented a petition from 50 voters in division No. 5, asking that another voting place be established. Some of the voters at present have to go seven or eight miles to the poll and the result is that in unfavorable weather the vote is light. There are 123 voters in the sub-division and at the municipal election of 1923 only five votes were polled. That was the number who voted at the bye-election in March.

The Council refused to grant the request of the petition on the ground of the expense involved. It may be, however, that a more central location for the polling booth will be secured.

To Purchase Weigh Scales

W. H. Barringer appeared before the Council to ask for a grant to purchase the public weigh scales which have not been in use for some time. Twenty-three residents of the village have subscribed $1 each toward the purchase. The scales are owned by Councillor Poole who offers them for sale at $30. If the village did not acquire them the scales would, he said, be removed and it was estimated that it would cost the township at least $50 to fill the hole in the street that the removal of the scales would leave.

The Council voted a grant of $10. It will cost not over 25 cents to weigh a load of hay and the scales will be looked after by H. Gooderich who will receive the receipts for his trouble.

Councillor Poole says that in making this sale he is within the law as the purchasers are really private residents of the village.

FORCE SHAREHOLDERS TO PAY DOUBLE LIABILITY

TORONTO, June 3.—(Canadian Press.)—Shareholders of the Bank of Canada who have made no attempt to meet the double liability will be told in a letter which is to be mailed shortly by the liquidators, that unless they make arrangements to meet the sums required, action will be taken to enforce judgment against them.

It is estimated that about 315 thousand dollars has been paid on double liability.

New York, California, Ohio and Pennsylvania have gone above the million mark in auto registration.

JACK RENAULT READY TO MEET GIBBONS IN HIS TITLE QUEST

Canadian Heavyweight Not Afraid Of The "Bogey Man" Of His Division—Considers He Has Gained Experience Enough To Seek "Higher-Ups."

RICKARD SUGGESTS ELIMINATIONS

Mr. Leo P. Flynn, noted manager of many boers, emitted these words with such vim as to scare the pigeons from their roosting place under the eaves of Madison Square Garden Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Leo P. Flynn, as manager of Jack Renault, heavyweight champion of Canada, and one of the leading contenders for Jack Dempsey's title, has just been approached by representatives of the Free Milk Fund for Babies, of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman, with reference to a meeting between Renault and Tom Gibbons at the boxing show for the benefit of the Milk Fund late this month.

Mr. Leo P. Flynn was found leaning against one of the pillars that support the facade of the old Garden, inhaling the fragrant sunshine and talking with Tex Rickard, the Garden promoter.

No Time Wasted.

"So much for Renault to meet Gibbons," remarked one of the representatives briefly.

"Your're ON!" bawled Mr. Leo P. Flynn.

It was one of the shortest pieces of important match-making in the history of the game. Even Tex Rickard gasped at the brevity of the thing. Tex is accustomed to having the managers hem at his first offer, and haw at his second, before finally accepting his tenth tender.

"I'll match the winner of that bout against the winner of the Firpo-Wills battle," said Rickard. "And the winner of that goes on with Dempsey."

Renault, big and burly, and vigorous looking, came along just then looking for Flynn.

"Your're going to fight Gibbons," announced Flynn.

The big Canuck nodded.

"Suits me," he said, quietly. Gibbons, or Firpo or Wills or even Dempsey. Anybody you say."

This was before the result of the Gibbons-Carpentier fight was known. Gibbons's victory was obviously accepted as a foregone conclusion. However, it was generally believed that Gibbons would stop the Frenchman.

Offered $50,000.

An offer of $50,000 for Gibbons to meet Renault was wired to Michigan City before the fight there, and Eddie Kane, Gibbons's manager, replied asking for $100,000. It is not believed that Kane was entirely serious in this request, and that he will readily agree to the original offer, especially as he once agreed to much less for meeting Renault in Madison Square Garden some time ago.

Of course, this was before Renault had begun to show his recent startling improvement, and it may be that Gibbons now realizes that the Canadian will be a most formidable opponent. Pugilistic prices mount amazingly in proportion to the caliber of an opponent.

If it is not possible to get Gibbons, the promoters of the Milk Fund show may match Renault and Erminio Spalla, heavyweight champion of Italy, who went fourteen rounds against Firpo.

Renault's agreement to meet Gibbons proves that the big Canuck is sincere in his desire to fight his way up to a match with Dempsey. For some years Gibbons has been the "bogey-man" of the heavyweight division. His success against big men has been so pronounced that few care to meet him.

Now, however, Renault believes that he has had sufficient experience to cope with Gibbons, and he realizes that a defeat of the St. Paul man would advance him immediately to serious consideration for a world's championship bout.

CYCLE PARADE NEXT SATURDAY

Headed by 57th Rangers Band to Exhibition Park on Field Day.

PRIZES FOR THE BEST

The new bicycle which some boy is going to win on Saturday next will be on view in the window of Whites Cycles and Sports, Limited, Charlotte Street, some day this week. This bicycle is being given as a prize in connection with the grand bicycle and tricycle parade which is being organized for next Saturday as part of the Amateur Sports Committee Field Day which will be held at the Exhibition Grounds.

It will be won by the boy, not owning a bicycle, who has the best home-made bicycle in the parade. It will be judged by the least number of bicycle parts used in the making.

The parade of decorated bicycles and tricycles which, by kind permission of Lieut.-Col. F. L. Bradburn, will be headed by the 57th Regiment Band, will leave Central Park at 1.45 oclock on Saturday afternoon, and proceed to the Exhibition Grounds. All bicycle and tricycle owners, ladies and gentlemen, girls and boys, are invited to enter.

Prizes for Grandpa.

There will be a prize for the oldest rider and a prize for the youngest rider. There will be a prize for the best decorated bicycle and lady rider and a prize for the best decorated bicycle and gentleman rider.

Upon arrival at the Exhibition Grounds, all riding decorated bicycles or tricycles will be admitted free. So decorate your bicycle or tricycle, and get into the parade.

The Races.

Between 2 and 3 oclock the cycle races will be run off, and boys are already handing in their entries for the events.

The two-mile bicycle race is causing some speculation amongst the riders. This event is open to all boys 18 years and under, and there are four prizes.

For boys 15 years and under there will be a half-mile race, and three prizes have been provided.

Tricycle Race.

This race will be open to boys and girls 7 years and under, riding a tricycle or joycycle. The kiddies will race 50 yards for two prizes.

Mr. Frank White will be glad to give information to anyone interested in the parade or cycle races. He may be found at Whites Cycles and Sports, Limited, 212 Charlotte St.

Appetite of Fans Whetted For the Belleville Game

Next Saturday's Engagement at Riverside Will Likely Be For League Leadership — Trunks Going Strong.

Peterboro fans are still raving over Saturday's game with Oshawa which seems to have tickled the public fancy as the ideal kind of a ball game from a spectator's viewpoint.

It was all of that.

And by the same token the game this Saturday which brings the Petes' old enemies from Belleville to Riverside Park should be the same kind of a fixture.

The winner of the battle should be in the lead Saturday night judging by present indications and with the leadership at stake, the affair looms up as likely to produce the most sensational enjoyment of the season.

The Belleville crew always play good ball against the Petes and are usually at their best at Riverside Park.

Mills, Weir and the rest of Murderer's Row have been hitting the ball hard and they figure they can drive home enough runs here Saturday to enable Johnny Oulette to breeze along comfortably.

However, the Petes have not been exactly impotent with their war clubs so far in the campaign and they declare the visitors will know they have been somewhere in the vicinity of a ball game.

Frank Hallinan of Toronto will call the balls and strikes and Benson will work on the bases.

The game as usual will be called at 3 o'clock.

DIAMOND DUST

Millbrook is anxious to enter a team in te local Juvenile series and Millbrook sportesmen behind the club are in touch with President J. E. Sullivan, with a view to completing the necessary arrangements at an early date.

East City Hillcrests are said to have uncovered a promising pitcher who will be sent in against the Maple Leafs in Wednesday's game.

Baseball fans will witness the novelty of an Indian team in action at Exhibition Park tomorrow evening, when the Curve Lake nine led by Dan Whetung, Jr., will play Tom Shields' George Street club in an East Peterborough League contest.

South Central, a new entry in the Midget series will do the bulk of the work involved in the management of their team. This is fine. South Centrals are assured of every assistance from the League officials.

On Thursday evening the fans will be able to get a line on the fast C.G.E. team who meet Cobourg here next Saturday in one of the feature events of the Field Day bill at Exhibtion Park. The Electricians lost on a 1 to 0 count at Cobourg last Saturday, when opposed by the clever C.N.R. team which included Derry, Skitch, Boundy and other well known ball tossers. C.G.E. play Raybestos on Thursday evening.

KING'S HORSE TO START IN DERBY

"Knight of the Garter" Will Carry the Royal Colors in Great Turf Classic.

KING WILL ATTEND.

LONDON, June 2. — (Canadian Press Cable).—Knight of the Garter His Majestys' candidate for the Derby, the chief of the three-year-old classics, which is to be run at Epsom on Wednesday of this week, will be a starter in the Epsom classic, it was definitely decided to-day. Two eruptions that caused a leg to fall slightly were noticed on Saturday and the colt was out for morning exercise. This morning Knight of the Garter was given a couple of six fur long gallops, with Archibald up. The colt was kept moving freely and the leg appeared to be no worse after the gallops.

Everything points to a most interesting Derby, certainly the most open in years. The concensus of opinion seems to be that any of the candidates may win. Tipsters mostly agree to differ about the result. Neither H. H. Aga Khan nor Lord Astor who will each be represented in the race by two horses are disposed to make any prediction regarding the outcome. Aga Khan's Diophon which has shown consistently good form and has done well in training since winning the two thousand guineas race, is installed as favorite, while his running mate, Salmon Trout is also well up in the betting. Lord Astor's horses, St. Germans and Bright Knight are given fourth and fifth position in the betting.

The field includes a couple of French horses, Optimist II and Thunder Cloud II both of which have already arrived in England.

Speaking at a Press Club luncheon to-day Lord Derby said: "With a field of thirty-one for the Derby and a torrential rain falling I should put the names of the horses in a hat, draw out one and back it."

His Majesty will be present at Epsom throughout the meeting.

REVIEW OF MAJORS' FIRST MONTH; SPEAKER AND MACK DISAPPOINTED

Boston Red Sox, Closely Trailing The Yankees, Provide Early Season Surprise In American League, As Do The Pugnacious Cubs In The National.

INJURIES CRIPPLE CINCINNATTI

NEW YORK, June 3.—June finds the fields in both major leagues bunched and the standing of the clubs this morning shows several teams which, according to pre-season predictions, were expected to drop out of the running early, now near the top, pressing the champions, and several other teams which were considered as the main rivals of the Yankees and Giants before the season got under way lagging in the rear. But such is the uncertainty of baseball and just such reversals of form keep the followers of the two major leagues interested throughout the long season. A team may start from the second division and with a sudden winning streak climb into the lead. A team may appear well fortified in a lofty position and suddenly drop back with the tailenders.

When June comes around each year it generally finds the good pitchers winning games and the good batsmen hitting the ball. The recruits who look like stars in the Spring have either dimmed or else proved themselves genuine big league lights. The month now at hand is the period when a team may accurately be judged as to its true power.

Red Sox Pressing.

The Yankees generally were expected to get off to a big lead in the American League race and be well settled in first place as the teams swung into the third month of the going. But, instead, the world's champions find themselves pressed closely by the Red Sox, a club which was not until lately considered as a pennant contender. The Athletics, strengthened by the addition of some high-priced material, and the Indians were expected to cause the Yankees perhaps as much trouble as any other teams in the league, with the possible exception of the Tigers, yet the Indians are in seventh place and the Athletics at the bottom.

Cubs A Surprise.

In the National League the Giants' most formidable rival at the start of the season loomed up in the Cincinnati Reds, which entered the race with what was conceded to be the strongest pitching staff in the circuit, Pittsburgh was another team which promised to give the Giants a struggle for the leadership, yet it is neither of these which is providing the greatest opposition to last year's champion. Instead, the Cubs are traveling along at a steady gait, a scant margin behind the Giants, and the Robins are in third position with a gap of only three games separating them from first place. The Cardinals have upset early estimates of their strength, and instead of being near the top are well down toward the bottom, next to last.

Reds Have Suffered

There are various reasons for this condition of things. Rain and wet weather in some cases have caused teams with veteran pitching staffs to lose the effectiveness of their hurlers. Recruits who gave promise of doing great deeds have failed to come through as expected and, in some cases, have had to be benched. Some teams have suffered a loss of power through injuries, and this is especially true of the Reds, who have been forced to use their replacements for Daubert, Bohne and Caveney because of injuries. They have had to send a pitcher to first, Rube Bressler; a youngster, Kritz, to second, and another recruit, Fowler, to short. Fonesca was called on to fill in at second, but broke his arm.

THIRD DIAMOND NOW NECESSARY

Six League Games Billed For Exhibition Park This Week.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES

The demand for playing grounds is so urgent that the committee in charge of Exhibition Park will have to take immediate steps to lay out a third diamond at the big community field. Six league games are billed for the balance of the week, excepting Saturday when the Field Day will be held. By next week it will be necessary to play a greater number of games, and when the Bantam series opens, the grounds will have to be operated at full capacity to permit of league games being played and practices held by the numerous teams.

Today the entire west section of the grounds is having its hair bobbed close, additional protection for the spectators is being placed in position at the grandstand, and the smaller diamond used by Midget and Bantam teams is being groomed for the opening Midget contest this evening between the strong Rotary and Crescent Clubs.

Games scheduled for this week are:

Midget Series.

Tuesday—Crescents vs Rotary.
Thursday—South Centrals vs Beavers.

Juvenile Series.

Wednesday—East City vs Maple Leafs.

East Peterborough.

Wednesday — Curve Lake vs George Street.
Friday—Keene vs Mackey's.

Midland League.

Thursday—C.G.E. vs Raybestos.

This evening C.G.E. will have the main diamond from 6 to 6.30 o'clock and Mackeys will hold a workout from 6.30 to 7 p.m.

CAMPBELLFORD TO PLAY THE NOMADS

Charity Cup Game On Field Day Programme Next Saturday.

Football followers will be glad to know that Campbellford and Nomads are drawn to play their Charity Cup game at the Exhibition Grounds here next Saturday afternoon.

The game will start at 3 oclock, and will be part of the Sports Committee Field Day programme.

The fans are anxious to give both teams the once-over and size up their chances to lift any of the P. and D. F. A. Cups this year. Neither team has appeared here this year.

Those who have seen Campbellford play say they have a good team and are likely to prove stiff opposition for any local team. They are playing under the colours of Christ Church, Campbellford.

It is appropriate that Campbellford, now the home of Rev. Father Phelan, should be represented in the Charity Cup series.

This cup was donated to the P. and D. F. A. by Rev. Father Phelan when he was living in Peterborough, with the stipulation that the proceeds should go to charitable institutions.

He is still interested in the promotion of amateur sport, and will no doubt watch with interest the efforts of a team from his parish in the Phelan Charity Cup series.

SOCCER NOTES.

On Wednesday evening the Thistles and Nomads will meet at King Edward Park in an exhibition game. The Nomads are getting into shape and will give the rest of the teams a hard tussel in the cup ties.

There will be no game this Thursday evening at the request of the Canadian Woolens, who were to play the Quakers, and game was postponed.

On Saturday afternoon the Woollens and Quakers will meet at the Oval. Kick-off at 2 o'clock, and Nomads and Campbellford at Exhibition Grounds. Mr. Russell will referee at the Oval and Mr. A. Mitchell at "Ex."

The committee on the C.G.E. team are busy picking "the best" to represent the city at Cobourg in the C.G.E. field day, June 14th. They intend bringing home the bacon.

The Nomads' executive will meet at the game on Wednesday evening; also the following players are requested to attend: Gatfield, Hardie, Bartley, Young, Abraham, Hosker, Bradbury, Follis, Jones, Edwards, Long, Roberts, McFadden, Hanson, Marston. These sixteen players are requested to attend.

The Junior and Senior Associations met last evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in a round-table talk in the interest of football, but a general discussion ensued.

In future all clubs are requested to note that before any player desiring to transfer to another club must notify their club and the club must receive seven days' notice.

The Nomads and Campbellford will meet in the field day at the Exhibition Grounds on June 7th in the Phelan Cup tie. They are billed to start at 3.30 o'clock as one of the main attractions. The field day committee are doing everything to make this a great success.

OLYMPIC SOCCER

Italians Defeated By Swiss, and Ireland Eliminated by Dutch.

PARIS, June 3 (Canadian Press). —Switzerland defeated Italy, 2 goals to 1, in an Olympic soccer contest yesterday afternoon, thus making her way into the semi-finals.

The result was in doubt until the last minute of play. With the score 2 to 1 against them the Italians attacked furiously for the last five minutes, peppering shot after shot at the Swiss goal, while a crowd of 15,000 persons cheered wildly for them to even the score.

When the final whistle blew, however, Italy was still on the short end.

Experts believe that the Swiss players will not be able to cope with either Sweden or Uruguay, both of which teams are looked upon as certain finalists.

The Dutch team which defeated Ireland yesterday, 2 to 1, is not considered to have anything but a mighty slim chance against the Uruguayans.

MICKEY WALKER DEFENDED TITLE

Lew Tendler Put Up Game Fight But Was Outpunched at Close Quarters.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(Canadian Press).—"Mickey" Walker of Elizabeth, N.J., World's welterweight champion successfully defended his title against Lew Tendler Philadelphia south paw, in a furious ten round bout in the National League Ball Park here last night. The challenger put up a strong bout against the youthful champion but was outpunched at close quarters.

The southpaw's long left bothered Walker to some extent but when the champion got inside the challengers guard he scored heavily to Tendler's body. But the Philadelphian was "game." He met Walker at every turn blow for blow, carried the bout to champion during the later rounds and even forced Walker to cover by the fury of his attack.

He suddenly tossed off the cloak of defense that had been punctuating his actions and exchanged blows at short range with Walker. During this brief mix-up the spectators were in a frenzy.

This is a wonderful offer and should be tried for. It is most likely that some one of the Petes will connect with the ball on Saturday in the game here with Belleville and be the lucky individual to have the chance to pick out his socks free of charge.

This contest does not include Central Leaguers alone, but is open to any player taking part in a league game.

EXHIBITION GROUNDS NOW IN SPLENDID SHAPE

Excellent Diamonds and other Facilities for Sport—

The new diamonds at the Exhibitiontion grounds are in first class shape now, and are used most every night by different teams. The big diamond is a pippin, the kind you read about but very seldom see. It is level, and there is not a pebble to be found on it. It is situated in front of the grand stand so that everyone may see, while sitting at ease on the big cool grandstand, which is partly covered with wire netting to protect the fans. The rest of the wire will be put up to-day, and everything will be ready then for the big games this week. New bases are being purchased for both diamonds. Next Saturday will be the big field day to which large crowds will flock. Followers of youthful sport will be allowed to occupy the grandstand, on which they will be able to see all that is going on. All children under 14 years of age, who are accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

Are Leaving on Morning Train for Limestone City--Serth Will Pitch

The Peterboro Central Ontario League Team will play a league fixture in Kingston to-morrow evening, a twilight affair, and are hopeful of taking a fall out of the Ponies. It will probably be a battle of Southpaw, with Kelly and Gallagher pitted against Serth.

The Petes will leave for Kingston on the morning G.T.R. train, and are asked to be at the station at eight o'clock to-morrow morning.

A Pullman sleeper has been arranged for the return trip, the team reaching home on Thursday morning.

On Saturday the Belleville team will play here and the winner of the week end tilt should be leading the parade.

A GOOD BALL GAME TO-MORROW EVENING

The Lakeviews and the Crescents play the second game of the Junior series at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon at six o'clock. A fast exhibition of Junior ball was put on last week when these teams met, the Crecents winning by the close score of 4 to 2, after both teams had run neck and neck for six innings. The Lakeviews are on edge now after first beating and will be out there to-morrow night full of pep and confidence, that takes a team a long way. On the other hand the Crescents are just as confident they can beat the Lakeviews as they were before the last game. A fair crowd was present at the last game, but it is hoped that a great many more will turn out to-morrow and give the boys some support. The Lakeviews were beaten last week, much to the surprise of the many fans who watched them go through to the Ontario championship without a stall. They expect to do the same this year and will be on the diamond to-morrow, doing their bit to help carry them to the finals.

COLONIAL WEAVERS DEFEATED Y.W.C.A.

The girls' soft ball team of the Colonial Weaving Company last night won a heavy hitting game from the Y.W.C.A. girls by the enormous score of 28 to 17. Both teams hit hard and often and the outfielders on both line-ups had the busiest time of their career on the diamond. The game was exciting throughout and the Y. girls were always very dangerous and were just as apt to push ten runs across the plate in one innings as not. On the other hand the Colonials played steady ball and were continually making counters for themselves.

JOHNNY DUNDEE GAVE CHILEAN REAL FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Canadian Press).—Johnny Dundee, grizzled veteran of more than 300 ring battles, defeated Luis Vicentini, sensational Chilean lightweight, last night at Madison Square Garden, and abruptly checked the march of the young South American toward a bout with Benny Leonard. Dundee, calling on all his experience and speed to outgeneral his aggressive, hard-hitting opponent, gained the judges' verdict after an unexciting 12-round contest before a crowd of nearly 7,000 that paid $19,000 to witness it.

The decision was greeted with disfavor by a large portion of the crowd that seemed to have the belief that the Chilean's stiffer punches had given him the edge, but the consensus of ringside newspaper opinion supported the official verdict.

Vicentini tried hard to penetrate Dundee's crafty, shifty defence but seldom was able to land effectively on his bounding target.

Neither Dundee's featherweight nor junior lightweight titles were at stake.

CONFERENCE ON CHEESE CONTROL

Further Development of the Farmers' Co-operative Movement Here.

An important conference took place in Toronto yesterday, between members of the executive committee of the United Dairymen Co-Operative, Limited, a big co-operative company whose headquarters are in Peterborough, and the three members of the New Zealand Dairy Produce Export Control Board, who are now touring the world, studying marketing conditions.

By vote of the daily farmers of New Zealand, last fall, it was decided that, in order to effect economies in the marketing of their produce, and to ensure receiving top market prices, that all the cheese and all the butter from that Dominion, which last year amounted to eighty-five million dollars, should be exported and sold through a board of twelve men. The chairman of this board, Mr. W. Grounds, and two other members, Mr. Claude Motion, who is chairman of the biggest co-operative dairy company in the world, and Mr. Thatcher, are the three members of the delegation now in Canada.

Among those present at the conference, representing the United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, were Mr. W. R. Shields and Mr. H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough.

During the conference it was pointed out that Canada and New Zealand supplied Great Britain with eighty-four per cent. of the cheese which that country imports, and that if any method could be worked out by which Canada and New Zealand could unite in feeding the British markets, it would help to stabilize prizes, prevent speculation and reduce marketing costs. In the event of the United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, succeeding in forming a cheese pool in Ontario, the representatives of the New Zealand delegation said positively that the New Zealand Control Board will be willing to co-operate with the Ontario organization, in every possible way, in such matters as were discussed. The question of advertising products at home and abroad was also considered.

When the New Zealand delegation returns to New Zealand and prepares their report, covering results of their investigations into marketing methods in Great Britain and followed by other countries, they have promised to supply the Ontario organization with copies of their report.

KING CELEBRATED HIS 59th BIRTHDAY TODAY

Royal Salutes Were Fired at All Naval and Military Centres Throughout Empire--The Ceremonies.

LONDON, June 3. — (United Press).—King George celebrates his 59th birthday to-day, and Royal salutes were fired at noon at all the naval and military centres throughout the Empire. Military reviews were held at home and abroad, and flags were flown on all Government and public buildings.

The chief official celebration in Britain was the stately military parade known as "trooping the colors," staged on the spacious Horse Guards Parade at St. James' Park, London, over which the Monarch presided in person, in the presense of thousands of enthusiastic spectators. "Trooping the colors" is a parade exclusively reserved for the Brigade of Guards, and has few counter parts in the world. Vast numbers of American and foreign visitors availed themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the impressive spectacle.

Shortly after 10 a.m. about 6,000 of the Royal Household troops in gala uniforms, were massed on the parade ground or lining the route from Buckingham Palace, the route being the magnificent processional road through the Park, known as the Mall, and which easily accommodates hundreds of thousands of spectators.

King George left Buckingham Palace shortly after 11 a.m., riding at the head of a brilliant cavalcade composed of all the male members of the British Royal Family, visiting foreign Royalties, Indian chieftains, the headquarters staff of the army and other notables, including the Foreign Naval and Military Attachees — the latter providing a blaze of vari-colored uniforms contrasting with the prevailing scarlet tunics and black bear skin headdresses which is a purely "Guards" show, naturally predominated.

King George wore the uniform of a Colonel-in-Chief of the Guards, crossed by the broad blue ribbon of the Garter, and on his right rode the Prince of Wales as Colonel-in-Chief of the Welsh Grenadier Guards, rode on his left. Behind rode Prince Henry in Hussar uniform, the Duke of York in air force blue, Prince George in naval uniform and other Royalties. The Earl of Cavan, chief of the Imperial General Staff, headed a brilliant headquarters staff, and among other famous soldiers following the King were Field-Marshal Earl Haig, Field-Marshal Earl French, as Colonel-in-Chief of the Irish Guards, Field-Marshal Lord Methuen, as Colonel-in-Chief of the Scots Guards.

Queen Mary, Princess Mary, the Duchess of York and other Royal ladies drove to the parade grounds in State carriages and took positions in a special Royal box. The usual Sovereign's escort of Life Guards, augmented by a turnout of the whole of the three regiments of household cavalry with massed bands, a "birthday salute" of 59 guns was fired by the Royal Horse Artillery in Hyde Park as the cavalcade left the Palace.

Arriving on the parade grounds, the King was received with a Royal salute, and then proceeded to inspect the lines. The color was "trooped" in slow and "quick" time to the music of the massed bands, and the ceremony concluded with a march past. Great enthusiasm marked the whole proceedings and the cheers were redoubled when King George, dispensing with his Life Guards escort, took his place as Colonel-in-Chief at the head of the Foot Guards, and led the procession back to the Palace.

Only wearers of Guards' uniforms were permitted in this procession—the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught keeping their positions on the right and left of the Monarch, but all others being marshalled in a separate procession, headed by the Duke of York.

At the gates of Buckingham Palace, the King reigned up and took the salute as his Guards marched on to barracks.

A Royal luncheon, attended by all the leading participants in the parade, was then held at the Palace, and during the afternoon King George was kept busy receiving official, Ambassadorial and Ministerial calls and congratulatory messages from the rulers of the world.

King George, with most of the Royal Family, will witness the Derby to-morrow, and in the evening His Majesty will give the customary Derby day banquet at Buckingham Palace to the members of the Jockey Club.

DRY EXECUTIVE HELD A MEETING

Prominent Speakers May Be Brought to Peterboro

A preliminary meeting of the Prohibition Association of Peterboro, which has an executive committee, but has not yet been fully organized was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. when discussion took place on the advisability of inviting prominent Prohibition speakers, including Hon. Geo. E. Foster and Mr. E. C. Drury late premier of Ontario, to come to Peterboro and speak on Temperance matters. Mr. A. B. Cunningham occupied the chair. Rev. Mr. Bailey of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Prohibition Association, was present, and advised the meeting that it was quite probably speakers could be obtained for such a purpose. At a general meeting of the Association, to be held on Thursday evening of this week, final arrangements will be made.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS 53RD ANNUAL CONVENTION

MONTREAL, June 3.—(Canadian Press.)— The fifty-third annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association opened here this afternoon with an address of welcome by Mayor Duquette. Delegates from all over the Dominion attended the convention and the first day's business was largely taken up by reports. That of the Executive committee shows a surplus for the year of $20,335.43, which has been added to the reserve account. The profit from publication, "Industrial Canada," was $6,466.98 for the year as against $3,937.95 for the previous twelve months. In regard to the "Canadian Trade Index," it was pointed out that despite "the wet blanket thrown over business by the budget," over half the advertising objective had been reached.

ENGLAND BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

General Booth Says Prospects for World Peace Are Better--Speaks on Immigration.

TORONTO, June 3. Canadian Press —General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, is in Toronto to-day, conferring with officials of the organization here.

In an interview with newspapermen he said that the prospects for world peace were improving. "The eyes of the common people are open to the futility of war," he said. "Things are better than they were a year ago."

Regarding immigration, he said the government in Britain did not want to send people were they were not welcome, but he thought that there were many areas in Canada where settlers would be accepted.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

Harold Lloyd is the comedy attraction at the Capitol Theatre for the first three days of this week. He gave his audience some thrills last night in "High and Dizzy," a comedy that portrays the agile comedian in the role of the suitor of a damsel whose diversion is walking in her sleep. The lady somnambulist takes an afternoon snooze, and gets one of her attacks. She goes for a pleasant little jaunt along the extreme edge of the fifth storey of a dizzy apartment house. Harold in the meantime, has become acquainted with the kick-producing qualities of a batch of strong home brew, and, with his companion, likewise highly inebriated, have some interesting adventures. The element of real fun that Harold Lloyd always injects into his comedies is as strong as usual in this picture. He makes use in his customary style of various little happenings, to get hearty laughs from his watchers.

One of the interesting portions of the programme is the inclusion of a series of tinted views of English scenes and famous buildings. They are excellently produced, the different pictures merging into one another in effective fashion. Scenes of ancient historical interest show famous historical characters in conjunction with their presentation.

The feature picture, "A Couple of Down and Outs," is distinctively English. Danny Creath, D.C.M., is the hero, and Molly Roake the heroine. It illustrated in vivid fashion a by-section of the life of the returned man. Danny watches the throngs around the cenotaph to dead soldiers, and turns away to resume his wearied search for employment. He sees his old horse, Jack, the companion of his war days in the Field Artillery section, being led away to slaughter for use as horse-meat, and rescues him after a tussle with several policemen. Then he wanders into the security of a neighboring backyard, and meets the girl, who listens to his story. Portrayed in striking manner are scenes from the Great War. The field artillery is shown in action, and the men advance and retreat over broken earth. The shells, breaking at right and left, explode in colored flame. The war scenes are realistic and effective, and the story, with its typical English atmosphere, has a cheerful ending.

AT THE REGENT

MARION DAVIES' CAREER SERIES OF SUCCESSES

Star of "Little Old New York" Was Picked from Chorus for an Important Part in "Oh, Boy" and Ziegfeld "Follies"

Marion Davies, the twenty-three-year-old star of Cosmopolitan productions, was born in Brooklyn, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Bernard Douras. She attended the Brooklyn grammar school and then entered a convent in New York City, specializing in dramatic arts, French literature and music. She was an apt pupil and several times completed in one year the regular studies of two. She left school when very young, being drawn to the stage. Living at home with her parents, she did not have the struggles nor hardships which many girls undergo. From the "Chin Chin" chorus she was choosen by several producers who wanted her in musical comedies and was cast in "Oh, Boy!"

When Harrison Fisher asked Miss Davies to pose for his delightful study, "Morning," there followed universal acknowledgement that hers was an extraordinary loveliness. Since that time the celebrated star has posed for the best artists in the country, including Howard Chandler Christy, W. T. Benda, Frank X. Leyendecker, Carl Link, Penrhyn Stanlaws and others.

After her appearance in "Oh, Boy!" Miss Davies was chosen for the Zeigfeld "Follies" and from there she went into pictures. She has made over a dozen pictures, all of them Cosmopolitan productions. Her wonderful interpretation of Princess Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" brought her praise from all over the world, and gave her undisputed place as one of the best screen stars of the day. Her grip on stardom has been further strengthened by her portrayal of "Pat O'Day" in "Little Old New York," directed by Sidney Olcott from Rida Johnson Young's stage play. It will be the attraction at the Regent Theatre for three days.

Miss Davies' introduction to pictures came about in an interesting way. She was in Florida on a brief vacation before her return for the opening of the "Follies." There were several good motion picture photographers there taking pictures of the girls on the beach. A few days later Miss Davies saw herself on the screen at a Palm Beech theatre. A New York producer had met her and seen this same picture on the screen. He saw in the young actress infinite possibilities for the silent drama, and it was thus Miss Davies gave up the stage for the screen.

AT THE ROYAL

"MARRIAGE MORALS" PACKS THEATRES

All Star Cast in Unusual Production

Last night's audience found there was something new under the sun with the screening of Will Nigh's superpicture, "Marriage Morals," at the Royal Theatre.

Here, ladies and gentlemen, worshippers of the movie gods, is something new.

First of all, Mr. Will Nigh, who seems to be able to write as well as he can direct, which latter is no secret to film fans, goes to real life for his story. (Please, Mr. Compositor, be sure to spell that "real," not "reel.") It's true —real-ly. A real story. Something you can put your teeth into, and worthy of one's intelligence.

Secondly, miracle of miracles, Mr. Nigh, author-director, presents us with a set of men and women—real, honest-to-goodness flesh and blood men and women and not movie mannikins and mannequins.

What think you of a hero who has his faults, just like a normal man? And a villain who has his good points? And a heroine who is not one hundred and one percent perfect?

Sounds too good to be true, doesn't it? And it's all true and it's all here, or rather there at the Royal Theatre, and it will be there until to-morrow night.

So, if it isn't jammed and crowded for the balance of the engagement, we miss our guess.

The story briefly tells how Tom Moore (he is the very human hero) refuses to take his marriage, his wife or his home seriously, insisting upon his "liberty"; liberty to do what he jolly well pleases, which whim takes the peculiar quirk of turning his home into a cabaret, more or less, for the delectation of a fast crowd of smart set spongers.

The result and consequences, particularly when wifey, played by Ann Forrest, goes him one better upon the good old theory that "sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," makes to us an absorbing drama of real people, tackling a real problem in a real way, with an appeal direct to the heart with a thrill for every throb.

The direction of Will Nigh is worthy of his story, and the cast really deserve's the over-worked appellation, "all-star,s' both for its name and its performance.

Tom Moore and Ann Forrest head the roster, ably supported by Edmund Breese, Florence Billings, Harry T. Morey, Shannon Day, Tom Lewis, John Goldsworthy, little Russell Griffin, Charles Craig and "Mickey" Bennett.

WANTING HUSBAND, THIS MADCAP KIDNAPS YOUTH

If you were a white girl—

If you had been brought up as an Indian—

If you decided that you wanted a white husband—

How would you go about getting him?

In "The Huntress," a screen version of Hulbert Footner's charming novel of the great out-of-doors, "Bela," played by Colleen Moore, the dainty and winsome young star, is faced by that problem.

Bela wants a husband so bad that she just goes out and takes one—kidnaps him, in fact. And—"then the fun begins."

The kidnapping of the white man (Lloyd Hughes) forms the basic plot of this highly amusing First National picture, which is being presented at the Royal Theatre on Thursday.

"The Huntress" is proving to be one of the outstanding comedy-dramatic gems of the year. The role of "Bela," the vivacious white-Indian girl, is one which is especially adaptable to Miss Moore's versatile ability. It is one that will add still more laurel to the crown of this most capable First National star.

The all-star cast which interprets the Footner novel on the screen also includes Lloyd Hughes, Russell Simpson, Walter Long, Snitz Edwards, Charles E. Anderson and Wilfred North.

TEACHERS AND THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Have Important Part to Play in Bilingual Movement Says Senator.

OTTAWA, June 3 (Canadian Press). — The important part which teachers would play in the bilingual movement throughout Ontario, was emphasised by Senator E. A. "I would ask the teachers to remember always that they are the most important figures in the solution of the Separate School question which has agitated his Province for so many years, and has caused so much racial bitterness," said Senator Belcourt. "Upon the manner in which bilingual teachers fulfill their duties will depend the success of the movement."

PEOPLE ANXIOUS FOR CHANCELLOR

Wounded by Bullet on Sunday, Seipel Remains in Precarious Condition

VIENNA, June 3.— The condition of Chancellor Seipel, seriously wounded when an attempt was made against his life on Sunday, continued unchanged to-day, his physicians considering it satisfactory for the present and expressing the hope that to-morrow, the third and crucial day, would not reveal any unfavorable process around the bullet wound in the Chancellor's lung.

Meanwhile, open spaces nearby the hospital are crowded day and night with hundreds of anxious watchers, many of whom frequently pray aloud for the Chancellor's recovery.

Any idea that there was a political motive for the crime has been dismissed.

The marriage took place of Lillie May, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson, Townsend street, to Harold Underwood, of England, on June 2nd, 1924, in St. Luke's church, East City.

COSS—GOSSELIN
A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Sacred Heart at six o'clock this morning when Annie, daughter of the late James Gosselin was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Michael Coss, son of M. Coss of Quebec.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, James Gosselin, Jr., to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Armstrong.

She was charmingly attired in a suit of navy tricotine with hat and shoes to match and gray squirrel choker and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Her sister, Imelda, acted as bridesmaid, attired in navy tricotine and carrying pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother Mr. E. Coss.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The tables were beautifully decorated with sweet peas and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Coss left on the 7.35 C.P.R. train for an extended visit to Toronto, Hamilton and Chicago.

Upon their return the young couple will reside in Peterboro.

The many useful and beautiful presents received testified to the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

CHICAGO YOUTHS FACE CRIME OF GLAND REMOVAL

Recognized by Chauffeur as the Pair Who Kidnapped and Mutilated Him Last November.

WAS UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

Eyeglasses Made to Order For Young Leopold Furnished Main Clue.

CHICAGO, June 4. — Another shocking crime has been charged against Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, self-confessed slayers of Robert Franks, by Charles Ream, a taxicab chauffeur, who alleges that five months ag, they kidnapped him and performed a gland operation on him.

The victim of mutilation identified them as his assailants.

Ream came to State Attorney Crowe's office for an opportunity to view the murderers, having seen their pictures in the newspapers and believing them to be the men who performed the crude operation on him.

As they were being led through the corridors of the State Attorney's office to be turned over to Warden Wesley Westbrook of the County Jail, Ream and a fellow-chauffeur watched them.

Identified by Operation Victim.

"It's them, it's them!" Ream suddenly cried, and fell back almost in a stupor, weeping and moaning.

The murderers who killed as an experiment did not even turn around. They had been instructed and warned by Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, their counsel, to hear nothing, see nothing, say nothing.

Leopold was told of the charge made by Ream, and asked if he and Loeb had attacked Ream.

"I'm sorry, I have nothing to say," he replied.

"If you didn't do it, why not say so now," was suggested.

"I must respectfully decline to answer without consulting counsel," he persisted.

That was as much as either would say after they had been permitted, by order of Court, to confer with counsel. To such questions as "Do you want a drink of water? Shall we send out for cigarettes for you?" each in turn would murmur:

"I must respectfully decline to answer."

It was easy to perceive that counsel had told them they had already talked too much. Mr. Bachrach admitted as much. His concern now was to render the confession t, the gruesome murder inadmissable as evidence against the pair, he said.

Forgotten Sensation.

The kidnapping of Ream and his mutilation was a sensation in Chicago five months ago. The taxi driver was accosted at Fifty-fourth Street and Dorchester Avenue about 2 a.m. on the mornig of 20th November. Two men in a large touring car drew up to the curb as the chauffeur walked along the street.

"Hands up," they ordered. Ream raised his arms. The pair then threw him into their car and drove away. Soon after the car was in motion he was clubbed into unconsciousness. He recovered consciousness three hours later on the prairie near 109th Street and Avenue G.

The gland extraction operation had been performed.

He staggered to a near-by house where the taxicab company was notified. The discovery of the crime caused a stir in the Police Department and many crack detectives took up the search for the kidnappers. More than a score of suspicious persons were taken before Ream, but he was unable to identify any of them.

Until now there had been no solution of the mystery. Ream had no sweethearts nor had he any enemies. He was a young taxicab driver making his way without harming any one, minding his own business, and working steadily and spending his free time in simple amusements.

Schoolboy Tells of Escape.

One of the several lads, neighbors, in addition to Robert Franks, whom Leopold and Loeb had on their prospective list, has verified a part of Loeb's confession.

This boy, John Levinson, 11 years old, the son of Solomon Levinson, an attorney living at 4,049 Lake Park Avenue, told of being approached on the Harvard School grounds two hours before the Franks boy was abducted.

At that hour, according to Loeb no victim had been definitely selected. He and Lopold were scouting around the private school looking for one they deemed best suited to their purpose.

Mr. Levinson brought his son to the Criminal Courts Building at the request of State Attorney Crowe, who wished by verifying the boy's experience to confirm some of Leopold's and Loeb's confessions. John gripped his father's hand as he answered questions by Mr. Crowe.

"You know Richard Loeb, don't you?" Mr. Crowe asked.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you see him or talk with him the day Robert Franks was kidnapped?"

"Yes, sir," said John. "I was playing at the Harvard School at about half-past two, and Richard Loeb came along and said 'Hello.' Mr. Cease (an instructor) was with

Boy Hero of Sea Fight

Saves Ship and Crew From Terror of Gale

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4. — Romance of the sea, with its hero a 19-year-old boy, has come sailing through the Golden Gate aboard the schooner S. N. Castle.

Eighty-seven days the Castle was buffeting seas from Sydney, Australia. Eighty-seven days of adventure, hardship and peril they were.

And when she reached here the boy, Daniel Blackie, was second in command. A few months before he had sailed from his home in Vancouver, B.C., as a seaman.

Since early boyhood, Blackie had felt the call of the sea. And just before the Castle set forth on her last trip, Blackie answered that call. He expected to be home again after a short voyage.

But shortly after the Castle cleared, friction developed between the first mate and Captain Werner Reinhart. The climax came in Suva, a South Sea Island port.

The first mate was discharged. Then the second mate became ill, and he, too, was left behind.

Became First Mate.

Blackie was named first mate. With the crew, it was a popular choice. And with the skipper the lad's brawn was ample assurance all orders would be obeyed promptly.

Then came the storm. And then the leak.

"We struck a calm, but couldn't move out for a month," related Blackie.

"But we couldn't stop the leak, and our food began to run low.

"With three feet of water in our hold, a terrific gale struck us. For 30 days more we had to take turns at the pumps.

"Our rations were down to two servings of hot cakes a day. We had a pig on board, but he was our mascot, and there wasn't a man on the Castle who wouldn't have starved rather than kill him."

Followed then a chapter which Blackie modestly refrains from telling. Other members of the crew, however, do not hesitate to talk about it.

Sails Blew Away.

The storm was at its height when the foresail and mainsail blew away. Going aloft and repairing the damage was all that could save the ship. But it was a hazardous job.

Blackie, though, did not falter. Nor did he call for volunteers. He climbed up in the hurricane's teeth, did what work was possible, then returned to deck.

"I'll be a landlubber until I feel the call again," Blackie says. "Then I guess I'll go back to the sea.

"But what I want most in all the world right now is a batch of good square meals."

IMMIGRATION OF JAPS DISCUSSED IN HOUSE

Premier King Promises Full Information On Every Phase of Question Raised By Hon. H. H. Stevens.

OTTAWA, June 4.—(Canadian Press.)—The question of Japanese immigration came up in the House of Commons again last night when the House assembled. Hon. H. H. Stevens drew the Prime Minister's attention to an answer given to a question of his Monday. That answer stated that Japan had agreed last year to restrict the number of Japanese coming to Canada as domestic servants or agricultural laborers to 150 annually, and was so worded as to imply that 150 was the annual quota of Japanese allowed to enter Canada as settlers. Mr. Stevens pointed out that the "gentleman's agreement" specified several classes of Japanese immigrants of which agricultural and domestic workers was only one. For instance, "contract labor" might cover a wide field.

Mr. Stevens asked if the Government was aware that despatches from Tokio conveyed the impression that the Japanese Government had claimed the right to repudiate the gentleman's agreement where it affected immigrants to Canada and Mexico, because those countries were only included on account of their proximity to the United States. The United States having changed its laws with regard to Japan, that country had announced its intention to ignore its agreement with regard to continguous countries.

The Prime Minister promised to look into the matter of the reply given to the first question. He was under the impression that the gentleman's agreement referred to agricultural and domestic workers, but he would make sure that all information available was brought down.

As for the Tokio despatches, he did not believe that Japan would try to evade an agreement with Canada because some other country had changed its laws. That was not his understanding of the force of the agreement. He would, however, see that the House was informed on every phase of the question.

State papers in Greece now refer to the "State of Greece," instead of the "Realm of Greece."

Smuggling Ring Plies Big Trade About Manitoba

WINNIPEG, June 4.—(Canadian Press).—Claiming that Manitoba merchants were being deprived of a business turnover of at least $1,500,000 annually through operations of a smuggling ring in and around Winnipeg, members of the Executive of the Winnipeg Retail Merchants' Association have waited upon the Manitoba Government asking for assistance.

They urged the Government to undertake patrol of the border and to check up motor traffic.

The Government has the matter under consideration.

An investigating committee of the Retail Merchants' Association found that during May the smuggler brought into the Province silks, cigarettes, tobacco, cotton goods, hosiery, musical instruments, medicines, boots, jewellry and other dutiable articles to the extent of $250,000.

GIRL IN EVENING CLOTHES DEFIED DARE OF WOODS

Quit Party in Silk Gown to Prove She Could Catch a Rabbit.

AIRPLANES SEARCHING

Man Who Followed to Protect Is Missing, Too.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Over the wooded slopes and the ravines of the country about Mountain Lakes, N.J., airplanes hovered yesterday in the hope of finding Helen Cole, who "wouldn't take a dare," and Charles Carter, who followed her into the woods Saturday night.

Both were in evening clothes and both determined to show that under the most adverse conditions they could wring from Nature food and shelter.

At first the thing looked like a joke or an elopement. Miss Cole, about twenty-five, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Crowell, who have a country estate near Boonton.

Carter, who hails from California, as does Miss Cole, accompanied her to the Crowells.

Off to Try It.

At dinner the subject of Arthur Stringer's novel, "Empty Hands," was brought up. The story told of a young couple who, lost in the wilds of Canada, without any means of trapping game for food, or any knowledge of woodcraft, managed to live.

One of the guests scoffed at the idea. Miss Cole, a sculptor, said it could be done. Still in high-heeled shoes and evening gown, she started off to try it, Carter following.

Sunday and Monday passed and no trace of the couple was found. The Crowells, greatly alarmed, asked the aid of the State constabulary and of neighbors. They searched the woods and lanes in vain.

Method Not Told.

One of the taunts that made the sculptors determine to try out the Paul and Virginia theme in real life was that she couldn't even catch a rabbit. She retorted that she could catch one with her hands. There are New Jersey dogs that have been chasing rabbits for many years, as the life of a dog goes, and have never got even the taste of Mr. Cottontail.

How she expected to capture a rabbit for luncheon or dinner she did not confide to the Crowells or the week-end guests.

It is too early in the year for wild berries, though there may be young cress in the streams and on the edges of the lakes. There are plenty of birds and these might be snared. Making a fire for the simple repast of two cave dwellers is another problem. But they may have carried along cigarettes and matches.

The sudden departure of the two guests was not discovered until Sunday morning, when Mrs. Crowell took coffee to the room of Miss Cole, only to find the bed unslept in and a note asking her not to be alarmed and saying the writer felt impelled to "catch that rabbit dead or alive."

25 Miles Searched.

A check-up of the clothes left in Miss Cole's room showed that she had gone into the neighboring wilderness in a yellow silk evening gown and the most fashionable of low shoes. She did not wear a hat. She was described by her friends as an athletic girl with a great love for the outdoors.

Lieutenant Nichols, of the State troopers, took charge of the search Monday. A radius of twenty-five miles of woodland was hunted over. Searchlights were mounted on high points and kept revolving as beacons for the lost ones.

Nichols, experienced in searching for lost persons, said he was sure the two were somewhere in the woods. Because of their evening clothes they would have been noticed if they had come in contact with village folk.

In the country surrounding Mountain Lakes there is much dangerous swamp land, especially Rattlesnake Swamp, a great morass. Searching parties were also sent to another danger point, Hibernia Mines, deserted collieries with many deep shafts, never carefully covered.

When living in New York Miss Cole stayed at the Hotel Marlton, Eighth Street, near Fifth Avenue. It was said there that she received no callers and only a few girl friends called her on the telephone. Her uncle, Frank Decum, No. 205 East Twenty-Seventh Street, who started the hunt for her when informed of her disappearance, said:

"I am sure that Helen did not elope. I have no news of her, but I feel she is capable of taking care of herself."

Young Winnipeg Bandits Robbed Manager of Store

WINNIPEG, June 4.—(Canadian Press).—After first kidnapping Charles Moscowvitch, manager of a departmental store in St. Boniface, in the hope of finding the day's earnings of the establishment in his possession, three youthful bandits, believed to have come from Winnipeg, forced him Monday night at the point of revolvers to return to the store when they found only $30 in his pockets. They forced him to open the safe and turn over to them the contents of approximately $300.

Mr. Moscowvitch was getting into his automobile in front of the store when the bandits appeared from behind a building nearby. They ordered him into the car, and one of the youths took the wheel and drove out about seven miles into the country, where they relieved him of the money he was carrying. Then they returned to the store.

No arrests have been made.

FRANCE INSTILS DUTY TO STATE

Foundation of Citizenship Is Laid in Schools——Duty to Country Fostered.

APPEAL TO BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 3. — (Canadian Press).—Fred Ney, the principal speaker at a meeting of the Colonial Institute here Tuesday afternoon, contrasted the British and French systems of education, especially with regard to citizenship, in the light of a recent visit he made to France. He said it was not easy to develop a sense of responsibility in the English schools, but the sense of nationality generated across the channel was striking.

There the name of France was made to live vividly, and a real feeling of duty towards their own country was fostered in the schools, Mr. Ney said.

Mr. Ney asked the British people not to be too hard in their judgment if certain signs pointed to a growing similarity between Canada and the United States. If the similarity continued to grow it would be due to a lack of duty and interest on the part of the people on this side of the ocean towards Canadians, he said.

Professor W. F. Osborne, of the University of Manitoba, said he believed it was due to the grace of God and good luck that Canada was now British. Canada, he said, was losing the cream of the country to the United States, but he was not afraid of her devotion to the Empire if the people of Great Britain had imagination as to the potentialities and significance of the Empire.

WAGES INCREASED.

Montreal Harbor Employees Receive Advance of Ten Per Cent.

MONTREAL, June 4.—Negotiations between the Montreal Harbor Commissioners and their employees regarding wages and conditions of labor were completed here Tuesday on a basis satisfactory to both sides it was announced by Dr. W. L. MacDougald, president of the Harbor Board.

The settlement will result in an average wage increase of about ten per cent. for the 3,800 employees of the harbor, including the staffs of the grain elevator system, the harbor yard machine shop, the harbor yard traffic shop, the marine shops and the construction forces. The new wage scale will operate on every recognized working day from the opening of navigation till December 15.

TAX RATE INCREASE.

LONDON, Ont., June 3. — The Middlesex County Council this afternoon struck the 1924 tax rate at 11 mills, an increase of 2 mills over 1923.

No Bobs Allowed In Women's Jail

CANON CITY, Colo., June 4.—(Associated Press).—Warden Thomas J. Tynan, of the Colorado state penitentiary here, has issued a decree to the women prisoners that there shall be "No Bobs." Women arriving with bobbed hair are required to let it grow, according to the warden, who holds that there is something essentially feminine in graceful coils of hair, and that "incarceration is no reason why womanly qualities and virtues should not be emphasized."

FRENCH SENATE BLOC DEMANDS NEW PRESIDENT

Group Of 122 Socialists Adopt Resolution Calling For Resignation Of Millerand.

PAINLEVE THEIR CHOICE

Critical Week In French Political Affairs—Herriot Continues Silent.

PARIS, June 4.—One hundred and twenty-two senators of the Democrat Left, which is the most important group in the Senate, adopted a resolution yesterday declaring that M. Millerand must resign from the presidency. The Senate numbers 300.

The Republican Union at a caucus which M. Poincare attended for the first time since he assumed the premiership two and a half years ago, adopted a motion deprecating the agitation against the Chief of State, and affirming the principle that the President ought to be allowed to fill out his term of office. M. Poincare supported the motion.

Radicals in Majority

M. DeJouvenel, Minister of Public Instruction, opposed the adverse resolution at the caucus of the Democratic Left, and proposed that a committee wait on the President and confer with him regarding the situation before action was taken. An overwhelming majority, however sympathized with the Radical Socialist movement.

This is regarded in parliamentary circles as making the situation untenable for M. Millerand. The President's friends still maintain that he will stand firmly on his constitutional rights and wait for Parliament to take a formal vote on question before resigning. The final crisis is expected to come after the election of the president of the Chamber to-day.

Painleve a Candidate

The choice of the Radical Socialist coalition for this office is former Premier Painleve. He will have as his opponent Andre Maginot, Minister of War in the outgoing cabinet, who late last evening consented to be the candidate of the Republican Democratic group and the Republicans of the Left. This election will be the first clash between the new majority and the Opposition and will be a test of strengh between the opposing groups.

Whoever is elected will be invited by M. Millerand to call at the Elysee and confer on the formation of a new cabinet, along with M. Doumergue, President of the Senate. If Edouard Herriot is recommended as head of the new government. M. Millerand will send for the Radical leader.

Herriot Keeps Counsel

M. Herriot has kept secret thus far whether he will accept the mission to form a ministry from M. Millerand. If he does, then the final issue will come when the new cabinet appears before the Chamber. If the deputies refuse to give confidence to the Herriot Cabinet formed under Millerand's administration, the President will then decide whether to send messages to the two Houses of Parliament or ask some one else to undertake the task of forming a ministry.

The opinion expressed in the lobbies of the Chamber Tuesday was that no man capable of heading the government would undertake such a task if M. Herriot declines, or if the Chamber refuses to give him a vote of confidence. The general expectation is that the presidential crisis will come to a head Friday. If M. Millerand resigns the coalition of the Left will hold a caucus and name its candidates.

M. Painleve seems to be the favorite of the Chamber, while M. Doumergue has the lead in the Senate.

PROTESTS IN COMMONS

Against Diversion of Great Lakes Water For Chicago Canal.

OTTAWA, June 4.—(By Canadian Press).—Warm protests against the diversion of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago Sanitary District were heard in the House of Commons last night.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, declared that the "utter callousness" of the proceeding was "becoming more and more brazen and surely we must now realize that any matter of mere words, particularly in the matter of letter-writing, is no going to get us anywhere in rescuing us from the position we are in."

Mr. Meighen charged that the district, in lowering the level of lakes and rivers, was costing millions to shipping and upkeep of canals, paid for by the sweat of the Canadian people.

GOVERNMENT OF NEWFOUNDLAND LOSES AT POLLS

First Returns Indicate Election Of 18 Opposition And 2 Government Candidates.

36 SEATS IN ASSEMBLY

Third Cabinet To Fall Since Warren Ministry Went Out In April.

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., June 4.—The defeat of the Hickman Government in Monday's general election in Newfoundland was conceded by the Administration on the basis of returns available last night. These indicated the election of eighteen Oppositionists and two Government supporters.

Should the Government carry all the divisions which have not yet reported, it would only divide the membership of the Legislature evenly with the Opposition and bye-elections would be necessary to replace several ministers defeated at the polls. There are 36 seats in the Newfoundland Assembly. Political observers expressed the belief that with the present apparent trend of public opinion against the Government, ministerial candidates would meet defeat in bye-elections.

Fall of Ministers

The members of the Cabinet known last night to have been defeated are Matthew Hawco, Minister of the Postoffice, and Walter Cave, Minister of Finance, Minister of Fisheries Archibald, who is not a member of the Cabinet proper, also was defeated, as well as Edward Emerson, Minister without portfolio.

Premier Albert Hickman headed the poll in Harbor Grace division which elects three members. His two colleagues, one of whom was Archibald, were defeated by Bennett and Russell, Oppositionists. Ferryland elected two Oppositionists Cashin and Moore. Incomplete returns from both divisions of St. John's, indicated the election of an entire Opposition delegation. Emerson was a candidate in the eastern division of St. John's. The election of three Oppositionists in Placentia was also conceded.

Political Shifts

It is believed that Governor Allardyce would call upon Walter Monroe, leader of the Opposition, to form a cabinet, which would be the third since the Warren Ministry met defeat in the Legislature on a confidence vote, April 24. The fall of the government headed by Premier W. R. Warren, was due to its activity in bringing about the arrest of former Premier Sir Richard Squires and others on charges of larceny of public funds. A new ministry, formed by Mr. Warren through coalition with the Opposition of the last Legislature, resigned as a result of dissensions. Albert Hickman, a former Minister of Militia, then formed the Government, whose defeat now is admitted.

MARX MINISTERS RESUME OFFICES AFTER RE-UNION

Middle Parties Of German Reichstag Named By President Ebert As Administration.

NATIONALISTS ARE OUT

Negotiations For New Non-Socialistic Government Broke Down.

BERLIN, June 4. — The Marx-Stresemann Cabinet, which resigned on May 26, but continued to carry on current affairs, is back in office.

President Ebert last night appointed Dr. Wilhelm Marx as Chancellor, and confirmed the members of his ministry in their poses.

In the period intervening since the resignation of the cabinet it had been found impossible to bring about an alignment of parties so that a new ministry could come into power, and the final outcome is a re-union of the German Peoples' Party with the Clericals and the Democrats, enabling the Marx-Stresemann combination to return to office.

End of Hectic Day.

The decision to end the most hectic of parliamentary crises came at the close of a day marked by desultory attempts to reopen negotiations with the German Nationalists. The latter's political ambitions, as reflected in an official communique issued in the course of the afternoon, soon convinced Chancellor Marx and his associates in the Democratic Party, that further parleys with the Hergt Party would force the Middle Parties into an ignominous position, and the Chancellor led the way in announcing his determination to revise the retiring ministry or resign the mandate given him by President Ebert.

The People's Party, on the other hand, held out for an understanding with the Nationalists, to whom they are more nearly politically akin than the other factors in the present Middle parties bloc, and it was only after a prolonged party caucus that the decision to rejoin their former associates in the government was reached with reluctance.

The Chancellor immediately summoned the members of the present cabinet to the Chancellery, where the cabinet will reconstitute itself, and agree upon an official declaration, which will be submitted to the Reichstag this afternoon.

Marx Kept Control.

Dr. Marx emerges from the recent crisis as the innocent victim of an attempt to coax the German Nationalists into a non-Socialistic Republican cabinet, an undertaking in which he was obviously encouraged by the German People's Party, whose political affinity to the Hergt-Westarp-Von Tirpitz aggregation, has been amply established.

Throughout his negotiations, however, the Chancellor has been eminently frank in emphasizing the conditions under which the reactionaries would be tolerated in the Cabinet and at no time did he permit Dr. Hergt to believe that the controlling influence in such a broad coalition would be relinquished by him.

The Middle parties also apprised the reactionaries that any change in the course of German foreign policies, as observed in connection with the government's acceptance of the Dawes' report, was wholly out of the question.

U. S. BANK SUSPENDS.

Bankers Negotiate For Payment in Full to Depositors.

GRAND FORKS, N.D. June 4.—The First Savings Bank of Grand Forks suspended payments Tuesday and will be placed on the special deposit list, it was decided at a meeting of representatives of this bank with those of three other banks here and a representative of the State Depositors' Guarantee Commission.

The bankers authorized the statement that negotiations are under way, which, it is believed, will insure payment of depositors in the near future.

Depletion of reserve was the chief cause of the suspension of payments. The bank capitalized at $50,000, and its deposits amount to $296,273.27.

THE RUSSIANS WANT A LOAN GUARANTEE

Sympathy of British Government Has Not Been Enough To Encourage London Bankers.

FACTOR IN CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 4. — Prime Minister MacDonald's view of the Anglo-Russian conference is that it is making progress, although slowly, toward a settlement.

Among the Russian delegation there is a growing feeling that the British government much change its attitude with regard to the floating of a Russian loan in Great Britain if the conference is to be successful.

The Russians maintain that a sympathetic attitude by the Labor government is not sufficient to convince the bankers of the city that the Russian loan would be a good investment.

The Russians want the MacDonald government to guarantee the loan, and M. Rakovsky is doing everything possible to bring pressure on the Prime Ministers from the Radicals, and the Moderates of the Left in the Labor Party, in order to induce the Government to guarantee the loan. As yet their arguments have been been unproductive and M. Rakovsky it appears must continue his negotiations with the bankers without any backing from Whitehall.

It is asserted authoritatively here that the news that the British government is refusing to guarantee the Russian loan has never been printed in Soviet Russia.

An official statement issued last night declares that the Soviet government has admitted liability for compensation for the capture and the sinking of the British steam trawler Magneta outside the three mile limit of the Murmansk coast on January 31, 1922. The Russian and British experts now meeting in London will fix the amount payable.

TORONTO'S COUNCIL OPPOSES INCREASE

Objects to Increase in Hydro Rates -- Turn Down Duplicate Waterworks.

TORONTO, June 4. Canadian Press —The city council will vigorously oppose any upward revision of Hydro rates, especially in so far as the small consumers are concerned.

Early this morning the council unanimously adopted a motion proposed by Controller Foster, asking that the Mayor take action through the local Commission, and that all support be lent by council members in opposing mooted increases.

After two days of discussion Ald. Baker again attempted to secure favorable consideration for the purchase of a site for a duplicate waterworks plant. Shortly before adjournment, although the sentiment in favor had apparently increased since the day before, the council again defeated the proposal by a vote of 13 to 10.

WIDOW OF SHOWMAN SELLS FOUND DEAD IN CISTERN.

COLUMBUS, O., June 4. — A servant found the lifeless body of Mrs. Effie J. Sells, cousin of the late Countess Helen Chittenden Pacilli, and a beneficiary under the Countess' will, in a cistern at the Pacilli home here.

The police are inclined to believe Mrs. Sells, who was the widow of W. A. Sells, former showman, drowned herself because of despondency over the Countess' recent death.

Rooster Takes Over Duties of Dead Hen And Crows About It

STRATFORD, June 4.—(Canadian Press.)— Word of a three weeks old rooster that crows and has been crowing for some days, in the back yard of H. Robbins, has aroused interest in the neighborhood.

The little fellow that was flapping his wings and crowing before he lost his downy covering, is the self-appointed guardian of a family of nine. A few days after the brood was hatched the mother hen died, and it appears that this young offspring, almost too small to tell the difference between a bug and a handful of bread crumbs, took over, with the authority of an adult, the arduous duties of looking after the family.

Epsom Derby Won By Sansovina in Drizzle of Rain

EPSOM DOWNS, June 4. United Press. — Lord Derby's Sansovina, the favorite, won the historic Epsom Derby to-day from a large field of the best three-year-olds in England.

The race was run in a drizzle, which dampened the course but not the enthusiasm of nearly half a million race goers, who crowded the grand stand enclosure and rolling downs to see the 141st renewal of the famous race for the Derby stakes.

The victory of the favorite was greeted by thunderous cheers. Sansovina, ridden by Jockey Weston, had been quoted at 7 to 1 choice of the field.

Lord Astor's Saint Germans, was second, and Hurstwood was third.

SHENANDOAH SAFE IN HANGER TODAY

United States Dirigible That Was Lost in Fog Arrived Home.

LAKEHURST, N. J., June 4. — (United Press).—After having floated aimlessly for four hours in the fog between Trenton and the naval air base here, the giant navy dirigible, Shenandoah, was placed in its hangar, shortly after 8 a.m. to-day.

It was the fourth attempt to land the huge navy aircraft, three others failing because the dirigible had become light through using so much fuel in its flight over New York and Pennsylvania Tuesday.

The dirigible had been in the air almost twenty-four hours when the ground crew finally managed to grasp the mooring ropes hanging from the nose of the gray craft.

The flight was started shortly after 8 a.m. Tuesday, and was the first since the dirigible made its "run away" flight from the mooring mast in January.

No difficulty was encountered until early to-day. At 4.20 the ground crew here received the following message from Commander Lansdown:

"Ship is OK over Long Branch. Was lost in fog along Jersey coast."

Flood lights atop the hangars were turned on to direct the Shenandoah to the field.

PEPALL FAMILY VICTIMS BLAZE

Wife and Two Children Burned to Death This Morning.

TORONTO, June 4 (Canadian Press). — Mrs. Harry G. Peppall, wife of Harry George Pepall, 15 Whitney Avenue, Toronto, formerly manager of the Aemilius Jarvis bond firm of Bay Street, Toronto, and her two children, Ned, aged 5 years, and Rosemary, aged 3, lost their lives when their summer cottage at Eastbourne, Lake Simcoe, was destroyed by fire at seven o'clock this morning.

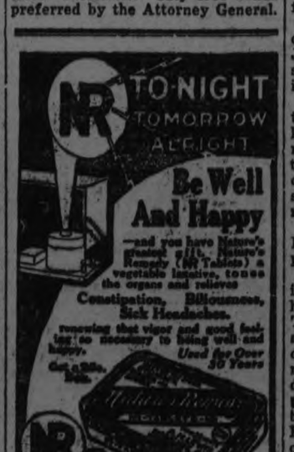
Aileen, aged 8 years, the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Pepall, and the maid escaped.

According to details of the tragedy which have reached the relatives of the family of Mrs. Pepall, her daughter Aileen and maid, rushed outside for help when they discovered the flames, but as the nearest residents are a considerable distance from their cottage, no assistance could be obtained. The maid and little Aileen rushed along the road to summon help while Mrs. Pepall went back into the burning cottage to rescue her two children. That she had succeeded almost in effecting their rescue is shown by the fact that their charred bodies were found in the ruins of the verandah, while her body was discovered just inside the door of the cottage.

Her husband, Harry Pepall, was at the cottage last night, but returned to Toronto at a late hour. He left this morning with his brother-in-law, Bryce Hunter, brother of Mrs. Pepall, for the scene of the tragedy.

The fire was caused by an explosion of a gasoline stove.

Harry Pepall is one of the defendants in charges of conspiracy to affect the market value of Ontario succession duty free bonds preferred by the Attorney General.



LAKEFIELD FIRE WELL CONTROLLED

The Rink Had a Narrow Escape--Lakefield News

LAKEFIELD, June 4.—The fact that the disastrous fire, which in a short time wiped out the work of a life-time, was checked, and that neither the Skating Rink nor the neighboring frame houses were destroyed, was due to the untiring efforts of the volunteer fire brigade, who distinguished themselves. This was the largest fire that has come to the village since the organization of the brigade, and they handled it in an efficient and workman-like manner that brought forth a great deal of praise from the large crowd that witnessed the fire. The building itself was beyond salvation before they had really been sent for, but the neighboring buildings were preserved without damage. Though the task was well nigh a hopeless one, the boys made a valiant attempt to save the burning building, but it was useless. Many of the boys are bearing painful souvenirs of the fire in the shape of bad burns. A number of the brigade, including Fire Chief Webster, remained all night at the scene of the fire in case the smouldering sawdust gave trouble.

Death at Belleville.

A number of local people will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Donald MacLean, of Belleville, and for many years a periodical visitor to the village as a traveller for a Montreal firm. Mr. MacLean was 77 years of age, and for several years past has been unable to follow his vocation, but has visited the village several times, calling on his friends. He was a gentleman of the old school and a firm and loyal friend, and the world is the poorer for his passing. Two daughters survive.

Turk—Preston

A very pretty, but quiet wedding took place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents on Bridge street, when Lavina, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Preston was united in marriage to Ernest E. Turk of Oshawa. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a French gown of white Canton crepe with the conventional orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair fern. The ceremony was performed under a marriage bell suspended from a decorated arch, Rev. P. L. Jull being the officiating clergyman.

After the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served, the dining room and the drawing room being decorated with roses and sweet peas.

The happy couple left about 4.30 for a motor trip to Montreal and other Eastern points, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with black picture hat and black fox furs. The car, in which the trip was made was decorated with streamers of white ribbons and old shoes for luck and was well covered with the shower of confetti which marked their departure from the parental home.

On their return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Turk will reside in Ottawa.

The bride was the recipient of large number of handsome presents Pre-nuptial events included two showers given in Toronto by friends of the bride and a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. J. H. Payne of Bridge street.

SUICIDE STIRS JAPAN TO PATRIOTIC FERVOR

Increases "National Spirit Movement" In Anti-American Protest.

TOKIO, June 4.—The suicide of a Japanese outside the ruins of the American Embassy has given a great impetus to the "national spirit movement" against the American exclusion legislation.

Comments of the press and interviews with prominent citizens, which the newspapers published this morning, indicate that a profound nation-wide impression has been created. The newspapers are strongly taking up the suggestion that the suicide should have a national funeral, since, as one publicist declares, "he has truly expressed the feelings of the Japanese people."

The suicide was carried out according to the strange, romantic Japanese code, which appeals very strongly to Japanese sentiment. He is sure to be regarded as a martyr.

Shinkichi Uyesugi, professor of the Imperial Tokio University and leader of the "national spirit movement," says the "hara-kiri shows that a solution of the exclusion question cannot be reached by speeches and notes, but by heroic resolution thus typified."

The Chief of the Tokio Police Bureau is quoted by the newspapers as saying:

"I was never more profoundly impressed by a suicide, although I have dealt with hundreds of them. There is no indication of insanity, and the fact that the suicide did not disclose his name shows that he was not seeking notoriety. He met his death like an ancient warrior. The police have been ordered to take the greatest care of the remains. He will probably be shown the honors due to a soldier who died on the battlefield."

ROWDIES INJURE CAUSE OF LABOR

Disorders of Gen. Smuts' Meetings in South Africa Deplored by Labor Leaders.

SPEAKERS SILENCED.

DURBAN, South Africa, June 4. —(Canadian Press, via Reuter's).— Col. Boydell, deputy leader of the Labor forces in the South African Union, in a speech Monday night, strongly denounced the rowdyism which has prevailed at meetings addressed by Premier Smuts and other South African party leaders. Boydell said that such behavior simply played into Smut's hands and emphatically asserted that the violence and disorders were merely a reaction on the part of the people against "a violent and disorderly government."

Other prominent members of the Labor party in Natal have also condemned the disorders which they declare have no connection with the Labor party. The rowdyism has been particularly pronounced in Bloemfontein, Durban and other rand points throughout the whole election campaign, and speakers representing the Government have been prevented from addressing the electors.

OTTAWA MAN WAS FINED $5 FOR CARRYING PISTOL

OTTAWA, June 4. — "When is a pistol not a pistol?"

This was the question solved in the police court yesterday when Arthur Larocque was fined $5 and costs for carrying a pistol which he claimed was defective, and with which Miss Mary Sweeney testified Larocque had threatened to "make an angel out of her" Sunday night if she did not marry him.

Dr. Gordon Henderson for the prisoner maintained that a pistol is not a pistol unless it can be used. This caused Magistrate Hopewell to wonder if an automobile was an automobile if it wouldn't work.

NEW PARKING AREAS.

The City Council has recognized the need of more parking facilities in the centre of the city by designating a number of streets as parking areas where cars may be left without any risk of their owners getting into trouble.

The four streets surrounding Victoria Park, Queen street and sections of Simcoe street and King street have been named as available for parking purposes, and while this arrangement may not be entirely satisfactory—the Simcoe street-Queen street section, for example, being on the route regularly followed by the Fire Department in answering an East City call—it will do much to relieve the congestion in the business section.

It is to be hoped now that these areas, in addition to the market square, are at the disposal of motorists that the regulations against indiscriminate parking will be more rigidly enforced.

There has been some excuse for automobilists leaving their cars for long periods on streets in the business section of the city inasmuch as there was not sufficient parking accommodation.

The designating of other areas removes this excuse to a great extent, and there is no reason why merchants should be inconvenienced, as many of them have been, by having the street in front of their place of business blocked by cars.

A REFERENDUM SUGGESTION.

An effort is being made to have the referendum on the Ontario Temperance Act submitted to the electors at the municipal elections at the end of the year, those in favour of the move pointing out that much of the expense of taking the vote would be saved.

One obvious objection to the proposal is that the municipal elections are not all held on the same date.

Many municipalities elect their civic government early in December, and if the suggestion of having the referendum vote coincide with the municipal elections were to be carried out the campaign would be needlessly prolonged.

The result in some centres would be known a month before the general voting—not the most desirable condition.

Otherwise, from a municipal standpoint, there would be some benefit from the plan proposed.

It would result in the biggest turnout of voters that Ontario municipal elections ever saw.

There has always been difficulty in persuading the electors to exercise their franchise.

If the referendum were to be combined with the municipal elections, however, the old difficulty would disappear—but it is to be feared that municipal issues would not be very much to the fore.

THE QUIET ZONE.

It is a matter of regret that the City Council, on the advice of the City Solicitor, has found it necessary to abandon the bylaw that was designed to establish a "quiet zone" in the vicinity of Victoria Park during the hours of concerts.

The intention had been to practically close the four streets bordering the park from 8 until 10 o'clock on the evenings on which concerts are held, but the City Solicitor's counsel was that there was no authority for such action, and the bylaw was dropped.

The members of the various organizations giving programmes in Victoria Park this summer will be sorry to learn that the "quiet zone" proposal has been scrapped.

Motor cars have constituted an intolerable nuisance during the concerts of the last two or three years.

There is never a moment during the programme when there is not one or more automobiles snorting up the hill or rattling down, while the raucous snarl of the cars' warning signals mock the musicians' efforts.

Some of the finest passages in the programme are ruined by the din and clamour of the cars, and it was hoped that the bylaw would put an end to such conditions.

The only recourse now is to appeal once more to the courtesy of automobile owners.

Surely they have no desire to spoil the pleasure of their fellow-citizens, and if the matter is brought before them they will readily consent to so handle their cars as to cause a minimum of disturbance.

THE AMATEUR RULES.

At the meeting of the Rotary Club this week Rotarian A. C. Kay, well-known sporting enthusiast and a firm believer in the development of young material, discussed sporting problems in an interesting address, in the course of which he declared that the present definition of an amateur did not meet the conditions as they exist.

This is a subject about which, because of the great interest in athletics in this country, the public should be concerned.

Under the rule as it stands at present an athlete who may be paid for the time off from work he necessarily has to take in order to participate in games violates the amateur regulations.

Mr. Kay believes that athletes should not be called upon to stand the loss represented by a day off from work in order to represent their home city in competition.

Most people will agree with him.

Many of the best players are married or are helping to support a family.

It is asking too much of them to insist that if they do lose a day's work they must sacrifice a day's pay for the privilege of advertising and upholding the reputation of the city of which they are residents.

The present legislation is class legislation.

The rich young man can be an amateur under the ruling as it is at present; it is almost impossible for the poor young man to do so.

He must either remain out of sport or become a "fake" amateur.

There is no reason why he should have but the two alternatives.

It should be set forth as a simple principle based on justice that there is no violation of the amateur regulations in making sure that athletes are not out of pocket because of their participation in sport.

THE CHICAGO MURDER.

In the cold-blooded murder of a fourteen-year-old boy in Chicago by two youths aged nineteen, post-graduate students of Chicago University, is to be found a crime so horrible as to provoke in the minds of healthy people nothing but the utmost abhorrence, says the Montreal Star. The case will be featured in the papers for months to come. All the parties concerned—the murdered lad and the youths who have confessed to the murder—come of millionaire stock. Already estimates are being made as to the millions available for the defence, and the State Attorney has publicly declared that it will be a case of millions versus the death penalty.

The matter is one for calm thought. Neither hysterical demand for vengeance on the one side nor scientific apologia on the other should be permitted to sway public opinion. The legal battle is certain to be bitterly fought out, however. Meanwhile, so far as the public is concerned, no good purpose can be served by appeals to passions or prejudices. It seems rather that a very poignant, very painful lesson is being taught those who are responsible for the upbringing of youth to the vast responsibilities of wealth. These two lads, who will shortly go on trial for their lives, are sons of very wealthy parents, and were not only able, but afforded every opportunity, to indulge whims, perverted tastes and passions. The result is to be seen in the amazing statement of the more callous of the two, Leopold, that "morally, it is just as easy to justify such a homicide as it is the impaling of a beetle on the pin of the entomologist." Before such a smug plea of utterly false philosophy, no normal mind can avoid a sensation of repulsion. It obviously is the outcome of the mental attitude of the youth himself towards life, and that mental attitude is the outcome of the life in which he has indulged on his own admission.

There is a lesson for every parent in this pitiful business. Surely the first principle, essential for youth born to wealth to learn, is that the possession of great wealth entails not only great responsibilities, but great need for a sane mind in a healthy body.

TAXING THE LAW-BREAKER.

The world has long since come to expect the unexpected from the law courts, where argument is concerned. It is rarely, however, that any civil case presents such vastly entertaining material as that provided by the hearing of an argument in the Exchequer Court at Toronto, in which Mr. George D. McEwen of Windsor advanced the refreshing claim that the profits of a bootlegger, being obtained by illegal means, are not subject to income-tax.

It appears that one Cecil R. Smith, a garage proprietor of Windsor, has been engaged, on his own admission, in bootlegging. The Income Tax Department is trying to collect certain taxes from him based upon his alleged income from that occupation—the argument is that it is not a business—and Mr. Smith objects to pay upon the grounds stated.

As the case is sub judice, comment upon it may well be deferred. But it is quite permissible to comment briefly upon the vast vista of enterprise and novel development which the presentation of such an argument in court opens up. For instance, if this plea is admissible in the case of a bootlegger, may not a burglar offer in extenuation a sworn statement of his profits from his occupation—which is certainly not a business—and payment of the legitimate income tax thereon, in lieu of a jail sentence, which costs the country cash? Might not a gentleman detected in the gentle are of embezzlement suggest as a gentlemanly agreement between friends a certified account of his profits from his ingenuity—it is certainly not a business—an dthus save everybody costs all round, as well as himself the trouble of picking oakum in a cool place?

And the vendor of stolen automobiles—what a convenient method to relieve the Province of all the present pother! All that need be done is for him to continue as he has been doing, but merely record the profits he makes on each sale, and then include them in his statement to the Income Tax Department each year. One might prolong the list of suggestions indefinitely. We hesitate to express any opinion as to the principles involved, for in these days of stress and strain a new viewpoint ought always to be examined with the utmost care and deliberation before judgment is rendered. But on the face of it, the courage of the bootlegger would seem to provide the court with a novelty in the shape of a problematical point—When is a bootlegger not a business man? That, like many another knotty question, is liable to be solved by wisdom's sweeping knife.

Meanwhile, it is of interest to draw attention to the practice that obtains at the present time in the United States where there are also a few gentlemen who rejoice in the genial pseudonym of "bootlegger." The American official is occasionally guilty of originality in his method of law enforcement, and it is certain that the Income Tax Division of the Treasury Department has hit upon a novelty. Its agents go after the professional bootlegger and present him with a special form to fill up, in which he is requested to state the gross amount of his income from his illegal sale of liquor—only he is permitted to set it down as "Miscellaneous Receipts." He pays tax upon the gross, and he is not permitted to deduct anything for his losses, which are, of course, considerable in so dangerous a game.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Motorists cannot be prevented from making a noise at band concerts. But their own sense of courtesy should establish a quiet zone.

The Chicago murderers explain their crime by declaring: "They wanted to get a thrill." They should get plenty of them now.

The legal bass and lunge season will soon be here. Unfortunately, the open season for pickerel has resulted in a good deal of illegal catching of the game fish.

Two Detroit youths who attempted to change places in a canoe in mid-stream upset and both were drowned. It is a more dangerous experiment than rocking the boat.

Premier Smuts is having an exciting time in the South African elections, but the experts declare that he will be returned to power.

A Thought

A MORNING WISH.

The sun is just rising on the morning of another day. What can I wish that this day may bring to me? Nothing that shall make the world or others poorer, nothing at the expense of other men; but just those few things which in their coming do not stop with me, but touch me rather, as they pass and gather strength:

A few friends who understand me, and yet remain my friends.

A work to do which has real value, without which the world would feel the poorer.

A return for such work small enough not to tax unduly any one who pays.

A mind unafraid to travel, even though the trail be not blazed.

An understanding heart.

A sight of the eternal hills and unresting sea, and of something beautiful the hand of man has made.

A sense of humor and the power to laugh.

A little leisure with nothing to do.

A few moments of quiet, silent meditation. The sense of the presence of God.

And the patience to wait for the coming of these things, with the wisdom to know them when they come.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 3.—The exporters bought around ten loads this morning at $7.50 to $8.15 a cwt. for steers and $7.25 to $7.50 a cwt. for heifers. A portion of this week's purchases will have to be carried into next week for lack of shipping space. Export heifers are holding firmer than the steers, from $7.25 to $7.75. Today's best butchers' steers and heifers were $7.50 to $7.60 a cwt., and good butchers $7 to $7.15. Butchers' cows and bulls were reasonably steady and a choice cow brought $6.25, others $6. Heavy export bulls sold at $4.50 and bologna bulls, $3 to $3.50. While trading was slow today there was a gradual drain on supplies and most of the stuff left over from Monday and today's first receipts will be sold.

The second run of calves promised a heavy supply today, and Monday's advance of about 50 cents a cwt. will disappear in today's buying, except the choice calves. The bulk of offerings are poor mediums which are selling from 7 cents a pound up. Choice calves were firmer at 11 and 11¼ cents, and good ones 10 to 10½ cents.

Lambs have a firm undertone, and packers are paying a general figure of 18½ cents a pound for fancy lambs around 70 lbs. each. A few brought 19 cents a pound and more lambs could be used. Yearlings are a small supply, and the sheep on offer were mostly the heavy unwanted kind.

Hogs are no cheaper today, and sellers would like to mark the tickets a little higher, but it is considered doubtful that this can be done with the run of 2,600. Some hogs sold at $8.10 a cwt., fed and watered.

Tuesday afternoon he celebrated the event with a tea in the Parliament Buildings.

LOCAL BUSINESS IS FAIRLY GOOD

Collections Are Slow, But Turnover In Groceries Is Encouraging.

According to a local wholesale grocer who keeps very close to market conditions generally, the volume of business at the present time is encouraging and shows a nice turnover, with good demand for general grocery supplies. Collections are slow.

Although the shortage in last season's pack of canned vegetables has not yet made itself felt to any appreciable extent, it is anticipated that, with the season at hand when demand for such goods increases measurably, the shortage will soon make itself felt. The scarcity is particularly noticeable in string beans and corn, the latter being very scarce, both in Canadian warehouses and those of the United States.

The sugar market at the present time is described as being puzzling in the extreme. Last week, the market in both raws and refined firmed up considerably. Before Friday of last week, Decoration Day in the States, which, with its following Saturday, made two days' holiday in the markets, the quotation on raws was $3.50 per hundred weight, and refined sugar on a Montreal basis was the lowest in some time, $8.25 per hundred weight. However, with the advance of the preserving season, increases in sugar prices are looked for. Declines in prices are due in a measure to a further recent increase in the estimate of the Cuban crop to 4,075,000 tons, or over 200,000 tons greater than the first estimate at the beginning of the harvest and 472,000 tons more than last year. The total world's crop of both beet and cane sugar for this season is estimated at close to nineteen and a half million tons, or one million, two hundred thousand tons more than the previous year. Stocks of sugar at all points in Cuba continue to increase, amounting to 1,738,054 tons on May 22nd.

Sugar at the present time in Peterborough may be bought for eleven cents a pound, or, in some stores, for eleven pounds for ninety-nine cents.

In wholesale fruit and vegetable warehouses, plenty of pineapples are finding a quick disposal. A car that landed in Peterborough yesterday was entirely disposed of by this morning. The pines are still good, but their season is fast diminishing. Another ten days will probably see the last of the best of them. Southern strawberries are also coming in, in good quality and quantity. Picking in Ontario strawberry beds will probably be a fortnight later than usual, it is anticipated, owing to late frosts and backward weather. New potatoes are still a very expensive commodity, and the old variety is very scarce. One wholesaler brought in a carload of the old stock from the Orillia district this week. Wholesale prices in some instances range at $2.20 a bag, which makes the retail quotation somewhere in the neighborhood of $2.40. The new potatoes are still asking 90 cents and one dollar a peck.

The Late Valencias from California, the oranges with few or no seeds, are coming in now, and fresh supplies of canteloupes. Next week the first arrivals of California fruit, in plums and peaches, are expected.

Advances in dairy products have been general during the past ten days. Creamery butter is up by three or four cents on the pound, with a two-cent increase in the dairy product. Eggs are retailing at 26 and 28 cents a dozen, showing a slight increase also.

An increase of 25 cents on the hundred weight is registered in the quotations on dressed hogs.

A slight advance in flour prices is also noticed in the week's quotations.

A novelty for next season's use in Peterborough is promised in a black aster. Black Brothers, florists of Port Hope, have procured seeds of black asters from the United States, and have promised one of the local stores a supply for next year's plant boxes.

MONTREAL WAS SHOWN THE SOCIALIST FLAG

Red Banner of Moscow's Bolsheviki Hung Out on King's Birthday From Agency.

GENERALLY OBSERVED.

MONTREAL, June 4.—(Canadian Press). — For the first time during the years that have passed since the Fleur-de-lys gave way to the Union Jack as the emblem of Canada, has a sovereign been honored by the mast-heading of a Socialist red flag. This occurred here Tuesday when from the staff of the Commercial Agency of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, on Drummond Street, this city, there was flown the flag of the new group of Russian governments. The flag consists of a red field on which are displayed the crossed hammer and sickle flanked by wheat sheaves and surmounted by a star.

The King's birthday was much more fully observed here than is done usually. The day developed into a general holiday as far as the downtown centres of business and finance were concerned. In honor of the occasion and as one in a chain that extended around the world, the royal salute was given at noon. Twenty-one rounds were fired from the 18-pounders stationed on Fletcher's Field.

Hearty congratulations and assurances of unfailing loyalty were forwarded to King George through the Governor-General by Allan W. Crawford, chairman of the committee of the National Societies of Montreal.

An attempt is also to be made to stock small lakes that are at present barren of fish life with perch.

HASTINGS RESIDENT HAS A CELEBRATION

Mrs. Sarah Carter Honored By Her Many Friends — Hastings News of Interest

HASTINGS, June 4.—An interesting event occurred at the home of Mrs. Sarah Carter on Memorial avenue in Hastings on Saturday afternoon, May 31st, it being the 86th anniversary of her birth. An unusual surprise for the occasion was the unexpected arrival of her eldest daughter, Mrs. John McConnel from Billings, Montana.

The tables were decorated with flowers, gifts and good wishes to Mrs. Carter from the family and friends.

In the centre of the table was a huge birthday cake, fittingly trimmed, and decorated with eighty-six tiny white wax candles, all of which were lighted as the guests were about to be seated, and was the gift of her daughter, Mrs. Ross Payne.

After the sumptuous repast was partaken of an address was read and a well-filled purse was presented to Mrs. Carter with the address as follows:

Dear Mother,—We your children have gathered here with you on this your birthday, and wish you many happy returns of the day. In looking back we wonder how the years have flown since we were all just little children whom you, dear mother, never forgot nor neglected.

What a mother you have been and how we all love you, even though we have all builded nests of our own how we love to come home again and feel the warmth of your arms around us and your kiss of love on our cheeks.

We know time separates us all one from another in this world, but "we are building a house not made with hands eternal in the heavens." At that part we all hope to meet when we shall never leave home, family or fellowship one with another.

And now mother we ask you to receive this little gift from your children just as a remembrance that this is your birthday and we would not forget you, and we hope we will be spared to meet and wish you "happy returns" again and again, but if God wills otherwise, all is well, you will wait and watch up yonder for your children.

Lovingly, your own dear ones.

C.M.A. ARE TO TO PROMOTE FIRE PREVENTION

Manufacturers Form Joint Committee to Organise Against Fire Losses.

TOUCH PEOPLE'S POCKET.

MONTREAL, June 4.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in annual convention here Tuesday adopted a resolution authorizing its executive to form a joint committee with the National Fire Prevention Association and the American Waterworks Association to further organization against fire losses in Canada.

Members also went on record as favoring creation of a national institute of scientific research for Canada.

Formal resolution to that effect will be adopted Thursday.

Action with regard to fire prevention came after Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention Association had told the convention that all physical problems with regard to fire prevention had now been overcome. What was needed now was to touch the people's "pocket nerve," make the man in the street realize that fire insurance constitutes indirect taxation on everything sold and breed in the people generally a desire to prevent fire waste. He termed the United States the "worst, the most careless, the most profligate nation in the world with fire losses—and Canada is worse than the United States." Alex. Saunders of Goderich, Ont., then moved the resolution which was accepted.

Canada is twenty years behind the times in the application of science to industry, Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the University of Alberta, and chairman of the honorary advisory council for scientific and industrial research, declared in an address.

He announced that the council has decided to raise a $1,000,000 national research fund and said that the campaign would shortly open. Then it was that Joseph Beaubien of Montreal, proposed that the association endorse the council's work and favor a national scientific research institute. Members showed their approval of the suggestion but the motion was left over until Thursday.

Warsaw's Bells Return From Exile In Russia

WARSAWS, June 4.—A touching ceremony took place in Warsaw recently upon the arrival of 3,000 church bells from Russia. When the Russians left Poland in 1915 under pressure of the German advance they took with them almost all the church bells, in order not to leave them for the Germans who would have seized them for their copper. Thus for a number of years Polish towns and village have been without the music of the bells.

Now these bells are being returned under the treaty of Riga. Upon arrival they were decked with green, and the new bells of Warsaw, purchased since the war, greeted them with a merry peal.

The Warsaw Opera gave a special concert, the musical selection all relating to bells. Twelve thousands bells are still in Russia, but they will all be returned to Poland in due course.

GREAT HARVEST RETURNS SMALL

Canadian Farmers' Share of the 1923 Crop Wealth Was Disappointing, Expert Says.

WORLD SUPPLY LARGE

LONDON, June 4. Canadian Press.—"Although in 1923 the Dominion reaped the most abundant harvest on record, the returns to the Canadian farmer were disappointing," said E. H. Godfrey, head of the agricultural statistics division of the Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, in a paper read before the Farmers' Club here. The paper was read by F. C. Runnick on behalf of Mr. Godfrey, and was a study of the costs if production on the Canadian farm and conveyance of produce to English ports.

"But this disappointment," Mr. Godfrey continues, "was due largely to the general excellence ot the wheat crop throughout the world, whch had the effect of reducing the price. This is a rare occurrence, and we may look for a rise in the price when the world conditions of wheat revert to the normal."

Dealing with fresh outlets for Canadian grain, Mr. Godfrey ponts out that the Panama Canal is likely to have an important influence in shortening the land haul from a large part of western Canada. He also indicates that the Hudson Bay route has received the approval of successive governments.

The United States, he adds, has apparently reached the limit of wheat production, while in Canada there are vast areas of fertile lands that still await the plough, and agricultural production must continue annually to increase.

CHICAGO YOUTHS

me. I said 'Hello' to Richard, and pretty soon he went away."

The prisoners appeared at the Criminal Courts Building looking rather the worse for wear after spending the night in dingy cells at the Wabash Avenue Station. This was their first real experience in "being arrested." They had been kept in hotels in comfortable beds previously.

As they were leaving the station in charge of a picked squad detailed to be their constant guards from now on a curious crowd gathered outside.

"Hello there, Bob, how are you?" he called gaily.

"Fine, Babe; how's yourself?" was the reply.

In contrast to the gaicty of Leopold was Loeb's despondency. He slouched from the doors of the cell-room, his head down, and slumped into the tonneau of the waiting automobile.

During the ride downtown the boys sat on each side of Sergeant Gray. After their break in which each bitterly accused the other of the actual killing, neither spoke to his companion.

Leopold strode through without a glance to the right or left, bold and unhesitant. Cigarette smoke curled slowly from his nostrils.

Loeb, behind him, hung his head and puffed furiously at his cigarette.

Once young Loeb looked up. His eyes met the start of Jacob Franks, father of Robert, the murdered boy, and the lad's brother Jack, called to testify at the inquest. Quickly Loeb bent his head again.

Leopold's father and his brother, Michael, were present, as well as the boys' attorneys and Loeb's uncle.

Leopold Asks for Liquor.

Leopold, who has smoked almost constantly, asked Sergeant Klockzif for a piece of paper and a pencil. Then wrote the following note:

"4,754 Greenwood Avenue (his home).

"Please give the bearer a pint of gin or whisky. (Signed) Babe."

"Deliver that, please," he said, handing the paper to the policeman.

Prefers Suicide to Hanging.

In other ways Leopold still kept a hard outer demeanour.

"If I hang," he said, brazenly to the detectives in charge of him, "if I hang, there'll be one boy in the room who won't tremble."

But he does not want to hang. He would much prefer a pistol or poison.

He seems to be consistent in this matter of death. He scorns those who fear it. But he points out there are scales and grades of death and punishment. For instance, he would rather be hanged, he declares, than be cooped up in the penitentiary for the rest of his life, except for the sake of the family.

On the other hand, he would rather meet death, and the oblivion he insists follows death in his own way.

Betrayed by Glasses.

Hinges used on spectacle frames manufactured by the Bobrow Optical Company, 416 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, gave the Chicago police the clue which resulted in the arrest of Leopold and Loeb, it was revealed by Benjamin Friedman, office manager for the Bobrow Company.

The Bobrow Company is the only concern in the country that equips its spectacle frames with unity hinges, he said.

The spectacles found near the Franks boy's body had such hinges. The police communicated with the Bobrow Company, and learned that that particular kind of frame had been sold to the Almer Coe Company, Chicago.

The latter company identified the oculist who made the lenses and he disclosed the doctor who prescribed the lenses. Through the doctor the police found three patients who were wearing the same kind of spectacles. Leopold was one of the three. They had been made to his order.

Girl Tells of Lunch.

Susan Lurie, a University of Chicago co-ed who knows Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., well, told of a luncheon with the self-confessed kidnapper and slayer a few days before his arrest.

He is known on the campus as "Babe," a term that has followed him from childhood. She said:

"First, let me make it plain to you that we were not engaged. I have known him for more than a year, and we were good friends.

"We had an engagement the Friday following the Wednesday on which the Franks boy was killed. At that time, mind you, with this crime fresh on his mind, he seemed gay. He did not once mention the sensation that was sweeping over the city.

"We danced and were happy. He was charming then. I have had trouble making myself believe, even now, that he is guilty.

Laughed Over Story.

"But the thing that strikes deepest in my mind now is the luncheon we had last Wednesday, before he was taken into custody. We met on the campus and went to the Cinderella Tea Room close by. As we walked he bought two newspapers and gave me one to read. At the luncheon table we spread them out."

She said he remarked:

"Let's see what has happened in the Franks case."

He was smiling, almost laughing, as he said it, she told the reporter. She went on:

"His eyes ran down the columns of type. He seemed highly amused. Then he came to the part that referred to the anonymous letter written to Jacob Franks, the letter that called the father of the dead boy a dirty skunk and threatened the life of his daughter.

"He said that was a good one, and laughed. He thought the fellow who sent the letter was a great joker.

"I said to Babe in a joking way—I assure you it was just a bit of light conversation—that it would be a good joke for him to go to the police and confess the crime. He said that it would be a perfect joke and that I would get the $16,000 reward. He laughed gaily over that."

On His Conscience.

For a moment she was silent. Then:

"And to think that he was even then sought as the murderer, that he had that terrible thing on his conscience!"

Describing Leopold's character, his mannerisms, and his method of life, she continued:

"He was always a bit aloof. I mean, from the general run of students. They thought he was conceited. He was not too popular. I have always said that Babe Leopold was 'ritzie,' but I have always added that he had something to be 'ritzie' about. He is a superior intellect. He is an unusual man. His brain works fast. He has great intelligence.

His Brain Awhirl.

"Babe was always fond of studying emotions. He would analyse, separate, and study our emotions. He would go back over conversations and attempt to trace our line of thought, our reasoning. It was all very interesting.

"He was good company, but of course, I had no intimation of the terrible things that were whirling through his wonderful brain.

"But what is strange is that these things—detectives, mysteries, murder, kidnapping—all those things could be in his mind when they belong to a world unknown to the Babe Leopold I knew.

"Now, Dick Loeb was inclined toward such things. Dick read detective stories. He had many such magazines and was fascinated by mysteries. He was with Babe frequently, and, of course, I met him. He was one who was interested in police matters.

"I think Dick was a fine boy, but his intellect was not of the same brilliance as was that of Babe. Dick was more down-to-earth. But the Babe I knew was never one to discuss mysteries of crime, although he was long on talking of mysteries of the mind."

Fifth Anniversary of Pontypool Methodist Church--Personals.

MILLBROOK, June 3.—The fifth anniversary of the Pontypool Methodist Church was observed with special services on Sunday, June 1, Rev. S. Wesley Dean, of Toronto, preaching morning and evening. Music was furnished by a quartette from Millbrook, including Mrs. F. P. Johnston, Mrs. G. W. Sayles, Messrs. G. A. Duncan and W. H. Coombe. Miss Ethel Richardson and Miss May Duncan presided at the organ. Miss Richardson sang a solo at the evening service, which was much enjoyed, the quartette number in the morning being "Jesus, my Lord."

"Some Practical Values of the Christian Church" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Dean's sermon in the morning, his remarks being based upon three passages of scripture: Psalm 122,1, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord"; Luk 4, 16, "As His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath Day"; Hebrews 10, 25, "Not forsaking the assembling of yourselves together."

The question arises in this day: Of what use is it to keep church anniversaries? Is the Christian Church an asset of any value to a locality? "The basic value of all material things in a community is increased through the establishment of the church of Christ in its midst," was the speaker's contention, proving his statement by the fact that property has a more ready sale, and brings a higher price, and the storekeeper carries on a more successful business, while the purity and stability of home life is safeguarded, and business contracts are made safe, because of the standards which the church is upholding.

There are some branches of the army of the living God which need re-equipment and new recruits, but in spite of human frailty, the church still "carries on." There is no standard of honesty where the church is not maintained. Who wants to raise a family in a town without a church and religious training? Does not this explain why a sale of vacant lands by the Hudson Bay Company could not be successfully carried out unless assurance was given that a church and school were within easy distance?

Whether the angel or the beast shall be uppermost in human lives is determined upon the establishment of the Christian church and what it stands for in any community. The better nature may win the victory over the baser, only, as Paul expresses it in the seventh of Romans when he cries: "Who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord"; "Then if you want what the church stands for it is up to you to support it generously."

Christ taught good-will among men, and it is incumbent upon the church to teach and promote the way that Jesus set up as an ideal to be attained. The church in the midst makes life worth living for our common humanity, bringing a touch of heaven here that helps those whose lot is filled with bitter suffering to be less sceptical about the heaven hereafter.

The church has a wonderful mission on earth preparatory to still more astonishing glory in heaven. Then will it appear that God created all things. "To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God."

At the conclusion of the sermon, a duet, "I shall behold Him," by Mrs. Sayles and Mr. Coombe, was listened to with much pleasure by the congregation. The church was filled to capacity for the evening service, and the special offering of the day, in response to the appeal of the pastor, Rev. H. Wilkinson, reached a fairly satisfactory figure.

Colonel and Mrs. D. Sutton and Mr. L. Sutton, of Cobourg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sutton, Fallis Line, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Burnham and little daughter, Dorothy, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham on Sunday.

The dramatic club of the Methodist Church will repeat their play, "The Plot that Failed," in Port Hope, under the auspices of the Young People's League, on Monday, June 9.

Mrs. J. J. Russell, who has spent the winter in Peterborough, has reopened her house in Millbrook for the summer months.

Mrs. Flett, of Bethany, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson last week.

Dr. Wright, of Toronto, was in town in his professional capacity on Saturday, the guest of Dr. H. A. Turner.

The Sunday School of the Methodist Church is changing its hour of meeting for the next three months, from 2.30 p.m. to 10 a.m., the church service to be at 11 o'clock instead of 10.30 a.m. The vote of the executive was taken on Sunday afternoon by ballot, the result being 13-12 in favor of the change.

Rev. S. T. Tucker left on Monday morning for Picton to attend the annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference, the stationing committee being called to meet at 2 p.m. Mr. P. Stinson will also go as the lay representative from this charge.

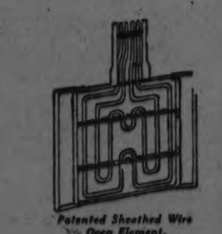
The Range with the Indestructible Element

Sectional View Showing Sheathed Wire Cast in Solid Iron



Patented Sheathed Wire Oven Element. Scrub it if you wish

IMAGINE, the cooking surface of an electric range flat and smooth as that of an old-time coal range, but finished in snowy white enamel, with indestructible elements, cast in solid iron, perfectly flush like the lids of a coal range—that's the cooking surface of a Hotpoint Range.

Fragile porcelain elements, exposed to the air and therefore subject to oxidation—deteriorating every minute they are in use—are now no longer necessary on an electric range. Hotpoint patented sheathed-wire elements are insulated from the air, and are not subject to breakage through the accidental dropping of heavy articles. They cannot be short circuited by the boiling over of thick liquids and syrups which ruin the delicate exposed wires of an open type element.

The oven elements on a Hotpoint range are of the same indestructible construction, and may be removed and scrubbed if necessary. The oven itself is lined with a beautiful pebbled blue vitreous enamel, and can be kept clean and sweet with the greatest of ease.

I was continually bloated with gas and would often choke up like I had smoke in my throat and have to fight for breath. My nerves were bad, my sleep restless, and I always felt tired out.

"But now I eat like a house afire and my stomach never felt better. I sleep fine, feel strong and alert and enjoy as rugged health as a man could want. Tanlac is certainly a winner."

VOICE OF PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: Arrangements are being made by the supporters of the prohibition cause to hold mass meetings through out the province of Ontario, and to rally to the cause all those who sympathize with compulsory total abstinence, and its more strenuous enforcement—i.e., the persistent jailing, without the option of any fines, of all those who can at any time be convicted of having partaken of the smallest quantity of alcohol. We are assured that there is a widespread demand for the continuance of prohibition and that public feeling is altogether against a change of method in dealing with the liquor question.

It is curious therefore to read that the Ontario public's purchase during the fiscal year of 1923, from the government liquor dispensaries totalled $4,840,875, an increase over last year's sale of $626,614, and also that the number of prescriptions and requisitions handled was 784,449, an increase of 77,800 over the number for the previous year.

It must be borne in mind that the figures given above represent only the liquor legally purchased and that recent revelations proved beyond all shadow of doubt that an enormous trade is being done by the druggists of Ontario in liquor purveying. In addition to this every day brings fresh news of stills discovered, bootleg cargoes intercepted, blind pigs uncovered, and we all know perfectly well that those which are discovered are by far in the minority to those which escape detection.

In the face of these undeniable facts it seems rather foolish to assert that public opinion is so strong on the side of prohibition. Surely the stronger policy would be to admit that the present situation is unsatisfactory, and to have all those who desire true temperance unite to find the best road thereto.

J. GREY.

Winnipeg ,Man., May 30, 1924.

Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir, — It was reported in last night's edition that there are a great many unemployed in the city, and consequent distress. There are, to my knowledge, a number of men in regular employment who are augmenting their incomes by accepting other work of an evening, to saying nothing of married women employed in factories and offices, who have husbands in good work, also soldier's widows who are in receipt of an adequate pension are amongst those who are keeping out of employment those who really need it. Then again, there is the employer who imports labor when he can get it right here.

I submit, sir, that this is unfair under present conditions.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir: The Reformation was so called because it was proposed by Luther to "reform" the administration of the affairs of the Church. He had no desire to leave the Church. But the relations of the Holy Roman Empire (now Germany and Austria) with Rome were so strained that the break was bound to come. The rupture retained the name by which it began. The rupture once being complete there emerged from the general confusion two great Protestants, Luther and Calvin. Now it was not as is commonly supposed the creed of Calvin which after all was merely a desire to take Scripture without comment but his discovery of a system of Church government—Presbyterianism—which has made his name celebrated and which produced such a profound effect on Holland, Scotland, Switzerland and Southern France (the Huguenots). The system of decentralization or government of congregations by elders gave a life to individual congregations which for their numbers produced a most extraordinary effect. Protestanism fought the great European 30 years war, 1618-1648, ultimately triumphing under Gustavus Adolphus and leaving Germany Protestant. Though Cardinal Richelieu conquered the Huguenots he left them their religion hence through many left or other lands the bulk remained at home and fought with great success for France against Spain and Austria. It was this Presbyterian form of government discovered by Calvin which had an effect that no other form of Protestantism had any pretence of doing. To throw this great asset away, one which even Richelieu was glad to leave would appear to be a mistake. There seems to be a lack of knowledge of the great profound facts of the case in the minds of our people. Co-operation has all the good qualities of denominational union without destroying the good qualities of each as a mere physical union would do. Of course it is the business only of those concerned but no student of history can fail to deplore the fact that more heed is paid to the financial aspect than to the much greater.

—J. H. Burnham.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

There are at least four important points which determine whether or not a first mortage bond is a good investment.

By A. W. WARNER
Veteran Financial Writer and Newspaper Man.

1. The amount of first mortage bonds should not exceed 60 per cent of the sound appraised value of the property. This appraisal should be checked by disinterested experienced appraisers.

2. Income from the property should cover maximum annual interest charges on the bond about 2½ times over. If these are estimated earnings, they should be checked against actual figures of similar properties which are in operation.

3. The property should be in a location where values are advancing and not declining.

4. They should be sold by a bank or bond house of high repute, so the property will have proper supervilson and a market will be provided for the bonds.

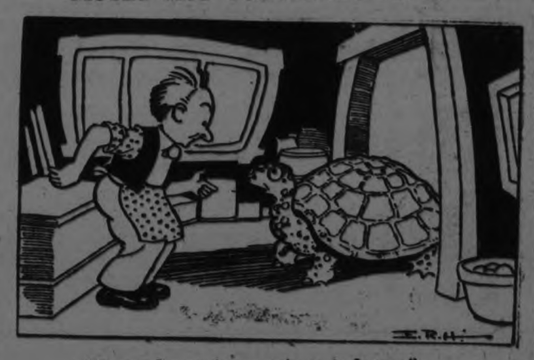
MOSEY MUD TURTLE SPEEDS UP



"Ma says I'm as slow as molasses in January."

"Here comes Mosey Mud Turtle," said Nick.

"Well, I declare!" said Mister Bags. "He would be a good one to send after trouble. He's so slow he'd never bring it back. I wonder what he wants."

Mosey Mud Turtle pushed open the store door which went tingaling-aling when you touched it, and ambled in.

"Ma says I'm as slow as molasses in January," said Mosey slowly, "so I decided to buy a pair of roller skates Got any?"

"Lots!" said Mister Bags. "What size do you take?"

"Why, I don't know!" declared Mosey in surprise. "Do you have to have sizes?"

"Of course!" said Mister Bags. "Try them on, Nick, and see what size Mosey takes. I think twelve would be about right.

So Mosey tried on and tried on and tried on, and at last they found some that seemed to be just about right.

"I'll take them," said Mosey. "Please charge them to Ma. How much are they?"

"They're a dollar a pair, so that will be two dollars," said Mister Bags.

"That's too much," said Mosey. "Ma said whatever they were to tell you to give them to me fifty cents cheaper."

"All right," said Mister Bags. "I'll make it a dollar and a half."

"Thank you," said Mosey. "If you'll put them on, I'll skate home."

So Nick put them on, and the turtle started for the door.

But he bumped into the flour barrel and the cracker box and the broom rack, and the place looked as though there had been an earthquake.

"Oh, I'll never learn to skate!" he cried. "I just can't learn!"

"Yes, you can," said Nick. "Come outside and I'll show you how."

So they all went outside to teach Mosey how to skate.

"Shove your two right feet ahead," said Nick, "then your two left feet, and then your two right feet, and then your two right feet, and then your two left feet, and that's all there is to it."

He did try awfully hard, and after a while he sort of caught on a little bit. He really got to be a right good skater. But not until he had bumped into every tree and stone in the woods and knocked the roller skates almost to pieces.

"You can skate home now," said Mister Bags. "You know all about it."

So Mosey skated proudly toward his home in the mud bank.

In about fifteen minutes Mrs. Mud Turtle came into the store.

"The very idea!" she screamed. "I sent Mosey for new skates. Not these battered up things. If you don't give me brand-new ones, I'll never buy a cent's worth of stuff here again. So now."

"All right!" said Mister Bags. "All right! I can't afford to lose your trade, Mrs. Turtle. Here are two brand-new pairs."

So Mrs. Turtle went home satisfied.

That night when the store closed, Mr. Bags changed all the signs. Butter six cents a pound (instead of five). Lollypops two cents each (instead of one). All over the store he did that.

The Twins wondered why!

BLAIKLOCK-HUYCKE NUPTIALS

BLAIKLOCK—HUYCKE

Trinity Methodist Church was the scene at one o'clock to-day of a lovely wedding, when Marguerite Dorothea Rosamond, elder daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. C. S. Huycke of Engleburn Park, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to James Frederick Walker Blaiklock, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Blaiklock, of Montreal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. P. Wilson of Belleville, a former pastor of the church. The edifice was packed for the occasion, and outside a throng of people gathered to watch the arrival of the bride in a carriage drawn by two grey horses.

The church was decorated effectively in a color scheme of pink and white, making an attractive setting for the white and blue of the costumes of the bride and her attendants. Southern wild smilax, with quantities of gorgeous pink tulips and apple blossom, covered the pulpit and choir loft. Tall white standards held white bowls of spring blossoms, with falling festoons.

A wreath of smilax and tulips covered the tablet at the right of the transept; erected to the memory of the bride's brother, Arthur Huycke, and the memorial tablet to fallen War heroes.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by the organist, Mr. Geo. H. King, who also played soft music throughout the entire wedding ceremony. Her gown was a beautiful creation of ivory kitten's ear crepe, with the simple drape caught at the left side by a large pearl ornament, from which fell clusters of orange blossoms to the hem of the skirt. Tiny cap sleeves covered the shoulders and a flat collar in handkerchief effect, with points at front, back and on the shoulders, was made of Point de Venise lace, an heirloom in the family. The long, square-cut, court train was lined with white georgette, and a tulle veil was worn, caught to the train with clusters of orange blossoms. Point de Venise lace, hanging in points over the veil, and caught with orange blossoms, was arranged in coronet style. The lace and orange blossoms used were worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. The bride wore long white kid gloves, white satin slippers and white silk stockings, and carried a bouquet of lily of the valley, pale pink sweet peas and sweetheart roses. She wore also a string of pearls, and the gift of the bridegroom; a diamond and pearl bar pin.

The bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Audrey Huycke, as maid of honor, her sister-inlaw, Mrs. Douglas Huycke of Toronto, and four schoolfriends: Miss Isabel Gurd of Sarnia, Miss Mary Granger of London, Miss Nora Smyth of Montreal, and Miss Marjorie Hatton. A brother of the bridegroom, Mr. George Walker Blaiklock of Montreal, acted as best man. Ushers were R. N. Norris, Eric Ohman and George W. Blaiklock of Montreal, Douglas Huycke and Max Bethune of Toronto, and Wilfrid Huycke of Peterboro. The bridegroom presented the ushers with golfing belts of black leather, with sterling silver buckles.

The six attendants of the bride were dressed alike, in charming gowns of powder blue georgette, over crepe slips of the same soft color. The full, circular skirts were outlined and edged with a narrow ruching of self material, which also formed the tiny, simulated cap sleeves. They wore nude-colored stockings and blue satin slippers to match their frocks. From narrow head-bands of artificial forget-me-nots and pale pink apple blossoms fell double veils of pale blue and pink tulle, covering their arms. They carried arm bouquets of pink Columbia roses and pink snapdragon, and wore the gift of the bridegroom; dainty bracelets of blue and rose enamel.

During the signing of the register, Miss Audrey Huycke sang very sweetly, "Beloved, It Is Morn."

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast, served from a marquee on the lawn, and reception, was held at Engleburn Park, the home of the bride's parents, where guests to the number of nearly three hundred were entertained. The bride's table and the rooms were profusely decorated with pink tulips and spring blossoms.

Mrs. Huycke, mother of the bride, wore a gown of grey and black crepe, black Milan hat with ostrich plume, and corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. George Blaiklock, was dressed in grey, with hat to match, and carried American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaiklock left on the afternoon C.P.R. train for Toronto. The honeymoon will be spent in a boat trip down the St. Lawrence river, and in a motor trip through the Adirondacks Mountains, after which they will reside in Montreal.

The bride's going-away costume was a French outfit of black and white, with white stockings and black shoes of patent leather and satin. Her gown was of black flat crepe, with frilled skirt front, the white upper section of the front, embroidered and beaded in white. With this gown was worn a small black straw hat, trimmed with flat flowers of white satin and velvet, with collar of white rabbit fur. Her gloves were white, with flaring cuffs.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. E. Blaiklock, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Cate, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Blaiklock, and Charles Kane, of Montreal; Miss Helen Witzel of Kitchener; Miss Elizabeth Cutcliffe of Brantford; Miss Mary Wills of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Matthews and Miss Jessie Matthews of Toronto; Mrs. Melville Grant, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Huycke, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Huycke and Miss Hoag, of Toronto; Mrs. Kerr, Misses Kerr, and Mr. Kerr; Mr. and Mrs. C. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Field, Mrs. C. C. Field, Miss Clara Field, Miss Lena Field and Miss Alloway of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Langley of Lakefield; Judge and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. George Cruikshanks, and Miss Marjorie Bennett, of Port Hope, Dr. and Mrs. Jackson and Miss Athol Jackson of Brockville, Mrs. Geo. Morrison, Amherst, N.S.

Among the Peterboro guests noticed at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Killaly, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. W. McKee Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. THESE SNAKES REAL.

HENRYETTA, Okla., June 4 (United Press). — Jack Hazelwood whistled gaily as he bumped along with a truckload of pipe in the oil fields near here.

Suddenly his whistle turned to a whoop and Jack left the truck to its fate as a man-sized rattlesnake crawled out of the end of the pipe between his feet.

Investigation revealed four companions ofthe playful rattler, which had apparently been awakened from slumber by the jostling of the truck.

All of the reptiles were over five feet long.

TONGUE COATED BAD TASTE IN MOUTH EYES TINGED WITH YELLOW

Liver Trouble the Cause

Mrs. A. C. Brown, Oromocto, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with my liver for a few years back and was so bad I did not feel able to do my work.

I had severe pains in my stomach so bad I could hardly stand them at times; coated tongue; bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, and had a yellow and sallow complexion.

I had read a great deal about Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and decided I would try a vial, and after taking two or three I found I was greatly improved, and can truthfully say that I felt more like living and can now do my own work without any trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LABOR MAY SOLVE HOUSING PROBLEM

John Wheatley Outlines Vast Plan to Relieve Situation.

LONDON, June 4. — (Canadian Press).—In the House of Commons last night John Wheatley, minister of health, outlined the Labor Government's vast plan for solving the housing problem. It comprises a system of state subsidies of thirty four million pounds annually, extending over a long period of years. An ultimate expenditure of approximately one billion, three hundred and seventy million is involved in the project. Mr. Wheatley pointed out that growth in population imposed the necessity to build one hundred thousand houses and that this number under the present conditions was not nearly being attained.

It's a Fine Old Custom

In the morning upon rising—drink a dash of ENO's in a glass of water.

It's a custom that brings inner cleanliness, which is just as important from the standpoint of health, as outward cleanliness. Gently, effectively, ENO's "Fruit Salt" eliminates the poisons that clog the system and give rise to constipation, depression, liver trouble and rheumatic conditions.

But be sure it is ENO's you take each morning — the world-famed effervescent saline containing no harsh or drastic mineral salts. ENO's possesses the beneficial and refreshing qualities of fruit in concentrated and convenient form. A dash of ENO's each morning is a pleasant premium to pay for bounding health and mental vigor that it gives.

At the British Empire Exhibition, Wembley, London, you will be welcome at the ENO Kiosk, No. 1, Kingsway West.

EVERY ELEPHANT HUNTER "GETS HIS," SAYS AKELEY.

NEW YORK, June 4. — Sooner or later, every elephant hunter "gets his." I have never known two men to be killed the same way. One man I knew was tossed into the brush from a cow's tusks; another was speared with the tusk and lived to get home. Some are crushed by being sat upon. When an elephant is wounded he always returns to the attack, and if he knows he is being hunted he lies in wait like a rock; he is no more conspicuous in his own country than a rabbit in its own. He is the colour of forest shadow. And he is not only intelligent, but vindictive.

The one that nearly got me was a bull. I had cut him out of a herd and followed his spoor. He got my wind and waited. I was almost within trunk-length of him when he bellowed and charged.

I saw his trunk and his eyes as he knocked me down. But I had the luck to grasp one of his tusks. He tried to impale me; I swung between the tusks as he lunged, and the tusks drove into the ground. His nose touched me—and more. It was like being used for an elephant's prayer rug.

The whole thing, from his charge till I went unconscious, was over in four or five seconds.

What was it like? Well, I suppose, like being hit by a motor truck. Four hours later, I came to, and found that several of my ribs were crushed. My chief worry was whether I had lost my nerve.

My next venture proved that I had not, for a wounded bull charged me four times, but finally fell.

SPIDER WEB STOCKINGS

BERLIN, June 3.—Spider web stockings, made of thread so fine that 207 miles of it would be required to make a pound of silk, are the latest fad of Berlin's Dame Fashion. The dealers admit that after one dance to modern jazz music, however, the toes and heels of the stockings would be all out.

MOON LIKE DRIED MUD

LONDON, June 3.—The moon's surface is the color of dried mud, according to F. J. Hargreaves, a member of the British Astronomical Association, who has perfected a process of direct color photography. He says the surface of the moon can also be likened to weathered, dirty concrete.

"The Store of Smiling Service"

Cobourg and District

COBOURG, June 3 (Special).—The only change in the regular routine of services in the Cobourg churches on Sunday was that Rev. Frank C. Parnell, of Nova Scotia, occupied the pulpit of the Cobourg Congregational Church, and preached also at Coldsprings Congregational Church. These charges are vacant at the present time, as no regular minister has been appointed since Rev. H. A. Carson left last year for an eastern pastorate.

To Consider Cooperation.

Committees have been appointed from the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches at Colborne to consider the matter of co-operation of the churches. When one remembers the advance criticism concerning union in many quarters, this is quite a significant feature on the part of the Colborne churches. St. Andrew's, Colborne, has been rendered vacant by the retirement from active ministerial work of Rev. Dr. A. W. Mackenzie, Minister there for some years, who has just completed forty years' service in the ministry. At the Colborne Methodist Church, Rev. R. A. Whattam, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, is completing a five years' pastorate. Rev. Mr. Moyer, Grafton, is moderator to the vacant charges of Colborne and Lakeport.

Will Put On Play.

At Shiloh Church, near Cowanville, a new enclosed shed has been erected, and will prove a great convenience. Just now it is being put to amateur theatrical use, as it is to be used on Tuesday evening to stage a play that that is to be put on there.

Norham To Unite.

It is expected that the Norham appointment of the Methodist Church will be attached to Warkworth at the beginning of next conference year. This, it is stated, will mean that Warkworth Church will be closed every alternate Sunday evening, when the service will be held at Norham. The Norham congregation is expected to go to Warkworth for other services excepting Sunday school, which will still be held at Norham.

Presented Play.

The members of the Newcastle Ladies' Aid went up to Bowmanville on Saturday evening where they presented the popular play, "The Dust of the Earth."

FARM PROSPECTS GOOD THIS YEAR

Last Year's Bumper Crop Failed to Pay Farmer Because of World Condition.

LONDON, June 3 (Canadian Press). — "Although in 1923 the Dominion reaped the most abundant harvest on record, the returns to the Canadian farmer were disappointing," said E. H. Godfrey, head of the Agriculture Statistics Division of the Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, in a paper read before the Farmers' Club here.

The paper was read by F. C. Nunnick on behalf of Mr. Godfrey, and was a study of the costs of production on the Canadian farm and the conveyance of produce to English ports.

"But this disappointment," Mr. Godfrey continues, "was due largely to the general excellence of the wheat crop throughout the world, which had the effect of reducing the price. This is a rare occurrence, and we may look for a rise in price when the world conditions of wheat revert to normal."

The United States, he added, has apparently reached the limit of wheat production, while in Canada, where vast areas of fertile lands still await the plough, agricultural production must continue annually to increase.

COMMISSIONERS CLOSE POWER ISSUE ENQUIRY

Say Campbell Milling Company Did Not Receive Any Favors in Distribution of Power — Mayor Turner Criticized

Three witnesses, closely questioned by E. H. D. Hall, testified at the public meeting called by the Utilities Commission last night to deal with the allegation that the Campbell Milling Company has been receiving from the commission more power than was paid for, that the company had really paid for every horse power as recorded by their meter.

At the conclusion of the testimony, Chairman Hicks declared that the case, so far as the Council was concerned, had fallen through, and expressed regret that the matter had been given so much publicity, as it tended to reflect on the commission and upon one of the city's leading industries. The whole affair could have been settled quietly in a round the table discussion by the aldermen and commissioners.

The members of the council had been specially invited to attend the meeting last night, the commission promising to produce all the information that had been asked for. At 7.30 the Council met in committee of the whole, when Mayor Turner read a letter which was a copy of one that had been sent to the commission by the milling company from their headquarters in Toronto. It was emphatically declared that the company had paid the full cost of the power furnished them as recorded by a government approved and inspected meter. The mill had been closed for some time in 1922 and when operations had been resumed the power dues were greatly increased.

Ald. Meyers repeated his assertion to the effect that it was impossible to operate the mill with the amount of power paid for and added that he could procure expert evidence to this effect.

The Public Meeting.

When Chairman Hicks called the meeting to order in the Council Chamber, the majority of the Aldermen were present, but the attendance of outsiders was small. The commissioners were represented by E. H. D. Hall, their solicitor, and City Solicitor Wearing watched the proceedings on behalf of the Council. A stenographic report of the proceedings was made by Miss M. E. Moore.

Chairman Hicks read the resolution adopted by the Council asking for the investigation. The meeting had been called in order that all the facts might be laid before the people. Since the previous meeting information had been collected and this would be produced. He hoped that the commission would be justified and that the members would show themselves deserving of the confidence that had been placed in them by the people.

The chairman then read the letter from the Milling Company, a copy of the one sent to Mayor Turner and in which the statement was made, "You will agree with me that in all fairness this matter has gone far enough."

Manager Fisk Testifies.

The first witness was Manager H. O. Fisk of the Commission, who testified that the price of power was the same to all users, $20 per horse power a year. All power is measured by meters. Prior to 1919 a flat rate prevailed, but in that year the new system was installed. The Campbell Milling people had a contract, with the old power company, which ran into the year 1919 and this contract was carried out by the present commission, but when the contract expired the meter was installed.

All meters, Manager Fisk testified, hard been thoroughly tested by the Government. The one in the mill in questoion had been inspected by himself in the early stages of its operation and again in February, 1922.

"Are you satisfied that the Campbell Milling Company was charged with all the power used?" Mr. Hall asked the witness.

To this question Manager Fisk gave an emphatic reply in the affirmative.

At one time the mill was so arranged that half the plant could be operated at one time. It was shut down in September, 1921, and overhauled. When it resumed full operation about a year later, the machinery had to be run as a unit.

Change of Meter.

One point brought out in Manager Fisk's testimony, and which was emphasized later in the proceedings by Chairman Hicks, was that on July 12th, 1923, the meter in the Campbell Company's mill had been destroyed by lightning. Another tested meter had been put in, and this registered the same amount of power as the previous one.

Again Mr. Hall asked the witness if he was satisfied that all power used had been paid for, and once more the witness declared that he had no doubt on this score.

Chairman Hicks addressed a few questions to the witness, bringing out the fact that Manager Fisk was experienced in the work in which he is engaged.

Another point brought out in the testimony of this witness was that when the mill had been equipped with new machinery it had required 169 horse power more to operate it. The output had not been increased but the quality of the flour had been improved.

This statement was reaffirmed in reply to a question by City Solicitor Wearing.

Brief testimony was given by E. N. Welsh of the meter department, and by Harry Beatty, foreman of the distribution branch of the commission. Both witnesses were convinced that the milling company had paid for all the power supplied them, this having been properly registered by the meter.

Regrets the Publicity.

"The whole matter," said Chairman Hicks, at the conclusion of the testimony, "could have been settled by the commission and the council in 15 minutes sitting around the table. We have given you all the information which we possess, and which it has taken some time to gather."

"I hope," continued the chairman, addressing Mayor Turner, "that you will be here next year, that you will be in the mayor's chair again, and I hope, too, that I will have a little better opinion of you than I hold at present."

Chairman Hicks called up some local history, recalling that Mayor Turner had been one of the moving spirits in holding an indignation meeting to protest against the proposed raising of the water rates by the commission. The commission, he added, had been criticized by the council on previous occasions. The Campbell Milling Company was one of those instances."

"Take Down Those Signs."

"The Campbell Milling Company is one of our customers," continued the chairman, "and we are bound to protect our patrons. You put up signs in your city, saying, 'Welcome to Peterborough.' Take down those signs. It will be time enough to put them up when we are ready to protect the reputation of the manufacturers you are so anxious to bring here. There has been so much publicity given this affair, Peterborough is getting such a reputation in all the papers of the country, that I do not know what outsiders will think of the people of Peterborough."

Chairman Hicks went on to say that there were members of the City Council for whom he has the highest respect, believing as he does that in these matters they acted in perfectly good faith. They could not have done otherwise than what they had done.

He did not however entertain the same high opinion of the other two members but just what he thought of them he would not say as it would not look well in print.

The commission was not holding anything back, and Mr. Hicks is satisfied that before the end of the year the city council will have its hands full minding their own business. He read extracts from a report of a meeting of the Council in Committee of the Whole, when among other things said was a statement by City Solicitor Wearing that the council appeared to have the commission on the run.

Mr. Wearing Explains

City Solicitor Wearing said that this impromptu and half jocose remark of his should not be taken too seriously. He had not meant to imply that the commissioners were running away from any wrong doing. What he did mean was that the Council seemed about to obtain information that had been withheld or denied them.

"To-night is the first time," said Mr. Wearing that you have given the public any information.

"We did not have any information ourselves at the time referred to," replied the Chairman. "We had to get it out as soon as we obtained it we laid it before the people."

A Serious Matter

Commissioner E. F. Mason said that to the members of the Commission the matter at issue was very serious. It reflected on the commission and on one of the city's leading industries. The commissioners had always tried to merit the trust the people had committed to them by electing them. They had faith in the integrity and ability of the men whom they employed and after looking into the matter thoroughly they been unable to find a single item by which the charge could be substantiated.

Public Confidence Shaken

The publicity given this affair was beginning to take effect. The confidence of the public had been shaken. Citizens are beginning to doubt the correctness of their bills for light and power. This reflected on the commission as any one could see.

The meter system is as accurate as weigh scales .The meters are approved by the Government and are inspected by employees of the commision. If anything is found amiss it is corrected. It is necessary to get these facts before the people, Mr. Mason said, in order that their confidence in the meter system might be restored. The Hydro has laid down certain principles which the local commission is bound to follow.

Commissioner Bradburn

Commissioner Bradburn said that Ald. Meyers, chairman of the Manufacturers, Committee had come to the commission asking for certain information but what he really wanted to find out was the output of the Campbell Milling Company, a firm in the same line of business as himself. This the commission could not give as they are bound to respect the confidence of their customers.

If Ald. Meyers or any other official or private citizens would approach the commission quietly they would get any information they desired if it was no breach of confidence to disclose it. All the acts of the commission are open to the public.

The commission, continued Mr. Bradburn, had gone into this matter thoroughly and had laid all in formation on the table. There was nothing to conceal and commission and company had both been vindicated by the investigation.

FRENCH CRISIS TO OPEN TODAY

Critical Phase Will Open This Afternoon When Chamber of Deputies Elect a President.

(By Webb Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, June 4.—The most critical phase of France's Presidential and political crisis opens this afternoon, when the Chamber of Deputies elects a President.

Ex-Premier Painleve was thought certain of election, after which the Socialist fight to oust President Millerand from the Elysee begins.

The President of the Republic has determined to fight with every possible constitutional means to retain office. The Socialists say he must go and would require Edouard Herriot to refuse to form a cabinet until Millerand has promised to resign.

The Mayor of Lyons, who has been selected to succeed Raymond Poincare, has not adopted such a recalcitrant attitude, however.

Millerand was expected to summon Painleve and M. Doumergue, President of the Senate, for a conference immediately after the Chamber elections. At this conference, the new Premier would naturally be named.

WILD ELEPHANT HERDS DISAPPEARING RAPIDLY

NEW YORK, June 4. — The world's elephant population was at a maximum in 1850. It was then that Ivory hunting was a thriving industry in Africa. Since that time the number of wild African elephants has gradually decreased. The slaughter of elephants for ivory is not by any means a dead industry. It is a going enterprise today. In South Africa, only remnants of former elephant abundance now remain. In the Belgian Congo Territory, and in French West Africa, there seems to be no surplus elephant population, and no such elephant ravages as there are to cope with in the Sudan and in Tanganyika Territory. The officers of the London Society for the Preservation of the Fauna of the British Empire have for years been pressing the British Government, and all other governments owning colonial real estate in Africa, to stop all systematic slaughter for ivory alone, to stop the killing and marketing of elephant tusks of small size, to make government game preserves (there are already about a dozen such), and, in short, to do everything that ought to be done to preserve the greatest game of the greatest game continent in the wrold.

King Ludwig's Train Restored For Museum

MUNICH, June 4. — The court train of the late King Ludwig II of Bavaria has been repaired and refitted in the state railway shops here and returned to Nuremberg, where it is kept in a railway museum.

The train cost a fortune, the car used as the king's drawing room having been wonderfully furnished. The tables are of marble and the chairs of blue silk with heavy gold ornaments. The ceiling of the car, too, is of gold, while the coat-of-arms of the Wittelsbach family and the initials of the king are displayed freely on all the cars in gold relief.

WIFE ACCUSES FOLLIES GIRL

Says Miss Wilson Tried To Force Her Way Into Long Island Home.

CONTRAST IN LOVES

NEW YORK, June 4.—Three weeks ago Imogene Wilson, Ziegfeld Follies beauty, deserted Broadway for a few hours and motored at three o'clock in the morning to the country home of Frank Tinney, famous black-face comedian, at Baldwin, L. I., where she threatened to murder the actor's wife, Edna.

This charge was made yesterday by Mrs. Tinney.

"It was just a little after three o'clock when the bell rang. I went down to answer it, and—"

A look of annoyance passed over her features as she recalled the events of that early morning at Foxhurst, L. I.

Wife Knew Imogene.

"I looked out the front door and there stood a motor car. On the front porch was my husband's valet and with him was this Imogene Wilson—the same woman who had him arrested yesterday, saying he beat her in her apartment.

"Did I ever know her before? Well, say, I did."

Hesitating a moment, she continued:

"Peculiar, the delusions some people get, isn't it? Well, she had the idea that because I was Frank Tinney's wife that, well, I ought to be murdered.

"Guess it was because she loved him, too."

She was asked:

"If she was threatening to kill you, why didn't you call Frank Tinney to defend you?"

The woman laughs heartily at the idea of the comedian having to referee an affair between women over a man's love—

"—though I wasn't laughing that morning at three o'clock, I assure you. That Imogene person demanded that I open the door so she could kill me.

"I did not open it. I stood there and looked at her, told her a few things—and then I ordered my husband's valet to take her away. The woman was almost hysterical with anger at me—angry, I suppose, because I hadn't given her my husband."

Contrast In Women.

A moment later she explained, rather softly:

"This was merely a case of a woman of gaiety—Imogene Wilson—and a woman of maternal love—myself—both caring for the same man. Frank and I have a seven-year-old son, you know."

It was a few days after that before-dawn visit to the Tinney country home that Imogene of Broadway attempted suicide with sugar-coated digestion pills in her bijou apartment at No. 157 West Seventy-second street.

Frank Tinney's name was connected with her's at the time, as she had wrapped an intimate and tender love letter around his photograph before an ambulance was summoned to give her treatment.

She Believed Him.

Tinney objected to the publicity —or something. Anyway, Imogene charges the comedian beat her terribly. It was on her charges that he was arrested on a felonious assault. At the time he was arrested the chorus girl declared:

"He said that as soon as he was divorced he would marry me. Like a fool I believed him—I loved him like many other little fools."

Neighbors near the Tinney estate say that a divorce had been planned, but that Tinney's arrest changed all that. As the actor's wife said yesterday:

Wife Stands By Tinney.

"My husband in trouble—what would you expect a wife to do in such a case? Stand by the husband in trouble, of course. Do you think I'd desert him. You know, Frank really is a good sort."

As an after-thought:

"Of course, I know he's known the Imogene person for three years, but—well, I'd rather not talk about that."

She was reminded that gossips said Tinney had planned to give her about $50,000 worth of real estate and $500 a week for herself and the boy if she would give him a divorce. Her answer to that was immediate:

"So there was an agreement, was there? Well, Frank wouldn't sign it. Isn't that proof that he wants my love and not that of this Imogene person?"

"Don't you know that if a man is wild about another woman that he'll give anything in the world to get rid of his wife? Well, you see, Frank wouldn't give anything up for that Im—Imogene person."

Imogene's family came to her support yesterday, a sister, Mrs. A. C. Rondeau of New Milford, Conn., being first on the scene. Mrs. Rondeau entered the sick-room in tears and fell into Imogene's arms, crying:

"Poor Bruised Body."

"Oh, darling sister! Your poor bruised body!"

Imogene groaned:

"Ouch! If you start that, you're out."

This was but one of many callers and, presently a room full of long faces surrounded Imogene's bed.

One visitor started an oration on the wickedness of wife and sweetheart-beaters in general and was promptly squelched by both Imogene and her sister who jumped to the defense of Tinney and the actor profession in general:

"We're not a bunch of nuts. Let Frank alone."

Imogene continued:

Love Cure Failed.

"I love the spiritual side of Frank. At bottom he's just big-hearted Otis. But he's got two sides. And I thought my love could cure the beast in poor Frank."

Imogene cleared her room of visitors in the afternoon and obviously expected Tinney to call as soon as he was released on bail. She was disappointed because of a circumstance which is not without its little point of irony.

Awaiting Tinney also was his wife, the former Edna Davenport of musical comedy. And she awaited him in front of the courthouse in a $4,000 limousine which was given her by her husband several weeks ago. Tinney, dashing from Magistrate Goodman's presence, ran headlong into the limousine and was last seen being driven away, happy captive to domesticity.

The Irony Of Fate.

The little irony is that Imogene was promised a $4,000 car, just like the one now owned by Mrs. Tinney, and was to have received it on the day Mrs. Tinney returned, two weeks ago, from California. It is told that Mrs. Tinney learned on that day of her husband's acquaintance with the "Follies" beauty, and would not disbelieve the reports until the $4,000 car was delivered at her door at the Tinney home.

Tinney took dinner in the bosom of his family last night.

ANNUAL REPORTS OF Y.W.C.A.

REPORT OF PHYSICAL DIRECTRESS.

The term physical education should convey more than mere physical proficiency that more than mere health is the aim or that more than relief from mental work is the objective. It is all this, plus something vital, that cause people to recognize when we speak of physical education.

Professor Hocking of Harwood has defined character thus, "Character is condition of the inner man, good character is good condition of the inner man." The qualities of loyalty, good sportsmanship, fair play, magnanimity etc., must be learned and lived in order to be possessed, and so it is the aim of our physical department to provide for all girls' exercises and recreation that tends towards these ideals.

During the summer of 1923 our swimming pool was the centre of attraction. Over 240 girls learned to swim, 1,324 lessons were conducted and 1,146 swimmers attended the pool. The life saving classes, numbering 32 seniors and junior pupils, were prepared for the examination of proficiency, bronze and award of merit, and all passed successfully.

A delightful garden party was given in June, which also proved a financial success.

The swimming season was concluded with a swimming exhibition of races, etc., the Morrow Trophy was won by Marguerite Mason for all-round proficiency in swimming, against a great number of contestants.

In September many preparations were made for the coming gymnasium season. Gym. posters were placed in schools and factories, and many organizations were canvassed for members. The fall rally commenced the gym. term, and during October our class registration grew to large proportions.

Hallowe'en commenced our series of parties, and as "all the world is really young at heart," so both young and old took part and thoroughly enjoyed the above. The attendance for both parties were 500.

And so we go on throughout the season planning a basketball league to encourage all types of girls to feel the thrill of good sport.

The Christmas parties follow with their spirit of good fellowship which prompted the junior members to bring toys and good cheer to less fortunate cildren, and on through January when the competitive spirit of the gym. challenged the members to accomplish a successful campaign for gym. members, and then arrives February with its jolly Valentine parties and tea, also the termination of the basketball season which gave the Y.W.C.A. team the Gordon trophy, the championship cup of the city.

That the members of the gymnasium can work as well as play was proved at the completion of our gym. season when a splendid gymnasium pageant was presented at the Grand Opera House in May.

Peterboro' was thrilled by seeing 500 girls of all ages march in solid line formation around the foyer of the theatre to the stage, and rightly should Peterboro' be proud of her girls, who with their splendid health and vitality were an inspiration to the many hundreds of spectators. The programme progressed through the gymnastic display of reeds, clubs, wands, dumbells and Swedish exercises to the beautifully-costumed national, folk and interpretive dances. These costumes, which numbered 350, were made by the sewing committee, members and friends, of the association. One of the finest features in connection with the exhibition was the wonderful co-operation of board and committee members, staff and pupils in making the pageant such a splendid success.

The financial results of the pageant was most satisfactory totaling $1,205.84.

No. of classes conducted during season, 145.

Class enrollment to date, 450, plus 61 club class; total, 511.

Aggregate attendance during season, 10,603, plus 1,625 club; total, 12,228.

Gymnasium Fees for Season	$1,122.00
Including Exhibition	1,205.84
Total	$2,327.84

In closing I wish express my appreciation to all members of the board, physical committee and staff secretaries for their splendid co-operation during the past year. Respectfully submitted,

Caroline F. Littlefield,
Physical Directress.

SNAKES EAT FISH.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., June 4.—(United Press).—Water snakes have made trout fishing in this section almost useless, local anglers say.

The fish, especially the trout in the streams in Lopez canyon, are so scared by the exceptional large number of water snakes that they will not bite and hundreds are being destroyed daily by the reptiles. Fishermen report that in several instances fish have been snatched off their hooks by snakes.

The unusual condition is due to a forest fire that swept Lopez canyon last year and that killed most of the rattle-water variety. The fire also killed the field mice, gophers and other small animals which the snakes generally feed on, forcing them to turn to the trout streams for food.

Total highway mileage in U. S. equals 2,940,000.

FABLES ON HEALTH

KEEP SCALP CLEAN

If the truth must be told, Mr. Mann was himself a bit careless in the matter of his hair.

Now and then a barber browbeat him into a shampoo, but rarely did he wash it of his own volition. And had it not been for Mrs. Mann—he might not have thought of washing the children's hair more than once a month.

Hair, allowed to be unclean in childhood, seldom becomes beautiful. Training the child to have regular hair-washing times is as necessary as training it to take regular baths.

A child with short hair should have it cleaned twice a week.

In shampooing the child the use of pure Castile soap is generally recommended. The soap can be boiled and rubbed upon the scalp when it has reached a jelly-like form. Several rinsings are advisable, but care should be taken that the hair is quite dry.

To aid in the growth a little olive oil or vaseline rubbed well into the scalp at the end of the shampoo is to be advised.

SCALD MILK BOTTLES.

Always scald milk bottles and pans and air them after using.

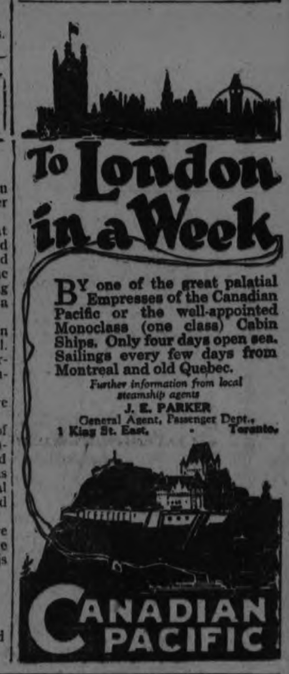
KANGAROO BABIES HELPLESS FOR SIX MONTHS AFTER BIRTH

NEW YORK, June 4.—Through close observation at the New York Zoo, much has been learned about the kangaroo's birth, which has remained somewhat of a puzzle to zoologists until recent years. The young are born in a comparatively rudimentary condition, and are sheltered during their later development in a pouch, which is a fold of skin on the abdomen of the mother. A kangaroo at birth weighs about twenty grains, is only a trifle more than an inch long, and not much thicker around than a lead pencil. It is a tiny, pinkish, naked mass, and with the exception of the perfectly formed front legs, bears but little resemblance to the adult kangaroo. It is by means of these front legs that it finally succeeds in propelling itself to the pouch, where it undergoes its more mature development, and where it remains attached to its mother's udder for several months. It is completely developed and ready to leave the pouch after six months, when it is permitted to shift for itself.



This little dollar goes to market

EVERY year every family of your acquaintance spends about 70 per cent of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilites and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements of her daily paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and manufacturers. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

Do you read the advertisements? You will find them willing and able to serve you in the daily business of purchase.

FARM LIFE AND ITS PROBLEMS

UNITED STATES SUFFER SLOW, BACKWARD YEAR AS WELL AS PROVINCES

At the Beginning of May the Planting Season Was From One to Four Weeks Behind—Fruits Suffer.

FALL OATS SCARCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4. — At the beginning of May the planting season was from one to four weeks behind, according to a report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Probably the outstanding feature of the agricultural situation," reads the report "is the general backwardness of the season. Cool weather and rains in most areas have retarded farm work and caused slow germination and growth of the growing crops.

"In many sections much replanting has been necessary and acreages of a number of the crops will probably be smaller than previous intentions, while a few may show larger acreages than expected.

"The preparation of the land for corn and planting of the crop is late in most areas, due to continued cold weather, and in many cases heavy rains. In several states much replanting has been done. Germination and growth have been slow, as a rule, although where the plant is up the stands are usually good.

"The indications are for a larger acreage generally as much land intended for other crops will be planted to corn, the weather conditions preventing the intended seeding of other crops.

"Winter wheat and rye have been making slow growth. On the whole, the condition of these crops has improved of late but is quite backward and the plant needs warmer weather and sunshine in many areas.

Fall Oats Scarce.

"Fall-sown oats in southern areas suffered from the severe winter conditions, have poor stands, as a rule, and will make a short crop. Much of the acreage will be cut for hay or grazed off.

"Meadows and pastures are showing improvement, but are backward in most areas, and in northern localities are furnishing but little feed. While the farm animals in many sections are still thin, due to scarcity of feeds and backward pastures, they have been rapidly improving as pasturage has become available.

"Little disease is reported, though the losses of spring pigs have been heavy in a number of states, due to cold and unfavorable weather.

Fruits Suffer.

"The prospects for orchard fruits seem to be fair at this time except that peaches have suffered quite severely in many areas from frosts and freezing. Apples will hardly come up to the large production of last year as the season is an off one in a number of states and they have been damaged badly in the northwest by spring freezing.

"The weather has been generally unfavorable for cotton. Planting has been considerably delayed and germination and growth are slow. Much replanting has been done. The crop is quite backward but has come up to good stands in many areas and with good weather conditions from now on should make favorable progress.

"Truck crops, as a whole, are backward but are in good condition except that in some southern areas some injury has been caused by the cold and wet weather of the spring.

"The supply of farm labor is hardly up to the demand, and the scarcity will probably increase some in the immediate future."

BABY CHICKS LONG TRIP.

NORWOOD, June 4.—A shipment of one hundred baby chicks (brown Leghorns) arrived Friday morning in the local post office from Cleveland Ohio, for Mr. H. Hull, of Stoney Lake They were shipped on the 28th and arrived in good condition.

OUTDOOR WHITEWASH.

Weatherproof whitewash can be made as follows:

1. Use sixty-two pounds of quicklime; slake with twelve gallons of hot water.
2. Dissolve two pounds of common table salt and one pound of sulphate of zinc in two gallons of boiling water.
3. Two gallons of skimmed milk—pour No. 2 into No. 1, add No. 3 (milk and mix thoroughly.

CORN.

What country is the world's leading corn exporters? It's Argentina. She's led us four years.

But she exports seven-tenths of her corn crop. America exports a bit less, but actually grows more than three times as much as the rest of the world combined.

It isn't often that the leading producer doesn't dominate the world market in exports.

NO BAD FLAVORS.

A further announcement has been made by the dairy department of the Ontario agricultural college into the question of the effect of sweet clover pasture on the flavor of milk and butter. Butter made last July, when the cows were pasturing on sweet clover, was scored when fresh and again after holding in storage, but none of it had any understanding flavor that might be credited to the sweet clover. Similar results were obtained on in 1922, so that the question seems to be pretty well disposed of.

DRAW OUT SALT

Salted meats such as corned beef, ham and tongue are better for having some of the salt drawn out and they should be put to soo in cold water.

Farm is One Place On Earth That Has Ideal Flower Plot

IF there is any place on earth where an abundance of flowers may be grown it is on the farm. For one thing, there is always space for them. There is good soil also, or it may be readily prepared. Old rotted manure or leaf-mold may be found on the farm some place—in a corner of the barnyard a fence row, at the side of an old, rotting stump in the woods or in cleaning out an old stable or henhouse. Indeed, any kind of well-rotted manure will turn the trick in fixing up soil for a flower bed.

One flower bed! Any farmer's wife can do that, but why only one? Make it more, and the labor will be light because of the joy the flowers will bring to the keeper. You can place the flowers along the side of the house, in the garden, along certain walks; and, besides, you can give the flowers their own place in the farmyard. It doesn't matter, the important thing is to have a few flowers. The selection should be your own. If you like many different kinds of flowers you can have them. The cost of flower seed is so small there can be no objection on that point.

CHARLES HOARD CULLS POULTRY

Agricultural Student Goes Among Poultry Owners In Stirling District.

STIRLING, June 4.—Earl Snyder, of the poultry department of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, conducted the poultry culling class, mention of which was recently made in these columns. The class was well attended and much interest was shown by those who took part. One session was held in Stirling and another at the farm of Harry Farnsworth, who has over 500 high-class birds in his pens.

Charles Hoard, a young farmer, who resides at Hoard station, and who has spent two years as a student in the agricultural school at Guelph, will go among the poultry owners of the district, culling, at a nominal charge, the flocks of any who desire expert assistance to get rid of all but the highest type of fowl.

Plums and Pears Good In Roseneath District

ROSENEATH, June 4.—Despite the cold weather, the plum trees and early pear trees are out in full blossom, and all other trees are leafing out part.

The grass and hay on light land are growing good, but on heavier land it is practically at a standstill. Some of the clover fields that wintered through fine, are now little more than half a crop. The fall grain is nicely, and the spring grain that was in early is growing fairly good.

It is to be hoped that warmer weather will soon appear, for if the old adage stands good—"Cold May, no hay"—the farmers will be rather short next winter of a lot of coarse feed for their stock.

The local price of butter is 31 cents, with eggs at an average of 22 cents.

Lots of Cream Appears In Hastings Districts

HASTINGS, June 4.—Trucks from the Campbellford Creamery are driving through parts of this district daily gathering up butter fat. A large number from the Cobourg road are sending their cream out in this way as the cheese factory in Roseneath is closed this year. The quantities of cream gathered in this way is so great at times that two trucks are necessary to convey the cream to the creamery. The cream is paid for on the test plan, and the cheques are issued every two weeks.

Fall rye, measuring forty-three inches in height, is now growing on the farm of Mr. Bruce Buttars in Percy Township. Four acres, all of which averages the same height, is what is planted of this grain, and is considered a splendid growth, especially this year when we have had such a backward season.

Here's a big one: I read about the man who had a sunflower that measured thirty-nine and one-half inches in diameter. I have one that I grew on my farm that measured forty-eight and one-half inches in diameter. I also have a photo of same.—G. F. Henhaw

PRAIRIE FARMS ARE BETTER IN CANADIAN WEST

Misfortunes of Agriculturist Below International Line Has Buoyed Up Westerner — Many Would Immigrate.

MORE OPTIMISTIC.

OTTAWA, June 4.—Leading westerners visiting the Capital report a much better spirit respecting business conditions prevailing in the West. Hon. T. A. Crerar says the feeling in Winnipeg is much better than it has been for two years. Attorney General Brownlee of Alberta, says that last year's crop did much to improve conditions in his province and that the outlook is much more hopeful.

Much of this improvement is due, they say, to a realization on the part of the western farmers, while they may have their troubles, still they are better off than the farmers of the middle and western states. An official of the Dominion Government, who recently returned from a tour of a dozen of these states, including some of the best in the Union, reports that he found agricultural conditions worse over there than on this side. Because of his thorough knowledge of Western Canada, this man knows what he is talking about and he had access to the best information in the states that he recently visited.

As to the chief cause of the trouble over there he said: "During the war, and for a year or two after it, while wheat prices were high, the farmers lost their heads. Many of them sold their farms at prices ranging from $175 to $200 an acre, and as farm values were still mounting, and as the speculation fever was rife, some of them bought again at another advance. I met one case of a man who had bought at $75 an acre, who has a mortgage of $35,000 on his section, on which he is paying eight per cent. His position is hopeless. Now if this is true of a man, who paid only $75 an acre, you can imagine the plight of the farmer who bought at $250 and $300 an acre, and some paid as high as between $400 and $500."

The lower priced land and lower freight rates in Western Canada look very good to farmers in the western states, but the trouble is that those who would emigrate haven't the money, and they can't sell their land. This explains why immigration from the other side is so light.

Sixty-eight Snakes In East Emily Well

EAST EMILY, June 3.—Mr. J. J. Lintick unearthed sixty-eight snakes in an old well here. In the last three years Mr. Lintick has killed over one hundred and thirty snakes in the same well. They were common garter snakes.

Campbellford Is Set In Beautiful Fields

CAMPBELLFORD, June 4.—The country is beginning to look beautiful. As one drives along there are many things to see. Everywhere one can see one, two, or three teams on each farm hard at work getting the grain in, cultivating or rolling. The fields of fall wheat show up plainly and give signs of a good crop coming in the harvest time. Here and there are trees and bushes full of blossom, which, mixed among the green, make a very pretty picture. The women on the farms are as busy as the men, looking after the chickens, ducks and planting gardens with vegetables and flowers.

Potatoes are scarce in Campbellford and the grocers can hardly fill their orders. The price has gone away up and seems to be still soaring.

HE FOOLED THE FARMER.

A farmer sat on his porch steps one morning doing exercises with his fingers in the hope of driving the rheumatism out of his finger joints. A city chap happened to be passing at the time, and said to himself:

"This poor old farmer is deaf and dumb."

So, as he was thirsty, he took out some paper and a pencil, wrote:

"Will you sell me a quart of fresh cool milk?" and handed the note over the fence.

The farmer stopped his finger exercise, read the note, got up without a word and went into the house. He was back in a minute with a full pitcher.

The city chap drank the milk and wrote "How much?" an another slip of paper.

For answer the farmer held up five fingers three times. The city chap paid him, nodded and strated off. But as he was passing out of the gate he heard a chuckle and the words:

"Hi, nother! I just sold a short quart o' sour milk for 15 cents to a dummy!

Goose Has Habit of Laying Eggs

WESTWOOD, June 4.—Mr. David Breckenridge has a goose that has been laying since the middle of last September. At first the goose started to lay about two eggs every three days and then raised the ante to one egg every other day. When the Indian River was frozen over and the goose was unable to get into the water her egg production dropped to about two a week. It is now back to one egg every other day. Since last September she has laid about one hundred and fifty eggs. Laying eggs has become a habit with her so much so that she has dispensed with the use of a nest and deposits her eggs in all manner of places. The crows have made a meal out of some of them.

Plowing As An Art Is Worthy Artists' Skill

(By ALEX. McGREGOR.)

WHEN George Drewry died in Stirling at the age of 80, one of the most cherished of his possessions was a gold medal which he won fifty years before his death and which marked him as the champion ploughman of Hastings County. The medal was put up for competition by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, of Belleville, who for so many years represented North Hastings in the Federal Parliament, and who was a member of the Senate at the time of his death.

Ploughing was an art in the days when the gold medal was offered as a prize, and a really good ploughman was as much of a rarity as an expert landscape painter. To hold a plough at a uniform depth and width across a long field required a skill that comparatively few men possessed, and to give a competent opinion of the work of this type of agriculturalist-artist also called for technical knowledge of what constituted good ploughing.

There are still expert ploughmen in Hastings County as the match held near Stirling last fall demonstrated, but methods have changed and the experts are passing with old conditions of labor. The ploughman no longer "homward plods his weary way." As a rule, he has been all day riding rather more comfortably on an easy spring seat than he would have been had he been humped in an auto over the average country road. Or perhaps he has been guiding a tractor from one end of the filed to the other. Anyway, as at the end of his day's task, he goes homeward, the chances are that he feels as fresh as he did at the beginning of the day.

The Old Style Plough.

The ploughs used by experts forty or fifty years ago were long of beam, moldboard and handles. They ran steady in the soil, unlike the modern walking plough in almost every point of comparison. They were heavy to draw, and the expert who had turned over an acre of soil considered he had done a fair day's work.

The evolution of the plough may have been slow but it worked out. The farmer learned by experience that his favorite plough was not only retarding his labor, but was imposing a useless burden upon his long-suffering horses. The modern plough increased the amount of acreage turned over in a day by nearly 100 per cent. and lessened the strain on the team by at least half.

The Sulky Plough.

Then came the sulky plough, which certainly ran steady in the ground, and for that reason required more horse-power to operate it. But a man with three good horses could do as much in a day as two men and four horses in the days that had gone. Another advantage was that no special skill is required to run the modern wheeled contrivance. It could be operated by any person capable of handling horses.

How to Rig a Plough.

There are walking ploughs still in use in Ontario, and there are left men who take an artist's pride in using them. Probably half those who still operate them do not know how walking ploughs should be set to give the best returns and to take the least out of man and horse alike. The coener should be just long enough to bring the inside ends of the single trees close together. To get the right length for the coupling let the plough stand on a level place, then make the coupling just long enough to let the coener lie flat on the ground. Some men couple the coener as close as they can to the end of the beam, believing that this makes the draft lighter. If there is anything gained in this way it is more than overbalanced by the extra exertion it imposes on the man, as every deviation made by the team from a straight line is felt by the ploughman.

Opinions differ as to whether a rigid head clevis is better than one that is free to play up or down, but the majority of good ploughers appear to favor the latter, as it gives them a better change to vary the depth of the furrow as required.

Straighest Plougher in the World.

Talking of straight furrowse, perhaps there is no ploughman on earth who can follow a perfectly undeviating line from one end of a long field to the other as can the colored men in the cotton fields of the South with an equipment that consists of what up North is known as a garden plough and a single mule. These cotton rows, sometimes half-a-mile in length, are as straight as the course of a rifle bullet in a still atmosphere. The rows are four feet apart, and very often the ploughman will work them out one after the other, with nothing to guide him but his sense of direction and distance. The patient mule, too, appears to know what is required of him, for if any person imagines that the hybrid is lacking in intelligence he is out in his reckoning.

Pruned yet? Well, then, you know that there is no place where a wise man can do more good and a fool more harm than in the orchard with a knife and a saw.

Why not raise a couple of good beef calves this year, anyway, just to try out the theory? Some folks declare it will pay. And we are always hungry for porterhouse.

Farmers who don't want to be bothered with keeping records and giving close attention to the details of farming as a business are not usually bothered with profits from the business.

Ain't it the Truth?

A man will pay $225 for a binder, use it two days in the year; $65 for a planter, use it two days in the year; $130 for a wheat drill, use it a few days; and let his wife rub, rub on the washboard all day long, fifty-two to seventy-five days in the year.

Crippled by Scrub Bull.

"Dairyman Crippled by His Own Bull," is the subject of a short article in a local paper by L. E. Cline, agriculturist on one of the Government reclamation projects. He referred to the crippling of the pocketbook of the dairyman instead of his body, though. Many dairymen are being crippled financially by keeping scrub bulls.

Those Everlasting Chores!

They got me—I was eight years old—
They never have let go their hold
In rain or shine, in heat or cold—
The Chores.

They stood beside my morning bed,
In drowsiest hours of all, and said:
"Jump out of that, them calves ain't fed"—
The Chores!

They waited at the close of day
To steal an hour off my play,
Crying, "You, Jim; git down that hay!"
The Chores!

At picnic, fair, or "Biggest Show On Earth," a voice would whisper low:
"You've seven cows to milk, you know!"
The Chores!

I held Sue's slim, brown hand in mine,
And hinted wedding bells must chime;
And heard, "It's them pigs' supper time!"
The Chores.

The Golden Streets I hope to view;
I know just what will happen, too—
Saint Peter will say: "Come in and do—
The Chores!"

WHEAT.

Cost systems in agriculture are getting on as scientific a basis as in manufacturing. The day's gone when the farmer kept his few records in a nail keg.

It's learned now, that about a third of the cost of producing wheat goes to man and horse labor. Fertilizer, binder twine and seed take ten per cent, threshing nine per cent. Interest on land and machinery investment absorbs 29 per cent. The balance goes for taxes, insurance, etc.

Profits have not yet been analyzed. Awaiting microscopes.

POULTRY NEED ATTENTION IN SUMMER WEEKS

Serious Mistake Made When Poultrymen Neglect Stock After Hatching Season—Next Year's Success Depends on Care.

MIX THE GRAIN.

By HARRY M. LAMON.

Many poultrymen, as soon as the hatching season is over, begin to neglect the breeding stock. This is a serious mistake. Much of your success the next year depends on the good condition in which the older birds are kept. Often the feed is reduced at this time as well as the variety curtailed. This is also a mistake. Any one feed alone will not keep the breeders in the best of condition. If they are made to forage for a part of their feed, be sure they have a full feed at night consisting of at least two grains, preferably corn and wheat or corns and oats. Corn, if fed alone, is too fattening, and overfat birds are not in good condition and are susceptible to disease.

It is just as important to feed regularly at this time of the year as ever if you wish to get a good egg production during the summer months, especially the forepart before the birds start to molt.

The health of the fowls requires plenty of water during the hot days of summer. Don't overlook cleaning the drinking vessels each day, inside and out, and scald with boiling water once a week.

If, during the breeding season, the birds have been yarded, it is best to let them out on free range until next breeding season.

Oyster shells and grit are as necessary now as ever. One pound of oyster shells will furnish enough lime for the shells of about eight dozen eggs. In some sections of the country where limestone is present, the grit obtained by the fowls on range is not sufficiently hard to meet their needs and commercial grit must be supplied. Grit composed of quartz or granite is the best Oyster shell should not be used as a substitute for grit as it is not hard enough.

A constant supply of charcoal in granulated form should be available to the fowls.

Birds on range find enough green feed for their needs until the ground becomes frozen.

As a rule one need not furnish beef scrap or other animal feed in the spring or early summer as the birds can generally secure a sufficient supply of bugs and worms. Late in summer and in fall it is advisable to furnish something in the way of meat feeds. If you have plenty of milk give them all they will drink as it will take the place of beef scrap.

If some of the heavier breeds are kept such as Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Rhode Islands, some provision should be made to break up the hens that become broody. Broody hens rarely if ever lay, and therefore hens that are being fed for egg production should be broken up as soon as possible. Broody hens should be removed immediately from the laying house and placed in a coop consisting of a slatted bottom, the coop raised off the ground from six inches to a foot so as to allow the air to circulate freely underneath.

Care should be given to rid the poultry houses of mites as they breed freely during warm weather. They will be found in and around the nests, under the dropping boards and on the roosts. An application once a week of kerosine oil or crude petroleum sprayed thoroughly throughout the house will rid it of these pests. Body lice also must be kept down by a good dusting of sodium floride. This should be repeated in three weeks so as to kill the lice that have hatched from eggs that were on the fowls. Another method of killing body lice is to grease around the vent with some good lice ointment.

Remove the male birds from the flock after the hatching season is over so as to produce infertile eggs.

Bailieboro Beef Ring Strong Again in 1924

BAILIEBORO, June 4.—The members of the Cavan and South Monaghan beef ring held a meeting in the Council Chamber at Centreville.

There was a large number of the shareholders present, and the president, Fred Wood, occupied the chair. It was decided that the ring should open on Friday, June 6, Cleveland Byers being the first to put in a beef.

The average weight of the beef is to be about four hundred pounds when dressed, and the amount of money to be paid or to pay for all the animals weighing over this amount, or animals weighing under this weight is thirteen cents a pound.

Several of the old members have dropped out of the ring this year and new members have taken their places and a twenty-share ring will be held again this summer.

This is the third season for the beef ring to be in operation, and so far there has been perfect satisfaction. Harry Dawson is again acting as butcher.

Outlook Gloomy for Strawberries

CAMPBELLFORD, June 4.—James Alexander, who has a large market garden on Garry Street, says that the outlook for the strawberry crops is gloomy as the frost has killed all the early blossoms. All depends now on the late blossoming. Mr. Alexander gathered his first box of strawberries on June 19th last year, but says that there is little hope of any berries being placed on the local market for at least a month.

Imported strawberries are now offered for sale here at 35 cents per quart box.

MILLBROOK PEOPLE ARE MAKING BIG SHIPMENTS AT LOCAL STOCK YARDS

A Better Day Ahead With Better Living For Steady Farmers

ARE farm people as happy today as our parents and grandparents were with more primitive tools and conveniences? Well, we ought to be, anyway; and for the most part I think we are. We are living on a higher scale, and this method of living costs money.

But farming should give more money than it does. When you think how many are the long hours that farm people work each day it is a fair question to ask: Who has a greater right to comforts and conveniences than the people of the farm? I know of none.

Farmers have been hard hit by inflation and deflation, by overproduction (since food cannot be shipped to millions of people who would like to have it), by high taxes—all following the war. But there is a better day coming. The sky is clearing; and when readjustment finally follows it seems certain that what is considered right for others will not be dented to those who raise the food and make it possible for all other classes to live and prosper.

There are many wise people who think the best period in agriculture is the period just ahead. It looks that way to me. Whether it comes in two years or ten years, I intend to hold on to my farm.—C. W. B.

Proposed Absence of the U. F. O. Shipper and the Shortage of Feed Combine to Produce Long Line.

COLD LINGERS.

MILLBROOK, June 4.—An unusually large consignment of cattle and hogs was brought into the village on Monday for shipment to Toronto. Several times the remark was heard that the "waiting line" at the weigh scales in the stock yards at the station was the longest seen here in years.

Those who brought in stock were:—South Monaghan—W. Seabrooke, L. Finney, W. C. Dawson, W. McAllister, William Finney, George Finney, K. Moncrief, Robert Deyell; Cavan—R. J. McKnight, L. W. Fallis, Jos. Lancashire, I. M. Nattrass, Stewart Hall, J. Might, W. Bristow, Harold Hubbeard, R. Wood, O. Ciomie, Ernie Armstrong, S. Pritchard, S. Fallis W. H. Wood, John Lunn, Walter Lane, W. S. Kennedy, A. Coyte, G. Bonnar, W. Elson, T. Madill, William McKnight, M. Fallis, W. Rowan, Archie Johnston; W. Spratt, Manvers Station.

Mr. T. J. Lang, who is the U.F.O. shipper for this district, is leaving for the West on Tuesday, June 3, expecting to be absent six weeks. Mr. Lang will visit his brother at Basswood, Man., and will also call on friends at Souris, Estevan, and other points. It was probably on account of Mr. Lang's intended absence that such a large consignment of stock was brought in on Monday; the shortage of feed being another possible reason.

Mr. T. Madill shipped a carload of hogs from Frazerville on Monday. Lang and Madill work in partnership in the shipping business, three carloads making up the total shipment to the Union Stock Yards, Toronto, this week.

Mr. George Bonnar, of Cavan is accompanying Mr. Lang on his trip to the West.

Many, both in village and country, have been noticed planting potatoes during the past week. W. D. Albright, superintendent of one of the experimental farms, states that after extended experiments it has been found that a larger crop results from potatoes planted with the cellar sprouts left on them than when these are broken off.

Three classes of tubers were tested—those kept in a cool dark cellar and allowed to sprout, those kept in a fairly warm cellar and sprouted, and those with green sprouts, the result of being placed in a lighted room upstairs.

The last-named gave the highest yield, and those first mentioned the poorest. The "moral" apparently is that a decided advantage would accrue from bringing seed potatoes from the cellar some time before planting and placing them in shallow containers in a fairly warm, bright room until the green sprouts form.

R. A. Cardwell, of Wallace's Point, has finished seeding on his 300-acre farm, the nature of the land making it possible to do the work fairly early this season. Some farmers in Otonabee are still unable to work their ground owing to its low situation.

M. McDowell has now about 1,600 White Leghorn chicks at his commercial poultry farm just outside the corporation limits. A third brooder house has been built to house the additional young fowl.

Another season, Mr. McDowell intends installing an incubator with a larger capacity than the two he has in use, which hold 250 eggs each.

Lingering cold weather keeps the spring still late, the farmers getting in their crops between showers as they have had to do all spring. Growth is very slow, neither wheat nor spring grains making any appreciable progress.

Those who have their gardens planted make the same complaint that growth is practically at a standstill, although those who have hot beds have been enjoying early lettuce, and occasionally radishes have been ready for use, only the size being disappointing.

Getting in crops this spring has been a slow job, but most people have done wonderfully well. W. Elson, 7th Line, Cavan; Kennedy Bros., south of the village; R. Lunn's, Carmel, are a few of those who have practically finished this part of the spring work. Some have planted part of their root crop and are intending to prepare ground for corn, though it would not be wise to get it all ready before planting, as a sudden shower might make it necessary to do the work all over again.

MANITOBA GETS MILLION BEES

Forty Million Shipped In From South to Add to Wealth of Province.

WINNIPEG, June 4.—A cheering item to all those eastern and western people who are financially interested in the future of Manitoba in a large way, is that which relates to the importation last week of the largest consignment of bees ever sent into Western Canada from the south—40,000,000 of them, intended for wide distribution throughout the province, to a large number of small buyers who had sent in their money to a local dealer.

Experts state that bees can be shipped here from the far south, where the season is so much earlier, and can be laid down at a price which beats local wintering costs alone.

The output of honey has been increased in a remarkable manner in the past few years. There was a gain in 1923 of fifty per cent. over 1922. That is, the output was 2,000,000 pounds in 1922, and 3,000,000 in 1923. The increase this year will be more than a million pounds.

In earlier years it was hoped that at some time people might be willing to use Manitoba honey and it was difficult to sell it in competition with eastern honey. Now Manitoba honey is preferred to all others, by Manitoba people, and in time to come honey will be largely exported. The length of the summer day in the province helps the situation materially.

The chief value of the bee is in the effect which the presence of the hives have on the general farm life situation, tending to produce the atmosphere of a true home, so necessary in the open prairie country.

Cobourg Escaped Frosts Without Serious Damage

COBOURG, June 4.—Although there were severe frosts here for several nights in succession, at the latter part of the week, it is not thought that much damage has been done to the fruit buds. Strawberries are fast coming into blossom now, and were scarcely far enough along to be seriously hurt. The same may be said of the fruit buds on trees. A few had their tomato plants cut off, but most of the farmers and gardeners had not set out many yet. Now, however, the plants are being generally set out by farmers who have contracts with the canning factories.

Bethany Farms Helped By a Few Days' Warmth

BETHANY, June 4.—The warm days of last week were a great help to the farmers. Spring grain and grass came along wonderfully well, and some fields which were previously too wet for sowing operations are now being seeded.

Potatoes are practically all planted and the root crop is going in.

The gardens in the village are all being planted with a rare exception. With nice warm weather continuing, everything will be in normal condition in a few weeks, with the possible exception of hay, which is apparently going to be short.

LOCAL CROP REPORTS

Richard Nurse, of Ennismore, reports that the crops in that district are very good but the cold weather has kept them back, and in the last few weeks they have grown very little. He also states that some of the farmers are having plenty of trouble with their tractors as the ground is too soft and the tractors get stuck very easily.

Mr. B. Morphet, of North Monaghan, states that feed is rather scarce in some parts of that district, and that help is rather plentiful with very few farmers short of help. He states that the crop prospect is very good, and that most of the farmers expect to have a good crop this season.

William Crow, of Cavan Township, is not very pleased with the crop outlook, and states that the crops at present are not much to brag about and that the prospects are very very poor. He said that the ground has dried up very fast, and that the crops will be very poor this year if they don't soon get some warmer weather and showers. The land in this district is as dry at present as it was wet two weeks ago, and this will not help the crop any.

SATURDAY'S FIELD DAY PROMISES TO BE BANNER EVENT OF SEASON

High-Class Programme Provided For The Occasion—Something For Everybody.

C.G.E. VS. COBOURG

Rangers' Band Will Lead Parade And Provide Music At Grounds.

There was a meeting last night of the Committee in charge of the Field Day to be held at the Exhibition Grounds next Saturday afternoon, when those in charge of the different items on the programme reported.

By permission of Lieut. Col. F. L. Bradburn, the 57th Regiment Band will lead the parade of decorattend bicycles and tri-cycles which will leave Central Park at 1.45 p.m. It has been decided to allow all riding a decorated bicycle or tricycle in the parade to enter the grounds free of charge.

Commencing at 2 o'clock at the Exihibition Grounds the cycle and foot races will be run off.

From 3 to 4 o'clock there will be four events taking place at the same time.

On the large diamond in front of the grand stand the Kiwanians and Rotarians will meet in a baseball game. The Rotarians have their team selected but the Kiwanians have not announced their line-up yet.

On the Bantam diamond the C.G.E. and Thistles Girls teams will play a league game of softball. These are two of the best teams in the local league.

Campbellford and Nomads have been secured to play their Charity Cup Football game as part of the programme and this game will be called at 3 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock C.G.E. baseball team will be at home to Dye Works team of Cobourg in a Midland League game. This will be the first appearance at home of the C.G.E. team this season.

There has been a splendid response to the advance ticket sale and everything points to a great crowd on Saturday.

It is well recognized that more playing grounds are needed in Peterborough if the young players are to get a chance and Exhibition Park seems to be the solution. The Bantams and Midgets can carry out their schedule there without conflicting with teams in any other series as they have their own diamond. And the Juveniles will be well taken care of on the large diamond in front of the grand stand sharing it with the Intermediates. As there are only two teams in the Junior series they will likely be able to finish their schedule at Riverside Park.

There is also a pitch for football and another corner available for cricket.

An arrangement has been made with the Exhibition Board whereby the Sports Committee will endeavour to get the grounds in shape and maintain a caretaker. The players who have been working out there are delighted with the accomodation provided and it promises to be one of the busiiest spots in the City this year.

C.G.E. MEET QUAKERS TOMORROW EVENING

Should Provide Interesting Mercantile League Game For The Fans.

Tomorrow evening at Riverside Park the C.G.E. and Quakers will meet in a Mercantile game, which will get away at 6.15.

Both teams have lost a game and each are looking forward to getting in the win column. The Quakers have a good team and they have been practicing hard the last few days. Turner will likely do the heaving for the porridge makers. The C.G.E. will send a much improved team on the field than the one that face the Lockworks. Scotty McPherson is expected to do the mound work for the Generals.

There have been good crowds attending the Mercantile game and they have been dished up some snappy ball. There is no admission charge at the Mercantile games, but the hat is passed.

HOFFMAN STAYS IN CELL.

Convicted Slayer to Remain Locked up for Ten Days.

OSSINING, N.Y., June 4. — Harry L. Hoffman, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Maude Bauer on Staten Island, and sentenced to Sing Sing prison for twenty years, spent all to-day locked in his cell, with the exception of the meal periods.

Hoffman will stay in his cell for 10 days, according to the rule for new arrivals. The attendants at the prison said that he asked no favors and made no complaints.

Hoffman was not allowed to read newspapers or receive mail. The reading privilege will be withheld until he graduates from the reception squad.

ENGLISH DERBY DECIDED TO-DAY

Nearly Thirty Three-Year-Olds Compose Field For World's Greatest Race.

MILLIONS OF BETTORS.

LONDON, June 4 (Canadian Press). — One topic is on almost every tongue in England to-day—the Derby. At three o'clock this afternoon this greatest of all horse races will be run by a field of about thirty 3-year-olds over the renowned mile and a half course at Epsom Downs, with perhaps a million people looking on.

Uncounted other tens of millions gathered over all the Empire, and indeed, the world, will await the news of the winner with interest, for every one of the British breed who bets at all, bets on the Derby, no matter where he may be.

The biggest pot of all the many that are won on the Derby is piled up, not in the pounds sterling of London, but in the rupees of India—the Calcutta Sweepstakes.

In London there is the Stock Exchange Sweepstakes, with 50,000 pounds sterling in it for the one who holds the name of the winning horse, and everywhere throughout the country, in every club, almost in every office—even among little children who have only pennies to place—there is money to be won on the outcome of the great classic.

Most of the great stables of the Kingdom will send their best three-year-olds to the starting post. The Earl of Derby, whose sporting ancestor gave the race its beginning and its name in 1780, has entered Sansovino, which ranks third in the betting at 10 to 1.

King George, who has yet to have his name enrolled with his father's as a winner of the Derby, will be represented by Resinato, considered an outsider. The King's first string colt, Knight of the Garter, has been withdrawn, as he had gone lame.

Next to a royal victory, the country as a whole would be pleased most by the triumph of the colours of the House of Derby, for two centuries illustrious in the sports of old England. But their colts are not favoured to win.

The favourite is Diophon, by Grand Parade, out of Donnetta, carrying the colours of Aga Khan, with odds of 6 to 1.

Next in the list is Lord Woolavington's Tom Pinch at 10 to 1.

Lord Astor's two entries, Bright Knight and St. Germans, are at 100 to 9 and 100 to 7, respectively.

Ben Irish, who won the Derby with Papyrus last year, has entered Dawson City, son of Spearmint, the Derby winner of 1906.

Steve Donoghue, who has ridden five Derby winners, and is the only jockey to win three successively, will have the leg up on J. B. Joel's Defiance. There will be two American jockeys at the post, Archibald, who rides the King's entry, and O'Neill, on Sir Edward Huton's Spalpeen.

The going is almost sure to be slow and the course wet, from the daily rains of the past week, and heavy, and it is expected that the contest will make even greater demands than usual upon the stamina of the thoroughbreds.

DODGERS YIELD TWO TO GIANTS

New York Has Won Nine of Its Eleven Starts From Neighbors.

NEHF WENT ROUTE.

NEW YORK, June 3. — New York increased its season's successes over Brooklyn to nine victories in eleven games, by winning both sections of a double header to-day by scores of 9 to 2 and 3 to 2.

In the first game Nehf lasted 9 innings for the first time this season, while New York knocked Ruether out in the first frame. Splendid support saved Bentley in the second game, which Jackson won by hitting a home run with Kelly on base. Scores:

He held Boston to five hits and did not give a base on balls. But for a wild throw by Fowler, which allowed Stengel to score from second, Rixey would have had a shutout. Score:

LEAFS WIN AT KEENE BY 7-0

Juvenile Champs. Tack Another Shield To Merchants' Trophy.

A GOOD GAME

Maple Leafs added a second shield to the Merchants Cup at Keene yesterday afternoon by defeating the East Peterborough Leaguers by the score of 7 to 0.

The Leafs batted well and played errorless ball, retiring the side in order in six of the seven innings. Bradley worked five innings, allowing two singles, and Earl Donnelly finished the game when only six batters faced him.

The Keene team were unfortunate in letting loose several costly wild pegs, otherwise Manager McCarthy's Athletes performed well. A. Renwick at first had a double play unassisted. The scoring summary:

WESTERN CLOCK DEFEAT THE LOCKWORKS IN MERCANTILE GAME

Wolfe and Bradley Hit Hard—Hardill's Work Was The Feature.

SCORE WAS 10-9

Last Night's Win Puts Clock Makers On Top Of The Heap.

In a game that was featured by good and bad baseball the Western Clock defeated the Lockworks 10 to 9, at Riverside Park in the Mercantile League.

The game was a thrilling one with plenty of heavy hitting by both teams, the Western Clock getting eleven hits and the Lockworks six.

Bradley was on the rubber for Lockworks. He turned in a good game, considering the fact that he had just pitched a game in Keene two hours before. He was touched for eleven hits, four of them being triples and two of them doubles. He issued only one pass.

Wolfe who did the heaving for the Westclox was only touched for six hits, but he walked four men and hit three others.

There were some good fielding and hitting plays. "Hip" Hardill was the shining light for the Westclox. The big first baseman cracked out two triples, a double and a single in four trips to the plate. In the last innings, with a man on third and two out, Hardill saved the game for the Western Clock when he leaped high in the air to nail "Duke" Neary's hard hit with his gloved hand. It was one of the most sensational catches witnessed at Riverside in a long while. If Hardill had not stabbed that ball the Lockworks would have had the game tied and they might have won out in that frame. Prossers got a triple and a double and Wolfe got a triple for the Clockmakers.

First Inning.

Westclox—Barrie flied to right. Hensley flied to Black. Prosser was safe on Nichols' error and scored when Hardill doubled to right. Wolfe fanned. One run, one hit, one error.

Six runs, one hit, two errors.

Second Innings.

Third Innings.

Westclox—Barrie fanned. Hensley was safe on Bradley's high throw to frist. Prosser tripled to center scoring Hensley. Hardill singled to right scoring Prosser. Wolfe singled to center, Hardill stopping at third. Baptie fanned. Lundy singled to center scoring Hardill and Wolfe and taking second on the throw-in. DeGraw grounded out to Black. Four runs, four hits, one error.

Lockworks—Neary grounded out to Wolfe. Hunt fanned. Black flied to Hensley. No runs, hits or errors.

Fourth Innings.

Westclox—O'Brien fanned. Barrie missed three. Hensley whipped nothing but the cool breeze. No runs, hits or errors.

Jobbit beat out a hit to second, Thorndyke landing at the middle sack. Thorndyke scored when Prosser threw low to get him stealing. Nichols fanned. One run, three hits, one error.

Fifth Innings.

Westclox— Prosser doubled to left. Hardill tripled to right scoring Prosser. Wolfe sacrificed Hardill home the out being made by Nichols. Baptie safe on Nichols' error. Lundy hit to Thorndyke who tried to get Baptie and both runners were safe. DeGraw singled scoring Baptie. Lundy scored on Bradley's wild pitch, DeGraw going to third. O'Brien walked and stole second. Barrie fanned. Hensley flied to Holland, who made a good catch. Four runs, three hits, one error.

Lockworks—Bradley was safe on Barrie's error. Neary beat out hit to second. Neary and Bradley worked a double steal. Hunt flew out to Hardill and Bradley scored on Hardill's low throw to get him at the plate. Neary stole third and scored on Prosser's bad throw to nip him. Black grounded to Hardill. Holland hit to Hensley, whose throw to first was low and the batter pulled up at second. Connors was hit. Thorndyke grounded out to Barrie. Two runs, one hit, three errors.

Sixth Innings.

Westclox—Prosser flied to Hunt. Hardill tripled to left hit fourth hit. Wolfe tripled to right scoring Hardill. Baptie fanned. Lundy fanned. One runs, two hits, no errors.

Lockworks—Jobbit fanned. Nichols doubled to left. Bradley grounded out to Hensley, Nichols going to third. Neary drove a hot one down first which Hardill leaped high in the air to nab. It was a great catch and it saved the game for the Clockmakers. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PROHIBITION LAW HAD NEED OF BIG CLEAN-UP

PRINCETON, Kentucky, June 3.—(Canadian Press.)—Five of the chief law enforcement officers of Princeton and Caldwell counties are under arrest to-day as a result of a sweeping clean-up of alleged prohibition law violators.

City Judge Dorr, describing the conditions which led to the clean-up, said: "Last week it was possible to get a drink in most any church and it was nothing unusual to see a bootlegger teaching a Sunday school class."

BELLEVILLE IS SATURDAY CARD

Grand Trunks Have Never Played a Dud Game With Petes Here.

ONLY WILLIAMS ABSENT

Belleville, the Petes chief stumbling block in previous Central Ontario League campaigns and who two years in succession have won the pennant after a play-off series with Manager Solomon's aggregation make their first appearance of the present season at Riverside Park on Saturday.

The fans are looking forward to this clash as a sure fire success.

There never has been a "dud" game yet with the Belleville crew at Riverside Park and nearly every battle fought by the two teams there has been in doubt until the final out was registered.

The Trunks, still under the leadership of Walter Gerow, the quiet but capable pilot who has been at the helm in previous pennant hunts have few new faces.

All the oln guard except southpaw Johnny Williams are still in action and the only newcomers are Keon and Jeffrey, new pitchers and A. Weir, a young substitute outfielder.

They have been getting good pitching from John Oulette and the hitting of Weir and Billy Mills has been frequent and hard.

Weir had a spotty season last year but all reports indicate that he is going in hit old time form in the field while he has been a "hittin' fool" with the willow.

No matter what happens in Kingston or Belleville today the leadership will be at stake on Saturday for a Belleville win and a Peterboro loss today would enable the Petes to remain tied for the leadership by winning on Saturday while if the results were vice versa today the Trunks would have a chance to even up in the week-end game. Should both lose or both win today the winner Saturday would be close to the top.

It is a great old race with four well-balanced teams and every game a fight.

Ten days ago no one called Belleville to take two from Kingston or the Petes to stop Oshawa twice in a week.

Still that was the thing they did nothing else but do.

Frank Hallinan, one of the best umpires that ever donned a mask in the Central circuit will be behind the plate Saturday with Billy Benson on the bases.

It is unfortunate that this big game —one of the best fixtures of the season—should conflict with the Field Day at the Exhibition Grounds but the game was scheduled many weeks before the other event was decided upon.

A GOOD SOFTBALL GAME SATURDAY

One Of The Interesting Events At Exhibition Grounds.

THISTLES AND C.G.E.

The girls' softball game on Saturday afternoon next at the Exhibition Grounds between C.G.E. and Thistles should be one of the best of the season.

Neither team has had a loss so far in their scheduled games. They were to have met before but owing to the backward weather their meeting was postponed.

The winner of Saturday's game will likely take temporary lead of the league, neither team having been defeated so far this year.

C.G.E. defeated the Quakers 20 to 5, while the Thistles put the Quakers away 32 to 6. C.G.E. defeated Y.W.C.A. 13 to 7 and Thistles were able to put Y.W.C.A. out 18 to 4. And the "Y" has a good team. So figure it out for yourself.

Saturday's game will start at 3 o'clock sharp on the Bantam's Diamond at the Exhibition Grounds and will be part of the Sports Committee Field Day programme.

It is said that Quintin Romero-Rojas took a lot of punishment, but it is suspected the spectators took a lot more.

William J. Burns has left the White House, which was nice of him. Most of these political guys take everything.

COGNAWAGAS WON FROM LAKEFIELD

Cogs Showed Great Form and Walloped the Lakefield Twirlers for 12 Runs.

LAKEFIELD, June 4. — In the second game of the East Peterboro League last evening at Lakefield, the Cognawagas won from the Lakeside Crew in a five inning contest by 12 to 1. The Cogs played good ball, showing that they were in a far better condition than the Lakefield team.

Williams and Vannesse who tossed for the Cogs, played a good game. Williams, who pitched the first three innings, allowed 2 hits and struck out three while Vannesse allowed 2 hits and struck out 5. Neither pitcher walked any. Northey who pitched the first four innings for Lakefield allowed nine hits and struck out four while Manning in the last innings allowed two hits, struck out one and walked two.

Two Midland League Teams Meet Thursday

The two local teams in the Midland League meet for the first schedule game on Thursday, June 5th, at Exhibition Park, when C. G. E. are at home to Raybestos.

At present, C.N.R. of Cobourg, are leading the league, with Raybestos in second place and C.G.E. and Dyeworks sharing the cellar. As neither of the local teams can afford to lose another game in the first half there should be an exciting contest.

The Raybestos are hitting around .350 while the Electricians are covering all sorts of ground and playing errorless ball, so that any runs scored by either team will be well earned and it will be anyone's game till the last man is out.

The game will start sharp at 6.00 p.m.

LOCAL COLLEGIANS WON FROM COBOURG

Carl Woods Pitched Stirling Ball and Held His Opponents to Two Counters.

For the first time the local Rah-Rah boys demonstrated that Rugby, basketball and hockey are not the only sports in their athletic program, when yesterday afternoon, at Riverside Park, they defeated the husky aggregation from Cobourg to the tune of 4-2.

Considering that it was the first chance the local students have had working together, their victory was all the more creditable.

Carl Woods, the P. C. I. hurler, pitched shut-out ball for seven innings. In the eighth the Cobourg huskies managed to cross the plate twice, which was the only scoring they did, being blanked in the ninth after getting three men on with only one out.

Baker, forming the other end of the local battery, caught and hit well, getting two hits in four times up. J. Baird, at short, and W. McDonald in right field, also fielded well.

For the visitors, Butler, at short, who plays that position for the O.B.A.A., was the shining light.

The P.C.I. lined up as follows:

McDonald rf, Goodfellow 1b, Woods p, Cheu 3b, Baker c, Hall m, J. Baird ss, Doughty lf, A. Baird 2b, Young 3b, Ecobichon rf, Fleming lf.

DEMPSEY PUT THREE [illegible] TO DREAMLAND

Raised Thirty-five Thousand Dollars for the Milk Fund

LOS ANGELES, June 4. — Jack Dempsey, motion artist star, who holds the heavy weight boxing championship as a side line, knocked out three opponents for entertainment of a capacity crowd at Vernon Arena last night. Only one opponent came back for punishment in the second round.

Dempsey attired in lavender trunks laid out his men with ease, grace and precision, and incidentally raised thirty-five thousand dollars for a milk fund.

Rocco Stragmalia, an impulsive Italian, who yesterday was just aching for a crack at Dempsey, and who said that he had blackened the champion's eye in a training bout, was the first victim.

Dempsey assaulted him on all sides till he crawled for cover in the first round. In the second, Jack belabored him for time, humored him somewhat, then soaked right to his stomach—and morpheus reigned.

Next came Joe Ryan, a handsome, strapping heavy weight. Dempsey smote him with a handful of vigor, and he hit the canvas but the champion courteously lifted him to his feet, swung a heavy right and Ryan's star set.

Third and last, Eli Stanton ambled out to slaughter. He began dancing about the champion. Dempsey let him dance, then backed off, measured his opponent, and placed a smashing blow to his chin—and the curtains fell.

Baseball News

The Lindsay Post says: Lindsay baseball fans have to go out of town these days to see real fast baseball of the senior calibre, all of which is to be regretted and does not reflect favorably on the progressiveness of the fans of Lindsay, or the players. Last Wednesday a large number of fans romped over to Oshawa and on Saturday last they went to Peterboro.

There are many familiar faces about the old ball diamond. The Petes have practically the same team, the new man being a young lad called Hall in centre field, a product of the City League. He is fast on his feet and made two shoestring catches at crucial points of the game. With Legon in left field and the pick of Shaughnessy and Wolfe for right field, the Petes have a classy outfield. Legon is probably the pick of the outfield tribes in the C.O.B.L. He was on his toes all the time in Saturday's clash, pulling of two fine catches and cracked out three hits, one a long slashing two bagger in the fourth innings.

BOY KILLERS' PARENTS RICH AND PROMINENT

CHICAGO, June 4.—Behind the two stripling youths, Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessedly the perpetrators of one of the most amazing homicides in the history of American criminology, can be traced a line of progenitors whose names and works are interwelded with Chicago's industrial and commercial growth.

Since the early '40's the Leopold name has been honored and distinguished in Middle Western business circles by the men and women who have borne it.

And it was only a few years later 1848, that Moritz Loeb came from lower Germany to lay the foundation of the present Loeb millions and to build the reputation for personal honor and business integrity which had not been so much as touched by scandal until this latest incomprehensible act of a boy who "murdered for a thrill."

Samuel Leopold came to the frontier in Michigan with his wife about 1840. On July 2, 1860, Nathan F., father of the boy who faces the gallows, was born on the original homestead.

Steamship President

In 1867 the Leopold family moved to Chicago. The boy was educated in the public schools. Early he showed his aptitude and grasp of business.

He was a figure in lake shipping in 1876, being a member of the firm of Leopold & Austrian. Two years after his marriage to Florence Foreman, in 1892, he was president of the Manitou Steamship Company.

The sisters of Nathan Leopold Sr., married well. One is Mrs. Sam Steele. The Steele family long has been prominent in Chicago's merchant history. Another sister married P. D. Block, and another Harry Greenebaum, whose forefathers started one of the first banks here. The last sister is Mrs. Leo Strauss, whose husband is Judge Henry Horner's uncle.

A son of the Leo Strauss's married a daughter of L. Block president of the Inland Steel Company.

Mother Dead Two Years

Young Leopold's mother, dead two years, was a daughter of one of the best known of the city's bankers, Gerhart Foreman. Mrs. Julius Rosenberg, Mrs. Arthur Schwab and Mrs. Henry Steele are sisters of the late Mrs. Leopold, and, therefore, maternal aunts of the young Nathan and Oscar G. Foreman is the boy's uncle by marriage.

For generations back, young Richard Loeb's forefathers have been noted, not alone for their business prominence, but as well for their many philanthropies and charities. The first Loebs likewise came here from Germany. They were far above the average immigrant in culture and background. Moritz and Johanna Loeb started an unpretentious shoe store here in 1848. He prospered through frugality and business acumen.

Sheriff's Attorney

Albert, father of young Richard was born in 1868, educated in the Chicago public schools and later became associated with Julius Rosenwald, with whom his rise was rapid. Another son, young Loeb's uncle, Jacob M., was long a member of the Board of Education, and in 1916-1919 was its president.

Albert Loeb having receiving an A. B. degree from Johns Hopkins in the early 70's, taught in the night school here while studying law. He began active practice immediately upon entrance to the Illinois bar in 1889 as senior partner of the firm of Loeb & Adler.

In 1901 the firm was dissolved when then Sheriff Magerstadt appointed Mr. Loeb his attorney.

Through this connection he met Julius Rosenwald, Magerstadt's brother-in-law, and he stepped from his law practice to the position of secretary to the great Sears-Roebuck concern, of which he became vice-president in 1908.

In this office, which he still holds, Mr. Loeb's private fortune is said to have increased to around $10,000,000 Mrs. Albert Loeb, who before her marriage in 1894 was Anna Bohnen, is a prominent leader in society and welfare work as a member of that committee of the Chicago Woman's Club.

FASCISM SEEKING TO WIN GERMANY

Hitlerite Uniforms Show In Streets Of German Capital.

STIR NORTHERNERS

BERLIN, June 4 (United Press). —German Fascism is planning to push over farther northward from its birthplace, Bavaria, until it conquers Saxony and Prussia.

It made considerable progress in this direction with "Deutscher Tag" demonstrations in Halle, the once "red heart of Germany." Having succeeded in bluffing the government into permitting the demonstration, while forbidding labor's counter shows, and having seen how well it "got away with it," fascism now intends to visit Germany with more of its public exhibitions.

Incidentally it should be pointed out that German fascism is a vastly different thing than the Italian variety and quite another proposition than the so-called fascisti movement in the United States. The German brand is largely rowdyism, largely the outpouring of a swelled-headed mistaken and misled idea that Germany was not defeated in the war, and that it is again about ripe for a "kaiser" empire and a new war.

It has been called "playing at soldiers." There is much in this idea.

In the event, the youngsters engaged in giving Germany either a new place in the sun, or what is more likely, a new war, intend to convert the more phlegmatic northern states.

In Halle, the Fascisti vowed there should again come a "mighty Kaiser Reich." They swore not to rest until this had been accomplished. They found that their ideas had made good gain in the province Saxony (not to be confused with the free state of Saxony) where only three years ago, communism was rife.

The writer saw Communism snuffed out in mid-Germany at the hands of a thoroughgoing police force in 1921. At that time, it would have been suicidal to hang out the black and white flag of monarchy in the streets of Halle; it would have been the height of folly to stage such a parade of be-helmeted generals, colonels, and boy scout-soldiers.

But just a little over three years later, the Fascisti staged their "Deutscher Tag" in Halle. Not a single Republican banner was shown, nor was the red flag of Communism in evidence.

Some of the display of monarchist flags was probably out of fear. But the enthusiasm was high, and the proof that Halle is no more "the red heart of Germany" was clear.

Halleites explain that as a natural development of the times. The industrial situation is better. There is no sliding mark; there is stable currency—and work. The German is accustomed to the Kaiser idea, doesn't mind taking orders and seems to enjoy "Verbote."

Hence, he is slumping back to his old ideas now that hunger and financial decay no longer haunt him and drive him into the arms of radicalism.

It is true that the communists made a little skirmish in Halle's outskirts. But that there were a handful of dead and wounded was more accidental than intentional. The reds showed no real pep. They had not organized for a real counter demonstration.

And, Halle did not know until the late evening hours of that memorable Sunday that there had been a skirmish between the reds and the police. Moreover, one familliar with German police methods is safe in assuming that there was a little more force used than the situation actually required. In other words, the police wanted to teach the reds a lesson and put them "in their places." This explained, too, their locking up 1,000 communists in a popular park-hall in a suburb from noontime to one o'clock the following morning, on the flimsy pretext that this was necessary to prevent further clashes.

The fascisti had things their own way in the "red heart of Germany" that day in reality.

And this caused them to push their plans for turning Prussia and Saxony into fascisti camps.

They are making some ground. Hitlerite uniforms now show in the streets of Berlin. This never happened until this year.

Noisy fascisti pursue their propaganda in certain restaurants; now and again they hold meetings intended to stir up another otherwise unenthusiastic northern folk

RABBI WISE ASKS: WHY DIVORCES?

Why Don't Young Women Sell Themselves Outright, He Inquires In Sermon.

PEOPLE DO NOT REALIZE

NEW YORK, June 4.— "Why get a divorce from your husband? Why don't you sell yourself to him for a stipulated price?"

Those questions were asked the young womanhood of the land yesterday by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise in his sermon, entitled "Marriage Partnerships, New and Old."

He asserted that marriage fails chiefly among human failures. Then he added:

"I don't mean to say marriage always fails because men and women themselves are failures; but in my life contact with thousands of men and women it is usually but not always due to human failures.

"Many young persons nowadays are unfitted for partnerships of marriage. It is because the parental discipline—which seems to be a figment of ancient civilization is lacking, and the young people come from homes where they are both morally and spiritually unprepared to be wedded.

"They do not realize the sanctity of marriage or know that it is a lasting, abiding, human relationship.

"Some people say there has been a great change in the marriage relation. That is easy to say. But marriage is a part of life and apart from life, and many of present day marriages fail because there has been a lack of preparedness."

AT THE ROYAL

TERRIFIC FIST FIGHT IN "THE HUNTRESS"

A fist fight, realistic and intense, that will cause the audience to grasp their seas while watching with breathless anxiety its outcome, is one of the thrilling high lights of "The Huntress," a First National picture which comes to the Royal theatre Thursday, and which serves to introduce Colleen Moore as a First National star.

The fight is between an ex-pugilist and a bashful city boy, and takes place in a crowded restaurant. Tables and chairs fly about the room. The patrons scatter as the two carracters roll about the floor, each endeavoring to master the other.

There have been several famous screen fights. Perhaps the two best remembered were in "The Spoilers" and in "Tol'able David." But the fight in "The Huntress," which forms the climax of one of the best pictures of its kind to ever be screened, tops them all.

The fight is between Lloyd Hughes, who plays the leading male role in this picture opposite Colleen Moore, and Walter Long, famous screen character man, who plays the principal heavy part.

The all-star cast of "The Huntress" includes also Russell Simpson, Wilfred North, Snitz Edwards and Charles E. Anderson.

AT THE CAPITOL

REGINALD DENNY STAGED A WRECK WITHOUT CAMERA

A "Real" One That Scared The "Sporting Youth" Producers

With his racing car piled in a ditch and every indication that a terrific accident had occurred, Reginald Denny furnished members of his troupe a scare during the filming of "Sporting Youth," his latest Universal starring feature which has its first local showing to-morrow at the Capitol Theatre, that equalled any thrill scene in the picture.

Denny and his mechanic, Earl Miller, were driving from Monterey to San Luis Obispo in Reg's racing car, which was being used in the big road race for the picture, when a collision occurred with a truck, resulting in the wrecking of the racer and knocking a little blue paint off the truck.

Both Denny and Miller were injured, although Denny's injuries were slight. It was necessary to take Miller to a hopsital at Salina, a little town several miles away.

Others in the Denny company, on their way to San Luis Abispo from Monterey, saw the wrecked car, could find no trace of the drivers, and drove furiously to San Luis Obispo from Monterey, more than one hundred miles away.

All day they waited for word from Denny and none came. Production was held up, and Mrs. Denny and her ten-year-old daughter, who had ridden in a car with Harry Pollard, the director, were nearly frantic. Finally, about eight o'clock in the evening, Denny appeared in San Luis Obispo, driving the lately wrecked speedster.

"I'd have been here earlier, but couldn't get the car fixed until a couple of hours ago. All ready to shoot to-morrow," said Reg.

The picture deals with an ambitious young athlete who is working as a chauffeur for an eastern millionaire. Sent ahead to California on one occasion, he arrives in time to participate in the great San Luis Obispo race, made possible because he is mistaken for a famous English driver with a similar name.

Laura La Plante, the recent star created by Universal, a winsome young feminine athlete, plays opposite to Denny. She demonstrates riding ability of the modern "sporting youth" calibre.

CRESCENTS WIN FROM ROTARY

Masterson Pitches Sterling Ball Against Rotary Midgets.

WON OPENER 4 TO 0

At the opening game of the Midget City League series last evening at the Exhibition Grounds the schedule was opened with Mayor Turner giving a short talk to the boys and also a few minutes later by connecting the old apple square on the nose. Jack Sullivan, president of the City League did the mound work while Reid Wren did the receiving. The formal ceremonies were very brief and in a few minutes the boys were at it like big leaguers. The game was fast throughout but the Crescents had a little better of the play afer the second innings when they counted, one in the third and two in the fifth. Rotary fought hard to the last man but had to be satisfied with a 3 to 0 beating when the game was over. Both Masterson for the Crescents and Guiry for the Rotarians turned in a good pitching battle, the former having 11 strikeouts while Guiry made ten of the opposing nine watch the last one shoot across with smoke flying to the four winds. Guiry was touched for four hits and his team mates had one error. Austin playing center field for the Crescents was successful in coming through with two hits out of three trips to the plate, while Maserson got the long hit of het game when he walloped out a two bagger. Vick Grady at third for the Crescents was the all round fielding star of the game. He accepted four chances without a slip and sailed the ball across the diamond as straight and as neat as anybody woud wish to see. Graham in the centre garden for the Rotarians turned in a nice fielding game and netted his team's only hit. Walter Creary at first base for the Rotary also played a nice game and pulled down several ones that were ticketed for the fence.

The teams lined up as follows:

Rotary—McDougal, 2b; Archambault, 3b; Lebarr, ss; Goodfellow, lf; Creary, 1b; Graham, cf; Koster, lf; French, c; Guiry, p.

Crescents—Austin, cf; Rishea, 2b; Starr, ss; Kennealey, c; Grant, 1b; Grady, 3b; Masterson, p; Jones, lf; Barrie, rf.

Four sets of twins were born recently on a Canadian liner's return voyage from Liverpool.

Spring Swallows Bring Replies From The South

SOFIA, June 4. — Two swallows of this spring have brought replies to messages they carried when they flitted for warmer climes last autumn.

Ivan Stefanoff, a school teacher of a nearby village, wrote a message in French, reading: "Greetings from wronged and unhappy Bulgaria," and fastened it under the wings of a swallow that nested in the eves of his house. When the birds returned recently he noticed that one had a wrapping on its leg and capturing it he found the following written in English: "Good times will come for us, the wronged and ill-treated of the city of Melani, India. Feb. 18th."

Another experimenter received a more romantic reply to a message similarly dispatched. He is an official in Haskovo and his swallow brought him from Medina, Arabia: "We beautiful daughters of Mohammed sigh for endearing words and caresses. Ghul Fatme, wife of Hassan bey."

SAY AFRICAN ELEPHANTS ARE HARD TO TRAIN.

NEW YORK, June 4. — In India the elephant loving natives have for centuries been catching wild elephants, breaking them in and working them as regularly as horses and oxen. It is different with the African elephant, but a very few of them have been domesticated. However, officers of the Belgian government, working far in the interior of the Congo territory for the past twenty years, have conclusively proved that the African elephant can be successfully caught and trained to service, along lines very much the same as those pursued with the Indian species Unfortunately, however the African blacks have not the slightest foundation of tame-elephant tradition and inherited elephant knowledge on which to build, and the Belgian officers found Upper Congo negroes as difficult to tame and train as the wild elephants of the jungle.

WEDDING BELLS

PALIN—SANDERSON.

A very pretty wedding took place at a quarter past eleven o'clock this morning, at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, when Alice Mae, only daughter of Mrs. Sanderson, 529 Reid Street, and the late Francis Sanderson, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Eric L. Palin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Palin, of St. Catharines. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jas. W. Gordon, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, in the absence of Rev. Mr. Pogue. The wedding march was played by Mr. M. B. Chenhall.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her cousin, Mr. G. D. Hazlett, of Oshawa, was becomingly gowned in champagne-colored canton crepe, with brown fox fur and black lace picture hat. Her wrap was of navy Poiret twill and she carried a bouquet of Onhelia roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Ferguson, of Elora, wore blue georgette, with black mohair hat, and carried Columbia roses. Mr. J. A. McKenzie, of St. Catharines, acted as best man.

During the signing of the register, Miss Ethel Kennedy, wearing blue taffeta and hat of cream straw, sang "I Love Thee."

Mr. and Mrs. Palin left on the noon train for Toronto. After the honeymoon, they will reside in St. Catharines. A buffet luncheon was served later to about twenty guests at the home of the bride's mother, on Reid Street.

Canadian Stock Exchange and Mines | New York Stock Exchange and Curb Prices

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS AND OPINION AND REVIEWS OF THE MARKETS.

MINING MARKET.

The strength in the mining market which was evident on Monday, was continued this morning in greater volume. We consider that the movement is only beginning, and look for great activity in the better issues. Most of the trading was done in Beaver which advanced to 19. Hattie sold up to 7 3-4; Keeley sold up to 238, and Wettlaufer 28. West Tree sold up to 7½; Vipond 110; while Bidgood Consolidated went at 9.

The Toronto market was dull; the papers were fractionally weaker on the revived report of a cut in newsprint. Bell Telephone sold up again at 129.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York showed some of its old time vigor this morning; practically the whole list was up, and later the greatest interest centred in the rails. The oils were inclined to weaken at noon on the report of a cut in the price of gasoline. There is still considerable uncertainty over the outcome of the coming conventions, and the market will continue to mark time until the political situation is somewhat cleared up.

LIQUIDATOR GAVE EVIDENCE IN CASE

OTTAWA, June 4. Canadian Press—Geoffrey T. Clarkson, liquidator of the Home Bank, appeared before the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House of Commons this morning and gave evidence in regard to the withdrawal of $4050 from Ottawa branch of the Home Bank by Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, two days before its failure.

Evidence of Mr. Clarkson consisted largely of a review of the correspondence which passed between him and Mr. Murdock, resulting in the return of the money.

An effort by E. Gus Porter, Conservative member for West Hastings, who made charges in House of Commons, to examine witness in regard to a meeting of the directors of the bank, which took place on August 15, 1923, was ruled out by Chairman Archambault.

CHURCH UNION FOR ASSEMBLY

Subject Will Be Discussed Pro and Con

OWEN SOUND, June 4.—(Canadian Press.)— Committee of the Presbyterian church dealing with church union was in session at Knox church this morning and continued this afternoon.

The committee is of the opinion that despite what has happened at Ottawa, Parliament will, at this session, pass a bill which will be quite satisfactory to members of church who favor union. Belief is entertained that the committee of Parliament may this week to some extent reverse the attitude formerly taken and make a report on proposed legislation which is favorable to union. If Private Bills committee finally brings in a majority report unfavorable to union, minority of committee will bring in minority report which is already fully prepared and will, if possible, commit every member of House to hilt on this issue.

It will then be the plan to introduce the same bill in the next session of the House and Ottawa and commit every member of the House again in most complete and thorough way possible. That session of Parliament will be followed quickly by an election and the subject will then be fought out in various ridings.

It is stated by committee on business that church union will not be brought officially before the Assembly until Friday afternoon.

Considerable element of Assembly opposed to union have secured accommodation at the curling rink and meetings were held there this morning and afternoon. It is computed that there will be at least one hundred commissioners in the Assembly opposed to union. Entire membership is 500.

GERMAN NATION'S LAST CHANCE OF SALVATION MARX SOLEMNLY WARNS

Her Desire For Freedom Must Be Evinced to the World and the World Must Prove Its Readiness For An Honorable Understanding, Declares the Chancellor—Sacrifices Demanded of the People to Fulfil the Terms of the Experts' Report.

ECONOMIC UNITY ESSENTIAL.

BERLIN, June 5 (Canadian Press). — Frankly designating the Dawes report as the pivotal point in Germany's foreign relations and reiterating the Ministry's adherence to its previous acceptance of the experts' recommedations as a basis for the approachinng reparations negotiations, Chancellor Marx's statement in the Reichstag yesterday on the occasion of his reappearance at the head of the second Cabinet bearing his name, was occupied entirely with references to the nation's foreign relations as affected by the Dawes report.

The Chancellor avoided any specific mention of measures for the relief of the internal situation, declaring that with the provisions of the Dawes report once approaching execution, the home situation would obviously react to the general movement toward economic rehabilitation. National discipline and unity were indispensable for the achievement of Germany's recovery, the Chancellor observed in his appeal to the Reichstag for its approval of such measures as were required to carry out the experts' programme.

Received as a Whole.

Germany was prepared to receive the report as an unalterable and indivisible whole, and, added Dr. Marx, the opposing parties to the pact would be expected to assume the same attitude, especially with respect to the adoption of all measures necessary to place Germany in a position to fulfill her obligations.

The Government's statement met with only a few dissenting voices, and it will be debated by the Reichstag parties to-day.

Collapse Threatened.

In explaining the Government's policy to the Reichstag the Chancellor asserted that Germany's economic life was in a miserable, if not a desperate, condition, threatening a complete breakdown, unless some relaxation of the monetary stringency could be attained. The Government saw in the experts' report a way out of the crisis since in its note of 17th April it had assured the Reparation Commission of its readiness to collaborate in the experts' plans. In accordance with this note, said the Chancellor, the present Government will continue its programme for carrying out the work.

When the committee's working "reports had arrived at an agreement," Dr. Marx continued, the German Government would submit necessary bills and do everything to make the report a reality, and the Government hope dfor the Reichstag's co-operation. Such bills and decrees, however, would only come into force when it was clearly and unequivocally shown that the other parties concerned would also accept the report as an indivisible whole, and when certainty prevailed that the other side was concurrently taking all measures to restore Germany's capacity to fulfill its terms.

Restore Economic Unity.

The economic and financial unity of Germany and her administrative sovereignty, said the Chancellor, must be restored, as otherwise the obligatons demanded in the report could not be assumed.

The huge sacrifices asked of the German people could only be borne if it were made possible for all Germans to carry on their work undisturbed in their homes.

"To restore their freedom and homes to thousands of Germans," exclaimed the Chancellor, "is an indispensable aim, which the Government cannot relinquish."

Describing the speedy settlement of political questions with the Allied Governments as one of the most urgent tasks for Germany, Dr. Marx appealed to the Reichstag and the German people not to destroy by disunion and destructive strife Germany's recent slow recovery, asserting that everything would depend upon the next few weeks. He concluded:

Germany's Last Chance.

"All the heavy sacrifices the German people have borne in the last months would have been in vain if we failed to remain strong until our aim is achieved. Foreign countries must see that the United German people desire to tread the path of freedom offered to them, but foreign countries must also prove that they are ready for an honourable understanding. Only thus will faith in a real and permanent peace be revived among the German people—a faith which has been shaken by innumerable disappointments and humiliations.

"It is Germanys last chance of salvation. The Rhineland and our oppressed countrymen in the Ruhr expectantly await speedly rescue and help."

Woman Killed by A Herd of Cattle

BENGOUTH, Sask., June 5.—(Canadian Press).—Mrs. Charles Weber, wife of the post-master at Buffalo Gap, about thirty miles south of here, died of shock caused by bruises and fright when attacked by a herd of cattle Saturday night last, according to a verdict returned at a coroner's inquest.

LABOR HOUSING BILL AMENDED

Restriction For Reasonable Prices Of Material And Labor Forced On Government.

AVOIDED ADVERSE VOTE

LONDON, June 5.— (Canadian Press).—The House of Commons last night agreed to a resolution introduced by John Wheatley, Minister of Health, involving the expenditure of great sums of money for building construction to meet the housing requirements throughout the country. The Government, however, was again compelled to execute a quick volte face to avoid an adverse vote.

The plan to solve the housing problem comprises a system of State subsidies of £34,000,000 annually, extending over many years, with a possible ultimate expenditure of nearly one billion and a half pounds. The subject was discussed in the House Tuesday, but not vote was taken.

resterday, Sir George McCrae, Liberal, moved an amendment providing for the withholding of contributions in the absence aof adequate arrangements for securing labor and materials at reasonable prices. The Government at first declined to accept the amendment, but finding tha the whole Opposition was prepared for it, Minister Wheatley hurriedly changed his mind and announced he would accept the amendment.

Amid Opposition jeers, Col. Henry P. Croft, Conservative, exclaimed: "That was a narrow squeak for you."

NEWFOUNDLAND VOTE WAS SMALL

Light Polling Indicated Disapproval of Government And Doubts Of Hickman Party.

WARREN ONE OF VICTORS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 5. — William R. Warren, former premier, was elected as an independent in Fortune Bay district in Monday's general election in Newfoundland, in which the Hickman Government met defeat at the hands of the Opposition Party headed by Walter Monroe. Mr. Warren's two opponents, one a Government supporter, the other an Oppositionist, polled smaller votes.

Available returns early last night gave the Opposition 20 members in the Assembly of 36 seats, the Hickman Party, 2, and one independent. In every district the total vote cast was very small, and this was attributed by political observers to the voters' disapproval of the Governmental scandals of the last year and to the confusion of the present party alignment. In Burin, only 1,651 votes were polled with 2,446 last year, and this proportion of decrease appeared to be general.

Except in Burin district, where two Oppositionists were returned by narrow margins, supporters of the Monroe Party have been given large majorities. In St. John's East, where three Oppositionists were elected, the Government candidates polled such small votes that they will forfeit the deposits made on nomination day as evidence of good faith.

Unless Walter S. Monroe, leader of the new Government, succeeds in breaking the solid bloc of Union seats in the north, the complexion of the new House will be: Monroe party, twenty men; Hickman party 15, and one ipdependent in the person of ex-Premier Warren.

UNUSUAL SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Canadian Press).—What is believed to be the first suicide on record by means of carbon monoxide in fumes from an automobile exhaust was discovered here recently when Motorcycle Policeman Joseph Engleman broke open a one-car garage at 501 West 187th street and found Walter B. Kenaga, thirty-seven, a stenographer, lying dead under his car, the motor of which was running.

A pencil and piece of paper with which Kenaga had written a farewell note to his wife lay in his hands. The last line of the note read, "I cannot write much more. I'm dying." Kenaga left home after a quarrel with his wife and told her he was going to jump off the Brooklyn Bridge.

BANK LOOT WAS DIVIDED AMONG MONTREAL GANG

Ciro Niegro, Turning King's Evidence, Testified Some Of Money Was For Protection.

FOR LAWYERS' HELP

Jury Withdrawn While Five Prisoners Were Brought In For Remand.

MONTREAL, June 5.—(Canadian Press). — Details of the system on which the $142,288 stolen from the Hochelaga Bank collection-car on April 1, when two men were shot dead and in respect of which Giuseppi Serafini is facing a murder charge, were told in the Court of the King's Bench here yesterday afternoon by Ciro Niegro, one of the suspects in the affair who has turned King's evidence. He declared the money was divided as follows: Louis Moral, $18,000; H. Stone (the bandit who was shot dead in the hold-up), $18,000; S. Arena, $18,000; J. Carrero, $18,000; A. Parillo, $18,000; G. Serafini, $18,000; C. Niegro, $10,000; Leo Davis, $10,000, and Tony Frank, Frank Gambino and Frank Valentino, $18,000 among them.

Ordered to Kill.

Niegro explained that they did not break any of the packages of money. The slips attached to the packages showed how much was in each bundle. The orders under which the bank robbers set out were, said Niegro, to shoot at the bank car and to shoot to kill.

"Why were Tony Frank and Valentino to get a share of the money," asked Mr. Justice Wilson.

"For protection, for bonds, for lawyers, for everything," was Niegro's answer.

Jury Withdrawn.

During the afternoon Tony Frank, Frank Gambino, Leo Davis, Louis Morel and Frank Valentino, all of whom are collectively charged with murder in connection with the hold-up, were brought into court and remanded for trial until next Monday. As a measure of precaution, the jury were withdrawn while the accused came into the dock. In the morning session of the court, Niegro told how the hold-up was the third attempt of the gang to rifle the Hochelaga Bank car. The first failed because the conspirators were arguing which made them late; the second, a week before the actual hold up, because their car was stuck in the mud.

Cut Power Wires.

To Harry Stone was assigned the task of cutting the street car power wires, for which purpose he was driven to the scene in a Ford car. It was originally proposed to stretch wires, ropes or chains across the subway to stop the bank car, but this plan was afterwards abandoned.

Cars were procured with remarkable facility whenever needed, and in one instance, when the bandits had done with it, they had taken it back to the man from whom they had taken it, as "he had always suspected Davis of taking it."

In another case, they obtained a false bill of sale, duly drawn up by a notary, with the help of which they were able to sell the car when done with it. Niegro got ten dollars out of the proceeds, he said.

America Loses Trade In Cedar For Pencils

NUREMBERG, Germany, June 5. —East Africa has replaced the United States as the source of supply of cedar for the Nuremberg pencil industry. This German industry, which centers here, has fully recovered from the after effects of the war, and in trade circles it is reported that the manufacturers have enough foreign orders on hand to keep the plants in full operation many months.

Both the cedar and the graphite for pencils are imported, the main graphite supply being found in Siberia. Previous to 1914 the cedar was imported principally from America and the West Indies, but the war upset the old channel of trade and new fields in East Africa have been developed.

Council Buys Safe Too Big For Office

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y., June 5.— A salesman for a safe concern recently held a session with members of the water board in regard to the purchase of a new safe. When he again stepped into the keen Adirondack air he had a signed contract for a $900 safe. Recently the safe arrived. The embarrassing discovery was made that the safe would not go through any door or window in the village office building. It will be necessary in order to get the safe in the offices to knock out a part of the building. A contractor wants $385 for the job. Taxpayers are roaring.

Tea For Her Doll Brings on Death

CAMDEN, N. J., June 5. —Trying to "make tea" for her favorite doll, six-year-old Stella Pasarella gave up her life when her clothes became ignited from the tiny fire of sticks she had made on the lawn of her home in Dunbarton.

The child died in a hospital here. Neighbors found the doll still sitting on the lawn with an empty teacup in its lap.

MISSIONARIES ARE RELEASED

Rev. R. A. Jaffray And Dr. H. G. Miller Set Free By Chinese To Ransom Two Companions.

TEN DAYS TO GET IT

CANTON, China, June 5.— Their clothes torn and their hats lost. Rev. Dr. Robert A. Jaffray, Canadian head of the Christian Missionary Alliance at Fuchow, and Dr. H. G. Miller, also of the Missionary Alliance, have returned to Woochow, released by bandits that they might arrange ransom for other missionaries still held captive.

E. H. Carne, and Rex. Ray, the two white men held, will be released on receipt by the bandits of $300,000 in gold, a hundred pistols, a thousand rifles and a large quantity of am munition, according to Dr. Jaffray.

Jaffray and Miller suffered great hardships in making their way to Fuchow from the mountain stronghold of the bandits. They were told that they would be allowed two weeks to arrange ransom for the captives.

The four white men were captured about ten days ago when they were on their way in a motor boat to carry relief to Missionaries of the American Southern Baptist Mission at Kweilin who were reported in danger. The bandits captured twenty Chinese besides the four whites.

LONDON SUN TREASURED

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 5.— (Canadian Press).—Although the printing art has made great strides in the past century, few more attractive editions of a daily newspaper have been produced in this modern day than the copy of the Sun of London, England, of July 10, 1838, owned by David Kinna of this city.

It was published on the day of Queen Victoria's Coronation and in honor of that occasion the front and back pages were printed in gold ink, which to this day has preserved its lustre. Almost half of the front page is devoted to a magnificent steel engraving of a medallion of the young queen.

Like the London Times of today, the coat-of-arms appears at the head of the front page.

Whatever interesting events may have been going on in England and the remainder of the world on that memorable day are not narrated in The Sun of July 10, 1838. Its entire space is devoted to the Coronation.

DIVORCE PAYS HUSBAND

CHICAGO, June 5.—(Canadian Press).—A stipulation said to be the first of its kind ever filed here was introduced reecntly when Mrs. Emma Tillotson obtained a divorce in Superior Court from her husband, John E. Tillotson, 78 years of age. She agreed to pay her husband who is too old and weak to support himself $15 a week alimony. The couple has been married for thirty years.

Mrs. Tillotson told the Judge she had a large income from boarding houses which she owns. She testified to cruelty on her husband's part.

CROW FEEDS BLIND BIRD

PRINCT RUPERT, B.C., June 5. —(Canadian Press).—At least one crow of Langara Island is not as black as it is painted according to Mrs. H. Armstrong, of Langara Island Lighthouse. Large numbers of crows pick up food about the lighthouse and are quite tame. One crow was noticed to always fly away with all it could carry on its beak, after having first feasted. The lightouse keeper investigated and discovered that the food was regularly taken to a nest where lived another crow, stone blind, which was unable to rustle for itself.

U.S. AND SMUT.

GENEVA, June 5. — (United Press).—A total of 43 states, including several like Germany and Turkey, not members of the league, have, to date, signed the League of Nations' new international treaty for the regulations and suppression of traffic in obscene literature. The United States remains virtually the only large civilized nation that has not thus joined in the league's new humanitarian campaign along this line.

INNOCENT PARTY MAY WED AGAIN

Canadian Divorce Bills Retain Old Section Conferring Right Of Remarriage.

AVOID LEGAL TANGLE

OTTAWA, June 5.— (Canadian Press).—Parliament will continue to give the innocent party to a divorce the right of re-marriage without mentioning rights of the other party. This decision, it is understood, has been reached between the Senate and the House Committees on divorce, and in consequence the House Committee yesterday put back in some ten divorce bills the old section conferring the right mentioned.

The Senate divorce committee this session introduced a new form of bill, which merely dissolved the marriage and omitted all reference to the right of re-marriage. There are legal opinion to support the view that this change did not alter the rights of the parties, as in the past, though no mention was made of it in the bills, it had always been assumed that both parties had the right to marry again. However, as there was a fear that the new form of bill might create legal difficulties as regards remarriage, the Commons committee on divorce decided to go back to the old form of divorce bill.

Adopts Bullfrog That Replaces Mousing Cat

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 5. — (United Press).—If you don't care to keep a Kansas bullsnake upon the premises to keep rats and mice away, get a bullfrog.

The mousing proclivities of a bullfrog are vouched for by Wade Fatheree, local sportsman, who captured a giant hopper on a fishing trip.

Incidentally, the frog secured a safe and steady future at a time when he was headed for the frying pan.

Fatheree tied the critter in the house awaiting execution. During the night the frog broke loose.

"I could hear him hopping about the house and then hear his jaws pop and a mouse squeal. He kept that up throughout the night. The next morning he had the appearance of a swelled-up frog. Now he has a home with me," Fatheree declared.

Fatheree says he wouldn't trade the frog for a flock of tomcats.

COUPLE FOUND EATING WEEDS

Society Girl and Companion Missing Three Days in Snake Infested Woods.

SILK DRESS TATTERED

Girl Started Out to Catch Rabbit With Bare Hands.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Helen Cole and Charles Carter, who vanished Sunday night after midnight from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Crowell at Mountain Lakes, and who have been hunted ever since by State troopers, Boy Scouts and special searching partires, were found on Tuesday evening by John Duffy, Chief Inspector for the Newark Water Department.

The mystery of why they left was not cleared up. Neither assisted materially in explaining it. Miss Cole was said to be near a nervous collapse, and Carter, except for one brief statement, was not communicative. Reporters were allowed to see the couple for a moment, but got nothing of the story of their wanderings from them. The belief that the adventure is a publicity scheme, the purpose of which will appear later, still persists, but nothing was adduced either to confirm or disprove that theory.

Cooking in Tomato Can.

Clad in evening clothes and cooking a mess of mountain weeds in a tomato can for their evening meal, the couple was surprised by the arrival of Duffy. He knew who they were by descriptions he had read in the newspapers and they admitted their identity. They finally consented to accompany the Chief Inspector back to civilization, and he took them twelve miles to the village of Newfoundland, where they went to the Newfoundland Inn. Word was sent to James R. Crowell, and he drove across the mountains with several friends and took charge of the situation.

When Miss Cole was brought into the inn, according to the proprietor, Joseph Vieth, she was completely exhausted. He said she was talking hysterically about catching rabbits, a motive that has persisted in the case from the beginning, the couple having been said to have disappeared after the girl had insisted, as proof of her being able to sustain her life in the wilderness, that she had caught rabbits in her bare hands in California and could do it again.

Gown Torn to Shreds.

Her physical condition, according to the innkeeper, was "terrible." He says she wore a yellow evening gown which was ripped to shreds, that her stockings had been torn off and her legs badly scratched. She wore a pair of torn tennis "sneakers" and had no wrap of any kind.

It was not possible to get connected story of their adventures from either of them. Miss Cole was hysterical and Carter was "in a sort of stupor," as one witness described it. On the way to the inn Duffy had got some milk for the couple. At the inn they ate supper. Carter said he wanted to eat "two or three dinners," but Duffy advised him not to.

ABERDEEN GIRL CLAIMS KINSHIP TO STRATHMORE

Constance Mary Lyon Is a Cousin Of The Duchess Of York If Her Suit Is Upheld.

MOTHER'S LOVE TOLD

Friends Says Hubert Bowes-Lyon And Girl's Mother Lived Together And Married.

EDINBURGH, June 5. Canadian Press Cable. — Evidence in support of the petition of Constance Mary Lyon, 19-year-old Aberdeen store clerk to establish her claim that she is the eldest lawful child of Hubert Bowes-Lyon, nephew of the Earl of Strathmore, was given yesterday by Miss Elizabeth Mackie, aged 48, a resident of Glasgow before a local court with Lord Morison presiding. Miss Mackie had refused to appear to give evidence when the case opened last week and a warrant was issued to secure her attendance.

Miss Mackie said that she formerly lived in Edinburgh and lodged with Miss Smeaton, mother of Mary Lyon. She remembered Hubert Bowes-Lyon meeting Miss Smeaton in 1904 at a staff dance. They were friendly.

Bowes-Lyon was then an officer of the Black Watch, stationed at Edinburgh Castle. Within a few weeks Bowes-Lyon, said the witness, rented and furnished a house in Edinburgh, and he and Miss Smeaton lived there.

Moved to London.

Subsequently Bowes-Lyon resigned his commission and went to London where Miss Smeaton joined him, subsequently witness heard of the birth of a child, which had occurred on December 24, 1904. Miss Smeaton wrote to the witness expressing her distress, and asking Miss Mackie how she could dispose of the child, and in response to this appeal Miss Mackie testified, she wrote to a Mrs. Collie of Aberdeen, who undertook to receive the child and care for it.

Mother was Married.

Miss Smeaton brought the child to Edinburgh in the beginning of 1905. She told Miss Mackie on meeting her that she had been married to Bowes-Lyon the previous day. On the following day the witness accompanied Mrs. Lyon to Aberdeen with the child which was delivered into the care of Mrs. Collie. Subsequently continued the witness, Mr. and Mrs. Lyon and the child were twice brought together and Mr. Lyon never, she believed, gave any indication that he was not the father.

Miss Lyon, the Plaintiff, who was in court, was asked to stand up, and the witness, who last saw the child, when she was about five years of age, said that she easily recognized her, remarking that the girl was not so tall as her mother, and took more after the Bowes-Lyon side.

In the event of Miss Lyon establishing her claim, she will at the same time claim recognition as a cousin of the Duchess of York.

STATE MUST WIN FIGHT OF JUSTICE VS. WEALTH IS DEMAND OF CHICAGO

Persons of All Walks Urge State's Attorney to Marshal All Forces They Can Command Against the Million-Dollar Defence of Leopold and Loeb.

PROBE OTHER CRIMES

CHICAGO, June 5.—Announcement that counsel for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb will seek continuances in the Franks case evoked widespread demands that the trial be started as soon as possible.

It was insisted that the State's Attorney bring the confessed slayers to immediate trial and that the Sttae take every step necessary to inflict the full penalty of the law for the heinous crime.

Never has public opinion in Chicago been at such a white heat of indignation as in the case of the brutal murder of little Robert Franks.

Persons in all walks of life were unanimous in urging that State's Attorney Crowe marshall all the forces at his command to prevent the million dollar defense from blocking the course of justice.

The crystalized opinion of the vast majority seemed to be best expressed in the word of Colonel John V. Clinnia, former United States Attorney, who said:

"Is it true that money will influence justice?"

"Wealth Vs. Justice."

The general consensus seemed to be that it will be a battle of wealth versus justice; that another attempt will be made to repeat the Harry Thaw tactics.

But everywhere it was confidently predicted that the public wrath is at too high a point in this particular case for wealth to have any chance.

Colonel Clinnin said:

"I am of the opinion that wealth will not influence justice in this case.

"I am certain that Mr. Crowe will procescue this case to the full extent of his power and that he will insist that there be an early trial, with full justice.

"But the people are watching the case with suspicious eye, because of the money involved. The State must be on its guard at every point of the legal conflict."

It was pointed out that every person who has the welfare of the children of the community at heart is interested in seeing the millionaire youths who planned the murder "just for the thrill of it," brought to an early trial.

There is no reason why this country should not follow the example of England in expediting its trials in criminal cases and particularly in a case like this one, in the opinion of Judge Edmund K. Jarecki. He said:

"I am sure that the State will not lose any time in satisfying the public demand that justice be done."

Persons representative of every walk of life, some wealthy, emphatically urged that the State do all in its power to win the battle of "wealth versus justice."

Move to California.

Both crimes are punishable by hanging, and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe's purpose was evident as he began the proceedings. His purpose coincided with a statement made by Mrs. Irving Hartman, 5,113 Ellis Avenue, wife of a millionaire furniture dealer and mother of the 9-year old boy who last saw Robert Franks alive. In the ante-room of the State's Attorney

DELORA PLANT EMPLOYEE WAS ELECTROCUTED

Working at Switch That Was Supposedly Safe But Temporary Defect Believed to Have Caused Death—Inquest Will Be Held.

LEFT A FAMILY

DELORA, June 5.— (Special to The Examiner.)— Henry Warren, 40, was electrocuted about seven o'clock last night when working at an electric switch in the plant of the Delora Refining and Smelting Company. He is survived by his wife and four children.

The switch is one of the most up-to-date type and supposedly perfectly safe, but it is said a wire had become misplaced and this caused the man's death. Dr. Hamilton Crawford, of Marmora, the company doctor, was summoned immediately, and Dr. W. S. Harper, of Madoc, also attended, but the victim was beyond help. Several medical students employed at the plant rendered first aid, applied artificial respiration methods and did everything possible to restore animation.

An inquest will be held immediately and adjourned until Monday next, when a thorough enquiry will be made into the circumstances. It is probable that expert electricians will be asked to testify.

THE GUMPS—THE WOUNDED HERO

LINDSAY TRIED FOR HARBORING A FLEEING MAN

Also Charged With Obstructing Officers in Discharge of Their Duty and Sent for Trial on Both Counts — Charge Followed Escape of Two Men.

AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, June 5. — James Lindsay, who lives in Percy Township, near Hastings, was given a hearing in Police Court here on Wednesday afternoon before County Magistrate Floyd, of Cobourg, charged with harboring an escaped prisoner and obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty. He was held for trial on both counts at the next Court of General Sessions at Cobourg. The case for the Crown was conducted by County Attorney W. F. Kerr, of Cobourg, and A. D. Hall of Colborne appeared for the defence.

The arrest of Lindsay followed the escape from the lockup at Haliburton of Roy Lindsay and Ernest Cornelius, two hours after their arrest there on a charge of shopbreaking. The men were seen a few days later in Campbellford, and Cornelius was arrested by Special Constable Seaborn, but Lindsay got away. Cornelius afterward broke out of the lockup here, and both men are still at large.

The Evidence.

Chief Duncalfe, the first witness called yesterday, told of going out in a car, driven by R. H. Cole, to the home of James Lindsay, who is an uncle of the escaped prisoner, and at whose house it was believed the fugitive had spent the previous night. Lindsay told the Chief that he had not seen his nephew for nearly a year, and gave the officer permission to search the house. The Chief had told the defendant why the nephew was wanted.

The Chief and Lindsay went outside to where the car was standing when the officer explained to the defendant the danger he was in if he had harbored the men wanted, and Lindsay again denied that he had seen them. He added that if Roy had committed the crime with which he was charged he deserved to be in jail, and volunteered to 'phone the Chief if he got any information as to the whereabouts of his nephew.

The Chief returned to town, and on the afternoon of the same day sent Constable Seaborn and R. H. Cole to the Lindsay farm again, the former to watch for the escaped prisoner. He went out himself in the afternoon to a place where some friends of Lindsay were at work, but they declared that they had seen nothing of him.

Evidence Corroborated.

R. H. Cole corroborated the evidence of Chief Duncalfe. The witness had heard Lindsay tell the officer that he had not seen his nephew for nearly a year, and that he had no use for him. He had also heard Lindsay tell the Chief that if Roy came to his place he would 'phone to the police station. The Chief had told Lindsay that it was a serious matter to harbor an escaped prisoner.

When the witness returned to the Lindsay farm in the afternoon with Constable Seaborn the latter searched the house and took away a suitcase belonging to Roy. They started back to town, but when about a mile away from the house Constable Seaborn left the car and returned through the woods to watch the premises.

Spotted the Prisoner.

Constable Seaborn told of concealing himself in the woods, and after waiting for some time he saw Roy Lindsay approaching the house. The defendant and one of his daughters were working with a horse moving stones, and when the officer started after Roy the horse was turned between two buildings so as to obstruct him. This gave the fugitive a start, and he escaped in the swamp. On his first visit to the farm the officer had searched the house but found no one there.

This concluded the evidence, and Lindsay was held for trial on both charges. He is a man with a family, and Crown Attorney Kerr took this fact into consideration when he asked that the defendant be allowed out on bail of $3,000, $1,000 to be furnished by himself and the balance by two sureties. This, he said, was not excessive bail for a prisoner charged with an offence, the maximum penalty for which is five years.

The defendant was unable to find bondsmen, and was taken back to the Cobourg Jail by Chief Duncalfe and Sam. Covert. He has been confined there ever since his arrest over a week ago.

Railway Officials Here.

There were six cars in the mail train yesterday which leaves here for Peterborough at 6.38 a.m., one of them being the private car, "The Quinte," belonging to General Superintendent Bond of Montreal, who was making his first trip over the Belleville-Peterborough branch since his appointment a short time ago. Another car was that of Division Superintendent J. D. McMillan of Belleville. The officials were en route to Midland.

The heavy train was stalled on the steep grade at Birdsall and was obliged to back down on to the level for a fresh start.

Engineer Elliott, who has been hauling this train since the retirement of Engineer Lavoie, has been transferred to one of the big freight engines running from Lindsay to Midland. He has been succeeded by C. Golden, another Lindsay man. The permanent appointment of a successor to engineer has not yet been made, but the position has been offered to one of the best known employees on the division.

Change of Residence.

Alex. McGregor, representative of The Examiner, has moved into the residence on Front street, recently vaacted by A. P. Hind, who takes the house next door, formerly occupied by D. Archer, who has located in Toronto. Mr. McGregor's telephone number is still 863.

MANY PRIZES WON BY HAVELOCK MEN

Big Crowd Turned Out For the Celebration on June 3—Several Games

HAVELOCK, June 5. — Havelock's celebration on Tuesday was a great success. There was a splendid crowd, the weather being very favourable. The various sports were entered into with zest and all present enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

The sports were opened by the girls' soft ball game between Indian River and Havelock, the latter winning by the score of 16-1. The Indian River girls have a good team but were nervous playing before such a large crowd.

The lacrosse match was next, between Campbellford and Havelock, the latter winning by the score of 9-4.

The mile relay race was won by the Norwood High school relay team.

In the singing contest for the Belmont rural schools there were only two entries, S.S. No. 4, Rush Point and S.S. No. 6, Old Havelock. The former won by the excellence of their singing and also by the manner in which they presented "The Maple Leaf Forever."

The baby show, which is new to Havelock people, interested the crowd very much. The winning baby was Bernice Smallshaw, the second prize going to baby Jewel Scott. The judges in this were Miss Louise Heffernan of Rush Point, Miss McGauhney of Cordova, Miss Smith and Miss Gladys Brewster of town.

The concert in the evening was largely attended and it was indeed excellent. It was followed by a dance under the auspices of the Girls' Softball Club. The Bon-Ton Orchestra of Belleville, who have the dancing pavilion at Trent River, rendered their services free of charge, which was very much appreciated by the girls.

The car which was raffled off by the Athletic Association, was won by Mr. Tom Blue of Madoc.

At the concert in the evening the Athletic Association presented the hockey team wtih black and white sweater coats with the Athletic Association emblem on them, for their good work in winning the Trent Valley League for the second year in succession. Mr. Tom Curtis, Reeve of the town, made the presentation to the boys, who were: Jim Hooper, Doug. Brennan, Barney Quinn, Don. Wright, Glenn Wright, Frank Pollock, Albert Armstrong, Chas. Brennan, Gordon Burgess, Jack Davidson and the manager, Wm. Rose.

WILLIAM POINTS DIED MILLBROOK

Former Peterboro Man Passed Away at Home of Rev. Joseph Wilks.

MILLBROOK, June 5. — The late William Dolby Points, formerly of Peterborough, passed peacefully away after a lingering illness, at the home of his brother-in-law, Rev. Joseph Wilks, on Wednesday, June 4th, about 8:30 a.m. Deceased was born in London, Eng., 79 years ago, coming to Canada with his wife, formerly Maria Hagel, sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Wilks, in 1873.

Their first home was at Port Perry, Ont., removal to Peterborough taking place some time afterward, where Mr. Points, who was a machinist by trade, was employed for a number of years by the William Hamilton Company. Mrs. Points predeceased her husband by four years, her home during her last illness, which was a lengthy one, being with her sister in Millbrook, the latter giving her every care and attention which love could prompt. At this time Mr. Points sold his home in Peterborough, and purchased the frame house on Marshall street, now Mrs. Pogue's residence, as this location was conveniently close to his brother-in-law's house.

Two years ago last October deceased was afflicted with a stroke of paralysis which kept him an invalid, practically helpless, ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Wilks had him removed to their home, and their loving ministrations brightened his days of weakness and suffering until the end came.

The late Mr. Points had no family, but adopted two nephews on his wife's side bringing them up as his sons. Mrs. Wilks also losing her parents in her early girlhood, was given a daughter's place and privileges in her uncle's home. One of the adopted sons is living in Vancouver, B.C., the other predeceased his father, his widow, Mrs. Florence Hagel, of Toronto being here for the funeral.

The Anglican Church claimed the late Mr. Points within its fold as a life-long member, and in politics he was a staunch Conservative.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his brother-in-law, Rev. Joseph Wilks, King street, on Friday, June 6th, at 2:30 p.m. In the absence of the rector, Rev. Canon Allen, the curate, Rev. M. G. B. Williams, will have charge of the services. The pall bearers include — Messrs. T. H. Bradley, Wentworth Gray, G. E. Burnham, J. R. Eakins, B. F. Harrington and G. Fowler.

Interment in the family plot at Gardiner's cemetery.

The Dramatic Club of the Methodist Church gave their play, "The Plot That Failed," in the L. O. L. Hall, Pontypool, on Monday, June 2nd, under the auspices of the Methodist Church of that town. An appreciative audience filled the hall comfortably. The advantage of having the building lighted by electricity, through the enterprise of Richardson Bros., who have installed a private plant which serves their garage, bakery and the Orange Hall, made it possible to give the play with better effect since all lights could be shut off during the acts except the overhead on the stage and the foot-lights.

The Millbrook Dramatic Club is not a new organization, having given a number of plays in recent years, meeting invariably with a gratifying measure of success. The selections played by the ten-piece orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. G. A. Duncan, and the vocal solo contributed by Miss Ethel Richson between the second and third acts, elicited warm applause and added much to the success of the occasion.

The love story which runs through the domestic drama, the clever local hits, the humorous situations, the foiling of the plot to destroy the happiness of the young married couple, Harold and Hetty Rutledge, kept the interest sustained throughout.

The ladies of the Pontypool Church, with their usual hospitality, served lunch to the visitors, thus giving opportunity for a pleasant social hour after the entertainment was concluded.

This was the first visit of the Dramatic Club to Pontypool, and the pastor, Rev. H. Wilkinson, in moving a hearty vote of thanks for the help given both on Monday night, and at the Sunday anniversary services, expressed the hope that the occasion would present itself for their coming again and putting on one of their plays in the local hall.

Rev. H. Arthur Barton, of Ottawa, will preach in the Zion Methodist Church on Sunday, June 8th, at 2.30 p.m. This will be a special service as next Sunday is not the regular afternoon for service at the Zion appointment.

On Sunday, June 15th, Rev. Mr. Barton will preach in the Methodist Church, Millbrook, at 7 p.m.

The continuation and public schools, and the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, observed the King's birthday on Tuesday by having a holiday.

office, just before the Grand Jury session began, she said:

"If those two boys are not hanged I will be through with Chicago. I'll move to California, where I can raise my boy in safety."

Detectives are seeking information to support the belief that the two "college prodigies" also killed Freeman Louis Tracy in November, a week after the mutilation of Charles Ream, who accuses Leopold and Loeb of performing a galnd removal operation upon him.

A possible connection of the youthful murderers with the death last fall of Tracy was indicated today when the authorities discovered that the bullet which killed Tracy fitted a pistol belonging to Leopold and which he said he carried when the Franks boy was kidnapped. A motive for the shooting of Tracy was never found. He appeared to have been a brilliant student and seemingly was without enemies. His body was found almost on the campus of the University of Chicago, the institution attended by both Leopold and Loeb and by Tracy. Friends of Tracy said that he knew both the youths.

Investigation also was continued yesterday into the mutilation last fal of Charles Ream, a taxi driver, who accused Leopold and Loeb of the crime.

A Third Murder.

An unofficial investigation has begun into the possibility that Leopold and Loeb may have been connected with the death several months ago of Melvin Wolf, who left the home of his wealthy grandparents to mail a letter and whose body was found in Lake Michigan. Relatives were never satisfied with the decision of authorities that he committed suicide.

Henry Lindenthal, Wolf's grandfather, refused to talk of the case or to consider a possible new solution of the mystery involving Leopold and Loeb.

"It would not bring back the boy if we did find out," was all he would say.

It was recalled that Wolf's body was nude when taken from the lake. He knew Leopold and Loeb, neighbors said to-day.

The investigators were considering the fact that both the bodies of Wolf and of Franks were nude when found.

Grief of Father

Jacob Franks, aged father of the murdered lad, was the first witness before the Grand Jury. He went on the stand.

As soon as his brief story was over he begged permission to go home to the bereaved mother, whose condition, he said, was extremely bad due to the shock of her son's death.

The father's examination ran:

"You are the father of the Robert Franks who was murdered?"

"Yes."

"When did you last see him alive?"

"On the morning of May 21, when he left our home, at No. 5052 Ellis avenue, to go to the Harvard School."

Franks removed his glasses and wiped his eeys in an effort to maintain composure as the questioning proceeded.

First Good Clue

"And you next saw him?"

"In the undertaking parlors. He was dead."

Tears were streaming down his face and his voice shook.

As he left the building he expressed fear for the condition of Mrs. Franks. He said:

"She does not rally. Her condition is very bad and I am afraid for her."

Even more severe illness prevailed at the home of the parents of young Loeb. The father, Albert Loeb, vice president of Sears-Roebuck, was dangerously ill. His heart trouble, was complicated by extreme nervousness and an affiction of the throat. Mrs. Loeb was ill in bed.

To the evidence already in Crowe's possession was added to-day the final letter written by the youths in their endeavors to obtain the ransom It was placed on a towel rack in a train that left Chicago, May 22, for New York. Franks, had he gone to the drug store and received the phone message, would have been directed to take the $10,000 on board the train and find the rest of his instructions in the letter.

His "Only Chance"

It was received in New York and returned. It reads:

"Dear Sir:

"Proceed immediately to the back platform of the train. Watch the East side of the track. Have your package ready. Look for the first large red brick factory situated immediately adjoining the tracks on the East.

"On top of this factory is a large, black watertower, with the word Champion written on it. Wait until you have completely passed the South end of the factory. Count five very rapidly and then immediately throw the package as far East as you can.

"Remember that this is your only chance to recover your son.

Yours truly,
"GEORGE JOHNSON."

In capital letters on the envelope was typed:

"MR. JACOB FRANKS."

Underneath was written:

"Should anyone else find this note, please leave it alone. The letter is very important."

Was Willing to Pay

"I was willing to pay the $10,000 to get my boy back," he said, "and would have followed the directions given in the telephone, only I forgot the address, and while I was trying to find it again my brother-in-law telephoned that Robert was dead—too late to be ransomed."

The father appeared weary and heart-broken. His wife never again would be well, he told Chief of Police Collins, whom he visited after his testimony.

"I cant' understand how boys with the advantages of young Loeb and Leopold could commit such a crime," he said to the Chief, whose friend he has been for thirty years. "It must be because they had no belief in God. Atheism must have caused the unusual mental attitude that led them to kill a harmless boy."

Loeb Teaches Negro Prisoner

All through their childhood and college days, "Babe" Leopold and "Dicky" Loeb were constant companions. But to-day, as they walked slowly up and down the "bull pen" in the juvenile quarters of the county jail, where they are held, Leopold and Loeb were as distant as though they had never met.

Not for a single moment during the two hours they were free in the exercise cage did these two boys, who killed a little foureen-year-old boy for the sake "of a thrill," cast the slightest glance in the direction of the other. They had eaten together, slept together, loved together, and lived together in the past. But now they were as distant as eternity.

Young Loeb contented himself with teaching a youthful colored highwayman the mysteries of the alphabet. His used-to-be "chum" sat on the side lines in the indoor baseball court and watched the other prisoners playing. He sat by himself not another prisoner going near him to offer a word of advice or comfort.

It was gossip about the quarters a few hours after the boys were received that Leopold would not "get along" with the men with whom he would have to associate with for long days to come.

"He thinks he is too good for us guys," was the way one young bandit expressed himself.

But with Loeb it was different. The boy whose parents are possessors of millions and whose family tree includes many of Chicago's and London's foremost families, was accepted almost at once as being a "good fellow." Perhaps it was due to the prison clothes he donned when he gave up his $200 garments to be fumigated the night before.

WEDDING BELLS

WALDON STABLER.

LAKEFIELD, June 5. — A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stabler, Burnham Street, when Mr. Stabler's sister, Margaret Ethel Stabler, was united in marriage to Frederick Charles Waldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldon, of Lakefield.

Rev. T. L. White, pastor of the Baptist Church, performed the ceremony, in the presence of immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony took place under a white floral bell, hung in an arch of apple blossoms.

The bride wore a gown of cream canton crepe, trimmed with duchesse lace and pearls, also the customary white tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms. She carried a large sheaf of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. W. C. Harvey played the wedding music.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and guests were entertained at a dainty luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Waldon leaving later amid a shower of confetti for a motor trip to Cobourg, where the honeymoon will be spent, with visits to Gore's Landing, Harwood, and other places. The bride travelled in a tailored suit of brown tricotine, with blouse of flat brown crepe and brown hat, touched with tangerine.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. J. J. Hartley and his two daughters, Misses Gertrude and Sophia, Mrs. Hillman and Miss Hillman, all of Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cheyne and daughters, Misses Margaret and Helen Cheyne, of Gores Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldon received a large number of handsome gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held. A shower for the bride was given in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening last.

On their return from their honeymoon, they will reside on Chippewa Avenue, in the pretty home which the bridegroom has in readiness, in which their friends will wish them much happiness.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1924.

NO CAUSE FOR GLOOM.

Although a number of merchants in Peterborough, and throughout Canada generally, are inclined to be pessimistic in their outlook, there are signs on the horizon that indicate fair weather ahead.

True, there has been a rather disappointing spring trade, due to the backward weather and the fact that there is a certain amount of unemployment.

But there should be a speedy improvement in conditions.

Barron's, the leading financial weekly on this Continent, surveying the world wheat crop, sees evidence of higher prices for this season's wheat.

That means much to Canadians, for if the buying power of the farmer is increased the benefit will be felt by manufacturers and merchants and by those who work for one or the other.

The tide of emigration has turned toward Canada.

Thousands of new citizens are arriving in this country.

That means thousands of new customers for Canada's merchants, more orders for Canadian manufacturers, more work for Canadian workers.

Indications point to a record tourist traffic.

Already United States license markers are to be seen on the streets, indicating the arrival of the advance guard of the army of summer visitors.

That, too, means more business and a tonic for trade stagnation.

All in all, there is no reason for pessimism.

The barometer points to good weather, and there is ample justification for looking confidently to the future.

TO KEEP DOWN THE MURDER RATE.

An American writer, whose views in regard to the revolver are identical with those frequently expressed by the Examiner, declares that "murder has become so common in the United States that it is of no more than local interest unless the crime has unusual angles or involves celebrities."

That is a simple fact.

The statistics show that an average of twenty-eight residents of the United States are murdered every twenty-four hours.

That represents only the known murders.

An unknown number of people who are recorded as having "disappeared" lie under the sod, victims of assassins.

Poison used to be a favourite method of murder.

Its comparatively rare now because the sale of poisons has been so restricted by regulations that it is difficult for the criminally inclined to secure them.

The same treatment should be accorded the sale of revolvers.

To prevent a child starting fires you keep matches away from him.

In that simple principle is the obvious way to lower the murder rate.

If criminals were virtually unable to buy revolvers, and with a long prison sentence for those in illicit possession of such firearms, the rate would soon drop.

There is no need in this country for the average citizen to carry a revolver or even have one in his home.

They are a constant source of danger—and an invitation to disaster.

"GIVING" OR "GETTING" AN EDUCATION.

"I want to give my boy a good education." There are probably few fathers or mothers who have not said something like that, says the London Advertiser. The idea is good and right, but unfortunately it has in it the germs of a serious blunder.

The error centres around the word "give." It should be tempered with the word "get."

And yet it's natural. A father looks back on his own case. He knows that the going was pretty tough in spots. He had to work hard; when he needed more mental equipment he burned the lamp late at night. It was his own effort and determination that made progress possible.

He has his son before him, and he wants him to go farther than he was to go, so he has made up his mind to "give" him a good education. He perhaps has overlooked the fact that it was the hard chapters in his experience that were his developing periods. He knows and will admit that they were good for him, but for some reason he hesitates about making his boy go through the same process. The idea is to make it easier for the boy to get what the father had to work so hard to attain.

In many ways it is a mistake. The more things are shoved within our reach the less we appreciate them. It is the element of uncertainty, or the presence of a barrier that calls for the effort necessary to surmount it. It was that response to a challenge that made the father, and the same thing will make the son, and its absence may spoil him.

There is a wide difference between "giving" a boy a good education and making it possible for him to "get" it. It is the wise parent who will hold his impulses of love and parental regard sufficiently in check to put his own boy in the "get it" class.

THE U. E. LOYALISTS.

The historical significance of the United Empire Loyalists' celebration in Belleville this month, for which elaborate preparations are being made, it is hoped, will not be subordinated to the amusement and entertainment features that naturally are part of the programme.

Canadians do not know as much as they should do about the United Empire Loyalists.

Even we residents of Eastern Ontario are, as a rule, a bit hazy about the whole subject, despite the fact that it was the settlement of Upper Canada by these loyal Britishers who refused to remain in the United States after the revolutionary war was over that really established a British North America.

The celebration at Belleville commemorates the 140th anniversary of the settlement of Eastern Ontario by the loyalists from over the border.

The Bay of Quinte city is naturally entitled to be chosen because of its location, almost in the centre of the district to which the seven shiploads of loyalists came after having sailed from New York City on September 8, 1783.

Incidentally the landing took place at Adolphustoun in the Bay of Quinte on June 16, 1784, after a journey of 2,000 miles.

The Examiner is glad to publish a statement from Mayor W. C. Mikel of Belleville, who has been one of the leading spirits in promoting the celebration.

Here is what he says:

"The U. E. Loyalists did not come to this country to get increased wages or better material conditions. They fought through an eight-year war in which many were killed or wounded, they broke the ties of family and friendship, they forsook comfortable homes in settled communities, they gave up opportunities for business advancement in the New Republic and lost property worth one hundred million pounds, and came to a wilderness, because they preferred to remain citizens of the British Empire."

UNDER HATS OF BROAD BRIMS.

The Quakers have been celebrating the 300th anniversary of the birth of George Fox, founder of their belief. There are 116,000 of them in the United States. We have many of them in Canada. Though known as the Quakers their real name is the Society of Friends.

Here is a powerful and unique organisation. For nearly three centuries it has fought war and championed simplicity, truth, honesty and democracy.

Among the great men they have produced were Benjamin Franklin, William Penn, and John Greenleaf Whittier. And the longer we study them and watch their record and way of living, the more we are inclined to believe that every Quaker is a great man.

You never knew a Quaker that wasn't a good citizen.

George Fox, founder of the Quakers, went to prison many times for daring to speak his religious beliefs. Like all great men, he had what are usually considered eccentricities. One of these was a notion that it was an act of worship to take off ones hat to another person. This was symbolic of a belief that reverence belonged exclusively to the Almighty.

Fox travelled as a missionary, spreading his views. Steadily he won followers. The first Quakers who landed in New York were beaten and deported. Four of them were put to death in Boston by the Puritans, who are supposed to have stood for religious tolerance. Finally they founded their own settlement—Philadelphia.

The Quakers are the oldest peace organisation we have. From Fox who refused a captaincy in Cromwell's army and pilloried war in all its hideousness, on through nearly three centuries, the Quakers have consistently opposed the wholesale taking of human life to untangle the blunders of the politicians flatteringly known as diplomats.

There have been individual exceptions. Many Quakers willingly entered the American Army to fight Prussianism. But their big battle came after the war—against famine and disease in Europe. This battle is still being continued. So far, the Quakers have expended over 10 million dollars in European relief.

They may not take their hats off to us, but we take our hats off to them—as good citizens, none better.

RENTS AND THE OPEN SHOP.

One of the public questions which will never be settled until it is settled in the real public interest is that of the open shop. Trades unionism, stretching the figures to the utmost and accepting the full total of the American Federation of Labor, can hardly be said to represent more than 10 per cent. of the people in this country engaged in gainful employment. So far as the non-unionized worker is concerned, to say nothing of anybody else, the spirit of unionism is utterly selfish. High wages and low production represent the sum total of its vaunted ideals. It will be agreed that the pressure of rent is a fair test of the effect of unionism on the class least able to bear the burden, the class which does not own its own homes. Speaking at Pittsburgh on May 28, Noel Sargent, manager of the Open Shop Department of the National Association of Manufacturers, said:

"During the past two years building erection in the towns of Birmingham, Detroit, Jacksonville, Philadelphia, Richmond, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Minneapolis has been predominantly open shop, and figures issued by the United States Department of Labor show that the average rent increase in these towns during the years 1922 and 1923 was 2.3 per cent. The Bureau of Labor Statistics also present figures for Cincinnati, Cleveland, Houston, New Orleans, New York City, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Scranton and Washington showing that the average rent increase in these nine cities during the same period was 4.7 per cent., or twice as great. In all of the latter cities construction during the two-year period was overwhelmingly closed shop."

Every one of the closed-shop cities instanced by Mr. Sargent is, moreover, suffering from a housing shortage. He puts the responsibility plainly where it belongs. It is true that there has been some building in New York for the skilled workman able to buy a $5,000 house on the instalment plan or to pay a rent of perhaps $60 a month out of the $250 a month his earnings may average. For the unskilled worker, even where under unique protection and by collusive contracts in the building trades he makes as much as $5 a day, when he is employed, there has been no home building at all in the five boroughs of New York in the past six years. There has been overbuilding so far as the man of comfortable means is concerned. But the workers who are supposed to be under the protection of the American Federation of Labor are not in a position to rent apartments at the rate of $100 to $200 a month.

Some day the closed-shop cities will have to take the question seriously. The magazine publishers are already moving out of New York. The eastern cities are losing tax-paying factories and all the trade that goes with them. The pressure for open shop will become irresistible, because it will be a question of life and death.—Barron's.

Which SIDE ARE YOU ON?

THE Paint question has but two sides; either a surface is well painted or not well painted. It may, of course, be totally lacking in paint, in which case there is no question about it—it should be painted.

Imagine a street like the one pictured above. On the one side live the careful, prosperous citizens whose property reflects their own sound qualities of mind. On the other live the careless people who could afford to paint up but neglect to do so. If this street were real the residents on the unpainted side could not stand the contrast which their homes present.

Father Time is the judge. Will he classify your home among those that are credits to any community or will he list it upon the Avenue of Neglect?

AN AWFUL ATTACK OF PIMPLES ALL OVER HIS FACE

Pimples breaking out on the face and other parts of the body is a sure sign that the blood is not in proper shape.

While the skin is the object of the attack the real seat of the disease is in the blood on account of the entire circulation being poisoned.

Burdock Blood Bitters quickly and effectually banishes pimples and all other skin diseases as it goes right to the root of the trouble by cleansing and enriching the blood.

Mr. Conrad Anderson, Kelfield, Sask., writes:—"A year ago I had an awful attack of pimples. They broke out all over my face and I could not get rid of them in any way. One day a friend told me about your Burdock Blood Bitters and let me have a bottle he had to spare. After using it I noticed a change, so I bought three more bottles, and now I don't know there is such a thing as pimples."

ROSENEATH DOG TO BE EXECUTED BY COURT ORDER

Court of Revision Held a Meeting and Disposed of Number of Appeals Including Dog Case.

ROSENEATH, June 5.—At the Court of Revision held at Roseneath in the town hall on Saturday morning, May 31, at ten o'clock, one case heard was that of Charles Sherwin, ex-Reeve, on lot 17, concession 3. Mr. Sherwin owns a farm on the outskirts of the village. Within the past couple of years he has sold all the frontage except one lot, for town lots, and on this last summer he built a house. He was assessed the same this year for the farm as in previous years, and also $150 for this lot and $1,050 for the house. Mr. Shewin thought that his farm was of less value with the frontage gone and he also thought that he should not be assessed for the piece of land between the lots sold but that this should be included in the farm.

The majority of the councillors thought that this matter did not lessen the value of the farm and that the lots should be assessed separately the same as the adjoining lots. Mr. Sherwin said that until he asked for village privileges he did not consider that they had any right to separate the said piece of land from the farm for assessment. He has a first class farm of one hundred acres and Reeve Honey thought that he was not assessed enough, as did some of the councillors. The real question seemed to be whether this said piece of land should be included in the assessment of the farm or not. After much discussion a resolution by Councillors Shearer and Arnold that the appeal would not be considered but that the assessment remain as it is was carried unanimously. The ground upon which the councillors confirmed the assessment was that the amount of property disposed of one acre and one-fifth did not diminish the value of the farm and that when this said piece of land was built upon and being occupied it should be assessed independent of the farm property and the same as the adjoining lots.

Statute Labor.

James Barr, seventy-six years of age, who lives at Harwood and owns a summer cottage at Field's Point on the shore of Rice Lake and is assessed for $100 asked for a repeal of his tow days' statute labor Reeve Honey, who was chairman of the Court of Revision said that the council had no power to do anything in regard to this matter and a resolution was passed, moved by Councillor Parker, seconded by Reeve Honey, that no action be taken.

An appeal for rebate on dog tax was read from the late John Braithwaite, said dog being killed since assessment was made, and on motion of Councillors Arnold and Blodgett the appeal was allowed.

It was moved by Councillor Shearer, seconded by Councillor Parker, that the Clerk instruct the constable to go to Thomas Robins and destroy the dog that he is harboring there and on which he refuses to be assessed.

On resolution of Councillors Shearer and Arnold certain land owned by Thomas Spiers and assessed in his name, be adjusted to the name of Albert Steele.

The Indian agent, W. R. Cayle, submitted his report of the land in the Alderville Reserve some of which had been assessed and some which had been rented since the assessor had finished his rounds.

There was much discussion on the rate of assessment for these lands, they being rated in three classes, namely, good, fair and not good.

Reeve Honey and Councillor Parker moved a motion that the rate be $15, $10 and $6 per acre respectively for assessment. Moved in amendment by Councillors Arnold and Sharere that the rate be $12, $8 and $6. The motion carried by Councillor Blodgett casting the deciding vote.

The following is a list of land and assessment: Jos. Braithwaite, 5 acres, $75.00; Herman Blodgett, 44 acres, $400.00; John Burrison, 49 acres, $450.00; Frank Brown, 169 acres, $2,100.00; Chas. Down, 40 acres, $400.00; John Down, 51 acres, $300.00; Frank George, 41 acres, $250.00; Fred George, 32 acres, $500.00; Ed. George, 45 acres, $450.00; Andrew Brown, 29 acres, $300.00; Wm. Brown, 152 acres, $1,350.00; Frank Dowler, 99 acres, $600.00; Steven Herrington, 54 acres, $400.00; Ed. Harvey, 9 acres, $100.00; Thos. Ingham, 3 acres, $50.00; Jos. Vanishing Lakes In Nebraska Are Puzzle

MORRILL, Neb., June 5.—(United Press).—Every twenty years a cycle of lakes appears in the "Sand Hills" region of Nebraska, according to John Hartman, county assessor of Garden county, who finds that tillable land a few years go is now under fourteen feet of water.

Records of the county assessor's office show that certain areas have periods when they are lakes and periods when they appear on the records as taxable farm lands.

Old residents told Hartman that the same hay pastures now inundated were lakes about thirty years ago. During that time the lakes dried up and once again raised crops. Then in the past few years they have once more become buried in water.

All of which complicates the records of Garden county's tax assessor.

IN MOST business offices the front door is labeled "PUSH." Up at Ottawa all the Government doors are labeled "PULL."

"Back was Very Painful I am now Well Again"

Mrs. Wm. Walker, Webbwood, Ont., writes:

"I was sick for several months with my stomach, I had pains in the back, and how I used to dread wash day, for my back would pain so that I couldn't lie down when night came. I also had gas on my stomach, and my appetite was so poor that sometimes I did not care whether I ate or not. The doctor gave me medicine, of which I took a number of bottles without benefit. At last I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and although I have only used three boxes, I am quite well again."

COUPLE FOUND

Mr. Crowell reached Newfoundland about this time with several friends, and the women took charge of Miss Cole. Reporters were allowed to see the couple for a moment, but were cautioned not to try to get the girl to describe her experiences. When they greeted Carter and said they were glad to see him back safely, he replied:

Rattlesnakes Abound.

"We would have been back long ago if I had been able to persuade the young lady that she ought not to be catching rabbits."

The spot on which they were found by Duffy is one of the wildest in northern New Jersey. He said natives avoid the section because of the presence of rattlesnakes and when he and his men go there they use the utmost caution. He said also that wild cats are known to inhabit the region.

The place where Duffy came upon the pair is in one of the highest spots in the Wawayanda Mountains, about four miles from Vernon and twelve miles from Newfoundland. The distance from there to Mountain Lakes, when they started, is about twenty to twenty-five miles as the crow flies but their path lay through mountainous country, beset by swamps and thickets, and they must have travelled a way the difficulties of which are not represented adequately by the mere statement that it was twenty to twenty-five miles.

Duffy came upon it largely through accident. He was out on the Newark watershed rounding up cattle, which the natives turn loose and the inspectors must drive off the watersrhed. While he was going through the woods shortly after 5 o'clock he saw a column of smoke. He thought it was a forest fire and, as it is one of his duties to guard against fires on the watershed, he hastened in its direction to make an inspection.

Following it, he emerged upon a little clearing where an old house had been built by the side of a stream not large enough to deserve a name he knew. There were many old houses on the watershed which Newark bought along with the land and demolished. The missing couple had taken one of these as their camping base.

In a corner of its stone foundation that remained, they had arranged some of the half rotten timbers of the house in the form of a lean-to and within its shelter had constructed beds of boughs.

The man and girl were sitting in front of a fire near the stream cooking a mountain weed called dock in an old tomato can they had found when he came upon them, Duffy said.

"I knew who they were as soon as I saw them," said Duffy over the telephone from Newfoundland, "because I had read about them in the newspapers. When I found a couple out there, the man in a full dress suit and the girl with an evening dress on, I didn't have to be told who they were.

Miss Cole Wanted to Remain.

"I asked them if they were the couple that left Mountain Lakes to live in the wilderness, and the man admitted they were. The girl did not say much then. I proposed that they should come with me and I would show them the way back to civilization. The man seemed willing enough, but the girl did not seem to want to come. She said she wanted to catch some rabbits, that she had seen several but had not been able to catch any."

Publicity Theory Persists.

The publicity explanation of the happening arose from the fact that when it became known the couple had disappeared it was said their wandering off had come after the house party at the Crowells had been discussing a book by Arthur Stringer, a neighbor at Mountain Lakes, in which he had caused his hero and heroine to be cast loose in the Canadian wilderness.

Some of those present are said to have scoffed at Miss Cole's assertion that the thing could be done. "Why, you couldn't even catch a rabbit," one guest is said to have remarked, whereupon Miss Cole is said to have replied that she could do it because she actually had done it. The disappearance of the couple is said to have been due to the fact that Miss Cole resented the guests' reception of her statement and determined to prove it by going out and living in the wilds.

It later developed that a moving picture production is to be made of the book. In this fact, with a remembrance of some of the colorful "stunts" that publicity promoters have devised, those who have clung to the press agent theory of the disappearance.

TOO HAPPY TO LIVE

Note Pinned to Body Indicates Suicide of Pleasure—Sated Youth.

QUEBEC, June 5. — "I committed suicide because I was too happy. I always got what I wanted in my life. My parents are millionaires."

This was part of a note found pinned on the coat of an unknown young man found shot through the head alongside a limousine bearing a New York State license between St. Come-de Beauce and the woods of Jackman, in the Quebec province, near the Maine border. The matter was reported to the authorities at Augusta, Portland, and Quebec. The full not read:

"Do not mind me. My name would be useless to you. But I wish the world to know that I committed suicide because I was too happy. I always got what I wanted in my life. My parents are millionaires. I realized all that it was humanely possible to wish. I do not find life good enough to remain in it. I have a strong longing to find out what there is in another life, and I am going away."

Sunday School Convention Held in Dummer Township

The annual Dummer Sunday School convention was held in Cottesloe Church on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Pastor Chorley conducted the Devotional exercises. Mr. E. N. MacDonald gave a little talk on "Why I Go to Sunday School", 1st: Because he was brought up in a home where everybody went to Sunday School, and every one in the neighborhood did, and they do yet; 2nd: Because (this in jest) in his house now he has to and, 3rd: Because he owes it to the country. The time should and will come when the Protestant Churches are one. Where there are Union Sunday Schools they do well together.

Rev. Manson Doyle laid considerable stress in the fact that prior to 1916, Secular magazines, the best of them, avoided the subject of religion—people did not want it. Gradually, religious subjects, editorials, crept in. Since 1918 these same magazines have articles of a definite and conscious religious urge. They do it because the people want it. It is one effect of the war. There is hope, and hope only for people who serve the Lord. Naturally ministers and people of kindred callings accept this, but it shows a change when others do. Five years ago rural districts appeared very lax. Now there is a feeling of rising expectancy, and this is no accident. The next great drive is for young people. The teen age boy and girl has had much attention. Diffidence, not inability holds the country boy back. He is asked to do something, is afraid and refuses. The same boy goes to town, he is given some work to do, and because it is given him and he is responsible, he does it and does it well.

Standards in the school are simply definite methods of getting at infinite things. In every business the day of gaining ends by storming is past.

Manufacturers and other business men copied the law of putting up standards from the Sunday School. One man is not going to let another beat him. Few are content not to do better, when the standard is put up.

The standing of the different Sunday Schools of the township was charted. Just one school, Cotesloe had a "Teacher Training" class. The standing, one the whole was good, but some very vital points were weak. Worker's conferences are very necessary, not just emergency ones, but regular, planned ones. If there be no steady leading up to decision day, decision day may be wrong. A boy or girl may just do as others do and then there is a wonder why they do not stand. There has been no change of heart or of ideas.

In the organized class each one is responsible and it is simpler and easier to ask someone else to come to our class, than for a teacher of an unorganized class to ask some one "to come to Sunday School to hear me teach." Sometimes teachers in unorganized classes do just as good work, as any. Organization per, set does not do, it enables.

Mr. Doyle was glad to see that Temperance was regularly taken up, in all the schools in Dummer, Asphodel and Dummer were the first two townships in which he found Temperance in every school. It is well, because temperance work has always been, and always will be necessary. Laws are useless unless people are trained in the use of them.

He urged the careful study and use of graded lessons.

Cottesloe S.S. furnished the afternoon music and Cottesloe ladies furnished supper for all who could remain.

Mr. Michael Barr invited all who had horses to bring them to his place for feed.

Evening Meeting.

Rev. F. G. Weir conducted evening devotional exercises. Messrs. F. G. Weir and E. Batten sang "Safe to the Rock" and Mrs. Chorley sang "Make Me a Channel of Blessing" and "What Shall I Say?" during the evening. The collection was over twelve dollars. The new officers were installed by Mr. Doyle. They are: President, Thos. Patterson; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Forsythe; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Alex Darling; Secretary-Treasurer, James Hawthorne; Department Superintendents—Children, Mrs. D. Miller; Girls Work, Miss Cressa Crowe; Boys' Work, Rev. F. G. Weir; Young ePople, Mrs. E. R. Hamblin; Adult, Dr. Munro; Teacher Training, Mrs. Moore; Missionary, Mrs. J. A. Crowe; Temperance, Pastor Chorley; Home Department, Miss Payne.

The next meeting it to be in Warsaw Baptist Church.

In taking office, Mr. Patterson asked was all this worth while? It is, if ever for one. He wished unity of work, to accomplish things undertaken. Mr. Thistlewaite, secretary-treasurer of Asphodel, gave greetings and spoke of Christian influence and example. Mr. Weir gave way to the speaker of the evening. Mr. Doyle began by saying the song, "Make me a Channel of Blessing" faced us in the right way. If one has a gift develop it, some have gifts and do not know it. He spoke of the singing in lumber camps. He said in part, the first theory in the Sunday School program, is the element of worship. Moses got it when he met the burning bush, and was told to remove his shoes—walk reverently. Second theory is instruction-worship, unless it grows into information, develops into form and superstition. Third, training. This is progressive, little children sometimes get a wrong idea. The adult reporter sometimes gets things worse than they are, sometimes better. When children romance it is not lying. And it does harm to punish.

He put in a very strong plea for the Tuxis boys and the Trail Rangers. Their motto is "Jesus increased in Wisdom and Stature, and in favor with God and Man.

It is a literal four-fold education, intellectual, physical, devotional and social, but in no way does it interfere with the Sunday or Denominational program. He cited several cases where these boys standing by their leaders for right had made a great difference in their districts. He also advocated education. The boy who can make good use of even one year at High School will do better on the farm.

No one gets into mischief while busy, it is during free time. Young things develop by play, it is essential. He spoke of some boys who used to play lacrosse. A certain man was icterested in it, and gave the boys drinks. Some good people said the game of lacrosse was dangerous—the game was all right. The boys needed a different leader. A good man undertook to lead the same boys and good came.

Another bunch of boys were given a room for recreation, but there were no plans made for them. They broke furniture and did other mischief. A man who understood boys joined them, got them interested in grain judging, singing and other things, so that the boys went and took an interest in the things done and learned. Before this 10 or 12 per cent of these boys were in church once on Sunday. It was not long before 75 per cent of them were twice on Sunday.

He spoke of charting the individual boy. A boy charted sees himself. There is a difference. One boy, well developed, cleanly, even to detail of brusing his teeth twice a day, not well advanced intellectually. Asked if he helped his mother; no, he did not think. Another spoke up and said how he lighted the fires, got in the wood, water. So Tom acknowledged he did. Asked if he helped others; thought he did not until he was showed he did.

Another boy, not so well-developed nor tidy, but with better chances for education, really did nothing for home, nor for anyone else, unless there was money in it. Extreme cases, but charting showed each where he was.

There will be a meeting of the Dummer Executive on Tuesday, June 24th, in Warsaw. Every member is urged to be present.

ANNUAL REPORTS OF Y.W.C.A.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

During the year ten monthly meetings of the Board have been held besides numerous Executive and many other Committee meetings, the object of all being to plan for and make possible the various activities in which so many of you have had a part, and which are to be reported in detail. It is not necessary that I should mention these.

The Committees have done excellent work, and while largely filled by members of the Board, a number of others have given of their time and service, and to these ladies the Board takes this opportunity of extending its very sincere thanks.

Two special efforts have been made to raise necessary funds. Early last summer Mrs. Macdonald very kindly gave her lovely grounds for what proved to be a most successful garden party, and in November, an appeal was made to the citizens of Peterboro' with very gratifying results. For such generous support the Board is most grateful.

During the year Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., most graciously consented to act as the Board's Honorary Solicitor, an office which has been vacant since the death of the late Mr. Goodwill.

We deeply regret the loss of two members since the last annual meeting, Mrs. Chapman, through removal from the city, and Mrs. James Wood, whose passing last winter, has left a vacancy which will be very difficult to fill. As, I think, a charter member of the Board, one greatly beloved, Mrs. Wood's interest during all the twenty-five years she served so faithfully, and never flagged.

Some one has said: "They are not dead who live in hearts they leave behind," and Mrs. Wood will live long in the hearts of all those with whom she was associated.

Of our staff Mrs. Critikshank has already spoken. Surely the splendid work which has been accomplished by our Association this year speaks loudly of the efficiency and interest of those who are in charge of it. We are fortunate to have with us Mrs. Morrison, Miss Brownscombe, Miss Littlefield and Miss Storey.

S. C. Porter,
Asst. Secretary.

HOME MISSIONS DO GREAT WORK OVER DOMINION

Presbyterian Board Of Home Missions Presents Healthy Report At General Assembly.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Establishes Church On Frontier And Carries Christianity Throughout Canada.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 5.—(Canadian Press).—"To make Canada Christian, for her own safety and for the friendly service of the world, this is the first and final aim of the work of the board that is best denominated 'The Board of National Missions'," says the report of the Home Missions and Social Service Department of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, presented at the General Assembly today.

The task of establishing the church on the frontier, giving the gospel to every scattered settlement and new community whether East or West has been the special responsibiiity of the Christian church. But along with this and equally important in the life of the country is giving this same gospel to neglected districts in great city centres, continues the report.

Financial Position.

"Financially the board is in a stronger position than a year ago, not because of a larger revenue, but because of a policy of retrenchment," says the report. "For 1923 the expenditure for maintenance was $585,823, or $80,000 less than in 1922. This reduction of 12 per cent. was possible only by leaving work undone and fields unoccupied. Keeping these expenditures $44,000 less than authorized by the assembly testifies to a serious and successful effort on the part of this board to relieve the financial strain and tide over a period of great difficulty. The revenue was sufficient to meet the expenditure and to reduce the home mission share of the church's deficit from $100,000 to $45,000. The total number of augmented charges and home mission fields is 979. Twenty-nine augmented charges became self-sustaining. Several of the home mission fields, chiefly for lack of funds, were left for the year without supply.

"The board reports to the assembly that the new minimum stipend of $1,800 has been accepted by practically the whole church. Student missionaries to the number of 246 were appointed for summer work at the annual meeting of the board.

Social Settlements.

"In 'downtown' areas the church is expressing its faith in the gospel of Jesus Christ to save 'even unto the uttermost' through the practical Christian service of the social settlement. In Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver work of this kind is carried on, ministering to 7,817 families and 13,987 individuals. About 2,500 mothers were taken out to 'fresh air camps' in the country and given relief, if even for a short time, from the toil and heat of a congested area in a large city.

Evangelism.

"Ninety-four evangelistic missions were held during the year, the average length of each being two and one-half weeks. No Province was overlooked in these services. During 1923, 160 were admitted to the different redemptive homes and 19 given temporary shelter. Seventy-two women were brought into full church membership on public confession of their faith. Sixty girls were restored to their homes and 60 others were sent to safe positions, while 44 children were adopted into Christian homes.

Home Mission Hospitals.

"There are 14 hospitals and hospital units situated in Ontario and the Western Provinces ministering to all racial groups in the large colonies and on the frontier. One hospital treated 1,800 patients in the year and 95 per cent. of these were non-Anglo-Saxons. This case is typical and gives an idea of the splendid service rendered by the Frontier Hospital. There are now 18 school homes caring for 350 children and young people. Nine other applications are waiting for action on the part of the board. At one centre 235 boys and girls have been educated and most of these are today occupying positions of influence and usefulness in various communities. To educate the children of the country in the best Christian atmosphere possible is to make a great contribution to them and to the nation—this is the aim of the school home.

Indian Work.

"For years the number of Indians in Canada showed a steady decrease. The period between 1911 and 1921, however, recorded an increase of over 5,000. In the various boarding and day schools there are over 700 Indian children in attendance. These institutions are growing in efficiency and a greater number of the children are showing interest and progress in their work. Eighty-four prizes were won at the Provincial Exhibition in Regina by the children in File Hills School and 51 of these were in competition with white children.

Non-Anglo-Saxons.

"The work among non-Anglo-Saxons made very substantial progress during the year. Congregations were more fully organized, and in a number of instances definite financial obligations were assumed by the people. The attendances at public worship has greatly increased, and a new interest in religion is spreading among many of the racial groups. These missions will provide centres around which many of the newcomers will gather on their arrival in Canada. The institutional missions in Toronto, Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie and Edmonton are ministering effectively to their various constituencies, reaching 1,374 families and a correspondingly large number of individuals. The non-Anglo-Saxon is now definitely sharing in the task of directing the life of Canada and is helping to set up standards of conduct and to determine the public conscience of the nation. Young men and women from all racial groups are graduating from Canadian universities and taking their place among the intellectual forces of the country. The Christian church is seeking to conserve and to direct this vigorous young life for the sake of the young people themselves and for the sake of the Dominion.

Department Of The Stranger.

"Stationed at ports of entry and in other cities where large numbers of newcomers gather there are four chaplains, 10 deaconesses, as well as other workers who help these new settlers to forget 'the sadness of farewell' and to overcome the strangeness of the new in the welcome extended to them in the name of the Christian churches. In 1923 new citizens to the number of 137,681 were received into Canada, as compared with 70,153 the previous year. Over 62 per cent. of these remained in Ontario and the Western Provinces."

RUMORS RIFE OF NEW REVOLUTION

Semi-official Statement Denies Reports, But Bucharest Could Not be Communicated With

LONDON, June 5. — (United Press).—Contradictory reports have come from Bucharest during the last two days, some insisting there has been a revolution in Roumania and that troops under General Averescu have forced the government out.

A semi-official statement from Bucharest, however deplores the rumors of a revolution and say that General Avrescu was simply holding a yearly mass meting with his followers outside the city and adds that there were "no incidents."

Rumors Persist

A despatch from Vienna says it was impossible today to communicate directly with Bucharest and for that reason renewed reports of a revolution in Rumania persisted.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Earton

OPEN YOUR MOUTH AND SHUT YOUR EYES

And he opened his mouth as wide as he could.

"Please gimme three cents worth of honey—no; gimme ten cents worth," said Johnny Bear as he waddled into the funny little store in the woods.

"Certainly," said Mister Bags, obligingly. "You get it for him, Nancy; I'm busy."

Nancy got a big spoon and went to the big jar where the honey was kept and took off the lid. The kind of honey that Mister Bags sold didn't come in neat wooden boxes. He had to dig it out of trees, and so he kept it the best way he could.

"Did you bring anything to carry it home in?" asked Nancy.

"Tee, hee, hee!" giggled Johnny Bear. "Of course I did. Here it is. Just put it in."

And he opened his mouth as wide as he could, showing all his teeth and his little bright red tongue.

"Oh, all right," laughed Nancy hopping up on a stool. "Come real close now. Open your mouth and shut your eyes and I'll give you something to make you wise."

So Johnny came as close as he could get, and shut his eyes hard and opened his mouth even wider than ever, and Nancy took a big spoon and dropped ten cents worth of delicious honey right down his throat.

"M-m-m! Gim-m! Glb-b-b! Glp-p-p!" went Johnny, rolling his eyes. "That was positively the sweetest honey I ever ate. Will you please gimme another ten cents worth."

"Certainly!" said Nancy obligingly, hopping down and running over to the honey jar and measuring out the exact amount. "Here you are." Just then Mrs. Bear came in.

"Why, what are you doing here, Johnny Bear?" she said sharply. "Get right down off that stool. Why, I declare, you're all sticky. You've been eating honey," she said suspiciously. "Where did you get it?"

"Mister Bags gave it to me," said Johnny happily.

"Gave it!" cried Mister Bags. "I did no such thing, Johnny Bear. I sold it to you. I sold you twenty cents worth."

"Where did you get twenty cents, Johnny Bear?" screamed Mrs. Bear. "I never gave it to you, and you haven't a cent in your bank. Let me see your twenty cents, young man, right this minute."

"Why, I haven't any money, mama," said Johnny. "I haven't got a cent. I just came in and said to Mister Bags, 'Please give me ten cents worth of honey,' and he said, 'Certainly.' And after a while I said to Nancy, 'Please gimme another ten cents worth,' and she said, 'Certainly.' They gave it to me, you see. Don't you think they were kind!"

Mister Bags sputtered until he could hardly get his breath. "After this I'll do like the Pieman did with Simple Simon. I'll say, 'Show me first your penny.'"

"Johnny didn't need any honey to make him wise," laughed Nancy. "He was wiser than we were to begin with."

"I don't know what you're all talking about" said Johnny crossly. "Will you please give me another ten cents worth of honey Mister Bags?"

"No sir!" shouted the fairyman. "I will not."

FINED FOR SPOONING.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Canadian Press).—George Nelson, of 462 Central Avenue, Brooklyn, was sentenced recently to pay a fine of $5 in Jamaica court for spooning with a girl in an automobile parked in Forest Avenue after 10 o'clock at night. Nelson explained that the girl was his wife but the magistrate held that that made no difference.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

Our children in America are learning the art of careful spending and are saving vast amounts.

The American Bankers' Association reports that the school children in the United States deposited over nine and a half million dollars through their school savings banking systems during the school year 1922-1923.

This represents an increase of three and a half million dollars or 39 per cent over the school year 1921-1922 and six million dollars or 63 per cent over the school year 1920-1921.

The average deposit per child of course is not large amounting to only $3.63 but the big point is the fact that our children are learning how to save systematically and children who early in life learn the art of saving invariably make better citizens.

KEEP RECORDS OF CHARACTER

Personality History Kept By University To Help The Young Men.

WILL GIVE START IN LIFE

BERKELEY, Cal., June 5.—(Associated Press)—Personality records of graduates in engineering, declared equally or more valuable than scholastic achievements, are now kept by the University of California and are made available for manufacturers and other employers of young engineers.

All juniors and seniors are rated both by members of the faculty and by their fellow students as to character, address, appearance, leadership, disposition, popularity, speed in work, accuracy and attention to detail. A student committee is asked each year to rate the members of its class. These ratings are compared with those of the faculty and an average thus is struck. The students' rating, and, according to the university authorities, it has been found that the students are more strict than the teachers.

Professor Blake E. Vanleer, in discussing the system, points out that employers do not select college graduates primarily because of their scholastic grading, but put a high value on personal recommendation.

The personality records are permanent, so that the graduate is protected, with the passing years, against the death or resignation of the professors who know him best.

Professor Vanleer reports that personnel officers from large corporations come regularly to the College of Mechanics to study the data of those about to be graduated, and to check the records by their own observation of candidates for employment.

It is explained that a man need not rate high in every particular to be acceptable. If, for instance, he is rated relatively low in precision and detail, he may stand high enough in other respects to make an excellent salesman or executive; while for research or technological work, diffidence is no bar, though accuracy is necessary.

Traffic Took Hours To Reach Epsom for The Big Derby Race

LONDON, June 5. United Press. —As an example of how many people drove down to see the Epsom Downs Derby run yesterday, whenever the traffic on the road to the race track halted, traffic across the River Thames, 16 miles away, also halted.

Traffic, which started at dawn, was still on the road when the big race started.

On one road to Epsom three lines of motor cars passed in continuous procession for an hour and a quarter without a pause.

A policeman in a balloon, using a wireless telephone, directed traffic.

Forced Himself To Eat

Mr. Clark Wins Splendid Relief from Digestive and Rheumatic Ailments by Timely Use of Famous Herbal Remedy, Dreco.

"Ever since last summer," says Mr. D. Clark of R.R. No. 4, Peterborough, Ont., "I have had a very bad stomach." Everything I ate would ferment and cause gas that felt like a lump in my stomach. My food soured, too, and I had no appetite at all. I just had to force myself to eat.

"I also suffered from rheumatism. My joints were stiff and ached so I could not sleep at nights. Constipation was chronic with me and for years I had been forced to take harsh laxatives to keep my bowels open.

"I was discouraged when I tried Dreco, but this fine medicine certainly went after my troubles and relieved them in short order. I felt better after the first bottle and now my troubles have practically disappeared.

"I have a fine appetite and my food agrees with me. No matter what I eat my digestion is perfect. Better still, my rheumatism has about all gone and my bowels are regular every day."

Dreco has brought relief to thousands of sufferers. Its pure herbal juices go to the spot and quickly put the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in healthy working order, besides purifying the blood stream. Dreco is a splendid tonic to build up the system. It contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Peterborough by Bond's Drug Store. It is also sold as follows:

REV. DR. MACKINNON IS NEW MODERATOR

Elected by Large Majority -- Three Nominations Made.

OWEN SOUND, June 5 (Canadian Press).—Rev. Dr. Clarence Mackinnon, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, is "the wise man from the East" elected as Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the opening of the fiftieth meeting of the General Assembly in Knox Church here last evening.

There were three nominations for the Moderator's chair, that of Dr. Mackinnon, Dr Jonathan Goforth of China, and Dr. A. H. Scott of Perth, Ont.

With the permission of the Assembly Dr. Scott requested leave to withdraw his name, which was granted.

On the vote of the Commissioners, Dr. Mackinnon was elected by a large majority.

In an inspiring address Dr. Daniel Christit, of Winnipeg, nominated Rev. Clarence Mackinnon for the Moderator's chair. "We want some man who is going to represent in the eyes of the Church the fifty years of her history," he said. They wanted a man who represented also the ministry of Canada. There was no man of whom he could think who was nearer to the ideal of the Canadian ministry than Dr. Mackinnon.

BRITISH PLAN TO USE AIRPLANES FOR FISHING

LONDON, June 5. — (Canadian Press).—Following up its policy of trying to beat swords into plowshares, the British Labor Government plans to use war airplanes in catching fish; it is proposed to have planes locate shoals of fish in northern water, it was stated on behalf of the Government in the House of Commons last night. Six planes will be employed in the service, beginning next month.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES SUFFER FROM PREFERENCE TO BRITAIN

British Manufacturers Dumping Goods Into Canada Says Montreal Senator.

PROTECTIONIST APPEAL.

No Trade Concession Received In Return From British Government.

OTTAWA, June 5.— (Canadian Press.) — British manufacturers are dumping goods into Canada said Senator David (Liberal, Montreal) in the Senate yesterday, urging his motion for repeal of the British preference on imports into Canada until such time as the British government grants a reciprocal tariff on Canadian goods or for suspension of the preferential duty until some other agreement has been reached.

He was opposed to the British preference because while we had been making reductions to Great Britain and expecting something, we were getting nothing. The British manufacturers were dumping goods into Canada. They were doing this not only in the footwear industry but also in the woollen industry.

Imports Increase.

Imports of woollen socks and stockings from Great Britain had increased from 2,813,860 pairs in 1921 to 8,101,572 pairs in 1923. Other classes of industries were suffering, and industry was inter-dependent and to injure one was to injure all. He thought that manufacturers should have complained sooner against the British preference, but the question of sentiment made them hesitate, but the placed Canadian sentiment first. He thought we ought to show that we resented the refusal of the British Government to give us any compensation for our fiscal concession and to fulfill the promises and engagements made by the Baldwin Government and we ought not to impose upon Great Britain a policy which they think contrary to their interests.

Can't Afford Generosity.

Senator David urged that conditions had changed greatly in Canada since Sir Wilfrid Laurier inaugurated the British preference. We could no longer afford to be generous and charitable, and at any event, charity should begin at home. An exaggeration of sentiment might do harm especially as in the present case when it was not apprecnated, as shown by the abolition of the McKenna concession but it would be appreciated if we showed that we are not indifferent to the treatment which we receive. In view of the financial situation of the country he thought the Government should reduce the British preference. It is a matter of vital importance he said that the interests of the whole country should supersede all other interests and we were not promoting national unity by satisfying one section at the expense of the other.

On the general question of protection, Senator David argued that the time was not opportune for making the situation worse by frightening capital and sounding the death knell of protection.

Manufacturers Anxious.

He was not surprised that manufacturers were frightened. He never could understand how people could reconcile free trade with our situation in relation to the United States. Our manufacturers might be able to stand competition in open markets, but they could not stand opening our markets to the United States and England without compensation in some form. Judging from what had taken place he had no hesitation in saying that tariff modification would do harm to our manufacturers without doing good to our farmers. As regards farm implements he said the Massey Harris Co. had advertitsed their business, but had received compensation for reduction in duties. Many other manufacturers of farm implements were not as satisfied as the Massey Harris Co.

Opens Free Trade Door.

"I have already said," continued Senator David, "that the worst of the new policy is the declaration made by the leader of the Government and by almost all the chiefs of the Progressive party, that it is only the opening of the door of free trade; and it gives reason to believe that the policy of stability promised by Mr. Fielding is abandoned and will certainly be the cause of depression and fear and discouragement. It will frighten capital, prevent manufacturers from extending their establishments, and instead of increasing their productions, will induce them to reduce it to the great detriment of all our labor people and even of our farmers."

Not Laurier's Policy.

Senator David expressed the opinion that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been in power he would have listened to the representations of the manufacturers and done what the interests of the whole country required, and he said he based this assertion not only upon his private and public utterances but also on the policy which he had adopted when he was head of the Government. He knew when the tariff was changed in 1897 there were some alterations and modifications, but not enough in their nature to destroy the principle of protection which was inborn in the old tariff.

Hon. Mr. Dandurand: "The hon. gentleman will not fail to notice the programme of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1917 when he went to the people."

Hon. Mr. David: "I know that, but I have just said that instead of .is declaration his deeds are there."

Attracted to U. S.

Sentor Roach thought that prewar arguments on economic issues did not apply now. We had raised our income tax to the highest possible point, and to carry on the Government we must secure large revenues from customs and excise. He would oppose any measure that would injure our industries or expatriate our people, but he did not believe the British preference had this effect. Our people were leaving Canada, not on account of lack of tariff protection, but on account of the attractions of the large cities of the United States.

Senator MacCormick had always favored the British preference, but our first duty was to Canada, and in our generosity we should not wipe out capital invested and create unemployment. He would like to see the protective duties maintained and would vote for the abolition of the recent increase of ten per cent. in the British preference.

The debate was adjourned by Senator Webster, Stadacona.

Motor 'buses are run by 134 street railways.

CROP REPORT

The following is a summary of returns made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The lateness of the growing season is manifest in both field and orchard. In many places grain will be sown this week, or supplementary crops will be put in to complete the regular acreage. Corn, potatoes, buckwheat or beans will chiefly take the place of the unsown cereals. The root crops are now being got in. In fact, field work is now showing all the activity of the ordinary mid-May season.

Orchards are coming into full bloom fully two weeks behind, and little harm was done to them by the heavy night frosts of the week before last. Strawberries, however, suffered considerably, all blossom at the time of the frost having been blackened and killed, but there is yet a prospect of a fair crop of this fruit. Grapevines, happily, were not far enough advanced to be injured by the frost.

Fall wheat and clover were slightly checked by the frost but are now looking well. Young meadows give better promise than the older ones. More alfalfa than usual will be grown this year, and less sweet clover.

Middlesex: There has been more alfalfa sown this year than ever before. There is twice the acreage there was three years ago.

Frontenac: Farmers are still taking a chance in putting in grain with the hope that they may get a crop. It would be safe to say that this late planting would constitute about 50 per cent. of the total grain sown.

Halton: Orchards have been sprayed with lime sulphur, and have suffered severely from burning, probably due to cold wet days. Asparagus was badly frozen in all districts; and also the tomato plants which had been set out early.

Lincoln: There is a full bloom of cherries. The late peaches promise cherries. The late peaches promise about half bloom. Apples are just coming into bloom and for the most part promise a full bloom. All the early strawberries bloom has been killed by the frosts.

Huron: Orchards appear to be in good condition although the crop promises to be light. Some of the early apples give good indication, others are almost bare or at least show very slight indication of bloom. Spies are not coming on very quickly, but appear to have a fair indication of bloom.

A lot of the surplus hay is being cleaned up now by the hay dealers at prices ranging from $8 to $10.

Kenora: There has been a very large crop of lambs. One farmer has over 100 at the present time, and reports a very high percentage of twins with very few losses. There has been very little trouble from goitre in pigs and sheep this year this disease last year was the cause of heavy mortality in young stock. There is keen demand at present for dairy cows.

Haldimand: The majority of the sheep in the county have been sheared, and farmers are preparing to ship their wool on the co-operative plan about the middle of June.

Peterboro: Practically all the calves are being vealed here this year; there was over 200 went out from Norwood in two days. It looks as if there would be a scarcity of young stock soon as selling the calves for veal has been going on for two or three years now.

Ontario: Enquiry shows that on the ranching country in the north of the county there are about a normal number of cattle on grass. There is apparently a decrease in the number of cattle on pasture in the south end of the county, many farmers not dealing safe in buying good grass cattle at the high prices prevailing this spring with the prospects of lower markets.

There is a gradual increased interest in dairy cattle. We find many farmers who heretofore have confined their interest to the half breeds are taking up dairying.

Peterboro: Hog raisers appear to be a little uncertain as to the future, as the local papers are filled with for sale ads of little pigs which are selling at from $5 to $6 a pair. Many farmers claim there is more money in them under present conditions to sell at $3 a piece at six weeks old than to feed for six months at $15.

South Simcoe: Last week a medium sized shipment left the county, over 150 hogs were shipped from Alliston, which brought $6.25 per cwt. on the fiat rate. Calves from 5c to 9c a lb. Some good butcher cattle at 7c and choice fat cows at 6c a lb.

REGULAR MEETING ALNWICK COUNCIL

Roseneath Asked to Join With Campbellford in Request for Refund Licenses.

ROSENEATH, June 5.—The May meeting of the Alnwick Township Council took place in the Town Hall, Roseneath, on Saturday, May 31st, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Communications were read first from T. W. Robins stating that he had taken over Orra Robins' contract of cutting the wood and burning brush on a part of the 3rd Concession line, and that he had complied with all orders in detail, and voicing a complaint against certain parties unnamed for dumping garbage in front of his land. Secondly, a communication from Campbellford asking each municipality to sanction in writing a request to the Provincial Treasurer asking him through the Government to return part of the automobile license collected each year to the respective Councils, to be used for maintaining the roads. These were received and fyled.

Mr. Joseph Kelly, a wealthy American who owns a beautiful farm at Shearer's Point on Rice Lake, interviewed the Council in regard to putting a gate across the road in front of his place for water convenience for his stock. Councillor Shearer, whose farm is on the same road, and with the exception of a couple of summer cottage owners would be the only one inconvenienced by it, was willing that it be granted Mr. Kelly. Councillor Parker wanted to know if everybody would be compelled to shut the gate after passing through it. Reeve Honey had no objection, but he thought that the Council had really no authority. Councillor Arnold thought it would be all right if an agreement could be arranged satisfactory and to safeguard the township's rights.

A resolution by Councillors Arnold and Blodgett was carried, that the Reeve be a committee to investigate and arrange about a gate with full power to act.

Reeve Honey thanked the Council for the letter of cheer which he had received from them while he was in Nicholls' Hospital. He also thanked the Clerk personally for keeping him posted on the business of the Council during his absence.

The following Pathmasters were present to receive their road lists: John Drope, No. 13; Irwin Brown, 2; George Clarke, 14; Cephos Linton, 1; John Elder, 2; Clarke and Linton receiving one day's gravelling each on their beats. John Elder asked for one-half mile of gravelling, but the Council thought this was too much for one year, and on motion of Councillors Arnold and Blodgett, Reeve Honey and Councillors Shearer and Parker were appointed a committee to inspect the roads in the west end of the township with power to act.

In regard to the sidewalk in front of Mr. Fred. Sherwin's property, this being laid over from last meeting, a resolution by Reeve Honey and Councillor Parker, Councillors Arnold and Blodgett were appointed a committee to arrange for building the sidewalk.

It was decided to not use the large grader this summer except in cases of emergency, but to use the small grader, which they could hire in the village and do considerable combing to the road instead of so much heavy grading.

Councillors Arnold and Blodgett were appointed to engage a man and team to operate this grader.

Reeve Honey was appointed a committee to interview a solicitor in regard to certain parties closing up blind roads without permission.

Firestone GUM-DIPPED BALLOONS

Until you have ridden on full-size Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords you cannot realize the great forward stride Firestone has made in motoring comfort, safety and car conservation.

With these big tires you ride on from 20 to 30 pounds air pressure. Road shocks, jolts and vibration are cushioned before they reach your car to cause discomfort or depreciation. Driver and passengers are scarcely conscious of poor roads.

With double the usual road contact Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords are the safest equipment for any car. They give brakes a new responsiveness and power. By minimizing skidding and spinning they permit quicker stops. You have better control of the car at all times.

You get equal or better mileage than from regular cord tires. Gasoline consumption averages less. Vibration is reduced, prolonging your car's life and relieving it of squeaks and rattles. With Firestone Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords you get all this without interfering with fender clearance, increasing gear ratios, changing the speed of your car or cutting down power.

Firestone pioneered the Balloon Tire—built the first full size balloon in Canada. It was the result of two million miles of test driving and two year's effort in research. The Firestone process of gum-dipping has made the balloon tire practical. Gum-dipping prevents friction and heat within the tire—allows a carcass that will flex and absorb road shocks without breaking down.

The strength and resilience that gum-dipping gives tires was demonstrated on the race track last year when Gum-Dipped Cords swept everything before them. Again this year the International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis were won on Gum-Dipped Cords. You can trust the sound practical judgment of veteran race drivers, most of whom prefer Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

The present production of the Firestone factory enables us to offer you full-size balloon equipment immediately and at lowest cost. Change over to full size balloons is quickly accomplished with the special change over unit designed, perfected and manufactured by Firestone. Only the rim and spokes removed. No change of hubs, brake bands and other parts.

The most pleasant and economical driving this season will be done on Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords. For a demonstration and details of application to your car, see the dealer nearest you.

KINDLE HEAVEN'S FIRE IN LIVES OF CHURCHES NEED OF CHRISTIANITY

Retiring Moderator Refers to Need of Church Today As a Breath From God Rather Than the Outward Symbol of Church Union — Encouraging Valedictory.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETS.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 5.—Canadian Press).—"However seriously some of us may differ on questions of practical church politics, all will agree that the primary need of the hour is not better organization, or another committee, or a new society to promote some special reform, or even church union itself as an outward act, but a new breath from God to come as a breeze from the hills and sweep through our stagnant lives, a new kindling of heaven's fire upon altars that are cold and bare, a love that is not of earth to fill with new warmth the souls of men."

In the foregoing words did Right Rev. Alfred Gandier, D.D., LL.D., retiring Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, refer last night at the opening of his valedictory address, to the great question which is so prominently in the minds of the clergymen and lay delegates to the assembly now in conclave here.

Dr. Gandier based his remarks on Luke 1, verse 17: "A people prepared for the Lord." His sermon proceeded as follows:

"John the Baptist saw this to be the need of his day. The religious and moral force of Judaism seemed to be exhausted. The old national and religious system with which the Kingdom of God had hitherto been identified was disintegrating and about to collapse in irretrievable ruin. The time had come when nothing would avail but the direct intervention of God Himself, that wondrous breaking through of the Kingdom of God into human history for which the saints of old had looked and longed, and which prophets and apocalyptists had pictured in such glorious imagery. Clearly was it manifest to John that no militaristic Messiah sitting upon David's throne, no setting up of new national institutions, no multiplication of rites and ceremonies—not even his own significant baptism with water would suffice. There must be a new spirit from God, a rekindling of the divine fire within the hearts of men, and so John not merely gave his call to repentance but made the great announcement: 'I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose sandals I am not worthy to unloose; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.'

"This great word of John seems to have gripped the mind of Jesus, for not only do we hear echoes of it during His ministry, but the last words which fell from His lips ere He vanished from the earthly gaze of His disciples were a pledge that in the immediate future this promise of John would be fulfilled in their experience, thus centering in them the hope of the age to come and ushering in the dispensation of the Spirit. 'John truly baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.'

After 2,000 Years.

"Once again, after well nigh 2,000 years, there is a feeling that the existing order waxeth old and is ready to perish, that old institutions no longer avail, and that without some spiritual rebirth human history must end in confusion. The things in which men most trusted have failed and failed on a world scale. Scientific research which had seemed to guarantee to the race a progress unbroken and unlimited, as a matter of fact put the power of gods into the hands of demons, and having whetted the sword for slaughter, now threatens the race with extermination. Great things had been hoped from education, from international law and the growth of world commerce. But when the crisis came these restraining influences were swept away like cobwebs before the elemental passions of selfish greed, envy, jealousy and hatred.

"Not preachers alone, but our leading statesmen and publicists agree that the springs of action must be touched, that the moral and religious life of men must be renewed at its sources, that some new passion of love must be kindled, that we must have the new heart and the right spirit which Jesus alone can give.

"Now, with whom is this Divine renewal to begin? With whom, I ask, if not with us who are the pastors and teachers, the elders and members of the Christian Church, and who already bear the name of Christ? But how is it to come? We know whence this re-creating spirit is to come, but what are the conditions on our part? We cannot command it, or conjure it up by magic art, or bring it down by any aircraft of our construction. What are we to do? How are we to become a people prepared for the Lord?

What is to be Done?

"Primarily we are not to do anything but to put ourselves in a right attitude toward God. The spirit is God's gift, but He comes to a people prepared for the Lord, and the very first element in our preparation is a sense of need and of utter dependence upon God. It is to the poor in spirit the Kingdom of God comes. It is the hungry who are filled, the waiting disciples who receive the Pentecostal baptism, the meek who inherit the earth.

"The experiences of Calvary had brought to the first disciples a sense of shame and defeat and despair.

"And, surely, we present-day disciples of Jesus, have had our Calvary. We have seen our Lord crucified afresh and put to an open shame. All hope of a Kingdom of God on earth has seemed to die, and that at the very centre of Christendom and by the hands of nations called Christian. But, again, the cross will save the world if it sends us back sick and sore and helpless to seek again and realize anew the abiding indwelling presence of our crucified, but living, enthroned, conquering Lord. That way lies hope.

More than Prayer.

"This suggests a second statement. A fruitful Christian experience and effective Christian service are possible only to those who live in personal fellowship with this abiding, ever-present Jesus. Such only are people prepared unto the Lord. Long before the time of Jesus a prophet of Jehovah had declared: 'They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength.' To His disciples, Jesus said: 'Wait. Tarry until ye be imbued with power from on high.' And it was as they waited with one accord in prayer and supplication that the promised blessing came. But the abiding presence and power of the Spirit of Jesus requires of us something more than 'waiting upon God,' in the Old Testament sense—something more than prayer. The Spirit we seek, the Spirit who alone can renew the Church and save the world is the Spirit of Jesus—that same Jesus who walked the hills of Galilee and climbed the steep ascent of Calvary, who lived and loved, spoke and wrought as no other man did; and of Him our one record is the gospels. They are our one source of information concerning the person of Jesus, and through them alone can we repeat the fellowship and experiences of the first disciples. The Gospels are the open door through which Christ and His believing people 'pass to and fro and daily meet with each other.' Nothing can ever supplant the Gospels in the Church of Jesus Christ, for they are our one medium of fellowship with the, real Jesus—the same yesterday, to-day and forever.

Fellowship with Others.

"But fellowship with Jesus links us in a holy fellowship with all other disciples of Jesus, and therein lies another source of power. Away back in the days of His earthly ministry, when the mystery of His absence had not yet become a burden upon the hearts of His disciples, Jesus had said: 'Where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I in the midst,' and in accordance with that promise, the Pentecostal blessing with its realized presence of the unseen Jesus, came to a little group who habitually met with one accord in one place. When Paul prayed for the Christians at Ephesus that Christ might dwell in their hearts by faith, he also prayed that they might apprehend with all saints what is the breadth and length and depth and height of that love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that they might be filled with all the fulness of God. It is only when I learn through fellowship with the believing souls of all ages, all lands, and types, what Jesus and His love have meant to them that I begin to realize what Jesus can be to me. In proportion as my fellowship with the saints widens do I enter into the fulness of God and comprehend the love of Jesus. Alas, how we rend and mar that one body of Jesus by our bigotries, rivalries and divisions! How can the world believe in the oneness of Jesus with the Father, the universality of His religion and the adequacy of His salvation, with Christendom divided as it is to-day, and oftentimes members of the same Church organization jealous of each other, intolerant and working at cross purposes?

Church Union Must Be Real.

"We thank God for our own Church Union movement, but, brethren, let it be real. Let us not be satisfied with any mere organization of three ecclesiastical units into one. Let us seek to make this Union a coming together in faith and hope and love of those who are prepared to give up personal preferances and out-worn prejudices, and to hold nothing of value save as it can be made to serve the common ends of the Kingdom of God on earth. It is a notable day in the history of Christendom when three great historic Churches are prepared to give up pride and prejudice and denominational ambition and to pour the full riches of their past history and their present experience into the common treasury of the United Church that all may be laid at the feet of Jesus for the furtherance of that great redemption to which He sanctified Himself. So new and startling a manifestation of the Spirit of Jesus inevitably arouses opposition from many quarters and does not realize itself without difficulty and struggle, but I am confident that at any cost these Churches will be true to the heavenly vision. In so great an hour, need we wonder if the new wine bursts some of the old wine-skins and brings alarm to the timid? Such disintegration of the old there must be, but in and through it all the Spirit of Jesus at work in this new land is creating new and more adequate forms of Church life and service.

Not Fixed or Final.

"That suggests our final thought. In any people whom God can use, there must be readiness to respond to new revelations from the Spirit of Jesus. There is no such thing as a fixed and final revelation, and so such thing as a fixed and final form of the Christian Church. Jesus did once for all reveal God human flesh, but the significance of our Lord's incarnation and sacrifice must ever be interpreted anew, and that is provided for in our doctrine of the Holy Spirit who takes of the things of Christ and leads into all the needed truth for each age as it comes and each new situation as it arises.

"It was not easy for the Jewish Christians, even after the wonderful experiences of the days which followed Pentecost, to accept the new revelation that 'the Gentiles were fellow-heirs and fellow-members of the body, and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.' But the leadership of Peter and Paul, those chosen vessels of the Spiritmade it possible, and thus it came to pass that Christianity, shaking off the shackles of Judaism, emerged as the ever-expanding life-giving religion of humanity. Freedom to follow where the Spirit leads is the birthright of the Church, and any branch of the organized Church which so defies its past as to give final fixity either to formulated creed or ancient polity has doomed itself to sterility and to death without issue. A creed is or should be the embodiment of the living faith of the Church at the time when it is drawn up, and is necessarily colored, proportioned and shaped by the moral needs, the thought forms and the religious controversies of that age. Surely thoughtful men do not believe that we are forever bound by the exact metaphysical formulae of the theologians of the seventeenth century. If these great thinkers and good men exercised their liberty under the guidance of the Spirit of Jesus to restate the Christian faith in its relation to the needs and controversies of their own time, who shall deny us the same freedom or suggest that the Spirit of Jesus ceased to inspire and teach His people three hundred years ago?

General Appeal of Christianity.

"In His sermon at the ordination of the twelve, Jesus said: 'Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time . . . But I say unto you.' Is it possible that we, ministers and elders, are giving too much heed to 'them of old time,' and failing to hear the words of Jesus for our own time? Has this anything to do with the fact that so many present-day thinkers and moralists and popular writers appeal from the organized Church and its authorized teaching directly to Jesus?

"Marie Corelli dedicated her book 'The Master Christian,' 'To all those Churches who quarrel in the name of Christ,' and put on the title-page this text: 'Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?' Mahatma Gandhi, without professing to be a Christian, preaches Christ and His cross in India, and condemns our Western civilization and our organized Christianity as untrue to the Spirit and teaching of Jesus. It is true that Gandhi, and the whole host of irresponsible prophets and teachers, have put their own interpretation upon Jesus and made their own application of His teachings. Their criticism of existing Churches and the existing social or governmental order is often bitter and prejudiced; but the significant fact is this, that in their reaching out after a new and better day they have made the discovery of Jesus, and have not been able to get away from Him.

Church Must Be Free.

"Amid the controversies of the present hour, one thing is clear—at all costs the Church must be free to obey her Lord and follow the leadings of His Spirit. This is a time to assert anew what our Presbyterian forefathers spoke of as 'The sole headship of Jesus Christ over His Church.' Let the decisions of Legislatures and Courts be what they may, Jesus our Lord shall be Master in His own House and shape the destiny of His own Church. The Church is not a static institution founded with fixed and unchangeable forms by a man long since dead. Our Jesus is the Living One, the Coming One, the Leader of His Church into the ever-widening activities of a larger life. Too long and too exclusively have Christians had the backward look, we need now the upward look and the forward look of Olivet and the Great Commission.

"In a letter from an old class-mate of mine, the Rev. Dr. F. W. McCallum, for many years missionary in Turkey, he describes a conference when representatives of the Ancient Churches of the East, so long static and moribund in the face of an aggressive Mohammedanism, and representatives of all evangelical Churches at work in that near East, met under the leadership of John R. Mott in a Greek Church and monastery on the Mount of Olives. They spent five days together in fellowship with one another and with Him who, on that hill-top, vanished from His disciples as the local bodily Christ that He might come again as the Universal Christ of the Spirit. Their aim was to turn their faces from the past, with its fixed traditions, wide divisions and bitter controversies, and seek to learn from their Ascended Lord His mind and His mission for them all amid the new needs and opportunities of Moslem lands, shattered by war and waiting in their ignorance to be remade by Him whose earthly presence once for all made Palestine a Holy Land.

"It was a noble effort on the part of those Christians, so different in type and heritage, to forget those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, learn the purpose of their Ascended Lord for His Church amid new world conditions.

"May this be for us a mountain top Assembly, where we, too, forget those things which are behind, hearken anew to the Great Commission from the lips of our Ascended Lord, realize anew its significance for the day in which we live, and make our own the all-sufficient promise: 'Lo, I am with you all the days even unto the end of the age.' Then will we be a people prepared for the Lord."

HEART WAS SO BAD HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Mrs. O. E. Fitzgerald, 106 Ross St., St. Thomas, Ont., writes:—"In the Fall of 1921, I was taken ill with my heart, but I did not pay much attention to it. I kept on with my household duties, but seemed to become worse and worse, and finally had to call in a doctor. He said I was all run down and was a nervous wreck. I had a severe pain in my chest which would move over to my heart and it became so bad I could not lie down, as when I did I had such a smothering feeling I would have to sit up in bed till it passed away.

I tried several remedies, but with no good results. Finally, I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took 7 boxes, and I am now as well as I was 30 years ago, and I am now 65 years old."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all druggists or dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

LOCAL LABOR

The Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir:—Last week the City Council let two paving contracts and in the specifications for each one there was a clause inserted specifying that local labor only was to be engaged.

The contractor on Water street started work last week, and what do we find?- Four teams from the country working and local teams standing idle in the stables. Men are working from Apsley, Coe Hill, Lakefield Woodstock, Smith Township, Douro Ennismore, and other places. One man asked for a job and said he was a taxpayer in the city and was passed by for an outsider. Where do the city officials stand on this matter?

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Hemford, N. S.—"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever sold. You may advertise my letter."—Mrs. GEORGE I. CROUSE, Hemford, N. S.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Ala.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial."—Mrs. IDA RYE, Glen Allen, Ala.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers from Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach,' says a well know authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestents that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

WOMEN TALK OF INTERNATIONAL PEACE SOCIETY

Advise Canada to Disarm Since Last War Was Fought in Vain--German Delegate Was Well Received.

AGNES McPHAIL

TORONTO, June 5 (Canadian Press). — An audience composed mostly of women last night heard "Pax Special" delegates of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom advise Canadians to disarm because the last war, which was to have ended wars, 'was fought in vain."

Police were stationed behind the scenes in case of emergency, but their services were not required.

The meeting was opened with the singing of the National Anthem.

Agnes MacPhail, M.P., who presided, informed those present that she did so by virtue of the fact that she was the only woman member of the Dominion Parliament.

The speakers were extended a welcome to Toronto by Rev. Father Burke, Rabbi Brickner, and Rev. E. B. Lanceley.

Ethel Williams, M.D., England, eulogised the Labour Government as striving to bring about a foreign policy which would make for mutual trust between the nations of Europe.

An address delivered in French by Marcelle Capy, of France, told of France having lost some 2,000,000 men in the war, only to later discover that it had been fought for the benefit of steel, oil, and coal interests.

Yella Hertzka, of Austria, who was received with prolonged applause, thought that something should be done to stop glorifying war in school histories. She was opposed to compulsory physical drill in the schools.

The last war had been one of economics, as a matter of fact, "because Austria did not want Serbia to be able to sell her pigs."

Lida Gustava Heymann, of Germany, was received with applause lasting some minutes. The speaker said that she had been opposed to the late war, and had disapproved what had taken place in Belgium.

POWER SHORTAGE WAS SUBJECT DISCUSSION

Storage Facilities in Lake Nipigon Discussed by Leaders in Province.

TORONTO, June 5.— (Canadian Press.)—Serious power shortage at Fort William brought Premier Ferguson, his Cabinet, Sir Adam Beck, Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby and Hydro Commissioner Hon. J. R. Cook in lengthy conference at Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon as a result of which the Provincial Hydro Commission is to secure permission to create additional water storage facilities at Lake Nipigon with a view to ultimate development of 100,000 horse power. At present the Hydro engineers are to proceed to investigate the feasibility of bringing water resources of lakes and rivers north of Lake Superior into Nipigon. At a conference eastern matters were also up for discussion and it is understood that Sir Adam pressed for the right to utilize the surplus waters of the St. Lawrence in the Morrisburg development concerning which Hydro and the Ontario Government are still awaiting Ottawa's approval of Ontario's plans. While discussion on this Hydro problem was lengthy, it is understood no definite conclusions were reached. Kingston's power shortage was also discussed, the city being a customer instead of copartner in Hydro and very much concerned over its power situation. In another year Hydro will have 10,000 additional horse power in which Kingston has no assurance of participtiion.

"We are however," stated Sir Adam, "trying to use ways and means of getting further supplies of power by storage at Belmont Lake from which we might be able to get another 5,000 or 10,000 horse power."

I did not catch a fish, although I

Business is Good

To-day business is good—Every day shows definite sustained progress.

Savings Bank Deposits have increased since December by $12,552,769 or over 10%. Freight Car Loadings have increased by 9.7% over a year ago.

The movement of grain represented by cash receipts is 23.6% greater than a year ago. The balance of trade (that is excess of exports over imports) is 15.7% greater than a like period of last year.

The Canadian Bank Clearings for the first four months of 1924 are 5.6% greater than during the same period of 1923.

Hundreds of individual business houses have increased sales. In our own business, not an isolated case by any means, the months of January, February, March, April and May show substantial increases over the same period a year ago or any of the past three years.

Take a trip down the Main Street of any leading city. People are not staying at home. They are buying from leaders who by their enterprise and thought have made it worth while for them to buy.

True, business is not what it might be in some quarters. That is caused chiefly by lack of effort to make business better. From this same cause unemployment has developed in industries that should show improvement.

Every business house must recover that daring spirit of enterprise—that spirit of sane optimism—not only in trade, but in civic and national affairs.

Fortune will not turn the wheel of better business for us. It is the task of every business executive to turn that wheel for himself and his business by harder work and by more aggressive enterprise. KEEP BUSINESS IMPROVING.

PETES COME FROM BEHIND TO BEAT THE PONIES AT KINGSTON TAKING LEAD IN THE CENTRAL

Charlie Serth Showing World of Speed Goes the Route and Team Mates Are in Behind Him With Smart Defensive Work and Timely Hitting.

WON IN SEVENTH

The fighting Petes are sitting on the world—out in front of the Central Ontario League parade—as a result of their 5-4 victory over the Kingston Ponies in the Limestone City last evening and Oshawa's win over Belleville.

The Kingston game was a great game to win for the Petes had to come from behind twice to turn the trick, and they got a bad break from doubtful umpiring—a break that gave the Ponies three runs in an inning in which they should have been blanked and that would have caused a less courageous team than the Solomon outfit to quit.

After two unlucky starts Southpaw Charlie Serth went the whole route against the Ponies and pitched great ball. The tall left-hander had a world of speed and although he allowed nine hits he kept them well scattered except in one frame, and was unlucky to have had four runs scored against him. Three of the counters were registered after the port-sider had apparently struck out the third man in the inning. Serth is on his way, and his win last evening was a cause of joy to the whole outfit.

The Petes played smart heads-up baseball behind him with plays by Holyman, Johnston, and Harrison featuring. Holyman trapped a man off second at a critical stage in the game, and converted a pop fly into a double play by catching Daley in a trance and shooting the ball to Harrison in time to nip him off the bag.

Johnston prevented a tie score in the eighth by running far into right field and grabbing a fly from Cherry's bat on the run. Batstone was on second and would easily have scored if the ball had got away. Then in the ninth Harrison made a play on the first man up that no other first baseman in the League could have pulled when he lay prone on the ground and took a low, wide throw.

Jimmy Hall helped, too, in the defensive with a fine throw from centrefield to catch a runner at third.

Kelly, Kingston's southpaw ace, pitched nice ball, but was beaten because he could not prevent the Petes from interjecting their hits when they would do the most harm. Thus while the Solomon outfit were held to six safeties, five of them counted in the run-making. Hall's triple in the third was converted into a run. Swanston's single in the fifth blossomed into another and in the seventh the Petes bunched singles by Harrison and Legon and a double by Johston with an error by Compeau for three runs.

Legon came up with two out in this frame and slammed a beautiful single over second sending two counters in to tie the game, and Johnston came through with a double that enabled "Red" to waltz home with the winning counter.

Batstone's hitting was a feature for Kingston, the third baseman getting a triple and two singles in four trips to the plate. The fielding gems were supplied by Teeple and Compeau, Legon being robbed of hits on two occasions by these two players.

The Kingston fans took the defeat very much to heart, and Ball Umpire Nurse of Belleville was surrounded by a hostile mob after the game, the main objection being his decision on Harrison's great play in the ninth. However, the Ponies got any advantage there was in the umpire's mistakes, for they got three runs in the fifth after the Petes looked to have retired the side twice.

The first innings was scoreless. Legon's good bid for a triple was cleverly captured by Teeple. Johnston rolled to Compeau and Holyman flied to Batstone.

For Kingston, Teeple was thrown out by Holyman, and Batstone and Compeau fanned.

Helson opened the Petes' second auspiciously by singling between short and third, and moved to second on Serth's sacrifice. Harrison, however, was called out on strikes, and Swanston rolled a fly to Daley in left.

Ponies Score First.

The Ponies broke in front in their half. It was a quick counter, Cherry cracking a triple to right and scoring on the first ball to Daley, which was a wild pitch. Daley struck out but Rickman got a cheap single on a weak tap back of second. Evans followed with a single past second on which Rickman tried to go to third, only to be slain by Hall's perfect throw to Helson. Purvis lifted a high ball which Swanston took nicely near the Petes' bench.

The Petes pulled up even in the third. Jimmy Hall slammed the first ball pitched for a triple down the right field line. Legon struck out, and Legon flied to Evans. Johnston cracked one at Evans who threw past first, Hall scoring and Johnston going to second. Holyman fanned to end the inning.

In the Kingston half Kelly flied to Hall; Teeple missed three. Batstone singled to right but was stranded when Compeau struck out.

The Petes did not move a wheel in the fourth. Helson rolled to Evans, and Serth popped to the same player. Teeple was under Harrison's fly to right.

The Kingston half was just as punchless. Cherry fouled out to Helson. Daley fanned and Johnston tossed out Rickman.

Manager Solomon's outfit took the lead in the fifth. Swanston singled past Evans into right to open the inning. Hall struck out but Collins moved Swanston to second on a sacrifice bunt to Batstone. Legon's roller was fielded by Kelly who threw wide to first, Swanston scoring from second. Legon stole second, but Johnston's tap to Evans ended the frame.

A Bad Inning.

Bad umpiring gave Kingston a break in their half, and before the inging ended the Ponies had scored three runs and were in front 4 to 2. Evans started with a walk, and after Purvis had flied to Legon, stole second as Kelly struck out. A passed ball sent him to third. Teeple was apparently struck out, but Umpire Allen missed one "in the groove," and the batter finally walked. On a double steal Evans was called safe at the plate, although Swanston after taking Johnston's return throw to all appearances had the runner blocked off the plate. Batstone tripled to right, scoring Teeple and Compeau shot a single to centre, sending Batstone in with the third run of the inning. A fine play by Holyman ended the scoring. Compeau stole second, Swanston's low throw bounding past the bag. Holyman, backing up Johnston on the play made a one handed pick up, and Compeau trying to go to third was caught cold, Harrison making the put-out in the run up that followed.

In the sixth Holyman rolled to Evans and Helson and Serth fanned.

For Kingston Cherry cut a single past Helson but was out stealing, Swanston to Johnston. Daley was safe when Holyman lost his roller. Rickman hoisted to Holyman, who caught Daley asleep and shot the ball to Harrison in time to double the Kingston left fielder off first.

Won in the Seventh

The Petes fought their way in front in the seventh. Harrison started them on their way with a line single to left centre. Swanston flied to Daley and Hall was called out on strikes. Harrison stole second and Manager Swanston sent Heckman in to bat for Collins. Al. obliged with a roller to Compeau who threw low to first. Harrison going to third. Heckman stole second and it was up to Red Legon. The little left fielder showed his mettle in the pinch by whistling a line drive past Kelly's ear and on over second. Harrison and Heckman tearing home with the two runs that tied the game. Legon stole second and Shiner Johnston furnished a passage for the winning run by cutting a fast one past Evans into right field for a two base hit. Legon sprinting over the counting station with the marker that meant the game.

Good defensive baseball helped in Kingston's half. Johnston tossed Evans out to start with but Purvis drew a walk and Kelly singled to right. Serth worked on Teeple and fanned him and then with the dangerous Batstone at bat, Holyman sneaked over and took a quick throw from Serth catching Purvis flat-footed off second.

The Petes had a good chance to add to their lead in the eighth but the necessary hit was not forthcoming. Helson drew a walk to open with and after Serth was called out on strikes. Harrison also strolled but Cherry absorbed flies from Swanston and Helson.

Batstone opened the Kingston half with a screaming single through short. Compeau sacrificed him to second. Helson handling the ball. Cherry shot a fly into short right field that looked like a sure hit but Johnston running out and toward the foul line made a beautiful catch. Batstone went to third after this circus grab but stood there while Serth fanned Daley.

In the Petes' ninth Heckman hoisted one to Compeau. The Kingston short stop then robbed Legon of a hit by a sensational catch of his screaming liner. Johnston fanned.

In Kingston's last attempt Rickman rolled weakly to Helson. The latter's throw was low and wide but Harrison made a wonderful play by stretching at full length on the ground and gathering in the toss. Evans was easy on a tap to Harrison and Purvis hit one to Johnston who threw him out at first.

ORLAND WON GAME AT CAMPBELLFORD

Formal Opening of Season Was Disastrous for Home Team--Score 20 to 8.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 5.—The ball that Mayor Meyers pitched in formal opening of the baseball season in Campbellford had plenty of steam but it struck the ground in front of the plate and bounded high over the head of Catcher Armour. Even at that if the Mayor had warmed up and remained in the box the result could hardly have been more disastrous for the home team, the score at the end of the seventh when darkness ended the agony—suspense there was none—standinf 20-8, in favor of Orland, the grave tragedy of the diamond so far this season.

Campbellford lost the game because the y failed to hit or to field in anything like their usual form. Ingalls the left hander, who was outfielder and spare pitcher for the Warkworth veterans last yaar is fast developing and may now be reckoned as one of the hardest propositions opposing batters have to face. He held the locals down to four hits the only players to land on his delivery being Armour, Hume and Weston. The one redeeming feature of the game from a Campbellford angle was the batting of Weston who made a double in the third and a home run in the seventh driving in Hume and and Eagleson ahead of him.

The Orland slugger maintained their reputation for stick work, every man of the team making a hit, Houlihan, Belford and Downs getting three each. In the fifth inning 18 Orland men went to bat and the score in this frame was 13. Hutton's support was weak and uncertain but his own work was good in every inning but the fatal fifth.

Ingalls retired the locals on one two three order in three innings, striking out three men in the sixth on 12 pitcher balls. Way relieved him in the seventh and Weston's home run was the only tally against him. The work of Houlihan at second base was of the big league variety. If the Orland's can maintain the pace they have set they are likely to be the team upon whom will devolve the task of upholding the name of the Northumberland League in the playoff this season. The line-up:

Campbellford—Armour c; Hume rf; Eagleson, ss and p; Holmes 2b; Weston, 1b; Blakely, lf; Nesbitt, 3b and cf; Hyland cf and 3b; Shillinglaw, cf; Hutton p and ss.

LAKEVIEWS AND CRESCENTS TIED

South-End Team Forged From Behind To Even Terms With The Champions.

GAME ENDED 4-4

The Crescents came from behind in last night's Junior fixture at Riverside Park and evened the score up at the end of the seventh before the game was called on account of darkness. At the end of the fourth inning the Lakeviews were leading by the score of 4 to 0, but the Crescents came through in the fifth with two runs, after Lebarr had walked three men. This brightened things up a little for the Crescents as in the first four innings there were only 12 men to face Lebarr. They came back full of pep in the sixth and clouted Lebarr for another counter, making the score 4 to 3 for the Lakeviews. Taylor who went in as a pinch hitter in Griffin's place in the last innings grounded to the pitcher who threw him out at first. Milloy the next man up, hit to the first baseman, making two down. The Lakeviews shoved out their chests now and thought they had a win tucked under their belts, but when Collins drove out a clean single the Lakeviews fell to pieces. Jones grounded to Cheu who threw wild and Jones was safe while Collins went to third. Masterson hit to second and the run came in, tieing up the score in great style.

The Lakeviews started off early in the game when they walloped the old pill for three runs in the second and one in the third. This looked rather safe for Lou Lebarr's boys, but the Crescents came doggedly on and turned in some snappy fielding that had a lot to do with their come-back. Casey Masterson who twirled the Crescent Midgets to a win on Tuesday evening at the Exhibition Grounds did the heaving for the Crescents last night and turned in a good game. He had a barrel of speed and also worked in some nice hooks that proved very effective. He fanned five of the Lakeviews while his opponent Lou Lebarr who took Frank Whitehouse's place on the mound succeeded in striking out 5 men and allowing 2 hits. Masterson held the heavy hitting Lakeviews to 6 scattered hits, while his teammates had six errors behind him.

Fitzgerald at third was the shining light for the Crescents. He accepted three chances without a slip and came through with one hit out of two trips to the plate. Halliday who did the receiving for the Lakeviews turned in a nice game while Johnston at first showed some old form. Johnny Marchen had the feature catch of the evening when he tore back of second and pulled in a nice fly that would have been costly to the Lakeviews had he missed it. McIntyre also reaped in a nice fly in right field in the third innings.

Vince O'Connel called the balls and strikes, while Jimmie McMarin called them on the bases.

THE BELLEVILLE TEAM WILL BE HERE SATURDAY

Petes' Fine Win at Kingston and Grand Trunks' Loss Yesterday Makes Week-end Fixture of Great Importance.

BASEBALL NOTES

The Petes' fighting win in Kingston yesterday not only put them out in front in President Duff's circuit, but it adds more excitement to Saturday's fixture at Riverside Park which brings Belleville here to clash with the Solomon outfit.

Belleville ran into an unexpected beating at home yesterday at the hands of Oshawa, and the Trunks are fighting mad.

They know they have to win here on Saturday to get up on even terms again, and they are hopeful of stepping into town and clouting out a win.

The Petes cannot see it that way, and are full of determination, declaring that the Trunks will realise that they have been where baseball was played.

It will be a battle of right-handers for Belleville will start either Oulette or Keon, with the odds favouring the former, while Al. Heckman is slated to do the firing for the Petes.

Hallinan and Benson will umpire, and the game will as usual be called at 3 o'clock.

With the Petes in full stride and Belleville nettled at a totally unexpected bump from Dainty, Tyson and company, the fixture should easily be the best of the season, and will attract the biggest crowd, for outside fans are coming in swarms to see the old rivals clash.

Lindsay, Port Hope, and Cobourg are all sending delegations who expect to see fireworks when the Trunks and the Petes tie into each other.

The league standing is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Peterborough	3	1	.750
Belleville	2	2	.500
Oshawa	2	3	.400
Kingston	2	3	.400

Games on Saturday.

Kingston at Oshawa.
Belleville at Peterborough.

Last nights game was the third win in a row for the Petes, two of them away from home, and the third loss in succession for the Ponies, two of them on the home lot.

Jimmy Hare came close to winning the box of socks offered for the first Peterborough home run. His triple in the third innings was almost good for the circuit.

The break came in the seventh, when Manager Solomon sent Heckman in to hit for Collins. The pinch-hitter got a life on a low throw, and Legon and Johnston did the rest with timely hits.

Compeau's grab of Legon's dime in the ninth was a circus play. The ball was hit low and with terrific force to Compeau's right, but the little shortstop clung to the ball.

Catching a runner off second, with two on the bases, only a run needed to tie, and a hitter like Batstone up is the kind of baseball that wins games. Holyman covered cleverly, and Serth's throw had the runner by six feet. Batstone tossed his bat away in disgust.

Manager Solomon started with seven right-handed hitters, and when Heckman was substituted for Collins, Swanston was the only left-handed batsman on the line-up.

Holyman's quick throw to Harrison after catching Richman's pop fly made Daley look foolish. The left fielder was easily doubled out.

Johnston drove in the winning run in the seventh, and saved the lead with a sensational catch in the next frame. The veteran second sacker is in there working all the time, handling six chances without a skip in yesterday's game.

Belleville will have the Mills brothers, Weir, Meagher, Ross, 'Crock' Williams, Casey, and all the old gang here on Saturday. The first clash of the season between the old rivals should be a memorable one.

TIMELY TIPS FOR AMATEURS

SAYS MUDDY RUEL

Catcher, Washington Nationals

Keep trying at all times. Constantly encourage your pitcher. Learn the weakness and strength of the opposition at the bat. Use your head. Never let yourself become fussed at any situation that may develop on the field.

Those are a few of the things I have in mind that a catcher must adhere to if he hopes to be successful as a catcher.

Perhaps no player in the field has more to think about than the catcher. Certainly no player is subjected to the possibilities of a peeve more than the receiver.

For that reason an even temperament is much desired in a catcher. He must be able to adjust himself to the many ticklish situations that face him, without letting this work be affected.

Don't crab at your pitcher. Take him to task if he deserves it, but in the proper way. Encouragement always makes greater progress than discouragement.

CURVE LAKE WAR CLUBS MENACED GEORGE STREET

Chemong Indians Made Debut In Organized Baseball At Exhibition Park.

ARE HEAVY HITTERS

Methodists Piled Up Lead Of Nine In First Frame.

Curve Lake lost to George Street by a 17 to 13 score at the Exhibition Grounds last evening in an East Peterborough League game. It was the first start for George Copperway's brave away from their own hunting grounds and they played good ball considering the fact that it is their first year in organized ball.

The tribe brought down a team who all swing a mean club and they hammered "Scottie" Maudsley hard and far. George Street fell down defensively behind Maudsley except Elliot and Ken Miller in the opposite gardens, who stabbed many fast ones.

George Street will certainly have to play a different brand of ball if they want to get in the first division.

George Street piled up a lead of nine runs in the first innings and blanked the Warriors. But the Guides kept plodding along and slowly crept up on the home crew until in the last innings they looked really dangerous. However, Miller took the slab and held the hard swinging Curve Lake gang.

CYCLE PARADE FOR FIELD DAY

Starts From Central Park Saturday At 1.45 P.M. To Exhibition Park.

RANGERS' BAND OUT

There promises to be a bumper turnout of decorated bicycles for the grand parade on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Frank White, of White's Cycles and Sports Ltd. who has charge of the bicycle section of the Field Day programme is kept busy answering enquiries. He says there is going to be a great crowd.

Those taking part in the parade will line up at Central Park and be ready to start for the Exhibition Grounds at 1.45 p.m. sharp. The presence of the Rangers Band, which, by kind permission of Lieut.-Col. F. L. Bradburn is to lead the parade, will be of additional interest.

There is great interest in the contest in which a new bicycle is to be given as a prize to the boy, not owning a bicycle, who rides in the parade the best home-made bicycle The judging is to be according to the least number of parts.

The prizes are not all ready to be displayed but there are some good ones, all worth competing for. Mr. White wired this morning to have them rushed along and they should be here not later than tomorrow afternoon.

The two mile bicycle race for boys 18 years and under should have a large number of entries.

There are some pretty nimble riders in the City, judging by the sidestepping one has to do to negotiate a street crossing along about the noon hour. Dodging the agility acquired in dodging automobiles, other cyclists and pedestrians, will be of value in the two mile bicycle race.

Even if an entry has not been made with Mr. White before Saturday it will be possible to enter at Exhibition Park previous to the races. It is however desirable that as many can do so should notify Mr. White of their intentions to enter.

China's unused resources are said to be similar to those of the United States in 1923.

THISTLES BEAT WOOLLENS IN A 12-INNING BATTLE

Thistles Beat Woollens 17-16 In Girls Softball League—Game Went 12 Innings.

Last night at Central Park the Thistles and the Canadian Woollens supplied one of the snappiest games witnessed in the Girls Softball League this year. The Thistles won but only after 12 innings of hard battling. It was a great game and attracted a large crowd. The Canadian Woollens looked like sure winners when they sent three runs across in their half of the ninth but the Thistles came right back in their half and tied the score, necessitating extra play. Both teams went scoreless in the tenth and eleventh innings, but the Thistles scored one in the twelfth to win the argument.

Both teams played snappy ball, good fielding and hitting featuring the contest.

Miss B. Vincent did the pitching for the Thistles and turned in a great game. She was given good support by her team-mates

Miss Patterson who did the heaving for the Canadian Woollens also turned in a good game. Her teammates also gave her good support, and there was very little difference in the playing of either team.

The following are the players:

CLARKSON TELLS COMMITTEE OF MURDOCK'S BANK WITHDRAWALS

E. Gus Porter's Effort to Examine Witness Blocked by Investigators at Ottawa.

DIVISION WAS 18 TO 4.

Funds Not Withdrawn After Close of Bank Business.

OTTAWA, June 5. — (Canadian Press). — Geoffrey T. Clarkson, liquidator of the Home Bank, appeared before the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House of Commons yesterday and gave evidence in regard to the withdrawal of $4,050 from the Ottawa branch of the Home Bank by Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, two days before its failure. Mr. Clarkson told the committee that he had been informed in the first place that the withdrawal had been made by Mr. Murdock after the close of business, but that he had since learned from the manager of the Ottawa branch that this was not the case.

The evidence of Mr. Clarkson consisted largely of a review of the correspondence which passed between him and Mr. Murdock, resulting in the return of the money. An effort by E. G. Porter, Conservative member for West Hastings, who made the charges in the House of Commons to examine the witness in regard to a meeting of directors of the bank which took place on August 15, 1923, was ruled out by Chairman Joseph Archambault. Mr. Porter appealed and the chairman's ruling was sustained by 12 to 4.

Review of Account.

Mr. Clarkson traced the history of Mr. Murdock's savings account in the Home Bank from July 3rd, 1923, when a deposit of $4,000 was added to the balance, up to the date of failure. He stated that the amount of $4,050 was withdrawn on August 15, leaving a balance at the close of that day of $100.24. On the date of failure, the amount at the credit of the account was $80.24.

Mr. Clarkson stated that his attention had first been drawn to the account by newspaper articles about three months ago. He had felt it necessary to pursue the matter because he believed that if money was withdrawn just before a failure by a person who had knowledge that a bank was going to fail, the liquidator was legally entitled to recover the amount of the withdrawal.

On May 7, he had written to Mr. Murdock in regard to the matter. A copy of the letter, which was the same as that read by the Minister in the House of Commons, was produced by Mr. Clarkson.

Mr. Murdock had replied on May 14, saying that he would return the money although he did not think he was legally bound to do so. Mr. Murdock had enclosed his cheque for $1,050 in that letter.

Full Amount Returned

Since that time the full amount, less the dividend to which Mr. Murdock was entitled, has been returned. The amount of Mr. Murdock's final cheque was $2,115.08.

At the request of Mr. Porter, Mr. Clarkson turned up the minutes of a meeting of the board of directors of the Home Bank held on August 10, 1923. Mr. Porter was proceeding to question Mr. Clarkson in regard to this meeting when Lucien Cannon, Liberal member for Dorchester, objected. What connection was there between this meeting and a withdrawal by the minister, he asked.

Chairman Archambault informed Mr. Porter that the inquiry must follow closely the reference, and he could not see that his questions were in order. Mr. Porter replied that there was such a thing as circumstantial evidence. If he was not to be allowed to get at all the circumstances surrounding the case, he was deprived of "most of his powder". He wished to show that the condition of the bank was known some time prior to its failure.

There was considerable discussion on the point, but Mr. Archambault persisted in his objection.

Blocking Inquiry

E. B. Ryckman, Conservative member for East Toronto, intimated that if these questions were not allowed it would constitute an effort to block inquiry. Hon. Jcaques Bureau immediately denied this. "We're not trying to block inquiry?" he said.

Mr. Porter said he was not going to insist. He was not here to prove the minister guilty at all costs.

Mr. Bureau: "Oh yes you are."

Mr. Porter: "Don't say that. If the minister can clear himself I shall be quite satisfied. I am not here to get a conviction at all costs."

At this point Mr. Murdock rose. "Please let them go as far as possible in justice to me," he said to the chairman.

Mr. Archambault replied that he was sorry, but he could not allow extraneous evidence. If Mr. Porter wished to do so, he was at liberty to summon the directors of the bank from whom first hand evidence as to what happened at any directors meetings could be obtained

Revelant Evidence

Mr. Ryckman protested against the ruling, and Mr. Porter finally appealed against it to the committee. He thought thathe was fully aware of what was revelant as evidence, and as he intended to make his argument on this, as well as other evidence, he wished to know if it was to be submitted.

The ruling of the chair was sustained by a vote of 18 to 4. Much amusement was caused when Mr. Porter answered "yes" to the question, thus supporting the ruling. He corrected himself without delay, however, and his vote was recorded as "no".

Claims for Withdrawals

In answer to questions by W. M. German, Liberal member for Welland, Mr. Clarkson claimed that he had from fifty to seventy-five claims for withdrawals, practically all of which were made on the date of failure. Some of these were in negotiation, others in litigation and others in course of preparation for the courts. Mr. Murdock's withdrawal was made on August 15, two days before the bank failed.

Mr. Cannon asked Mr. Clarkson why he had written to Mr. Murdock in regard to his withdrawal and had communicated with no one else who had withdrawn money.

The witness replied that his only reason for taking the matter up with Mr. Murdock was that he had been informed by newspapers and bank officials that the withdrawal was made after the minister learned the condition of the bank. He could not recall the names of the bank officials referred to. If he had learned that any others had withdrawn their money with knowledge of the bank's condition on August 15, he would have taken similar action in regard to them.

Ottawa Withdrawals

Mr. Clarkson said that total withdrawals made at the Ottawa branch on August 15, amounted to $8,103. Of this, Mr. Murdock drew $4,050, the remainder being withdrawn by 62 other persons. On the following day, withdrawals totalled $16,088, but of this amount $7,033 had been drawn by the Minister of Finance and approximately $5,000 by the Capital Trust Company, which deposited on the same day. On August 17, withdrawals totalled $13,937 of which $10,000 had been drawn by the Capital Trust Company, which again deposited.

METHODISTS VISIT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Honors Paid to Distinguished Visitors -- No Debate on Church Union.

OWEN SOUND, June 5 (Canadian Press). — A feature of the session of the Presbyterian General Assembly here to-day was the visit of Rev. Trevor Davies, of Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto, who brought greetings of the Methodist Communion in Canada.

Dr. Davies created a fine feeling in both sections of the Assembly which stood to receive him, and accorded him the same honour as he departed.

Following Dr. Davies, Mayor Christie, who was honorary chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the Assembly, and is a prominent member of the First Methodist Church here, extended a formal welcome to the Commissioners.

The Assembly is determined to push the regular business this year and this afternoon is going to deal with some of the most important routine work.

The Committee on Church Union met and adjourned this morning, and it was stated that there was nothing at present to submit to the Assembly.

The matter is slated to come tomorrow afternoon, but it is believed that nothing will be done then unless there are unexpected developments at Ottawa.

The committee will likely be in session on Monday.

It is generally conceded that no debate on union can occur at the Assembly, as the Moderator would rule that 'has been finally decided as far as the Assembly is concerned."

LONDON, June 5.— (Canadian Press Cable.)— Premier MacDonald's decision to invite distinguished judges from the Dominions to act on a committee to solve the constitutional and legal issues involved in the Irish boundary commission is regarded by the Daily Chronicle as founded on precedent supplied by the Dominion of Canada Act.

This Act, the paper points out, provides for an appeal from decisions of the Canadian courts on questions affecting the interpretation of the Act.

The Chronicle expresses the belief that this will be the first time such power of consultation has been invoked.

AT THE CAPITOL

REGINALD DENNY ATHLETIC ACTOR IN CAPITOL FILM

Reginald Denny's wonderful swimming and diving ability came into play in his latest Universal-Jewel production, "Sporting Youth," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

Although the picture is essentially a story of automobile racing, there is one spectacular scene where Denny dives from a cliff into the ocean and swims several hundred yards to a motorboat.

Denny is rated as one of the aquatic aces of the Hollywood picture colony, and there was some talk last summer of his attempting the swim from the Southern California coast to Catalina Island, a distance of thirty-five miles. Denny was working on the racing picture during the summer months, however, and the marathon swim was never staged.

Shortly after he finished the picture he was seriously injured in an automobile accident and tied to his bed for many weeks.

"Sporting Youth" is a high-powered story from the pen of Byron Morgan, who became famous several years ago through his automobile racing stories which were published in the Saturday Evening Post. Several of the stories were filmed, featuring the late Wallace Reid. This picture required several months to make, involving location trips to Monterey, Del Monte, San Luis Obispo and Balboa Beach. Harry A. Pollard, who made the famous "Leather Pushers" series, directed the filming of the new Denny special.

The cast includes Laura La Plante, Hallam Cooley, Malcolm Denny, Lucille Ward, Frederick Vroom, Henry Barrows, L. J. O'Conoor, Rolfe Sedan, C. L. Sherwood and William A. Carroll.

FINAL EPISIDE OF RUTH ROLAND SERIAL COMES ON SATURDAY AT CAPITOL.

"The Haunted Valley," the serial starring Ruth Roland, which has been shown every Saturday for matinee for some weeks past, at the Capitol, will come to an end next Saturday matinee, when the final episode will be shown. A new serial will be announced shortly.

AT THE REGENT

PREMIERE OF NEW FILM ON BOARD "LEVIATHAN."

Cosmopolitan's "Little Old New York" First Shown on Ship's Maiden Trip Across Atlantic.

The most novel premiere of a photoplay in the annals of motion picture presentation was that held on board the steamship Leviathan, when the United States Shipping Board started it on its maiden trip across the Atlantic. The picture was "Little Old New York," Cosmopolitan's new photo-drama, starring Marion Davies.

The picture, which was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed from Rida Johnson Young's popular stage play of the same name and directed by Sidney Olcott, received a reception which vied in enthusiasm with that accorded to the new queen of the American Merchant Marine as it slipped from its dock and started on its first transatlantic trip as an American operated vessel, "Little Old New York" has been booked as the attraction at the Regent Theatre, beginning to-day.

The United States Shipping Board could not have picked a more appropriate production to show to the passengers of the Leviathan on this trip. Not only does the photoplay narrate a pulse-quickening and fast-moving romance laid in the picturesque New York of more than a century ago, but it also gives to the screen a graphic illustration of the great strides made in the shipping industry during the last 114 years.

As the giant Leviathan, embellished with all the conveniences that are associated with Twentieth Century luxury, placidly cut its way through the waves, there was not a passenger on board who could help but draw a mental picture of the inception of the steamboat, Robert Fulton's crude paddle-wheel embryo, which first churned its way up the Hudson River to the amazement of sneering skeptics more than 100 years ago. The historic trip of the Clermont up the Hudson constitutes one of the most interesting episodes in "Little Old New York." It is vivified on the screen in the most realistic manner. Robert Fulton, himself, appears as one of the principal characters. All of this, the passengers on the Leviathan saw when "Little Old New York" was screened to inaugurate the entertainment program, provided on the new ocean liner of the United States Shipping Board.

Other noted personalities whose efforts were instrumental in giving New York the momentum that has made it the wonder city of the world, also tread their way through this romantic photoplay. Among these historical characters are John Jacob Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Henry Brevoort, Washington Irving, Delmonico and many others.

The cast assembled in support of the star is a brilliant one, including many players prominent on both stage and screen. Playing opposite Miss Davies is Harrison Ford. Others in the cast are J. M. Kerrigan, Courtenay Foote, Mahlon Hamilton, Louis Wolheim, Andrew Dillon, Sam. Hardy, Norval Keedwell, Gypsy O'Brien, Charles Judels, Elizabeth Murray, Mary Kennedy, Harry Watson, George Barraud and Spencer Charters.

ADVENT OF NEW WESTERN PICTURE HERALDED BY "THE HUNTRESS" AT ROYAL NOW

New Comedy Drama Eschews Familiar Paraphernalia and Otherwise Gets Off Beaten Path

Gone is the branding iron, gone are the chaps, gone are the pinto ponies and the two-gun man.

The new "Western" is here.

No longer does the motion picture patron have to rely on the Indian and cowboy fight—and the long wait for the relieving party of United States cavalrymen—for his thrills.

The new Western supplies them in a far different manner. The thrills in the modern Western are true dramatic thrills—built on plausible situations and well constructed drama.

In no phase of motion picture advancement is the evolution of the screen more noticeable than in its plays of the West. The "Wild and Wooly West," as presented on the screen of yesterday, has gone into eclipse.

The trend of the new Western is no better demonstrated than in "The Huntress," a story of the Northwest Indian country, which was filmed by First National in the most picturesque section of the California and Nevada High Sierras, and serves as a vehicle for Colleen Moore, who was recently elevated to stardom by First National.

This picture, with its magnificent natural settings as a background, and with a cast of players which bespeaks its value as an entertainment, is to be presented to-night at the Royal Theatre.

In "The Huntress," an adaptation by Percy Heath of Hulbert Footner's popular novel, a story of the true West is presented and there's nary a cowboy in it, nor a branding iron, nor two-gun men.

The story centres about a white girl reared among Indians, who, in order to win a white husband, kidnaps a young man from among a party of four adventurers who come into that country prospecting.

Unlike the blood and thunder "Western" of the past, "The Huntress" is intensely realistic, logical and plausible. True incident is the basis of the story structure, incident which had its tragic phase, albeit its funny side. And the author saw the humor of the situation and developed it—without sacrifice of its pathos. In transcribing the story to the screen, it is said that the director enhanced these values.

In her characterization of Bela, the heroine of this refreshing comedy-drama, Colleen Moore will be seen in a role befitting her rise to stardom, and she is said to have made full use of the opportunities provided. Lloyd Hughes plays opposite Miss Moore, and Russell Simpson, Walter Long, Snitz Edwards, Charles E. Anderson and Wilfred North have important supporting roles.

WEDDING BELLS

DAVIS—SANDFORD.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place in Windsor, Ont., on Saturday, May 24th, of Ellen Isabel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandfield, of Eldorado, Ont., to Cecil Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Davis, of Bethany, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Davies, of St. George's church. The happy couple will reside in Detroit.

DAVIDSON—DONALDSON.

BAILIEBORO, June 5. — A very pretty wedding was solemnised at the home of Mr. Thomas Donaldson on Tuesday, 3rd June, when Edna Mary (May), eldest daughter of Mr. T. Donaldson was united in marriage to John Herbert, son of Mr. T. Davidson, of Camborne.

The bride, who was becomingly gowned in a dress of bisque-coloured satin crepe, entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the bride's niece, Miss Jean Donaldson.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome wrist-watch and to the pianist a bar-pin.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. McConnachie, of South Monaghan.

After the ceremony a dainty dinner was served to about forty guests.

The happy couple left from Port Hope on the 6.40 train for a short honeymoon to points West.

The bride travelled in a navy blue tricotine suit, black hat, and smart red fox neckpiece. On their return they will reside at Camborne.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The good wishes of a host of friends follow her to her new home in Camborne.

GRIFFIN—PAGE.

The marriage took place on 2nd June, at 8.30 a.m., of Doris, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Page, to Charles Griffin, youngest son of Mr. W. T. Griffin. The bride was charmingly attired in white satin and lace and bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. Miss Hilda Taylor acted as bridesmaid, and was attired in mauve crepe de chine, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses. Mr. George Griffin acted as best man. The honeymoon will be spent in Hamilton and Niagara. Rev. Harold Young performed the ceremony at George St. Methodist Church.

COATES—GORMAN.

A very pretty early June wedding took place yesterday at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Toronto, when Mary Vera, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gorman, became the bride of Mr. Norman Robert Coates of Chicago, Ill., formerly of Toronto, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Coates, Toronto, Rev. Mgr. J. L. Hand officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a beautiful gown of orchid georgette and picture hat of leghorn. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of lily of the valley and orchids. She was attended by her two sisters, Miss Marguerite Gorman and Mrs. E. J. Hanrahan of Montreal, gowned alike in pretty dresses of shell pink georgette and lace and picture hats to match. They carried shower bouquets of Ophelia roses. Mr. Vincent Ryan of Montreal was best man. During the nuptial Mass appropriate solos were sung by Miss Muriel Travers, Mr. E. J. Hanrahan, Montreal, and the children's choir of St. Paul's Church.—Toronto Globe.

The bride, with her parents, were former residents of Peterboro, and are well-known in the city.

LOWTHER—MANLEY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manley of Villiers, when their eldest daughter, Irene Isabella, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Samuel William Kenneth Lowther, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowther of Selwyn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Young of Peterborough.

The bride, who was attired in a handsome gown of white silk crepe de chine, the gift of her hostess, Mrs. H. C. Winch, where she had been employed for two years, crossed the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march, played by the bride's cousin, Miss Rita Singer of Campbellford, to a picturesque arch decorated with evergreens, roses and white streamers, erected on the lawn, where the ceremony was performed.

The bride's veil was held daintily in front by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Manley, who was attired in a beautiful gown of pink floral silk, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Miss Dorothy Elliot, cousin of the bride, acted as ring-bearer, and was daintily gowned in white crepe de chine. Mr. Arthur Webster of Lakefield, acted as best man.

After the ceremony and signing of the register, about fifty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, in a very prettily decorated drawing room of white and pink.

Amid showers of confetti and the heartiest congratulations, the happy couple left on a motor trip for Omemee, Lindsay, Cameron, Fenelon Falls and other small places.

The bride's travelling suit was of sand tricotine, with hat, shoes and stockings to match, wearing an opossum choker, the gift of the groom.

The groom's gift to the brides's maid was a set of handsome pearls; to the ring-bearer a gold bracelet, and to the best man a gold tie pin.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Shepphерd, D. D., chaplain to His Majesty King George the Fifth and other members of the royal family, in the Church of St. Martin in the Fields.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Alfred Walker, of the Massey-Harris Company, and amongst her attendants was her sister, Mrs John Guest, wife of the headmaster of Appleby School, Oakville, Ontario.

Mr. Buhler was for two seasons a senior instructor in pianoforte at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, besides being a most brilliant concert artist himself.

He resigned from the local conservatory last August for study and a concert tour in the British Isles and Southern Europe and following the consummation of these plans became assistant to the principal of the Mathay School of Music in London.

It had been arranged by Mrs. Buhler (nee Walker) to go to England in the spring with her distinguished father and have him present at the ceremony, but the great banker's illness and consequent death interfered and the wedding was held very quietly.

Mrs. Buhler left the city accompanied by her sister and brother April 29th and will honeymoon in Europe previous to taking up her residence in London.

Mr. Alfred A. Walker and Mrs. Guest are expected back in the city next week.

The above report appears in last nights' Toronto Star. Carlos Buhler was a member of the visiting teachers' staff at the local Conservatory of Music last year. He was Miss Agnes Logan's instructor here, and has been teaching her in England also.

Crowds jammed the station, filled the plaza fronting the station, and "banzaied" as the Ambassador, with his aged invalid mother-in-law, Mrs. Marchand, on his arm, made his way through the throng with difficulty with the aid of the police.

Canadian Stock Exchange and Mines | New York Stock Exchange and Curb Prices

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS AND OPINION AND REVIEWS OF THE MARKETS.

MINING STOCKS.

Trading this morning was in the higher priced stocks and most of the gains recorded were in this class.

The bulk of the trading was in Keeley which advanced to 245. Beaver closed at 19½; West Dome sold at 24; Hollinger advanced to 13.00, while Dome sold at 16.90. The activity of the last few days can be looked for the market has a lot of things to discount. Toronto and Montreal markets were a little more active, the papers firmed up fractionally from last night's close. Toronto rails sold up to 9.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The New York market was active this morning with trading centred in the rails which all showed advances. The oils were inclined to sell on the report of a further cut in gasoline. Some of the sugar stocks were weak. The market is still acting under restraint however and the swings will be short either way.

SAYS JAPAN WON'T FIGHT.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 5. — "Japan will not go to war with the United States over the exclusion differences; the two countries would be foolish to fight over such a thing. After all, the United States has a big racial problem which Japan has not. Janan is one united nation."

The Admiral arrived from the East on Tuesday, having spent the last six weeks in the United States, and will sail to-day on the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Asia for home.

TRUE BILLS OF MURDER RETURNED BY CHICAGO GRAND JURY AGAINST YOUTHS WHO SLEW BOY FOR THRILL

States Attorney Purposes Proceeding With Trial on July 15 — The Defence Lawyers Seek Delay Until Public Passion Has Cooled--Summary of Evidence Gleaned From Jury's Hearing.

Money Already Working.

CHICAGO, June 6 (Canadian Press).—The Grand Jury hearing evidence against Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons, and confessed kidnappers and slayers of Robert Franks, schoolboy son of a Chicago millionaire, voted true bills last night against each youth, charging them with murder and ransom by kidnapping, each crime punishable by death.

While State Attorney Crowe was hurrying the presentation of evidence and hearing of witnesses before the Grand Jury, he also took precautions to prevent any failure of memory, on the part of any of his witnesses. He said:

"I have sworn statements from every one of the witnesses, and if any one of them deviates from these he will be prosecuted for perjury."

State Attorney Crowe, bit by bit with evidence, and word by word with testimony, drew near to the last link of what he says will be an absolutely unbroken, perfect hanging case.

Through the stories of the witnesses, freaks of chance were apparent without which the slayers never would have been apprehended, or, apprehended, never would have been broken and driven to confession.

Discovered Body.

Tony Minke, a watchman of Robey, Ind., told of the discovery of the body. It chanced he was passing the spot just at the time a ray of sunlight plumbed the recesses of the culvert, and lighted upon the foot of the dead lad.

By chance, Paul Korff testified, he stumbled over the glasses Leopold had dropped thirty feet from the body.

Jacob Weinstein, of Almer Coe & Co., optometrists, added another freak of chance when he told of finding the record, among 100,000 others, that traced the glasses to Leopold.

He had read the description of the glasses sent to all opticians, optometrists, and oculists, and had searched through the files to locate the person for whom the lenses were ground.

Witness Thanked.

Weinstein received the public thanks of State Attorney Crowe for his efforts in tracing ownership of the spectacles. He told the jury he is employed by Almer, Coe & Co., opticians, and that he had gone over all the records of sales until he came to the prescription and frame that were identical with the spectacles shown to him by Sergeant Courtland.

William Herndon, former assistant manager of the Renta-Car Company, said Leopold and Loeb came to his office, representing themselves as Mr. Morton and Mr. Ballard, and gave as addresses the Morrison Hotel and later the Trenier Hotel. He said "Ballard," who said his home was in Peoria, Ill., arranged to rent an automobile.

On 9th May,' 'Ballard" used Car 18, Herndon testified, and on 21st May, the date of the murder, the same man rented Car 17, which has been identified as the one in which the murder was committed.

Kenneth MacBurney, present manager of the firm, told of seeing Leopold last Saturday, and identifying him as Ballard, the renter of Car No. 17.

"I remembered his name, and when he came into the State Attorney's office to be shown to me, I said to him, 'Hello, Ballard!'"

Blood-stained parts of the automobile were shown to him and he informed the jurors of his certainty that they were from Car No. 17. He told of a rule of the company that a car renter who had to buy gasoline was reimbursed upon presentation of a receipt for it.

"Ballard said he had bought five gallons of gasoline," MacBurney said in response to a question. "I asked him for the receipt and he said he didn't get any. I couldn't see how he ran out of gas when he drove the car only 118 miles. He said it didn't amount to anything, and he didn't want the money."

All Evidence Circumstantial.

Clarence Darrow, who heads the defence, outlined two points which will come in for lambasting from the start:

That Leopold and Loeb signed only stenographic notes of their confession to the murder and no transcripts were made.

Prevention of testimony of all who heard the incriminating statements made by the two youths.

In case the confession and the witnesses who heard it are stricken out of court, Darrow says the state will not have a flick of positive evidence to offer in the murder case. All the evidence to date is circumstantial, he pointed out, as there is no one who saw the murder or saw young Franks with the two confessed slayers.

The State Attorney disclosed a book that had been found at Leopold's home with names of intended victims in it. Among the names are S. Deutsch, grandson of Julius Rosenwald, Junior Harris, son of the multi-millionaire, S. H. Harris, and John Levinson, son of Solomon Levinson, a prominent attorney.

Young Levinson was approached by the two slayers, but refused to get into the motor car with them.

"Loeb became alarmed and went away. He and Leopold went to Loeb's home and obtained a pair of field glasses. Then the two young men sat in their car two blocks from the Harvard School, and watched for their intended victims to leave. Fortunately for Deutsch and Harris, they were in company of other boys.

"So the two began cruising about the neighbourhood, and finally ran across young Franks. The rest of the horrible story the world knows," Crowe said.

Found Set of Scalpels.

The investigators at the Leopold home also ran into another phase of the peculiar life of the confessed slayers. In a case in the house was a perfect set of surgery tools, many of the instruments which could be used only in dissecting parts of the human body.

In the set were several scalpels, their edges sharpened to a razor like finish. The complete surgery outfit was discovered by detectives late last night.

The two millionaire youths were classified "among the worst fiends in history,' by the State Attorney.

This followed upon word that Crowe had received proof of the two boys' complicity in two other fiendish Chicago crimes—the assault upon the taxicab driver, Ream, and the murder of Freeman L. Tracey, the former University of Chicago students.

Two detectives announced that they have positive evidence connecting the youths with the murder of the college students.

Leopold and Loeb will then be arraigned on Monday, and Crowe will ask that the date for the trial be set on 15th July—the earliest possible under Illinois law.

Darrow, meanwhile, is expected to attempt to delay the trial. He believe a fair trial cannot be obtained until public opinion and mob hysteria have cooled.

Marshalling Nation's Lawyers.

Darrow was lining up many of the nation's leading criminal lawyers as possible aides for the defence. An initial defence fund of $1,000,000 has been placed at his disposal. He is to use it obtaining the best possible legal talent.

Among the attorneys said to be considered by Darrow are:

Samuel Untermeyer, Max D. Steur, and William T. Jerome, New York; and Charles E. Erbstein, W. W. O'Brien, Patrick H. O'Donnell, Ben Short, Michael Ahern, William Scott Stewart, and J. Hamilton Lewis, Chicago.

Their combined fees, if all are engaged, probably will run into several millions of dollars.

Darrow, it is understood, has received a temporary retaining fee of $25,000.

Killing at Premium.

A startling theory of the murder of young Franks was advanced by a state's witness before the Grand Jury. This witness told of hearing Leopold confess that he murdered Franks because he knew that under the Illinois law the penalty for kidnapping for ransom was death, and

"AMONG WORST FIENDS IN HISTORY"

RICHARD LOEB

NATHAN LEOPOLD

Self-confessed murderers of Robert Franks, Chicago school boy, are suspected of two other killings. The victim of their murderous experiment was a cousin of Loeb's, with whom he often played tennis. Both the youths now accuse the other of having committed the actual slaying. All three principals—victim as well as defendants—were sons of millionaire parents, the three families totaling over $25,000,000 in combined personal wealth.

SAID LOEB—We went into this thing as a scientific experiment. We had a definite purpose in view and thought ourselves justified from a scientific standpoint.

* * *

LOEB—You led me into this trouble. You suggested it all, and you did most of the planning. I don't know why I listened.

* * *

LOEB—I wish it were all to do over again. Things would be different. I wouldn't hurt any one, now would I? I wouldn't.

SAID LEOPOLD—We wanted to know what the reaction of a murderer was after the crime—what he felt, you know. How he acted. Franks died too quickly.

* * *

LEOPOLD—I should give a ——! Anyway, killing in the interest of science is no worse than sticking a beetle on a pin.

* * *

Japanese Naval Plane Destroyed

TOKIO, June 6. — Two Japanese naval officers and three non-commissioned officers, were killed, and a fourth non-commissioned officer received injuries which are expected to prove fatal, in an air disaster at the Yokosuka Naval Base on Tokio Bay on Thursday.

The six were aloft in a hydro-airplane when its fuel tank exploded.

The craft fell about 600 feet, landing in the rocky hills above the naval base. The plane was of the F-5 type.

NO DEFENSE OF BANDIT PUT IN Hearing Of Evidence In Montreal Bank Car Murder Ends Suddenly.

GOES TO JURY TODAY

MONTREAL, June 6.—Taking of evidence in the charge against Giusseppi Serafini charged with murder in connection with the hold-up of the Hochelega Bank collection car in this city on April 1 when $142,288 was stolen and the chauffeur and a bandit were shot dead, came to an abrupt end Thursday afternoon when Alban Germain K.C. defence counsel, announced, immediately after the close of the Crowns' case that the defence had no evidence to offer.

R. L. Calder K.C. Crown prosecutor, confessed that he was taken by surprise and asked the court to adjourn until to-day.

Addresses by the lawyers to the jury are expected to be short and there seems every likelihood that the case will go before the jury this evening.

Woman With Gang

In yesterday's hearing, Ciro Niegro, avowed accomplice in the hold-up, declared that his woman friend, Emma Leboeuf, must have known all about the hold-up as she was present in the house when all the others conspirators were there to discuss the plans for carrying it out.

Niegro agreed with Mr. Germain that after the hold-up the men who gathered in Louis Morels' house "counted the money as coolly as banker counting his cash," without asking or saying a word regarding the men who had been killed in the affair or the way it was carried out.

Alex. Hamilton, building contractor who was engaged with an assistant painting the house at 57 Coursol street where Serafini and Niegro with two women were arrested on the night of the hold-up, identified Emma Lebouef and Mary Serafini as the two women who were in the house on the day of the hold-up.

Underworld "Insurance"

In his evidence Niegro told of a regular system of 'trouble insurance" practised by underworld circles by which a premium of ten per cent. of the proceeds of all crimes committed was charged for police protection, bondsmen and lawyers. This fund was paid in the case of the hold-up to Tony Frank, Frank Gambina and Mike Valentino all now under arrest in connection with the affair according to Niegro.

CROW'S NEST PASS AGREEMENT STANDS

Premier John Bracken Declared That It Would Help the Western Producer.

WINNIPEG, June 6.— (Canadian Press.)—Everything possible will be done by the Manitoba Government to see that the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, of such paramount importance to the West, is maintained in its entirety, stated Premier John Bracken yesterday in making the announcement that R. J. Symington, K.C., had been retained in consulting capacity in connection with the contract.

The Premier declared that he was reasonably certain that the Federal Government would not permit itself to be placed in the position of appearing to favor abrogation of a contract which had been paid for but, on the contrary would do its utmost on behalf of the western producer.

"This, however, is a matter concerning which we can take no chances and hence everything possible must be done to meet the situation," Premier Bracken said.

NEITHER PARTY BUILDS TORONTO CUSTOMS HOUSE

"No Matter What Government Is In Toronto Gets Cold Storage Justice."

TOMMY CHURCH WAILS.

Customs Business Carried On In Rented Buildings That Are Inadequate.

OTTAWA, June 6. — (Canadian Press). — Customs estimates were taken up in Committee of Supply by the House of Commons Thursday afternoon, the first item being the civil government vote for $633,755 for salaries and contingencies in that department.

T. L. Church (Conservative, North Toronto), started proceedings by putting in a plea for the low salaried employees in the customs house in Toronto. Some of these, he said, who were returned soldiers and who had been in the department for a long time were working for $1,200 a year.

Hon. Jacques Bureau, minister of customs, said that he sympathized with the desire to increase the pay of the lower paid officials. He had for some time been trying to secure for the lower paid officials in his department the right to a yearly increase of $120 instead of $60, the same privilege as had been granted to postal employees. The matter was now before the civil service commission, said the Minister.

Rt. Hon Arthur Meighen asked why the government put this matter off on the civil services commission. Why did they not take the same course as that followed by the United States Government which, although it had a Civil Service Commission also, had brought down legislation to provide for salary increases.

Customs Department

Consideration was then given to the main vote of $7,262,000 for the department of customs and excise. This amount is divided under five different heads, $5,720,710 being devoted to salaries and contingent expenses of the several ports in the dominion, including pay for overtime of officers, and temporary buildings and rentals. Discussing this vote Mr. Church drew attention to the need for a new customs building in the city of Toronto. The business of the customs department was being carried on in a number of rented buildings which were not adequate to the purpose. This was a costly system and entailed a great deal of trouble to people who found it necessary to do business at Toronto. Over 19 per cent of the total customs and excise revenue came from Toronto, and not a single cent had been spent on a building for that port since the old custom house was torn down. "No matter what government is in, Toronto gets very cold storage justice," said Mr. Church.

Mr. Bureau agreed with Mr. Church that a building was badly needed in Toronto. "If they will delegate to me authority to build a custom house it will be done very quickly,' 'said the minister. Present facilities were not adequate, and the maximum efficiency could not be expected when officers were working in unsatisfactory quarters. Accommodation was unsatisfactory as well in the cities of Montreal and Winnipeg.

Prevention Service

John Evans (Progressive, Saskatoon), criticized the increased expenditure for the preventive service He referred especially to the officers who visited other countries to investigate invoice value and expressed the view that this sort of investigation damaged Canadian trade.

Mr. Bureau replied that these officers were a necessity. Sometimes imports were invoiced twenty-five or more per cent below the real invoice value which wes sent to the purchaser.

"Is that really so," asked Mr. Evans.

The Minister assured the member for Saskatoon that it was the case and pointed out that similar precautions were taken by the United States.

O. R. Gould, (Progressive, Assiniboia), asked the Minister in view of his statement that United States conducted similar investigations, whether the Canadian manufacturer exporting to the United States invoiced his goods at reduced rates.

Mr. Bureau replied that he had no information on that point.

H. C. Hocken, (Conservative West Toronto), said that Mr. Gould was trying to accuse the Canadian Man-

Bye Elections Won By Conservatives

LONDON, June 6. — The Conservatives won a notable victory in a bye-election for Oxford Thursday, returning their candidate, Capt R. C. Bourne, with a large majority.

The bye-election was made necessary by the unseating of Frank Gray, one of the Liberal whips, in the House of Commons, on a petition charging illegal and corrupt practices in securing election. Mr. Gray was acquitted of corrupt practices, but his agent was held guilty.

The election returns were: Capt. Bourne, 10,079; Commander C. B. Fry, Liberal, 8,247; Kenneth Lindsay, Labor, 2,769.

Famous Yacht, Built For King, Was Sold

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—(United Press).—Again the famous old British yacht, Frontiersman, has changed hands.

Built originally for the King of Spain, th efamous craft was secured last year by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Sorporation. That corporation purchased her at a sale, after Britishers had sailed her to this country with the intention of using her as an expedition ship in connection with the proposed McMillan and Malins round the world flight organization.

Their plans of financing failed and the ship was libeled. It is unknown what her new owners, who reports say are two Bakersfield men, intend to do with her.

MILLERAND'S MANDATE TO FORM NEW CABINET REJECTED BY HERRIOT

Breach Widens Between President of the French Republic and Socialist Leader Who Won Recent Elections—The President Elected For Seven Years and Declares He Will Not Resign.

POLITICAL ENEMIES.

PARIS, June 6.— The conflict between M. Millerand, President of the Republic, and the new majority in the Chamber of Deputies, came to a head last night with a clash between the burly ex-socialist Chief Magistrate, and the equally burly and determined Radical Mayor of Lyons, Edouard Herrit.

M. Millerand, whose tenacity in 1914 as Minister of War, played a mighty part in winning the first battle of the Marne, standa with his back to the wall, defending constitutional precedents after a lapse of ten years.

The President, on the advice of the presidents of the Chamber and Senate, summoned M. Herriot to Elysee Palace yesterday afternoon and requested him to undertake the task of forming a cabinet. The question having been raised by M. Herriot as to the continuance of M. Millerand in office, the President of the Republic declared his determination to remain for the full constitutional term. M. Herriot then declined the commission.

Millerand's Statement.

The length of the conversation and the acid tone of the communique issued from the Elysee Palace last night amply attest to the acuteness of the crisis. The communique was as follows:

"In conformity with the suggestions of the Presidents of the two Houses of Parliament, whom he received this afternoon, the President of the Republic asked M. Herriot to come to the Elysee. After recalling to him the broad outlines of the foreign and internal policy, M. Millerand asked him if he would lend his aid in the formation of a new cabinet, with a view to the application of the ideas as expressed by the suffrage at the recent election.

"Thereupon an exchange of views took place, in the course of which no disagreement as to the programme appeared. The Deputy of the Rhone having raised the Presidential question, M. Millerand declared he could not examine it, as respect for the law prohibited even the posing of such a question.

Has Seven Year Term.

"The Constitution has fixed seven years as the duration of the presidential mandate. Called for seven years to the Elysee, the President holds it to be his duty toward the Republic and France to remain there until the legal termination of his mandate.

"M. Millerand believes that all these things obligate him to assure respect for the Constitution and avoid a precedent, of which nobody could determine the peril. Without discussing the reasons, M. Herriot simply replied that he did not belive personally that he could accept the mission which the President was kind enough to offer him. The President of the Republic intends to

STRIKE BLAMED ON COMMUNISTS

Tie-up of London Tubes and Railways Opposed by Trades Union Leaders.

NO INCONVENIENCE YET.

LONDON, June 6. — The tie-up of London's electric tubes and railways through a strike of the shopmen, which began on Thursday, is not nearly so complete as on the last occasion of a similar strike, because the present movement is entirely unofficial. The companies involved are maintaining some sort of a skeleton service, while the fact that no tramways or omnibuses are affected gives the travelling public the choice of an alternative service, and so lessens the congestion and inconvenience.

Communist Influence.

The movement has unusual interest as it is the first strike directly attributed to Communist influence. It is difficult, howeevr to ascertain exactly how far the Communists are responsible.

The secretary of the local committee directing the strike repudiates the assertion that the Communists, as a party or otherwise, have any connection with the strike. On the other hand, the Labor Press service, which speaks officially in behalf of the Trades Union Congress and the Labor Party, asserts emphatically that the unofficial strike is dominated by Commmunist influences.

Leaders are Opposed.

The same authority asserts that the Communists' object is to provoke "a national all-trades strike," hence there is great curiosity on the part of the public to see how far the movement will be successful in enticing workers to strike against the advice of their official trades union leaders. It is also contended that in fact it is a struggle between syndicalism and constitutional trades unionism.

The indications last night were that the movement will be short lived but at the present moment it is impossible to foretell, as it was asserted that another big power station would be involved at midnight. This would mean the stoppage of other tube services, and added to this, is the report that a large number of railwaymen at Swansea, Cardiff and various other points in the provinces will suspend work to-day.

The government as yet is taking no action but is watching the situation closely.

Mr. G. N. Gordon Receives Word From Sir Henry Thornton—

Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., has received word from Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, that he will arrange for a representative of the National Railways to attend at Rochester, June 11th, in connection with the automobile ferry service which the Chambers of Commerce at Peterboro, Cobourg, and Rochester have united with the Automobile Leagues in an effort to arrange for automobiles to come over on the ferry from Rochester to Cobourg.

It is hoped that this would add much to the Kawartha Lakes district tourist season, and Mr. Gordon was asked to obtain the assistance of the Canadian National Railways, who control the ferry.

By substituting a specially shuffled pack of cards, clever thieves carried away 180,000 francs from the Monte Carlo Casino recently.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

A REVIEW—WHERE ARE WE GOING—

By David Lloyd George.

This book has just been published and it presents a review of conditions in the world now and before the war which may well make humanity despair of the future. He asks and asks repeatedly in the course of this powerful work what good the churches are doing. That had no more influence in staying the awful and murderous conflict than if they were not in existence. The author lays down clearly the true causa causans of the war which was the hatred and distrust of nations for each other. He looks at the great question in a large way as if indeed he had opened his office window and looked out upon the whole world.

Records now coming to light records that are beyon dispute, show that the Kaiser was amazed at the idea of Austria's going to war over the Serbian murder because Serbia humbled herself and promised ample reparation. But the records disclose also that Russia, smarting under the defeat of the Russo-Japanese war, was bound to get her honour back by beating somebody and what more splendid opportunity could there be than in a war for Pan-Slavism, ending in what Russia lost in the Crimean War, a free entrance into the Mediterranean Sea, and a voice in the affairs of the Western world. Russia had actually mobilised and despatched her eastern cossacks to the western front months before the Serbian tragedy, and the declaration of war. But when people as Lloyd George so forcibly points out are being suppressed and insulted, despoiled and trampled upon they will turn at the first chance and the murder of the Austrian Crown Prince at Sarajevo furnished the chance. France could never forgive the loss of Alsace and Lorraine. Why? Because it was an attempt to cripple France forever. It did not punish her and yet give her a chance to rise again. It sought to ruin her and it nearly did. The Greek hated the Turk with whom he has had an age of scores to settle. An armed and angry Europe was waiting for a chance to go to war, and no loss, not even the loss of ten million men and the peace and prosperity preceding it has taught any lesson. They are still ready and will be ready for another fight, and for all that 'may come of it—so long as injustice remains unrepaired. Note that. So long as justice is sacrificed to the haughty, self-will and self-interest of a stupid and malignant humanity so long will war stand like a spectre of the king of hell in the offing waiting for his victims. But some will say, how fortunate we are in America. No injustice here. No self-will, no self-interest. Nothing but a most scrupulous regard and respect for the rights of others! The very people who prohibit the exercise by decent people in their private lives of the free choice and free conduct of model citizens which all such are entitled to if there is to be a world at all—are crying out over the injustices and the insults wrought by others when they themselves are the most guilty of all.

If then, as Ll. George says, wholesale murder and the fury of unrestrained strife is the sure and certain penalty of injustice and insult far more than of trade loss or commercial rivalry, what hope is there anywhere where the self-praisers and modernists of America are the most infamous and insulting of the lot. Read this book. Let us all read it. If we have any brains left it cannot fail to do us good and possibly, but only possibly, it may avert the war coming in America.

A free citizen in his private individual capacity is entitled to his freedom and when his neighbour with an unparalleled impudence seeks to destroy that freedom on pretence that what he says must be obeyed we are not far from another war, the like of which for hatred and revenge will possibly never heretofore have drenched the earth with blood. Without liberty it is better to be dead. True men have always thought so and will continue to do so.

The following extract from the book ought to be read and digested by all people who are capable of realising that their say-so is not the only thing on earth:

"Peace is only possible when you introduce into the attitude of nations towards each other principles which govern the demeanour of decent people in a community towards their neighbours. If international methods were introduced into the dealings of neighbours with each other life would become unbearable. . . . As a matter of fact man is only half civilised. In international matters he is still a savage—in his heart he recognizes no law but that of force."

The man who recognises the law of force as the proper weapon to apply to normal people is a savage. So says Lloyd George, and he might have added that he is in heart a weakling and a coward as well.

THE GUMPS—RETRIBUTION

GOVERNMENT ASKS RENT OWNERS WILL NOT PAY CROW BAY BOAT HOUSES

Notice Received Orders Removal of All Houses and Craft From His Majesty's Property--Invite U.S. Tourists and Bar Canadians.

NEW SOURCE REVENUE

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6. — Owners of boat houses that are located on Government land at Crow Bay, have received peremptory notice on Thursday from J. W. Pugsley, secretary of the Department of Railways and Canals at Ottawa, to pay their rent by the first day of July, and that failing to do so they will be required to vacate their premises.

The notice that has been received by one boathouse owner, a specimen of those sent to the others, is as follows:

"You are hereby required to pay, on or before the first day of July next, to the Department of Railways and Canals, the sum of $23.40, being rental for the three years ending on the 31st day of March, 1925, for Trent Canal land occupied by you as a boathouse site at Campbellford, and for the boathouse privileges connected therewith, failing which payment by the first day of July next you are required, on or before the first day of August, 1924, to remove from the lands and premises of His Majesty, the said boathouse and all floating craft, material, effects and things whatsoever unto you belonging or under your control, leaving the said lands and premises of His Majesty in a neat and tidy condition.

"In the event of your failure to pay the rental as aforesaid or to remove your boathouse and other property from the lands and premises of His Majesty on or before the date above mentioned, the said boathouse and all floating craft, materials, and effects and things whatsoever unto you belonging or under your control and being on the lands and premises of His Majesty, shall be removed therefrom by His Majesty at your cost and expense."

These notices were not sent through the mail, but were served on each of the twelve owners by James Sanders, an officer of the Department.

Interested Parties.

The residents of Campbellford who own boathouses in Crow Bay are as follows: Mason Adkinson, W. I. Stillman, F. J. Smith, C. W. Smith, R. H. Cole, Thomas Cole, Charles Neill, C. S. Gillespie, A. S. Reindeau, Thomas Dunk, A. P. Hind, and James Massie.

The land occupied by each boathouse has a frontage of 12 feet on the Trent Canal and the rent charged figures out at 65 cents per foot front. James Massie's boathouse, however, stands broadside to the canal, giving him a frontage of 24 feet, so that his yearly rent will be about $15.00, or double that of his neighbours.

Dispute Is Revived.

The serving of these notices revives a dispute between the owners and the Department, which was started last year, and which was taken up by the Town Council and the Chamber of Commerce. The boat-houses have occupied their present position for years, but no attempt was ever made to collect rent for the sites until 1923. When the owners united in a protest to the Department, the latter replied that the Government was seeking new sources of revenue, and for that reason it was felt that public land so used should be made to yield some return.

C. S. Gillespie went to Ottawa on behalf of the owners to interview the Government, but no decisive answer was received at that time.

The Department claimed rental for the years ending on March 31st, 1923, and 1924, but this has never been paid. The claim is now extended to include the year ending March 31st, 1925.

The owners will call a meeting to discuss this new aspect of the affair.

The rental is regarded as excessive by the owners when compared with that paid by the Government for land occupied by the Department of Railways and Canals and belonging to the town, the site for which the boathouse stands being held by a 99-year lease at a rental of $100 a year. The land occupied by the 12 boat-houses is less than one acre in extent, and the rent charged places the value of this land with the worthless for agricultural or any other visible purposes, the owners of the house claim, at $1,400, the rents yielding interest on that amount at current rates.

The owners claim, too, that the Department of Railways and Canals spend money to induce American tourists to visit this country and use the Trent Canal for their pleasure craft, while at the same time placing a house tax on one of the leading inducements to attract visitors to this section.

SENATE OPENS MARINE CASES

More Criticism Levelled At the Canadian National System.

OTTAWA, June 6 (Canadian Press). —When the resolution was reached in the Senate yesterday, asking for a special committee to inquire into and report on the charges levelled against the administration of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and Canadian National Railways by Senator Taylor, Hon. Mr. Dundurand, Government leader, proposed that a committee of three from each side of the House be appointed to review the report of Mr. Temple, C.N.R. counsel, who had investigated these charges, and to report to the Senate the advisability of proceeding further. He said Mr. Temple had arrived in the city and his report had been submitted to Sir Henry Thornton and was now in the possession of the Minister of Railways. The evidence is of two thousand pages, and Mr. Temple's conclusions cover an additional seventy-five pages.

Senator Dundurand expressed the opinion that this would expedite matters.

Senator Taylor objected, claiming that Mr. Temple was an employee of the railway, and in his inquiry had ignored material witnesses. He said: "The report was in the same category as loaded dice in a gambler's hands."

Senator Robertson suggested that Senator Taylor be handed the report and decide whether it was satisfactory or not, but Senator Dandurand thought this would not be fair to Mr. Temple.

Senator Lougheed also thought that Mr. Taylor should have the report.

Senator Dandurand stated that he would lay the report on the table, and that the debate should be adjourned until the following Tuesday.

Senator Taylor, before adjourning the debate, said that he declined to place any reliance on a report made under circumstances that would not arrive at the real facts of the case. He said that Sir Henry Thornton had received word from Vancouver that the investigation was simply a farce. Senator Taylor then instanced the failure to summons material witnesses in the case of the charges of stealing at the Government docks in Vancouver, and also in the charge on the Government steamer "Canadian Farmer," when no repairs were necessary. He had furnished Mr. Temple, he claimed, the names of witnesses in both cases, but their evidence was disregarded. In another instance, he said that a Canadian National investigator, who was appointed by the President to review charges, began work on December 6, 1923, and made a report, and on account of this report was dismissed on December 26. He further claimed that there were scores of reports in existence exposing the "rascality" going on.

Senator Taylor then adjourned the debate until Tuesday next.

AWARDED $2,500 IN LIBEL ACTION

Sir Sankaren is the Author of a Book That Charges Sir Michael O'Dwyer With Many Atrocities in India.

LONDON, June 6. — The libel action brought by Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former Lieut.-Governor of the Punjaub, asking damages against Sir Sankaren, former member of the Executive Council of the Viceroy of India, has ended ater a 26-day hearing, with a $2,500 verdict, and costs, or Sir Michael, who alleged he had been accused of "methods of terrorism" and with responsibility for the "atrocities" at Amritsar, in a book written by the defendant.

The whole case turned on the Amritsar affair of 1919, in which several hundred natives were shot down by the military.

Si Sankaren is the author of a book entitled "Ghandi and Anarchy," in which Sir Michael O'Dwyer set forth in his action he was accused of methods of terrorism in recruiting for the Army during the war and of being responsible for "atrocities" at Amritsar and elsewhere.

The case turned into a protracted discussion as to whether General R. E. H. Dyer, then Commander-in-Chief of the Forces in India, was justified in the orders which led to the so-called Amritsar massacre and how far Sir Michael was responsible for General Dyer's action.

SILVER PLATE STOLEN

MONTREAL, June 5. — Three thousand dollars worth of jewellry and silverware were stolen from the apartment of C. H. McDonough, of this city, yesterday afternoon when unknown thieves broke into the premises with false keys and ransacked the place.

CHEAPER POWER THE OBJECTIVE

Municipal Power Union Met At Prescott and Discussed St. Lawrence Issue.

PRESCOTT, Ont., June 6.—Reorganization of the Eastern Ontario Municipal Power Union, formed in 1919 with the object of obtaining a large quantity of cheaper hydro power for the eastern section of the province, was effected here yesterday, delegates being present from various municipalities east of Frontenac County.

Hon. Dr. Johnson D. Reid, former Minister of Railways and Canals, expressed the opinion that the work of developing power upon the St. Lawrence and improving its navigation should be proceeded with at the earliest possible moment and declared that the municipalities which would derive benefit from such development should insist that not one horsepower so developed should be exported by license or otherwise. He stated that the development at Cedar Rapids, Que., from which power is furnished the St. Lawrence system of hydro, while generally believed to be owned in Montreal, was in reality owned by the Standard Oil interests who desire to export to the United States all the power that they can obtain. The United States government sharing in the cost of the undertaking as had been agreed upon, Senator Reid estimated the cost to Canada deepening navigation and developing 600,000 horsepower on the St. Lawrence at $50,000,000. He suggested that every constituency in Ontario east of Toronto should form a deputation to wait upon both Federal and Provincial Government and "demand their rights."

The association placed itself on record as supporting the public ownership of water powers in Ontario and their administration by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, especially those in Eastern Ontario.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson will also be memorialized by the association to appoint a representative of Eastern Ontario, where the great proportion of future hydro development will be centred, upon the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mayor W. B. Reynolds, Brockville Ont.; Vice Presidents, N. W. Beach, Winchester, R. T. Nicholson, Lancaster, A. C. Fetterley, Cornwall, W. P. McCarthy, Prescott, J. N. Campbell, Kingston, E. O. Bertrand, L'Original, P. Lafleche, Casselman, A. Munroe, Beachburg, W. A. Nichols, Carleton Place, H. Craig, Northgower, W. Douglas, Perth, David Barr, Renfrew, G. C. Cumming, Lyn; Secretary Treasurer, A. L. Darquharson, Brockville; Executive Committee, A. C. Casselman, Prescott, G. H. Challies, Morrisburg, J. M. Dobbie, Brockville, M. B. Holmes, Athens, W. J. Wilson, Gananoque.

Sir Adam Beck

Eastern Ontario very earnestly desires more and cheaper power at the earliest possible moment. This fact was emphasized last evening, when a large audience heard the power knight of Ontario tell of the growth of Hydro enterprise in Ontario and that the Federal Government had conceded the rights of the province of Ontario in respect of its water powers, on navigable streams.

Sir Adam announced that at the interview in Ottawa yesterday with Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, the Ministers conceded to him on behalf of the Federal Government full rights of Ontario as to the use of its water powers "without litigation". Sir Adam also made it know that plans of the Hydro Electric commission for power development at Morrisburg had been registered, a step which was equivalent to expropriation of the property necessary for the project. He made a strong appeal to the federal government to approve of those plans so that the work could be begun very soon. He denounced the Chicago diversion and said that when a nation signed a treaty that nation would be expected to see that the treaty was not violated.

Referring to the speech of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson on April 1, 1916, in which Mr. Ferguson spoke of the people of Western Ontario, having many millions invested in Hydro Electric Power and said they owned that system "lock, stock and barrel," Sir Adam said: "I hope Premier Ferguson will adopt and carry out the same policy to-day in development on the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers, and that you people will own this system lock, stock and barrel."

CUSTARD ICE CREAM

Scald 1 quart of thin cream or rich milk, and add from 6 to 12 egg yolks slightly beaten with 1½ cups sugar. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until smooth and creamy. Cool; add 2 easpoons vanilla and freeze.

A teaspoonful of paraffin in the washing tub lightens work, while the same amount in a bowl of starch will prevent the irons sticking when starched things are being ironed.

TRUE BILLS

so he was taking no additional risk in murdering the boy victim.

State Attorney Crowe said he would ask the next session of the Illinois Legislature to modify the statutes so that kidnapping for ransom will not be punishable by death. He believes that under existing laws a kidnapper has no inducement to return a child alive.

Armed Men Guard Exhibits.

Armed guards have been set over the elvdence, which includes the blood-stained clothing worn by the Franks boy, the tape-wrapped chisel with which he was killed, and remnants of an automobile robe in which his body was wrapped.

State attarneys are not sure the signed shorthand notes of the confessions of the youths would be admissible at their trial, but believe the chain of evidence against them otherwise is complete.

INCORRIGIBLE AT SCHOOL.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 6. — Richard A. Loeb, one of the murderers of Robert Franks, betrayed incorrigibility and irregular tendencies seven or eight years ago, Dr. Allen Hoben, president of Kalamazoo College, said yesterday.

At that time Dr. Hoben was Professor of Sociology -- the University of Chicago. To him one day came A. L. Loeb, millionaire father of the boy, who asked him to become the tutor of Richard, who was alarming his father by his irregular tendencies.

"While my time was so occupied," Dr. Hoben said, "that I could not grant his request, I did suggest he send his son to a phychopathic institute for examination. I do not know whether that advise was followed."

TOO MUCH MONEY.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 6. —"Too much money and too many opportunities to indulge in their own mental weaknesses."

This, in brief, is the reason leading to mental depravity which caused Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb to kidnap and murder fourteen-year-old Robert Franks in Chicago, in the opinion of Dr. T. J. Currie, of the Willard State Hospital, Seneca County, N.Y.

Dr. Currie, here attending the convention of the American Psychiatric Association, analysed the cases of the two brilliant young student murderers as follows:

Far From Being Morons.

Leopold and Loeb are abnormally intelligent, but with perverted ideas of life. They are not morons and are not subnormal, but are 'mentally depraved.'"

Natural tendencies to have depravity have been accentuated by their mode of living — too much money, too much opportunity for indulging in weaknesses.

Super-intellectuals who murder for a thrill are the logical result of mental conditions which begin in children with the desire to kill animals or inflict pain upon them. Taken in time such children can be cured. Let follow their natural bent, they become murderers.

FIRE DESTROYED A NORWOOD HOME

Elezer Kelly and His Wife Rendered Homeless by Fire Fiend This Morning.

NORWOOD, June 6.—(Special to The Examiner.)— The home of Elezer Kelly, on the outskirts of the village on the Belmont road, was burned to the ground this morning at 3 o'clock with all its contents.

When the fire department arrived the fire had such a grip on the frame building that nothing could be done to save it. The old apparatus, which the firemen will discard next week for a new outfit, was useless before a fire of this size.

Mr. Kelly is an elderly man and the fire has been a great blow to him. In it he lost everything, and he and his wife have been rendered homeless, with only a very little insurance from the house. The owner had just spent $450 on repairs.

It is not known what caused the fire, but it is thought that it may have originated with a spark from a small fire that burned in the heater yesterday evening.

ALBERTA SELLS BEER.

EDMONTON, Alta., June 6. — The selling of beer by licensed hotels throughout the province starts today. The first licenses were signed yesterday by the chairman of the liquor control board, R. J. Dunning.

LIBERAL POLICY A NATIONAL ONE

Premier King Addressed Gathering of Women At Convention In Ottawa.

OTTAWA, June 6 (Canadian Press). —The Liberal policy was a truly national policy, Premier King told a gathering of women representing women's Liberal organizations from all parts of Canada in convention here yesterday. Great advantage was coming to the country through the exercise of the franchise by women. Women could regard the policies of parties in the light of the effect such policies would have upon the home, said the prime minister.

The gathering, he said, was most encouraging to members of the government. It spoke for the determination to promote a great crusade on behalf of all the things which Liberals stood for. The prime minister reviewed the problems which had confronted the present government on assuming office. The three budgets introduced had shown a reduction in the public debt and in the latest budget a surplus had taken the place of deficit.

The Liberal party was consistent in its tariff policies with the Laurier-Fielding tradition. Tariff was fundamentally a tax. And protection meant taxation. The Liberal party principles stood for the lightest possible burden on the necessities of life and the instrument of production. There was a great need for educational work in explaining to persons employing the franchise for the first time these fundamental principles.

OTTAWA, June 6.—Women should have the franchise on their merits and they would make an improvement in national life, was the contention of P. F. Casgrain, Liberal whip for Quebec, who spoke at the convention of National Federation of Women's Liberal Clubs, which opened here this morning. The convention, which has attracted a representative gathering of prominent Canadian women, was presided over by Mrs. A. M. Beaton, Toronto, president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association.

Mr. Casgrain expressed the hope that women's influence would sweeten and enhance public life. The women had not as yet obtained the franchise in provincial matters, but prospects were brighter.

An appeal to the women to make Canada a greater nation was made by James Malcolm, M.P., Liberal whip for the province of Ontario.

The convention continues this afternoon.

GOOD NEWS FOR AILING WOMEN

Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent country wide canvass of over 121,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies received showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial.

REGINA MAN GETS THREE MONTHS FOR BOOTLEGGING

REGINA, Sask., June 6.— By dismissing the appeal and characterizing the former penalty, an $900 fine, as a trivial license fee, Mr. Justice Taylor, in King's Bench court to-day upheld the Saskatchewan Temperance Act conviction on a chargeof keeping liquor for sale against Zieu Natanson and sentenced him to three months' imprisonment in Regina jail without the option of a fine. The case is the outcome of a raid on Natanson's premises when documents and liquor were seized. Natanson subsequently laid a charge of theft against the chairman of the Liquor Commission and also the chief enforcement officer. These charges were dismissed.

RESTRICTION TO IMPORT LIQUOR SOUGHT BY ALTA

EDMONTON, Alta., June 6.—Restriction of the right to import liquor into the province is being sought by the Alberta Government through legislation in the Dominion Parliament. An amendment to the Canada Temperance Act has been prepared and will be introduced at Ottawa as a Government measure, its purpose being to give sole rights of importation to the provincial governments or boards in provinces where the people have voted on the question and where Government control of liquor is in effect.

MYTROB SKROMDA FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

WINNIPEG, June 6. — Mytrob Skromda, charged with the murder of Sedori Dymuriak at Stuartburn, on March 11 last, was yesterday found "not guilty" by the jury which was out slightly more than an hour.

Had Dumped Coke

The question of coke imported into Hamilton recently, purchased in the United States at $6.50 a ton and assessed under the dumping clause at $7.50 next came up. Mr. Bureau said this coke was sold at less than cost by a firm which had over-produced. It was a clear case for invoking the dumping clause.

Next came the question of apples imported into the prairies from Washington State, and assessed at $1.15 a box while they were selling in Washington at 85 cents and in British Columbia at 95 cents. Mr. Bureau said he had been informed in Washington last year that Washington growers sold their prime pick at such high prices in the eastern markets that they could afford to feed to the swine such apples as they sent to Canada. The Minister had thereupon taken steps to stop the dumping of inferior fruit and to give Canadian growers a chance.

Several Progressives testified to the excellence of the Washington fruit they purchased and said Mr. Bureau had been misinformed.

During an argument by John Evans (Progressive, Saskatoon) criticizing the administration of the dumping duty, L. J. Ladner (Conservative, South Vancouver) asked Mr. Evans whether his argument did not lead to the conclusion that the dumping duty should be wiped out.

"I should say it should," was Mr. Evans' reply.

D. W. Warner (Progressive, Strathcona) also advocated the abolition of the dumping duty. He said the westerner wanted to get apples either from Ontario or British Columbia.

"Some of the apples from Ontario," he said, 'are very good. We find the first layer all right. I don't want to reflect on the Ontario apple grower," he added. "I dont' know whether the apples were packed by an apple raiser or by a high protectionist.' "

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Conservative Centre Vancouver) claimed that when the dumping law was not in effect American fruit-growers were using Canada as an overflow market after the American market was saturated.

The Okanagan Valley growers were highly organized and efficient in their marketing but the fair administration of the dumping clause was absolutely essential to thousands of fruit growers in that section.

MILLERAND'S

continue his consultations this evening."

Herriot's Rejoinder.

When M. Herriott was informed of the President's communique, he issued the following rejoinder:

"It is not for me to discuss the terms of the official communique which the Elysee drew up itself after my interview with the President of the Republic. To tell the truth, the first part of the conversation dealt less with a programme than with a certain number of questions of national interest which could not give rise to any contest. Furthermore, my programme has been published and the President was kind enough to tell me he was not ignorant of it.

"It is perfectly true I had to tell the President that, having defended the Left bloc during the entire electoral campaign, I could not dream for an instant of forming a ministry outside those Left groups, whose decision as to the President's constitutional role had recently been published. Finding myself in the presence of a state of things which did not permit of the formation of a ministry sustained by a majority of the Left, I could only decline the mandate offered me."

The opinion is prevalent in political circles to-night that the solution of the problem may not be reached for a week.

Millerand's Choice.

According to well-informed observers, two solutions remain open to M. Millerand, the first, the organiztaion of a ministry which would present a presidential message to both Houses and force a test vote, thereby placing responsibility for the crisis on Parliament; the second, as the Radical press suggests, confiding the Premiership to some National Bloc leader, such as Andre Maginot, and sending him into the Chamber empowered to prorogue the House immediately. In this latter way, M. Millerand would gain at least two months' delay under the law, as the Chamber could not be prorogued until January 1, 1925, but if a majority of the deputies demanded that it be reconvened the President of the Republic would be bound to accede to this.

WHAT VALUE IS THE FRANCHISE?

Apparently Newfoundland suffers from the same lack of interest on the part of its citizens in the selection of Governments as do most of the Provinces of Canada.

The general election on Monday, in which the Opposition Party was successful, was marked by a very small vote in nearly every district, and it is explained that the Government scandals of last year had so disgusted the people that they refused to turn out to vote.

It would be natural to think that the revelations of misconduct by public men would have a different effect upon the electors, and that they would be eager to show their condemnation of such actions and to have a voice in selecting a new administration that would provide honest and efficient government.

The Newfoundlander, however, does not seem to be any more concerned in the choosing of a Government party than are many people of Ontario.

Thousands remained away from the polls on Monday, and a decrease in comparison with other elections was reported from almost every district.

It is a strange thing that, although the average man would bitterly resent any attempt to rob him of the franchise, there are hosts of electors who rob themselves of their privilege as voters by refusing to exercise the franchise.

This indifference on the part of so large a percentage of the citizenship has long been a problem in Ontario, and it is evident that the people of Newfoundland are equally as lax.

THE GOVERNMENT PLAN.

The Federal Government has announced the details of its proposed scheme of Government bank inspection, and the Examiner is sure that the plan will be accepted as likely to provide greater protection for depositors and to restore confidence in Canada's banking system.

The Government proposes to appoint a general inspector of banks who is to be given wide powers.

At least once a year he will examine the head offices of all the banks, and he will have the power to investigate any branch that he desires to examine.

He also will have authority to examine the general manager or any official under oath.

Further, there is provision made for winding up a bank that is in a dangerous financial condition—something that up to the present has been lacking.

The machinery is not complicated.

The Minister of Finance, on receiving a report from the general inspector that a bank is insolvent, will not have to wait for the bank to suspend payment, but may request the Bankers' Association to appoint a curator.

That, of course, would prevent further deposits from being accepted.

The new plan promises to be effective.

Recent financial developments have shaken public confidence, and there will be a feeling of relief that the Government has recognized its responsibilities and realized the pressure of public opinion by providing safeguards against a repetition of the Home Bank debacle.

THE CHICAGO TRAGEDY.

The legal machinery across the border will receive a test in connection with the ghastly Chicago murder case, and the people of the whole Continent are waiting for assurance that justice will be done in this most revolting tragedy.

From Chicago comes the news that it will be a fight between millions and justice, and that is not a reassuring feature of the case.

The families of the two prisoners are very wealthy, and already a million-dollar defence fund is spoken of in despatches from Chicago.

The world has not forgotten the Thaw case, and people of all stations of life are fearful that wealth will succeed in frustrating the ends of justice.

Had the murder taken place in this country or in England there would be no cause for worry.

British courts move expeditiously, and the processes of justice are swift and fair.

Few murderers escape the net of the police, and the machinery of the law moves surely and with determination.

This cannot be said of the administration of justice in the United States in many instances.

A clever lawyer, supplied with ample funds, has frequently succeeded in clogging the wheels of justice, causing endless delays, involving the case in a tangle of legal abstructions until in the long run the criminal has escaped.

The Chicago tragedy has aroused the people of that city and of the Republic generally.

They are clamoring for the law to act speedily, and declaring that dollars, no matter how numerous they may be, must not be allowed to interfere.

It may be that out of the sordid case good will eventually come—if it causes an awakening on the part of the people of the United States to the need of a more effective system of administering justice.

"RED" ACTIVITY.

The King's birthday was celebrated yesterday by the "Commercial Agency of the Union of Soviet Republics" hoisting the red flag of Soviet Russia in Montreal, says the Hamilton Spectator. Let us be charitable and say that the agency meant well, and intended an honor and not an insult. Worse than this open flaunting of Bolshevism are the secret activities which are going on among loyal Canadian workmen all over the country. Now and again we get a hint of the sinister methods of the propagandists, and occasionally they come right out and preach open sedition and rebellion; but as a rule they prefer to work in the dark, fomenting discontent and corrupting the law-abiding. If any one has the idea that the menace of Bolshevism is past, he is harboring a delusion. Russia still hopes to subdue the world to its will and incite the peoples to revolt. It is the only possible means of accomplishing the ulterior aims of the Soviet administration, and the goal is never left out of sight.

Wherever an opportunity presents itself Soviet agents are busily engaged in turning the occasion to advantage. No country is exempt. At the present time they appear to be concentrated on Britain, and the possibilities of a big railway strike, through their mischievous incitation, is feared. There is open warfare between the regular railway unions and these irregular Communist organizations, and that is the very thing which central headquarters aim at creating. "Boring from within," division among union men, setting one faction against another—that is the method to which the Soviets pin their faith. Whether a strike takes place or not, it is evident that the forces of disruption are a formidable element.

Another country which is a specially favorite stamping-ground for the Bolshevists is Ireland. It has been proved over and over again that much of the disorder which has prevailed and still prevails in that unhappy land is deliberately produced by these alien trouble-makers. Much money is furnished and men enlisted in the effort to stir up discord. The merits of any particular dispute are not considered, and if no dispute exists, an effort is made to provoke one. Enemies of peace and order, the pests can never rest while there is a chance of setting people by the ears. Just how far they are responsible for the industrial troubles which beset all nations at this time is difficult to estimate, but it is a certainty that they add immensely to the trials of these post-war days.

A HINT TO THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

From time to time there come rumors from the Maritime Provinces of a movement for secession from the Dominion. This agitation is not deep-seated; the number of people who want to withdraw from Confederation is comparatively small, but there is no doubt that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction in the three Provinces by the sea and that the question is being seriously asked, "What has Confederation done for us?" For the citizens of the rest of Canada to ignore or to sneer at the sentiment is to adopt an ostrich-like attitude. The problem of the grievances of the Maritime Provinces must be faced fairly and squarely and in a sympathetic spirit.

* * * *

The Maritime Provinces entered the Dominion in 1867 in a very doubting mood as to the benefits of union with Quebec and Ontario. Now, after nearly sixty years, they are taking stock and are none too certain that the alliance has been a profitable one for them. They are isolated from the rest of Canada by their geographical position; freight rates at best must be high; the Western market is almost impossible for them to reach with their products; they cannot compete on an equal basis with the manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec. The natural markets for the Maritime Provinces are the New England States, the West Indies, England and Europe. At the present time the Fordney tariff has barred them from the American market; the West Indies are suffering from severe hard times, and the economic and financial chaos which has prevailed in Europe has ruined the market for their fish, lumber and agricultural products. The Maritimer feels he has been stranded high and dry. Hence the inquisitorial spirit at the present as to the value of Confederation and as to whether he is getting a square deal.

* * * *

The people of the Maritime Provinces quite properly point out that they have borne their share of the burden of taxation in opening up and settling Western Canada. They helped purchase the rights of the Hudson's Bay Company in the West; they have centributed towards the millions spent in bringing in new settlers to the Prairie Provinces; they have joined with the rest of Canada in building new transcontinental railways. Ontario Quebec, they say, have benefited by increased markets for their manufactured goods; all the Maritime Provinces have got is a heavier burden of taxation.

* * * *

What do the Maritime Provinces want? They are not sure themselves. They can put their finger on one definite grievance. They say if their industries cannot share in the business of the West, surely they can at least handle the Atlantic traffic. Yet they have to sit idly by and see the major business of the Canadian National Railway pass through Portland, Maine, building up a great terminal at an alien port. The business is even overflowing to the ports of New London, Conn., and Providence, R. I. They ask, and quite properly, why should not Canadian traffic, handled by a national road, supported by the Canadian people, be carried through the ports of St. John and Halifax. This is a real, not an imaginary, grievance.

* * * *

The Free Press would throw out the suggestion to the business men of the Maritime Provinces that instead of cursing politicians and political parties and of spending their time in sending deputations on useless joy-rides to Ottawa, they organize a tour of representative men of all industries to visit the rest of Canada in order to place before them their views and to extend knowledge of the resources and the needs of the three Maritime Provinces. They would find that as far as Western Ontario, at least, is concerned they would meet with a whole-hearted welcome and would be listened to with the deepest sympathy. It would tend to foster a better Canadian spirit; it would lead to the development of national rather than parochial thinking; it would accomplish immensely more in the way of smoothing out the difficulties of the Maritime Provinces.—London Free Press.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It should not require a bylaw to provide a quiet zone for the Victoria Park concerts. Ordinary courtesy on the part of motorists in particular and the public in general is all that is necessary.

The Senate may not be unfriendly toward the Canadian National Railways, but at least it must be admitted that it has a peculiar way of showing its affection.

Evidence goes to show that the so-called "death ray" is a "dud." It would be an excellent thing for the world were such the case.

There are many calls upon the time of the chief magistrate of an Ontario city. Thus we find Mayor Angrove of Kingston protecting a baseball umpire from the vengeance of an angry mob.

The Chemong road speedway is open again, and complaints are being received of reckless driving along the stretch of road. The authorities should give emphatic warning that "safety first" should not be forgotten even on the Chemong road.

Cobourg and District

Cobourg, June 5. — When William J. Crossen, the Baltimore gamekeeper, came up in court here before Magistrate Floyd, he was again remanded, and will come up again on Thursday, June 12, at 10 o'clock.

Crown Attorney W. F. Kerr was present for the Crown, and Mr. A. R. Willmott of Armstrong and Willmont, as counsel for Mr. Crossen.

Mr. Greer, formerly Crown Attorney for York County, has been retained to act with Mr. Willmott, in the Crossen defence.

About one hundred and fifty officers and delegates of the Knights of Columbus, are in Cobourg attending the annual state convention. The sessions are being held at the Cedermeer Hotel. On Tuesday, Mayor Boggs officially welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Town of Cobourg, and was assisted in this pleasing duty by several members of the town council.

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien of Peterborough, preached an eloquent sermon at the Pontifical Mass, solemnized by Rev. Monseignor Murray assisted by the Rev. Father Ferguson of Warkworth, and Rev. Father Scanlan of Grafton. Later His Lordship addressed the delegates in the convention hall.

The sessions are presided over by Colonel Dr. Clarke of London, State Deputy.

On Tuesday evening the delegates were guests of the local Council Knights of Columbus, for a moonlight excursion by Steamer Ontario No. 2, which left her slip here at 8 p.m., with a congenial company on board. The Cobourg Citizens' Band accompanied the excursionists, and mcsical programme. There was also community singing and afterwards dancing, Golding's orchestra supplying the music. The excursionists returned about midnight.

On Wednesday afternoon the visitors were guests of the Cobourg Motor League and citizens for a trip around the town and to Rice Lake.

Although the weather has not been as favorable as could be desired the delegates are enjoying a pleasant stay in Cobourg.

News Trent River And The District

TRENT RIVER, June 6.—Whitehall Gardens opened for the season's dancing on Monday night, under the manageemnt of the Bon-Ton Orchestra from Belleville. There was a large attendance. The orchestra consists of five pieces, and without exception, is one of the best ever played here. The boy violinist is a wonder, and the whole orchestra plays in splendid rhythm and renders very pleasing numbers of popular airs for fox-trots and waltzes. Excellent order is kept throughout the entire programme each night. The boys have been working hard for weeks re-decorating the interior of the pavilion; the color scheme of red and black shows up to best advantage when the brilliant lights are on. The management is certain of a successful season in holding the crowds who come from all parts of the surrounding country.

A number motored from Belleville to attend on the opening night.

Mrs. John Keyes, of Toronto, is a guest at the Cook cottage.

Mr. F. W. Outhet, of Toronto, is a guest at Cedar Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ketts are leaving for a week's vacation with friends at Oshawa.

Mr. John Sedgwick is putting in a new cement cistern at his residence.

Mrs. John Boyd's cottage, occupied by Mrs. Henry Wood, presents a much improved appearance, having been painted white and a new verandah built in front.

Mr. W. W. Redden attended the funeral of his brother, Levi Redden, at Campbellford.

Mr. W. Inkster is putting in fixtures for an ice cream parlor in connection with his store.

The various resorts are making big preparations for the opening of the bass and lunge fishing at the middle of the month.

"THIRD PARTY" PLANS TO NAME TICKET AT ST. PAUL CONVENTION

The Farmer-Labor Progressive Convention Will Be Held On June 17th.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 6—Thirty-one states have indicated an intention to send delegates to the national Farmer-Labor-Progressive convention in St. Paul on June 17, according to leaders in the "third party" movement here.

These states, according to tentative plans will give the convention a voting strength of 977, apportioned on the basis of the electoral vote of each state and the "progressive" vote in the 1922 elections.

While the convention's voting strength is set at less than 1,000 the local committee expects several thousand delegates at the convention with each delegate in many cases casting only a fraction of a vote. Arrangements are being made to handle from four to five thousand delegates.

States that will be represented, according to announcement here, are New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois Indiana, Alabama, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Kentucky, and Colorado.

"Delegates are to be selected from labor unions, farmers' organizations, co-operative organizations, state Farmer-Labor parties, state federations of labor, international unions, and national working class political parties," according to the local committee.

Plans outlined here are on the expectation that the convention will last four days and nominate a third party national ticket. The temporary chairman of the convention, it is believed, probably will be William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader.

Appointments and work of the credential committee is expected to occupy most of the first day of the convention, with organization work taking up the second day. Several speakers of nation-wide repute are being sought.

Platform and resolutions committees will be appointed by the convention immediately after the credential committee has reported. Nomination of a presidential ticket will be the closing business of the convention, under plans of the local committee.

"Some plans will have to be worked out by a committee on organization as to how to cement all the sections of the movement into one national political party," this committee said.

There is only one name mentioned in regard to presidential candidates at convention headquarters here, and that is Senator Robert M. Lafollette of Wisconsin. There have been no public suggestion here as to vice-presidential choice.

Just what plans will be used in working out a national party of the elements that are expected to participate in the convention, are problematical. It has been suggested, however, that some definite state organization, such as the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, might be attempted in each state in the belief that voting power could best be accomplished through the state unit basis.

The "third party" movement, as promoted by the forthcoming convention here, has its incipiency in the non-partisan league, first organized in North Dakota nine years ago as a political power. In spreading to Minnesota, the league identity was dropped in politics, and the Farmer-Labor party was formed. League and Farmer-Labor party activity has spread in many other states, particularly of the northwest, making itself felt in state elections.

Bulgarian Town Orders People To Clean Parks

PLOVDIV, Bulgaria, June 6—The working of the Bulgarian labor conscription system was illustrated here recently when the authorities called out a class of 200 men to put a city park in order.

The call was for ten days' service and the laborers reported from all classes of society. Among them were recruits in spring topcoats and the latest style American shoes, with picks or shovels over their shoulders or trundling wheelbarrows. One was a music teacher and another a banker. The park was cleaned up, the paths graded and flower beds set well within the time limit.

Floating Specks Before The Eyes Means Liver Trouble

When specks start to float before the eyes, when everything seems to turn black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you can rest assured that your liver is not working properly.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to stir it up by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and clear away the accumulated mass of waste and poisonous matter from the system.

Mr .Chas. Ayland, Frankville, Ont., writes:—"I used to be awfully bothered with floating specks before my eyes, headaches and sickness to my stomach. I took just half a vial of your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and ever since I have felt as well as I ever did. Now I always keep them on hand."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DEATH HANGAR NOW BROADCASTS MERCY

Zeppelin Hangar Used to Show Pictures of Humanitarian Appeal.

By CARL D. GROAT.

BERLIN, June 5.—(United Press) — The great Zeppelin hangar at Staaken, near here, from whence the Kaiser's messengers of death started their journeys to England, is now being used as a film atelier in which a message of humanity is being pictured.

Miss Mae Marsh, American film star, is playing the leading role in this new humanitarian drama, named "Arabella," the story of the horse. She is the first American girl to enter the German film world since the war.

The producer of her picture conceived the idea of picturing human nature the eyes of a horse. He has succeeded in showing the adventures and the cruelties a horse must suffer from the time he is a colt until old age and in picturing the horse's view of humans.

In the huge hangar, a forest and swamp was created for the storm scene, in which Miss Marsh rescues the young Arabella from the sinking sands of the swamp.

The German producers not only utilized the hangar but found that other relics of the war would come in handy—namely, old aeroplanes. Several of these have been set up to make the terrific blasts for the storm that splinters trees, felling one in dangerous proximity to Miss Marsh, as she drags the foal from the morass.

Miss Marsh will remain in Germany until some time in July.

LARGE CONGREGATION AT ST. PAUL'S MONDAY

MARMORA, June 6.—There was a large congregation at St. Paul's church on Monday evening, when the Lord Bishop of the Diocese held confirmation. The candidates numbered six, being Clinton Graham, Gerald Smith, Mary Jane Emmorey, Mabel Rogers, Mildred Bedore and Merle Bedore.

The Bishop gave a most impressive address upon the thoughts enshrined in Heb. 6:1-3. He warned the congregation most emphatically against heeding the loose ideas prevailing concerning certain creeds. If we part with our creed, he declared, the Christian life would soon fololw.

Bishop Bidwell also addressed the candidates prior to the laying on of hands. The choir rendered the anthem, "I will pray the Father." The offertory was devoted to the Diocesan apportionment.

Dr. McKechnie of Toronto, was in town on Wednesday performing several operations.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. Cassidy of Springfield, took place on Wednesday from her home. Mrs. Cassidy was operated on last Wednesday evening in Belleville hospital for appendicitis, but the operation was too late to be successful. The remains were brought from Belleville on Tuesday.

HARVESTINGS COMPANY REDUCES IMPLEMENT PRICES.

Substantial reductions announced covering the entire line.

The International Harvester Company of Canada, Lt., makes the following announcement:

"We are pleased to announce a substantial reduction in prices of our entire line of farm implements. This reduction is made possible by the removal or decrease of the sales tax on such machines and on raw materials, and further by the removal or reduction of the duty on materials entering into such machines, as set forth in the Government Budget Resolutions of April 11th, and in subsequent amendments.

"The Canadian farmer will undoubtedly welcome these reductions in price. We feel that he will promptly take advantage of the opportunity and purchase new implements in place of worn out and dilapidated machines now in use, which will, of course, mean greater efficiency in his farming operations.

Cancer Still a Mystery

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—(United Press.)—Undaunted by the failure of carefully conducted experiments, Philadelphia physicians are continuing their search for a specific cure for cancer, which, if found, will constitute one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

The latest experiment in cancer treatment, which includes the removing, treating and replacing in the body part of the diseased tissue itself has been a failure, according to Dr. Edward B. Krumbhaar, director of laboratories in the Philadelphia General Hospitals.

While in Europe recently investigating methods of cancer research in England and on the Continent, Dr. Krumbhaar found that some British investigators believe they have obtained hopeful results in treatment of cancer by cutting out a small portion of a cancer, making a hash of it, exposing this material to X-rays and then putting it back into the body in a small pocket under the skin.

The theory of this treatment is that the X-ray treatment of the tissue thus removed so affects the cells that within a few days they will die, but that during that process they will release into the body protective substances helpful in the body's fight against the original cancer.

Dr. Krumbhaar has recently been trying this method on a number of rats in which cancer has been caused by transplantation of cancer cells from another rat so affected. Thus far, however, the results have been negative and little encouragement to believe this treatment efficacious has resulted.

Japanese investigators have shown that cancer can be caused by applying tar repeatedly and so setting up an irritation. This is believed by local investigators to be evidence in support of the belief that cancer is an aberation of the cells and not due to specific organism. But they realize that possibly the tar and the resulting irritation merely give opportunity for some unknown organism to set to work to cause cancer. So investigators throughout the world are still pursuing the search for some specific cancer organism, as well as attacking the problem of cancer from many other angles.

Weekly conferences are being held here by those specially interested in cancer.

Dangerous delay is likely to prevail between the time a man or woman first notices symptoms of cancer and the time treatment is begun, one authority here points out. Cancer should be treated within 48 hours of the time it first observed, he states. Promptness usually means the difference between life and death. In 1923, 2,250 persons died of cancer in Philadelphia. In the United States, one in twenty deaths of those more than 40 years old is from cancer.

The disease is growing more frequent among civilized mankind, despite the efforts of the medical profession to arouse the public to the importance of early treatment by surgery, X-ray or radium.

LOVELY GOWNS CAN BE MADE AT HOME AT VERY LOW COST

NEW YORK, N.Y. June 4. — (United Press).—

Mary, Mary quite contrary,
How does your Summer wardrobe go?
"Silken mulls, chiffons, tulles,
And five little ginghams hung in a row!"

If a late spring means a warm summer, we will see the summer girl arrayed in sheer summery frocks this year. Shops are showing numerous frocks of voile, linen, cotton crepe and gingham at present, in prediction of warm weather. Piece goods counters are lined with women purchasing cotton materials for home dressmaking.

Among the fascinating ready-made wash frocks there are none lovelier than the hand-hemstitched voiles, which, though simple, are lovely enough to be worn for almost any occasion. Powder blue is one of the new colors which is particularly lovely in voile. Yellow is likewise a good voile color and pink, of course, is always popular.

Most of the ready-made voile frocks are simple chemise types, unbelted and worn with a narrow sash at a low waistline. Skirts are usually hemstitched in wide border effect and some of the most costly models are embroidered as well as hemstitched. The upper portion of the voile frock is generally simple and with very little hemstitching. Sleeves are short, extending just over the shoulder. One can purchase such frocks in almost any shop for ten or twelve dollars.

The Home-Dressmaker

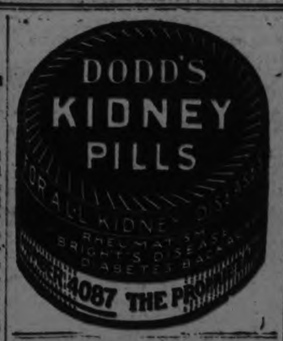
The home-dressmaker has a wide selection of voiles for her selection There are shirt lengths of hemstitched voile as well as the entire dress lengths of hemstitching. Shops are doing everything possible to encourage the home-dressmaker and one can buy semi-make frocks which only require the sewing of the side seams in the piece goods departments. Last week one of the largest department stores in New York displayed a counter of semi-made frocks of cotton crepe in a wide assortment of colors with skirt borders printed in contrasting color scheme in floral designs. Necklines were outlined in colored designs which corresponded with the skirt borders. These frocks or rather semi-frocks, were featured at $5 each ,which is very little higher than the cost of the material which is sold by the yard. There were various sizes with blue marking at the sides to show the amateur where the seams should be joined together. Sewing the side seams, turning the hem and finishing the neck and sleeevs complete the gown which would doubtless be sold in the ready made department of the same shop for fifteen or twenty dollars.

A Gown for $3.00

Printed silk mulls are also lovely for summery wear, as they look silky and do not crush easily and do for semi-dressy occasions. This material can be purchased in almost any color and design for around 75 cents a yard, making the entire frock cost $3.00, if made at home.

Summer wash silk is another good fabric for warm months. Wash ginghams are particularly good looking and were worn last winter at the resorts by some of the smartly gowned women. Nothing looks cooler or more crisp than gingham, although the cotton gingham is liable to be far from cool. Though silk wash gingham is somewhat higher in price than cotton gingham of the better variety, it pays to buy it as a silk gingham frock can be worn for occasions where the cotton frock would be deemed out of place. Cotton gingham is distinctly a morning material.

For summer evening wear, chiffons and tulles will undoubtedly be the materials most popular. Young women are already wearing them at the dancing places. The preference for all white is strong. The white gown which is typical of the mode is made of white chiffon in straight, chemise line with the below-the-knee flounce, the flounce being bordered in a narrow band of irridescent beads or studded throughout with tiny pearls or rhinestones. The all-over beaded frock of white is also with us in spite of its previous popularity. These heavily beaded models still adhere to the low, elastic waistband.



BEER SCHOONER STOCKED AGAIN

Six Hundred Cases of Canadian Ale Returned to Hold of the "Sarnia Oasis."

SKIPPER FINED $200.

SARNIA, Ont., June 5. — Last night the good ship "Sarnia Oasis" is champing at her anchor in Sarnia Bay and the cargo of beer which was forcibly taken from her spacious hold Tuesday is being loaded on the craft again.

Yesterday afternoon Harry Lougheed and William Seink pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling and were each fined $200 and costs of transportation of the beer to a police station and back aboard the scow. The beer ship is located at the dock at the foot of George Street and thirsty Sarnians have cast envious eyes on the proud craft so richly laden with 600 cases of real Canadian ale. The police, however, found some of the beer loose from its mooring and on the shoulders of a mere land lubber and they confiscated the cargo and the above charges were laid. The charge of selling was changed to having liquor illegally.

All is serene again and the cargo is once more aboard ship billed for distant shores. The craft is said to be unseaworthy, however, and the claim is made that with her cargo aboard she is resting on the bottom and her unseaworthiness prevented the officers from having her hauled from her present dockage to a more convenient point for unloading. Sarnia has thus retained her new industry.

NUMBER WORLD TOPICS READY

Jeremiah Smith Will Come Back From Budapest To Make His First Report About His New Job On League Of Nations.

GENEVA, June 6 (Associated Press). — When Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia goes to the United States in July to take part in the round table conferences at Williams College he will bear a new title, that of President of the Council of the League of Nations.

Dr. Benes will serve as president of the June meeting of the League Council, and he continues in office until the following meeting of the Council, which will be in the closing days of August.

President Benes will call the June session of the Council together at Geneva on the 11th of that mouth. That is the date fixed by an official League communique, which proceeds to present the agenda of the meeting. Like the March session, the June gathering will take up matters of special interest to the American people.

Jeremiah Smith, Jr., of Boston, will come back from Budapest to make his first report about his new job, which is that of managing the financial reconstruction of Hungary.

Simultaneously Dr. Zimmerman, who has done fine things for the League of Nations in the rehabilitation of Austria, will visit Geneva to give a further account of Austria's progress towards recovery.

Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the Greek refugee land settlement commission, will be in the United States, but the Council will take up the Greek refugee question and decide what new steps should be taken to raise further loans to carry on the project. A report from Dr. Morgenthau will be presented.

Reduction of armaments, which has come to the fore again as a result of President Coolidge's idea to convoke new international conference at some later propitious moment, will figure as one of the most important items on the June agenda.

The Council also will have before it the draft of the convention for control of international traffic in arms which was made up at Paris in the presence of Joseph C. Grew, now Under-Secretary of State at Washington. Similarly, the subcommittee which recently met at Prague to frame a convention for the control of the private manufacture of arms will submit its conclusions to the Council.

Other items on the programme include slavery, unsettled matters concerning the rights of German residents in Poland, the traffic in women and children, the Dantzic question, the work of the Health Committee, the report of the Economic Committee which will presumably submit a convention dealing with unfair competition in business, and finally the financial committee's report on the budget of the League of Nations itself. This budget is so satisfactory that the League debt incurred in purchasing its present home in Geneva is entirely wiped out.

SHOLER SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Peterboro Man Says He Would Not Swap Tanlac For All Other Medicines Put Together.

"Well, sir, a medicine must be good to relieve a man's troubles of 15 years' standing and then build him up 21 pounds, and as that is what Tanlac has done for me, I can't say enough for it," declares H. Sholer, 220 Edinburgh Street, Peterboro, Ont.

"Before taking Tanlac, I never felt right, hardly knew what it was to ever be hungry; and nausea, heartburn, palpitation, headaches and nervousness would almost set me wild. Many a night I heard the clock strike every hour and was so weak and miserable some days I had to stop work before quitting time.

"But now I haven't a complaint in the world; in fact, hearty eating, steady nerves and sound sleep have made me as strong as an ox. I wouldn't swap Tanlac for all other medicines put together."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

COLD WEATHER DOESN'T BOTHER GAME WARDENS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, June 6. —(Associated Press.)—Frank Dufresne, fur warden at Nome, and his trail assistant, Fay Delezene, a noted northern dog musher, encountered some of the coldest weather known in the territory during a trip last winter to the north of the Arctic Circle.

Leaving Nome on the 1,474-mile journey, the tow first travelled to Safety, then to Bluff, across Norton Sound to the reindeer station; thence to Unalakleet and Kaltag, up the Yukon River to Nulato and on to Koyukuk. From Koyukuk they fololwed the military telegraph line and the Yukon River to Louden, Ruby, Kokrines, Birches and Fort Gibbon. They next struck north to Allakakat, swinging west in a circle to Shungnak and down the Kobuk River to Noorvik, Kotzebue, Keewalik, Candle and overland to Norton Sound and Nome.

For ten days at one stretch the mercury registered from 62 to 78 degrees below zero ,according to Dufresne.

"An interesting fact," said Dufresne, "is that when the thermometer registers 60 degrees below or colder, animal life ceases to move and burrows into the snow, remaining there utiul the weather warms up.

Scientist Describes How To Grow Better Walnuts

BERKELEY, Cal., June 6.—The size and quality of walnut crops may be increased every year through discoveries made by Professor L. D. Batchelor, director of the division of orchard management of the University of California, it is announced by university authorities.

Professor Batchelor found that the walnut increases its size 483 per cent in 28 days after the blossoms set, while in the 28 days next following the increase is but 18 per cent. His experiments developed that the rapid increase in size and quality of the nuts were guided by the early moisture which the trees absorbed. He advised that walnut groves be kept moist down to a depth of at least six feet, this moisture to be placed in the ground in early May to obtain the best results.

SLAVES OBJECT TO OFFER OF FREEDOM

League of Nations Meets Setback When Slaves Say They Don't Want to Be Freed.

GENEVA, June 5. — (United Press.)— The League of Nations' world wide campaign for the abolition of slavery has just met with a serious setback— from the slaves themselves.

The latter object to having the institution of slavery abolished.

The League's campaign against slavery was instituted some two years ago upon representations before the League Assembly that slavery still existed in Abyssinia, with open slave markets and the ruling authorities making a nice income off a head tax on each slave sold.

In the midst of the Leagu's efforts to end this practice, rendered difficult by the fact that Abyssinia was not a member of the League, Abyssinia suddenly applied for admission to the League. At the time of Abyssinia's entrance into the League she signed all existing treaties and agreements that provide for the abolition of slavery. There still remained the question of freeing the slaves already in existence, and it is at this point that the League has been cruely repulsed, by the slaves themselves. The latter don't want to be freed.

According to reports just received from various interested governments, such as France, England and Italy, the consuls and other authorities in the districts adjoining the Red Sea, where the slave traffic formerly flourished, declare that the slaves are more than satisfied with their present condition.

For the most part they were savages captured in the open, and who, after being sold on the block, were given steady occupations by their masters with plenty to eat, and wear and no worry about the future.

Many of them are employed on small ships along the Red Sea. Others are employed as servants by rich land owners in the interior of Asia Minor. Their material position is immensely better than what it was when they were at large as savages. They are for the most part well taken care of, for the simple reason that their masters are not very keen about depreciating the value of their purchase by rendering it unfit for service; and also because of Abyssinia's pledge to the League of Nations to abolish slavery, the product is becoming daily more difficult to secure.

This complicated situation will come before the meeting of the League council this month and also before the League Assembly in September.

League circles hope that the Prince Regent of Ethiopia, Ras Tafaris, who is now on a tour of Europe, will drop in on the League and offer some valuable suggestion as to how to satisfy the slaves who do not want to be freed and public opinion, which is opposed to slaves being slaves, even at their own option.

If soap is distributed in powdered form throughout the air of a room and ignited, it will explode with violence.

The Orioles run from the Felt Company on Monday night by default, and the All Stars were defeated by the B.Y.P.U. A double header is frequently played at Victoria Park, when the cheers and rooting makes the welkin ring.

Kill a Crow Or Pay a Fine In Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 6. — To relieve the city and its suburbs of a destructive plague of crows the authorities are issuing free powder and shot, and every male citizen is required to present at least one dead crow to the nearest police station or pay a fine of 125 piastres.

Always present in large numbers this year these crows, or more precisely, rooks, have become a pest and have done much damage. They have ravaged the truck gardens around the city and on the Prinkipos Islands, those beautiful resorts in the Sea of Marmora, they have caused a water famine. The water supply of the islands is solely from cisterns and the birds have so fouled the roofs as to make the water unpotable.

BUY MORE USED CARS.

A great increase in shipment of used cars to Japan has been noted. It is due, some say, to a shortage of rickshaw men resulting from the earthquake and subsequent demand for building labor.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

What is the difference between the present real estate mortgage bond and the old mortgage? Why did the real estate mortgage bond originate?

Answered by
BENJAMIN BILLS
Director of Sales, American Bond and Mortgage Company.

* * *

The real estate bond is the modern twentieth century form of mortgage.

The real estate bond is appropriately described as a "split-mortgage." For, it is simply having a large mortgage split up into bond pieces so that a boy can buy a share with $2.00 a week, which he makes from his newspapers, his older brother a larger share with the $100 he saves from his salary, and the father can get a $1,000 or $10,000 bond piece for investment from the profits of his business. Yet each one has the same mortgage security. The size of his security is equal to the size of his bond.

The real estate mortgage bond was originated to build large apartment hotels where the comforts and conveniences of a home may be enjoyed without annoyance and cares. Likewise the need for this type of financing originated in the construction of great apartment buildings contiguous to business districts, so that the time consumed in getting back and forth from home to business is reduced.

POORHOUSE.

A luxurious poorhouse for down-and-out rich men is opened in New York. It's described as rivaling a first-class hotel in comforts and beauty. Built and maintained by a fund of five million dollars, left by Andrew Freedman, capitalist and baseball magnate who died in 1915.

Back of it all is the principle that if you've never had big money you don't know what you're missing

How about rich men's home for the old age of people who have always rubbed elbows with poverty? Still better, change the system so there wouldnt be any need for poorhouses. Poverty is inexcusable in the midst of our tremendous national wealth and prosperity.

THE FREE STATE SEEKS TO SET UP A LEGATION IN U. S. CAPITAL CITY

Regards as Essential That Minister Should Have Powers of Envoy Extraordinary -- First Task Would Be Drawing of Treaty.

DOMINIONS CONSIDER

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(United Press.)—Negotiations proceeding between London and Dublin concerning the contemplated establishment of an Irish Legation in Washington hinge mainly upon the elimination of the Irish as distinct from the British representatives' functions in the United States and the precise character of the Irish emissary's credentials.

The Free State government is understood to regard as essential that its representative here shall possess the title and powers of a minister and envoy extraordinary rather than a resident minister.

One of the first tasks of the proposed Irish minister, it is learned would be the conclusion of a United States-Ireland commercial treaty on the most favorite nation basis. It is considered possible that the appointment of Professor Smeldy as Irish minister will be followed by naming the present Irish trade commissioner, it is not unlikely that an Irish consul would also be appointed. The existing arrangement between the British and the Irish Government regarding passports, whereby Irish passports will be vised by the British consul, might be temporarily continued both to avoid an extra financial burden for Ireland and to forestall difficulties concerning the mutual killings of each other by Irish factionalists.

The Irish Legation's creation here would probably cause serious considertion of similar action by the Canadian Government and the London Foreign Office is reported as weighing the possibilities of like proposals from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland. There is reason to believe, however, that Australia and New Zealand would be content to continue the present arrangement, whereby their interests in the United States are represented by the British Ambassador. The renewed recognition which would be affected by the Free State's sovereignty through the establishment of a legation is regarded at Irish International quarters as of the highest importance.

RABBIT HUNTERS DISAPPEAR AGAIN

Helen Cole and Charles Carter, Who Spent 3 Days in Woods, Dropped at Station.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Six hours after they had been brought back to Newfoundland, N.J., after spending three days and three nights in the woods near Mountain Lakes, Helen Cole and Charles Carter disappeared again early yesterday morning.

Shortly after 10 o'clock on Tuesday night the couple, who had been found at 6 p.m. on Wawayanda Mountain, started away from the Newfoundland Inn in the automobile of Harry Strong of Mountain Lakes. Mr. Strong at a dinner at the home of James R. Crowell of Mountain Lakes on Saturday, said that he did not believe Miss Cole could catch a rabbit with her hands. The girl said on Tuesday that her determination to prove that she could led to the adventure. Carter, she said, came along to see that no harm befall her.

Later they were transferred to the sedan of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shearer of Mountain Lakes, who drove out with Mrs. Crowell and others and met the Strong car a short distance from the inn. They drove in the Shearer machine to a railroad station at Monclair, where Mrs. Crowell said, they were let out and told to wend their way thence as they preferred.

Nothing has been heard of the couple since. Miss Cole has not returned yesterday to the Hotel Marlton, where she had lived before she went to Mountain Lakes on Saturday for the week end at the Crowells Carter had said the night before that he lived in Forty-eight Street, but no one of that name was known at the address he gave.

Mrs. Crowell would not comment on the episode yesterday except to indicate that her acquaintance with the young couple was at an end. Arthur Stringer of Mountain Lakes, author of the story about a young couple being thrown upon their own resources in a wilderness, which started the discussion which led to the adventure, denied again that it was a publicity scheme.

The New Jersey State Constabulary, which had been called in on Sunday night, has withdrawn from the case.

"We are just going to drop it," it was said yesterday at the troopers' station at Somerville. "It has been a foolish affair all the way through, we think, and there is nothing we could hold them on."

WOULD SUPPRESS LIQUOR AND NARCOTIC TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—A treaty designed to suppress the smuggling of liquor and narcotics across the Canadian boundary was signed here to-day by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, representing Canada and Secretary of State Hughes for the United States.

TORONTO BARRISTER JUMPED FROM WINDOW

ST. CATHARINES, June 6.—Leaving an unfinished letter addressed "Dear Mother," T. A. Silverthorne, a Toronto barrister, aged 40, jumped from a rear third storey window of an hotel in his night attire during last night, his body being found early this morning by a policeman. The letter stated that it would probably be the last that his mother would hear from him.

Silverthorne left Toronto two weeks ago for a visit to the United States. He had suffered a nervous breakdown, and it was hoped the trip would restore his health. He was unmarried and is survived by his aged mother.

KIWANIS CLUB AUCTION LAMP

Auctioneer Knocked Out But Revived by Glass of Water--Today's Address.

At to-day's Kiwanis Club luncheon a lamp stand was auctioned off by Kiwanian Charlie Cook, who announced that the proceeds would go to the Jackson Park children's fund. Auctioneer Cook got along very well and had Mayor J. J. Turner and Ald. John Meyers up around the seven dollar mark when Ald. Walter Stocker plumped in a straight bid of ten dollars. This knocked the auctioneer cold, and he had barely time to declare the stand sold when he collapsed, and it took three men to bring him around with a glass of water. Up to this point the bids had been limited to twenty-five and fifty cent jumps. Kiwanian Stocker immediately presented the lamp stand to the club, and it was suggested that the members put in twenty-five cents each and draw for the lamp. This netted another nine dollars, making a total of nineteen dollars for the lamp, which finally went to President John R. Marshall, who drew the lucky number. The lamp was originally donated to the club by Kiwanian Alec Dick.

To-day's guests included Kiwanian Arthur Moffatt, of Orillia, now of Peterboro; Mr. Arthur Barton, who contributed two excellent vocal numbers, and Mr. Cecil Mackey of Windsor.

Kiwanians J. A. McKone and Carl Browne were each credited with a birthday to-day, but each one studiously avoided giving their fellow members any clue as to their exact age.

On June 27th next the speaker of the day will discuss the relationship between the city and country, and each member will endeavor to bring a farmer to the luncheon as his guest.

The Field Day at the Exhibition Grounds to-morrow afternoon formed the subject of a two-minute address by Kiwanian John Craig, and the affair will receive the support of the Kiwanis Club through the sale of tickets and other means.

The Address.

To-day's speaker was Mr. Gordon Fraser, president of the Trent Valley Waterway Association, who gave a descriptive and interesting account of his recent trip to South America, where he visited Brazil, Chile, Argentine and many other places. Mr. Fraser was introduced by Mayor Turner. The trip started at New York, and in addition to the necessary passports it required a certificate of health from the medical health officer and various inspections along the way. The heart of the coffee-producing country was visited, where it costs six cents a bag to place the coffee on shipboard and ten cents to ship it to America. The high cost of native labor for loading was attributed to the Government of Brazil, which practically prohibits mechanical labor for loading. Brazil is larger in area than the whole of the United States. In the principal cities the streets are paved with concrete and the sidewalks tiled. Police are dirty looking and slovenly.

The largest grapes in the world are grown in South American at a point where it seldom rains. The land is watered by irrigation. There is no sewage system in the cities, and people usually throw their rubbish out of the windows.

Mr. Fraser concluded his address with a reference to the return trip through the Panama Canal, the beauty of which was easily surpassed by the Trent Canal.

Kiwanian Lloyd Hamilton presided at to-day's meeting.

Ice Cream Cone, Bottle of Soda, Package of Cigarettes on His Statement.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, June 6. — Twenty-five cents made up the campaign expense account of H. Earl Fries, who won the Republican nomination for constable here Monday against a field of seven candidates, he announced to-day.

His itemized statement showed that the money was spent for an ice cream cone, a bottle of soda water and a package of cigarettes.

CHURCH DEBATE TO BE HOTTEST OF THE SERIES

Resolutions Declare Assembly Must Decline to Accept Amendments —Invade Right of Church, Subject to No Civil Authority.

ASK ASSISTANCE

OWEN SOUND, June 6.—(Canadian Press.)— Foreshadowing a debate on church union more acrimonious than in any previous instance, were resolutions from the Union committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly distributed to the commissioners prior to the much awaited discussion of the subject by the gathering this afternoon. In brief, the resolutions declare that the Assembly must decline to accept amendments which have been introduced into the preamble of the church union bill now before Parliament as invading and violating the right and power of the church subject to no civil authority, to legislate and adjudicate finally in all matters of doctrine, worship, government and discipline in the church, to frame and adopt and modify its subordinate standards of faith, and the right to unite with any other Christian church without loss of its identity on terms which it finds to be consistent with its own principles, doctrines and religious standards.

The resolutions urged parliament to pass during this session the church union bill without amendment which would invalidate the principle of the bill. Congregations were enjoined to assist in such ways as are within their power to carry out the policy of the church in the matter of union. In the preamble to the resolutions it is stated that the right of the church to shape its own policy and to determine its own destiny has been challenged.

Church Supreme.

Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon addressing the assembly, largely went over ground familiar to the church. The central point of his deliverance was the great doctrine for which the church has stood for hundreds of years, namely the spiritual independence of the church and the supreme headship of Jesus. The assembly and the church, Dr. Pidgeon declared, refused and would continue to refuse at all hazards to be subject in any way in the spiritual realm to any external authority of any kind. It refused definitely and positively and would continue to refuse definitely and positively to allow any external authority to interpret its standards.

DAVIS MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED

The Gigantic Concrete Shaft Is 341 Weet High And Will Be Presented To Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, June 4.—A monument, second only in size to that of George Washington, will be dedicated to Jefferson Davis, only President of the Confederate States of America, at his birthplace, Fairview, Kentucky, on June 7.

The gigantic concrete shaft is 341 feet high and will be formally presented to Kentucky, the State which, within a year, gave to the nation the leaders of the opposing forces of the civil war. Abraham Lincoln, war president, also was a Kentuckian. The two leaders were born in log cabins less than 100 miles apart, Davis in Christian county, June 3, 1808, and Lincoln in Hardin county, February 12, 1809.

Kentucky, Mississippi, his ante-bellum homestead, and Tennessee, where Davis spent the closing days of his life, are to play the most conspicuous part on dedication day. The nine other States which joined Mississippi and Tennessee in the confederacy, also are to be represented.

The confederate reunion opened in Memphis yesterday, the anniversary of Davis' birth, and will continue for three days.

A number of noted persons are participating in the dedication ceremonies. They include Major Jefferson Davies, U.S.A., Colorado Springs a grandson of Jefferson Davis; Jesse James, Kansas City, son of the famous train robber who half a century ago made many trips into Kentucky, and George Nolen and Tyler Burns, two of the seven surviving members of Quantrell's guerilla band. Governor Fields accepted the monument in behalf of the State.

The monument is the crowning event in the efforts of the southerners who would honor the memory of the confederacy's president. For years it was only a dream with many. Then the 20 acres of land in the original Davis farm were purchased as a site for the memorial. In 1917 work was begun on the obelisk. For five years the struggle against adverse financial circumstances continued, until the general assembly of Kentucky voted $15,000 for completion of the shaft two years ago.

The foundation of the monument is 40 feet square and rests on a base 18 feet below the surface. The column is 35 feet square at the surface and tapers gradually as it rises.

Jefferson Davis, while born in Kentucky, was reared in Mississippi. He was graduated from Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., and from the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. After serving in several Indian campaigns following his graduation, he resigned from the army and became a planter in Mississippi. He resigned from congress, to which he had been elected, and served with distinction in the United States army during the Mexican war. After that war he was appointed to the United States Senate to fill a vacancy, and for a number of years served as senator, and as secretary of war under President Pierce. He withdrew from the senate in 1861 when his State seceded from the union.

On February 4, 1861, delegates from the cotton states, meeting at Montgomery, Ala., formed the confederacy and chose Davis president. He served in that capacity throughout the war. He went to Canada after the war was over, but subsequently returned to the south and made his home in Memphis.

"AS LITTLE CHILDREN."

We say sometimes of folk who are getting old that they are in their second childhood. We mean to imply delicately that they have become simple, less intelligent, but there is a second childhood which can come to us, and which must come to us, if we would know what it means to have the Kingdom of Heaven within. It will come to us as we come to see and to experience that many things which grown-ups call joy and pleasure, are unsatisfactory at best, when we turn to embrace once more, because our souls are weary, the pure loves and pleasures of childhood. True, we cannot lay our hands on many of the things which we enjoyed then. But how real was our enjoyment of beautiful sunshine, of fragrant flowers, of race in the wind, and a hundred and one things which we can mention. How we appreciated a kind word or a pat on the head from some truly good person. Did we need anything more to complete our happiness? Yet as grown-ups, we have allowed many other things to come into our lives but which have always proved to be gall and bitterness in the end. Do we want the Kingdom of God to come to our heart and on the earth? Then let us return to the joys of childhood; let us trust God as we trusted our parents, let us love freely, forgive freely, be obedient to the light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, and we shall be happier in ourselves, and be a light unto others, and will have come into fellowship and union with God.—L.B.

BRAKE CONTROL SHOWN BY TEST

Speeding Is The Greatest Accident Cause—Emergency Brake Less Effective Than Service.

IMPROVEMENT NEEDED

(By Israel Klein.)

Need of local ordinances governing the control and efficiency of brakes on automobiles was brought home recently in tests conducted at Washington by representatives of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Bureau of Standards:

The tests revealed the following glaring defects on average automobiles:

1. Cars with four-wheel brakes varied considerably in the effectiveness of their brakes.

2. Cars with two wheel brakes also varied considerably in braking efficiency and stopped at greater distances than the four-brake cars.

3. The so-called "emergency" brake was less effective than the service brake in stopping the car.

These and other tests conducted by engineers independently point to the efficacy of four-wheel brakes, especially in emergencies. But they also reveal the fact that this innovation need considerable adjustment and improvement before it can be referred to as a finished product.

Method Used.

In making these tests the engineers used a decelerometer developed by the Bureau of Standards men. This instrument recorded more accurately than any previous system the distance required for a car to stop from a given speed. The popular system heretofore, which is still in use by police officials in various cities, was to have a motorist reach a designated line across the road at a given speed and apply the brakes as he crossed the line. The distance of his stopping point from the line marked the efficiency of his brakes, as related to the standard set by the local authorities. Even this standard may vary according to the judgment of the various officials.

It was one of the purposes of the Bureau of Standards test to determine a standard of braking efficiency for various kinds of automobiles, so that police may not have to rely on a more or less arbitrary decision. Use of the decelerometer and adoption of a U.S. standard might result in better and more scientific inspection of brakes by police.

According to the Bureau of Standards test, the average stopping distance for a four-brake car going 20 miles an hour was 21.1 feet on a dry pavement and 26.8 feet on a wet road. Yet the stopping distances for such cars tested varied from 16 to 26 feet on a dry road, and from 14 to 40 feet on a wet road.

Improvement Needed.

Two-wheel brake cars stopped at an average of 36 feet on dry road, and 53.3 feet on wet pavement. The stopping distances for these also varied considerably, showing that two-wheel brakes need as much standardisation and adjustment as the four-wheel brakes.

Although one car, in the Washington test, stopped at a shorter distance on wet road than on dry, the fact that it had balloon tires, the engineers believe, had little to do with this result. However, since these were not tests of balloon tires, the engineers could not make a direct comparison between the new and the old styles of tires.

Efficiency ofthe service brake as compared with the emergency came almost as a surprise to the experimenters. Using the foot brake alone, the drivers going at 20 miles an hour stopped at distances varying from 22 to 98 feet. With the emergency brake alone, they stopped from 42 to 155 feet!

So far as skidding was concerned, no serious fault could be discovered on any of the automobiles, whether equipped with four or with two brakes. Only one of the 30 or more cars tested skidded on dry pavement, and that car, it was found, had poorly adjusted brakes.

The resolution stated that the committee had investigated Indian conditions in Oklahoma and had discovered that the Indians are being systematically robbed, and exploited and had recommended that urisdiction of Indian affairs be turned back to the Department of the Interior.

American Fortunes Remaining Intact

CHICAGO, June 6.—(United Press).—W. R. Shirley, President of the National Fraternal Congress, says that the shirt-sleeves-to-shirt-sleeves tradition of the grandchildren of millionaires is a myth so far as the United States is concerned. The tendency, he says, of American fortunes is to remain intact.

"Examination of fortunes big enough to be widely known," said Shirley, "shows that they do not break up in passing from generation to generation, but in many cases increase tenfold. When Meyer Guggenheim died in 1905 he left $50,000,000. His six sons today have a fortune of $500,000,000 and control half the world's copper supply.

"All the Standard Oil fortunes have increased enormously. Steven W. Harkness, who was one of Rockefeller's right-hand men, left a fortune of less than $50,000,000. The aggregate wealth of the family is now $400,000,000. The Payne, Flagler, Archbold, Frasch, Rogers and Tilford fortunes have shown similar increase.

"Alexis I. du Pont died in 1921 and left a fortune estimated at $30,000,000. Today the du Pont heirs are worth half a billion."

Child Welfare Program Planned By Lion Clubs

OMAHA, June 6.—(Associated Press).—Decision that Lions Clubs should make child welfare their major activity for the year, made by the International Board of Directors, is expected to be adopted at the convention of the International Association of Lions Club, which meets here June 23-26.

The work will be divided into three classes: prevention of blindness and care of those already blind, especially the publication of a magazine printed in Braille for children; better care for crippled children by seeking larger appropriations through co-operation with local bodies, and better care of undernourished children by uniting the efforts of all civic organizations to that end.

Lions International, the infant of the large civic groups, now has a membership of approximately 40,000 business and professional men, united in 750 clubs.

"The work we will undertake next year will be the most tremendous in our history," said Melvin Jones, International Secretary-General. "Lions are bound to serve, without pay of any kind, every worthy civic enterprise. Each club chooses its own tasks, and they range from the building and endowing of hospitals to the construction of highways."

MAN-KILLING TIGER KILLED BY A RAJAH

White Man-Eater Is Curiosity Of Sportsmen All Over India.

CALCUTTA, June 5.— (Associated Press.)—Sportsmen all over India are greatly interested in the skin of a white tiger recently shot by the Maharaja of Sirguja and which is now on display here.

Except for a few darker stripings the pelt is almost pure white and measures nine feet eight inches from nose to tail tip. The white tiger is extremely rare, but few specimens ever having been secured, and this one is reported to have had a career of depredation that included three human victims and innumerable cattle.

According to reports from the district in which it was killed, the beast actually appeared to use its unusual coloration as an aid to hunting. It was continually mistaken for a steer or cow as it lay quietly among the herds waiting a chance to kill, and the natives assert that it mixed freely with the herds without exciting alarm.

Three instances are related of the tiger having been seen lying quietly in the jungle and being mistaken by natives for a beast it had slain, and in each of these cases when the native approached, he was killed.

AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

Vote on Conservatives' Protective Proposal Lost by 114 to 36.

OTTAWA, June 5 (Canadian Press). — Conservatives moved their amendment to the Budget in the House yesterday. It was proposed by F. J. Doucet of Kent, N.B. and provided that the welfare of Canada "requires a consistently maintained protective policy."

The amendment was the same as Mr. Doucet intended to move during the main Budget debate, but was forestalled by the Labour amendment of J. S. Woodsworth.

Yesterday Mr. Doucet, without any peliminary speech, moved his amendment when the Bill to give effect to the tariff changes proposed in the Budget came before the House for second reading.

On dividing, the House voted the Conservative amendment down by 114 to 36. Majority against 78.

Two Liberals, H. M. Marler, of St. Lawrence-St. George, Montreal, and F. N. McCrea, of Sherbrooke, voted with the Conservatives.

ROUNDED NECKS.

The rounded neck, slightly pointed in front, is seen on nearly all the slip-over sweaters.

W. M. S. Convention

PORT HOPE, June 6. — The thirty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Bay of Quinte branch was held at Port Hope this year.

The session was for three days, June 3rd, 4th and 5th.

There was no regular programme for the first morning, but the ladies of the local auxiliary were kept busy meeting the different incoming passenger trains in order to show the delegates around the town. Several gentlemen were good enough to place their cars at the disposal of the W.M.S. to convey visitors to the meeting place.

Upon reaching the church the courtesy committee welcomed the delegates, who were registered as they arrived.

The Port Hope ladies had the altal beautifully decorated with tulips for the occasion.

At eleven o'clock the officers and superintendents had a conference.

The opening of the General Session was at 2.30 p.m.

After the usual opening services and the reading of the Scripture lesson the points were enlarged upon. The first was that there is rest in helping others because where there is spiritual uplift there is peace of mind and therefore rest. Secondly there is a season of sowing and one of reaping which pictured the harvest ready and waiting for the reaper. In the third place spiritual work unites all, creates union especially the work of missionaries who sow the seeds of Christianity while their followers reap the benefits and in the fourth place spiritual work has such great rewards. Even the world may not hear and know what W.M.S. have been doing but the Lord will know of the sowing and reaping and reward everyone accordingly. Therefore the W.M.S. has a great incentive to work towards the harvest for great will be their reward.

Mrs. Kendry, Branch treasurer, of Peterborough, led in prayer and a special prayer was offered for the recovery of Mrs. M. E. Wilson, the corresponding secretary of the Circles and Bands, who met with a serious accident and is in the hospital. A special prayer was also offered for the young girls in Circles and Bands who are helping in the mission work and for the girls preparing for foreign work.

Mrs. Ashton, of Campbellford, the Branch treasurer, who was occupying her place on the platform, was sorry that tne date for the Bay of Quinte Conference conflicted with the Branch convention, but that the dates for the convention had been set too long before it was ascertained that the Conference was being held at the same time. Plans had been made accordingly that could not be cancelled.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. G. Lawlor, B.A., of Norwood, gave the reports of the different committees. Those appointed on the courtesy committee were: Mrs. Gay, Belleville; Mrs. Stinson, Lindsay; Mrs. Dicks, Little Britain; Mrs. Barnes, Millbrook; Mrs. Chas. Foster, Toronto.

Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Jackson acted as a press committee.

Greetings were brought from the sister organizations of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Anglican churches.

The lady who brought greetings from the Anglican church told how the mission work had grown tremendously and what a great help it was to the clergy. She also compared the Christian privileges as women here with those of the heathen lands.

Don't Like "Collection."

Mrs. McCullough framed a motion that in the rest fund the term offering be used instead of collection. Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. (Dr.) Carmen have given hours of very careful study to the rest fund.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Galbraith. She said someone had called Port Hope the prettiest town in Ontario. Forty-three years ago in this Branch $2,916 was raised for Missions compared with $4,577.07 raised last year. Some one had said there must be great returns from such great work but the W.M.S. receives its returns when the Missionaries on furlough present their work to the Branches. She also said that nine years ago the convention was held in Port Hope with Mrs. A. W. Grange in the chair. She was now retired to an honorary president after having given ten years of valuable service.

The reply to the address of welcome was given by Mrs. (Rev.) Foley.

Guests of Honor Welcomed.

The guests of honor were called upon to come forward and be introduced generally. Mrs. Gordon Wright, President of the London Branch whose address came in the evening; Miss Hawken a missionary home on furlough and Miss Rowe of Peterboro a candidate for the training school in the fall. She said that although she had never before been to a Branch convention she felt none the less at home as all were hoping to do the same work although in a different form. She said she felt she had been called by God to the work and was happy to think that he would use her. She had been accepted a year ago. Mrs. Ashton explained but owing to ill health had been unable to attend.

The corresponding secretary now called out the different districts names to have the report given by their superintendent.

District Reports.

The first was Belleville who had twenty-six auxiliaries, 826 annual and 232 life members; five circles, 216 members, 2 new circles organized "Sunset" and "Here Am I"; one band revised. The auxiliary had sent to Branch $4,835.40, circles $622.73, bands, $456.70, total $5,914.83. She said this would look like a decrease but last year $450.00 had been raised by the auxiliary through donations and nothing of that had been done this year. They reported many bales sent and many cots in hospitals supported.

Bowmanville district had held the largest convention yet, two weeks ago. The had a slight decrease; three new bands at work, one new circle and prospects of an new auxiliary. They had 13 auxiliaries, 668 annual and 166 life members; 5 circles, 146 annual and 25 life members; 6 bands, 204 annual and 48 life members. Total amount raised by all organizations $3,466.82.

A Good Report.

The Brighton superintendent said it would have taken a lot to keep her at home as she was so pleased with her report. 13 auxiliaries, 520 annual and 99 life members, total 619, an increase of 81. They had sent bales of fruit and clothing. They had disbanded one circle and one band for lack of leaders but otherwise had a healthy increase. Auxiliaries raised $2,380.03, circles $535.33, bands $290.45, and increase over all of $426.39 over last year. They had held their district meeting at Smithfield.

Campbellford's report was very successful. They had sent away, bedding, clothing and fruit. District convention had been held at Warkworth with Miss Hudson, returned missionary as special speaker. Total membership 801 for auxiliaries, 67 for circles and 186 bands with the amounts raised by each respectively: $2,748.31, $287.17, $412.43. Total amount raised $3,438.91. This is an increase of $375.80.

Report for Cannington was increased finanacially although not by members. They had twenty-eight societies altogether. The amounts raised were by the auxiliaries $1,790.13, by circles $391.82, by bands $268.95, a general increase of $278.11. They had raised money in the bands by giving each member a small yellow bag and having her put in one cent every day the sun shone. They held convention at Oakwood and Miss Hawken was present and gave an address. They had also had Mrs. Wilson present at one meeting of the year.

Cobourg Flourishing.

Cobourg district reported one new circle at Centreton during the year. Two bands had done exceptionally well; Alderville just newly organized, called Mississauga after the tribe of Indians settled there had raised about thiry dollars. Mrs. Roberts the superintendent said she was proud of her district because hey had been asked for an increase of $400 and had reached the mark at $602.15. The total amounts raised were auxiliaries $2,442.24; circles $218.39, bands $534.67. Held convention in Roseneath on May 14.

Lindsay district had the banner circle (Cambridge Street) for the branch raising $800. They had one new circle at Haliburton. The amounts raised were $2,426.68 for auxiliaries, $1,111.00 for circles, $393.99 for band. They had been helped to raise their objective by a $200 donation as a memorial to the memory of the late Mrs. McRae.

Madoc district had an increase in members for the auxiliary but a decrease in members of the bands. It was mostly in the rural sections that the increases had been. She spoke of Alderado in particular mentioning this extraction. Many daughters have done well but Thou has done exceedingly well. At their convention there had been the key note of spirituality. In the last eight years they had sent over $20,000.00 to missions. There had been a new band organized at Coe Hill and they had sent $30 to branch this year. They had altogether forwarded $1,099.20 which although not an increase they are hoping to outnumber for the coming year.

Napanee has 593 members. In one case nine members had raised $88. Odessa had gained four life members. In one instance where the average attendance was formerly eight or nine it was now thirty. At Napanee the President was trying a six months time limit on systematic giving. At one place the band and circle met on the one day and had part of the programme together after which they separated to the older and younger societies.

Tamworth district has fifteen auxiliaries, eight circles and eight bands. The auxliaries had remitted $1,732. One new circle had been formed at Tamworth and one new one at Croyden. Tamworth had held first place in the branch circles. Mrs. Wilson had been present at one of their meetings and gave a fine address which had resulted in the organization of the Lucila Rorke circle being organized. This was named after one of our missionaries who spent a few years of her life at Tamworth. Their total of givings was $2,474.00.

Increase in Peterboro's Progress.

Peterboro had a pleasing increase. Raised by auxiliaries $3,360.72 by circles $615.16, by bands $289.20, total $3,065.08. This in an increase of $760.09 over last They had held a convention at Bethany with Mrs. Scott as special speaker. Mrs. Rorke had also read a letter from her daughter in Japan written the day after the earthquake in that place. There had been excellent enthusiasm shown throughout the year.

Picton district had a successful increase in figures which are a proof of workers and givings. There had been two new auxiliaries organized making a total of twenty-three with seven circles and ten bands. They had held their convention at Wellington. They had a total of 1,269 women and children working for Missions raising $4,806, an increase of $475.

Whitby has seven auxiliaries, one circle and seven bands. They had lost one circle and gained one band and raised $5 more this year than last.

This concluded the report of the superintendents. Mrs. Ashton said she and Mrs. Lawlor were pleased with their reports were so encouraging.

Mrs. Roberts, superintendent of the Cobourg district closed the morning sesion with prayer.

Wednesday Morning's Session

The Wednesday morning session opened at 9.45 by the singing of hymn No. 372 "Faith of our Fathers" with Mesdames Hewitt and Perry in charge. Mrs. Jackson read the names of the deaths in the different districts.

Mrs. Perry gave an address on the departed sisters and read from the 14th Chapter of Isiah, "They that wait upon the Lord shall have their strength renewed like the eagle."

Mrs. Lawlor, the corresponding secretary then took a few minutes to straighten out a few matters of business regarding the printing which has been delayed.

Mrs. Ashton presiding asked that in the face of the generous increase of the past year, $2,000, all should arise and sing the Doxology.

It was moved by Mrs. Hammond, seconded by Mrs. Moore that we accept the changes made in the Rest Fund.

It was decided on motion that we accept the word "offering" in the rest fund in place of the word "collection' as suggested by Mrs. McCullough.

There was also a motion that instead of the term "associate editor" of the outlook it be changed to "Editor of the Woman's Department."

Mrs. Ashton told how the conference of branch officers had sent a letter of cheer and help also flowers to Mrs. Wilson, the secretary of the Mission Bands.

Mrs. Garland of Cobourg took the part "Fruit of our Labors" which had been alloted to Mrs. Wilson. She called upon Mrs. Irvine who read an appeal from the Palm branch. As shown by the blue book the Bay of Quinte branch has fallen behind in subscriptions. They are now taking 594 copies, the letter asked for 1,000. As this is the only Missionary paper printed in Canada for young people. Mrs. Ashton explained that this paper had improved greatly during the past year. It was suggested to introduce it into the Sunday Schools. By getting groups of ten subscriptions they could be procured at 15 cents but sent individually they would be 25c. Forms were on hand to receive subscriptions.

Paper By Mrs. Harland.

A paper 'Laying Foundation Stones' was igven by Mrs. W. J. Garland. She began by telling of the largest buildings in the world and referred to the immense and sound foudations necesary. So with the missionary workers they must lay them deep that they make take deep and srong roots. From the ages to two to seven years is the best time to form their characters and tell hem the missionary stories. Start them as "Little Light Bearers" followed by the mission bands and circles fitting them for the auxiliary in late years. Teach them to give sentence prayers and later into subject prayers. Mrs. Garland had many pictures to illustrate the work done by their mission band also maps of different countries.

The "Vital Link" was a paper given by Miss Derry of Peterboro, meaning the young women's circles assistants to the auxiliary. They very often have more time than the older women as well as being a training for future leadership.

A paper entitled "Ear marks of a live circle" was given by Mrs. Tanton. This was a very fine address giving three things necessary to true leadership. It requires personality and those characteristics that will make her a fit example for children copy their leaders. Definite purpose is needed to and worth while programmes These must be kept interesting and attractive and should present the great worl's needs teaching also individual responsibility. Definite spiritual results will be the outcome if these are carried out. The speaker had visited the battlefields in the war zone and spoke particularly of Ypres with its numberless white crosess where so many Canadian boys paid the supreme saerifice. She said it seemed to her as a challenge to us while the people of today cannot and are not called upon to give up their lives as they did but to live a life of challenge against the numberless evils of the times.

Mrs. C. C. Washington gave an excellent paper on life investments. She said that Mrs. Wilson had asked her to put it in the form of a special appeal for the young girls to invest their lives for foreign mission work. "Are we as proud of patriotism to God, as we are to the flag?" Every Canadian surely is justly proud of their part in the Great War. mothers with visions of Jesus Christ are needed in order to help show their children their part of missionary work in the world. Life investments are needed first for the homes and for the children next.

There was then given an instrumental selection by a member of the Cambridge Street Methodist circle.

Source of Leadership.

Mrs. W. W. Redden gave a paper on bands and circles as a potential source of leadership. The hope of future leadership in the auxiliaries lies in the work of the bands and circles. She read a recipe given in a copy of the Palm branch for leadership. Take So parts holy willingness to work anywhere God wants her stirred with humility then five parts faith, perseverance, four parts desire for knowledge and one part of what the world calls ability. Set this to rise with the leaven of prayer in the warm rays of God's love and there is a woman such as God requires for service. May every one pray that many may catch a vision and pay the price of sacrifice for leadership.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

GRUBBY, GROUNDHOG DOES SOME ERRANDS

"Oh, Grubby, will you go to Mister Bags' store for me?"

One day Mrs. Bunny was baking a cake and she ran out of sugar.

"My goodness, I'm not dressed to go to the store! What shall I do?" she wailed.

Just then she heard a whistling outside.

"There's that little groundhog boy," she said. "I'll get him to run an errand for me."

So she put her head out of her window and called, "Oh, Grubby, will you go to Mister Bags' store for me and get me a pound of the freshest sugar?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Grubby obligingly.

That very day Mrs. Squirrel was having company to lunch.

And here, when she went to salt the soup, she found that she hadn't a grain.

"Lands alive!" she gasped. "That's a nice fix to be in—no salt in the house! I'll have to get some from the store some way, for I need salt for the meat and potatoes and vegetables and salad and everything."

Just then she heard Grubby's cheerful whistle as he passed the flat where she lived.

"I'll just ask the little groundhog boy to get it for me," she said.

"Yes, ma'am, I'll get you a pound of salt," said Grubby obligingly. "I'm going to the store anyway."

So off he waddled to the store in the woods where Nancy and Nick were working.

"Here's your salt, Mrs. Squirrel," he called when he reached her flat.

So she let down a basket and Grubby put in one of the bags and she hauled it up after throwing him a penny.

Then she put a large pinch in the soup and a pinch in the meat and a pinch in the mashed potatoes and a pinch in everything but the pudding.

Grubby went on his way whistling.

"Here's your sugar, Mrs. Bunny," he called.

So Mrs. Bunny gave him a penny and took the sugar, saying she was ever so much obliged to him, and then finished her cake baking, putting a whole cupful in the batter and one in the icing.

"I think that I'll send Mrs. Squirrel half of this cake for her party," she said to herself. "It looks so very delicious. It's the nicest cake I ever baked."

Now, you'll think it funny that Mrs. Squirrel could have people like Mrs. Bunny and Mrs. Groundhog and Mrs. Muskrat at her party, when she lived so far above the ground. But she had arranged for all that.

She had borrowed Mr. Coon's hall—way on the ground floor, and set her table there.

"My, my! How good everything tastes," said everybody. "That meat! And these potatoes! And such grand salad! And such delicious cake!"

For what do you thing! Grubby hadn't got the salt and sugar mixed at all, and Mrs. Squirrel and Mrs Bunny got the very things they needed. And Mrs. Groundhog was complimented on her smart son, which made her very proud.

Nick and Nancy had something to do with this story after all, for it was Nick who wrote the names on the bags, and that's why Grubby could tell which was which.

MARMORA FIREMEN CALLED TO A FIRE

Collision on Main Street After the Fire -- Marmora News.

MARMORA, June 6.—A false alarm of fire about five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon gave the fire brigade a little practice. At the sound of firebells, cars appeared from every direction and the fire engine was brought out. However, it was only a chimney which had become too hot and no help was needed.

Miss Nellie Williams, in driving down Mathew Street, collided with a Belleville car, which was going down Main Street. Miss Williams' car had its running board and fender badly broken. The axle of the other car was bent and some damage done to the fender. This is the third car accident Marmora has had within ten days. Mr. Potts' truck was overturned and Mr. Sanderson's car was hit by the gas engine at the Marmora station almost within the week.

Young People.

On Wednesday evening the Young People's League held its final meeting for the year. On account of so many young people leaving for the summer months, the league is closed for the following three months.

The Red, under Miss N. Williams, were the guests of the evening. A splendid programme was supplied by the consecration department. During the course of the programme a few words of congratulation were read by Miss Hilda Thomson, a member of the last side, and Miss Florence Clare presented the winning side with a box of all-day suckers. Owing to the absence of Miss Williams, Mr. Geo. Aunger replied with a few well-chosen words, and then treated his side.

Later in the evening home-made candy, sandwiches and cake were served to all alike.

The treasurer's report for the year was also given. Fifty-five dollars had been given to Missions. About $48 had been used for other purposes, and there is still in the treasury several dollars.

At Conference.

Rev. D. R. Clare left Thursday morning to attend the annual Methodist conference held at Picton.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. D. Thomson on Wednesday afternoon. The ladies discussed plans for a garden party to be held about the middle of July. On account of so many ladies going to their cottages at the lake, it was decided to hold no meeting during July and August.

The resignation of Miss Alma Osborne as organist of the church was received.

THIS SELECTION OF SHOES ANSWERS EVERY NEED OF JUNE BRIDE

The June bride will find that the number of shoes she covets will be quite astonishing, but with a little consideration she can cut the list.

For sport wear she will want flat-heeled oxfords. Those trimmed with patent leather are a good selection.

For wear with her suit and her tailored frocks the strapped oxford with the higher heel is needed.

For evening she will probably want gold or silver slippers with fancy stockings to match.

With her silk frocks she may select pumps of satin or patent leather with buckles or straps or both.

Big Temperance Meeting Planned for This Month

A meeting of the city's Prohibition Association, which works in affiliation with the Ontario Prohibition Union of Toronto, was held last evening in the Y.M.C.A., when between 30 and 40 people, representative of various organizations of the city who are interested in temperance matters, were present. Mr. A. B. Cunningham presided.

It was decided to take advantage of an opportunity which has presented itself of hearing two prominent speakers on temperance questions, and arrangements were made to hold a big public mass meeting on the evening of Tuesday, June 24, when the Hon. Sir George E. Foster and Mr. E. C. Drury, ex-premier of Ontario, will speak, the former basing his address on Prohibition in general, the latter on the Ontario Temperance Act, and its enforcement.

The Peterborough meeting will be one of a series of addresses which are being given throughout Ontario, on Prohibition matters. Peterborough was given the primary place over Kingston in this district.

In the afternoon a convention of women's societies, interested in temperance, will be held, to be addressed by some woman speaker prominent in the cause, probably by Mrs. William Pugsley, of Toronto, president of the Provincial W.C.T.U.

Hours and places of meetings have not yet been definitely arranged, but will be announced later. Arrangements for both are in the hands of a committee, composed of Messrs. H. B. Cowan, R. Lees and John Edgar.

OXFORD COUNTY COUNCIL REPLIED TO WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 6. — (Canadian Press.)— The Oxford County Council yesterday replied to the resolution of the Woodstock Board of Education to the effect that the Collegiate Institute of the city would not be open to county pupils unless the county paid one hundred per cent. of the cost of their education or paid eighty per cent. and allowed the Board to collect the balance from the pupils of the townships in which they reside, by adopting a report of the Education Committee to the effect that the council was willing to pay eighty per cent. of the tuition fees, as formerly, on condition that no further fees were collected. Contrary to expectations there was no discussion on the report.

Cobourg and District

COBOURG, June 6.—Of especial interest to the people of Harwood and of Rice Lake is a communication sent by Mr. F. M. Field, K.C., township solicitor to Hamilton Township Council at its session on June 2nd. It concerns the erection of a fence on property at the lake front there, over which there has been considerable dispute. The letter says:—

"Pursuant to instructions I have examined with care the registry office records relating to the village of Harwood, and, in conjunction with the Reeve, traversed the place referred to in the communication of the 8th of May to the Township Clerk on behalf of Mr. N. E. Morrison in reply to the letter of May 6th, written by the clerk to him. The result of these investigations is that the conclusion seems irrestible in favor of other views that there exists, and has existed for many years, a well-defined roadway to the waters of Rice Lake, generally known as 'the Baltimore Road,' as it continues southernly through the village of Harwood to the village of Baltimore and thence to the town of Cobourg.

"While at Harwood investigating conditions as they now appear there, I had the testimony of ratepayers and residents of that village with regard to the road in question. Indeed, without any testimony, it is perfectly apparent that such a road exists, as the ditching and grading is self-evident, and at the lake end of the road there is an abutment, which has evidently served to enable vehicular traffic upon that road to reach the landing adjacent to the waters of the lake. The testimony aforesaid puts beyond question the fact that this grading and ditching was done by the Corporation of the Township of Hamilton, and the abutment was built at the expense of the Township. It also establishes that this road was much used at the time the railway was in operation, and was doubtless dedicated by the railway company for such use, and the dedication accepted by the Corporation as evidence of the work done upon it and the construction of the abutments at the water's edge to support the soil, which was cut down to facilitate vehecular traffic thereby reaching the landing.

"The use of that road seems to have began at about the time of the construction of the railway from Cobourg to Peterborough, and it is a reasonable inference, I think, that this road was then established in lieu of the road which reached the waters of the lake in a northernly direction from Baltimore, east of the land taken for the railway right of way. This covers a period of approximately seventy years, during which that has been a highway with the concurrence of the railway company during the operation of the railway, and the active acceptance of it by the township at that time, and by the acquiescence of the successors in title to the railway lands without interruption, disturbance, or question as to its being thereby established as a township road, until the building of a fence across it by Mr. N. E. Merriam, referred to in the Township Clerk's letter. Under these circumstances, it is obvious that Mr. Merriam's invasion of the rights of the township cannot be tolerated, and the assertion and maintenance of the township rights is imperative."

After the reading of this letter it was moved by Councillors Thomas Bradshaw and W. J. Jibb that Councillor Drope be and is hereby authorized and instructed, with such assistance as he may require, to forwith remove the fence built by Mr. N. E. Merriam, in the village of Harwood, so as to free the Township road across which it runs from the obstruction incident thereto.

In a statement publicly made a little time ago, Mr. Merriam explained that in the month of May, 1923, he purchased from the Canadian National Railways all the land owned by the railway in the village of Harwood, paid for this property, obtained a deed and had it duly registered. After the purchasing of the property, Mr. Merriam states he had it surveyed according to the railway plan attached to his deed, and built a fence on his line or upon the greater part of it. He further states that the offered to the superintendent of the county roads to give over his (Mr. Merriam's) land a road to the lake and wharf sixty-six feet wide, on the location thought by him to be the best for public use, and further offered to give for public use a suitable approach over the hill to this public highway and wharf.

The matter has caused considerable discussion at Harwood and in that locality.

Though Mr. Edgar Rosevear, Port Hope Agricultural Society, asked for a grant from the Hamilton Council, the Council, taking into consideration the times as they are now, did not see its way clear to grant it.

ALBANIAN BATTLEFIELD IS STREWN WITH DEAD

LONDON, June 6—(United Press)—The battlefields before Tirana, the Albanian capital, are strewn with the casualties exceeding 1,000, according to an Athens despatch to the Daily Express to-day, quoting the Durazzo advices.

The Albanian Nationalist revolution and drive for the capital is being carried on with the desperate fighting, the report says. In the fighting around Tirana scores of dead lie where they fell.

The Nationalists are accused of capturing 50 Government soldiers, lining them up and executing them in batches of five in the presence of the remainder.

But sad to say, she can't wear red
Because it conflicts with her head.

Though this is a season of riotous colors, it is well to look to one's own color scheme before delving too deeply into the high lights of the bargain counters. It is often disastrous to select a gown because of it's unusual color unless one is absolutely certain that that particular color is suitable to one. Some shades tend to deaden the eyes, many cause the complexion to appear sallow and others completely overpower the natural tint of the hair.

Many women believe that a blond can wear any color, but this is true of very few blonds. There are ashen blonds with pale complexions who find colors most trying. They are completely lost in vivid tones and often appear "washed-out" in pastel shades. Browns, navy blues and black are among the few colors becoming to them. Wine color may be quite lovely on the ash blond, providing there is no purple cast. Figured materials are too blatant for the pale blond. Certain shades of Nile green may be very becoming, while bright greens are certain to add to the palor of the complexion. Orchid may be becoming to the colorless blond providing her eyes are violet tone.

The golden blond can indeed wear many colors. Blue, pink, rose, yellow, green, orchid, brown, grey and tan are bound to be becoming to her as these colors bring out the golden tints in the hair. Orange, burnt orange, black, purple magenta and red are not good colors, however. Black contrasts too greatly with golden hair and is apt to give an artificial look to the hair. Orange and purple are too overpowering for the golden blond. All pastel shades will be becoming to her, particularly golden yellow, pink and orchid. Pale greys are lovely on the golden haired person. Navy blues and all shades of brown are generally becoming. White is sometimes lovely on the golden haired girl, but youth and a good complexion are essential.

Nearly all of the models who display gowns in the wholesale houses in New York are golden blonds for the reason that they can wear many colors well.

For The Red-Head.

The titan-haired person can also wear many colors. This is particularly so if the eyes are brown or of the rare greenish cast. All dark colors are becoming to the titian; black is particularly so. Brown and navy blue are good colors which bring out the reddish tones in the hair. Light tans, golden browns, hennas, burnt orange, orange and yellow are shades that are bound to be becoming to the red-haired person. Pink and red are shades that are decidedly unbecoming.

All greens are good, as they tend to bring out the reddish glint in the hair. White is unusually lovely and ecru tones are also good. Grey, lavender and light blue are colors that are generally becoming when blue eyes accompany red hair. Of course, there are many shades of red hair which must be taken into consideration. The reddish-golden haired person can wear all colors which are becoming to the blond, whereas the auburn haired person finds it better to stick to shades which will add lustre to the hair, such as black, bronze, brown, henna, orange, green and yellow. Pastels are not as lovely on the auburn haired person as on the brighter haired person.

For The Brunette.

Brunettes are particularly fortunate in having a large range of colors to select from. Nearly all vivid shades become them and they look equally well in light pastel colors. Many dark haired women feel that they look well in black and this is often a mistake, as black leaves too little contrast and is liable to make the brunette appear sallow. Where one has a very clear complexion, however, black is always lovely. Mrs. Lydig Hoyt, one of New York's prominent society matrons, always prefers black and white to other colors for daytime wear, but she is one of the few brunettes with a pink and white complexion.

Vivid reds, orange, rose and greens are colors becoming to the brunette. All pastels are found flattering. In fact, brown is about the only color which is unbecoming and in some cases where the hair has a brownish tone and the eyes are brown, this shade is very lovely.

The drab-haired person wears pastels better than other colors. Pink, rose and Nile green generally tend to bring out the color of the hair and complexion. Dark colors are generally good, including black, brown, navy and dark green. White is a good color for the dark person to stay away from. All vivid tones are decidedly unbecoming. Where figured materials are used they must be of pastel shades rather than blatant shades.

Five Worst Currencies In Europe Reach Equilibrium.

EXPLOIT OF LAWYER

By C. T. HALLINAN

LONDON, June 6. — (United Press).—Strange as it may seem, currency inflation is at an end in Europe.

That is, for the moment.

For the first time in nearly ten years and for at least the space of one week the five worst currencies in Europe reached and held a stable equilibrium.

It was epoch-making, as epochs go in these batter and banged up days. Every currency printing press in Europe slowed down, if it did not come actually to a dead stop.

Whereupon the exchanges in London, Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva extended to one another guarded congratulations.

The only question is: How long can it last?

Certainly, according to the expositively over.

That voluntary, headlong race down the abyss is for Russia, Austria, Germany, Poland and Hungary a thing of the past. France might take a whirl at it, as being the least of several evils, but she has some excellent reasons for not doing so. And as for the others, it is believed that without exception they are in the frame of mind best expressed in the idiomatic, "NEVER AGAIN!"

But there still remains difficulties in the paths of all these countries and it is quite possible that some of the new currencies may, like their predecessors, sag under the weight of budgets unbalanced.

But, in the meantime — and always "touching wood" while you say it—it is quite possible to claim that the currencies of Europe have reached at least a temporary stabilization.

Hungary has stabilized the Hungarian crown at around 300,000 to 320,000 to the pound sterling.

Austria has stabilized the Austrian crown at about the same ratio to the pound.

Poland, after some exciting months, has checked the fall of the Polish mark but not before it reached the abyssmal value of 40,000,000 to the pound. She has now held it there for four months. In the meantime she has evolved a new currency based on the "zloty", which is estimated at 1,800,000 Polish marks. After July 1, the Polish mark will cease to be legal tender.

Russia's performance, from the technical point of view, has been the most remarkable of all. She has maintained in circulation for the past year and a half two rival currencies, one of which was going up in value while the other was going down. The second currency, based on the paper rouble, passed noiselessly out of existence on May 10.

It may be remarked, incidentally, that the financial genius who elaborated the scheme and carried it through its difficulties was at one time an obscure Chicago lawyer.

As for Germany and France, their currency future no man can predict.

RYAN KEPT SEPARATE

Bank Bandit in Solitary Confinement Since Return to Prison.

KINGSTON, June 6.— Apropos the inquiry in parliament as to why "Red" Ryan did not receive the lashes, it is learned that ever since his return to the penitentiary it has been felt the safer and the wiser course not to allow Ryan to mingle or work with the other prisoners and thus it is that he has been kept in more or less solitary confinement and this though he has been entirely tractable and quiet. Nevertheless it is recognized that he is a dangerous man and needs to be watched carefully.

The expectations are, however, that Ryan will in a day or two be again assigned to work, but in a place in the penitentiary where he will be least troublesome and unable to work any mischief.

Address on Woollen Situation

Verbatem report of the speech of Col. Robert McEwen of London, Ont., President of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association, at the annual luncheon of the Canadian Woollen Manufacturers' Association held at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, on May 28th, 1924.

Col. Robert McEwen: "Feeling that at the present juncture not a little courage is required from one off the land to come before leaders in business lines, I must acknowledge the foolhardiness and yet welcome the opportunity of saying something to you upon the industry which supplies the elementary material essential to the product of your mills.

"The breeding of commercial sheep here in Ontario, I regret to admit, has in the past received less consideration than any other branch of live stock, from the fact that these animals during the greater portion of the year feed and care for themselves, and being light consumers of the more expensive products of the farm, little attention is directed to their bill for maintenance. Then scientific agriculturists persist in advocating their keep as scavengers and weed exterminators. Some people strong on research have ascertained that there are only a few plants which sheep will not eat, and, of course, there are hundreds that they will. The best evidence to woollen manufacturers I can offer of their value in eradicating weeds, one in particular, is the condition of the fleeces of sheep which have had free access to burry fields. As a breeder of many years standing, I now find that my supply of burs is about exhausted, and to those with farms infested with this weed I can recommend sheep as most industrious in gathering them. It has been observed though that there are wool buyers who take exception to this method of clearing farms. I would not advocate any person breeding sheep who would not provide ample pasturage for summer and clover or alfalfa hay for winter.

"In the past, too, when we sold our wool, all the defects and encumbrances which would add to its weight were as studiously concealed as the circumstances and our consciences would permit. It is within the mark to say that this course is being pursued still, though in a lesser degree. The result of a product being marketed in such a fashion brought upon it a most unfavorable reputation, as it deserved and adversely reflected upon the industry. Then the neglect of the breeder to properly prepare his lambs for the market by attending to their docking and castration brought further discouragement, with the result that for these various reasons the sheep population of the Dominion decreased to such an extent that foreign wool and lamb have been brought into the country in large volume with little or no restraint. Today we find ourselves up against the serious economic problem of consuming more wool than we are producing, and for a comparatively new and fertile agricultural country like Canada to have reached this stage of deficient supply of raw material for such an essential as clothing should surely demand the serious consideration of all of us. Take Canada as a whole, it is no experiment, it has been proven that climatic conditions are favorable for sheep raising, no devastating disease has visited our flocks, and such being the case, is it not more neglect and indifference on the part of the breeder that there has been a recession in his output, or can it be said that the free entry into our country of virgin wool and its substitutes has any deleterious influence on the industry.

"As to the future it may be of interest to you to know that from the results of the educational work now being carried on and the more up-to-date methods of marketing wool, there is every reason to believe that the industry is placed on a basis that will be more attractive and remunerative. In this Province at least this year will see the beginning of many new flocks in the hands of men well known in live stock circles whose example will without question be a guide for others to do likewise.

"Sheep breeders seeing the want of a wool selling agency organized in 1918 the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, and its chief objects are:

"To place an improved product on the market and to secure for the growers full wool market values.

"To encourage sheep husbandry in Canada.

"To obtain such prices for wool as to be reasonably profitable to the producer, and

"To develop the home market for wool.

"This company is under the direction of representatives of every Province of the Dominion, who assemble once a year in Toronto. The financial and other statements presented at each meeting have been received in a manner that has shown the absolute necessity of carrying on the work initiated. As wool from the Western Provinces requires to come East to reach any factories, a large storage warehouse was erected at Weston where grading can be most effectively and economically carried on, and in addition, buyers have the opportunity of inspecting the wools of the various grades at a point convenient to them. The grower who consigns his wool is becoming educated to the fact that as it is graded by experts and being sold on its merits, it is to his interest to give every attention to his clip and to use rams that will add to its quality. Under the old state of affairs in this Province wool was sold pretty much on a flat basis with little or no regard to its grade and quality, and it is not surprising under these circumstances that neither buyer nor grower had much respect for the product. In the country it was current belief that Ontario wool was not good enough for the mills here. Since systematic handling has been established a new confidence of the grower has been secured through the fact that increased quantities has been absorbed by our home manufacturers whose requirements it is the ambition of the organization first to supply, with the view of encouraging in our midst two essential allied industries. If there is any doubt in your minds as to the merits of our wool allow me to tell you that representative samples offered at the London sales during the past year were favorably received by the trade and brought real results in securing a market for about 700,000 lbs. Every effort is being made to encourage the use here of our home-grown wools so far as they are suitable, and while the company is doing this and urging upon our patrons the advantages of buying as far as possible goods made entirely from Canadian-grown wool, in support of this work we believe it is in your interest equally with ours, the Canadian-made article should contain the maximum of the home-grown virgin raw material.

"It seems difficult to break the habit or fashion of the consumer to wear imported woollen fabrics in preference to those turned out by our mills, and I was therefore particularly pleased recently to see an attractive sample of tweed suiting woven in a Canadian mill from wool clipped on the Alberta ranch of H. R. H. The Prince of Wales that looked good enough for the use of Royalty, and I understand that it will be on exhibition in the Canadian section of the Wembley show. More of this sort of advertising (and this did not originate with the Woollen Manufacturers' Association, I understand) would appeal forcefully to a buying public and aid in clearing away unwarranted prejudice to our products."

What Is Period Furniture?

Period furniture is that type of furniture that sprang into use during an era in which one dominant influence controlled the various artistic expressions of a nation.

So, for instance, we have French and Italian Renaissance furniture, when about the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries the renaissance movement, or "revival of learning," dominated French and Italian life.

The renaissance movement actually extended into the seventeenth century, although several modifications came up by that time.

Before the fourteenth century, period furniture, as referred to by interior decorators, did not exist. Yet much of the influence of earlier Roman and Grecian furniture is developed in the later periods.

Main Divisions.

The main periods, so far as furniture is concerned, may be divided into four major movements.

1. Renaissance, 14th, 15th and 16th centuries.
2. Baroque, 16th and 17th centuries.
3. Rococo, early 18th century.
4. Neo-Classic, late 18th and early 19th centuries.

These, in turn, are divided into periods, like the Elizabethan and Jacobean periods in the Baroque movement, or the Adam, Heppelwhite, Chippendale, Sheraton and Louis XVI. periods in the Neo-Classic.

In the entire transition from one period to another, there is only gradual change. One period exercises its influence on the next, whether it starts in France or in England.

Walls, textiles, accessories — all partake in the general period design of the time and blend into one another toward a single influence.

Modern Uses.

Similarly, in use of period furniture to-day, it is essential that everything in the home be compatible. For example, the massive and heavy furniture of Italian Renaissance would clash with the slender lines of a Heppelwhite or Sheraton design. Of thev would look ridiculous with the white-paneled walls of an American Colonial house as a background.

Extremes, therefore, should never be combined. If you have a Sheraton chair in the living room and want to get a small table or sofa of another period, the only kind to get is that similar in size and weight, or of about the same era in history.

It is essential that the furniture conform in general with the home, and that too much period furniture be avoided. A simple background brings out the furniture in the room and does not clash with it. A simple carpet or rug, also, does not call attention to itself, and therefore leaves the main attraction to the furniture, where it is intended to be.

For period furniture is art, and should be seen and appreciated. But at the same time, it must have a useful purpose in any room.

In the rather small homes of today, art and usefulness must combine effectively.

LOCAL GOLF NOTES.

The local golf course is now in good condition. The whole course is in use, and all of the permanent greens are being used. The dandelions are also being kept in control.

On account of the backward season, the local golfers have not been playing much, but it is hoped that to-morrow (Saturday) they will be out in full force.

By special arrangement, mixed foursomes will be able to start off at 2.30 p.m. It is hoped that a considerable number of ladies and men will take part in this event.

In addition to this feature, there is being offered three prizes to the men. A golf ball will be presented to the man making: (a) The lowest net score; (b) the lowest gross score; (c) the player chosen by lot from the score cards turned in by all the players excepting the two winners of the other prizes. The men may play in singles, doubles, threesomes, etc.

Meals and refreshments may be obtained at the club-house.

Color Intensity Makes or Mars Room's Cheer

Color must be used judiciously to make it effective.

Harsh colors, like bright red or orange, put in a room in large sections could make an insane asylum out of the home. But a dab here and there of such a bright tone brings beauty and life into a room in which the prevailing note is a soft gray or tan color from floor to ceiling.

This is a practical explanation of what interior decorators call scale in color. It calls for a proper degree of correspondence or harmony in the intensity of the various colors used.

One color might be stronger in intensity than another in the same room, but it should not be so much stronger as to clash with the other color.

This idea of intensity is brought out in two ways—in the brightness or depth of the color itself, or in the amount of the color used.

An intensely bright dab of orange yellow, for instance, would be worse than a whole chair covered in a more subdued color, although of the same shade. Yet too much of the less bright color would be just as bad.

If, on entering a room, the effect to the visitor is that of a general weakness in the color tones, a vase of bright flowers in one or two places could brighten up the room considerably. Or a soft pillow of bright tone might do the same.

But if the colors seem to jump at you as you enter the room, the room is out of scale so far as color design is concerned. The colors should be subdued, or some of the bright touches taken out.

KEENE TOWN HALL AND TAX DISPUTE

Judgment This Morning Dismisses Informations Against David H. Moore

In the city police court this morning Magistrate O. A. Langley gave judgment in the information charging evasion of the amusement tax act against Mr. avid H. Moore of the Keene town hall.

Five cases were heard in Keene last week, four being charges against Mr. Moore under section 8 of the act, and one under section 5 of the regulations. These charges are of considerable importance as necessitating an interpretation of the act.

Inspector J. W. Cook, who appeared for the Department, intimated that an appeal will probably be taken from the decision handed down by His Worship in these cases.

The four cases in one group were similar, Magistrate Langley said, referring to the months of January, and February, March, April and May this year, and by consent of the parties the evidence was taken in one case and applied to each of the others where applicable.

It was conceded at the trial with respect to the January and February information that no evidence had been produced to support it. The hall, as far as shown by the evidence, was not used by any person who had paid admission. On the evidence, the Magistrate had dismissed this charge on the day of the trial.

In the charge under Section five of the regulations governing the Act, alleging that D. H. Moore, being the owner of the place of amusement, did fail to make the returns in statutory form as required by the Act, there is no evidence that he is the owner of a place of amusement, His Worship found. In law, or within the meaning of the Amusement Tax Act, the defendant is not the owner of the Town Hall at Keene. The Act says the owner shall mean the individual, firm or corporation owning or operating a place of amusement. Given that meaning, or the dictionary meaning, the word owner cannot be applied to Mr. Moore, who from the evidence appeared to be a caretaker or janitor. This information was accordingly dismissed.

With respect to the month of April, the only evidence to show the hall was used was that the defendant had paid $6 to the clerk of the municipality for the use of the hall for a ball. There was no evidence entered to show usage or that a charge had been made for admission. This charge was dismissed.

More Intricate.

The charges respecting March and May were more intricate, the Magistrate said. The Township of Otonabee owns the hall in question, where the so-called entertainments took place. David Moore is in their employ, although his duties are not clearly defined. It appears that he has been receiving money for use of the hall; he has a knowledge of the schedule of rates for renting the hall, and he has to look after the heating and is apparently authorized to receive fees.

The question is was he a party to admission of persons without paying amusment tax? During the month the township rented the hall on two occasions for entertainment, probably within the act. The township rents thehall, but in my opinion they are not operating the place of amuse ment. They have nothing to do with the admission charge. The person who is operating it is the person who puts on the entertainment and sets the admission fee, and sells the tickets. Moore was not in the employ of the persons putting on the entertainment, and therefore does not come witnin the section. Further, he does not come wthin the section since he had nothing to do with taking tickets at the door. He opened the doors and attended to the heating. That was an equivocal act. He had to open the doors to the hall if it was to be used for a lawful purpose. He had nothing to do with the evasion of the section so far as the evidence produced before me goes. The case was dismissed. service.

Football Team Decided to Broaden Out--Sunday School Held Picnic

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6.—The members of the football team of Christ Church at a meeting held in the Parish Hall last night decided to broaden out by admitting to membership those who are connected with other denominations. When the Club was first organized the idea was to have a church league in which all the other churches in town would enter teams. St. Mary's is the only other church in town that had sufficient players to form a football eleven. The Presbyterian and Methodist congregation were unable to muster enough material to place representation in the league. As there are several good players in each of these churches it was agreed that it was unfair to these to bar them from the game hence the decision to extend the list of those elig ible for membership.

.... Change of Officers.

O. H. Gledhill, who has been president and manager of the team since its organization, and who has always taken an active interest in sport, especially football and cricket, has been obliged to give up both positions on account of business engagements.

Rev. G. E. Clarke has been elected president to succeed Mr. Gledhill and Albert Thrower is now vice-president Albert Smith was elected manager of the meeting last night.

Annual Picnic.

A very pleasant day was spent at McConnell's Landing on Tuesday, June 3rd, when the annual picnic of Bethel Sunday school in Seymour West was held. The day was fine and the water excellent for boating.

Mr. Que, a guest with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hinton at the parsonage, added much to the pleasure by taking his canoe along. The sports were very exciting.

Miss Kathleen Longmuir took first prize in ladies' hurdle jumping and Max Free was first in the two to four years running race. All went home feeling the picnic was a great success.

The Woman's Institute of Seymour West, arranged for Thursday, June 19th, has been changed to Tuesday, Jan. 17th at the home of Mrs. James Watters, on account of the Sunday school convention at Trent Bridge being held on the 19th.

Choir Member Leaving.

The choir of the Methodist church has lost one of its good members, in the removal of Mr. Carl Maguire from the office of the Campbellford Cloth Company to the office of the company in Toronto. He will be missed not only from the choir, but by many friends in town, as he has lived in Campbellford since coming from Wingham when a small boy.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Amos Green, who has been visiting Mrs. Rutherford at Stanwood for two weeks, has returned to her home on Raglan street.

Mrs. C. W. Turner and daughter, Cherrie of Campbellford, Mrs. K. Booth and daughter, Marjorie, of Warkworth, Miss Annie Huycke, of Norham, Miss Dorothy Huycke, the teacher of Seymour West school, and Miss Mae Huycke, of Hastings, all motored to Peterborough on Wednesday, and attended the wedding of Miss Rosamond Huycke, Engleburn, Peterboro. Mr. Wilfred Scott of Picton, met them at Peterboro, and also attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson of Stratford, have come to town to reside for some time. Mr. Ferguson is helping to install the machinery in the power house at dam eight.

A brother of Mr. Ferguson's, who is chief engineer, with some assistants, is also in town looking after the installing of this new machinery.

After being ill for about a month, Mr. G. F. Phillips is able to be around again, and is taking advantage of the sunny days to get all the fresh air he can.

BOOK CENSOR AN ANGLICAN

Former Member of Press Gallery Chosen By Hon. Jacques Bureau.

OTTAWA, June 6. — (Canadian Press).—Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, yesterday disclaimed any active part in the censorship which his Department exercises over books admitted to Canada. When Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion asked "how the censorship worked," the Minister of Customs replied that in his own opinion everybody should select their own reading, and parents should regulate the reading of their children. However, he added, he was forced to speak as Minister of Customs, and as such he had been careful, when he started in to enforce the censorship of reading matter, not to have either a Frenchman or a Roman Catholic as censor. The censor was Anglican, educated in England, and "was supposed to be a man of culture." He was formerly in the press gallery, and had worked on the Toronto Mail and Empire. He had left journalism to become secretary to Hon. J. D. Reid when that gentleman was Minister of Customs. He was responsible to the Commissioner of Customs, and Mr. Bureau added, he generally "concurred in the concurrence of the Commissioner" in such matters.

"I suppose my hon. friend is thinking particularly of the works of Mrs. Marie Stopes," said Mr. Bureau.

Dr. Manion hastily denied that he had any particular literature in mind. He was merely puzzled to know how this censorship worked out.

"Well, that's it," said Mr. Bureau, and the incident closed.

OFFICERS NOT TRIED

L. R. Steel Stockholders Criticize Delay in Prosecution of Indicted Officials.

BUFFALO, June 6. — Criticism of District Attorney Guy B. Moore, in a resolution which it was learned yesterday, was adopted on Wednesday night at a meeting of the stockholders of the bankrupt L. R. Steel enterprises for delay in bringing to trial indictments against five former officials of the Steel enterprises, brought from Mr. Moore illness of the defense counsel and his inability to obtain assistance of Assistant District Attorney Reilly, were the chief causes for not bringing the cases to court.

The five officers and directors Walter M. Wilkins, James H. Nicholson, George C. Speer, Francis J. Rohr and Arthur T. Todd, were indicted a year ago under a law which prohibits officers in a company from selling stock in it.

FLIERS QUIT JAPAN.

American Planes Start on 500 Mile Flight Over China Sea.

KAGOSHIMA, June 5.—The United States Army round-the-world fliers said good-bye to Japan this morning when Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, commanding the flight, hopped off with his mechanician, Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold, for Shanghai.

The flag plane Chicago took the air at 6.50 a.m. with clear weather ahead over the Chinca Sea. The distance from here to Shanghai is about 500 miles.

The other two airplanes of the flight went on to Shanghai yesterday when engine trouble prevented the Chicago leaving the water.

Great Britain had issued 636,000 receiving sets by Jan. 1, 1924.

There are eight main broadcasting stations in England.

TARIFF STABILITY NEEDED IN CANADA

The Abandoning Protection of the Past Few Years Means Sacrificing of National Welfare

MONTREAL, June 6.—(Canadian Press). — Canada's prosperity between 1870 and the time of the war is a concrete proof that the protection is a true national policy uncertainty, poor business and general drifting that have characterized the last few years are a concrete proof that the abandoning protection means the sacrificing of the national welfare, Lieut.-Col. Arthur Hatch, of Hamilton, newly elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, declared last night at the banquet which closed the Association's annual convention.

"If Canada wants industries, and industries mean work and wealth just as much as agriculture, then Canada must have tariff stability," J. H. Fortier, of Quebec, first vice-president of the Association, insisted.

C. Howard Smith, retiring president, briefly appealed for unity in fighting for an adequate Dominion tariff.

"Since the war Canada has been steadily drifting away from the national policy, and instead of substantial rewards, the country was getting explanations of theories, losing substance while grasping after shadows," said Col. Hatch.

"We have had a hard task ahead of us, but we have faith enough in the people of Canada to believe that they will not jeopardize further achievements of nearly half a century and that they will return to the national policy which made them possible."

TORONTO MAY GET NEW CUSTOM HOUSE

Provincial Government Must Recommend Liquor Warehouses Before License is Issued

OTTAWA, June 6. — (Canadian Press)—A day spent on the Customs estimates brought the House discussions in supply which variety from imported coke to export liquor warehouses from dumping duty to new Customs house for Toronto. On export liquor warehouses, Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, declared that the license for such warehouses were not issued except on the recommendation of the Provincial Government concerned. J. Morrison, Progressive, of Weyburn, claimed that it was a case of "passing the buck," a charge which Mr. Bureau vigorously denied. From the Progressive ranks came a plea that the dumping clause should be eliminated or sparingly used and there was reference to its effect on the Canadian apple growers.

All Customs items were eventually passed.

The House reverted at a late hour to Hon. Chas. Stewart's estimates for the Dominion lands and parks, and under the questions of T. L. Church (Conservative, North-East Toronto), the Minister explained the vote of one hundred thousand required to provide relief by way of supplies of food, clothing, fuel, etc., for needy settlers in Alberta and Saskatchewan by co-operation and agreement with the Provincial Governments.

W. M. S. Convention

PORT HOPE, June 6.—At the Tuesday sessions of the Women's Missionary Society Convention, Rev. J. F. Mears occupied the chair in the absence of Rev. J. W. Baird, who is attending the Bay of Quinte Conference. The scripture lesson was taken from St. Luke and pictured the time before the transfiguration. Mr. Mears repeated the words of the hymn, "Day is Dying in the West." The scripture reading was interspersed with remarks bearing on the subject.

A fine number was given by the choir, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Those taking part in the evening's programme were called to the platform. The church of Port Hope expect to celebrate their fiftieth anniversary next summer. Mr. Mears told how he had stood on the same platform thirty-nine years ago, and been ordained and received into full connection with the church. He said the ladies of the Port Hope auxiliary were very energetic and anyone that got ahead of them would have to work for it.

The financial story of the year was given by Mrs. Dr. Irvine. The total amounts raised were by the auxiliaries, $9936.64, an increase of $731.37; by the circles, $5619.51, an increase of $605.10; by the Bands, $4317.13, an increase of $186.27.

The Bands had increased in their Easter offerings and mite boxes. Cambridge Methodist Band was the leader for the past year. Trinity Church, Peterboro', had the first annual report sent in and reported an increase of $100. Cambridge Church Band led also in the amount raised from mite boxes. Grace Church, Napanee, had raised the most funds. They had raised $25 for the rest fund, while Belleville district had the honor of the highest number of members. St. James "Golden Links" had raised the highest amount for the rest fund. College Street, Belleville, had raised the most from the mite boxes. Coe Hill was mentioned as having done well with the mite boxes.

In order that there be sufficient funds to carry on the work for the next branch year each auxiliary must be persistent throughout all the year, even from the very beginning. There is a balance of $205.00 left in the treasury. The gross total is $43,216.73 from donations, $3,181.00 to the rest fund, $1,071.47, which, without doubt, had many items included that should have been placed somewhere else on the list and there was still a balance of $366.24 not accounted for. Therefore, there is great necessity that each financial report be filled in very carefully. This had to be unitemized remittances. Over all there was an increase to the general treasurer of $1,967.00, and an increase of $98.63 to the rest fund. Peterboro' district leads with an increase of $760.00.

Mrs. Vanelstine was on the programme for a solo but found herself unable to be present. However, she promised to sing Wednesday night instead. A gentleman, Mr. Alfred Fulford, substituted.

The next on the programme was the president of the London branch, and also president of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union. She took for her title of speech, "Safeguarding the Home Base." She had come all the way from London to present to the women of the Bay of Quinte branch the temperance question. She has just returned from a three months' tour of Scotland, where she was helping with the campaign. She said she felt closely connected with the people of Port Hope as her brother had spoken from the same platform and made his home here. She also said that the London branch was ahead of Quinte in one regard and that was their aplause. Mrs. Wright thought there should have been more rejoicing over the great increase in funds and spiritually. Men are usually the defenders of the Home Base but in temperance it is left largely to the women. She had spent two days in St. Thomas speaking and the offerings for one day was approximately $100.00.

What would be the offering in old Bay of Quinte branch? Even greater, she hoped. She said as her time was so short she would have to, as it were, just touch the high spots. Never in the history of prohibition had there been such difficulties. The reserve was the W.M.S. of the different churches. She was not present to tell of the great triumphs of Christianity in foreign lands but to offer a challenge to the women at home to fight with all their might against the passing of government control. Never since the law was first introduced into the Carolina State could the bootlegging be controlled by the government.

In Quebec province, with the year closing in April, 1924, $65,000,000 of liquor had been sold with a profit of $12,000,000. Premier Taschereau of Quebec boasted of the fact that during the temperance measure only $4,000,000 had accrued. Mrs. Wright wondered why there should be a tax imposed on the sale of gasoline, a necessity, while liquor did not have it. She thought it was a disgrace on Methodism and John Wesley to have to touch on the liquor business. In Quebec province 3,000 women were yearly arrested for use of liquor, and they went from that to the drug habit. Montreal is the only city in Canada who has a known of red light section. The test for being drunk in that particular place is that the person must be lying helpless from the effects, not just shouting. They had had over 12,000 arrested for the infraction under government control. Her figures had been tested and proven correct. She said one might as well try to stop the engineering of hell as to have government control worked out properly.

She had visited Caryyle of England under most favorable conditions of government control and yet it was a failure. She determined to come back and give her life if necessary to save Canada from such a fate. In 1915 she visited British Columbia, although loath to go, she had three boys at the front, she went from north to south where no woman speaker had ever been before but in spite of it all the liquor people had won. There was $24,000,000 spent yearly in Canada on liquor, figuring out at eight dollars per person. Even in Ontario the temperance act is not enforced properly. She gave a message that each delegate carry home to her society to protest against a vote being taken until the temperance law has had a fair trial. Manitoba has found that it has made a grave mistake. She had been informed that a young lady stenographer was seen supporting a staggering gentleman who had reaped the reward of government control. Many homes had been restored since the temperance act. Liquor had been the cause of the very sad accident recently when the first commandment had been broken. As seen quite recently in statistics there have been more infractions of the motor vehicle laws than of the temperance act, and could the motor vehicle act possibly be repealed? Answer no.

In London her husband had interviewed many business men who reported every department doing better under temperance enforcement. There had been a place in London where it was unsafe for women to go at night, but now it is converted into headquarters for Y.W.C.A. She had considered it a privilege to be invited to visit Scotland, but her worked seemed almost fruitless where the women are not much above the level of beasts through drink and smoking cigarettes. Little children are denied necessities and every right due them on account of the liquor. On behalf of the children who are the richest asset of today she appealed to the sisters to do their uttermost during summer months to do the very best. She spoke of visiting Ypres and said that she could understand Daniel's reference to abominable desolation, where once had stood a beautiful cathedral, now not even one perfect arch remains.

A beautiful organ solo was played during the taking of the offering.

Mrs. Lawlor made a few remarks, hoping no one would be found wanting, and that the liquor men would find an enemy in every W.M.S. worker. She also moved a vote of gratitude to Mrs. Wright who had given a real treat in her address. Mrs. Ashton seconded this most heartily.

Everyone was told to remain in their respective districts till their hostess should find them.

RUSSIA DIRECTS BERLIN REVOLT

Communists in Germany Supplied Lavishly With Guns by Moscow Leaders.

BERLIN, June 6.—Since last Autumn the German Communist party, at the direction of Moscow, has been making elaborate preparations for a Bolshevist revolution in Germany. It has organized its members in military formations and has lavishly supplied them with arms and grenades.

As a prelude to the programme of the organization, the principal opponents of the Communists were to be put out of the way by a murder commission. To prevent the betrayal of its plans a special tcheka, or secret service, was organized, its duty being to kill traitors.

Report to Reichstag.

These startling revelations were made before the Reichstag in the report of a committee which investigated the feasibility of releasing three arrested members of the Communist central committee who were elected Deputies to the Reichstag.

The revelations produced an uproar in the Reichstag, the session of which was again broken up by the Communists.

The Communists denounce the charges as part of a campaign against them. The basis of the Government material, however, was accepted as substantially true by the majority of the Reichstag, which is expected to refuse to extend immunity to the three Communists under arrest.

Weapons Confiscated.

The committee reported that 1,100 new pistols had been found in Berlin in possession of one Communist alone. It also reported that in Wurtemberg a factory for the manufacture of hand grenades was found, and that 10,000 grenades were confiscated.

Thefts of explosives throughout Germany have been traced to the Communists. Orders were found for the munists. Orders were found for the many have been traced to the Comorganization of "explosion and derailing troops," whose task was to wreck trains.

On the black list of the Communists to be murdered was the name of General von Seeckt, whose firm stand last November saved the republic. Numerous members of the Government and other prominent persons were also listed.

Several alleged Communist traitors were actually put to death by the Tcheka, the report stated.

GORDON TOLD MURDOCK DANGEROUS CONDITION OF THE FAILING BANK

Minister of Labor Says the Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons Visited Him on Another Matter and Gave Him Information Six Days Before He Withdrew Deposit.

CAUSED SENSATION

OTTAWA, June 6 (Canadian Press). — Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labour, caused a sensation in the Privileges and Elections Committee this morning by announcing that he had received information in regard to the dangerous condition of the Home Bank from G. N. Gordon, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, on 9th August last year.

This was six days before he withdrew his deposit of $4,000 from the Bank, and also six days before the Cabinet meeting at which, it has been intimated, he obtained the information which led him to make the withdrawal.

Mr. Murdock, in a statement made at the opening of the meeting, said he was present at these Cabinet meetings. At no time, he said, did he think he had been in any way untrue to his obligations as a Cabinet Minister. He declared that Mr. Gordon had come to his office on business not connected with the Home Bank, and the serious situation which might develop in the Bank had been referred to in the course of conversation.

Before the adjiurnment, E. Gus Porter, who made charges against the Minister, stated that he might not call any more witnesses. He proposed to have a consultation before proceeding with the investigation.

Murdock's Statement.

In his statement Murdock said: "I attended two meetings of the Cabinet Council on 15th August. The first began at 10.30 in the morning and lasted until 12.40. The second was from three to four in the afternoon. I withdrew from the Home Bank at about 1 p.m. on 15th August, the $4,050 referred to."

In connection with Mr. Gordon's visit, Mr. Porter asked the Minister, "Did Mr. Gordon come at your solicitation?"

Mr. Murdock replied that the visit had been in relation to an entirely different matter.

The Minister made the positive declaration that he did not know of the "midnight visit" of J. F. M. D. Stewart, Home Bank director, to the Prime Minister, at which the condition of the institution was revealed, until long after it took place.

TO FIGHT SEA PIRATES.

British, French and Italian Navies Plan Suppressing Slave Trade.

LONDON, June 6.—The British Foreign Office to-day announced that the British navy in the Red Sea would receive reinforcements for the purpose of suppressing the traffic in slaves, which is being carried on by Arab pirate boats on the Red Sea.

The French and Italian navies will co-operate with the British, it is stated. The present naval force has proved inadequate to handle the situation because the numerous islands in the Red Sea afford hiding places for the pirates.

Now much easier to buy, and sold on most favorable terms. Call and talk it over anyway.

Girl Clerk Establishes Claim to Royal Descent

EDINBURGH, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—Miss Constance Mary Lyon, nineteen-year-old store clerk of Aberdeen, who took legal proceedings to establish her claim that she is the eldest lawful daughter of Hurbert Ernest Bowes-Lyon, nephew of the Earl of Strathmore, father of the Duchess of York, has succeeded in her suit, according to the official declaration to-day by Lord Morrison, who presided over the court at which the case was heard.

CANADA HAS GRLAT NATURAL RESOURCE

In point of population, Canada stands to-day where the U. S. A. stood 100 years ago. The Dominion is even more generously endowed by nature, and the rate of progress has increased to such an extent that, within the lifetime of some now living, Canada is likely to house as many people as do the States to day. Nearly every known raw product is either close at hand or can be brought here as readily as to almost any other manufacturing area, says the Canadian Digest.

In most industries, Canadian production already equals or excels the quota of any other country. Seventy per cent. of the mechanical power used comes from the waterfalls, yet only a fraction of the amount available from that source has yet been developed. One and a quarter billion tons of coal and vast oil-bearing lands in the West, safeguard the future.

Standing midway between the great markets of the world, Canada cannot fail to become the manufacturing centre of the British Empire. Already Canadian-made products are known in every part of the Empire. That such a large proportion of them should be made in factories owned by other nations is a matter of regret to most Canadians. The remedy lies in the building of more British factories in the Dominion. Only thus can Britons get a fair share of the present and future Canadian trade, and it would certainly seem to be the only logical method by which they can make sure of their just share of the Empire trade of the future.

HENRY NATHANSON GOT THREE YEARS IN PEN

TORONTO, June 6. — (Canadian Press).—Three years in the Portsmouth Penitentiary was the sentence imposed this morning by Justice Wright in the Criminal Assizes on Henry Nathanson, found guilty yesterday afternoon on a charge of having attempted to bribe Inspector Frank Elliott, of the Ontario Temperance Act enforcement squad to permit him to bring liquor into Ontario from Quebec.

Mr. Justice Wright, in passing the sentence, said he considered the crime of which Nathanson was convicted one of the worst on the calendar.

MARX GOVERNMENT WILL GIVE FORMAL APPROVAL

(By Card D. Groat).

BERLIN, June 6.—(United Press) — The Marx Government was scheduled to obtain from the Reichstag to-day the formal approval of its acceptance of the experts' report.

The middle parties had agreed upon a resolution of approval which likewise instructed the Government to do its utmost to accomplish the so-called "points of honor," that is, obtain return of prisoners and reparations of those expelled from the Ruhr and Rhine, etc.

Openly opposed to Marx, the Nationalists had votes of lack of confidence to propose, but these were expected to meet defeat. The Reichstag is to recess until June 24.

JUBILEE MEETING GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Presbyterians Review Church History Last Evening.

OWEN SOUND, June 6.—(Canadian Press). — The half century of history of Canadian Presbyterianism passed in review last evening at the jubilee meeting of the General Assembly held in Knox Church. The church was filled to capacity. The celebration marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The entire service was of a reminiscent nature, from the singing of the opening Psalm, "O God our help in ages past," and that second paraphrase inseparably associated with all great epochs of Presbyterian history, "O God of Bethel," to addresses of veterans of the faith that made men and scenes of another day live again.

The men who were present at the first Assembly of the present Church in 1875, and others who had attended the Canadian Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of 1875, recalled glories and great deeds of the past.

The entire service was in the hands of veterans of the Church, men who had grown grey in her service, living links between the present and the past.

A sudden change has come over the Church Union situation last night through word that has been received of the Private Bills Committee at Ottawa having deferred decision on the Church Union Bill till next Wednesday.

It was learned on good authority that the Church Union Committee will present its report this afternoon, and will definitely outline the policy the Church will pursue. It is also rumored in Union circles that the bill will be passed without any change that will compromise the principle of the bill.

What position the anti-Unionists will take in the matter is unknown.

ROMAN CAMP KITCHEN FOUND BY EXCAVATORS

LONDON, June 6.—A camp house, where probably in olden times, the unwelcome Roman legions once more feasted, has been found among a group of newly-discovered Roman remains at Folkstone, on the English Channel, where the first Romans are said to have landed. The remains consist of two buildings ,in each of which are about seven hearths, which leads to the belief that they were used as the cook houses and dining halls of the early Roman camps.

The base of a watch tower also has been found, built in a wall which evidently surrounded the camp. Several burial urns and Roman glass have been dug up, all in perfect condition.

The excavations , are being made under the supervision of experts from the British Museum, to which institution the relics will be given.

AT BOTH ENDS OF THE ROAD.

Stretching 'twixt Earth and Paradise,
An unseen, silent pathway lies,
Connecting up this world of ours
With ever-bright celestial bowers,
Over that pathway, to and fro,
Unceasing tides of traffic flow.

Yes, day and night, a countless throng
Are journeying that path along,
Some passing out, Heaven's joy to win,
Some earth's stern strife, some coming in,
Travellers from thence of human birth,
Pilgrims and strangers on this earth.

Destined to sorrow, care and pain,
While sojourneying they here remain
Probationers, sent here to train,
That higher spheres they may attain;
Their courage, patience, faith to test
By perils and by foes oppressed.

Yet welcomed is their advent here,
With tenderest love and joyous cheer,
At life's fair threshold thus they find
Fond friends, sweet smiles and voices kind,
At this end of that great highway
Glad welcome greets their natal day.

And when at length, or soon or late,
They pass through death's dim gloomy gate,
Treading that much-worn beaten track
To their own native country, back,
But bright immortal spirits now,
With lasting laurels on each brow.

Reaching by that frequented road
Of life, and love, the blest abode,
Winning with joy that longed-for goal,
Where blissful years unending roll,
Where sorrow never draws one sigh,
And, wiped the tear, from every eye.

Their glad and glorious welcome home,
Shall rise, and ring through Heaven's vast dome,
For kindred souls, a radiant band,
Shall greet them on the shining strand,
And joy supreme, the Blessed One,
Shall smiling say, 'Well done, Well done."

"SAFETY PIN BABE" NOW PRIZE CHILD

Mac Asbill, Jr., Atlanta, Ga., achieved sufficient fame for any infant when he swallowed a safety pin and figured in one of the most remarkable operations in medical annals. But now he breaks into the spotlight again by being declared the most perfect baby in Atlanta, and one look at the picture indicates that the judges had good judgment.

FABLES ON HEALTH

WATCH YOUR HATS.

In the office of Mr. Mann of Anytown, was a gent with a misery-likes-company disposition.

For months, a round and rapidly increasing bald area had been appearing on his head. So it was with considerable delight, he jumped upon Mr. Mann with the following greeting:

"Your hair's getting a little thin, Mann."

"Yah," groaned Mr. Mann, who at once hurried out to find why such a condition should come to pass.

Baldness, and incipient baldness, are difficult to trace to the source. Sometimes it is hereditary; sometimes it points to general atrophy, or advancing age—but quite frequently it is due to wearing close-fitting, ill-ventilated head covering. In other words, wearing a hat about so much that the blood supply is constricted.

Many of the devices, such as electrical appliances and tonics of one sort or another, have the effect chiefly of stimulating blood action and thus aiding hair growth.

With care in stimulating this circulation in time, many cases of thin hair can be prevented, unless the condition is congenital, or due to some physical cause.

A snake would starve to death rather than eat anything but living prey.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

TO BROIL MEAT.

Broiling meat and fish is the simplest method of cooking it and, for small and tender cuts, the most delicious.

Chops are quite as broilable as steak and far more digestible broiled than fried. Pork chops especially should be broiled as the fat in the flesh is more perfectly cooked.

Either pan broiling or broiling over a clear fire can be followed.

To pan broil steak or chops have a heavy iron frying pan well oiled. To prepare the spider put some of the fat from the meat in a cold frying pan, heat gradually, frying out the fat. Pour off all the fat but enough to leave the bottom of the pan very shiny. When the pan begins to give off a thin suggestion of smoke put in the meat and increase the heat. The meat will cool the spider and it must be kept sissing hot to sear the surface of the meat and keep in the juices. Let cook two minutes and turn. Turn every two minutes until done as you would have it.

Broil a porterhouse steak cut one and one-half inches thick 15 minutes if wanted very rare in the center and 20 minutes if wanted pink through.

Broil pork chops 20 or 25 minutes, depending on the thickness, as pork must be well done.

Remove steak to a hot platter, srpinkle with salt and pepper and spread with softened butter. Pour three or four tablespoons of water into the spider and let "boil up" once. If you have a deep platter pour this over the steak and send immediately to the table.

Serve pork chops without spreading with butter as the meat itself is fat enough.

To broil over a fire or under the flame of a gas stove rub the wires of the broiler with a piece of fat from the meat. Then turn every two minutes as in pan broiling.

If you are broiling over a wood or coal fire be sure your coals are clear and glowing and the bed deep. The fire cannot be replenished while the meat is being cooked. When broiling over a bed of coals turn every 10 or 15 seconds to prevent the escape of juices. As soon as the surface is seared on both sides the usual two-minute period can be allowed between turnings.

A porterhouse steak, a sirloin or a slice from the filet of beef are best for broiling.

Lamb or pork chops should be broiled "well done."

Large fish are cut in steaks an inch thick for broiling.

Small fish are broiled whole without splitting flat, while larger fish are split flat.

Pan broiling is not as successful for fish as straight broiling. The wires of the broiler must be very well oiled and slices of fish must be turned often. Whole fish are broiled first on the flesh side, then turned and broiled on the skin side only long enough to make the skin brown and crisp.

TOWN OF PARIS BOASTS OF A PURE WHITE ROBIN

PARIS, Ont., June 6.—(Canadian Press.)—This town can boast of two strange freaks of nature. A white robin came here in the spring, and later associated with other robins. It has apparently since mated and is bringing up a family. It can be seen any day in the cemetery here. The other is a beautiful specimen of a robin with a pure white circle of feathers around its neck.

MONROE AS PREMIER

Will Be Invited to Form New Government of Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 6. — Walter Monroe, whose party defeated the government headed by Albert Hickman in Monday's general election in Newfoundland, was elected with two of his supporters in Bonavista district. Complete returns from this constituency were made public Thursday. As a result of the election Monroe will be invited by Governor Allardyce to form a ministry.

The result in Bonavista was regarded as significant as it had been classed as a stronghold of the group headed by Sir William Coaker, president of the Fishermen's Union, which is opposed to the Monroe Party. In St. George's district, which also reported yesterday, James Downey, Minister of Agriculture, was defeated by a Monroe supporter. Three Government candidates were elected in Twillingate by small majorities, but the Monroe Party now is assured of a substantial majority in the Assembly.

Tennis News

Peterboro, Oshawa, Cobourg and Port Hope last night became charter members of a new Lawn Tennis League to be known as the Central Ontario Lawn Tennis Association.

The organization meeting was held in Port Hope, and strong delegations from all four places were present. F. H. Briden of Port Hope was elected president, and H. A. Cranfield of Peterboro, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Jamieson of Cobourg and T. A. Carrurthers of Oshawa complete the executive.

A schedule of home-and-home matches designed to develop the best tennis in the district was arranged and will be played this summer.

Tennis is booming in the Midland Counties, and it is hoped by the sponsors of the new League that a definite schedule will improve the quality of the tenis and develop any new talent.

200 ENTRANTS SWIM IN OLYMPIC TRYOUTS

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—Winners and second place men in the Olympic finals tryouts here to-morrow, Friday and Saturday will compose the United States swimming team at the Paris games in July. Following the tryouts the team members will join the track and field squad at New York for the trip overseas.

The course laid out in the Broad Ripple pool here is a duplicate of the 50-metre pool at Paris. Special diving boards similar to those which will be used overseas also have been constructed.

Charles J. Lynch of Detroit has been selected by Director Paul Jordan as referee. John T. Taylor of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Olympic swimming selection committee, will be starter. Judges of divind include Referee Lynch, Leo Hogan of Chicago, James A. Taylor of Columbus, and J. P. Nihl of New York.

More than 200 entrants, including teams from Hawaii, the Pacific coast, New York, New Orleans, Chicago, Detroit and other centres will participate in the nine events.

It will be the first Olympic final tryouts for John Weissmuller, Chicago, world's greatest swimmer. Duke Kahanamoku and his brother Sam, together with Warren Keloha, Hawaiian stars, and "Buddy" Smith, the New Orleans champion, probably will give Weissmuller stiff competition.

Seven speed and two diving events, the low board and high diving, will compose the competition. Should Weissmuller win first in more than one event, the second and perhaps the third place men will be selected.

Seven timers will clock the speed swimmers. Director Jordan arranged the system of timing and scoring to accommodate the largest field of entrants. It is the first time that all of the men's finals tryouts have been staged by one association of the A. A. U.

GENERALS GRAB WIN FROM THE COLONIALS

The C. G. E. girls' soft ball team came through with another win last night when they trounced the Colonials by the score of 10 to 5. The Colonials have a smart aggregation, but the Generals proved too much for them and hit hard and often. The C. G. E. are credited with having one of the fastest soft ball teams in the city and they proved it last evening when they pounded in ten runs off one of the neatest twirlers in the league in Mrs. Lee. Mrs. Lee pitched nice ball throughout, but her team mates gave her ragged support at several stages of the game. Miss Nixon, who was on the mound for the Generals turned in a nice game, while her team behind her gave her sterling support and came through with timely hits in the pinches.

The teams lined up os follows:

Colonials, Mrs. Lee p; Miss Plunkett c; Miss Bradshaw 1b; Miss Drury 2b; Miss Hatcher 3b; Miss Greenhaugh ss; Miss Adams rf; Miss Vass lf; Miss Edwards cf; and Miss Hill, sub.

C. G. E.: Miss Nixon p; Miss Mortimer c; Miss Taylor 1b; Miss Hayes 2b; Miss McLaren 3b; Miss D.White ss; Miss Burns rf; Miss E. White lf, Miss McCarthy cf; Miss Bolam sub.

A LITTE OF EVERTHING

COMING

Business will make a turn for the better in the not distant future, predicts Willis L. King. He's vice president of Jones & Laughlin, powerful in the steel industry.

King looks for better times after the presidential nominating conventions. The really big spurt upward will come after the fall elections, according to opinions of leading business men.

Times cannot continue dull very long, that's sure. Stocks of raw materials in manufacturers' hands and finished good in retail stores are low. There has been little overbuying or overproduction.

S-R.

Julius Rosenwald, president of the big Sears-Roebuck mail order house which gets mail by the carload and sells millions of dollars of goods to farmers, says:

"We are going to have a better business this fall than we had this spring. Our spring business has not been 10 per cent better than last year, but our fall business ought to bring this year's average up to about that percentage. The farmer is getting in better shape all the time."

All weathervanes show the trade winds blowing toward a rising sun of prosperity. The recent setback is only temporary.

RADIOED.

Sending photographs long distances by radio is not going to be as easy to do as to talk about. Interference and fading have to be mastered first. They'll be mastered, all right. But it'll take time. This is, however, one scientific wonder that you'll find in general use within 10 or 20 years. The entire science of radio is in its infancy. One of these days, no batteries for long distance receiving sets. Sounds impossible, but it's already done by crystal sets, 30 miles radius. If 30, why not 3000?

SPEEDERS' SCHOOL.

Judge Wilmeth of Indianapolis has a plan to send speeders to night school, in lieu of other penalties, for driving and traffic instruction. Members of the accident prevention bureau of the police force will be instructors.

CLOSED GARAGE FATAL

It took 1.3 per cent of carbon monoxide or exhaust gas in a closed garage to kill a dog, in a test conducted recently by the Bureau of Mines. This amount was produced in 20 minutes of idling.

CAR STEERS SIDEWAYS

A London inventor has designed an auto that can run sideways across a road, starrde a ditch, climb an eight-inch curb and turn in a 20-foot circle. Each wheel is independently attached to the chassis.

CLEAN OUT BEDBUGS

Parke's Bugbane will destroy every bedbug it comes in contact with. Just apply it into all hiding places of the pests; 25c, 50c and $1 cans at Bond's Drug Store, corner George and Hunter streets.

CADETS INSPECTED

Collegiate Battalion Congratulated By Brigadier-General Hill of Kingston.

The cadet battalion of the local Collegiate was inspected yesterday afternoon on Central Park by Brigadier-General F. W. Hill, C.M.G., D.S.O., commander of Military District No. 3, Kingston, and Captain V. W. L. Heron, district cadet officer of No. 3.

The battalion made an impressive showing as it swept by the inspecting officers in perfect order, trim and neat, to the roll of drums and blare of the bugle band. Every order given with a snap by the officers was executed smoothly and smartly by the ranks. Battalion, company and platoon drill were all taken in order during the thorough test through the officers put the battalion.

The battalion was drawn up in a square and several short addresses were given. General Hill congratulated the boys on their showing and said that he had seen no better performance this season. He was warm in praise on the way in which the P.C.I. was becoming known Dominion-wide for its fine shooting teams. In awarding the medals for the best company and platoon commander on the day's showing he was unable to choose between William Breyfogle and Robert Fowler as company commanders, and he selected Huland Bookhout and Lawrence Killally from the platoon commnaders.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., the principal, congratulated the boys and explained the handicap under which drill was practised, owing to the lack of a gymnasium. He hoped next year uniforms would be available to all cadets.

Mrs. Kate Morris of the school board also addressed the boys and expressed her commendation on their present high standard and her hopes of more adequate conditions for training for the near future.

NEWS OF BAILIEBORO AND THE DISTRICT

BAILIEBORO, June 6.—A celebration was held here on Tuesday evening for the purpose of having the new lights in the streets turned on for the first time.

For some time the Women's Institute have been trying to figure out a method to spend the money in their treasury to the best advantage.

Finally, however, they decided to instal a lighting system for the village streets, as there is a row of tall maple trees growing down either side of the street that makes the street dark at night.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Ladies' Institute held a garden party on th nds at the Anglican Church. A supper was served, and over for dollars was realized to go towards the upkeep of the lights. Several of the new lights were purchased and placed on posts that were erected for that purpose a short distance apart. The lights illuminated the streets well, and if they give good satisfaction more light will be purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John White on Tuesday.

Mr. Robert Montgomery, of Chicago, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Thomas Skitch.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL

"THE HUNTRESS," EXHIBITED AT THE ROYAL THEATRE, IS SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT

Colleen Moore Entrancing in the Title Role; Lloyd Hughes Excellent Foil For New Star.

A comedy-drama embodying all of the elements that goes to make real worth-while entertainment—such is "The Huntress," a First National picture which features the bill opening last night at the Royal Theatre.

There is drama and thrill aplenty in "The Huntress" but the principal features of this refreshing story of the great outdoors are its clean humor, its simple yet absorbing theme, the awe-inspiring grandeur of its scenic background — and the infinite charm of its pathos.

The story of "The Huntress" calls for the solving of no problems; there is no "eternal triangle" to grapple with and no improbable situations. Briefly, it is a plausible, clean, romantic comedy-drama that takes us for awhile away from the prosaic surroundings of our everyday life and transports us into a land of romance and charm.

Were it not for the tensely interesting story that holds the audience from the minute that the first scene is thrown onto the screen and were it not for the brilliancy of the cast which enacts its various roles, "The Huntress" would be a picture long to be remembered for its settings alone.

The picture is style an "out-door comedy-drama." And such it is for olmost all of the scenes are laid in the onen, with towering, snow-capped mountains and beautiful, sparkling lakes as a background—such magnificent settings as are rarely seen on the screen.

The story of "The Huntress," an adaptation of the novel by Hulbert Footner, is simple, but a delightful one nevertheless. It centres about a white girl who, through circumstance, has been reared among Indians. She believes she is an Indian herself until she reaches the dawn of womanhood.

Then, learning that she is white, she decides to get a white husband and chooses for her mate the scion of a wealthy New York family, who had gone into the North-West woods to escape the shallowness of his former life.

The bashful youth is kidnapped by the girl, a situation which, misinterpreted by the hardy pioneers of the woods country, throws the girl and boy into a series of complications, both dramatic and humorous.

In the role of "Bela," the girl, Colleen Moore has a role which seems especially adaptable to this pleasing and versatile young star. And, by the way, she is a star—having been elevated to that position by First National Pictures. She entrances her audience with her portrayal of the mischievous, vivacious and romantic white-Indian who wins her husband despite his contrary efforts.

The part of the boy is admirably played by Lloyd Hughes. Other screen celebrities in the all-star cast are Russell Simpson, Walter Long, Snitz Edwards, Charles E. Anderson and Wilfred North.

REVIEW

The Cast

Norman Wright ... David Powell
Edith Banton .. .... Edith Allen
Josiah Wright ...Maurice Costello
Jack Banton ..... Ralph Kellard
Julia Livingston .. Naomi Childers
Livingston.. .... Burr McIntosh
Juanita .. ....Dagmar Godowsky

The picture at Regent Theatre on Friday and Saturday has the novel title of "Virtuous Liars," and in many respects lives up to the novelty of the name. It is a Whitman Bennett production adapted from E.C. Holland's original story and has an exceptionally strong cast, including such popular players as David Powell, Edith Allen, Maurice Costello, Burr McIntosh, Naomi Childers, Dagmar Godowsky and Ralph Kellard. These actors have won enviable reputations in motion pictures but at no time did they ever appear to better advantage than in this production.

The interest is well sustained, commencing early in the story when a rather sporty husband returns to his wife after an all-night party with the usual lies about business. His wife, however, sickens of these tales anod after accusing him of being deceitful tells him she has had enough. He takes her at her word and departs, leaving her to bring up their small daughter through her ability as an artist. A few sequences show the struggle of a woman striving to make a name for herself. Here Edith Allen does exceptionally fine work.

We next see the young woman after she has won a prize and has gained a wealthy art patron, a role splendidly portrayed by Maurice Costello. Burr McIntosh interprets the role of a friend of the art patron and while he is given but brief opportunity to display his skill makes a lasting impression through his sterling acting. Naomi Childers portrays his niece and shows all of her old time vivacity and life. She is a typical society girl of the type opposed to the young artists and naturally fails to make a hit with Dr. Norman Wright, portrayed by David Powell, nephew of the art patron.

Some interesting sequences are taken of a public clinic of which are also interesting bits of action in South America where the young husband finds new attractions in a young Spanish girl portrayed by Dagmar Godowsky. These scenes are exceptionally well done and show all the warmth and temperamental characteristics of the Latin race.

The climax furnishes a bit of dramatic action that holds the audience in suspense until the final fade out. Great credit is due Ralph Kellard for the admirable way in which he handles an unpleasant role and to the little girl who portrays the daughter.

The production is one which will please most audiences because of its great variety of settings, its unique treatment and strong cast. The picture is one that will hold the interest and has a high entertaining value. They can be recommended to all who enjoy an evening of light amusement and diversity.

AT THE CAPITOL

As a week-end offering, the Capitol Theatre has a dashing, bright feature, one of the type that reminds the spectator of the best of the Wally Reid productions, in "Sporting Youth." Speed is the motif of the picture. From beginning to end, there is speed and dash and fire in the various episodes, and the automobile race that affords a wind-up for the picture is one of those realistic affairs that keeps the onlookers keyed up to the finish, and provides a quantity of pleasurable thrills during its screening. The house last night was right up on its toes while the exciting race went on. Reginald Denny, masquerading as "Splinter" Woods, is a chauffeur but he takes a sporting chance, commandeers his employer's car in the latter's absence, and enters the big race, with its first prize of ten thousand dollars, the decision of his sweetheart hanging in the balance, his job and his future and his liberty all at stake. As he races, his rival and chief competitor waits with a warrant for his arrest. Nothing that could add interest to the speedy theme of an exciting and highly entertaining picture has been overlooked. For real, heady thrills, with the element of youth and romance and daring injected in large quantities, "Sporting Youth" would be hard to surpass as an attractive movie production. It is a smart comedy of the most modern type, and moves with a swing and dash that culminates in the big racing scene. Reginald Denny makes an admirable hero, and an excellent foil is provided in one of the newer movie stars, Laura LaPlante, who plays opposite him as Betty Rockford, daughter of William Rockford, the motor car magnate. Hallam Corly is Walter Berg, the villain of the piece, another suitor for Betty's hand, who does his best to keep Jimmy Woods from winning the race. Lucille Ward is a comedy aunt, of the deaf variety, who is an innocent victim of Berg's desire to outrace Jimmy, in a pleasant little afternoon drive with the former. The cast is an excellent one, but the interest of the picture centres about the adventures of Jimmy Woods, pitchforked into a situation that demands daring and initiative.

Interest is added to the picture by the descriptive music played, the musical accompaniment to the race being particularly effective, and rendered in fine style by the Capitol orchestra.

The comedy is a Jimmie Adams production, entitled "Nerve Tonic." It has a decidedly new slant, and produces much real mirth with its delineation of the misadventures of a young man suffering from extreme nervous disability, whose physician prescribes excitement as a cure. The hero and his sweetie prance madly through a series of hilarious moments in a Coney Island "Nut Factory," where disappearing staircases and revolving doors complicate life for the neurasthenic and his lady love.

RUTH ROLAND IN "THE HAUNTED VALLEY" FINISHES AT CAPITOL TO-MORROW MAT.

"The Haunted Valley" starring Ruth Roland, will come to an end to-morrow afternoon, when the final episode of this great drama will be shown. For fourteen weeks hundreds of children have been following the thrilling escapes and daring deeds of Ruth Roland, in this great serial and to-morrow afternoon they will see her achieve a final and crushing defeat over her enemies.

Auto Sense — DON'T BLOW OFF A MUFFLER — By Williamson

If you want to save money on brake linings, get the second gear habit when going down hills, using the compression of the engine to hold you back.

A surprising number of drivers who have discovered the advantages in compression braking think that by cutting off the ignition they are increasing the resistance. This is a mistake and a costly one at that.

It is practically impossible to cut the gas off completely, for most engines, if properly adjusted, will idle when the throttle is closed. If the ignition switch is turned off, a certain amount of fuel is being drawn into the hot cylinders and converted into a highly explosive gas which is pushed out into the exhaust pipe and into the muffler. When the bottom of the hill is reached and the switch is turned on, the first explosion ignites the gas in the exhaust system and an explosion occurs in the muffler. These should be avoided, as no muffler is strong enough to withstand the force of many such explosions.

Do not worry about the slight backfires which occur when going down hill against compression. There is usually some play in timing gears and valve operating system. As the car is pushing the engine, instead of being driven by it, this play, together with a retarded spark, may cause the explosions to occur a little later and the exhaust valves to open before the power stroke has been completed. As this explosion is usually very weak, it will do no damage. If it is objectionable, it can be eliminated by an experienced mechanic in a short time.

FIELD DAY, Midland League - BASEBALL AND OTHER SPORTS - EXHIBITION PARK, Saturday Afternoon, June 7th

Splendid Program Commencing at 2 o'clock, includes Bicycle Races and Foot Races; at 3 o'clock, Softball, Baseball, Football and Cricket; at 4 o'clock C.G.E. of PETERBORO plays DYE WORKS of COBOURG - Admission 25c

BASEBALL, SOCCER AND CRICKET ON EXHIBITION PARK PROGRAMME

Field Day Of Sports Offers Exceptional Variety And Big List Of Events.

MAIN BALL GAME AT 4

Cobourg Dye Works And C. G. E. Provide The Feature.

Everything points to a bumper crowd at Exhibition Park Saturday afternoon for the Field Day which has been arranged by the Amateur Sports Committee.

When organization work in connection with the different baseball leagues was begun this Spring the problem of suitable places to play scheduled games and hold practices was the first one to receive attention.

There was no doubt as to the quantity and quality of players ready and willing to play but there there were grounds available to operate a very limited number of teams.

The Exhibition Park seemed to be the solution if it could be financed and it is obvious that if two baseball diamonds were to be prepared and kept in shape all season there would be some expense attached.

The purpose of the Field Day which is being held tomorrow is to officially open the Exhibition Park to the public as the home of junior baseball in Peterborough and if possible raise sufficient funds to pay for the preparation and upkeep of the diamonds, football pitch and cricket field. It is estimated that $500 will be necessary.

The committee in charge of the Field Day and the leagues responsible for the maintenance of the grounds are deserving of the support of the public tomorrow.

No one will benefit financially by the success of tomorrow's effort but it is necessary that funds be forthcoming if Junior baseball is to be fostered in Peterborough.

Saturday Program.

The program for tomorrow is well worth while.

Commencing at 1.45 o'clock at the Central Park there will be a decorated bicycle parade. By kind permission of Lieut.-Col. F. L. Bradburn the Rangers Band, about thirty strong, will lead the parade.

There are several splendid prizes to be competed for in connection with the parade. These prizes are on view in the window of Messrs. Whites' Cycles and Sports, Ltd., Charlotte street.

A Full Card.

At Exhibition Park commencing at 2 o'clock there will be cycle races, boys' and girls' relay races.

Cricket—De Laval vs Peterboro Cricket Club.

Girls Softball—Thistles vs C.G.E.

Football— Campbellford vs Nomads. A Charity Cup game.

Baseball—Kiwanians vs Rotarians and a main attraction at 4 o'clock when C.G.E. entertain Cobourg Dye Works team in a Midland League game.

Good prizes are being given for the cycle and foot races.

Rotary vs Kiwanis.

The battery for the Rotarians in their game with the Kiwanians at Exhibition Park tomorrow afternoon is announced as O. DeGraw pitching and Chris Graham on the receiving end.

They will be aided in their efforts to subdue the Kiwanians by Bob Abbott, 1b; Jack Primeau, 2b; Dr. McPherson, ss; Geo. A. Macdonald, 3b; Ross Dobbin, cf; J. Kennealy, lf; D. Lawrie, rf. Subs—Rev. Harold Young, Leon Frazer, Alex Kay, A. L. Killaly, Bob Dobbie, and Jack McHardy.

Kiwanians will pick their team from the following: Dr. Jack Green, Carl Browne, Bob Mackey, Walter Byers, Charles Cummer, Carl Weber, Stuart Gordon, Carl McLean, Dr. John Craig, Alex Dick and Dr. Lacey.

Kiwanians are not so well backed up with subs as Rotarians but think they do not need so much help.

This game is called for 3 o'clock and will be played on the diamond in front of the grand stand.

It is expected that six or seven innings will be played before the C.G.E.-Cobourg Dye Works clash which is to commence at 4 o'clock..

Girls Softball Game.

Softball fans are looking forward to the clash on Saturday afternoon between Thistles and C.G.E. girls teams.

These two teams are about as any in the local league and are now going good right now. This will be their first meeting this season.

Miss M. Nixon will likely pitch for C.G.E. while Miss B. Vincent is the Thistle's choice.

The game will be played at Exhibition Park as part of the Field Day program. It will be started at 3 o'clock on the Midget and Bantams diamond.

Relay Races.

The P.C.I. students are in line for their relay race with St. Peter's High School team.

This race is going to prove a good drawing card as the students of both institutions are finding it a fruitful topic for discussion and speculation as to the results.

There will be at least eight schools represented when the boys' relay gets under way. The race is open to teams representing the different Public and Separate Schools.

Seven or eight girls teams from the Public and Separate Schools have been entered for the girls' relay race.

The prizes selected for the winning boys team are fine wool jerseys, and for the girls the prizes are indoor baseballs

Jerseys For Winners.

The winners of the P.C.I. versus St. Peter's High School race and the other boys race will each receive an order on Jack Primeau for a jersey and can go there and get fitted. This was considered a better plan than to select certain jerseys regardless of who would wear them.

The foot races are to be called shortly after 2 o'clock and will be part of the 2 to 3 o'clock Field Day programme. Messrs. J. E. R. Munroe, Doug. Loomis and Charlie Thorpe have been working hard on this committee and have everything in fine shape for a good programme of race for tomorrow.

Any runners who wish to enter the decorated bicycle parade will have ample time to change into racing togs upon arrival of the parade at Exhibition Park.

PETERBORO HAS FIGHTING TEAM

Have Proved Their Mettle By Coming From Behind To Win Seven Times.

WHOLE DISTRICT AGOG

With the Petes breezing along a game in front of the Belleville crew in the Central Ontario League race and the second place outfit billed to meet the Solomon gang at Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon there are no "whispers of death" among Peterboor fans.

They are all planing to be on hand tomorrow and carly, too, to prevent the enthusiasts from out of town getting the best seats.

For these days the Petes are getting a big following from neighboring centres and all the ball bugs in the district will motor in for this clash which is rightly regarded as one of the most important of the year.

Manager Solomon has his team of veterans and youngsters going along smoothly, pulling together, playing smart ball defensively and fighting all the way.

In the last three games they have come from behind seven different times to finally win out, overhauling Oshawa twice in the motor town and three times here while in Kingston the Ponies were twice in front of them only to be finally beaten.

Playing that kind of ball and with that kind of spirit the Petes are going to win a lot of ball games.

They won't win them all of course but they should finish in front often enough to make them consistent contenders—and perhaps more than that.

The average fan loves a fighting team and the Petes are of that right now.

Tomorrow they tackle in the Belleville team another scrapping crew, hot under the collar because Oshawa slipped into Belleville on Wednesday and snatched a game that the Trunks very badly needed.

Walter Gerow's gang know that unless they can take a fall out of the Petes here tomorrow they will drop down into third place, the winner of the Kingston-Oshawa tilt at Oshawa moving up into second position.

On the other hand the Petes can bump a dangerous contender and get a firmer grip on first place by a victory.

The game will start at 3 o'clock sharp with Hallinan and Benson of Toronto in charge, and the batteries will be, as far as can be learned now, Oulette and Mills for Belleville and Heckman and Swanston for Peterboro.

CAN BOBBY JONES, FOURTH AMATEUR TO HOLD OPEN GOLF TITLE, REPEAT?

CHICK EVANS. JERRY TRAVERS.

BOBBY JONES (TOP), FRANCIS OUIMET (BOTTOM.)

In the play for the open golf championship of America over the Oakland Hills course, Detroit, June 5-6, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, an amateur, will be the defending champion.

Jones is the fourth amateur in the history of the game in America to take the field as a defender.

No amateur has ever repeated in the open.

Francis Ouimet of Boston was the first amateur to win the event, the caddy graduate triumphing at Brookline in 1913.

Jerry Travers of New York scored in 1915 at Baltusrol, and was the second amateur to achieve the distinction.

Chick Evans of Chicago made it two in a row for the amateurs by winning the championship the following year at Minikahda, with a score of 286, a mark which has yet to be equalled.

Jones crashed through last summer at Inwood after a dramatic play-off with Wee Bobby Cruickshank.

Thus four amateurs have stepped in and taken all the glory from the professionals since 1913.

It follows then that the percentage is against an amateur winning this year.

But Jones is the greatest stroke player in the game, bar none, and he figures to be dangerous all the way, tradition or no tradition.

BOBBY JONES IS TIED FOR FIRST

Leading First Round Scores In National Open Golf Tourney.

DETROIT, Michigan, June 6.—Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, defending his title as national open golf champion, yesterday made a fine effort to retain his crown by scoring 74-73-147, on the 6880 yard links of the Oakland Hills Club, and tying for first place with Bill Mehlborn of St. Louis, at the end of the first 36-hole round of the championship tournament.

Cyril Walker of New York, with a pair of 74's, was only one stroke behind the leaders, while Bobby Cruikshank, who lost the playoff of the tie for the title to Jones last year was tied with Dave Robertson of Detroit, with 149.

Walter Hagen of New York, and McDonald Smith of San Francisco, shared a score of 150, only three strokes behind the leaders.

It remained for Abe Espinosa, of San Francisco, after a poor round of 80, to set a course record in competition for the present links by turning in a tally of 34-37-71, one below par. This with his 80 in the morning, gave him a total of 151.

Tom Kerrigan and Mike Brady of New York, filled out the first ten at the half way mark, with a pair of 152's.

Gene Sarazen, of New York, holder of the title two years ago, started out like a repeater in the morning by scoring a record 33 on the first nine, but he slumped to 41 on the second nine and took 80 for the afternoon round. This left him fairly well up in the list, however, tied with such players as Chick Evans, Charles Hoffner, Joe Turnesa and Eddie Loos.

The most spectacular split of the day was that of Jock Hutchison of Chicago, former British open champion, who required no fewer than 163 for the 36 holes, including 64 for the morning round.

The weather was fine, except for a fitfull breeze that at times seemed to bother the players. The greens were very fast, and this, with many undulations and side hits brought heartaches to many a good putter.

BROWNS POUND EHMKE,S CURVES

Boston Sox Dragged Back To Even Terms With The Yankees.

ATHLETICS RETREAT

ST. LOUIS, June 5. — The Browns found the offerings of Howard Ehmke to their liking today and defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 2, in the third game of the series. The set back cost the Red Sox their half game hold on first place, as rain prevented the New York Yankees from playing and the two teams thus are tied for the lead. Severeid, local catcher, was banished in the seventh for disputing Umpire Nallin's calling of balls and strikes. Score:

ROMMEL KNOCKED OUT.

CLEVELAND, June 5.— Cleveland drove the Athletics back into eighth place to-day by knocking Rommel from the box and winning 5 to 4. Uhle was hit hard, but managed to pull out of tight holes, while the Indians batted well with men on bases. Four Athletic errors also aided. Score:

Philadelphia 011002000—4 12 4
Cleveland . 11100020x—5 12 0

TRICK COST GAME.

DETROIT, June 5.—Bassler, Detroit catcher, tipped Peckinpaugh's bat in the first innings as the batter drove to Pratt for what would have been the third out. Washington had one run before Peckinpaugh was given first on Bassler's interference, and before Detroit could retire the third man in the inning, Washington scored five more runs. The final score was 9 to 7. Score:

Washington. 600111000—9 13 1

ELECTRIC TEAM HIT RAYBESTOS PICHERS HARD

Brakeliners Bumped By C. G. E. For Beating Of 12 To 2.

ERRORS SANDWICHED

Hardill Struck Out 8 And Allowed Only 4 Hits.

Raybestos at C.G.E. was the entertainment last night at Exhibition Park and the fans saw the Raybestos handed a 12 to 2 trimming. Hardill was on the mound for the winners and pitched a fine game. He was touched for four hits and struck out 8. Howard Kirn started for the Raybestos but was derricked in the second after four runs and four hits had been made off his delivery. He was succeeded by Dave White, who held the Electricians safe for two frames and then allowed six hits for seven runs in the next two.

Corrin, Delahaye, Frost and MacPherson divided the fielding honours, while Rose, with a triple and a single in three times at bat, was the leading hitter.

McCarney First Across.

C.G.E. opened the scoring in the first with one out. McCarney hit to Hensley, whose high throw pulled Corrin off the bag. McCarney stole second and scored on wild throws by Rogers and Lowe. A triple by Rose with two down was wasted when Kirn fielded MacPherson's tap and Rose was caught at the plate.

The Electricians added four in the second. Ranger tripled to deep right and scored on a wild pitch. Frost dumped a Texas Leaguer into right and took second on Hardill's roller to Corrin. Dugan scored him with a single and took second on the throw in. McCarney was safe on Hensley's error and both runners scored on Ross' double. Dave White relieved Kirn at this stage and fanned Rose to end the session.

Raybestos Get Two.

Raybestos got a runner on the paths for the first time in the fourth when Hensley singled to right and went to second when Dugan missed Hendry's throw. Lowe doubled to left, scoring Hensley and went to third on the throw-in. Duggan lifted a high one to Frost and Lowe scored after the catch.

C.G.E. Pile Up Score.

The fifth added four to the C. G.E. total. McCarney was hit and Ross forced him at second. Rose was hit. MacPherson singled. Ranger singled through short scoring Ross and Rose. Frost doubled to right and MacPherson and Ranger crossed the plate. Webb struck out and Hardill lifted to Dugan.

Three more were added in the sixth. Dugan singled to left. McElroy, batting for McCarney, was safe when White fumbled his intended sacrifice. Singles by Ross and Rose scored Dugan and McElroy and Ross registered on a passed ball. White then tightened down and struck out MacPherson and Frost, while Ranger lifted to Corrin.

Raybestos had runners on in the fifth and seventh, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming.

QUAKERS SCORE FIRST VICTORY

Mercantile League Game Full Of Snappy Baseball At Riverside.

C. G. E. LOST BY 3-2

The Quaker Oats Mercantile team netted their first win of the season last night when they defeated "Stuffy" Mahood's fast aggregation from the Canadian General Electric Company by the score of 3 to 2.

The Quakers got the drop on the Electrics in the first inning in which they clouted McDonough for two runs that looked very small at the time but that registered a win for them, when they added another in the fouth. Lefty Turner on the mound for the Porridge mixers turned in a nice game and blanked the C.G.E. for the first five innings.

The Electrics got down to business, however, in their half of the sixth and after Freddy Jones had landed a nice single, stole second and scored on Williams' single, things brightened up a little. Williams was caught off first and McDonough drew a pass, while McLeish reached first on a balk. Barrie popped to the picher, and Griffin drove in McDonough on a timely double. McLeish was caught off third. The score should have been tied now, had it not been for McLeish forgetting to touch third base in the fourth inning when he went home on Barrie's double.

C.G.E. Improved.

The Quakers thought they had the game clinched when they were leading by the score of 3 to 0 at the end of the fifth but the Generals never gave up hope and fought hard until the last man was down. Mahood's aggregation showed lots of style and improvement on the team they marched out at the first of the season and will give any team in the league a run for their money.

Jack McDonough did the mound work last night and turned in a good game. He held the heavy hitting Quakers to six scattered hits and three runs, while he whiffed nine of them. His team gave him sterling support and only had one error chalked up against them, that one being in the first innings when Williams threw wild over first base. The infield worked like a machine for the rest of the game while Mahood the youthful manager and receiver, handled McDonough's stuff in great style. Lefty Turner who did his stuff for the Adanacs last year was on the mound for the Quakers and held his opponents to seven scattered hits, only three of them figuring in the run column. He fanned five and walked one, while hits team mates pulled off many feature plays behind him and came through with a clean sheet in the error column.

Fred Ash was the heavy hitter of the Quakers ,netting two hits and one run in three trips to the plate while he figured in 10 putouts. Jack McDonough did most of the clouting for the C.G.E. getting one run and a double in two tries. Lefty Turner also turned in a nice fielding game. He accepted nine chances without a slip while Meyette at second for the Quakers handled four hot ones in perfect style.

MILLIONS MORE ARE PROSPECTS.

Automobile men are hopeful.

Their statisticians have figured out that there are more prospects for automobiles than there were owners at the beginning of this year.

And auto owners in the United States at the end of 1923 numbered 13,464,000 — not including motor truck operators.

The prospects are those getting below a $1,500 yearly income, those getting above this figure being included among the owners.

The lower income prospects amount to 28,150,000. That is, most of them are considered prospects.

Not for new cars, but for the used cars turned in by the more fortunate ones higher up in the income scale, who in turn buy new cars.

So saturation is still far, far away.

Cultivation of semi-arid lands does not cause any appreciable difference in the rainfall in those regions, according to the records of the Department of Agriculture.

MASSEYS SCORED EARLY IN GAME

Defeated C.P.C. Greybirds By 1 To 0 At King Edward Park.

VINET KICKED GOAL

The Masseys and the C.P.C. Greybirds met in a league game on King Edward Park on Thursday evening and after a good exhibition of football the Masseys came out winners by 1-0. The Masseys won the toss and had the advantage of the wind. Edgar was soon in the limelight by some nice runs and centres which should have met with better results. Hotson kept a watchful eye upon him. Edgar, however, got in a beauty which Vinet put well out of the reach of Killenbeck. Masseys were having much the best of the game. Bradley and Shadgett were having plenty to do. Hotston placed nicely to Cross but his final effort went wide of the mark. Half-time arrived with the score 1-0 in favor of the Masseys.

After the interval the Greybirds brought Shadgett forward but the Masseys defence were playing in great form. Foster made a fine individual effort and forced a corner which Cross took and placed in front of goal, Saunders fisted out and Slaughter receiving transferred to Goldie who tested Kilenbeck with a nice cross shot. Cooper sent well down from a shot from Hotson.

The Greybirds were putting all they knew to equalize but their shoot ing was weak, Saunders having few hard ones to deal with. The game was even. The game ended 1-0 for Masseys.

The teams:

Greybirds—Killenbeck, H. Bradley, M. Shadgett, Batley, Feeley, Hotson, Cross, Somers, Foster, Anderson, Linsey.

Masseys—Saunders, Cooper, Pulley, Naish, Smith, Slaughter, Ashmore, Goldie, Cordrouy, Vinet, Edgar.

Referee—S. Calladine.

TIMELY TIPS FOR AMATEURS

SAYS LARRY GARDNER
Third Baseman, Cleveland Indians

The third base job is more clearly defined than any other position on the infield, as far as limitation of territory is concerned.

There is no comparison between the territory a third baseman must cover and that of the shortstop and second baseman.

Balls are ordinarily hit so sharply at the third baseman that he cannot be expected to go very far to his right or left.

The third baseman must shift more within the narrow confines of his territory than the other infielders. This point should never be forgotten by the player aspiring to star at third.

Play your batter differently. On one batsman you may play deep, knowing he is a hard hitter who never bunts. On the very next batter it may be necessary to be in on the grass, as the batter is noted for doing the unexpected.

No athlete should select third base as his position unless he has a good throwing arm. A weak arm is fatal in a third sacker. This is due to the fact that the throw at third is usually long and hurried.

Learn to throw underhand. This is a most valuable asset.

SAYS G. ALEXANDER
Pitcher, Chicago Cubs

With me success as a pitcher hinges entirely on control.

Whatever fame I have achieved as a pitcher can be attributed to my ability to get the ball over.

The pitcher should make it a point to get the batter in the hole and then work on him, rather than let the batter get the edge and have him pick on the cripple, when the pitcher is simply forced to take a chance and lay the next one over.

Constantly work for control is my pet bit of advice to every player who seeks to shine as a pitcher.

No matter how much stuff you may have, regardless of any freak deliveries you may have perfected you are helpless unless you can get the ball over.

SAYS STEVE O'NEILL
Boston Red Sox Catcher

A catcher cannot be too particular about his glove. If you would be a catcher, and a good one, first equip yourself with the very best glove you can get.

This glove must fit your hand properly and meet with your approval. A great many catchers like the big glove. I prefer a small one.

My objection to the big glove is that it interferes with the catcher in handling a slow hit ground ball in front of the plate. The big glove also makes it harder to put the ball on the runner in a play at the plate. The ball sticks much better in a small pocket well broke in.

Never fail to back up first base, when there is no possible play at the plate. The value of this practice is never appreciated except when you fail to back up and the infielder makes a bad throw.

Get a natural style back of the plate that enables you to shift easily, is a hobby of mine on catching. Ability to shift the feet quickly to meet every situation is most essential to the catcher.

My position back of the plate calls for the right foot to be about four inches back of the left. I find this puts me in a position to throw with little or no effort.

The German super-gun that pounded Paris during the war is credited with a range of 75 miles, as compared with the 22-mile maximum range of the American 14-inch naval guns.

4. Is there an difference between the ball used in the American and National League?—G. B. K.

ANSWERS

1. A force play can only occur when a base runner is forced to advance to make room for the batsman. Unless the batsman is involved there can be no force play. If, with runners on first and second, the batsman hit to infield, it is up to the runners to advance to make room for the batsman.

2. Baserunners can advance on an infield fly that is dropped as on any other fly ball. They need not return to their bases.

3. When a batted ball on which no play has been made strikes the umpire, the ball becomes dead. The batsman is credited with a hit and entitled to first. The runner on first is forced to advance to second to make room for the batsman. The runner on third remains at that base.

4. There is no difference between the ball used in the two major leagues.

QUESTIONS

1. Men are on first and second. Batsman hits to the right of the shortstop, who makes a great play and by a quick throw forces the runner at third. The third baseman threw to first for a double play, but the first baseman reached first in safety. Is the first batsman charged with an error?—F. M.

2. With a runner on first base, a ground ball is hit to the first baseman, who touches first, retiring the batter, then throws to second ahead of the runner. Does this make a force play at second or must the runner be tagged out? Is he entitled to first or second provided he can reach either one safely?—E. D. F.

ANSWERS

1. The first baseman is charged with an error, if by holding the throw of the chird baseman he would have retired the batsman and completed a double play.

2. When the first baseman fields the ground ball and touches first, retiring the batsman, he removes the force on the man going to second. The runner going into that base must be tagged out. The mere throwing of the ball to that base ahead of his arrival does not retire him. He is entitled to either first or second, provided he can reach either one in safety.

QUESTIONS

1. If a fielder throws his glove at a batted ball but misses it, what is the penalty?—I.K.

2. When can a base runner, who has held his base on a fly ball, start tto advance?—R. G.

3. When an improper batsman hits safely and the mistake is discovered in time, who is out?—J. M.

ANSWERS

1. There is no penalty if the fielder fails to hit the ball with his glove.

2. The base runner can advance the moment the ball strikes the fielder's hands.

3. The proper batsman is always the man who is called out.

Cycling Far Easier than Walking

FRANK Jones used to complain about his feet getting so hot and achey from his long walks to and from work on the hard roads and pavements.

One day when he felt more tired, and his feet hurt him worse than usual, he happened to see a man go gliding by on a bicycle.

"Cycling is far easier than walking," said Frank to himself. And all day long while he was working that thought kept running through his mind.

That night, on the way home, he dropped into a C.C.M. dealer's and looked over the different C.C.M. models, choosing one that suited him in every way.

Since then Frank's feet have had a much easier time and he's quit complaining. In fact, he's boasting now about how fine and fresh he feels since he started Cycling.

He also tells how quickly and easily he Cycles to work and home again—how he saves the shoe leather he used to wear out on the hard cement walks—how he saves valuable time by Cycling instead of walking.

If you gave Frank a chance he would tell you all about the C.C.M. Triplex Crank Hanger—the wonderful power plant that responds to the slightest pressure on the pedals and makes the C.C.M. run so smoothly, quietly and easily.

He would show you the strong, powerful frames of English Seamless Tubing—the bright silvery nickeling that won't rust because it is done over copper—the sparkling enamel that is baked on over a coat of anti-rust so it will stand rain, snow and all kinds of weather—the new Gibson Pedal with its rust-proof aluminum frame—and the C.C.M. Hercules Coaster Brake that coasts so easily, has such braking power, and is ounces lighter than the old-style side-arm type.

The C.C.M. dealer will, also, be glad to tell you all about the C.C.M. and to show you the new models—the Standard, the Special, the Sport model, the C.C.M. Flyer, the Curved Bar model.

Prices are $15 to $20 lower than the "peak" prices. A Big Dollar's value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M.

WEDDING BELLS

SOLLETT—NOYES.
A quiet but pretty wedding took place at 4:45 Thursday afternoon, June 5th, at St. James' Parsonage, when Vida May, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Noyes, 264 Reid street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Ernest N. Sollitt, son of Mrs. Sollitt, and the late William Sollitt of Uxbridge.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Buckler, in the absence of Rev. J. D. Richardson, pastor of St. James.

After the ceremony the happy couple left on the 5:35 Canadian National train for Uxbridge and Toronto. On their return they will reside at 185 Romaine tseret.

CAREW—WEEKS.
LINDSAY, June 6. — Ashton Place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Edgar Weeks, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Tuesday, when their only daughter, Amelia Lenora (Amy), was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur William Carew, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carew. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Barraclough, assisted by Rev. F. McIntosh. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, with bertha and bandings of crystal and full court train of white satin, lined with pink georgette, edged with orange blossoms. Her veil of tulle was caught by a coronet of carrick-macross lace and wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Aileen Calvert of Toronto. Her gown was of mauve pleated georgette, and she carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruby Carew, sister of the groom, and Miss Norma Plank of Toronto. Their gowns were of mauve crepe de chine in quaint bouffante style, and they carried old fashioned nosegays. They all wore mauve picture hats with long streamers of purple tulle. Little Dorothy Wood and Elizabeth Weeks, neice of the bride, were dainty flower girls, in frilly pink organdies over taffeta. The groom's brother, Mr. Frank Carew, was best man, and Mr. George Weeks, brother of the bride, and Mr. Cecil Frost, were ushers. After the ceremony Mrs. Weeks received the guests, wearing a French frock of black and white, lace hat, and a corsage bouquet of orchids and mauve sweet peas. Mrs. John Carew, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black georgette, with jet beading and black hat, corsage bouquet of orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Carew will spend their honeymoon on a motor trip through the White Mountains, the bride going away in a French gown of beige knitted silk, with hat to match, and a brown fox fur.

MURDERERS' FATHERS DENY USE OF MILLIONS FOR DEFENSE OF SONS

Joint Statement Issued Last Night by Millionaire Parents of Leopold and Loeb Disavows Intention of Pooling Their Wealth to Save Sons From Gallows—Youths Renew Friendship.

"IN FOR SAME RIDE."

CHICAGO, June 7 (Canadian Press). — Their millions will not be used to save Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, the confessed slayers of Robert Franks, from the gallows, a joint statement issued last night by the fathers of the accused youths, both Chicago millionaires, said.

Seventy-one witnesses testified befort the Grand Jury in the most unusual murder case on record here, and when the last was heard State Attorney Crowe called in the stenographers who took shorthand notes of the confessions made by the millionaires' sons.

They read Leopold's' story of a crime committed for the love of crime itself, of the decision of the precocious youths to select a victim, kidnap him, kill him, and then collect $10,000 ransom, though they had no need of money, to make the murder 'more interesting."

State Attorney Crowe announced with the departure of the Grand Jury that everything had been presented, but Loeb's confession which, he said, differed only slightly from Leopold's.

They disagreed, the Prosecutor said, on which evolved the scheme that led to their present plight; which first suggested committing murder for "sport." and on which was driving the automobile when Franks was lured into their hired automobile, and as to which actually killed him. Each said the other did the suggesting and the killing; each insisted he was driving when the fourteen-year-old boy was slain.

Mr. Crowe and his assistants, Joseph P. Savage, Milton D. Smith, John Sbarbaro, and Freeman L. Fairbank anounced themselves as well pleased with their accomplishment. They had covered every detail of the crime, had every one who had the slightest knowledge of the slaying (excepting Leopold) and Loeb testify and are ready for trial now or at the earliest possible moment.

Insanity Plea Indicated.

Counsel for the indicted murderers began to form their lines of defence yesterday. Their mainstay, it was indicated, will be a plea of insanity. Dr. James Whitney Hall, a well-known alienist, has already been selected as one of the battery of experts who will seek to prove the two students insane.

Lawyers and prosecutors for the State may be the generals at headquarters when the confessed slayers face the jury, but the men on the firing line will be a force of alienists such as has not been seen in a murder case since the trials of Johann Hoch, the arch bigamist and poisoner ;of Harry K. Thaw and of Roland Molineaux in New York in 1900 and 1902.

Messrs. Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, the defence lawyers, have not indicated who will be at Dr. Hall's side. The State has already retained four of Chicago's leading psychiatrists, Drs. Hugh T. Patrick, Archibald Church, William O. Krohn, and Harold Douglas Singer.

Leopold Punches Jail Guard.

Soon after, on Thursday afternoon, State Attorney Crowe and his assistant, Bert A. Cronson, took several witnesses to th jail to view Leopold and Loeb as being the ones who opened accounts in the Hyde Park State Savings Bank as part of the murder plot. A guard went to Leopold's cell.

"The State Attorney would like to see you in Warden Westbrook's office," he told the prisoner.

"Tell the State Attorney to go to ——," Leopold flung back.

Finally he was induced to go along with Loeb. As they walked into the presence of Mr. Crowe, Leopold espied the witnesses. His arms went up to cover his face and he bowed his head.

"You have no right to violate my constitutional rights by making me give evidence against myself," he cried.

A policeman and the guard seized his arms to pull them from his face. He struggled for an instant. Then with a lightning movement he wrenched his right hand free and struck out. His fist crashed against the shoulder of the guard. Then, realising the folly of the act, he dropped his hand to his side.

The identification was made and the two youths were taken back to their cells. They drew away from the other prisoners in the bull pen, and spent the rest of the exercise period at one end, conversing in low tones.

The changed attitude between them was noticed by the others. They quarrelled after making their confessions. For three days they did not speak to each other.

When they were turned into the bull pen for daily exercise, it appeared Loeb was ready to "call quits." He walked over to the end of the enclosure where his former chum and

AID ASKED FOR BURNED HAMLET

Quebec Member of Commons Proposed Relief to Fire-Swept Village.

WILL BE CONSIDERED.

OTTAWA, June 7. — (Canadian Press).—The fire which recently devastated the village of Ste. Emilie de L'Enorgie was brought to the attention of the House of Commons Friday by J. J. Denis (Liberal, Joliette). Mr. Denis stated that the conflagration had destroyed some 85 per cent. of the village, and he called upon the Government to extend whatever help was possible.

Premier King replied that the Government would be glad to consider carefully and sympathetically the request made by Mr. Denis. As a general rule help was tendered by the Dominion Government only on application by the province in which the disaster occurred. Certain departments of the Dominion Government were able to give assistance in the way of tents and blankets in the first instance. Beyond that, action by the Dominion Government was taken in co-operation with and on the request of the Provincial authorities.

TWO MEN DROWNED ON LUMBER DRIVE

Boat in Which Six Were Working Capsized and All Six Went Through Rapids on Madawaska River.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 7.—(Special to The Examiner).—Word was received here that John Webber, of Ardoch, and Corneil Laclair, of Camel Chute, were drowned on Paddy Dillan's drive at Cotton Chutes on the Madawaska River. They, with five others and their foreman, a boat crew went out to break a jam of logs. The boat capsized, the men going through the chutes. Boats below picked up the surviving. Laclair was found a few hours after, but as yet the body of Webber is not found, although Mr. Dillan and men are searching the rapids and river. David Green, of Denbigh, one of the unfortunate crew, reports that Webber was holding onto him while going through the chutes, but he had let go. He was seen a little later in a rough rapid where the boats could not reach him.

"This is getting monotonous," said Mrs. Mabel Gifford, San Francisco school supervisor, when a burglar broke into her home for the eleventh time. So she tackled him, took his pistol away, subdued him, then sent him forth with a "grubstake" and a promise that he'd never break into her house again.

CONSUL IN JAIL FOR SMUGGLING

Spanish Consul Held in Montreal For Smuggling Alcohol Into Canada.

CONSULAR PROTEST.

MONTREAL, June 7.—(Canadian Press).—Official protest was made to Judge Cusson here last Monday, it was revealed Friday, by the Norwegian Consul, as Dean of the Consular Service in Montreal, against the arrest of the Spanish Consul in this city, Miguel Maluquer, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Canadian Customs by the smuggling of alcohol into Canada. Other Consuls have also taken the matter up with their home governments.

The question at issue is whether a Consul in a foreign land can be arrested by the police. He is regarded as an Ambassador, whose person may not be arrested. Another point is the sanctity of domicile. The arrest of the Spanish Consul took place at his office, which is regarded as a part of the country he represents, and therefore immune from invasion of Canadian constables.

In the meantime Mr. Maluquer is in Bordeaux Jail, no one having appeared with the $5,000 bail fixed for his release pending trial. He will appear for voluntary statement on June 11.

THE GOVERNMENT WILL TAKE HAND

London's Latest Strike Regarded as "Unofficial"

(By Lloyd Allan, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, June 7. — The British Labour Government to-day intervened in the "Red" strike of powerhouse workers which yesterday put most of London's great network of subway systems out of commission.

A plenary strike committee to deal with the revolt of the 'rank and file' against the responsible union leaders who had opposed the walk-out was created.

The committee was empowered by Premier MacDonald to "take any necessary steps."

Leonard Akehurst, secretary of the unofficial strike committee, announced this mornig that the strike was more successful than ever, and might be expected to spread to other cities to-day.

A three-days' Whitsuntide holiday started to-day, and for that reason passenger traffic in the subways was lighter and the Metropolis suffered less than on Friday.

The entire British press supports the Government's "declaration of war" against the "small Communist-inspired contingent responsible for the strike."

The Daily Herald, an exception, is carefully neutral.

"The yarn that Communists are egging the men on is a mere invention," the Labour organ says. "The men are badly paid, and, rightly or wrongly, think their claims for better payment have been neglected. However, they have taken the wrong way to have their grievances redressed. The strikers, against the orders of the union leader, walked out after demanding increases of ten shillings a week, with a 23 minimum week, and a week's annual vacation with pay."

PROVINCES WILL BE CHARGED FOR USE OF MILITIA

Federal Government Has Collected Only $40,000 From Municipalities Calling For Soldiers.

COST DOMINION $586,000.

Change in Militia Act Designed To Secure Proper Payment.

OTTAWA, June 7. — (Canadian Press).—A resolution to amend the Militia Act in regard to the calling out of troops in aid of the civil power was moved in the House of Commons Friday afternoon by Hon. E. N. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence. The resolution provides that the Attorney-General of a Province may call out the militia upon requisition by a judge, that after so doing the Attorney-General shall cause an inquiry to be made into the circumstances within seven days, and that the cost of calling out the troops shall be a charge upon the province.

Mr. Macdonald briefly reviewed the legislation upon the subject dating back to 1868. Under the existing law, which was passed in 1904, he said, the troops might be called out by the Mayor or Warden of a municipality or by a county or district judge. The financial liability under this law rested on the municipality to which the troops were called, but it had been exceedingly difficult for the Dominion authorities to recover from municipalities funds expended in this connection. As a matter of fact in the long period covered by legislation on this subject, while the Dominion had expended some $586,000, it had been able to recover only about $40,000.

Get Compensation.

The result of the present legislation would be that the Federal treasury would be compensated when troops were called out. The system at present in vogue had resulted in litigation and a number of cases were now in the hands of the Minister of Justice.

Mr. Macdonald said that the provision for the Attorney-General of a province to requisition troops on the request of a judge followed along the lines of the recommendations of the Robertson Commission which investigated the Cape Breton coal troubles.

The resolution carried.

In committee, T. L. Church (Conservative, North Toronto), said that the question of cost was not the chief one. Certain features of the legislation he thought very dangerous. In the municipalities there might be a tendency for the chief of police to fold his arms, in the case of a strike or riot, and say that "it is up to the province." It was a method of taking power away from a municipality.

The municipalities should maintain sufficient police forces to cope with these difficulties. The law as it stood was quite satisfactory.

A Drastic Change.

G. W. Kyte (Liberal, Cape Breton South) objected to the proposed amendment. It involved a very drastic change. It constituted the Attorney-General of the province in which the difficulty occurred as a court of appeal. The legislation would apply particularly to the three provinces which had been affected through strikes in the coal mines. Mr. Kyte objected to the method of collecting the costs of calling out troops. The annual subsidy to the provinces were granted under confederation and should be left intact. The law should be left as it was at present, or, if it must be changed, it should be adjusted so that the costs would be borne by the Federal Government.

R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sunbury) said there were grave objections to putting the responsibility of calling out troops in the hands of the Provincial Attorney-Generals who were political officials rather than judicial officers.

Hance Logan (Liberal, Cumberland) thought it should be made as difficult as possible for the militia to be called to settle civil disputes. He was of the opinion that troops had been called out sometimes before there was need for them. He thought the municipalities themselves should be empowered to call out troops, and only when the authorities declined to respond to the request, should the matter be left to the Attorney-General. He did not approve of charging the province for the cost of military guards.

Calls During Ten Years.

Mr. Macdonald, at the request of Mr. Meighen, detailed recent calls and the cost. The Nanaimo (B.C.) riots in August, 1914, had cost $255,000 for military operations; the Hindu riots in Vancouver had cost $1,143; the street railway riots at Windsor $2,187; the Winnipeg strike of 1919, $196,631; Quebec, in 1922, $184; the St. John (N. B.) railway dispute $985; the Cape Breton riots in 1922, $63,295, and the August, 1923, troubles at Cape Breton, $90,621.

It was not fair, said Mr. Macdonald, that the district officer commanding should be compelled to judge of the merits of an application from a mayor or judge for military intervention in civil disputes, which should not be used except as a last desperate resort. If the Attorney-General of a province had the responsibility, he would know for certain whether or not his available police could cope with the Court Rejected Appeal For Muir

MONTREAL, June 7.—Walter Muir, New York student, will hang July 11, for the murin Valleyfield last December, unless the sentence is commuted by direct plea to the Canadian Minister of Justice. His appeal for quashing of the conviction and new trial was unanmiously rejected here Friday by a full bench of the Court of Appeal, thus cutting him off from any further recourse to the Supreme Court, as a dissenting opinion is necessary to obtain this.

Mr. Justice Greenshields, who rendered the judgment, regretted that the jury had found a verdict of murder and commented:

"Had I presided at the trial, I would not have been averse to a verdict of manslaughter."

He continued that no error had been committed in law or in fact, and concluded by dismissing the appeal and maintaining conviction and sentence.

PROFESSORS IN SUPREME COURT

Majority of Judges Grant New Trial of Slander Suit For $10,000 Damages.

BEGAN FOUR YEARS AGO.

OTTAWA, June 7. —(Canadian Press.)— Two professors in the department of modern languages at McGill appear as principals in an unusual case on which the supreme court of Canada allowed appeal yesterday, three judges of the court favoring a new trial.

The case is that of Morin v. Walter, the two McGill professors, in question, the respondent being the immediate superior of the appellant. Both had summer residences at the same country site in the county of L'Islet. In the year 1920 the respondent suffered a series of misfortunes; the trees of his orchard were injured by having been ringed, his house burned, one of his dogs died, his shed burned and later on a second dog died. In October, 1920, respondent received an anonymous threatening letter. In August, 1921, the respondent discovered that Paris green had been thrown in his well.

Called a Lunatic.

Then the appellant discovered that the respondent was accusing him to various persons of being the author of all these crimes and that the respondent had written to the department of the attorney general that if the appellant should be arrested on the charge of attempted murder, he be refused bail as a criminal lunatic; and the appellant took the present action in damages for $10,000 for slander..

Action Dismissed.

The action was dismissed by the trial judge who held that the defendant had acted on good faith and without malice, without however deciding, what he had not to decide, that the appellant was guilty in any way of having done something against the respondent; and this judgment was affirmed by the court of king's bench.

In yesterday's ruling, Justice Duff, Mignault and McLean would allow the appeal and grant a new trial, appellant to have costs of both appeals, cost of abortive trial to abide the event of the new trial. Mr. Justice Idington would allow with costs throughout. Mr. Justice Malouin would dismiss the appeal.

KENORA, June 7 (Canadian Press). — W. Scotland, of Kenora, was drowned on Thursday afternoon when he fell off the steamship Verbena.

Along with 32 Masonic brethren he left here in the morning on a visit to Rainy River Masonic Lodge.

Encountering very rough weather crossing the lake, his foot, it is thought, became entangled in a rope which broke away, throwing him overboard.

The body was not recovered.

"B" BATTERY IS DISCARDED.

LONDON, June 7.—By the use of a four-element tube, one with two grids, two radio engineers here have succeded in obtaining good reception without the use of a "B" battery.

The inventors are George V. Dowding and Keith D. Rodgers. Their idea is the use of an extra grid close to the filament so that the electrons will be thrown at the plate with the same force as "B" battery power on a three-element tube pulls the electrons to the plate.

CHIEF JUSTICE DAVIES' ESTATE

First Fund of $80000 For Widow If She Does Not Remarry.

ALL TO RELATIVES.

OTTAWA, June 7 (Canadian Press). — An estate of $171,951, all of which is left to relatives, has been bequeathed by the late Sir Louis H. Davies, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, who died on 1st May, 1924, and whose will is to be filed soon at the Court House for Probate, by the Toronto General Trust Corporation, which has been appointed co-executor of the estate and its sole trustee.

By the terms of the will, the late Chief Justice created a trust fund of $80,000 of his estate for his widow, on the condition that she does not re-marry, or in the event of her remarriage the amount of the trust fund, from which she is to be paid the proceeds, is reduced to $30,000.

In any event, the proceeds from the trust fund are to be given to the widow for her support.

The will also provides for the creation of other trusts for the benefit of the four children of the late Chief Justice, who are Miss Helen Davies, Thomas A. Davies, Mrs. Mary F. Magrath, and Mrs. Ethel N. Hyndman.

FRENCH CANADA NOT AT WEMBLEY

Canadian Staff at British Exhibition Doesn't Include French-Canadians.

NOTICES IN ENGLISH.

OTTAWA, June 7. — (Canadian Press).—That French Canada was inadequately represented at the Wembley Exposition was the complaint made in the House of Commons yesterday by O. A. Gauvreau (Liberal, Temiscouata), who asked that notices be posted in both English and French in at least that section of Canada's exhibit which represented Quebec. Also he complained that except for the high commissioner's secretary, Mr. Pacaud, there were no French Canadians on the Canadian staff there.

Right. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King replied that the exhibit had been prepared in a hurry but instructions had since been given to see that the French language is used as well as English and he understood these instructions were now being carried out. The premier pointed that the man who prepared the exhibits, Mr. Turcotte, was French-Canadian and could be depended upon to see that the instructions are carried out.

SKELETON FOUND.

Skull and Large Bones Unearthed at Fenelon Falls.

LINDSAY, June 7. — The men engaged in excavation work on Jordan's Hill, Fenelon Falls, this week, unearthed a skull of a human being, together with a number of large bones.

It is thought by some that the bones are those of one of the early explorers, or perhaps those of an Indian.

This section of the country is rich in historic lore, as near the township boundary, on the shores of McLaren's Creek, was once situated a Huron Indian village, which was destroyed by the Iroquois.

Even to this day pieces of Indian pottery, broken tomahawks, pipes, etc., can be picked up on the site of the village.

THE WEATHER.

Yesterday the thermometer reached 73 degrees. While this is an improvement on the conditions prevailing recently, it is far below the temperature usually provided at this season. A few straw hats have been brought out of seclusion—the advance guard, as it were. On June 3, last year we had it 80 degrees; on the 4th, 81; and on the 5th, 87 degrees. This is also the period when very heavy rains fell. On June 3rd, there was .28; on the 4th, .46; 5th 2.12; 7th, .09; 8th, .96; and 9th, .14 of an inch. There was the extraordinary total of 4.05 for the six days. This morning the thermometer was down to 42, but the day was clear and bright.—W. P.

RADICALS PLAN TO STARVE OUT THE PRESIDENT

Opposition of Dominant Left Group in French Chamber Would Cut Supplies.

A FLANKING MOVEMENT.

Resolution Declares Executive Governs Against Wish of Nation.

PARIS, June 7.—A starving-out process is going to be tried on President Millerand and the Government if the President succeeds in finding a man who can form a new cabinet.

This method of procedure was decided upon Friday by the Radicals and Socialists, constituting the new majority of the Left, when they introduced a bill in the Chamber of Deputies, which, if passed, might have the "starving-out" effect. The measure repeals the biennial budget and replaces it by monthly provisional credits which would enable the majority of the Chamber to cut off all money supplies for the executive mansion and other branches of the government except Parliament.

This action of the deputies, who are trying to oust the French President, followed a series of consultations at the Elysee Palace. Among those who conferred with M. Millerand were Charles Chaumet, Senator and former Government Minister, and M. Franklin-Bouillon. At the same time news was received of the embarkation of M. Steeg, Governor-General of Algeria, Thursday, for France. He is one of the President's closest friends and a cabinet minister.

The idea of the bill introduced in the Chamber is explained in the preamble of the measure as follows:

"The essential power of Parliament is to vote appropriations and impose taxes. It has consequently at all times the right to refuse to provide money to carry on the government. When the executive power seeks to govern against the wishes of the nation, it is the duty of Parliament, to refuse its aid."

The Chamber will appoint a special committee to consider the bill today and the majority will endeavor to pass it through the House before President Millerand concludes the various consultations from which he hopes to evolve a solution of the crisis.

JUDGMENT FOR CHURCH.

First of $9,000 From Estate of W. T. C. Boyd of Bocaygeon For Repairs.

LINDSAY, June 7. — The Court of Appeal at Toronto has handed out judgment having to do with the interpretation of a paragraph in the will of the late W. T. C. Boyd, of that village, whereby a sum in the neighbourhood of $9,000 was bequeathed to the Toronto General Trusts Corporation in trust to pay the annual income therefrom towards the maintenance and repair, both inside and out, of Christ's Church, Bobcaygeon, under the direction of the church wardens and the rector.

As a result of the decision the trustees are directed to pay to the church wardens and the rector whatever moneys will be required from time to time for the proper maintenance and upkeep of the church as a church, and not merely for the maintenance of the building.

MURDERERS'

companion in murder was standing, and slapped him on the back.

"What the — is the use?" he said. "We're both in for the same ride, so we might as well ride together, Babe."

Leopold turned around and said: "Yes, Dickie, we have quarrelled before and made up, and now when we are standing at the home stretch of the greatest gauntlet we'll ever have to run, it is right we should go along together."

Kindness Brought Confessions.

A new kind of "third degree" was used by State Attorney Crowe to obtain confessions of Loeb and Leopold, a "third degree" of kindness and courtesy, according to the State Attorney.

Their confession came spontaneously, he insists, and there is little chance of the tale of wanton murder being ruled out of evidence, as the defence hopes, on the ground of duress, the prosecutor believes.

Mr. Crowe told of the methods that led to the confessions as the statement of Leopold was read to the Grand Jury. He told it, he added, because rumours that a story of brutality to the youths by his officers and the police was being circulated.

"No two other suspected persons were ever treated as these two boys were," he said. "We conducted our inquiry in hotels, gave them the finest food money could buy, and all they wanted of it. We allowed them to bathe and shave practically at will. We saw to it that they had every comfort, that they had their proper rest. It was almost as though they were our guests instead of our prisoners. That applies both to the period before and the period after they had confessed. When I say that, I am talking about all the time they were in the State's custody.

"I think our very simple and sincere kindness to them was what made them ashamed and finally to wish to tell their sordid secret. We treated them so well that I was all the time afraid I woud be criticised on the grounds that I had treated them in that manner because of the wealth and position of their families.

"If the defence attempts to have confessions thrown out on the grounds that these boys were coerced into making them or that they made them under duress I will have the checks for their rooms and their meals at the various hotels brought in and impounded into the record to show how they were treated.

"We arrested the boys on Thursday at about one o'clock in the afternoon. We took them to a suite at the La Salle Hotel and there questioned them. They were allowed to go to bed in the hotel that night and on Friday we continued at intervals to question them.

"Leopold admitted the eyeglasses might be his, and so we just leisurely went back and forth over their alibi story with them. On Friday afternoon I took them to the State Attorney's office. Here they were allowed to talk with their parents. I offered to get out of the room and give them a chance to talk privately with their people, but they asked me to stay.

Dinner Cost $102.00.

"Friday night I took them to the Drake Hotel. They had dinner at the Drake. The bill for our small party there alone was $102.00, and so it may be seen that they got the best of everything. They confessed about one o'clock on Saturday morning. After the confessions they were allowed some sleep and we then took them over the route to find the clothes of the Franks boy.

"Loeb went to bed at noon on Saturday in the Windermere Hotel. At five o'clock in the evenig we had dinner with them there and they were allowed to bathe and shave before they went to bed again after dinner.

"They told their people they never were better treated. It will be hard for the defnece to prove otherwise."

VETERANS' NIGHT AT MILLBROOK A GREAT SUCCESS

A Number of Guests from Peterboro and other points.—

MILLBROOK, June 7.— One of the most delightful social gatherings ever held under the auspices of Millbrook Lodge, No. 308, of the I.O.O.F., took place on Thursday evening when between two and three hundred guests were present, including a number from Port Hope, Peterborough, and Lindsay. The special feature of the evening was the presentation of Veterans' Jewels to four Past Grands, Brothers H. A. Fallis, W. Fred Fallis, C. Thorndyke, and J. N. McGill, whose connection with the local Lodge has extended over a period of twenty-five years.

Brother Wilbert Thorne, N.G., made a capable chairman, and with him on the platform, as guests of honor, were Deputy Grand Master, Bro. E. Anderson, of Lindsay, District Deputy Grand Master, Bro. R. Ford, of Peterborough, A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., and Bro. (Rev.) G. S. Gervan. The veterans present also received special recognition, being given seats at the front of the hall, the chairman explaining that the evening was planned as "Veterans' Night." Twenty-four members had received the Jewell previous to Thursday evening, the four then decorated with this handsome emblem bringing the total up to twenty-eight, a very commendable showing since the Lodge was instituted just twenty-eight years ago.

After the chairman had made a brief opening address welcoming the guests, particularly the Grand Lodge officers and the veterans, community singing was enoyed for a time, Miss Hattie Barnard presiding at the piano.

A piano duet by Misses May Byam and H. Barnard was followed by the presentation of the Jewels to the four veterans entitled to receive them, the Deputy Grand Master, Bro. E. Anderson, making a very appropriate address, and the District Deputy Grand Master, Bro. R. Ford, pinning on the decorations. Reminiscent remarks were made by the recipients as they thanked the Lodge for the honor bestowed upon them.

Other members on the programme included selections by the Byam family orchestra, a vocal duet, "One Fleeting Hour," by Rev. G. S. and Mrs. Gervan, a cornet solo by Mr. G. E. Burnham, piano duets by Misses M. Byam and H. Barnard, and addresses by A. J. Fallis, M.P.P., the Deputy Grand Master, the District Deputy Grand Master, and the successor to the latter office for the coming year, Bro. J. A. Vance, P.G., who was greeted with the chorus, "See Him Smiling," as he came to the platform.

Mr. Fallis made particular reference to his pleasure in being present as he has not allied himself with Oddfellowship, or any other fraternal organization, feeling thereby that he has suffered a distinct loss in his life in many ways. Bro. E. Anderson paid a splendid tribute to the benefits of Oddfellowship on the standard of citizenship in any community, and the training of the individual member.

Supper was served on the cafateria plan in the dining hall, the Byam orchestra furnishing music while it was in progress and also for the dance which followed. Cards and pleasant social intercourse filled out the evening for those who preferred these forms of entertainment, it being considerably after midnight before the guests finally dispersed.

Those present from Lindsay included: Brothers E. Anderson, H. Crossen, R. Armstrong and John Walsh. From Peterborough: Brothers G. Lacheur, B. Ford, B. Martin, W. Green, A. Bartlett, H. Stinson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hanbridge. From Port Hope were Mr. and Mrs. George Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garnett.

HAVELOCK LOST TO CAMPBELLFORD

Slippery Ground Played Havoc With Players—Lacrosse is Coming Back Strong.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7. — The faithful lacrosse fans who braved the showers to watch the local juniors in action against Havelock, were rewarded with one of the old time exciting struggles such as the intermeditaes of these two towns provided a few years ago.

Campbellford went out in front in the first period with two goals by White and one from Ibey, while Jacks was the only Havelock boy to find the net.

In the second Jacks again scored on a nice combination, and Charlie Brennan carried the ball unchecked, from his own end, right through to the Campbellford net to even the score.

Campbellford took the lead again when Harry Ingram scored two goals on clever passing plays. Len Plunkett got one of them back before the period ended and the same player tied it up in the last period when he breezed around his check to go right in on top Sanders. Both homes worked hard, and took all kinds of chances for a tally, but the defences were playing a steady game and held them out for the balance of the game. They played overtime but failed to break the deadlock, every man sticking to his check as if his life depended on the result.

There wasn't much to choose between the two teams. The Havelock home is fast and tricky, with every man willing to take a chance, but they lack weight.

The local defence seemed to be the best part of the team, and they played steady all through. The home worked well at times, and other times made some bad passes, perhaps partly due to the slippery condition of the field.

If the game affects the final standing of the group, Havelock will replay it in Campbellford, and the lacrosse fans who like a little excitement, will be on hand, rain or no rain.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

Play Presented in the Town Hall Last Evening —Personals.

HASTINGS, June 7. — The play, "The Private Tutor," presented in the town hall on Friday evening by the young people of Saint Andrew's Presbyterian Church, was a splendid success. It would be a difficult task to select a star in the cast of characters, as each took a splendid part.

The first act was a scene in a boy's room at college. The two boys have been suspended from college for attending a prize fight which was against the college rules. While debating as to the best way out of their trouble, Fred Spencer's father, mother and sister Dolly, arrive unexpectedly. An invitation is given the boys at the Spencer home for the Thanksgiving vacation, but to save disinheritance from his father's estate Fred engages a private tutor and agrees to pay him $10 per day. The fatter is a German bandsman, who plays a trombone, which he constantly carries. The boys inform Mr. d Mrs. Spencer that the tutor is a German count, and Mrs. Spencer trys her utmost to arrange a match between Dolly and the tutor.

Mr. Spencer becomes suspicious when the German tutor wants to leave, and then the boys disguise themselves as tutors and have interviews with Mr. Spencer privately, neither knowing that the other was doing so.

In the meantime Mrs. Spencer thinking that she was talking to the real count, tells her plans to Fred's school chum, George Carothers, who is secretely in love with Dolly himself.

In a morning newspaper taken by the family a headline appears on the paper "A Mysterious Disappearance of a German Bandsman—Foul Play Suspected."

Mr. Spencer sees this and demands an explanation from the boys who give several that do not correspond. Miss Snay, a supposed to be bookagent, is sent to the Spencer house, and finds out that the German bandsman is in the house. Dolly has received an explanation from George, and takes her parents and Miss Snap into the garden and explains the presence of the German. Mr. Spencer, on entering the house, tells Fred that he has learned the truth and forgives him on the condition that the latter go to work in the oil wells at home.

The cast of characters:

Mr. Spencer, Mr. Scott Fife; Mrs. Spencer, Miss Norma Anderson; Dolly Spencer, Miss Beryl Hill; Fred Spencer, Mr. Aubrey Clapper; Geo. Carothers, his college chum, Mr. W. Doughty; Richard, the brother, Mr. Alex. Wilson; Horis Druikledeifer, "The Private Tutor," Mr. J. C. Wilson; Miss Snap, the detective, Miss Mary Spooner.

During the evening, Mr. J. C. Wilson rendered a solo, entitled "O, Lucky Jim."

Personals.

Miss Gladys Stevenson has been promoted to the position of teller in the local branch of the Union Bank of Canada. Mr. Arthur Cassidy, of Carleton Place, arrived recently, and has been placed on the staff as junior.

A number from Hastings attended the Asphodel Sunday school convention held in Thistlewaite's school on Tuesday.

Miss Mae Huycke attended the wedding of Miss Rosamond Huycke to Mr. Blaiklock, in Peterboro, on Wednesday.

The local baseball team journeyed to Roseneath on Tuesday afternoon for another Northumberland League fixture, and lost the game to Roseneath, the score being 12-7.

JURY DISAGREED IN BANDIT CASE

Montreal Man Will Be Retried on Monday for Robbery and Murder.

MONTREAL, June 7.—The jury in the trial of Guiseppi Serafini, for murder in connection with the hold up of the bank of Hochelega collection car, the theft of $142,000 and the killing of Henri Cleroux and one of the bandits disagreed this morning and were discharged by Judge Wilson, with the sarcastic comment that if they heard any further criticism about the administration of justice in cases like that they should take their full responsibility for it. The evidence submitted by the Crown was not controverted in any way, the story told by Ciro Neigro and Emma Leboeuf, the former an accomplice, who turned King's evidence and the latter his paramour, remaining unshaken under cross examination. The defence did not call any witnesses, counsel contenting themselves with the address.

The jury conferred for an hour and a half last night and then wanted to know if they might bring in a manslaughter verdict. Judge Wilson told them that he though there should be a straight verdict on the murder charge, this morning the foreman said the jury, half French and half English, were divided in their opinions and neither side would give way. Jury were discharged and the re-trial of Serafini fixed for Monday.

The trial of ex-Detective Morel, alleged leader of the gang and four others is also fixed for Monday, in connection with the same hold-up.

Declaring that the time was near at hand when "murder for gain would stalk the streets of Montreal," and announcing that he had "undertaken to clean up this city and make it a place where honest men can go about their business unmolested," R. L. Calder, K.C., crown prosecutor, asked the jury in King's Bench to find Giuseppe Serafini guilty of the murder of Henri Gleroux, chauffeur of the Bank of Hochelaga, who was killed during the hold-up of the collection car on April 1, under the Canadian Pacific Railway viaduct over Ontario street east.

When speaking on the arrest of Niegro and Serafini in Toronto, Mr. Calder commented on the release there of the men on the condition that they leave town.

"Toronto's essay in economy has cost valuable lives and considerable treasure. I trust," said Mr. Calder turning to the bench, "that that procedure will never be followed in the Montreal Courts."

situation. By making the Attorney-General the concurring power, the province was able to retain its control of the enforcement of law and order.

Irvine Gives Approval.

William Irvine (Labor, Calgary East) preferred the proposed resolutions to the existing laws though he did not think the new proposals would provide an adequate solution. He objected to the existing law because it gave the municipal authorities power to call out the militia in a difference of opinion with a local organization such as a trades union. As to the part played by a judge under the existing laws, he did not know of anyone who could be more ignorant of industrial conditions than a judge. He had never known of a case in Western Canada, where the militia had been called out, where they had not done more harm than good. He would like to see the resolutions amended to provide for some say on the part of the Federal authorities.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Centre Winnipeg) said that under the existing law militia had been called out in spite of the wishes of municipal authorities. That seemed intolerable especially when the municipality was called on to pay the bills. In the steel industry in Cape Breton he pointed out some of the employees were working eleven and thirteen hours a day with a twenty-four hour shift every fortnight. Conditions such as these did much to create industrial troubles. The province was very largely responsible for the existence of these bad conditions, and sponsibility for meeting the situation therefore it was proper that the reshould be placed upon the province.

Mr. Macdonald thought that this bill would be followed by Provincial legislation placing the responsibility for calling out troops on the municipality affected and there would be a tendency to restrict the scope of their demands. The bill in any case would be subject to revision in committee.

A TAX CONFERENCE.

The announcement was made in Parliament this week by Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, that a conference with representatives of the various Provinces will be held to define, if possible, the respective spheres of taxation of the Dominion and the Provinces, will be generally regarded as a step in the right direction.

It is agreed by most people that the duplication of taxation in Canada is one of its worst features, and any move that promises to furnish a way out of the problem should receive a hearty welcome from the whole country.

There is overlapping in tax levies, and there is an expensive, cumbersome tax collection machine that could be greatly simplified and made less costly if the Federal Government and the administration of the various Provinces could come to an understanding and arrive at a proper working basis.

In some Provinces of the Dominion there are three income taxes to be paid, the Dominion, the Province and the municipality all making levies.

In Ontario income tax must be paid to the municipality as well as to the Federal Government.

There is no uniformity in taxation, and it seems unreasonable to suppose that a whole-hearted attempt to reach a more consistent and less complicated system of taxation would not meet with at least some measure of success.

THE RIDDLE OF WHY YOU LIVE.

The Great Mystery is, not what becomes of us after we die, but why we live at all. Through all the centuries man has sought to penetrate the black curtain and learn what awaits him in the Hereafter.

By the law of cause and effect, the condition in the Hereafter depends on the life we live Here.

All religions of large followings agree that this life is preparatory to what follows after death. This is true from the Christian believing that Heaven awaits him if he behaves and obeys the rules, to the Oriental who fears that if he doesn't live properly on earth he will have to come back and do it all over again.

Life must have a definite purpose. It cannot be aimless. Everything has a purpose—even the falling of a dead leaf, to fertilize the soil and send its strength back into the tree from which it came.

Life is a journey between two unknown stations. Life is a training school—a spiritual gymnasium, in which obstacles and temptations are sent to develop our spiritual strength.

We come into this world with certain definite tasks to do. These tasks are in proportion to our natural abilities.

The man who is destined to dig ditches all his life and who does the best he can, is as much a success as the man who leads the people politically or as head of giant industries. The thorough ditch digger, living as a good citizen, is a far greater success than the man who, given great power in life, abuses his power or fails to use it for the accomplishment of good.

Success is not a thing that can be measured by any universal yardstick. It is relative to our natural abilities and opportunities.

A BUSINESS-LIKE PLAN.

During the Budget debate Premier King made some reference to the possibility of the appointment of a permanent tariff commission, and while nothing more has been heard of the matter since, there is reason to believe that such action would be regarded as wise by many people who would welcome the lifting of the tariff problem out of the whirl of politics.

There are thousands of voters who are honestly puzzled as they try to follow the arguments of the exponents of protection on one hand and lower tariff or free trade on the other.

They would prefer to have a problem that may mean serious financial losses to themselves settled by experts as a matter of business rather than by politicians as a matter of party advantage.

A permanent tariff commission to advise the Government in power on tariff changes, to hear the representations of the industries that might be affected by such changes, to analyze problems of taxation and recommend policies, should be of great benefit to this country and at least prove a very much better safeguard than our present method, which may be expressed as letting politics decide for us, leaving the matter to a political majority, a policy which is described by one paper as much akin to the puerile method of flipping a coin.

The Examiner agrees with the Financial Post's opinion on this matter when it says that the Government, which attempts the tariff board policy in attempting to cope with this difficult and serious problem, will have the hearty support of the country, and that, leaving policies of public finance to political vagaries, is one of the absurdities of the way we do national business.

CONSCRIPTING WEALTH.

The plan for conscripting wealth in wartime as well as men, which has been suggested as a means of rendering war unpopular with all classes, and thus tending to prevent its occurrence, is meeting with great favor in the United States, says the Hamilton Spectator. The Christian Science Monitor which originated the scheme and is submitting it to popular ballot, has received overwhelming endorsation of its proposals. Out of a total number of votes of 88,770 so far received, only 170 are unfavorable. The idea is to make war absolutely devoid of profit to any person, whether rich or poor, man or woman. Every citizen would be called upon to contribute in proportion to his or her ability in the event of hostilities developing. Industrial labor would be drafted just as soldiers are drafted in the army, and all money would be conscripted just as man-power is. It is suggested that the proposal might be submitted to the electorate at the elections in November next. Whether it be so or not, there is no doubt that it has met with a very sympathetic reception from the American electorate.

In view of the interest which has been aroused in the United States in this question, the Ottawa Citizen asks whether the time is not opportune for its consideration in this country also. "This is the proper time to consider conscription measures, instead of waiting until the war clouds burst again," declares the Citizen. "The policy of national defense in Canada should be discussed in a straightforward manner on the floor of the House. Parliament should take a stand on the merits of conscription in peace time, so that every Canadian would know what to expect."

THE CANADIAN MERCHANT MARINE.

The Canadian Mercantile Marine, fathered by Union Government, cradled by the Parliament of 1917, built at peak prices, and falling heir to shipping conditions that have proved devastating to successful marine transportation the world over, continues to pile up deficits, says the Ottawa Journal. It has lost money every year since its inception and last year, according to the statement presented to Parliament on Wednesday, it lost nine millions more.

It is easy to criticize this Government mercantile service. It is easy to point out that the ships should not have been built, that the wrong sort of ships were built, or that, the war over, the ships should have been sold. What the critics forget is that the ships were built at a time when German submarines were destroying British tonnage to the tune of thousands of tons each day; that peak prices under war conditions were inescapable; that the common belief was that the post-war period would find a famine in ocean tonnage; and that, under the circumstances, it was natural to believe—as, indeed, all parties and all of Parliament held—that organization of the ships into a Government owned merchant service would be a good investment for Canada. That this has not proved to be the case is not the fault of this or past Governments or of state-ownership or of inefficient management. It is a direct and obvious result of a surplus of world shipping, of a veritable plethora of tonnage, this at a time when chaos in Europe, with its inevitable restriction of imports and exports, produces a famine in cargoes.

The true standard of judgment upon Canada's merchant marine is not theoretical abstractions upon the respective merits of private and state management of ships. It is in an impartial study of the circumstances surrounding the inception of the Canadian policy, of the present position of shipping the world over, and in a glance at what happened to the ships built and sought to be administered in the United States.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION.

The American people have forced their President to sign an exclusion bill which the Japanese regard as a deadly insult. The overwhelming determination shown by Congress to reject all compromises and palliations, is pretty good proof that these experts on political opinion, especially responsive in an election year, believe that the bill truly embodies the wishes of the American people. And it probably does.

But that is only because no one has had the courage and the authority to enlighten the American people. The American people are, above all things, passionately fond of "America." They would never willingly take a step which would seriously hurt "America," either by putting it in a damagingly inconsistent attitude before the nations or by arousing against it a hatred which might some day be really dangerous. The reason they have insisted upon the adoption of this "strong arm" measure is that they do not think it inconsistent or dangerous. They believe it to be no more than a fair and frank assertion of their right to fully control the purely domestic question of immigration; and they laugh to scorn the notion that the resentment of any foreign nation could possibly be a "danger" to the great United States.

If our neighbors had patriotic statesmen in Congress, more of them would surely feel it a duty to stand with their President and Secretary of State in telling their people that it is highly inconsistent for them to first blow up with cannon the walls of exclusion with which the Japanese had surrounded themselves, and then to erect new walls of exclusion on the American border, also of cannon, to keep out—not a flood of Japanese which everybody admits this Continent could never digest—but a certain shadowy, almost non-existent, legal fiction, the right of a Japanese citizen to equal treatment on this Continent with citizens of other first-class Powers, a largely fictitious figure bearing only the self-respect of the highly sensitive Japanese race.

As to convincing them of the "danger" of their course, one may readily despair. Neither the President nor his Secretary of State dare tell them that there is danger. No one could make them believe it. But there is. It is a very serious thing for the Americans to have burned into the inner consciousness of the Japanese a feeling that a deliberate insult has been put upon them as "a yellow race." It is bitter resentments like this that bring wars.

The Americans, of course, think of themselves as vis-a-vis with an isolated Japan, and feel entirely confident of their power to fend off that danger. Granted. But Japan will never strike alone. She will sit sullenly, watching the inter-play of the nations; and any other Power which should feel inclined to face the United States will have an automatic ally in Japan awaiting this opportunity. This is a dangerous thing for any nation, no matter how powerful. It was the automatic opposition of France that brought down Germany. It was the automatic opposition of Italy to Austria which exploded the Triple Alliance when war came. The hatred of a nation is not a thing to be incurred lightly.—Montreal Star.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 6.—The principal change in market conditions this week was in the export section. The price for export steers averaged about 25c lower than last week's averge. With the above exception the general marketing conditions showed little change. A large bulk of the week's receipts were delivered for Monday's market. Subsequent receipts added comparatively few to the general total for the week. A similar condition has existed for some time, and it is one which is somewhat regretted by some of the cattle dealers, as it is held that a more general distribution of receipts over the whole week would make for better marketing conditions, both for the shipper and the buyer. The tendency at present is for the one big market for Monday, and for the balance it is simply a matter of cleaning up a large number of stale cattle in two or three slow and draggy markets. This week a large proportion of the export cattle bought early in the week have of necessity, owing to the transport siuation, to be carried over and fed by the export buyers until next week's sailings. Of about 1,600 cattle bought, practically all in Monday's and Tuesday's markets, about 800 have to be carried over to next week. For this reason prices are cut to the shipper 25c to 30c, to compensate the buyer for having to carry the cattle over the intervening period. The demand for export continues good and active, and appears to be limited only, for the present at least, to ocean facilities. In addition to the carry over from this week prospects are that there will be a demand for probably 800 to thousand export cattle for next weeks' requirements.

The market for choice handyweight butcher cattle has continued strong and active all through the week. Prices in this class have held steady, while the medium quality and heavy rough butchers have been slow and lower.

Prices in the various section have been as follows:

Export cattle, choice and heavy steers, $7.50 to 7.75; a few extras at $8; heifers $7 to $7.50; bulls, $4.25 to $5.

Choice butchers, $7 to $7.50; a few extra choice beef steers at $8; heifers, $7 to $7.50; medium, $6.50 to $6.75.

Choice fat cows, $5 to $6.25.

Export bulls, steady around $4.50 to $5. Choice butcher bulls, $4.50 to $5.25; rough bologna bulls, $2..25 to $3.50.

Springers and milkers — Choice forward springers are in good demand ,selling from $70 to $90; fancy up to $100; good, $50 to $60; common not wanted. Fresh milkers are around $10 to $50 lower than springers.

Stockers and feeders — Choice short keep feeders, 1,100 lbs. to 1,200 lbs., $7.25 to $7.50; steers, 950 lbs. to 1,050 lbs., $6.50 to $7; choice stockers, 850 lbs. to 950 lbs., $6 to $6.50; light stockers, $5.25 to $5.75; medium kinds lower.

Sheeps and lambs — Spring lambs, choice, 18c to 19c; good, 11c to 14c; yearling lambs, heavy, 10c to 11c; yearling ewes, 8c to 9c; medium, 6c to 7c; heavy sheep and bucks, 3c to 4c.

Calves—Choice veal calves, $8 to $9, with fancy higher; medium $7 to $7.50; heavy, 6c to 7c; right, 4½c to 6c; grassers, 3c to 4c.

Hogs, thick smooth, f.o.b., $7.50 to $7.75; do. fed and watered, $8 to $8.25; do. off cars, $8.20 to $8.40.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 7. — (Canadian Press).—Wheat averaged lower in price yesterday, chiefly as a result of showers predicted for the greater part of the grain belt. Germany's acceptance of the Dawes plan, however, was a late bullish factor. The close for wheat was unsettled, ranging from 3-8c at ½c net decline, to ¼c advance, July $1.04¼ to $1.04 3-8 and Septemebr $1.05 5-8 to $1.05 5-8 at 3-4. Corn finished 1-8 to 5-8c up, and oats unchanged to ¼ at 5-8c off. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c setback to a rise of 12c.

Although the wheat market here started with an upward tendency, due to an unexpected advance at Liverpool, and to gossip that export bids for United States wheat had been somewhat raised, sellers were in a majority after the Government forecast was issued pointing to widespread moist weather. The fact that the Liverpool market will be closed until Wednesday led to the belief in some quarters that export business would be restricted, and this circumstance was more or less of a depressing influence. On the other hand, strength in the Winnipeg market counted as something of an offset, July delivery there going to a wider premium over Chicago.
